Launch Explodes, 3 Suffer Burns

STURGEON FALLS (CB)—Three persons were sent to hospital suffering burns and two others escaped serious injury Monday when a pleasure launch exploded in Minnehaha bay of the Sturgeon river.

Leo Arcand, 25, said he saw Richard Goulais, 37, adjusting the spark plugs on the gasoline engine. Suddenly there was an explosion and Goulais was seen crawling to the edge of the dock, severely burned.

THROWN ONTO ENGINE

Mrs. Lois Allpearl, a sister of Arcand was cleaning the outside walls of the cabin. The explosion threw her back into the blazing engine. Arcand jumped from the dock to the launch and entered the inferno to take his sister out. She was badly burned on the face and body. It is believed she may lose the sight of one eye.

Mrs. Girard Arcand, who had been cleaning inside the cabin, was blown through a window.

Leo Arcand and Armand Gallepeau, 25, escaped serious injury. The fire department was unable to save the boat.

Hold Transient For Questioning In Murder Probe

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Police today questioned a 48-year-old transient fired up Monday by a local railway line near which a young German couple were slain and her two children were murdered.

Police made no statement other than that the man was taken into custody along the Canadian National Railways right-of-way near Kelly Siding, about 80 miles from here along the CNR main line from Port Arthur to Sioux Lookout. They said the man was once a farmer near Georgetown, Ont.

Mrs. Hedwig Kopplin, 29, and her two children were found dead Saturday among the smouldering ruins of their home near the siding.

SKULL FRACTURED

Police termed her death murder after an autopsy showed she died of a four-inch skull fracture. There was a loose rope around her neck, fragments of burned rope on her wrists and slashes on her legs.

The children, Ingrid, 3, Chrystal, 5, and Hedwig, 10 months, were too badly burned for the cause of death to be ascertained.

Police believe Mrs. Kopplin was killed by blows to the head as she walked from an outbuilding to the house. Coroner Dr. Stanley Bell pointed out that the autopsy on the mother showed she died before the children were sleeping. The body of the mother was clad in a nightdress, underclothes and bedroom slippers when found.

Her husband, Horst Kopplin, was working at Mine Centre 200 miles from the cabin at the time. He brought his family to Canada three years ago.

Only One Third Of World Population Adequately Fed

STE. ANNE DE BELLEVUE, Que. (CP)—Despite food surpluses piling up in some richer countries, one-third of the world population constantly faces famine, Sir James Scott Watson of Britain told the 34th annual convention of the Agricultural Institute of Canada today.

Sir Jagues, director general of the food and agriculture organization service of the British ministry of agriculture, said one-third of the world's 2,500,000,000 people is "more or less" hungry and only one-third are adequately fed.

To add to the problem, the world population increase has been estimated at nearly 40,000,000 a year, while in the meantime there is a "continuing decline" in food resources.

One estimate placed the world erosion loss at 13,000,000 acres a year—equivalent to half of England's farm land—and the bringing of virgin land could not long continue at this rate, he said.

"Mile upon mile of fertile mile hope from March air base in California, is in bloom. The plains, the world's fastest operational bombers, were refuelled three times by tanker planes during the non-stop flight.

New Premier of France Wants Peace in Indo-China

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS (AP)—The most French-men Pierre Mendes-France, their new premier, is the man who wants peace in Indo-China.

It they don't know anything more about him, they know that and like it. The war has been very unpopular. It is much less popular now that there is talk of sending draftees, for the first time, as well as professional soldiers.

In 1952 Mendes-France said:

"Our negotiating position was better three years ago than last year, better last year than this year, it is probably less bad now than it will be next year."

Now a year after that "next year," he has put his stand in the form of a "contract." If he can't get peace by July 20, he will quit. If he can, he will go on with the rest of his program.

OUTWITS "ENEMIES"

This 47-year-old lawyer, economist and former bomber crewman has a flair for action on subjects besides Indo-China. Most of them are new, and so are his methods of putting them into effect.

For instance: He threw thrown overboard the usual procedure by which new premier gets a pro forma vote of confidence in a diplomatic trading of policy points and political planks to get the support of as many deputies as possible. The result has usually been a cabinet almost indistinguishable from the 'one before—"immobilism," the French call it in France.

France just interviewed the people he wanted, told them what he meant to do and got the ones who willing to go along, and tapped the ones who said no.

In the past Mendes-France has let loose blasts fierce enough to keep him out of office for years or nearly a decade.

Back in 1940, when he was last in the cabinet as minister of national economy, he drafted an austerity program that rivaled Britain's: stiff rationing, a crackdown on the black market, wage-and-price freeze, confiscation of illicit wealth — what was called the "horse doctor's remedy."

LOSES TWO JOBS

The French, tired of hardship, wouldn't take it. So quit, when another premier called him back he had brought up some additional ingredients: tax increases, a ban on printing press money, a campaign against speculators. They were even less palatable. He didn't get the job.

What he did get was a lot of respect from nationals that found his brand of policy making too strong for their stomachs. He was made French governor of the International monetary fund and governor of the bank for Europe. He was sent as delegate to the UN economic and social council, and to the UN economic commission for Latin America.

Meanwhile, part of well-to-do Jewish parents, was simultaneously taking courses while still in his teens at the law school of the Sorbonne and the School of Political Sciences. Either one is considered an extremely heavy program for a normal student.

The story goes that he first went into politics seriously because of a student political row in which he took a punch in the nose whose effects can still be seen in his photographs.

YOUNGEST IN PARLIAMENT

He became the youngest member of the French bar and later the youngest member of Parliament at 25. At 31 he was undersecretary of the treasury. The Second World War broke out the year after and he went into the air force.

France fell and he tried to ship for North Africa with the idea that the war could be carried on from there. The Vichy government sent him to jail with a 10-year sentence for desertion. He escaped from a hospital at Lyons, made his way to Britain, and joined Gen. Charles De Gaulle's fighting French air forces. De Gaulle soon insisted on taking him into his first cabinet, at Algiers as commissioner of finances.

Since then it has been politics linked with economics.

Between his law practice, lecturing and international jobs, he finds some time for skiing and the piano, and his family. Mme. Lily Mendes-France, a Parisian, is an Egyptian. They have been married 21 years and have two wonderful children, Michel, 18 and Bernard, 20.

The Mendes-Frances, of Portuguese ancestry, came to France for some 700 years. The origin of their unusual name is lost in history, but members of the family believe it comes from Navarre. Portugal because of anti-semitic persecution and branches of the numerous family scattered to various countries. Those who came to France added the name Mendes to their country's name to their own, to distinguish themselves from their cousins abroad.

CHANGES NAME

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Country Gentleman," world's farm publication in the United States, will change its name to "Better Farming," Robert H. Reed, editor, announced Monday. Reed said the change, which will become effective later this year, is "more indicative of the magazine's contents." The new name has been published 101 years by Curtis Publishing Co. Its circulation exceeds 2,600,000.

FINN TWINS JAILED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Finn twins were sentenced yesterday to a year in jail for what a Judge called their "utter disregard of the due process of law" in making a "citizen's arrest" of a United States citizen. The Finns made the unofficial arrest of U. S. Attorney Laughlin E. Waters by handcuffing him as he left a hotel last Jan. 21. The "arrest," they said, was to bring the public attention of a long, involved fight over possession of an airplane.

Tunisia Threatens France With Another Problem On The Scale of Indo-China

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tunisia is half way between Gibraltar and Suez. A Second World War battleground, today it is the scene of terrorism that threatens France with another problem on the scale of Indo-China.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

TUNIS (AP) — A five-year-old boy was murdered in cold blood, and Frenchmen wondered if they were going to have another Indo-China on their hands.

The boy was the son of a Tunisian farmer and former member of a new "army of liberation." The child was slain out of vengeance and as a warning to others.

In May this "army of liberation," known simply as the Fellaghas and once considered only bandits, started hit-and-run warfare against the French with naked terror as a weapon. The terror is still going on.

I have seen Indo-China and I have seen nationalist movements in action in many parts of the world. In North Africa there are all the elements for a future bloody hide-and-seek war. The nervous peace enforced by guns in Tunis is broken frequently by violent death which stalks Frenchman and Moslem alike.

ORGANIZED FORCE

The French say the Fellagha number only about 600 but admit they now are organized. Tunisians say the Fellaghas number many more, an organized force which can march miles on almost no food under harsh conditions in a type of guerilla warfare.

Fellagah reinforcements are believed to train in a school near Tripoli, in Libya. This report came from many sources, both French and Tunisian. They agree that the Fellaghas are being trained with modern weapons, although they use leftover guns of the Second World War. The Fellagha often unit-formed and often wear insignia of rank.

Some belief is expressed that North African soldiers captured in Indo-China by the Communists have received "political re-education," and been sent to Tunisia to train and possibly lead Fellagahs.

Other sources believe former Nazis from Egypt are active. Both Tunisian and French sources agree that the Fellagah army is paid regular army pay and is trained by non-Arabs. Arms, say both French and Tunisians, come from Libya.

GROWING STRENGTH

Until recently the Fellaghas attacked in small groups of 20, slinking away into the night. Now the attacks are growing in strength. A pitched battle with a force of about 100 was reported recently.

The Fellaghas live off the land, forcing themselves on colonists who are obliged to shelter them or suffer death.

Many of the things the Fellaghas do are not characteristic of Moslems—wanton killing for political vengeance and the suicide of men facing capture, for instance. But the French say inspiration has been given the Fellaghas from Moslem Cairo and the Arab League, whose stated ambition is to extend Islam's influence from Pacific to Atlantic. Radio Cairo has kept up insistent propaganda against the French in North Africa. It hailed French defeats in Indo-China as victories for "liberation forces."

The French also suspect that there may be help from Communists, but they still cannot lay their hands on conclusive evidence.

SUDDEN TERROR

Fellagah terror erupted suddenly in May after a six-month period without a single major incident in Tunisia. The French at once sent troops into the area. They stationed Foreign Legionnaires at big farms to protect farmers and deny supplies to the Fellaghas.

The Fellagah leader is identified as Saad Lamoudi. This name might indicate he is Sudanese, but the French say he is Tunisian. His name was signed to a note pinned to bodies of recent terror victims, warning of assassination to come for certain Tunisian government figures.

To add fuel to dangerous fire, French farmers of southern and western Tunisia are talking about organizing vigilantes to fight the Fellagahs. That could build into a pattern of terror and counter-terror.

CAMPBELLFORD

No One Injured But Two Trucks, Car Damaged

CAMPBELLFORD—No one was injured, but two trucks and a car were damaged about midnight Saturday in an accident on the Warkworth Hill, on the outskirts of that village.

One truck driven by Bernard Coveney, 41, of Campbellford, was proceeding from Warkworth, and travelling up the hill. The second truck, driven by Evelyn Coveney, the wife, was proceeding in the opposite direction down the hill. The two drivers, according to police, stopped their vehicles abreast of one another.

A car driven by Cameron Carr, 22, of Toronto, broke over the brow of the hill and saw the lights of Mr. Coveney's truck, but didn't see the truck driven by Mrs. Coveney until it was too late. He swung his vehicle to the left at the last moment, striking the left rear of one truck and the left front of the other, doing about $25 damage to each. Damage to the side of the Carr auto, amounted to approximately $100.

Provincial Constable George Louth of Campbellford investigated.

Gen. Keller Dies On Trip Abroad

OTTAWA (CP)—The man who commanded the first Canadians ashore when the Allies invaded Europe during the Second World War has died on his way home from a visit to his former battle ground.

The army reported the death Monday night in London of Maj.-Gen. R. F. L. Keller, whose 3rd Canadian division was the first of this country's forces to hit the Normandy beaches on D-Day.

Wife and other veterans had visited the village of Arromanches, near the spot where Allied forces landed June 6, 1944, and taken part in ceremonies commemorating the 10th anniversary of the fighting there.

The army said 11 believed the 53-year-old retired professional soldier died of a heart attack. Gen. Keller, who lived in Kelowna, B.C., in recent years, led his troops through the Normandy landing and the battle of Caen, but within two months of the invasion's beginning a misdirected bomb from an Allied plane ended his military career permanently.

Says Removal Of Crown Slur On Her Majesty

OTTAWA (CP) — Julian Fergus (PC—Simcoe North) repeated Monday in the Commons that removal of the crown from some RCAF cap badges is a slur on the Queen.

Defence Minister Claxton retorted that the charge was ridiculous.

The comparatively new badge on airmen's wedge caps is simply a gold eagle. Previously, the badge comprised the letters "RCAF" surrounded by a laurel wreath and topped by a crown. This badge is still in use in some branches of the air force, such as service police and bands.

"You're tearing down the traditions of the Empire," Mr. Ferguson said. "It's not too late to give back to the men the crown, the symbol of this Empire."

WAVED LETTERS

"You take tradition out of the army and you have no army. I think it is despicable." He waved a cheaf of papers which he said were telegrams and letters from persons who supported his view.

Mr. Claxton replied: "I have not interfered in any way with the traditions of the armed forces, and have done everything possible . . . to build up in them a feeling of affection and pride in their country."

"It may be recalled that the ships of the Royal Canadian Navy carried maple leaves on their funnels during the war. Soon after I came into office I found that when the ships were being repainted the maple leaf was being painted red. As soon as I found that out I told them to paint the maple leaf back and keep it on . . ."

Mr. Claxton said he directed all officers and men always to wear "Canada" flashes on their uniforms.

RCAF Women's Auxiliary Enters 14th Year of Operation

Last week, a mantel type television set with an automatic type rotor aerial was installed in the Senior Girls' residence at the Ontario School for the Deaf. The money for its purchase was raised by the Auxiliary through the Opportunity Shop at 62 King Street, Trenton.

Attending the official presentation were Mrs. J. B. Millward, 1953-54 president of the Trenton Auxiliary; Mrs. H. K. Hollis, manageress of the Opportunity Shop; Mrs. R. M. Cochrane, treasurer; Mrs. R. G. Boorman, well-baby clinic convener; Mrs. E. K. Higgins, matron at the Ontario School for the Deaf; and J. G. Demeza, principal.

Since the thirteenth birthday on May 22, the Auxiliary has donated $400 for certain items for an RCAF dependent arthritic case and raised more than $150 at an Arts and Crafts Display. The latter sum to be used to help equip the kitchen at Air Marshal Breadner School.

NEW PRESIDENT.

At the annual meeting held recently Mr. F. G. Baxter was elected president. Others elected were Mrs. T. H. Wright, first vice-president; Mrs. J. G. McCormick, second vice-president; Mrs. A. Doyle Smith, secretary; Mrs. R. Cochrane, treasurer; Mrs. Ted Davies, social welfare; Mrs. A. C. Munn, Trenton Memorial Hospital; Mrs. J. A. Spano, membership; Mrs. F. R. McDowell, Arts and Crafts; Mrs. J. C. Edwards, welcoming; Mrs. T. P. O'Bryne, entertainment; Mrs. J. G. Dack, refreshments; Mrs. R. H. Stroute, well baby clinic; and Mrs. H. K. Ball, Opportunity Shop.

Reports were read by the retiring executive including Mrs. A. M. Halkett, secretary; Mrs. Cochrane, treasurer; Mrs. A. L. Ashton, social welfare; Mrs. W. G. Dever, Trenton Memorial hospital; Mrs. G. H. MacMillan, Arts and Crafts; Mrs. J. L. Herman, welcoming; Mrs. M. E. Cook, entertainment; Mrs. C. C. Lee, publicity; Mrs. J. Stanton, refreshments; Mrs. R. G. Boorman, well baby clinic; and Mrs. H. E. Hollis, Opportunity Shop.

On behalf of the members and the executive, Mrs. W. G. Dever expressed appreciation of the work done by retiring president, Mrs. Millward, who conducted the annual meeting by turning the office over to president-elect Mrs. Baxter.

Mr. Wright travelled light

When the Wright Brothers first took off at Kitty Hawk fifty years ago, weight-saving aluminum was almost as rare as the aeroplane. Their tiny engine had a single cast aluminum crank-case and cylinder block. Aluminum has been growing with the aircraft industry ever since. Now strong aluminum alloys are helping to combat the heats and stresses of supersonic flight, and Alcan is busier than ever supplying aluminum for Canada's busy aircraft plants and other metals users looking for lightness and strength . . . at a fraction of the price that the Wright Brothers paid. Eden Sees Grave Risks of War Spreading in Asia

Seldom Known Situation In Which Danger So Plain

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that "the situation in Southeast Asia carries "risks of a wider conflagration."

Eden, who led the British delegation at Geneva conference, was greeted with cheers as he reported a one-day foreign policy debate on the eve of his departure with Prime Minister Churchill for weekend talks with President Eisenhower.

Eden admitted that "no real progress" had been made at Geneva toward settlement of the Korean situation.

"All that can be said is that we have brought out more clearly than before the real points of principle which divide the two opposing sides."

INDO-CHINA THREAT

Referring to Indo-China, he said:

"Seldom have I known a situation in which the risks of wider conflagration should be so apparent to all."

Of the two tasks entrusted to the Geneva conference—Korea and Indo-China—that concerning Indo-China was the more urgent, Eden said, "if only because war is being waged in that country with all its attendant perils."

"We see therefore very good reason for this conference to succeed. We have done everything in our power to that end."

Eden gave his report even as the new French Premier, Pierre Mendes-France, met behind closed doors with the premier of Red China, Chou En-lai, in Bern, Switzerland.

GOODWILL NEEDED

"In my view there will never be any real security in Southeast Asia without the goodwill of the free Asian countries," Eden said.

"If peace is restored over Indo-China, then I think these countries will be willing to take their part in supervising and guaranteeing a settlement. If so, there will be good reason for the peace settlement to last."

Eden reviewed the course of the Korean negotiations at Geneva and the differences between the two sides.

On the Chinese proposal for a neutral non-supervisory commission composed of Soviet, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Switzerland to assist in supervising an election in Korea, Eden said:

"Experience has taught us that a commission composed of two Communist states and two neutrals simply does not work. The neutrals are neutral and the Communists are Communists."

OFFER STILL STANDS

"We have failed to reach agreement by table here, but the offer to continue negotiations remains open."

"But the two principles upon which we must insist still stand and will, I hope, be upheld by the House.

"These are the authority of the United Nations and the holding of genuinely free elections.

"It is still our object and view of the government that the United Nations should be associated with Korean question without agreement on China as well as of the two Koreas."

Turning to Indo-China, Eden said:

"The story is an intricate one and the most important feature of it from our point of view has been our close association and consultation with the other governments of the Commonwealth."

GREETED BY CHEERS

Eden said Anglo-Chinese contacts at Geneva have already been of benefit to both and have been a "real contribution to peaceful coexistence" and he hoped it will aid and object with every country.

OPEN MOTHER HOUSE

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Most Rev. John C. Cody, Roman Catholic bishop of London, diocese, officially opened the $2,000,000 Mount St. Joseph Mother House here Sunday.

THE WEATHER

Present A-Blasts May Damage All Future Babies

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — The human race, through its experiments with atomic explosions, is risking the damaging of generations yet unborn, Dr. A. H. Sturtevant of the California Institute of Technology said Tuesday night.

Dr. Sturtevant told the Pacific division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science that all of us have been subjected to irradiation of atomic or thermonuclear bombs—enough to cause defects in the descendants of some.

"It may well be that the possible gains are worth the calculated risk," he said, "but it must be remembered that the risk is one to which the entire human race, present and future, is being subjected."

Mendes-France Encouraged By Talk With Chou

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BERN Switzerland (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France said today that his talk with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai gave him reason to hope that the Geneva conference might "produce a happy progress" toward peace in Indo-China.

The French premier received reporters immediately after the two leaders had concluded their private conversation.

He said:

"We have had, Mr. Chou and myself and our collaborators, not a discussion but a completely free conversation on affairs concerning the re-establishment of peace in Indo China.

"This frank conversation gives me reason to hope that our Geneva will produce a happy progress."

Ferry Boat Is Built At Kingston in 3 Weeks

KINGSTON (CP)—A new 70-foot, 150-ton ferry boat has been built and was laid only 19 days ago, will be launched Friday.

The Prescott and Ogdensburg Ferry Company announced Tuesday it has awarded the contract to the Kingston Shipyards Limited, will augment ferry service across the St. Lawrence river between Prescott, Ont., and Ogdensburg, N. Y. She is expected to go into service in mid-July.

The all-steel steel-powered ferry, with a capacity of 12 vehicles will permit the company to provide service from the United States and Canada every seven minutes.

Beaverbrook Throws Party to Prove He Does Not Hire Many Canadians

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Lord Beaverbrook, in a mellow and nostalgic mood, threw a reception party Tuesday for Canadian newspaper representatives in London. He said he did it to kill a legend.

"There's a story in the newspaper world that I made Fleet street safe for Canadians by hiring as many of them to work on my papers," said the 75-year-old newspaper baron. "I suppose you all here to prove that it's not true. Look around you and see."

The guests looked, and remained unconvinced. Beaverbrook himself is Canadian, Lord Thomson, Ont. Other Canadians present from his staff include Ian Gerpey, William Aitken, who once worked for The Canadian Press, in Toronto and Montreal, and E. J. Roberten, top-ranking Beaverbrook executive from Lanark, Ont.

Aitken now runs a news service for Beaverbrook's Daily Express. Robertson is one of the men in the Beaverbrook newspaper empire, even his newsest job to a card sally.

"I suppose you chose figures it you want to," he said, waving the card gaily.

TRUCK UPSETS, BOY, 14, KILLED SEVEN INJURED

Peterborough District Ball Fans in Mishap

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—A 14-year-old boy was killed Tuesday night when a truck carrying a group of baseball fans missed a curve and overturned about 20 miles north of here. Seven of the other 14 occupants are in hospital.

Driver Jesse Speerskey, 34, lost control of the one-ton pickup at a curve on Highway 36. It struck a rock, swerved to the other side of the road and bounced for 200 feet along a rock-strewn rise, spilling its occupants.

Dead is Alvin Boast, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boast. In hospital here with varying injuries are Speerskey; Gweneth Boast, 18, Kenneth Boast, 15, and Larry Boast, 18, brothers and sister of the dead boy; Grace Brown 21, Lloyd Brown, 28, and Stewart Whetung, 17.

All are from Burleigh Falls. The accident happened about three miles from the organization as they returned from a softball game at nearby Rockcroft between girls' teams from the two towns. Seven of the truck's passengers, the youngest five years old and among them three other members of the Boast family, were released from hospital after treatment.

The hospital later described the condition of Stewart Whetung as fair. Kenneth Boast, both of whom suffered head injuries, as critical. They reported the condition of Gweneth Boast, with chest injuries, as fair.

Canadians Win At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (CP)—Two Canadians advanced to the third round in the men's singles at Wimbledon today.

Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., defeated Eduardo Argon of Uruguay 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 and Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver downed Andres Hammersley of Chile 6-1, 6-3, 7-5 and 7-5.

Canadian Studebaker Operations Unchanged

HAMILTON (CP)—D. C. Gaskin, president and general manager of the Studebaker Corporation of Canada Limited, said today that despite the decision of United States directors of Studebaker and the Curtiss Wright Motor Company to merge, Canadian operations will continue as at present.

He was commenting on an announcement in New York of the merger which has yet to be ratified by a stockholders' meeting in August.

Mr. Gaskin said in a letter to employees that operations will go on and will continue to be operated by separate factory sales organizations and dealer franchises will be possible.

Unemployment Drops in May But Nearly Double Year Ago

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian employment spurted ahead in May, the government reported today.

The government's periodical survey showed that employment—full and part-time—rose almost 200,000 man in the week ended May 22, though it was lower than a year earlier.

At the same time, unemployment declined sharply as the spring pickup in jobs got into full swing after a winter that saw Canada's heaviest unemployment since the Second World War.

On an estimate of the bureau of statistics, there were 5,070,000 persons at work during the week of May 22, of whom 4,729,000 were employed full time and 341,000 for part of the week.

This compared with 4,880,000 in the week ending April 24 and with 5,108,000 in the corresponding May week of 1953.

The bureau, which samples 30,000 households, estimated that actual unemployment during the week under review amounted to 217,000, made up of persons without jobs and looking for work.

This was down from 303,000 at April 17 but was almost double the bureau figure of 114,000 for the same week a year earlier.

MARCH WORST MONTH

The top point of seasonal unemployment—in March — showed 318,000 persons out of work and seeking jobs. At that time, the bureau estimated there were 4,805,000 persons at work.

In Strange Guatemalan War Worst Battles Are on Radio

By BEN F. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the world's strangest wars is being fought in Guatemala.

Five days after it started, neither side has reported a single shot fired or soldiers killed in action on any battlefront.

Up to now, the bloodiest battles apparently have been those described on the radio. Both the government and the anti-Communist invader forces have been busy on the air waves.

There have been reports, second hand through British Honduras, that the Guatemalan army chiefs are claiming to have inflicted heavy casualties. These reports I didn't mention that their side was suffering casualties itself.

The government has reported widespread bombing and strafing attacks by rebel planes in Guatemala city, the capital, and in other parts of the republic.

The government palace, a great green building covering a full city block office of the president, also has been the target of rebel bombs, the palace has been an easy target for some of the worst shots in Guatemala. Even the presidential office bears bullet marks, and the floors of the building for years was pocked with them. But in this war, it has not been touched, according to news reports.

Censorship, the upheaval caused by an emergency, and a government never famed for its efficiency have not permitted a clear story of events to get out of Guatemala.

It may be that the invaders have a timetable and an operations plan which has not yet come to light but at this date and distance, it appears very much like a Latin American revolutionary attempt which failed.

Several elements usually necessary for success have not appeared in the reports reaching the outside world.

Regardless of the course and the extent of financial backing, and of the amount and quality of war weapons, the reports indicate the attackers are ill-equipped to fight by land.

Another element usually necessary for the overthrow of a government in power is a widespread uprising of popular support—this is fighting high—inside Guatemala itself.

The radio announcements of the "liberation" forces have claimed some defections, but apparently they have not been numerous.

Each side has accused the other of sending out tall tales about what's going on. There appear grounds to indicate that both, in making these charges, are telling the truth.

One Guatemalan here offered one theory about the war:

"Maybe," he said, "everybody out there is shooting blanks."

Vegetable Oils Are Putting Cow Out of Business

STE. ANNE DE BELLEVUE (CP)—Gilbert MacMillan, president of the Dairy Farmers of Canada, said Tuesday the purple economic appeal of vegetable oils is putting the cow out of business.

Addressing the annual convention of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, he said:

"We have got rid of the horse. Let us not be in such a hurry to eliminate the cow. Some day we will be sorry if we do."

He said that members of the cow population will eventually result in the deterioration of our herds and the wastage will proceed at a phenomenal rate."

Body Found on Tracks

KINGSTON (CP)—The body of a man bearing the identification papers of Robert A. Hill of Godfrey was found today on railway tracks about six miles from the downtown station.

Police say they believe the man fell off the train which left Kingston Tuesday night for Sharbot Lake.

GOVT. ANNOUNCES NEW SYSTEM CIVIL DEFENCE GRANTS

Will Pay 25 PC of Cost Of Municipal Programs

OTTAWA (CP)—A new system of federal civil defence grants has been devised which will provide federal funds to municipalities not receiving provincial aid.

The formula, announced in the Commons Tuesday night by Health Minister Martin, will be of special help to municipalities in Ontario, Quebec and Prince Edward Island which up to now have received neither federal nor provincial civil defence grants.

Mr. Martin, the minister responsible for the federal government's civil defence effort, said that for certain civil defence projects the federal government will pay at least 25 per cent of the cost of municipal programs.

MATCH CONTRIBUTION

The government also would match any provincial contribution, bringing the federal share to a maximum of 50 per cent for projects in which the province has government participate.

With the new formula Montreal, for instance, which has the second-largest municipal civil defence budget in Canada, will receive the 25-per-cent federal grant.

Until now, federal grants have been paid to match provincial spending on civil defence projects. There have been no direct federal payments to municipalities.

The new plan, first provided last year for matching grants was taken up by the provinces. Mr. Martin said the new formula will bring about more effective use of the $2,000,000 provided in the current fiscal year.

'Buy Canadian' Textile Union Director Urges

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Only by persuading persons to buy Canadian-made textiles can the 28,000 unemployed workers in the Canadian textile industry be reinstated to their jobs, Clarence Stanley, director of organization of the Textile Workers' Union of America, CIO-CCL, said here Tuesday.

"We no longer depend on the government to assist us," he said. "Our job is with them. Our purpose is to make them conscious of the unemployment situation and of the fact that they have it in their power to help us by refusing to buy imported textiles."

Urges Fluoridation

TORONTO (CP) — Jr. John Kucherepa, a city alderman, told a school board meeting Thursday night a delay in fluoridating the metropolitan water system, now that competent medical and dental bodies have approved the process would be unfortunate and a crime against the children by denying them the benefits of modern knowledge and progress."

The school board agreed and said it will ask the works committee to fluoridate the water.

Solve Space Travel Traffic Hazard By Locating 900 Pipsqueak Planets

By FRANK CAREY

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Dozens of new planets—or "asteroids" or "pipsqueak" planets—and rediscovery of some of those that have been "lost" in orbit in an charted of the heavens to assist space navigators, and now is being supported by the National Science Foundation.

Dr. Frank K. Edmondson told a meeting of the American Astronomical Society that many more asteroids probably exist, ranging in diameter from two to 20 miles, have been spotted during a five-year search.

And he said work now is progressing to compute their orbits to try to add them to the list of some 1,600 other baby planets already have been well known.

Asteroids are believed to be fragments of a planet which exploded ages ago—or perhaps even chunks of primary material which never got assembled into a planet. The biggest known asteroid is 480 miles in diameter.

Edmondson said the new discoveries are important in an charting of the heavens to assist space navigators, and now is being supported by the National Science Foundation.

He said the avowed interest of the military services, aside from an interest in fundamental research, was in training students in an astronomical photographic technique which could be applied to photographic studies of high-altitude research rockets.

Mystery Planes Drop Bombs On Honduran Town

May Be Retaliation for Aid Given Guatemalan Rebels

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — The Honduran government said Tuesday night that mystery planes have bombed a town in this Central American republic. The report touched off speculation that invaded Guatemala may be striking back at the neighbor from whose soil Guatemalan rebels launched their drive against President Jacobo Arbenz Guzmaa's regime.

The foreign ministry said the planes bombed the town of Santa Rosa de Copan, near the border junction 21 miles from the Guatemalan frontier. The terse announcement made no mention of casualties or of how many planes made the raid.

Guatemala has accused Honduras and adjoining Nicaragua of being the haven for land and air "aggression" against her government, which the rebel forces say is Communist - influenced. Both countries have denied Guatemala's to prove the charges.

WANT UN SESSION

Guatemala's present demands to New York early today for a second urgent session of the United Nations Security Council, charging Honduras and Nicaragua with continuing to aid "mercenaries." Council president Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States said he is "closely watching" the American States, not the UN, is the forum for action, and Guatemala appeals lo the UN, Guatemala could appeal a "cat's-paw" for a Soviet conspiracy to meddle in the Western Hemisphere.

The Inter - American Peace Commission of the OAS scheduled a meeting today to discuss the Guatemalan charges against Honduras and Nicaragua. Guatemala withdrew its delegates in preparation for her renewed appeal to the UN, but the other two republics demanded vindication.

Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, exiled leader of the rebel forces, moved his headquarters Tuesday night from Honduras to Esquipulas, about six miles inside his homeland.

SAY FIGHTING REDS

The insurgent leader said his forces are "not fighting the Guatemalan people, but the Communist people, only the Communist government."

Castillo Armas said he is not looking for a "bloody victory" because he does not want "unnecessary bloodshed." He said there have been no clashes with Guatemalan troops so far, but that there have been several minor skirmishes with some casualties.

Reports from various points in Guatemala City told of scattered fight ation, Guatemala City reported that a strong force of anti-Communist troops was harassed a military encampment at the edge of the capital.

Informed sources in El Salvador, republic adjoining Guatemala on the southwest, said an airlift of rifles and ammunition to Guatemala would begin today, but dispatches from Guatemala City made no mention of this report. The sources are some 1,200 North Americans in the country.

Associated Press correspondent Jack Bell reported from Guatemala City that interest there is centered on the battle building up

A-Bomb's Light Can Turn Eye's Fluid to Steam

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The light from an atomic explosion can cause fluid in the eyes to turn to steam and explode, four doctors told the school of aviation medicine at Randolph Field, Texas, reported today.

Rays from of bomb of the Hiroshima type can injure eyes 40 miles away, they told the American Medical Association.

The physicians tested the effects of atomic light at the atomic tests on the Nevada desert. They used rabbits for subjects.

If you should happen to look—as long as the eyeball is—at a atomic explosion when it happens it won't do any any good to blink, the doctors said. The damage is done in a thousandth of a second. It takes one-tenth of a second to blink.

Blind Gelding Fractures Ankle

SYDNEY, N. S. (CP) — The famous blind horse, Victory, a favorite in eastern Canadian harness racing circles, may have run its last lap Tuesday night at the Cape Breton sports centre.

The horse came here last year from Ontario, and was well known on Ontario Blind Quebec tracks. Victory was just rounding the last turn when the accident occurred. Dr. R. W. Kennedy, local veterinarian, said he was certain the horse had suffered a broken ankle, although x-rays were not complete.

Rulledge said there is growing belief among Guatemalan officials and even rebel sympathizers in the capital that the invasion has a "Red" taint. He said the computer who talked to Arbenz Tuesday found him confident and seemingly unworried.

The dispatch said hostility toward the U.S. is growing in the capital, with both the press and radio accusing Washington of masterminding the invasion.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED ON ACCUSED FOR ATTEMPTING SUICIDE

Pleading guilty to a charge of attempted suicide, Benjamin Hirbie, 24, of Station street, was given two years suspended sentence by Magistrate T. V. Wills in magistrate's court, Tuesday. Hubbs was also ordered to pay costs.

Police said that Hubbs had been picked up on a charge of drunk and while he was in his police cell attempted suicide by hanging, using his belt looped around a cell door crossbar as a noose. The man was unconscious when found by the desk sergeant.

WARNING ISSUED BY BUSINESS BUREAU

A warning to beware of fly-by night roofing contractors was received by the local Chamber of Commerce this morning from the Toronto Better Business Bureau, which has been receiving complaints from different parts of the province from people who have been victimized.

The Better Business Bureau warning states that itinerant roofing contractors have been charging excessive prices and either doing a shoddy, second rate job, or little or no work at all.

The Bureau cautions those letting roofing contracts not to deal with strangers from out-of-town with doubtful business backgrounds.

Rooms, Auditoriums in Schools Made Available to Committee For Recreation Programs

Public school auditoriums in the city and township, unless otherwise used will be made available to the local recreation commission for the carrying out of their recreational programs.

Approval for use of the rooms was given by members of the public school board Monday evening at their final meeting prior to the summer recess. Recreation commission chairman, Alderman Claude D. Tice and Mrs. W. Gander, appeared before the board with the request.

At the same time board members put their stamp of approval on the recreation commission using the grounds of the older public schools and for completion of the new school grounds at Prince Charles School. Schools in which systems will be placed for the summer months are limited are King George, $3,120; Queen Alexandra, $2,357.30, and Queen Mary, $2,120. Completion of the system at Prince Charles will cost $515.

Harry Smith Coal Company was awarded the contract for all the various schools. Tender prices were $12.75 for 1¼ inch size-screened coal and $18.50 for 2 inch anthracite use in the Sir Winston Churchill school boiler.

J. W. Hamilton was awarded the contract for repairs to the Queen Elizabeth School grounds at a price of $1,475. The Hamilton tender was the lowest of eight tenders submitted.

SCHOOL HOURS CHANGED.

Regulations covering compulsory school attendance have been changed, according to the new schools administration and secondary schools and teaching of vocation acts, members have been informed.

The present acts require attendance between the ages of 8 and 16 years, while the revision requires attendance from the first day of the school year commencing after the child's sixth birthday until the last day of school in June in the year in which he has his 18th birthday.

Tenders will be called for rewiring of the Queen Alexandra School in readiness for the opening in still in use. Queen Mary school and Queen Victoria school have re-wiring about half completed, while King George School was re-wired last year.

Mrs. F. J. Dier was named as temporary staff member for Queen Alexandra school for next year, while Mrs. J. T. L. Hawkins was named temporary staff member for Queen Victoria School.

Fees for non-resident pupils attending classes in city schools will take a sharp increase next year, it was decided by the board. The fee for grade pupils will be $15 per month and $7 per month for kindergarten pupils. Last year's rate was $8 for grade pupils and $4 for kindergarten.

NO GRANTS PAID.

Removal of the provincial grant for non-resident pupils was the principal reason for the increase in fees, while another reason is the increased cost of education. Schools superintendent L. A. Hall told the board. Increased rate will still be below the actual cost of instruction, he said.

Mrs. R. D. Arnott, girl guide commissioner, was granted the privilege of starting a new girl guide group at Queen Victoria school starting in September.

Seven members of the school board will attend the Ontario Urban and Rural School Trustees' Association convention to be held at Bigwin Inn June 29-30. Attending the convention will be chairman W. A. Vantassel; vice chairman G. H. Trill and members Mrs. Ellis Cable, Mrs. Dorothy Tugnett, Mrs. Charles Hewson, Neil Symington and Gordon Base. At the same time schools superintendent L. A. Kells will attend the conference for school business officials.

Scale Model of Ice Control Dam for Moira R. Viewed

The scale model of the ice control dam proposed to be built on the Moira river at College street was viewed by four members of the Moira River Conservation Authority yesterday at the University of Toronto.

Viewing the dam model were Alderman Bruce Smith, chairman of the Authority, Hastings County Warden Fred Mitchell, City Engineer Charles Mott and Alf. Arthur Keegan. Expenses of the trip were paid by the Authority.

Workings of the scale model were explained by the chief conservation engineer of the Department of Planning and Development. The model was prepared by Professor Lord, hydraulic engineering at the University of Toronto in co-operation with the Kilborn Engineering Company which is drawing plans for the proposed dam.

Construction of the ice control dam as a means to alleviate spring flood conditions in the Moira in the downtown Belleville area, was recommended by the Department of Planning and Development following the survey of the Moira watershed several years ago.

The scale model of the dam is an exact replica of the dam proposed for the College street area. Cost of the dam would be paid 25 per cent by the city of Belleville with the Department of Planning and Development to pay 21½ per cent and 21½ per cent by the Federal government. The dam will be a reality as soon as the federal share of the cost is assured by the Department of National Revenue.

A full report of the scale model of the dam will be given by the chairman of the Authority, Alderman Bruce Smith, at the Authority meeting at Madoc on Thursday.

Kingston Rinks Tourney Winners At Local Greens

Despite a heavy rain, which soaked the bowling greens, a women's triples tournament was staged by the local bowling club on Tuesday afternoon, was a complete success. Twenty-one games were only delayed about an hour and the sun came out to make the day an ideal one for the tourney. The officials in charge were afraid that they would have drive contestants away but when play was ready to start, 63 ladies had entered and were on hand, which included nine rinks from Kingston, seven from Brighton, one from Campbellford, one from Bridge and eleven from the local club.

The Kingston contingent took home the major prizes, three of them being three-game winners. A rink of Mrs. F. Lowe, Mrs. D. Carlaw with Mrs. Dick Edney as skip was high rink while Mrs. C. Sears, Mrs. Morley Gall and Mrs. James Rutherford was second high and Mrs. McCreight, Mrs. dale, Mrs. William Duncan, third high.

The two-game high winner was Mrs. E. Hendricks, Mrs. George Vice with Mrs. Taylor of Campbellford, as skip, while Mrs. E. Footman, Mrs. W. Gilbert and Mrs. C. L. Hyde as skip won the one-game high award. Although Mrs. G. Lancaster, Mrs. Earl Green and Mrs. Robert Cook of Stirling, did not win any prizes the rink was high for-no-game wins and received the last prize.

W. S. Vanderveen conducted the draw for the women and the bowlers were assisted by Ald. Gerald Hyde, the president of the club and the prizes were distributed in the absence of the women's action president, Mrs. Ray Orr, Mrs. Gordon Vince, immediate past president of the women's section, also said a few words in welcoming the visitors. It was a delightful and successful tournament.

FINE SHIP MODEL

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP) — Although he has worked on construction of ships and boats for most of his 80 years, A. O. Cunningham had to do a lot of research before he completed a meticulous eight-inch scale model of a ship which could have been used by Sieur de Monts and Champlain when they named the St. John River 350 years ago. The model is being used in anniversary celebrations.

The Baptist Church welcomed a new minister Tuesday night, when Bruce Neal of Belleville was ordained at a service in Victoria Avenue Baptist church.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Neal was examined by the ordination council, comprised of church representatives of the Peterborough Association of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec to decide his qualification to the ministry. Acting as moderator of the council was Rev. Dr. Keith Daniel, pastor of the church.

A large congregation, when the service began, Mr. Daniel announced to the congregation that on a formal vote, the council had "wholeheartedly and enthusiastically endorsed" Mr. Neal's request for ordination.

GRADUATE OF MCMASTER

A 32-year-old graduate of McMaster University, he studied there for six years and took his B.A. and B.D. degrees. During his stay there he also was active in practical work in the church. He became student pastor and first minister of Victoria Avenue Baptist church in Belleville, commuting there on week-ends to preach. Nearer home, he also preached at Sidney Baptist Church, the Fairway Avenue Mission and Victoria Avenue Baptist church here.

For the present, however, he will not be assigned to any church within the Ontario and Quebec convention area. In the fall, however, with his wife, Barbara, he goes to Divinity School at Chicago University to continue his studies.

One of his instructors at McMaster University, Professor H. H. Lang, was present at the service last night and delivered the sermon.

His testimony, simple and symbolic of the man, was taken from the second epistle of Timothy, chapter three, which carries the admonition to "continue in the things...make full proof of thy ministry."

IDEALS OUTLINED.

He quoted three things a minister should take as his ideals for himself and his work: (1) Keep close to God; (2) Keep close to men, and (3) Bring men and God closer together.

"If I have these things then he will fulfill his ministry," Mr. Lang said.

On the of the finest phrases in the Bible was a "Man of God."

"It was a special meaning," Mr. Lang said. "For the minister speaks for God, he fulfills God's purpose and he has intimate dealings with the spirit of God."

Religious education is not something to be passed over he said. It is something of today—of a living thing, a growing thing, and the minister must share it with others.

Emphasizing the need for the minister to keep close to God, he said: "I think it is in the tradition of Jesus Christ himself."

"You can recognize the greatness of Jesus because he did not set himself aside from men," he added.

The minister must be a man among men as well as with God, and must sympathetically understand their minds, as that he can "weep with those who weep and rejoice with those who rejoice."

It also is a good thing for the young minister to remember that his mission is to bring men closer to God.

"It can be done and it is being done," he said.

It all began in God's heart and in God's mind — the Father who sent His son down to save the world.

It can be done through Jesus Christ, and "as we bring men closer to Jesus we are bringing them closer to God."

Mr. Lang fittingly concluded his testimony with the words of John Wesley, who, when asked on one of his illnesses what he had to offer, replied:

"I offer them Jesus."

The solemn ceremony of the laying of hands and the ordination prayer followed.

CHARGE GIVEN.

Rev. I. C. Morgan, honorary-president of the Convention gave the charge to the new minister and welcomed him into the fellowship of the Convention. He told the new minister that he was now added to the name an adjective—"Reverend".

"It is an adjective not a title," he reminded him, an adjective which suggested something about his character as a minister.

"I also suggest there would be an attitude of reverence within your own heart in regard to the Word of God . . . the people of God . . . to your own home . . . in regard to everything you do."

He charged the minister to guard his reverence.

Following the hymn, "Glorious Things of Thee are Spoken", the convention was disbanded by Mr. Daniel and Mr. Neal closed the ordination service by offering the first benediction as minister.

The invocation at the service was given by Mr. Daniel and the solo, "Make Me a Blessing," sung by Mrs. D. Reilly.

Foremen's Club Of Corbin Lock Enjoys Outing

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.

There is a proverb into consideration members of the Corbin Foremen's Club totalling twenty-three members journeyed to Bay Haven on West Lake on Saturday afternoon for their annual outing. Guests of the club were Mr. E. McLaren, General Manager, and Mr. K. N. Gerow, Works Superintendent. The chairman of the club Harold Bartlett, was in charge of the excellent committee that had charge for the outing.

The boys enjoyed horseshoe pitching with a guest, Mr. McLean, heading the summary, defeating Orlo Smith in the final game. A banquet and other pastimes were enjoyed after which a delicious dinner was served. A most enjoyable time resulted from the outing and more elaborate plans are being made for future outings.

TORONTO STOCKS

Industrial gains were narrowly ahead. Strong groups were papers, utilities, foods, financial institutions and motors. Most price changes were minor fractions.

Western oil issues balanced gains and most price changes were small.

A few senior base metals were traded, moving a little lower. Junior golds strong. Senior golds were firm but other groups drifted off. Uraniums were strong. Industrial issues weak and Bathurst stocks drew little interest.

First-hour volume was just under 500,000 shares.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP)—All slaughter classes were active at steady prices to the week's advance except cows and bulls today at the Ontario stockyards.

Receipts: cattle 250; calves 75; hogs 250; sheep and lambs 65; holdover from Tuesday 750 cattle.

PRODUCE MARKET

The egg market was firm on large grades and steady on all others. Offerings were sufficient for a good demand. Quotations on graded eggs in fibre cases: A large 44; A medium 38-39; A small 25; B 29-30; C 26. Wholesale to retail: A, large 48; A medium 44-45; A small 30; B 34-35; C 31.

Butter solids: Ontario, 1st grade, tenderable 58; non-tenderable 55¾-56.

Provincial Aid In Polio Cases Is Altered

BURLINGTON (CP) — Ontario Health Minister Phillips announced new regulations for provincial aid to hospitals for poliomyelitis sufferers Tuesday while addressing the official opening of a convalescent hospital two miles east of here.

A grant of $8 a patient day will be paid to all designated hospitals to help cover the cost of polio patients; $2 a treatment to be paid for physiotherapy when prescribed; outpatients may be carried on the books of the hospital for a specified period of time and receive $2 for prescribed physiotherapy treatments.

Department grants to all designated hospitals will begin on the 11th day after admission of the polio patient.

Payment will be made for nursing care when the patient is confined to a respirator and for special nursing care when necessary.

Dr. Phillips said he preferred the term "convalescent" to "incurable" when referring to polio patients.

QUEEN'S YACHT PASSES THROUGH BELLEVILLE

After being exhibited at Ottawa on Monday and Tuesday, the yacht Bluebottle, owned by Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, passed through Belleville at 2 p.m. Tuesday en route to Toronto. The Bluebottle, which will race at Toronto, was accompanied by Lt.-Cmdr. R. L. Hewitt and his two man crew. Provincial Police provided an escort for the truck on which the Bluebottle was loaded.

Boys' and Girls' BCI Gymnasiums To Be Painted

Gymnasiums at the Belleville collegiate during the coming summer holiday period will receive their first coat of paint since the erection of the school quarter of a century ago.

Board members at their final meeting of the season Tuesday night authorized the walls and ceilings of the boys' and girls' gymnasiums to be painted, and also other necessary redecoration. E. Vanney and Son were given the painting contract.

Also during the summer holidays a wall between two ground floor classrooms will be removed to provide accommodation for the electrical shop, which was started in the collegiate a year ago. Since that time the electrical shop has made use of a basement room. W. H. Judge, local contractor, will do the work.

Use of a basement room was authorized for the agricultural instructor and his classes. The agricultural instructor will plant flowers and shrubbery about the collegiate lawn.

ASSISTANT NAMED

Miss Kay Fraser, Point Anne, was named assistant secretary, in the principal's office to replace Mrs. M. T. Parkhurst, who is leaving after three years.

Mr. Kenneth Hill was named as acting head in defence department for next year, succeeding Wilbur J. Bateman, who has resigned to accept the principalship of the high school at Hanover. A new science teacher has been hired to teach the classes.

On motion of the board a minimum of 20 students will be required if the advanced education class is set up in night school. Previously the number required was 20 students.

With new cadet uniforms provided by the Federal government, the school has a number of surplus cadet uniforms and efforts will be made to sell it welfare societies in the district have use for them.

CAN USE ROOMS

The Engineering Institute of Canada was given use of Collegiate classrooms once a week between October and February to hold meetings.

A special committee was set up to arrange for caretaking services at the new Quinte Secondary School when it opens in September. Also a committee was set up to arrange for bus transportation for rural students for the coming year.

Before the board adjourned members voted appreciation to school principal C. E. Currie for his work at the school during the past year. Mr. Currie is leaving Belleville to become principal at the St. Catharines' Collegiate.

EASTERN HICKORY

Tom McLachlan, 45, of Glace Bay, N.S., a miner since he was 15, has been elected president of the United Mine Workers (CCP) district 26. Mr. McLachlan, president of Glace Bay's big No. 1-3 local, defeated Freeman Jenkins, who ruled the UMW for the last 12 years. A former president of the Nova Scotia federation of labor, Mr. McLachlan has never served on the UMW executive board, the policy-making body. (CP Photo).

Fellow Kiwanians Given Glimpse Of Great Britain

Recently returned from a tour of Great Britain, Stan Joss yesterday gave fellow-members of the Kiwanis Club a talk on points he visited in England and Scotland. His travels stretched from Aberdeen in the north to Torquay in the south of England, and after meeting people in all walks of life he came away with the overall impression of the simplicity of their way of living as compared to this part of the world.

Among interesting places he visited were Carlisle Castle, St. Mary's Cathedral and the Grand National at Aintree.

Included in scenics he brought back with him was an interesting item from the "Times" of London, earmarked 1830, which proves not people, only newspaper styles change.

It tells the story of a widow, hailed into court for successfully substituting for 13 years, another man in place of her dead husband, once a Chelsea Pensioner, so that she could continue to draw the state's stipend to aged war veterans.

After a tirade to the court in which she claimed she deserved the pension personally on the peculiar recommendation that she followed Wellington's armies through the Peninsular War and lost an eye in the service of her country, the news report concludes:

"She finished her oration by telling them (the court presumably) what they were and where they came from."

That reporter of a century ago obviously believed that subtlety covers a multitude of sins.

Joe Agnew Will Open Driving School in City

Belleville's first full - time driving school will be opened in the city July 1st.

Joe Agnew, manager of the Tip Top Tailor store here for the past five years, is severing an 11-year association with the Tip Top Tailor Co. to operate the new school to be known as the Quinte Driving School.

Mr. Agnew has been operating the Quinte Driving School on a part-time basis for the past year and in that time has taught 215 persons to drive. Prior to coming to Belleville he had four years of driver training experience in Toronto.

Training is given in a dual control car.

To date Joe has found that women are more careful and conscientious than men and in his opinion are more efficient drivers. In addition, according to Joe, they are easier to teach and more careful when taught.

Warming up to his subject he pointed out that certain Automobile Association statistics show that women have only 1.7 accidents per million miles driven while men have 2.8 and the cost of their accidents is $2.85 per dollar and miles driven as against $5.77 for men.

Joe also stated that most of his pupils to date have been women, many of them housewives, who have come to the school to learn to drive because they find it too nerve wracking trying to take instruction from their husbands.

The average student learns to drive after six one-hour lessons according to Joe. The number varies from person to person but the average instruction period and driving practice is about six hours.

Joe will be operating the school from his home, 3 Park Blvd. Class will be open all day and evenings.

Resigns Post

KINGSTON (CP) — Resignation of Chris Cleman as executive director of the Kingston YWCA was announced today. Miss Herman will become program director of the YWCA in Vancouver.

HONOR PRINCIPAL

CALGARY (CP) — A register bearing the names of all students, former students and teachers, who contributed to establish a scholarship fund in his honor was presented to Frank L. Woodman, retiring after 15 years as principal of the Western Canada High School here. He was also given 13 bew gal clubs.

District Haying In Full Swing

With excellent weather conditions prevailing haying in the Bay of Quinte district got into full swing this week, according to the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Varied hay yields are reported from the different counties. In Prince Edward county the crop is reported as generally light with some farmers enquiring what to sow for supplemental hay. A great deal of grass silage has been made.

In Northumberland conditions were reported particularly good with sufficient moisture for normal growth and all crops look promising. Wheat and rye crops are in head and reasonably good yields are in promise.

Peas are in bloom with a reasonable crop expected, but in Prince Edward the pea crop may be below average. Tomatoes are improved and the plants are getting away to a good start.

600 lbs. Butter Stolen From Madoc Creamery

MADOC. (Special.)—For the second time within recent months thieves this week entered the Madoc Creamery and made off with several hundreds pounds of butter from the creamery.

Provincial police said that Monday night thieves had taken a screen off one of the dairy windows and took 600 pounds of butter from the building.

The same night thieves entered the Eldorado cheese factory, eight miles north of Madoc, and took a small amount of cash from a cash box and a number of tools.

NON-UNION TV PERFORMERS.

There would appear to be a sharp contrast in the activities of various entertainment unions. The Canadian National Exhibition is currently beset with a struggle by two unions for control of the artists who will take part in the grandstand show this summer. James C. Petrilo, the stormy petrel of the Musicians Union in the United States, is mounting a campaign that might silence the juke boxes everywhere. He contends that juke boxes are depriving live musicians of the opportunity to work and if juke boxes were shut down more musicians would be employed and therefore there would be more jobs paying members.

However, when it comes to television there seems to be no similar organization affecting performers. The Army-McCarthy hearings are the case in point. We are somewhat startled during the hearings was a blow for freedom of the press and the right of the people to know what their representatives are doing. But replacing the operas with pantomiming counsel was merely substituting paid hams with amateurs.

We would like to know what would happen if witnesses called to these public spectacles refused to testify on the grounds that they had not signed a performer's contract as guest artists at so much per appearance. We are somewhat amazed that the acting brotherhood, on behalf of legitimate television players, issued an injunction against the hearings on the ground that they were depriving regular TV performers of work.

The whole idea of trying to come to a conclusion on serious national problems while living in the fish bowl of television is unsound anyway. The most vitally concerned with the fevrilish cut of truth and the exposition and condemnation of error should have stuck to the job without the added sound and fury of television's extravaganti publicity.

Unfortunately, at times, they seemed more concerned with mastering the nuances of the raised eyebrow and the twiddling thumbs which all stage tricks which have been played by generations by unrepentant ham actors trying to upstage the main players. Thirty-six days and two million words of testimony (and the patience to sift the two million words of testimony) and the variety of head gesture which the variously participants imparted to the hearings. Without television, it is quite likely that the hearings would have come to an end in a matter of days the obscure lawyers who rode to fame on the coat tails of the senator would be content to get their job done and go home to the local courthouse where their histrionics could be better appreciated. But nothing stimulates an entertainer like continuing publicity and the inevitable happened.

It is to be hoped that in future, some entertainment union with a conscience and a desire to serve the general public, will head off similar spectacles with the demand that unionized participants at the going television wage. In such event the cost of the production would have to be borne by advertising. In the name for commercials the general viewer would be able to evaluate the antics of these piney-woods characters as animated cartoons cavort for beer, and blades.

ST. LAWRENCE PARKS PLAN.

There was a suggestion advanced in the press that a parks commission be established in conjunction with the St. Lawrence power and seaway project similar to the Niagara Parks Commission which has a few miles of parks along the Niagara frontier. It is a suggestion to which we would like to add our endorsement.

The people of the province could commission to beautify immense areas adjacent to natural wonders for the use and enjoyment of the general public has been amply demonstrated at Niagara. A similar program along the St. Lawrence could be equally successful.

Purchase by the Ontario government of the land necessary for the task would not be much of an addition to burdens. Much of it has to be compensated for more than 10,000 acres which will be flooded when the power phase of the project is complete. For years frontage on the St. Lawrence has been at a premium. Most of the general public as river lots have been acquired by private owners. Public ownership of St. Lawrence frontage would make available for general use one of the most scenic areas in eastern Ontario.

At Niagara Falls, financing of the parks program is done through the payment of water rentals by the generating companies. Similar financing would guarantee the establishment and stability of a parks commission on the St. Lawrence.

The communities of eastern Ontario which will derive great benefit from the availability of hydro-electric power, and from the opening of the seaway are destined to grow and prosper. We're in keeping with the best interests of all the residents of eastern Ontario that serious consideration be given to the possibility of establishing a parks commission on the St. Lawrence now that opportunity is available for launching such a project without adding greatly to necessary and impending dislocation of business and private properties.

BLONDES AWAY!

The fairest of the summer flowers are now appearing on Belleville's streets.

We refer to the light-headed maidens who bleach for the beach.

As a mere male we are at a loss to understand why golden tresses should be considered particularly appropriate wear for the sunshine months. The male reaction to blondes does not vary with the season—but the opportunity to react certainly does.

Not that we are complaining. June is a lovely month in which to be reactived.

SPORT COAT.

All down the years from boy to man
I've had my share of fun.
I've always had a coat of tan
Well tailored by the sun.
And though I wore it every day
It weathered every test.
I never had to send away
That garment to be pressed,

I'd say that coat looked well on me
From springtime through the fall.
Repaired it never had to be;
It wrinkled not at all.

Also it was a perfect fit—
That's boastful I'll allow—
But time has altered me a bit
And it is wrinkled now.

Those wrinkles can't be pressed away
Since time has fixed them fast.
The strenuous games I used to play
Are memories of the past.
So, grateful for the joys I've known
Which age to all denies,
The only sport cost I now own
Is one that money buys.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

The tax rate for this city has been set by city council at 47 mills. The rate is the same as that fixed for four tenths of a mill owing chiefly to relief expense.

The killing or injuring of sheep by dogs in Tyendinaga township is a cause of considerable expense to the township. During the year 1933 the township paid to farmers damages amounting to $700. So far this year up to the end of May $450 have been paid in damage claims. The greater number of police dogs in the county is said to be responsible for the damage done.

Certainly we had an electric street railway here some years ago, with closed cars for the winter and open cars for the summer. Here is an interesting item from our file copy of the issue in 1894: "Last evening there was a joint meeting of the industrial and executive committees of the city council in order to meet Messrs. R. A. Lasier and Sons and Mr. Henry Pringle, all of this city, with regards to the requisition of the above named agents for a franchise to build, equip and run an electric railway in Belleville and also the right to erect poles upon which to string wires to carry light, heat and power. The basis of the agreement was drawn up in brief and received the sanction of both committees and the city solicitor. There is no doubt the project will be carried out. The promoters expect to be in operation by August 1st, next year.

Yesterday was nomination day for the coming provincial elections. In this city J. Y. Johnson, who has been the member of the legislature for West Hastings, was again nominated as the Conservative candidate to support the government of Sir James Whitney, and David V. Sinclair was nominated candidate of the Liberal-Temperance party, the leader of the leadership Mr. Rowell. At Rollin for East Hastings, Senator Grant, who has been the member, was again nominated as the Conservative candidate and John Holgate was nominated as the Liberal-Temperance candidate. At Madoc for North Hastings, Robert Cooke, who has been the member, was again nominated as the Conservative candidate and the Rev. J. F. McInnes was nominated as the Liberal - Temperance candidate.

A meeting of persons interested in yacht racing at Quinte was held at Hotel Quinte last evening and was largely attended and much interest was manifested. The following officers were elected: Commodore, H. Corby; vice commodore, E. Guss Porter; captain, "King" Rogers; committee, Dr. Yeomans, Thomas Wills, T. S. Carman, J. W. Bailey, W. Black, J. V. Jenkins and W. H. Campbell; time keepers, Ald. Allan McFee and Thomas Thomas; starters, "King" Rogers, Capt. "R." D. Hulme and William Carnew; secretary, Fred W. Burrows. Last year sixteen subscribed for two cups which had to be won twice in succession before becoming the property of the winner. One cup was for yacht racing and the other for skiff racing. This year the "Yoda", sailed by P. H. Wills, won the yacht cup and the "Viva" sailed by Fred Burrows won the skiff cup. They will try and compete again this year and they will have several speedy craft with which to reckon.

Low Pessimism

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

Pessimism at lowest level: "Grass is a land freezer; milk and honey, somebody would have to look after the cows and the bees."

Discouraging!

(Edmonton Journal)

Presumably science knows what it's about when it talks about getting energy from sunlight. In ordinary experience, however, focusing the sun's ray on a hammock is the surest way to discourage energy.

Summer Ordeal

(New York Times)

Soon now they will be home for the summer, those children—all summer. So can we get to be a pretty long time. They have been looking forward to this day for months, when the school doors will be shut tight and locked. And it is good to know that for a whole summer one will be free of the nervous strain, the pressures and tensions. For all winter one has wondered, five days a week, what these children of ours really would devise next to baffle parents, and whether the mess every evening one would have the strength to press young noses firmly into books until homework was done or, even if undone despite heroic efforts, to steer students into bed when the clock said it was far past time. It will be good to give the intellect a holiday; the mind needs to lie fallow. So come, summer, with thy reprieve.

So those students will be home for the summer, and for a while they will seem to have forgotten how to exercising their freedom. But liberty with no more restraint than is fair and reasonable for the reasonable amount of peace and order can begin to pall, and it will, before much of summer has moved steadily by. That is, of course, on excellent days, when there are summer camps, where there are jobs, where there are planned day are all nicely balanced—but children, not to say reason or another, do not go to summer camps. Thousands of them and their parents summer. Home, where liberty and disciplines and the planning are not all so nicely balanced as they are at camps, at which people are not being "directed" about and often, "What shall we do now?"

These lively young people, being home in numbers, could do a number of things. They could paint the house, by so doing removing all the dirt of winter from the woodwork. They could sand, refinish and wax the floors. They could put some new linoleum or tiles in the bathroom. They could paint the cellar floor gray, dirty, gloomy repository of unwanted and unsightly things into a bright, cheerful and useful recreation room. They could rip off the storm sash and windows on the north side of the house. They could enjoy healthful pursuits in the sunshine, such as tennis, golf, swimming, football, back and sides; policing the grounds thoroughly every day, keeping lawn mowers in use and other people's household-pets fed. That is only a beginning list.

* * *

But it is of little use to carry it farther, for with a few possible exceptions the children at home will do none of these things, unless for exorbitant fees. Some say that when these young people are a little older they will enjoy work more, but somehow one doubts it. What will happen this summer will be that no matter what one suggests, the answer "There's nothing to do" is heard —early in July, probably—it will be the wrong thing. Then these careless children —will not want to do. If one is fortunate one may be able to pack them off to relatives for a week or two, and they will return refreshed with enough steam to carry them along for their own for a few days before the old refrain is heard anew. (And from those relatives will come glowing commendation on deportment, willingness to help, etc., suggesting that they have confused their recent guests with someone else's painfully correct children.)

* * *

What will happen often this summer is that a certain young member of the household on a hot day will say that he or she wants to see a motion picture. Or that he or she wants to swim. Or it is a fine day for baseball. But he will say, all his friends have gone away. Or they're busy. After a good deal of this one surrenders. He will go, feeling repressed and put upon, and one will be disturbed, wondering if one hasn't, after all, been handled better. In a few minutes he will be back. All his friends have not gone away to play baseball and plan to go to the beach. Or the truth abruptly—you with your $35 joint disability. He's sick for a while —whenever I say rheumatis you may translate it as chronic what ever you like. That way maybe you can get some of the fancy notions out of your head before the retrogressive pathological change in cells and tissues goes beyond...

I regret I can't cite any authorities but this is my belief: Chronic rheumatic pain, disability are gradual developments and more than a year's duration, is inflammation of joints (as the misleading term arthritis implies) but physical degeneration of joint tissue due to nutritional deficiency through the years from infancy to treatment this morning.

Regeneration? Ah, ah! Don't show your ignorance by reacting the implication. Look it up in Webster, specifically Webster's No. 4, medical definition, or still better, consult Stedman's medical dictionary—well, you can't have while side walls and Webster too, so here it is: retrogressive pathological change in cells or tissues converted into an inert mass.

I've said again, if the big words don't throw you, and try to get through your house calls on Dr. Brady's list. Impairment of joint function is the consequence of degeneration. Another consequence of degeneration, in the joints or in the arteries, is calcification—deposits of calcium, as any physician reasonably well informed on the subject would know.

The main nutritional deficiencies responsible for the physical degeneration which I call rheumatism, arthritis, is vitamin C(ascorbic acid) deficiency, sunshine vitamin D deficiency and vitamin B complex deficiency.

Housewife Works Hard

(Halifax Chronicle-Herald)

According to the results of a survey, as quoted by Dr. Lee Thomas, Canadian Federation of the most arduous work in modern day life, and by the busy businessman, not by the manual laborer, nor even by the harassed mother of children, but by the housewife. Apparently the "female of the species" is more than "deadly," but also more hardworking. Let a teen-aged daughter. And no matter how far the mechanization of the house may go, it can never go far enough to take the full load off the shoulders of a couple's hardest worker, the housewife.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Swamp tea is the name given by Dr. Grenfell to drinkers of tea made from hot instead of from boiling water. It is the prfect name for it. Even the best tea has a repulsive flavor if made with merely hot water. If tastes, as one of my friends, a guide, says, like hay soup.

Yet swamp tea is what you get in most Labrador tilts and hotel counters. If they have those large metal urns for tea and for coffee and one for hot water. Doubtless some time during the regular day the urn for tea will be did actually boil. If instead of urns they have those coffee machines, you will observe one or two of the glass bowls sitting on the electric heating element.

Your waitress orders your lunch from the short order cook in the kitchen. But she draws your coffee or makes your tea herself. It is a leisurely, offhand sort of business. She awaits delivery of your order, and while doing your beverage, seizes the occasion for a little chat with another waitress or a bus boy. If it is tea you ordered, watch her. She pulls out a pot. She may or may not heat it with a dash of the hot water from the urn in the bag, and then pours the hot water onto it.

Swamp tea is what she's got for you.

If the waitress put a glass of luke warm water before you, instead of a sharp ice cold one, there would be no doubt in your mind between swamp tea and tea made properly. The difference between a boiling water is precisely the difference between a glass of lukewarm and a glass of ice water.

My guide friend gets the tea pail into his canoe when he has a long paim with tea, lifts the tea pail off the fire with his left hand and as the pail is leaving the fire, the tea goes in. In his opinion, it would be ruined if the pail were left at or ter the pail had left the fire, and the rolling had ceased.

"The dry tea," he swears, "puts an end to the rolling boil. Now you get wet tea instead."

It is the best dish of a shore dinner.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

THINGS SEEN AND UNSEEN

We have come so to regard Jesus of Nazareth as the Man who healed the sick, as the live practical and sensible lives that we often lose sight of the fact that his own great work dwelt a great deal of the time not upon earthly matters but upon heavenly.

Our Lord was always talking about things of the spirit, always pointing men toward heaven. When his disciples came back after their preaching mission and reported in triumph that even the demons were subject unto them, his reply was, "Rejoice not that the demons are subject unto you, but rejoice that your names are written in heaven." He was always talking about the kingdom of God and eternal things, and we never should forget it.

For, as someone has said, "Jesus lived in eternity and only visited in time." To him the things of eternity were important, and earthly existence was important only as it prepared men to live heavenly. Many people today feel that they have made great intellectual progress by getting away from what they call mystical ideas and concepts (or superstitions) about the unseen world. But the greatest thinkers have been those who were deeply conscious that in the midst of time, their acts were illustrative of eternal significance.

If we would have the mind of Christ, we must have minds which think much and do really see the significance of heaven. "The things that are seen are temporal, but the things that are unseen are eternal."

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

GLORY ENOUGH FOR ALL

In the Spanish-American war the American fleet wiped out the Spanish fleet. The Admiral in command was Admiral Sampson, but he was miles away when the attack was made and the victory won, by Admiral Schley. Immediately people took sides as to who should be credited with the victory. At the height Admiral Schley exclaimed: "There is glory enough for all!"

I often think of this saying when witnessing a good game in sport. One hears that the team, or baseball team loses by a single field goal. It's that way all through life. I wish that all who deserved an "Oscar" could actually have it awarded to them. There is always glory enough to spread around.

Not always does the actual victor in a contest deserve the most credit. Take a "best seller" book, for example. Through its title or subject matter it may soar in sales for a few months and then die down and be soon forgotten. The great book, however, lives on in the end and far exceeding the sales of "best sellers" of the day. No one needs to worry about the upshot of a really good book. There is glory enough to reach them all.

I have never understood why it is that so many authors, artists, musicians, or such allied groups have among them so many who dislike to give honor and glory to those who deserve it. Such groups can all be good, but not all equally good. Instead, with a silly and destroying thing jealousy can be made to bet it seems to me to be a privilege to live in a world with our betters all about us, to spur us on and to admire their excellence. We owe more to others than we like to think!

There is enough glory in the world to last forever. It never will run short. Therefore it should be an honor and a privilege to give praise and encouragement where it is deserved wherever the opportunity offers. We feel better and happier after we have uplifted another.

Community Centre Planners Form New Committee

TRENTON (Special) — Community centre planners took another step forward with the appointment of a nominating committee to suggest names for a Board of Directors to head the proposed project.

By resolution Mr. Goldberg was appointed acting chairman of the committee until the directorate has been set up. Dan Senik accepted the acting secretary's job.

More than 30 people representing 16 different organizations in the town attended the meeting.

The nominating committee meets this Wednesday night at Jack Goldberg's home at 7.30 p.m.

The planners and instigators of the community centre idea suggest a type of arena and auditorium similar to the new one at Whitby, which cost complete $106,000. It may be the decision of the directors however to erect a larger centre with an ice surface of 180 feet by 80 feet.

The first donations to establish a fund for preliminary advertising commitments came from Joe Gould and Jack Goldberg. Ex-mayor R. R. Whitley thanked them for their generosity.

Driver Charged On Two Counts

TRENTON (Special) — John P. Weeks, 45, of 61 John Street Thornhill, was arrested and charged with driving a car without brakes and having liquor in a public place following a traffic accident involving his car and a car driven by Orville McMurter of Trenton.

McMurter had rounded the Dufferin and Dundas Streets corner and was proceeding east on Dundas Street yesterday when Weeks' sports roadster hit his car from behind and bented it several times until both cars stopped.

Damage to the front of the roadster was optimated at $50, while damage to the rear of the McMurter car was placed at $40.

Northern Girls Hand 'Angels' First Defeat

The Northern Electric Girls' softball team went to Kingston over the week-end and came back with a 11-10 win over the Kingston Penitentiary "Angels". The loss for the Angels was the first they have experienced in a number of years of play.

Wagg and Drake were on the mound for the Belleville girls, between them striking out two and walking three. Kennedy went all the way for the "Pen", fanning three and walking four.

Northern led 5-3 after three innings of play but from then on the Angels seemed to improve as they cut the lead and finally tied the count at 9-9 at the end of six. Both teams scored once in the seventh and H. Reeves blasted a home run in the ninth to bring the winning run across.

Reeves had a triple with her homer, Batchelor banged out three hits as did Baker while Slade, R. Reeves and Harder pushed out two each. One of Slade's hits was a homer in the second inning. Wells and Wagg also hit safely. Smallwood and Young touched the ball for three hits each in a losing cause with two for Burns, Rennie, and Rebeck. Kennedy had the odd one. Homers for Kingston were by Smallwood, Burns and Rennie.

The line up:

Kingston Angels — Allan, Smallwood, Zoblosky, Burns, Rennie, Recheck, Young, Vipond, Kennedy.

Line score:	R	H	E
N. Electric 432 000 101—11	16	6
Angels 120 231 100—10	13	4

Wragg, Drake (6), and B. Reeves; Kennedy and Smallwood.

Russian Chess Team Well Ahead

NEW YORK (CP) — Russia's chess aces need a single point to lock up their victory as their tournament with the best American players goes into its fourth and last round tonight.

The Russian team led 15½ points to 7½ after all but one of the third-round games were completed Tuesday.

A verbal tempest, over whether the No. 1 United States player, Samuel Reshevsky, was the victim of a "long count" in his third game with Vassily Smyslov was resolved when Reshevsky fought to a draw.

Reshevsky had charged that Smyslov's time clock failed to work, giving the Russian an extra 35 minutes to complete the required 40 moves in the Monday night session.

Weddings

SHARPE—CLEAVER

Lovely iris and ferns adorned the altar and chancel of Christ Church, Belleville, on Saturday, June 12, at 8 p.m., when Archdeacon F. G. Scott, rector of the church, united in marriage, Dorothy Aima Cleaver, of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert John Cleaver, to John Austin Sharpe, of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sharpe.

Mr. John Croyden Withers, church organist, provided the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a pale blue cocktail gown of crepe tended the bridegroom.

BEDFORD—MITCHELL

A quiet wedding ceremony was solemnized on Saturday, June 19, at 3.00 p.m., when Mrs. Florence Mitchell was united in marriage to Randolph Henry Stewart Bedford, in Christ Church, Belleville, Archdeacon A. B. Creeggs, rector of the church, assisted by the Reverend Everett Smith, assistant rector, officiated.

Mrs. Fred Beeby attended the bride, and Mr. Fred Beeby, attended the bridegroom.

Cheques Presented to Missionaries

Dr. Ross Green and Mrs. Green of Belleville were dedicated as medical missionaries by Rev. Sidney E. Larman at the Sunday morning service at Holloway Street United Church. They will go to Ethelbert, Manitoba, where Dr. Green has been appointed to take charge of the general hospital.

Belleville Couple Dedicated As Medical Missionaries

Holloway Street United Church was filled to capacity Sunday morning with extra chairs having to be brought in to accommodate the congregation as the minister Rev. Sidney E. Larman administered the sacrament of baptism to 20 babies.

Also during the morning service an impressive dedication service was held when Dr. Ross Green, M.D. and Mrs. Green, Reg. N., were dedicated by the minister as medical missionaries under the direction of the United Church Women's Missionary Society.

Dr. Green has been appointed to take charge of the Ethelbert, General Hospital. 30 miles north of Dauphin in Manitoba and Mrs. Green will leave early next week to take up his duties in this important work. Dr. Green is a graduate of the faculty of medicine, Queen's University, while Mrs. Green, the former Shirley Hitchen, trained as a nurse at Kingston General Hospital.

SAY IN CHOIR

The Holloway Street United Church Women's Missionary Society sat in a group in the church, and the president, Mrs. Grant Coulter, presented Dr. Ross and Mrs. Green with a cheque from the society. Mr. J. Fred Wilson, chairman of the Board of Stewards, also presented the couple with a cheque from the Official Board. Mr. Talbot Kelchesson, chairman of the Board of Ushers, did his usual fine work in controlling the seating of the congregation and Mr. Clifford Tompkins, presided at the organ and led the senior choir in an appropriate choir number. The church was decorated with a profusion of flowers and bodgie birds and canaries were suspended from the gallery.

THOSE BAPTIZED

Mrs. Lawrenson Bird, superintendent of the Baby Fund assisted the minister by presenting the baptismal certificates to the parents.

Pr. Ed. Belleville Club Enjoys West Coast Talk

The president, Mrs. L. Wannamaker, presided for the opening and business session of the June meeting of the Prince Edward-Belleville Club held at the Y.M.C.A. with an excellent attendance.

An invitation to hold the September meeting at the home of Mrs. Earle, was received and accepted. This will feature a potluck supper at 4.30 p.m. An invitation from Mrs. Trumpour, Hillier, to hold a picnic meeting at her home was accepted. Plans were made for transportation.

Mrs. F. Bedell and her co-convener, Mrs. L. Sharpe, with their group then presented an interesting program, with Mrs. Sharpe presiding and Miss C. Anderson at the piano.

Mrs. Sharpe introduced Mrs. Dow as soloist, with Mrs. Greenwood as accompanist. Mrs. Dow and her husband often contribute in song and music over CJBQ and Mrs. Greenwood is organist at Calvary Temple.

Mrs. Dow's solos were greatly appreciated.

Five piano solos were also given by Miss Anderson and Miss Kathleen Murtagh.

Mrs. Baird read a selection by Edgar Guest.

The club was delighted to have as guest speaker, Mrs. Don MacKinnon, who invariably captures the interest of her audiences with her vivacious personality, her ready wit and knowledge of matters of interest to women.

Mrs. MacKinnon dwelt on her recent trip with her husband, to the Canadian west coast, of her experiences in broadcasting and conducting cooking schools.

Mrs. MacKinnon is best known for her press columns, her recipes and effective ways of preparing foods, for taste, attractiveness and nutrition.

Mrs. F. Osborne graciously thanked the speaker, and those on the program.

Mrs. Bedell's group served refreshments and a social half hour was enjoyed.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

SPECIAL PROBLEMS OF THE BRIDE'S MOTHER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My daughter is to be married next month, and I'm so excited about going to her wedding, because I was not able to attend the wedding of either my older daughter or my son. Because my hostess too small, she is to be married in the home of her older married sister, and I'll wear a wedding gown and bridal veil. My husband is not well enough to give our daughter in marriage, my son will not be able to come to the wedding, and the bride would like to have her brother-in-law (in whose house the wedding is to be) give her in marriage. Would this be proper? Several people have told us that if her father can't give her in marriage, an uncle should take his place.

2. Please help me with my dress-plans. (We are poor, and I have to count every penny.) My daughters are giving me money toward buying my dress, hat, and shoes for the wedding.) I'm enclosing a picture of the dress I've planned to wear. Needless to say, I like it, too. Do you like it? I'm short and stocky. What color? Navy with medium-blue dress? Would gray or pink go with this? Would it be all right to wear a necklace of some kind with this, maybe of pearls or rhinestones?

3. Who shakes hands first with the bride? In the receiving line after the ceremony, the bride's mother and father? Then who next, the groom's parents or the bride's sisters? And don't I remember your saying in your column that it is correct to "congratulate" the groom, and offer best wishes to the bride? Am I mixed up?

3. Would it be permissible, in your daughter's announcements, for you, the bride's mother, to give her in marriage? If so, I should think this would be an excellent solution. At a house wedding, it would be simple for the bride to enter alone (or, if she prefers, with her attendants) to the front of the room (where she is being married), and then you would step forward, stand at the left of your daughter, and at the proper time in the ceremony, say "I do" in answer to the minister's question, "who giveth"—etc.) Since your daughter has a special wish to have her in marriage, not her uncle, I can see no reason why she should not follow her own preference, , that is, if you do not give her in marriage.

2. Judging from the picture you sent of the dress, and your description of yourself (I have omitted the measurements), I should think this would be a very good type of dress for you. Not a gray or pink one, please. , best have a hat of a shade matching the shade of the dress, or perhaps a shade or two darker. Many hats of this present season are of light-weight felt, and this material would serve you much better for much longer, of course, than straw. A one-strand necklace, as on the woman modeling the dress, would be excellent. I'm sure you will be able to borrow this for the occasion, from a kind relative or friend.)

2. Yes, after the minister has offered his best wishes to the couple, they turn to receive the good wishes of the guests. , first, the bride's mother and father, then the other relatives on both sides, and then the friends. (The groom's parents before the bride's sisters.)

Yes, "congratulate" or "offer congratulations" to the groom. , but not to the bride. To her, "best wishes." You and your husband would kiss your daughter, give her you dearest love, and "every good wish for your happiness, always."

Change The Pattern Of Your Weekend Shopping

By Mary Moore

Once more in my borrowed role of Mrs. Peepers, I dig the week-end shopping—this time on Thursday about 5 p.m.

Because Thursday is usually an extra busy day for me I had forgotten the advantages of Thursday shopping.

As I have mentioned before my pan for change overcomes me most when I shop for food. When my hand automatically reaches for something that I buy every week I pull back and reconsider. It took me three-quarters of an hour to do this reach and reconsider type of shopping, but it was worth the time.

All the fresh and all of the varieties of merchandise seem to be in evidence abundantly on Thursday — and don't have that picked-over look.

Watching the young couples trying to make decisions between high and low priced items, I wondered how. Marianne and Herbie would fare in just such a settledown married couple atmosphere.

Would Marianne be confident enough of her cooking is buy two pounds cut steak kidneys (25c) and one Bermuda onion (5c) to make them into a delicious little fricasee for two? Or sure enough of her sense of smell to select an overripe-looking honeydew melon for 29c? Or thirty enough to save the coupon for a new cake mix just being launched on the market (saving of 8c)? Or venturesome enough to buy beef soup instead of consomme or black bean soup instead of her tried and true cream of chicken? Or a small piece of smoked jowl and some yellow split peas in place of a can of pea soup and make her own?

I don't know. What about you? Do you change the pattern of your grocery buying each week or do you buy the same old things week in and week out?

I'm only asking you so you will ask yourselves—and avoid getting into a rut.

The veal kidneys costing 25c, were the basis of a little jewel of a dinner. We like them well (and do you know they are rich in Vitamin B?) If I can buy them then, I often serve them for a bullet-style Christmas breakfast. They would be delicious for a summer Sunday brunch.

FRICASSEED VEAL KIDNEYS

Peel off the thin tissue encasing the veal kidneys, and trim off the excess tags of fat at the centre and slice them in 3-4 or 1-inch slices crosswise. (You don't have to trim out the veinous portion of such small kidneys.) Soak in cold water for 15 minutes. Drain and dry and dredge in salted pepped flour. While they are soaking, melt 2 tablespoons butter in large frying pan over low heat and add to it 1 medium-sized Bermuda onion chopped coarsely. Saute until onions are saturated with butter but not at all brown. Push them to one side of the pan and add the kidneys and lightly saute on both sides. Cover and reduce heat as much as possible. Turn in five minutes. After the kidneys are added this requires about 20 minutes slow cooking, covered. This amount serves two generously and three rather skimpily. If you added a few rashers of bacon there would be plenty for three.

I'm going to give considerable thought to low-cost delicious cooking for two—as Janis bride might like to keep an eye open for a brain wave or two I might conjure up shortly.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

MAYBE YOU JUST PICKED THE WRONG MEN, GIRLS!

"What is wrong with today's young men?"

This question is asked by young women who tells me that she "has been nominated to write in behalf of seven young women," all of whom are concerned with the same problem.

"Each of us is either divorced, separated or a victim of a broken engagement," the letter continues, "and all these things happened because men we promised to love, honor and cherish refused to do the same for us.

"They insulted us at home and in public. To get their own way, they hit and bruised us. They made fun of our cooking, our housekeeping, even our love-making. Whenever they felt like it, they left us alone, came home either drunk, or bragging they had been with other women, or both. They ridiculed us for going to church and singing in the choir. Those of us who had children saw our husbands take no interest in them at all, except to be mean to them.

"We girls have talked all this over, and we don't think it's our fault. We all were dutiful, faithful wives. We don't drink, and only a few of us smoke. We didn't belong to too many clubs, so that we never spent too much time out side our homes, and only two of us worked after they were married.

"Other young women we know are having similar experiences. On the other hand, we know girls who have very happy marriages, but in each of these cases the girl is married to an older man. That is why we are asking: Why are men under 30 so rude and insulting? We certainly hope you can give us the answer."

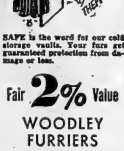
Frankly, girls, I don't think you can indict a whole generation of young men or make any sweeping statements about them.

What I think has happened is that each of you had the tragic misfortune to pick the wrong man, and, having been drawn together by a common unhappy experience, you have jumped to the conclusion that because your little group has had bad luck, most other young women of your age have the same trouble.

This doesn't follow at all. On the contrary, you remind me of those narrow-minded people who go in for race prejudice because they may have had an unfortunate experience with a few people of some race not their own. Or, to your small way, you resemble those few citizens of foreign countries who bear a grudge against all Americans because they have seen some tourists behave badly.

It may be that all of you just happened to marry too young, before you had given yourselves enough time to begin how to size people up and recognize what men were good husband material and what ones weren't. Think back to your courtship days and try to remember just exactly what it was that attracted you in the first place to the men you married or to whom you became engaged. What types, exactly, were above men? I'm inclined to suspect they may Good-Time Charlies, or Sensible Sams. In other words, I think your interest in them may have been aroused, and held long enough to take you to the altar, by superficial qualities rather than the substantial ones that make the kind of husbands girls want.

So, after the honeymoon was over, and you expected your man to settle down to the responsible business of being loving, loyal and dependable husbands and fathers, the man just didn't come through. They didn't, because they weren't the type who could. Instead, they wanted to keep right on being Good-Time Charlie, Handsome Harry and Sensible Sam—the boys who cut a big figure with all the girls, from you don't like it, and wouldn't go along with it, they became "rude and insulting."



You say the happy wives you see among the women in your own age group are those who are resigned to older men. Actually, years have nothing to do with it. These girls simply had developed, before marriage, this invaluable ability to recognize men for what they really were, and so they knew enough to pick out mature, stable characters.

But cheer up, girls! It's tragic, yes, that you have met heart-break and disillusionment so relatively early in life. But since you're in the under-30 group, you still have plenty of time to find that man who can give you love and loyalty and radiant happiness in the world as well as disillusion and heartbreak and despair. The good things aren't come your way although if you stay bitter, resentful and cynical. But they will, if you go to his aid. He was taken to hospital at Gimli.

GET WHITER, YOUNGER-LOOKING TEETH IN JUST 3 WEEKS WITH PEPSODENT

*Your dentist has a tooth shade detector—it clearly shows that your teeth lose whiteness as you grow older. But far too often, people let their teeth grow dull before they should, adding unnecessary years to their appearance. Keep your teeth white, younger-looking with Pepsodent. Impartial laboratory tests prove that Pepsodent Dental Cream gives you whitest teeth—whiter than other leading toothpastes. And remember— white teeth are clean teeth—and clean teeth help prevent tooth decay.

S.S. Picnics

The annual picnic of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held on Saturday afternoon at Crystal Beach, Meadc:, about 200 pupils and parents journeyed to the beach and enjoyed themselves immensely under the beautiful warm sunshine.

Almost all the youngsters were in the water at one time or another during the afternoon. Later in the afternoon, the races were held in which a great interest was displayed.

LITTLE TOTS RACE.

The first race was for little tots under five years old. The first prize for the girls was won by Cathrine Gilcrest, followed by Janet Maracle for second prize. For the boys, the first prize was won by Jimmy McCreary. The second and third prizes were taken by Paul Peoples and Gregory Clark, respectively.

In the event for girls 6 and 7 the winner of the first prize was Ardel Sunderland. Coming in close behind was Ann Chambers for second and Ann Butcher for third. For the boys in the same age group, Bob Hutcheon broke the tape for first prize. Garth Muir took second prize and David McDonnell took third.

For girls 8 and 9, Ellen McCreary took first prize while Lorraine Hiddleston took second. The winners for the boys were Stuart McAllister first, Peter Mitchell second, and Roger Young third.

In the event for 10 and 11 year olds, the girls had to blow up a bag and kick it over the finish line. The boys had a straight running race. First prize for girls was won by Linda Clare and second by Sharon McDonald. For the boys John Peoples and Bob Michaud won first and second respectively.

For the 12 and 13 year old girls was a six plate race. The winners of this were Donna Blue, first, and Corine Feasey, second prize. The boys in this age group had a running race. The winner of the first prize was Jack Butcher followed by his brother Jerry Butcher for second prize.

The first mixed race was an aeroplane pilot race in which the men were blind folded and their partner had to guide them around an obstacle on the course by talking to them only. Some men were left stranded in the middle of the course. The winners for this were Ruth Cook and Jim Brisbin.

The second mixed race was exchange shoe race. The ladies had to put on the man's shoes and be helped to the finish line by him. The winner for this event was Mr. and Mrs. A. McCreary.

LADIES' NOVELTY RACE.

The ladies' race was in the form of a novelty race called the 'Pocket Book Stretch'. The ladies had to empty the contents of their purses on the ground and place them end to end to see who could form the longest line. The winner, Mrs. M. Trainer, had trouble getting the contents back into her purse.

After the races, the picnic supper was enjoyed. Some children journeyed back into the water. Later the group dispersed, returning to Belleville by two chartered buses and private cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Smith provided the entertainment. Mr. Smith sang songs, did sleight-of-hand tricks, and capped his performance with ventriloquism. Mrs. Smith sang and yodelled.

A general business meeting followed the entertainment. Chief item was receipt and acknowledgment of a cheque for $100 from local 126 of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Engineers, C.N.W., towards the Belle Haven Club's building fund.

R. E. Bible Rhyme Used In P.S. Centennial Competition

BY MRS. PERCY MACMULLEN

During Centennial year, the late A. E. Baker used the following Bible rhyme for the competition in the public school religious education.

The Hidge Road school, with their teacher, Mrs. John Wallace, attended one of the Centennial services at St. Paul's and she was presented with a lovely banner for the school. The Glen Ross school with their teacher, Mrs. Keitha Hubel, came a close second.

The Hidge Road pupils recited this selection in unison and word perfect and several folks are interested in having a copy for their own personal files.

OLD TESTAMENT BOOKS

In Genesis the world was made
By God's Almighty Hand;
In Exodus the Hebrews marched
To gain the promised land.
Leviticus contains the law,
Holy and just and good;
Numbers records all tribes enrolled
The sons of Abraham's blood.
Moses, in Deuteronomy,
Recounts God's mighty deeds.
Brave Joshua into Canaan's land
The host of Israel leads.
In Judges their rebellion oft
Provoked the Lord to smite,
While Ruth records the faith of one
Well pleasing in His sight.
In First and Second Samuel
Of Jesse's sons we read;
Ten tribes in First and Second Kings
Revolted from his seed.
In First and Second Chronicles
See Judah captive led,
While Ezra leads a remnant back
By princely Cyrus' aid.
The city walls of Zion
Nehemiah builds again,
While Esther saves her people
From the plots of wicked men.
In Job we read how faith can live
Beneath affliction's rod,
And David's Psalms are precious songs
For every child of God.
Proverbs, like a goodly string
Of choicest pearls, appear,
Ecclesiastes teaches men
How vain are all things here.

Of Christ's triumphant reign.
Malachi was the last who touched
The high prophetic chord.
His final notes sublimely show,
The coming of the Lord.

NEW TESTAMENT BOOKS

Matthew, Mark, Luke and John,
Tell what by Christ was said and done.
Acts both of the Apostles tell
And how the Holy Spirit fell.
Romans, Corinthians, and Galatians,
Hard by Ephesians take their stations
The Philippians, hand in hand
With the Colossians take their stand.
By Thessalonians, each and all
Claim for their author great St. Paul.
Who next writes twice to Timothy,
Then Titus and Philemon see:
While Hebrews the last letter claim:
Next comes the Epistle of St. James;
While Peter, John and good St. Jude,
With Revelation doth conclude.

The myrrh and song of Solomon
Exalts sweet Sharon's rose.
While Christ, the Saviour, and the King,
The "rapt" Isaiah shows.
The warning Jeremiah
The apostate Israel scorns;
His plaintive Lamentations
Their awful downfall mourns.
Ezekiel tells, in wondrous words
Of dazzling mysteries,
While Kings and empires yet to come
Daniel in vision sees.
Of judgment and of mercy, too,
Hosea loves to tell.
While Joel describes the blessed days
When God with men shall dwell
Among Tekoa's herdsmen
Amos received his call,
Whilst Obadiah prophesies
Of Edom's final fall.
Jonah displays a wondrous type
Of Christ the Risen Lord.
Micah pronounces Judah lost;
Lost but again restored.
Nahum declares on Nineveh
Just judgment shall be poured.
With woe for all the people
Who disobey the Lord.
A view of Chaldea's coming doom
Habakkuh in vision gives,
And Zephaniah warns the Jews
To turn, repent and live.
Haggai wrote to those who saw
The temple built again,
And Zechariah prophesied

MONTREAL (CP)—Bonfires will come to a halt in the cities and villages of Quebec province Thursday.

Flags and banners will fly as French Canada celebrates with dances, parades and a patriotic fireworks speeches the feast of Saint John the Baptist.

The annual celebration, like many other French-Canadian customs, follows the pattern of the Middle Ages when in France the "Confrerie de St-Jean-Baptiste" organized civic and religious functions on June 24, the feast of its patron saint.

On the eve of the feast minstrels played until the wee hours and citizens danced in public places in the light of a huge bonfire.

On the day itself, mass was celebrated "with the greatest of pomp" and in the afternoon a big parade wound through the streets of French cities. Musicians from all over the province joined the parade and were paid and fed during the two days of festivity.

Today, centuries later in Quebec province, little has changed.

OPEN-AIR MASS

In Montreal tonight the "Harmonie Metropole" ensemble a band concert and Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger celebrates an open-air pontifical high mass in Maisonneuve Park. Later he will bless is Feu de Saint Jean, which Mayor Camillien Houde will light. And the day will be ushered in with fire works.

"Devotion to Mary is the theme of a Thursday parade in Montreal. (Roman Catholic this year are paying special devotion to the mother of Christ).

Nineteen floats will display historical events in French Canada's history. Most of them will be at least a bouquet at the chalet atop Mount Royal to end the day's celebrations.

In Quebec City, old and young will join in folklore dances on the historic Dufferin Terrace which overlooks the St. Lawrence river, and as Msgr. Maurice Roy, Roman Catholic archbishop of Quebec, blesses the St. Jean-Baptiste flag from the heights of Quebec's Citadel, five parishes across the river and on the island of Orleans will light giant fires.

Archbishop Roy will celebrate pontifical high mass Thursday and in the afternoon a parade with the theme "the St. Jean Baptiste Society and its works" will be held in each parish evening concerts marking the feast will end the day's celebrations.

CELEBRATE DISCOVERY

In New Brunswick, the 350th anniversary of the discovery of the Saint John river by Samuel de Champlain, a French explorer, will be celebrated, with special ceremonies planned for Fredericton.

French-speaking Canadian communities sprinkled across Canada will also celebrate.

St. Jean Baptiste day has been celebrated in Montreal ever since the first pioneer set foot on Canadian soil. It was in 1636 that the Patriotic Society was founded in honor of the feast.

Traditional customs in those days had a great devotion to the precursor of Christ and every family named at least one boy Jean Baptiste.

MAY REMOVE TROUGH

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The last remaining evidence of the horse and buggy days in London may soon be removed. City council Monday night was asked by Ottawa to have the drinking trough on the market square removed. City engineer Roy Garret said the trough was there "for sentimental purposes only" and the PUC was having difficulty maintaining it.

Nylon Petticoats Being Worn Under Tennis Skirts

BY FERN RICH

LONDON (Reuters)—Petticoats, the much frilly nylon variety, are dressed up by British designer Teddy Tinling, peeped from beneath nearly every tennis skirt at Wimbledon's first ladies' day Thursday.

"I did not want trouble today," Miss Ramirez said. "So I just wore a skirt." She didn't amplify this intriguing statement.

But to save other women players from red faces, orders were issued to new on an extra button to keep the petticoats up.

WHITE POODLE

The dapper Tinling, who was watching, smoothed his abstract-petticoat and murmured: "Little Mo has another skirt embroidered with turtle doves—because she's in love."

Miss Scott chose a classic cream dress with groups of pleats at the side and back.

But why no ruffled panties this year?

"Well, my dear," Tinlong replied, "That was for 1948. Time marches on. We wanted to introduce the petticoat into tennis fashions that year—and the girls love it."

Building Will Equal Last Year Says President

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — Raymond Brunet of Hull, Que., president of the Canadian Construction Association, said the value of construction in Canada this year is expected to equal last year's boom proportions despite an early season lag.

Last year's construction was valued at a record $4,500,000,000 major portion of which was spent in heavy industrial and engineering projects, Mr. Brunet said in an interview.

Of the total—which about equaled Canada's entire budget—$1,200,000 was spent on construction of 104,000 housing units.

He said this year the building tempo is expected to increase so that the over-all physical work will equal to last year's record although construction contracts may the corresponding period of the year so far...are valued at about 10 per cent lower.

He forecast particular emphasis on housing construction during the next two years, estimating that 1,250,000 homes would be built due to changes in regulations permitting wider borrowing of funds for home building.

Ottawa Editor Loses Appeal In B.C. Court

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Court of Appeal Tuesday dismissed the appeal of Blair Fraser, Ottawa editor of Maclean's Magazine, from an order striking out libel action to the libel action of Gordon S. Wismer.

Wismer, former B.C. attorney general, is seeking unstated damages from Fraser and Maclean-Hunter Publishing Co., Ltd., for libel as a result of an article entitled "B.C. Coalition? Commits Suicide," published in the Feb. 15, 1952, edition of the magazine.

Tuesday's ruling was the latest development in the involved legal case that has not yet come to trial.

Fraser was appealing a decision of Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane of the B.C. Supreme Court striking out his defence arguments contending that the case should not go before the courts. Mr. Justice Macfarlane based his decision on the grounds Fraser had refused to comply with a Supreme Court order that he disclose the sources of information on which he based his article.

No Plans Made On Further Talks To Avert Strike

MONTREAL (CP)—Talks aimed at averting a possible nation-wide rail strike broke up Tuesday without any sign of further negotiations.

Representatives of 14 non-operating unions and railway officials held a report on the three meetings has been forwarded to the federal labor department in Ottawa. Neither side would comment further but both union and railway spokesmen said there are no plans for further talks.

Labor Minister Gregg called for a resumption of negotiations last week after strike talks ended in stalemate. One session was held last Thursday and another Tuesday.

BALLOTS OUT

Strike ballots have already gone out to the 135,000 employees represented by the unions. Results of the vote are expected to be known around Aug. 15.

The workers constitute virtually the same group that went on strike for nine days in 1950—a walkout that tied up transportation. They got a five-cent hourly benefit. The railway say the requests, if granted, would cost $60,000,000 yearly. No demands for pay increases are involved.

Workers involved are those who man the shops, freight yards, express cars, sleeping cars and other operations. The commercial telegraph systems are also involved.

Ore Shipments Likely to Start End of July

TORONTO (CP)—Shipments of Labrador iron ore are expected to start about the end of July.

W. H. Durrell, general manager of the Iron Ore Company of Canada, said Tuesday in a statement that preliminary shipments may be made before then but a 50-cent ton ore carrier is expected to be loaded at Seven Islands dock in Ungava Bay about July 31. Ore production with ceremonies marking the start of operations from the Labrador iron ore deposits.

For this ore will be carried to an Atlantic port, possibly Baltimore or Philadelphia.

FREIGHTER STUCK

The Norwegian freighter Bonanza is firmly held by a girder after it struck the Second Narrows bridge at Vancouver. Workmen with welding torches, above, and a tug, below, are trying to free the ship before a rising tide could anchor it even more firmly. The ship was placed in drydock and the bridge also will have to be repaired. (CP Photo).

World Grain Marts Wonder Whether Exporting Countries Will Reduce Price of Wheat

BY OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A question being raised in world grain markets following the recent international meeting in London is whether major wheat exporting countries will cut prices to minimum levels permitted under the International Wheat Agreement in an effort to boost lagging export sales.

There have been indications that the United States, a major exporter, would like to see export prices in a move to reduce a surplus supply. But opposition has been encountered from Canada, and the U.S. hesitates to act lest relations with Canada be disturbed.

A large portion of the wheat sold in world trade moves under provisions of the IWA. This pact sets up export quotas for major surplus-producing countries and import quotas for about 40 countries which do not produce as much wheat as they need. It also sets maximum and minimum prices.

Export and import quotas total ling 421,000,000 bushels were set for the marketing year ending July 31. But, with only little over a month to go, importing countries have taken only 215,000,000 bushels. The U.S., for instance, has sold only 105,000,000 bushels of its 185,000,000 export quota, and Canada

OBLIGATED NO BUY

Importing countries are obligated to buy their full quotas only if wheat is offered them at the minimum price, which is $1.55 a bushel. The top price is $2.05. Both Canada and the U.S. are now offering wheat at about $1.70.

A further cut in the export price would adversely affect Canadian wheat growers, but not those in the U.S. because the small size of programs of the two countries are sharply different.

The U.S. government maintains a support price for wheat, which is offered farmers at the minimum price, which is $1.55 a bushel. The top price is $2.05. Both Canada and the U.S. now are offering wheat at about $1.70.

In Canada, a government board controls the marketing of wheat. It sets sales quotas for individual growers and sets a buying price at the start of the marketing season. This price is usually considerably below the amount the board believes it will be able to get for the grain.

Victims Buried

FORT WILLIAM (CP) —Mrs. Hedwig Kopplin and her two children, Reinhard, five, and Rita, 19 months, were buried Tuesday while police still searched for their slayer.

The husband and father, 29-year-old Horst Kopplin, German immigrant, said he spent Saturday preparing a new home for the family at Mine Centre, 100 miles west.

"I have worked and fought for six years to make a home and security for my wife and my children," he said Tuesday. "Now I have nothing."

No Peacetime Conscription Say Officials

OTTAWA (CP)—For both political and financial reasons, there is no chance of peacetime conscription in Canada, defence officials said Tuesday.

Sectional opposition to conscription forms a long and well-known chapter in Canadian history. And the expense for conscription would be heavy.

The officials were commenting on a Sabin, John, N.B., report quoting Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds as saying he feels the majority of Canadian officers share his view that every youth in the country should receive two years' training.

The chief of the general staff added that conscription is a matter for political, not military, decision and that it would work only with the whole-hearted support of the government and the people.

WELL KNOWN

These views of Gen. Simonds have been well known for some time. They are the views of the commander who would want available as many trained men as possible in event of an emergency.

Defence Minister Claxton said he could not comment until he had seen the report or talked with Gen. Simonds.

Some officials here say they believe conscription would be essential for Canada in the event of a third world war, particularly if Canada itself were subject to atomic weapons. It is difficult to judge what form such a conflict will hold this view.

The Sabin news report did not make clear whether Gen. Simonds was referring to compulsory training in the reserve or in the regular army.

Brockville Man Named Director Of Militia, Cadets

OTTAWA (CP)—Lt.-Col. D. B. Buell, 48, of Brockville, Ont., who won the Distinguished Service Order on the Normandy beaches, has been promoted colonel and appointed director of militia and cadets, the army announced Tuesday.

Formation of the directorate of militia and cadets as part of a sweeping army reorganization was announced in the Commons last March 31 by Defence Minister Claxton. Formerly, reserve force and cadets were handled by separate sections in the directorate of military training.

Col. Buell, a graduate of the former instructor at Royal Military College, was commissioned in the British Columbia Regiment in 1928 and appointed to the permanent force in 1936. He led the Irish Shore Regiment ashore in Normandy on D-Day, June 6, 1944, and was wounded two months later and was invalided home. After the war he commanded the Royal Canadian School of Infantry at Camp Borden, Ont., and recently has been on the staff officer to the directorate of military training here and was responsible for cadet activities.

Six-Mile Link

WELLAND (CP) — Sod-turning ceremonies were held Tuesday to officially start construction of the $700,000 highway which will link Welland and Port Colborne.

The highway, being constructed on the west side of the Welland River, will be a six-mile link connection over the canal bridges. Seven years of planning preceded the beginning of the six-mile link.

Woman Killed With Two-by-4 Or Metal Strip

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Inspector John Craig of the Ontario provincial police said Tuesday Mrs. Hedwig Kopplin, 29, was bludgeoned to death by a wrecked metal object, a wooden two-by-four or a heavy piece of metal."

He also said the attractive brunette wife of a German immigrant was evidently beaten after being shot.

Her rope-trussed body was found outside the smoking ruins of the lonely cabin in which she lived at Kelly Siding 80 miles west of Port Arthur while her husband worked some 200 miles away. In the charred debris, police found the bodies of her two young children.

SAW CHILD

Provincial police said Tuesday Rafael Esposito, 38-year-old contract laborer with the Canada-National Railways, told them he was in the Kelly Siding area between 8 p.m. and 11 a.m. Saturday and saw five-year-old Reinhard Kopplin, one of the dead children, near his home. Police said they believe he is the last person known to have seen a member of the family prior to the slaying.

"It is certain he knew Mrs. Kopplin," police said. "She was the only woman at Kelly."

Police continued to question men in the isolated northwestern Ontario district.

Committee Chairman Roberts And Albert Wren Spar Mildly Over Questioning of Witnesses

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—The Ontario legislature's highways investigation committee travelling in high gear through the northwestern United States and Ontario this last week slowed down to a comparative crawl Tuesday—a 270-mile bus trip to Atikokan and back.

En route committee chairman Kelso Roberts (PC—Toronto St. Patrick) and Albert Wren (Lib.—Kenora) sparred mildly over the questioning of witnesses before the committee.

Today the 15-man party is scheduled to travel 110 miles east to Terrace Bay on the north shore of Lake Superior and after an overnight stop at the Terrace Bay pulp community it will inspect new highway projects for the two-mile Heronmere and Jellicoe returning to Port Arthur Thursday.

INTRODUCTORY SPIEL

Mr. Wren brought up the subject of witness-calling shortly after the committee left Port Arthur. He said it is his impression that the committee is on a fact-finding tour.

"However some people up here think we are here on an investigation," he said.

Mr. Roberts replied that there is no restriction on the committee in the gathering of information.

"I think that's the view of the committee generally," he said. "And the same applies when it meets in Toronto."

SAID PREPARED

Mr. Wren intimated in a committee hearing here last Saturday month that he is prepared to bring witnesses before the committee when it reaches Lakehead. Prior to a later meeting, he and Opposition Leader Farquhar Oliver conferred with Attorney-General Leitch and agreed to turn over to the attorney-general's department the names of witnesses and their relevant information for study by the crown.

Mr. James (PC — Lambton East), in joining the bus conference, said it would be "foolish" for the committee to interrogate witnesses who might offer evidence proceedings now before the courts.

Replying to a question put by Mr. Wren, Mr. Roberts said the books and records of witnesses who were investigated but not charged will be returned intact.

INFORMATION SECRET

However any information obtained from witnesses, officials or contractors was classified as secret.

Mr. Wren argued that the absolved contractors might offer valuable information. Mr. Roberts replied but Mr. Roberts said there is a possibility the evidence might be required in criminal proceedings.

Mr. Oliver interjected that he felt the Parsinnen-Leitch "agreement" made with the attorney-general on the refraining of witnesses until the court cases are completed.

During Tuesday's trip the committee inspected the Oskondga River bridge 30 miles west of Port Arthur, built under sub-contract from Tomlinson Bros. Ltd., by R. F. Peterson, a former engineer charged along with Tomlinson with conspiracy.

For the rest of the day the committee peered at highway construction on the Atikokan highway, accepted a brief on local road problems from the town of Atikokan and toured the neighboring Steep Rock iron ore development.

Person Presses for Start Of Seaway Talks Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Canada, in line with a suggestion by the United States, has proposed that representatives of the two governments meet in Ottawa next week to discuss construction of the St. Lawrence seaway.

The proposal was contained in a June 18 note from External Affairs Minister Pearson to Canadian Stuart, U.S. ambassador to Canada. The note was made public in simultaneous announcements in Ottawa today.

Pearson, in proposing the meeting, made it clear his government does not want discussion to "seriously delay" the building of either the 27-foot-deep seaway or its allied $600,000,000 New York-Ontario power project.

U.S. participation in the Atlantic-to-Great Lakes waterway was authorized in legislation signed by President Eisenhower May 13, which provides that a St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., headed by an administrator, be established by the president to direct construction and operation of the U.S. portion of the waterway. The president has yet to make the nominations.

Pearson said he had been "requested" to suggest to Canada that detailed Canadian discussions on the seaway begin "as soon as convenient" after formation of the development corporation.

Pearson, obviously aware that the administrator has not yet been named, nevertheless proposed that the initial meeting take place Monday. He said the meeting might lead to the preparation of a list of specific topics "which might form the basis for subsequent inter-governmental discussion."

Pearson implied that his country is prepared to proceed with construction of the all-Canadian seaway if delays develop.

Loss on Butter Held by Govt. Is $800,000

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has lost about $800,000 in disposal of 1953 butter at reduced prices for sales which stopped and likely will not be resumed until this fall, federal officials said Tuesday.

The government supports the butter market by offering to buy all surplus production at 58 cents a pound wholesale. It usually sells its accumulated surplus to the trade during the slack winter production period at a slightly higher price to cover storage and handling charges.

However, on May 31 it began offering its 25,000,000-pound stockpile of 1953 butter to the trade at 55½ cents a pound, absorbing a loss of about four cents a pound which would include the difference between the buying and selling price as well as storage and other charges.

AMOUNT DWINDLED

Though no complete figures have been disclosed officially, it is believed that 20,000,000 pounds of some 30,000,000 pounds in the two-week period ending June 12 were the remaining 13,000,000 into the fall-winter period.

Officials estimated the loss at roughly $800,000. But they emphasized that no figures had the advantage of the price drop since it helped protect retail butter prices in many Canadian communities.

They did not know what price the remaining 1953 butter will be sold at next fall, but there is a feeling that it may form part of 1954 supplies to be sold at regular government prices—perhaps 60 or 61 cents a pound wholesale.

In other words there will be no more "cheap" butter, which, of course, there is an unusual heavy summer production season and a drop in retail purchases in government warehouses.

Rev. J. Holland, Hamilton, Dies

HAMILTON (CP) — Rev. John Holland, the son of a slave who was chosen Hamilton's "Citizen of the Year" in 1951, died Tuesday in hospital.

He suffered a stroke in March and had been ill since.

Mr. Holland was a retired head pastor of the Centenary, Tamblyn and Buffalo Railroad, where he started working as a newsboy. He retired in 1948 after 33 years' service.

He was a former part-time minister at St. Paul's African Methodist Episcopal Church and in 1948 became full-time minister. At that time the church became non-denominational and was renamed Stewart Memorial church.

He is survived by a son, Hamilton service club.

Rev. Mr. Holland was chosen the city's first citizen because of his work with Negroes in the city and in improving relations between Negro and white populations.

French and Chinese Premiers Meet at Bern, Switzerland

By MAX HARRELSON

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — French premier Pierre Mendes-France and Red China's premier Chou En-lai opened talks on Indo-China that may determine whether there will be peace in Indo-China.

The two leaders came to the Swiss capital to keep their meeting clear of the protocol and formality of a formal conference. But Mendes-France made it clear that the subject of the conversations will be Indo-China and nothing else.

"Indo-China is the forefront of my program," the French premier told reporters before leaving Paris. "That is why I am spending all my time on it."

He declined to specify what proposals he would make to Chou, whose government is not openly recognized by the United States and has been accused by the West of supplying and equipping the Communist - led Vietminh rebel forces.

The French cabinet decided Tuesday to back Mendes-France's let it was learned that Chou was having talks in New Delhi to confer with India's prime minister Nehru.

Mendes-France took office with a promise to resign it he does not bring peace to Indo-China by July 20. The meeting with Chou will be the first major move in that direction.

Up to now he has been busy preparing for his own advisers, including Gen. Paul Ely, French Union commander in Indo-China, and Jean Chauvel, head of the French delegation at Geneva.

Mendes-France also discussed the Geneva conference Sunday with Britain's foreign secretary Eden and state undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith of the United States when they stopped in Paris en route home.

GOVT. ANNOUNCES

Quebec and Prince Edward Island do not budget for civil defence and most of Ontario's spending is on a program of standardization of fire hose couplings, in which the federal government has paid one-third of the cost.

Mr. Martin said the new formula will apply to specific projects including organization, administration, training, equipment, warning communications, initial equipment with no peacetime use, and civil defence construction.

The old formula of matching only provincial grants will be continued for purchases of equipment having a peacetime use and for clothing for civil defence workers.

The minister said Ontario is making a serious civil defence effort. It has 200 municipalities with organizations at various stages of preparedness.

TALKED WITH PREMIER

He said he talked with Premier Frost of Ontario recently and is satisfied a satisfactory arrangement can be worked out with the province.

A list of grants available in each province, with last year's figures in brackets, was tabled by Mr. Martin. It showed Ontario $862,033 ($422,068).

H. P. Cavers (C.—Lincoln) said local effort and individual initiative are the most important factors in the development of civil defence organizations. Civil defence should not be a fourth service of the defence forces but should be guided by the civilian population in the interests of self preservation. Industries could help municipal civil defence planning by organizing civil defence units in their plants.

OPPOSITION CRITICAL

Mr. Martin spoke during study of civil defence estimates after opposition speakers had criticized past financial arrangements with the provinces.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes VC (PC—Esquimalt-Saanich) said the haphazard method of matching provincial expenditures should not continue.

He urged passage of a civil defences act to provide uniform planning across the country and define the responsibilities of various levels of government. The federal government should assume full responsibility for planning civilian action in the event of an atomic attack.

The chief of civil defence should have the authority of a deputy minister and attend meetings of the chiefs of staff. The work of departments involved in civil defence should be co-ordinated.

FULL-TIME JOB

He suggested that in the field, full-time civil defence workers be organized in flying crews on the outskirts of large cities and equipped with airplanes and helicopters. Pending an attack, they could be used as instructors.

Opposition Leader Drew, who spoke following Mr. Martin, said the minister disregarded Gen. Pearkes' suggestion for civil defence legislation similar to that of the United Kingdom. The British act set out in detail what was to be done.

Canada had not approached the problem realistically. He asked how effective informal co-operation will be in the event of sudden attack.

NOT LIMITED

Mr. Martin said federal spending on civil defence is not limited to grants in provinces and municipalities. It had purchased much equipment outright and had trained more than 4,000 key instructors who in turn had trained more than 40,000 persons.

More than 600 communities had civil defence organizations in various stages of readiness and some 163,000 persons in Canada were connected with civil defence work.

The Commons, which approved civil defence spending estimates of $6,486,000, also approved estimates for the departments of defence production and veterans affairs.

I.O.D.E. Holds Last Meeting Of Spring Season

MARMORA — The final meeting before the summer recess was held by Marmora Chapter, IODE in the Masonic hall on Thursday evening, June 3, with Mrs. John Aitchison presiding over a fair attendance of members.

The meeting was preceded by a potluck supper. In the absence of the secretary, her duties were taken by Mrs. Eugene Brady. The treasurer's report, in her absence on holiday, was presented by Mrs. R. G. Walsh. The payment of outstanding bills was authorized and the Regent requested that any owing fees pay them this month. It was decided to send a cheque to Marmora public school library to purchase children's books.

The Regent read a report from the national convention which was held in Fredericton, N.B. Mrs. M. Borland, sewing convener, reported the completion of a quilt that afternoon. She requested that each councillor's group make a quilt as a summer project.

Mrs. W. Tupper, wool convener, reported wool still on hand. Mrs. Charles Brady, educational convener, read the proposed plan from the committee regarding work in the local high school.

The sum of $275 was voted towards the work of this committee. $5.00 was voted to the Agricultural Society.

The chapter decided to operate a booth again at the fall fair in September. In place of a summer bake sale the councillors were authorized to collect $1.00 from each member.

Miss Hilda Henderson read a paper on Canadianization and Immigration. The meeting closed in the customary manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Murney Kirkey were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reide.

Mr. W. H. Farrow and Mr. Orr were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stapley.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at Foxboro on Saturday afternoon when Rev. H. Giffin united in marriage Miss Barbara Helen, of Hallaway, and Mr. Daniel Pretty, of Wooler. The reception was held in Latimer's tea room, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reide, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harlow were Sunday tea guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kleinsteuber of Actinolite, and attended anniversary services at Actinolite church.

Miss Thelma Prest has secured a position at the tea room, Oak Lake, for the summer months.

Mrs. P. Stalkovich, of Belleville, and son, Mr. Jack Eggleton, of Oshawa, called on Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pitchett on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Carl Bridges, Mrs. Bert Reide, Mrs. C. Pitchett, Mrs. W. McMullen and Mrs. Maurice Clancy spent Monday evening at Mrs. Warren Harlow's, when several Sunday School and W.A. matters were discussed.

Sunday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jarvis were: Mr. and Mrs. John Jeffrey, Mr. Clarence Jeffrey of West Huntingdon; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Young, of Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Clancy and Lloyd were Wednesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Pollock of Wellman's.

The pupils of Eggleton school are smiling this week. They won the baseball game played at the school grounds Wednesday afternoon.

UNIQUE LAW

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Valeta Hirshman, 52-year-old widow, was fined $100 Monday for leaving three abandoned ice boxes in the back yard of her house. She was the first person arraigned under an ordinance adopted last Thursday, inspired by reports from various parts of the country of children being suffocated in abandoned ice boxes.

FACTS ABOUT DOMINION ROYAL NYLON LIFEWALL TUBES

1 LIFEWALL tubes represent the most radical single development in all tire history. They are, even alone, almost as strong as conventional tires!

2 In special demonstrations, LIFEWALL tubes have been driven over the road — since Wrst Tbs. has proved their outstanding, life protection strength.

3 Each LIFEWALL tube contains two full layers of Nylon cords . . . tremendously tough and strong . . . giving you double tire strength and positive blowout prevention on every wheel!

4 The scientific combination of Butyl rubber and woven nylon is an example of Nylon used to its best possible advantage in tube or tire construction. It's an exclusive Dominion Royal feature that allows the Nylon LIFEWALL Tube to float free, turn every inner without heave.

5 You can have LIFEWALL tubes in any tire, old or new. See your Dominion Royal Tire Dealer today.

TESTS LIKE THIS PROVE

CAMPBELLFORD

Glad Tidings Tabernacle Lays Corner Stone

CAMPBELLFORD — The Rev. W. B. Greenwood, district superintendent of the eastern Ontario and Quebec Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, came to Campbellford from Belleville on Sunday to conduct services during the laying of the corner stone of the new Glad Tidings Pentecostal Tabernacle.

The laying of the stone was a milestone in the history of the church in Campbellford. In 1941, the Rev. J. D. Piper, who was at that time pastor, completed a basement church on Bridge street west, which was the beginning of the growth of the church locally. In 1951, the Rev. G. E. Leno became pastor of the church, and began making plans for the completion of the upper portion of the building, which has just recently been completed, with the exception of some of the brick facing.

DEDICATION SERVICE

The services began in the church basement at 10:30 Sunday with an open session Sunday school. The dedication services began at 11 a.m. when the corner stone was placed in position and officially dedicated by Mr. Greenwood.

The corner stone was donated by Mrs. George Godden, of Campbellford, in memory of her husband. Before the stone was placed in position, a list of names of all deceased members of the church was placed in an opening behind the stone, along with a Bible.

The official opening of the church will take place on Sunday, September 5th, when special services will be conducted.

DAMAGE CHEQUES SENT

SARNIA (CP)—Cheques worth $11,886 will be sent to 25 Lambton county residents this week, winding up the rural tornado settlement committee's work which began when a tornado destroyed property in the district last May. Committee secretary John Huey said Monday the payment will bring to 882,743 the amount paid to rural property owners. Payments cover loss of buildings only, Mr. Huey said.

REDS SEIZE VESSEL

KUSHIRO, Japan (AP)—A Soviet coast guard vessel seized a Japanese cod-fishing vessel Saturday off Konashiri Island, east of Hokkaido, Kyodo news agency reported Sunday night. Japanese fishermen, released June 9 after being held from one to three months by the Russians, said the Russians at that time held at least 10 Japanese fishing boats, and had questioned crews "vigorously about espionage."

Giants Open Gap Over Brooks With Hair-Raising Finish; Indians Lose

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

QUITE A CHORE.

It would seem the ebullient Wren Blair of Oshawa, who piloted the senior "B" club of that city to the Group title and the Ontario championship has bitten off a sizable hockey chunk for next winter. Mr. Blair, it seems has been named manager-coach of the senior "A" Chatham Maroons and the appointment carries the coaching skate of "Black Jack" Stewart inherited from the late Conn Smythe. Stewart was paid $6,000 in the contract it owns. According to a Windsor sports scribe "the commission can give him a ten-day warning in writing and thereafter kill the contract if his team is not satisfactory. So all Blair has to do is come in cold from the senior "B", bring his own bankroll and produce a first-class club, or else. If he can manage this without Stewart's players it ought to be the neatest trick since Grant took Richmond."

NEXT?

When it be Santee, Halberg, or will that gallant British pacehorse Chris Chataway, the Man Friday for both Landy and Bannister, uncork some hidden speed and join the charmed circle of four-minute milers.

Landy's superb effort is somewhat anti-climactic coming as it did so close on the heels of that of Bannister, whose undying claim to fame will be that he was the first to break the four-minute scale barrier of sprintdom.

From here in, the glory that is left, will be that of breaking the world records. Some of the way world records are being smashed these days, the "ultimate" may not yet have been achieved.

Landy, apparently, is of the opinion that he can beat his own record as stated after his sensational 3.58 mark that he would not try to do better—"this year".

However the Landy triumph has given a tremendous jolt to the sprint events in the British Empire Games being held in Vancouver in July when the now famous Commonwealth miler sees will compete against each other.

That is the lusty needle given to any athletic meet.

Roger Bannister's description of his manner of training had track and field coaches all over the world scratching their noggins. Bannister thought a detailed explanation of how he trained to expand his lungs, enlarge his heart etc. Yet he finished in a state of collapse and had to be helped from the scene of his triumph.

Landy on the other hand finished in a blaze of blistering speed, trotted along the track for some distance, smiled a broad smile of victory and was shouldered off the track in comparatively good condition.

Now the various coaches, probably will go into another noggin-scratching session.

Ann American track and field coach, said to be the "dean" of his kind apparently irked or disappointed at anybody but an American being the first to run the mile in less minutes than a minute. Mr. Bannister's effort with the Santee "can-tee can do it any time."

Which led the satirical Dan (New York Mirror) Parker to counter with, "Why doesn't Santee go out and do it instead of talking so much about it?"

Santee, whose best mark thus far for the mile is 4:01 had better "get cracked". The going is definitely harder all the time. A week ago all he had to do was beat the mark of 3.59.4. Now he has to whittle something off 3.58.

"A REGULAR GUY".

Another link with the roaring days of the old Bay of Quinte Baseball League was severed when Walter (Kink) Kinkley, 72, Sully Barker, "Warpy" Phillips, Letty Fenlon, Ezz Card, Ernie Gilbard, Chuck Cairns, "Twig" Woodley and Ken Colling, among others, were household names for several of the latter day with the passing of Maurice "Kink" Kinkley, "Kink", who starred at first base with the Napanee Gilbards in the balmy days, died from a sudden heart attack in Sidney. He was with the Napanee team for about nine years before going to Copper Cliff where he played with the Redmen. Later he became umpire-in-chief of the Nickel Belt League and umpired Senior games and the Creighton Indians to titles in 1946 and 1953. "Kink" was a "regular guy" a clean sportsman and a fine competitor. The department joins the "boys of old brigade" in extending deepest sympathy to the family.

QUESTION.

The question in "rasale" circles is whether the Stratospheric Stick-ups, Paul Ballargeon and Tex Mackenzie, will operate along the style of Russian dancers, or the Nipponese Togo Twins will use periscopes in their main bout come Friday night. The four-by-fours from the Land of the Rising Sun might decide to break the Giants in two and make it a pair and a team instead of the conventional four. In any event these squat Hercules from the land of cherry blossoms, jui jitsu and geisha gals are tough bombres and like their beloved Fujiyama can erupt with plenty of power. The first appearance here for the Japs, and they're colorful to say the least. Timmy Geohegen will endeavor to trawg the Harp, "Skull" Murphy and Danny O'Shocker clashing with Jack Wentworth in the opener.

THEY'RE GOOD.

Bryson Reid's Regent baseballers trek to Deseronto tonight in quest of their third straight victory in the Belleville District Baseball League. On Saturday they entertain the same team at the Exhibition Park in a night game. The Raiders have won their opening pair of contests and at present share the league lead, with the Picton nine. Coach Chuck Barrigar is doing a fine job with the city intermediate squad and by the time mid-season arrives the Regents should compare with the best in the loop.

RAIN HITS SOCCER

BERN (AP)—A 20-minute shower burst over Switzerland's Swedish-Austrian Tuesday threatened soggy ground for today's replays in the first round of the world soccer championship.

CHANGES PITCHERS

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Manager Eddie Stanky did something Tuesday about his wobbly St. Louis Cardinal pitching staff, but how much remained to be seen.

Righthander Stu Miller was optioned to Columbus of the American Association along with Bill Greason, who was elevated from the Cardinal reserve list. At the same time righthanded pitchers Brooks Lawrence and Ralph Beard were brought up from Columbus.

Bases-Loaded Single in 9th Gives Durocher Dandies Win; Chisox Gain Game on Tribe

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Browns or Orioles, St. Louis or Baltimore the sad fact seems to be that it's a last-place ball club.

More than $3,000,000 have been spent on the franchises since a year ago today. The net result in the won and lost columns is a game-and-a-half improvement.

The Orioles have won 22 games and lost 41 a year ago today the Browns stood 21-44.

The Orioles of 1954 lost their ninth in a row Tuesday night, 3-1 to Boston in 12 innings. It also was their ninth straight loss at home, starting June 1.

ONE DIFFERENCE

The only outstanding difference is in the crowds. The Browns played in privacy. More than 130,000 have watched with the Orioles through their last nine defeats.

The Orioles are 22½ games behind the Cleveland Indians who long one game of their American League lead Tuesday night. The Indians bowed to Philadelphia 4-1 while Chicago was beating Washington 5-3. The Sox made the Griffith Stadium fence in the White Sox within three games of the Indians.

In the National League the New York Giants moved to within two with hair-raising finishes, shading Milwaukee 3-2 on a last-inning single by Monte Irvin with two out in the ninth. Cincinnati mauled Brooklyn 10-3 in the nightcap for victory. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 4-3. Pittsburgh and the Pirates were rained out.

INDIANS SCALPED

Al Sima did his ex-Chicago teammates a good turn by pitching the Athletics to a four-hit victory over Cleveland. It was the first victory for the lefthander who was traded 10 days ago. He drove in two of the A's four runs. Gene Woodling who suffered his fifth loge.

Virgil Trucks joined Mickey Keegan as the American League's only 10 game winners in Chicago's victory bowed to Steve Gromek and the Detroit Tigers. The Yanks collected eight hits but couldn't score until the eighth off the righthander who won his ninth game.

A GIANT FINISH

The Giants came up with another climax that Hollywood wouldn't dare to offer. They trailed 2-1 going into the last of the ninth. A walk to Dusty Rhodes, a single by Don Mueller and a double by Willie Mays tied the score. With the bases loaded and two out Leo Durocher sent up Irvin as a pinch hitter. He had batted in his last 26 times at bat but Monte met the first pitch for a single—and the Giants were again.

The Dodgers were helpless against a combination of six-hit pitching by Bud Podbielan and a 14-hit Cincinnati attack. Jim Greengrass hit two home runs and Andy Seminick hit one for the Reds.

Robin Roberts, who had to go 15 innings his last time out, struck out 10 and walked only two as the Phillies whipped Chicago. A two-run double by Smoky Burgess in the eighth clinched the contest. Hank Sauer hit his 21st homer for the Cubs.

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Peterborough Trailermen are in first place in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior series with 18 points, two more than the runner-up St. Catharines Athletics, official league statistics showed Tuesday. The standing includes all games played to Sunday, June 20.

Hamilton Tigers are in third spot with four wins and four losses for eight points. The defiance-defying Mimico Mounties have fi n a l l y broken their losing column and have one victory and nine defeats for two points.

Jim McNulty of Hamilton leads the league in points, with a total of 27 on 12 goals and 15 assists. Peterborough's Russ Slater is tops in goal-scoring with 26 markers.

SATERFIELD WINS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bob Satterfield, 176½, spotted his opponent Tommy Harmon a knockout and Cleveland Williams in 1:03 of the third round in a scheduled 10-rounder at the Auditorium Tuesday night.

Satterfield unleashed a murderous barrage of punches in the third round to flatten Williams. The final punch was a left hook to the jaw. After the fight it took almost a full minute to revive the 30-year-old Tampa heavyweight, who suffered his first knockout and second defeat in 32 fights.

Landy Ran in Aussie Sand Dunes To Strengthen Those Leg Muscles

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—A man who spends much time trying to peer into the future in the sports world tells on his face that Roger Bannister takes an inordinate pleasure in calling one right now and then. The 3:58 mile which John Landy ran in Finland brought a gentle little thrill to one who predicted 18 months ago that the Australian would be the world's best.

It was on a burning hot January day in Melbourne, immediately after the 1952 Davis Cup matches that we watched the Aussie reel off a 4:06.8 mile under poor conditions and became convinced he would cut under the then fabled four-minute mark without much trouble the first time he had a fair chance at it.

After the race we wrote: "You could do worse than bet that Landy will be the first athlete in history to run the four-minute mile. It is more than probable if he had not been forced to buck a stiff breeze over the final 150 yards today the "miracle mile" would be on its way to the record books now."

You would have bet the bet to Roger Bannister's historic 3:59.4 quite a few weeks back, but Landy that we still like to think it wasn't a bad bit of prediction on short notice. Who can say that Landy would not have cracked the competition wide open if a year ago he had been running then under Finland's ideal conditions instead of bucking the vagaries of Australian weather?

On the day we saw Landy he was being closely chaperoned by his manager-coach, a bushy-haired wisp of a man named Percy Cerutty. Percy said that he had "discovered" Landy a year ago in the "temperamental bloke" on his hands.

IN SAND DUNES

"John run on a four-minute mile any day he feels like it," his coach said. "I've got to find some way to get him to extend himself, even if it's to bring out a set of quarter-milers to pace him. Maybe such a record wouldn't be recognized, but I'd like to show 'em what he can do."

Under prompting, it turned out that Cerrutty, a veteran marathon runner, had some very unusual ideas about training Landy and a number of other promising youngsters he had taken under his wing. He had run to the 1956 Olympics to be held at Melbourne.

He liked to run them in the sand dunes to strengthen their legs. While the sand might not be regarded by the world's other track coaches, it appears to have done Landy no lasting harm.

What Made Satchel Run?

Baseball's most celebrated pitcher, Satchel Paige, is considered the most relaxed athlete in the sports world. Nothing ever excites him . . . he never hurries never rushes.

Satchel, who will be on display here July 8 when he pitches for the Harlem Globetrotters against the House of David at Exhibition Park, says:

"That's how ya' get old, rushing around and carryin' on. I take my time always . . . I ain't in no hurry to go no place."

Satchel admits, however, there are times when it is absolutely necessary to hurry. He remembers, for example, that time down in Mexico City.

"Oh yes," he recalled recently, "I was playing for this team down there and they decided to give me a rest. I had pitched four days in a row. So that day they put me in the outfield.. That's the kind of rest they gave me.

"Well, I'm playing leftfield and it's a dogtrot game. The score is tied in the ninth and the other team is up at bat. I'm out there in the outfield and the grass is so deep it's up past my ankles, which means it's tough for you to run fast.

"The guy at bat hits one on the nose and the ball goes sailing over my head. I run after it, of course, and finally catch up with it. But when I go to pick it up, I see somethin' there and, brother, I really take off. I beat the guy who's running the bases to home plate. I'm tellin' you...I really took off. When I got to home plate everybody starts hollerin' and screamin' at me. They're mad 'cause I don't get the ball.

"And then I tell 'em what happened. There was a great big snake out there, all curled around the ball. He was ready to strike and I took off.

"Yes...guess you can say I got excited that time alright...I showed 'em that time that I ain't the slowest guy in the world, after all."

Terriers Lose To Guelph; Hoskings Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Guelph - Waterloo Royals are making a bid to get out of the Senior Intercounty Baseball League cellar. And even though it's a tough climb, they're making headway.

The Royals won their fourth consecutive game Tuesday night—the second in a row by extra innings—by shading the league-leading Terriers 4-3 in 11 innings in Galt.

London Majors missed a chance to climb into a first-place tie with the Terriers when they were walloped 7-1 by the Panthers in Kitchener in the league's other game. The Majors have suffered eight losses so far this season and half of them have been to the Panthers.

CREIGHTON WINS

Two Toronto teams saw the only action of the Viaduct Ontario Baseball League. Hoskings scored two runs in the ninth and another in the 10th to salvage a 4-3 decision over Caterers.

Although the Royals still remain in last place by a few percentage points their victory over Galt boosted them to within three games of the first-place Terriers.

A pinch single by playing coach Irish Miskimmons in the 11th sent home the winning run. Jeep Jessup who gave up eight walks to the Royals suffered the loss—his first of the season after five victories. Gord Arias, after taking three straight losses, won his first victory. He gave up the game's only homer—a two-run clout to John Imbra.

SIX HITS

In Kitchener Johnny Maldovan, a former International League hurler held the Majors to six hits, four walks and struck out seven men in posting his first straight win since joining the Panthers. He has no losses.

The Panthers spotted London one run in the third and then scored seven runs to run away with the victory. A London error with the bases loaded in the fourth gave Kitchener two unearned runs, including the winning tally.

Five games are scheduled in the Intercounty tonight. Galt meets Guelph in a doubleheader at Waterloo and Brantford Red Sox play a twin bill with the Elgins in St. Thomas. Kitchener returns to London for a single game.

Orioles Fail To Back Up Ace Hurler

BALTIMORE (AP)—The ways the Baltimore Orioles find to lose games are bad enough for him, but manager Jimmy Dykes thinks "it's a crime" that they can't at least help pitcher Bob Turley win some more.

"He's pitching great baseball," said Dykes after Turley took his seventh loss Tuesday night because one run wasn't enough for him to beat Boston Red Sox.

"Turley can't make a mistake," said Dykes. "If he does, he's beat, because we can't score for him. He's got to be perfect every time or lose."

THREE HITS

Turley gave up only three hits for the regulation nine innings and then lost the game 3-1 in the 12th when the first two batters got home runs with two walks.

It was the third time this American League season that Turley was forced into extra innings. He won a 10-inning game 2-1, then lost in 13 innings by the same score.

In two of his other losses, the Orioles also scored only one run. Three of his six victories have been by the same nerve-wracking 2-1 score.

He lost 3-1 to Cleveland after pitching 8 1-3 innings of no-hit ball.

TO TRAIN IN FLA.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Orioles announced Tuesday they are pulling out of Yuma, Arizona, and will join 12 other major league baseball teams training in Florida next spring. The move leaves only Cleveland Indians, Chicago Cubs and New York Giants training in Arizona.

INSIDE BASEBALL for Little Leaguers

By MICKEY McCONNELL
Director of the Brooklyn Dodgers Baseball School

Proper use of your body enables you to throw hard without appearing to do so. You've heard the expression, "He's got a sneaky fast ball." This generally means that it doesn't look like a pitcher is throwing hard, but the ball whizzes past the batter before he is set to hit it.

The great Christy Mathewson, Hall-of-Famer Dizzy Dean, and many other famous pitchers discovered how to pitch so smoothly that it did not seem that they were putting any effort into their pitching. Learning to push off the rubber properly and to follow through with their bodies were big assets to them. On the other hand you have seen pitchers who huff and puff and moan and groan as they throw and it is obvious to everyone in the ball park that they are putting a lot of effort into their throws. They desire to bear down is good, but no pitcher can get the best results unless he is relaxed. Too much strain in throwing makes it difficult to control a pitch.

Pitchers like Mathewson, Dean, Ed Lopat and Robin Roberts, with smooth motions, have much good control that they can hit the target the catcher holds for them 80 per cent of the time.

Favorites Win In Ontario Ladies' Open

Miss Sharp defeated Mrs. J. A. Carruthers of Toronto, 6 and 3, while Miss Gay edged Noreen Laing of Toronto 2 and 1.

Other players advancing to the round of eight match play were Mrs. C. C. Whitelaw of Montreal, Mrs. L. Ross of Cobourg and Mrs. J. Godson, Mrs. M. H. Currey, Mrs. D. Seawright and Miss Shirley Woodley, all of Toronto.

Miss Sharp's score of 152 was three higher than her medal honors 80 of Monday, but she experienced difficulty in defeating Mrs. Carruthers, who had trouble on the greens. Miss Sharp was only one hole up at the seventh, but she won the next five holes to clinch the match.

Miss Gay was three up at the turn and although Miss Laing won the 11th and 15th she could not overcome her opponent's margin. The 16th and 17th holes were halved.

Soccer Moguls Turn Down Rules Change

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The men who make the rules of international soccer Tuesday turned down a plan that would bring more penalty goals.

They urged the indirect free kick for obstruction in the penalty area be abolished but the idea ran into stiff opposition from England and Northern Ireland and was dropped.

The board made two small changes in the laws of the game.

One makes clear the ball cannot be changed during a match without the referee's permission. The other provides the player who comes on to the field late or returns after injury can go straight into the contest from the sideline without reporting to the officials once the referee has signalled him on to the field.

Head Blows Not Damaging, Doctors Say

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Blows to the head in "well-conducted fights" apparently do not produce either punch-drunkenness or permanent brain damage, two New York University physicians reported today.

In co-operation with the New York state athletic commission, Dr. Harry A. Kaplan and Dr. Jefferson Browder studied the brain waves of 1,043 professional boxers. The patterns changed little over long periods, the two physicians told the American Medical Association.

If a boxer is punch-drunk, they added, the chances are that hereditary factors play a greater role in his condition than the punishment he has taken in the head.

Brain-wave records failed to show any significant change in boxers who lost their fights by knockouts, the doctors said. They did confirm, however, that some fighters are more susceptible to head blows than others. These are the types referred to as having "glass jaws." They just can't take blows in that area, but this doesn't mean they suffer greater brain damage than others.

Loss of consciousness by a boxer frequently comes from blows on parts of the body other than the head, they reported.

Mounties Lose To St. Kitts

MIMICO, Ont. (CP)—St. Catharines Athletics defeated Mimico Mountaineers 12-4 Tuesday night in an Ontario Lacrosse Association senior game.

Derry Davies of the Athletics was high scorer with three goals. Bill Bradshaw, Roger Smith, Doug Smith and Fred Martin each tallied two goals.

Leafs, Wings Start League-Lead Rampage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the other teams in the International League aren't careful, they won't even be able to see the Toronto Maple Leafs and Rochester Red Wings by the July 4 halfway mark.

The league-leading Leafs are two games ahead of the Wings who in turn, are six in front of the third-place Montreal Royals. And both are on rampages.

The Leafs whipped Buffalo Bisons 3-1 Tuesday night for their ninth victory in their last 10 starts, while the Wings swept a doubleheader from Richmond Virginians 5-4 and 8-3 to run their winning skein to six.

In other action, the Royals outslugged Syracuse Chiefs 13-9 and Ottawa A's stopped Havana Sugar Kings 4-3.

THREE-HITTER

Connie Johnson hurled the Leafs to their triumph over the Bisons, spinning a three-hitter. His shutout was spoiled when Ron Northey hit a home run in the ninth.

The Wings won the opener of their twin bill by scoring five runs in the last two innings, erasing a 3-0 Richmond advantage. In the nightcap, Jack Parnell won his eighth game with the aid of reliefer Niles Jordan.

The Royals spotted the Chiefs seven runs in the first three innings but still came on to win it. Glen Cox held the Chiefs to three hits and one run in the last six innings to get the victory.

Joe Taylor was the big man in the Ottawa triumph when he singled home two runs in the eighth to give Art Dinnar his first win.

TCP increases acceleration up to 15% within 400 miles
Shell-discovered additive, TCP, blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, breaks through power barrier, set up by pre-ignition and spark plug "miss",
. . . the greatest gasoline development in 31 years
WHETHER yours is a new car barely past the 2000-mile mark or an "old faithful"—it's almost certain that you're getting less response than you should when you step down on the accelerator — as much as 15% less.
The power barrier
There's a wall between you and full engine power. It is caused by lead and carbon deposits that glow red hot in combustion chambers to pre-ignite fuel before the piston is in proper firing position.
These same deposits form on spark plugs and act as electrical conductors to short-circuit them. Then your spark plugs misfire.
These twin power thieves, pre-ignition and misfiring, are most active when you need power most, during acceleration or on hills.
TCP, the unique Shell-discovered fuel additive, corrects both pre-ignition and misfiring. It "fireproofs" deposits in the combustion chamber, prevents them from glowing red hot to pre-fire fuel. It makes the deposits on spark plugs non-conductive, and ends misfiring.
TCP breaks through barrier—fast
So quickly does Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP go to work that you'll feel the difference—up to 15% more power, more acceleration—by the time you've driven 400 miles. But engine deposits accumulate constantly. Continued use of TCP additive is necessary to maintain your power and performance gains.
Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP is the greatest gasoline development since the discovery of tetraethyl lead. It is available only at your Shell Dealer's.
*Shell's Trademark for its unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

RAWDON

Bethel W.A. Sponsors Colorful, Successful Tea

RAWDON.—A colorful "Frosty Tea" and bake sale was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Donald Heath, sponsored by the ladies of Bethel United Church.

The day was ideal and comfortable seats were provided on the shady lawn where the guests were received by the hostess, Mrs. Heath and Mrs. Thomas Laycock, president of Bethel Women's Association.

The living room was decorated with baskets of pink and white peonies, and during the afternoon piano music was contributed by Mrs. Arthur Spear, president of Belleville Presbytery W.A., and Mrs. Harold Elliott and Mrs. William Heath.

TEA ROOM HOSTESS

Mrs. James Warren invited the guests to the tea room and also to the den where about 30 ladies were served a sitting.

The financial treasurers for the afternoon were, Mrs. R. H. Bonsteel, Mrs. S. J. Elliott and Mrs. Leslie Thompson. Among the guests, who registered were over 125. These included Mrs. Heath's mother, Mrs. Roy Mallory and a group of ladies from Campbellford; Mrs. George Ingram, Mrs. Thomas Watson, Mrs. Louise Stewart, Mrs. Thomas Hay and Mrs. John Thompson.

Guests were in attendance from St. Paul's; St. John's and St. Andrew's, Stirling; St. Thomas and St. Marks, Church of England, Springbrook; Carmel, Carlaw, Wellman's, Mount Pleasant; United churches in Rawdon township and Burnbrae Presbyterian in Seymour township.

POWER OF BEAUTY

The tea room was a bower of beauty with pink and white peonies arranged in baskets and vases in every available spot.

The table was set with two silver services, candelabra with pink and white tapers and a low bowl of "Heavenly-Day" deep rose peonies.

Mrs. Stewart Hoover and Mrs. Earl McMullen convened the tea room, and those who served included, Misses Barbara Green, June Free, Barbara Hadley and Mrs. Frances Reid. The various hours were taken by six ladies, who poured; Mrs. Edwin Warren, St. Paul's, Stirling, and Mrs. Joe Whitehead, St. John's, Stirling; Mrs. Frank Jeffs, Mount Pleasant; Mrs. Clifford Clancy, Wellman's; Mrs. R. R. Bonsteel, Rawdon circuit and Mrs. H. Cousens, Burnbrae.

Those who were in charge of convening and replenishing the plates of delectable sandwiches and cookies were: Mrs. Edgar McKeown and Mrs. Harry Heath.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

When a bridge contract looks as if it is dead duck give it time, old college try anyway. There may be life in the old boy yet, as when south was in six clubs with the deal shown here:

	NORTH
	♠ A J 94
	♥ 8 7 4
	♦ Q 10
	♣ A 10
WEST		EAST
♠ K 10 8		♠ Q 7 5 3
♥ K J 9 3		♥ X 10 8 6 2
♦ 10 4 3		♦ J 9 8
♣ Q J 9 8		♣ 7
	SOUTH
	♦ K 7 6 5 4 3 2
	♣ K

The opening lead from west was heart queen. Declarer took one good look at dummy and knew he had no worries in the major suits. But what will be up against in the minors?

A fourth south diamond must be saved. If opponent trumps are not evenly split, he must lose a trick in that suit. And if the only unseen trumps are in one hand he may long for finesse tricks.

The first trick was taken with dummy heart ace and a small heart was ruffed. Ace spade for an entry there. A small trump was led. West played with the jack and the north ace won.

When east showed out it looked for sure as if west must take two trump tricks. However, south found a way to compel west to only one trump trick. Watch and see how he worked it out.

He ruffed another heart. A spade to the ace entered dummy. A spade from north was ruffed in south. Dummy got in with a diamond, south ruffed another spade. Dummy got in with a diamond.

South diamond ace won and each hand was down to three cards. South led a diamond and king-smal of trumps. Dummy had a spade, a heart, trump ten. East was stripped down to three trumps: Q 9 8.

Right here south led his last diamond and west could do nothing but either be ruffed with the queen, dummy stuffs. West returns a trump and the last two tricks go to north, and south.

When south leads the 1st diamond, could if west ruffs with nine or eightpost instead of queen? Dummy overruffs with ten and west will get only one trick in trump; the only trick lost.

West was smothered into a trump endplay. He almost choked.

A candy booth on the verandah was in charge of Mrs. F. Reid. A number of peonies set off the attractiveness of the homemade candies which were soon disposed of to the large group of eager buyers.

MANY GOOD THINGS

The sun porch bloomed with vases of pink and white peonies. The long table across the centre was laden with a large array of home baked foods, angel cake predominated with all other varieties, many iced in exquisite style. There was a tempting array of taffy and berry tarts; pies galore, buns, cream, eggs. Nun-erous cup cakes and cookies. This table was overloaded with goodies at 2 p.m. and by 5 p.m. only a time everything was sold and the conveners, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Heath and Mrs. Gordon Green, had completed their task.

Bethel ladies had chosen Friday afternoon as perhaps a good time for bake sales and they certainly were rewarded for their efforts.

Following the tea, several guests enjoyed a chat on the lawn and the large attendance was evidence of the success of another afternoon tea on Rawdon circuit.

Little Benny's Note Book

Pop started to drink his first cup of coffee this morning, saying, Bang it and bang it, I'm mad at the world.

Why, William? I meen why? ma said, and pop said, I don't know why, that's what makes me still madder.

Now William does that make sense? ma said, and pop said, Yes, nothing is more irritating than to be in a bad humor for no apparent reason. Horse blanket to blazes. I'm mad and that seems to be all there is to it, he said.

Maybe you just got out of the wrong side of the bed, ma said, and I said, G, pop, which side did you get out of?

Judging by my dislocated frame of mind, I must of got out of both sides at once, pop said.

And he bit into his toast with a mad expression that quick turned into a painful one, and he said, Ow, you good, ow.

The mystery is over, ma said, William, your tooth has been bothering you and you will think of any intelligent normal reason not to stop in at the dentist's and and you've been taking it out in a silly mad feeling tords life in general, ma said, and pop said, But dear, you're a born sycologist and it's a priviledge to have you in the family. Now why couldn't_I of thought of that? he said.

That only proves another mystery, ma said; and I said, Aint you mad any more, pop?

No, I'm merely crushed, depressed, unhappy, mournful, refinanced and broken, pop said.

Probably meaning he felt fierce.

Alien Smuggling Ring Suspected

BUFFALO, N.Y. (CP) — Agents of the United States immigration and naturalization service Tuesday launched an investigation to determine whether aliens are receiving organid assistance in attempts to enter this country illegally from Canada.

The enquiry was touched off by the arrest at the Peace bridge last Saturday of two men, one of whom, officials said, presented a false birth certificate to border inspectors.

It was the second time in less than two months that an alien carrying a fraudulent American document had attempted to enter the United States in the Buffalo area, the inspectors reported.

Arrested Saturday were Karel Melino, 26, Prague, Sask., and Bernard Crossley, 39, of Buffalo. Melino is charged with attempting to enter the country by scheme. He was jailed in default of $1,000 bail after arraignment Monday.

AT THE BELLE — A spy Lucy Lowe wooed and won by Jerry Wayne (Jerry Lewis) in scene from the brand new Martin and Lewis comedy delight, "Money From Home." Deanna Durbin's Riviera best, filmed in Technicolor and due today at the Belle Theatre.

AT THE CAPITOL

TECHNICOLOR 'DRUMS OF TAHITI' SOUTH SEA AD-VENTURE SAGA

One of the most spectacular South Sea Island romances since "Hurricane," Columbia Pictures' breathtaking epic, "Drums of Tahiti," in color by Technicolor, opens Thursday at the Capitol Theatre, Belleville. Dennis O'Keefe and Patricia Medina are starred and Francis D. Sullivan is featured.

O'Keefe is seen as an American who, living in the tropical city of Papeete, is the island of Tahiti in 1877, agrees to aid the aged Tahitian Queen Pomare in preventing the French from taking possession by smuggling in arms for the islanders. O'Keefe attempts to evade a knowledgable French official by claiming he is visiting San Francisco to get married, although the real purpose of his fictitious mission is to pick up the needed munitions. Finding that Patricia Medina, a San Francisco entertainer, O'Keefe pays her to share marriage and to return to Tahiti with him-and the guns.

Climactic scenes of "Drums of Tahiti" are played against a background of elemental violence—a hurricane and a volcano eruption. Advance reports indicate that the awesome spectacles of nature take on terrifying proportions as depicted in the film.

O'Keefe is said to be properly virile and romantic as the happy-go-lucky American enmeshed in the beautiful intrigue of the tropical paradise; Miss Medina is strikingly beautiful and volatile as the girl who ultimately finds romance and happiness with O'Keefe. Francis L. Sullivan is perfect as the official pursuing the gun-runner.

TOUGH GUY AS TOUGH MARINE IN 'BEACHHEAD'

Tony Curtis, who plays the role of Burke, a young tough-faced Marine in "Beachhead," which is opening Thursday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre was reared in the rough, tough neighborhoods of New York's Bronx. Six months before he would have graduated from high school Curtis' War II broke out and he joined the Navy. While serving as a signalman aboard the USS Tingey DE, a submarine, Tony was helping load torpedoes in Guam when one of which caught fire and struck him across the back. The injury necessitated his legs for four weeks and ended his Navy tour. Following his discharge and treatment medical treatment, Tony returned to Seward Park high school and graduated. He decided to become an actor. He was playing the title role in a Greenwich Village presentation of "Golden Boy" when Robert Goldstein, U-I Eastern talent scout saw and signed him.

His career has been phenomenal. His starring pictures include "The Prince Who Was a Thief," "Son of Ali Baba," "Flesh and Fury," "No Room for the Groom," "Houdini," "Forbidden," "All American," and "Beachhead." He is married to Janet Leigh.

Noted Scientist, Dr. Compton, Dies

For 18 years he was president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, one of the country's foremost scientific institutions. Compton had been chairman of the corporation of M. I. T. since 1948 when he gave up the presidency to supervise American scientific preparedness in the cold war with communism. He was named by President Truman that year to head the national military establishment's research and development board, which had overall supervision of scientific projects affecting military readiness. He resigned a year later, giving poor health as the reason.

Bear Cub Raids Family Garbage Can

FRANKFORD—Gordon Arnott, young son of Mrs. Bessie Arnott, of Frankford, sleeping in a tent behind his home on Friday night was suddenly awakened by a loud noise, looking out he was shocked to see a bear cub rummaging in the family garbage can, with mother bear an interested spectator. The youngster's scream boy shouted for his mother and the bear family departed down the lane.

Investigating Saturday morning Gordon discovered a trampled spot in the long grass, apparently the bears' bed for the night. Gordon says he will stick to the tent as sleeping quarters, but others in the family express doubts on the subject.

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — This day's mixed influences can be of service to some, mean nothing to others. In matters pertaining to investments, money, changes, trading, exercise extra care. Analyze well before acting.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — You may encounter a slight block-ade during the a.m., but matters should clear up after 1 p.m. Keep alert.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Increase watch on your interests, valuables; avoid foolish commitments, signing long-term leases, unless absolutely necessary. Discriminate against "sure-fire" but possibly uncertain schemes.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — You may have to double effort now. Forget about personal desires for the time being if you would attain adequate benefits. Uncertainties can upset the best of plans. Be ready; don't be caught unprepared.

July 24 to August 22, (Leo) — If you remain calm, take things sensibly, you can overcome possible contretemps, and come through steady progress. Stars indicate that you should concentrate only on necessities daily during now.

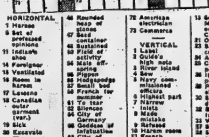
August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Handle essentials first now. Be accurate in deductions and don't be afraid to ask others' help.

September 24 to October 22 (Libra)—Some excellent aspects. A possible mandate for better results is that you double-check all matters before acting. Financial and personal affairs can be productive. Be confident.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—With greater care in the selection of the course you intend following you can make better gains than otherwise. Business, manufacturing, selling favored; also professional activities.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—With astute handling of your affairs, you may have an unexpected chance to step up results, gaining considerable status as well. Refresh mind and heart with good fun, home activities.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Bright prospects. Some really worthwhile opportunities can make this an excellent day for you. Avoid dissension both in public and at home. Don't force your opinions on others.

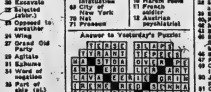


January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Watch for new openings that could bring extra fine chances for you. News late in the day could be instrumental in forming a framework for better returns.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Improving outlook for sound money and business matters. Win benefits available you can achieve; also enjoy rest after a job well done. Romance favored.

YOU BORN TODAY have a likable personality, are sincere, gracious, wholly honest if living true to your innate good qualities. Career folks have much talent for salesmanship, acting, any career in direct contact with the public; are able raconteurs, historians. You have a keen memory and a talent for mimicry. You make outstanding lawyers, judges, physicians. Overcome a tendency to worry about health. Financially it could upset everyone. Guard health. Birthdate of: Horatio Herbert (Earl) Kitchener; Brit. General.

ON THE ALERT



OSLO (CP) — More than 11,000 civil defence wardens took part in a nine-day refresher exercise in this Norwegian capital. The concluding parade included thousands of wardens with several hundred motor vehicles.

SUPREME COURT CHOICE

Mr. Justice Roy L. Kellock, 60, is considered likely to be the government's choice as successor to Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret who is retiring from the Supreme Court of Canada this month at the age of 75. Mr. Justice Kellock gained fame as a royal commissioner investigating the Soviet spy ring in 1945, the Halifax VE day riot in 1945, the 1949 Noronic ship disaster and the 1950 rail strike. He is a native of Perth, Ont. (CP Photo).

Packinghouse Union Seeking Equal Wages

MONTREAL (CP) — A spokesman for the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL) said today the union will seek equal wages for its members in packing houses across Canada in 1954 contract negotiations.

The union, which represents 19,000 workers employed in plants of Canada Packers, the Swift Canadian Company and the Burns Company of Canada, has its open contract talks with the companies shortly. The present contract expires July 31.

The spokesman, who was not identified, said in an interview hourly wages in Montreal and other cities are now lowest when paid in Toronto. Basic wages in Montreal was $1.07 for men and $1.14 for women, three cents less than in Toronto.

He said the union also will seek a standard 40-hour five-day week from coast to coast in the Big Three plants which employ approximately 85 per cent of workers in the industry.

Make Effort to Settle Long Oshawa Strike

OSHAWA (CP)—Top officials of the Canadian National Railways and the Oshawa Street Railway Employees (CLC-AFL-CIO) will meet tonight with a city council committee in an attempt to end a strike now in its fourth week.

The officials include F. A. Gaffney, general manager of the CNR road transport division, and James Robertson, international representative of the parent union. They will confer with a group headed by Mayor John Naylor.

Union officials agreed Tuesday to put in writing the major points of dispute between the strikers and the company. These included statutory holidays, vacations with pay and other fringe benefits. Wages were not an issue.

UNEMPLOYMENT

In figures released with the bureau's statistics, the labor department said today that at May 20 there were 138,000 persons registered for jobs with National Employment Service, compared with 140,000 at April 15 and with 122,685 a year earlier.

It was learned the jobless rolls increased further after May 20. Informants said that at May 27 there were 126,000 persons registered with NES. This was down about 213,000 from April 15 but well up from the 202,000 a year before.

SOME NOT JOBLESS

The NES totals do not necessarily indicate absolute unemployment. An unknown number—the department says it is small—are merely looking for better jobs. On the other hand, some without work will not have registered.

In commenting on the employment situation, the labor department and the bureau said in a joint statement that outdoor work increased slightly more than is usual for May, after a slow start because of bad weather affecting construction and farming.

"While manufacturing was somewhat below last year's level," the statement added, "employment in trade, finance and services, as well as in some outdoor activities, made small year-to-year gains. The number of persons at work increased during the two months by approximately the same amount as last year and unemployment dropped at the same rate as last year.

WORST IN CITIES

"Although labor requirements increased substantially during May and thus reduced labor surpluses in most labor market areas, unemployment continued to be considerably higher than last year, particularly in a number of larger urban centres.

"Reduced employment in a number of manufacturing industries such as iron and steel products, textiles, clothing, aircraft and parts, motor vehicles, and parts, railway rolling stock, leather and rubber products contributed largely to the higher unemployment levels."

Three Killed In N.Y. Storm

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Electrical and wind storms, riding on the gale-force winds in places, ripped across scattered parts of sweltering New York state Tuesday, downing three deaths, tumbling trees and power poles and nearly isolating one village.

A $250,000 fire in an Oneida county furniture plant was laid to the topsy-turvy weather. Liverpool and other Syracuse suburban communities were without power from two to six hours.

The village of Clyde, Wayne county, was lashed by heavy rains and gale winds that toppled hundreds of trees and most power poles and brought village life to a standstill.

Are Almost Ready To Open Sarcophagus

SAKKARA, Egypt (Reuters) — Egyptian archaeologists reported Tuesday that they are almost ready to open a recently-discovered sarcophagus which they believe holds the body of a pharoah buried 4,700 years ago with a vast fortune in golden funeral ornaments.

The tomb will be opened in the next few days. After the contents are examined and the mummy is identified, work at the site will continue this season because of the intense heat.

PICTON

Agricultural Centre to Be Erected on Fair Grounds

PICTON—A contract for erection of Prince Edward Agricultural Centre was let by Prince Edward Agricultural Society, Monday night, to the H. J. McFarland Construction Co., Picton. It will be erected on the fair grounds at Picton.

The building will be 242 feet long and 100 feet wide. There will be 14 foot sidewalls and a pitch roof covered with heavy asphalt shingles.

This is the first step in what is planned as a community centre and arena.

The Agricultural Society, sponsors of the County Fair at Picton, is responsible for its erection and maintenance and the new building will provide needed display space for exhibits and an indoor centre for livestock shows and entertainment.

Co-operating in covering the cost of the initial step, the erection of the main building, is Picton Kinsmen Club which is contributing $5,000. Included in this amount is all the money ($3,600) which the club received in cash in a previous arena campaign. All donations since that time have been kept in trust and the club is adding to it from their own money.

Due to its elevation to class "B" rating, the County Fair has become eligible for building grants given by the Federal and Provincial governments. Ottawa, for this building, will be contributing fifty percent of expenditures up to $40,000 maximum or $20,000. The provincial government is contributing 25 percent with an initial grant of $10,000 and 25 percent of any amount over $40,000 but not exceeding $30,000 expenditure.

Thus, this new building, costing around $40,000, will be paid for by Federal Govt. $20,000, Provincial Govt. $10,000, Kinsmen Club $5,000, P.E. Agricultural Society $3,600, all available cash on completion of the building.

NOT TO COMPLETE ARENA

In the initial project, the Agricultural Society is not undertaking to complete the building as an arena, its objective, and need, being for an agricultural building in connection with the fair.

But, the building is so planned that a regulation 90x180 foot ice surface, seats, artificial ice plant, etc., can be installed when funds are available. These funds will be the concern of organizations and individuals who are interested in seeing the building also become an arena.

Plans call for a hall across the entrance end of the building. On the lower floor will be ticket office, dressing rooms, toilets, and wash rooms, fair secretary's office, snack bar, etc. Eventually, there will be an upstairs hall suitable for farm meetings, concerts and other community events.

The building as now proposed is strictly an agricultural project, and must be in order to qualify for government grants. The growth of the fair necessitates more display space.

The Agricultural Society is entering into a two-year agreement with the two governments for a major capital expenditure program. Since the grounds are county-owned, the building is, in effect, a free gift to taxpayers, through the efforts of the Agricultural Society, which has been working toward this objective for some years.

SIMILAR GRANTS AVAILABLE

After the two years agreement for the major capital expenditures, is ended, similar government grants on a yearly basis, are available.

The Agricultural Society feels that once the main structure is erected, individuals and organizations will be assured of possibility, of an arena and be ready to assist in contributing funds to make it possible.

HONORS NURSE

Many Transfers In S.A. Corps Are Announced

PICTON. — A number of transfers of Salvation Army officers to new corps were announced Thursday night. They will be in likely new charges to take services on Sunday, July 4.

Capt. and Mrs. George Heron of Picton, will go to Sault Ste. Marie, No. 1 Corps, and there they will succeed a former Picton officer, Capt. Stephen Strachan.

Coming to Picton will be Lieut. and Mrs. David McNeily of Napanee.

New officers at Napanee will be Lieut. and Mrs. Alex. McMillan of Port Hope. (They were married June 18.)

Former Picton officers, Major and Mrs. Corbett, Cobourg, go to Yorkville, Corps, Toronto. Capt. and Mrs. Fred Brightwell, Belleville, go to Fredericton, N.B. They are succeeded by Capt. and Mrs. C. Fisher from Owen Sound.

Tenders Called For Addition To Separate School

PICTON — Tenders have been called for alterations to and the construction of an addition to St. Gregory's Separate School. Tenders close at noon, July 5 being received by the architect, Logan and Gallagher, Kingston. The present school, which has been converted into two rooms by a partition, will become one large room, with new windows, heating and lighting.

The addition, to face Owen Street, will be 56 by 30 feet, of two storeys, concrete foundations, brick walls, concrete floor with linoleum covering, wood trim, along with modern lighting and hot water heating. In the connecting area between the old school and the addition will be an office and Teachers' room.

Estimated cost of the project is $35,000, to which parishioners have already generously subscribed.

Growth in attendance, and prospects for the future, necessitated enlargement of the school.

Lacking Transport, Rebels Bog Down Just Inside Border

Army Still to Make Move In 7-Day Guatemalan War

By SAM SUMMERLIN

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) The Guatemalan war today entered its seventh day with most of the fighting still apparently raging over the propaganda air waves and in the diplomatic arena. There was no indication of a major battle shaping up.

The invading "liberation army" seemingly is bogged down by lack of transport just north of the Honduran border. The government claims the invaders have been stopped cold.

Nevertheless, the government of Guatemala still hasn't made an appearance in force in the field.

There were these developments:

1. Seven persons were reported wounded, one gravely, when Honduran police fired on a crowd watching a pro-Arbenz, anti-United States demonstration by students in the Honduran capital Wednesday night.

2. Honduras charged that a Guatemalan plane had bombed a Honduran airfield Tuesday. The foreign government said it is protesting to the United Nations and to the Organization of American States.

ASSURED SAFETY

3. Guatemala promptly denied the bombing charge.

4. The Inter-American peace commission, meeting in Washington, unanimously endorsed a proposal by Honduras and Nicaragua that the five-country body make an on-the-spot investigation of charges by the Arbenz government that the two neighboring central American republics supported "aggression" against Guatemala.

5. Nicaragua formally denied it was guilty of any aggression.

6. Guatemala's ambassador said Arbenz has assured U.S. ambassador John Peurifoy in Guatemala City that the safety of American citizens living in that country will be assured. There are no reports earlier that the embassy was planning to evacuate the nearly 1,200 Americans there. It is believed that about two dozen Canadians live in Guatemala.

Meanwhile, a rebel broadcast claimed the insurgent forces led by Col. Carlos Castillo Armas were in control of Guatemala's first town, three sides. A government broadcast said the rebels had been repulsed and that Arbenz had ordered Honduras.

The rebels also reported to have moved his headquarters from Esquipulas, just inside Honduras, to a town near Chiquimula. The city is about 30 miles from the border. It is a key town on the vital railroad from Puerto Barrios and an obvious target of the invaders.

The Guatemala City, Associated Press correspondent Jack Rutledge described the situation as calm. He said the people appear to think that the government holds complete control.

In Tegucigalpa, however, the situation remained tense this morning following the shooting and student demonstration, called by university students in support of the Guatemalan gover n m e n t. Speakers said Honduras was at fault in not stopping Castillo's forces from launching their invasion from Honduran territory. They also condemned the U.S. and the United Fruit Co., claiming both are mixing in the internal affairs of the central American countries.

Pleasure Trip Now Is Job-Hunt For Chorus Girl

MONTREAL (CP)—What was to have been a glamorous, all-expense tour of North America has turned into a grim search for work for Naomi Wolfson, a willey English chorus girl.

Miss Wolfson came to Montreal earlier this month as the invitation of a wealthy Texas contractor, who promised to act as her guide and sponsor. They quarrelled shortly after meeting and the 20-year-old Lancashire girl was deserted.

She started hunting for a job as a chorus girl but soon found Montreal night clubs had their acts booked well in advance. The modeling field was also packed to capacity.

So she dropped her hemlines and started looking for a job as a typist or receptionist.

There have been endless appointments, she said, "but I don't speak French." And those were even more proposals but "none of them honorable."

Wheat Farmers Hit Hardest In Cash Income

OTTAWA (CP)—Wheat farmers were hit the hardest as farm cash income for all Canada dropped by $21,800,000 in the first three months of 1954.

The bureau of statistics today estimated the first quarter income at $504,311,000, down $21,800,000 from the 1953 first quarter of $526,-150,000 and a drop of $51,400,000 from the 1952 peak of $555,700,000.

Six provinces—four in central Ontario and the maritimes—felt the decline, but by far the biggest drop was in Saskatchewan, heart of Canada's wheat belt, the bureau said. Wheat was the big factor behind the decline.

Farmers received smaller returns from such other products as barley, rye, potatoes, cattle and calves. Offsetting this slightly were larger returns from dairy products and poultry, eggs and pork meat.

Cash income from barley sales dropped to $12,800,000, down almost 46 per cent from last year's $19,122,000. A sharp drop in prices reduced income from potatoes to $5,800,000, about half the 1953 income.

Steel Contract In Final Week

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Contract talks between United States Steel Corp. and the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) were in the behind-the-scenes stage today as the wage agreement covering 600,000 American employees of the basic steel industry moved into its last seven days.

No time has been set for resumption of negotiations.

The present contract between the union and the major steel producers expires at midnight next Wednesday. U. S. Steel, employing nearly 200,000 of the industry's workers, generally sets the contract pace.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: The relatively cool weather of Wednesday and today will end on Friday. Southwesterly winds are expected to set in in southern Ontario tonight and have already developed over northern Ontario. These winds will bring some of the very warm air at present west of the Great Lakes. The arrival of this air mass cause scattered showers or thunderstorms in northern Ontario. A fresh threat of cooler air from the north-west will reach regions north of Lake Superior during Friday.

CHURCHILL, EDEN COME TO U.S. FOR VITAL TALKS

Will Seek Formula For Indo-China

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — Sir Winston Churchill comes to Washington Friday for what may prove one of the most momentous of the numerous vital meetings he has held with American presidents since 1941.

American sources say the British leader's conference with President Eisenhower may be held in an atmosphere of great disagreement. But veteran observers here feel that the 79-year-old statesman would not attempt this — perhaps the last — mission to the United States government unless he believed he had a major job that must be done.

While the main purpose of his visit is to seek a basis for a formula by which the Indo-China deadlock may be broken, it is believed he will also try to influence his U.S. colleagues toward a more realistic approach to the facts of international life.

He and Foreign Secretary Eden are due to arrive here by BOAC Stratocruiser at 9 a.m. Friday.

Full budget discussions are planned.

While the situation as it is in Latin America, in Indo-China, in Korea and along the Iron Curtain boundary, presents a grave one, considering what the aged statesman has on his plate for the week-end talks with Eisenhower.

LEAVE FOR OTTAWA

Shortly after lunch Tuesday, the prime minister and his party are due to leave by train for Ottawa to spend a few days in the country with Governor-General Vincent Massey, where he will remain until late Wednesday. Then he will fly to New York to take passage home by ocean liner.

There are some of the steadily developing differences:

1. Indo-China: Eden told the Commons in London Wednesday that he hopes it will be possible to agree to a Southeast Asian defence system against aggression in which there would be a general non-aggression pact with the Communist and free countries would be a straight-out three-country defensive alliance. Eden put Britain on the side of moving slowly in the hope of avoiding a long-range means of protection.

U.S. officials have hoped that the Geneva talks would agree to move quickly toward formation of a Southeast Asian pact. Furthermore, they have shown little enthusiasm for making non-aggression treaties with the Communists on the ground that such treaties generally have no meaning.

2. European unity: Communist-The U.S. has been talking about the creation of its political, based for years on creation of an international army including French and German forces. In contrast to this inaction, American officials have suggested that a federal setup should consider alternative ways of bringing Germany outside the proposed EDC.

BEE BLAMED

BARRIE (CP) — A bee was blamed for an accident Wednesday that sent a car off the road and into a ditch. Police said Mrs. Mary Ann Dewers, 17, of nearby Oro Station overturned in a ditch. She told police the bee flew in the car and caused her to lose control.

Scientists Hope to Learn New Facts On Dust Particles from Sun Eclipse

MATTICE, Ont. (CP)—One of the rarest of scientific happenings in this northern Ontario district for the total eclipse of the sun the morning of June 30 hopes to learn new facts on dust particles during the interplanetary space.

Scientists from Europe is important to plans for space travel — man's most great conquest over environment, says Dr. Jean Dufay, head of whose group from the Dunlap Observatory moving for a few days to the three Canadian teams on hand for the event.

"We might be able to learn something of the size and composition of the particles," he says. "Interplanetary space is known to contain these particles, but the sun's glare hides them from view."

The Dunlap party has been planning and waiting for a year to record the eclipse in this community 120 miles northwest of Timmins and 375 miles north of Toronto. The other Canadian teams are the Dominion Observatory at Ottawa, officially assigned to Smoky Falls, 50 miles north of Kapuskasing, and the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory expedition from Victoria, which will work at Hanson, 17 miles north of Otto on the Algoma Central Railway.

The path of the total eclipse will extend in a belt 30 miles wide half way around the world, from Nebraska to Pakistan. The path of complete darkness passes through northern Ontario and Quebec in a northeasterly direction. The weather must be clear for best results of the observations during the eclipse, which lasts for 29 seconds while the moon passes between the sun and the earth.

By EDDY GILMORE

GENEVA (A.P.) — The French have started private talks with Vietminh Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong. An informed source said today chances of settling the Indo-China war seem "reasonably good."

The direct talks between the two warring elements were arranged at Geneva by a third party, this source said. He made the hopeful estimate on the basis, also, of Wednesday's two-hour meeting between French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai in Bern.

Chou took off this morning for Bern aircraft and a meeting with Indian Prime Minister Nehru. He intimated he would return to Geneva to complete the Indo-Chinese peace talks. Chou and Mendes-France expressed belief jointly Wednesday that their meeting will permit the Geneva conference "to make progress."

Jean Chauvel, French ambassador to Bern and now head of his country's delegation to the Geneva parley, met with Dong on instructions from Mendes-France.

The rebel politician's reaction to what Chauvel had to tell him, it was reported, was less encouraging than Chou's attitude in the meeting with Mendes-France.

The information here was that Chauvel told Dong that while France is anxious to end the war, there are limits beyond which she cannot go in arranging a settlement with the Communists.

Britain and the United States were furnished accounts of the talks.

Dr. Dan McVicker, Deseronto Mayor, Nominated Liberal Candidate for East Hastings

Members of the East Hastings Liberal Association will be well prepared for the next provincial election when it comes.

Working on the premise that a "snap" election may be called by the Ontario government, East Hastings Liberals met Wednesday afternoon at the town hall in Madoc. They nominated their candidate to succeed Hon. Leslie Frost, the party organization into action. It was the first of the week-end talks with Eisenhower.

Guatemala Asks UN to Discuss Bombing of Cities

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.- (AP)- Guatemala has asked that the UN Security Council meet today in an emergency session to discuss "aerial attacks" on open cities in Guatemala.

The UN made public a message from Eduardo Castillo Arriola, Guatemalan ambassador to the UN, who already has unsuccessfully attempted to have the council meet today on the Guatemalan case.

In the message, dispatched late Wednesday night, Castillo-Arriola said:

"In view of intense air attacks on open cities in Guatemala, where civil population has been ferociously gunned and bombed with 110-pound explosives, and in view of the fact that aggressors broadcast through their clandestine radio stations of Tegucigalpa, Honduras, about to unleash heavy bombing of Guatemala City and other important cities, I officially request an urgent meeting of the Security Council not later than tomorrow, June 24."

The message was transmitted this morning by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. delegate and council president for June. The U. S. delegation said Lodge was still considering the Guatemalan request.

HOUSE PROROGUES

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — The Newfoundland legislature was prorogued Tuesday after a long and hectic session that started March 24.

Time to Quit So Policeman Ignored Theft

BERLIN (AP)—A policeman was sentenced Wednesday to seven weeks in prison — and fired — for being a clockwatcher.

Witnesses said the cop, Erwin Fiesser, was on duty outside a food shop when a thief burst into the street and ran away. Clerks hooted out and told the policeman the thief had seized food. They said Fiesser looked at his watch and said:

"In three minutes, I'm off duty. It wouldn't be worthwhile chasing him."

Conservationist Alarmed at Loss In Forest Areas

TORONTO (CP) — The annual conference of the Canadian Institute of Canada was told Wednesday by F. H. Kortright, president of the Conservation Council of Ontario, that the pulp and lumbering business over large areas of North America is "literally sawing off the branch on which it is sitting."

He told delegates the income loss from unwise deforestation is great. The folly of this was obvious when it was realized that 30 per cent of the basic sources of production of wealth was from forest products though public works and Lands and Forest departments!"

The speaker criticized the provincial government for allowing all good timber to be cut off in Central Ontario and then doing nothing about reforestation. "Millies of the north country were nothing but a big waste," he said.

East Hastings was said by Dr. McVicker to be a "tourists' paradise". He asked what the government was doing to help the tourist trade.

"What has our Conservative member for East Hastings done for his riding in the four terms he has been in office?"

"He says he has been trying to have the Hydro-Electric Board taken over as a provincial highway...but there is nothing in Hansard to show this," the candidate said.

Dr. McVicker declared the road should be taken over by the government. This would materially lessen the tax burden on county residents.

The speaker charged the provincial government with using the province's natural resources for the benefit of Quinte at Deseronto linking Hastings and Prince Edward counties with the Toronto area.

He said the provincial government was saying the project was being held up by Ottawa and at the same time was spending millions in highway development on the Toronto area.

It was the provincial government not Ottawa, which was holding up the causeway at Deseronto, the policy of the Federal government was that where a bridge was needed to connect two highway, the matter was a provincial responsibility.

GOVT. DECLINES INFORMATION ON COMMUNISM

Reticence Only Safe Policy Says Garson

OTTAWA (CP) — The government declines to give any information on its knowledge of communism in Canada or methods of fighting it.

That kind of information, Justice Minister Garson told the Commons Wednesday night, is just what the Communists want.

Mr. Garson made the reply to questions by John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge) regarding steps being taken by counter-espionage units.

Mr. Blackmore, who has made repeated Commons speeches about communism, said the Red high command "just plays across the world like a skilful performer playing the piano."

Communism has gained every move in advance and "have the stage all set for British Columbia next." A newspaper report had said B.C. had 90,000 Communists "and they are probably all ready to march." He did not elaborate.

"We are in the cold war," Mr. Blackmore declared.

Then one member said that statements gave comfort to the enemy, he replied: "That is true; it can confirm to the enemy, but we may just as well confess it and then try to do something about it."

He asked what the RCMP could discover Communist techniques, if the Communist party has achieved in Canada and what steps were available to combat communism.

"I am afraid the answer to every one of these questions is I could explain nothing."

Mr. Garson replied that complete reticence is the only safe policy in discussing the counter-espionage work of the RCMP's special branch, which deals with subversion.

Duke Arrives For Inspection, Visit to Sisters

LUENEBURG, Germany (Reuters)—The Duke of Edinburgh, piloting his own plane, arrived today from Paris for a one-day inspection of units of the British Army of the Rhine.

He also included a visit with his sisters, who are married to German princes.

The duke was greeted by bagpipes played by Scottish air as he walked slowly along the ranks of troops drawn up for his inspection.

Colonel-in-chief of the regiment, the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, he wore its uniform kilt as he took the salute at the guard and stopped to talk to several men.

He came to Luneberg after a two-day visit to Allied defence headquarters in Paris, where he saw Gen. Alfred Gruenther, Allied supreme commander; Lord Ismay, secretary general of NATO, and Sir Gladwyn Jebb, British ambassador to France.

Nardico Loses To Andrews

CHICAGO (AP) — Young Paul Andrews, 180, sixth-ranked light heavyweight, scored a third-round knockdown and then won on a split-second technical knockout over slugging Danny Nardico, 178, in their scheduled 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Dispute on Timing Of Ban on A-Bombs Halts Arms Talk

Documents on Disarmament Conference Made Public

LONDON (Reuters)—The recent five-power disarmament talks in London broke down on a clash of view between East and West on the timing of proposed prohibition of atomic weapons, according to conference documents made public today.

The United States, Britain, Canada, France and the Soviet Union participated in the conference, which ended Tuesday after five futile weeks.

The Western powers rejected a basic Soviet plan for the prohibition of atomic, hydrogen and other weapons of mass destruction" to take effect simultaneously with the setting up of an international control system, the documents on the disarmament talks revealed.

FOR PEACEFUL USE

Russia rejected an Anglo-French plan for the introduction of total prohibition of weapons in three stages. Each stage from cessation of expenditure on atomic weapons to cessation of production and conversion of stocks to peaceful use, would depend on actual steps taken to limit conventional types of armaments.

In the Anglo-French plan, stages in the prohibition of atomic weapons would depend on the actual progress being made in the functioning of the control organ which would supervise general disarmament treaty.

THREE OBJECTIVES

The Anglo-French plan, proposed as a compromise between the previous Soviet and Western positions and backed by the U. S. and Canada, had three objectives:

1. Eventual total prohibition of the manufacture and use of all atomic, chemical and bacteriological weapons of mass destruction, and, where possible, conversion of existing stocks to peaceful purposes.

2. Major reductions in all armed forces and conventional armaments.

2. Setting up of an international organ empowered to inspect and verify prohibitions and reductions were carried out.

The Soviet ambassador to Britain, Jacob Malik, leader of Russia's delegation, rejected these aims in principle, but refused to allow the control organ sufficient powers to assure the Western powers of its effectiveness.

MISSILE OBJECTION

Russia proposed an immediate international declaration assuming the obligation to prohibit atomic and other weapons of mass destruction.

This was to be followed by the prohibition by an international convention which would:

1. Unconditionally prohibit the "use, production and conservation of atomic, hydrogen and other types of weapons of mass destruction".

2. Reduce by one-third the conventional armaments of the U. S., Britain, Communist China and Russia, and cut military budgets by one-third from the 1953-54 level of expenditure. The armaments would also undertake to liquidate all bases on the territory of a state—military, naval or air bases in foreign states.

3. Provide for simultaneous establishment of international control organs.

Russia insisted that evasions or breaches of the convention should be dealt with by the UN security council, in which the permanent members have a veto. But diplomatic sources said the Western delegations refused to follow the use of the veto in such cases.

Folks on Venus Can Drink Hearty, Have Enough Soda for Real Party

By FRANK CAREY

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — If and when earthmen ever get there, ever reach the planet Venus, they'll better be prepared with raincoats — because two Harvard astronomers have offered a new theory that "an ocean of water completely covers the planet."

But take heart, you would-be space men. The astronomers said it may be an ocean of "carbonated" water—not too bad for a socialite scotch and soda as you pull on the oars.

"Because of the large amount of carbon dioxide in the Venusian atmosphere the ocean would probably consist of seltzer water, although a carbonated it would be rather flat," Dr. Donald Menzel smilingly told a reporter.

Dr. Menzel and Fred Whipple presented a joint report on the subject to the annual meeting of the American Astronomical Society, convened at the University of Michigan here.

Their concept differs sharply from a common one that Venus is an arid desert with little or no water, and where the temperature may be more than hot enough to boil water anyway.

The scientists offered a series of arguments against a common concept that the thick bank of Clouds that entirely envelopes the planet consists of dust—not of water as do the earth's clouds.

Free Mink Stole With Every Car Is Bronx Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes the fur flies between husband and wife concerning whether it's a boy should buy a new car or get a mink for mama.

The Bronx auto agency claims it has solved that problem thus: Buy a new car and get a mink stole valued at $780.

Irving Franklin, agency sales manager, Wednesday said the offer is effective until July 4.

How's it going? Three stoles have gone out with cars, Franklin said, and dozens have been two dozen telephone calls seeking further information.

To Stand Trial For Manslaughter

The charge arose from the death of Lloyd Fulton Barrett, 21, of Rock Bay, Nfld., in a traffic accident May 19. Barrett and Victor Coe, 23, another member of the RCAF, were passengers with McGinnis during a ride from the Eldgat Air Station, north of Barrie.

Testimony during the preliminary hearing was that the three airmen had been drinking before the accident.

Two Belleville Rinks Are High At Stirling

Belleville rinks took the top honors in the twelve tournament staged at the Stirling Bowling club on Wednesday afternoon. The greens were in excellent condition, probably the best the greens at that club have been in and the bowling was exceptionally keen. There were twelve rinks on hand for the start of play and they included Kingston, Madoc, Colborne, Campbellford, Stirling, and Belleville.

First three-game high total was awarded to a rink of Harold Parker, Wilfred Price with Gerald B. Hyde as skip with Jack Shaw, J. W. Davison and A. E. Woonacott close behind in the second spot. The two-game high winner was a rink skipped by Walter Elliott of Stirling, while Archie Mayne and his rink from Campbellford won the one-game high total.

The weather was ideal for bowling and they report a good time at this popular bowling spot in the centre of Hastings County.

Ed Littlejohn Wins Y Golf

Ed Littlejohn won the Malcolm Robb Y.M.C.A. golf trophy and a replica by scoring a low gross of 90, at the 2nd annual Y.M.C.A. golf tourney, held yesterday at the Bay of Quinte Country Club.

Art Bridge had the best score in the tournament with a low gross of 78, but as he is not a "Y" member he does not qualify for the trophy. He was awarded, however, with an engraved silver spoon.

Other winners who were also awarded with engraved spoons were: low net, Jim Pearson 62; 2nd low net, Ron McNeil 69; Best 3 holes, Frank Hume 64. Highest hidden hole, Ron Moorman 36; Highest score, Cliff White 126.

Seventeen "Y" members and their friends participated.

Urges Economy In Spending

OTTAWA (CP) — J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, said Wednesday the government is becoming too complacent about spending $5,000,000,000 a year.

"Sometimes we are not as rich as we think we are," he said as the Commons began study of revenue department estimates.

Mr. Macdonnell, urging economy in government spending and by protests the idea that so much money can be spent "without thinking much about it."

"Economy only comes when we get to the stage where we ask: 'Can we do without it?'" he said. The present attitude was to consider whether the expenditure would be pleasant.

Land in Scotland

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP) — Two airmen from Burbank, Calif., landed today after a four-day transatlantic flight from Toronto in a single-engined Otter.

Flight Lieut. Hall and radio operator Walter Henderson made stops at Labrador, Greenland and Iceland. They flew on instruments most of the way because of bad weather.

The two have since taken off for Oslo to deliver the Canadian Otter for a delivery company.

Kinettes Donate $250 to Camp At Roblin Lake

TRENTON (Special)—The Trenton Kinettes have donated $250 to their brother Kinsmen sending underprivileged children to Camp Roblin this year. This news was announced at a garden party held at Mrs. J. Goldberg's home on McGill Street yesterday afternoon. The Trenton club members entertained guests from Belleville and Campbellford.

Attendance pins were awarded the following: Trenton Kinettes, Julie Cummer and Beth Dunfield (15 years), Mary Carr, (4 years); Ruth Goldberg (3 years), Ruth Goldberg, Audrey Wilson, Lois Coward and Priscilla Crandall (2 years).

The draw for the doll and $25 was won by Joan Duncan daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Duncan of Belleville.

The noted luncheon was served in the garden with Trenton Kinettes playing hostess to their visitors.

Police Attempt To Track Down 'Bingo' Party

TRENTON, (Special.) — This is the story about a colorful old English sport. Over there it is called "Riding the Hounds". The riders on this occasion were three Trenton policemen and the hounds were suspected wireless sets who turned out to be as elusive as the little red fox.

Whether the riders shouted "Yoicks" or "Tally-Ho" will never be known but a Trenton policeman who witnessed the "chase" gave this description of what he saw.

"The local police cruiser dashed up to the end of the road at the base of Mount Pellon. Both doors of the cruiser swung open simultaneously and two uniformed officers bounded out of it both heading for the side of the hill at a hurried pace. Suddenly they were joined by a third officer mounted on a motorcycle. The three of them appeared to carry out a very thorough search skulking behind every pine tree and even in the bushes. After a time reaching the brow thereupon making a sweeping check from this vantage point returned to their vehicles satisfied that the "regulars" had decided on another location for their afternoon "bingo" party.

Russians Win Chess Match

NEW YORK (AP) — Russia's vaunted chess team, as expected, has conquered the best players the United States could muster.

The Russians clinched their victory Wednesday night in the fourth and final round of a 32-game tournament that stretched over eight days. The score stands at 18½ points to 9½, in favor of the visitors, playing here for the first time. Four more games will be completed today, but they can't change the result.

Samuel Reshevsky, only U. S. player of grand master rank, broke even against Vassily Smyslov, head man on the Russian squad. They drew all four of their games. And 23-year-old Larry Evans, youngest U. S. player, came out ahead of Mark Taimonov, Evans was two games, lost one and drew one.

Religion Behind Boom

FRANKFURT (Reuters)—Evangelist Billy Graham declared here Wednesday that religion is the forces behind West Germany's resurgent strength and prosperity.

In a sermon delivered at a U. S. Army chapel here and recorded for broadcast in the United States next Sunday, he described West Germany as "almost like a boom state" which "stands head and shoulders above other lands."

A crowd of 2,000, including about 500 Germans, listened to the sermon.

HISTORIC POST

Obituary

W. J. WEBB
(Thomasburg)

The funeral service for W. J. Webb was held from Thomasburg United Church on Monday, June 21st, Rev. W. K. Pace, Tweed, officiated. A choir of Tweed and Thomasburg members was in attendance. Mrs. D. Hobbs of Moira, sang a solo "Good Night and Good Morning", Mr. Fred Fuller accompanied on the organ.

Interment was in Thomasburg cemetery.

DR. MILTON SILLS LLOYD
(Sister Island)

Dr. Milton Sills Lloyd, 15 Castleton Park, St. George, Staten Island, an outstanding chest surgeon and one of the United States' top anesthesiologists, died June 16th in Long Island College Hospital, Brooklyn, after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage a week before his death. He was 60.

The deceased is the nephew of C. F. Lloyd, R.R. 1, Harold, and Lloyd Sills, Consecon. Interment was made. His ashes were interred alongside the grave of his mother in Springbrook cemetery, on June 24th.

Dr. Lloyd was born in Mooconin, Wis., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sills Lloyd. His mother was the former Ethel Milton.

Dr. Lloyd, who had offices in his home on Staten Island, where he was attending thoracic surgeon in St. Vincent's Hospital, attending thoracic surgeon and anesthesiologist and director of chest diseases in Richmond Hospital and consulting pneumonologist in Richmond Memorial Hospital.

He was the author of surgical and bronchoscopist in French Hospital, Manhattan; consulting bronchoscopist, Municipal Sanitorium, Otisville, N.Y.; consultant in thoracic diseases in U.S. Public Health Service Hospital, Clifton, Ulster County Sanatorium for Tuberculosis, Kingston, N.Y.; St. Francis Hospital, Port Jervis, N.Y.; and Greenwell, N.Y. Hospital.

Dr. Lloyd started his practice in States Island years ago. He graduated from Yorkton —College, State, Sask., and spent a few years in public school teacher in western Canada before entering the Canadian army as a private in World War I. He was demobilized as a lieutenant in the British Royal Army Service Corps.

CONTINUED STUDIES.

Dr. Lloyd continued his studies at the University of Alberta and McGill University, Montreal, from which he obtained his medical degree in 1924. He received his intern training at Kings County Hospital, Brooklyn, and his resident training in Sea View with three years of specialized work in Paris, Vienna and Philadelphia.

Dr. Lloyd introduced bronchoscopy in the three private hospitals on States Island where he performed the first successful lobectomies and pneumonectomies. He patented a pneumothorax apparatus, which makes it possible to collapse one lung of a tuberculosis patient at home.

Dr. Lloyd was former chairman of the States Island Tuberculosis and Health committee. Recently awarded him a scroll, the first of its kind, for his services. He was former chairman of the States Island Cancer committee. He belonged to the New York Thoracic Surgical Society and was a fellow of the American College of Physicians.

Dr. Lloyd was a past president of the Richmond County Medical Society, active in its Health Insurance committee, and a vice president and member of the board of directors of the New York Medical Service.

He had served as vice chairman of States Island Chapter, Maple Leaf Fund, which was a relief organization for Canadian soldiers in war sufferers.

Dr. Lloyd was a student of poetry and enjoyed especially Shakespeare, and wrote poetry himself. He was distantly related to the late Milton Sills, silent movie star.

Surviving are his wife, Myrii; a son, Ian, of Sydney, Australia; four brothers, Whitfield of Mooconin, Sask; Garfield, of Winnipeg; Stanley, of Toronto; and Clifford, of Regina; and two sisters, Mrs. Jean Davis, of Regina, and Miss Thelma Lloyd, Regina, of Kew Gardens, Long Island.

BCI Principal, Wife Honored Before Departure

Mr. George E. Currie, principal of Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, and Mrs. Currie were honored guests at a garden party given at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reid near Rednersville on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Currie, who has been principal of BCIVS for nine years, has been appointed principal of the St. Catharines Collegiate Institute and Vocational School.

Nearly seventy members of the BCI staff, the Board of Education, and their families attended the function, where tangible and other tributes were paid to Mr. Currie. The tea was arranged and prepared by lady members of the staff assisted by wives of the male teachers.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Currie were presented with a handsome oil painting by Manly Macdonald. Mr. Norman Reid made the presentation on behalf of the staff and board members.

Mr. George Wishart, chairman of the Bay of Quinte District High School Board, tendered verbal tribute on behalf of his colleagues.

"Mr. Currie," he said, "among his many fine characteristics, was a fine administrator and educator. He has established a fine esprit de corps in the school as well as excellent academic records since he came here nine years ago."

Mr. Wishart conveyed the best wishes of the board to Mr. and Mrs. Currie for continued success and happiness.

Vice principal D. M. Stirling, speaking for the staff, said "Mr.

Carlos Manuel Pellicer, Guatemalan Communist leader, is shown addressing a rally of workers in Guatemala City. When the rebel invasion began, the Reds are reported to have been unable to control the backing of peasants and workers. Both rebel and government forces claim victories in scattered engagements throughout Guatemala.—Central Press Canadian.

Hijacks Streetcar

WASHINGTON (AP)—A gunman Wednesday night commandeered a street car for a 10-mile ride and escaped in front of the White House. Lone passenger in the street car the masked gunman left at the side with a rifle trained on the operator's back. Operator Herman R. Allerhand told police the gunman robbed him of $32 and 210 tokens before jumping out.

Two Canadian Provinces Will Use System

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario's probation officer system which has grown in one year from 15 to 63 members, is to be used as a model by at least two other Canadian provinces, Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan, Ontario government officials said today.

Ontario's probation staff now is the largest in Canada. It will cost the province $200,000 for probation services this year as compared to $80,000 last year.

Only two other provinces, British Columbia and Alberta have a probation officer staff.

Currie had proved to be an efficient organizer but above all was a helpful and kind principal and a true friend to students and teachers alike."

Vancouver Dooms Closing of Stores On Wednesday

VANCOUVER (CP) — Shopping may soon be back on a six-day basis here.

Wednesday citizens voted 36,284 to 30,600 in a plebiscite to end Wednesday closing of city stores in force since 1947.

Immediately the final count was known early today, a spokesman for advocates of maintaining the mid-week closing said city council will be asked for a recount.

OTHER CLOSING

"If we win this fight," said Bill Whitehead, advertising executive of a large Vancouver department store, "then we will consider closing Monday and maybe opening Friday evenings."

Ratepayers also voted Wednesday on three money by-laws, all requiring at least 60 per cent approval.

Sale of the city's airport to the federal government for $1,000,000 was blocked by a bare one per cent. Some 30,227 wanted to sell, 30,227 didn't. One vote didn't. The majority was only 58.8 per cent.

GUEST TURNOUT

Expenditure of $2,000,000 for a sewage extension and improvement program was approved.

Nearly 40 per cent of those eligible voted. Average turn-out for other plebiscites when civic positions were not at stake has been 22 per cent.

A bare majority was all that was needed for the shopping plebiscite.

The "save the Wednesday" group's determination to challenge the declared 5,618 majority capped a vigorous and lengthy campaign.

Full-week shopping proponents denied statements that the mid-week day work week was threatened. The "save the Wednesday" group also said 40 per cent of retail workers are on a part-time basis in cities where stores are open all week.

SAYS IKE WILL RUN

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Leonard Hall, Republican national committee chairman, said Wednesday President Eisenhower "absolutely" will be a candidate for re-election in 1956.

TORONTO STOCKS

Indices of all groups showed fractional gains. First-hour volume was less than 450,000 shares.

The industrial board showed strength in papers, liquors, and refining oils, but was weak in utilities, steels, foods, manufacturers, and retails.

Senior base metals were higher but junior were weak. Uraniums were strong but Manitouwadge stocks were down.

Golds were steady in seniors and holding companies but lower in juniors and prospects.

CLEAN LINES

The new 22,000-ton liner Orsova built in Britain for the Australia run is the first ship of her size with no masts.

PRODUCE MARKET

The egg market was firm on A large with further increases on large and small. Other grades were steady. Offerings were light for a good demand. Effort to Unseat Trustees Fails

GUELPH (CP) — Holding that proceedings had been improperly launched, county judge R. S. Clark Wednesday dismissed a motion brought by ratepayers of the town of Harriston in an effort to unseat three members of the school board for alleged irregularities.

Judge Clark found several discrepancies in the proceedings that were brought by John W. McNabb, Harrison lawyer. He also upheld the objection of Roy Grant, counsel for the school board, that the motion was not in order.

The three ratepayers, Roy Corman, John Fawcett and William Neil, claim irregularities and want to unseat trustees W. A. Robins, J. E. Davidson and Hugh Murray. It is alleged the trustees accepted monies from the school board, one for the sale of roofing, another for work in applying the roofing to a school and a third for travelling expenses to a board meeting.

Centenary Cake Ready to Serve At Kitchener

KITCHENER (CP)—They knew it was coming so they baked a cake.

Kitchener's centenary cake was completed Wednesday. It weighs 850 pounds, reaches a mouth-watering height of five feet in four tiers and will be cut into 7,000 pieces next week at Kitchener's centenary celebrations.

Green ribbon icing on white icing tells the story of Kitchener's progress in agriculture, industry, commerce; its contributions to art and culture and the wars of the past century.

It took an hour to mix the batter, which contains nearly 2,000 eggs, 80 pounds of butter and sugar, two pounds of salt, 140 pounds of flour, 10 quarts of milk, eight quarts of brandy and 10 ounces of vanilla.

Fruit is 55 per cent of the cake: 45 pounds of pineapple, 18 pounds of peel, 75 pounds of cherries, 150 pounds or raisins and 300 pounds of pecans.

Rescues Boy, 3, From Cistern By Using Rake

HAMILTON (CP) — John Close lowered himself neck-deep in a 15-foot cistern Wednesday night and rescued a three-year-old boy from drowning by fishing him out with a garden rake.

Gary Arnold was revived after being in the water nearly 10 minutes but is being treated in hospital for shock and possible head injuries.

Robert Codd, Gary's grandfather, said the boy tumbled into the cistern on his property at nearby Garner after the top was removed to obtain a pail of water.

Mr. Codd lowered a ladder into the water and Mr. Close, a neighbor went down with the rake.

Postmistress For 30 Years Fined for Entry

SUDBURY (CP) — A woman who has been a postmistress near here for the last 30 years was convicted Wednesday of charges of theft of public money and making a false entry and return in a postmaster's cash book.

Mrs. Mary A. L'Heureux, of Naughton, 15 miles west of here, was fined $100 for making the false entry and drew a six-month suspended sentence for stealing $333. Restitution has been made.

John Henry Kline, post office inspector from North Bay, said he discovered that a $226 entry in the cash book hadn't been deposited in the bank. The woman admitted taking the money and admitted an earlier theft.

Radio Station, Paper, Charged With Contempt

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — A newspaper and a radio station Wednesday were served motions citing them for contempt of court in connection with the Dr. Alfred Valdmanis case.

The motions served on the St. John's Daily News and station CJON ordered them to appear in court July 2 to show cause why they should not be convicted.

The motions come after investigation by R. S. Furlong, a lawyer named by Supreme Court to investigate published and broadcast reports for possible contempt.

Mr. Furlong was named May 18 after Chief Justice Sir Albert Walsh issued a warning "to counsel, newspapers, radio stations, public men, indeed everyone" against prejudicing the trial of Dr. Valdmanis, former Newfoundland director of economic development.

At that time the chief justice mentioned that the Daily News had published a statement of claim in the civil case against Dr. Valdmanis and also published abstracts of affidavits filed in the case.

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—Most Rev. Benjamin I. Webster was installed Wednesday night as eighth Roman Catholic Bishop of Peterborough in St. Peter's cathedral.

Cardinal McGuigan, for whom Bishop Webster has served as auxiliary in Toronto since 1946, officiated.

About 300 clergy were present, including several bishops. Premier

Lands on Plane

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Two light planes landed simultaneously—one on top of the other—at the Shawnee municipal airport Wednesday night. The pilots escaped with cuts and bruises. "If you ever had the world drop in on you...you know how I felt," said H. E. Reding, pilot of the plane on bottom.

Rival Unionist Fired by Company

VANCOUVER (CP) — Aluminum Company of Canada, has fired a United Steelworkers' of America (CIO - CCL) organizer who infiltrated the new Kitimat project as a member of another union, it was learned here Wednesday.

Until his expulsion Saturday by union members, Wally Ross, formerly of Toronto, was leader of the AFL Aluminum Workers.

AN ALTERNATE SUGGESTION.

At this week's Council meeting Ald. Arthur Keegan gave notice of a motion which would provide for a vote by ratepayers to indicate whether they favor electing fifteen members of council, with these councillors selecting a mayor from their number.

There is no good reason why the ratepayers should not vote on such a question—but there is also no good reason why they should endorse it.

The mayor of a city occupies an important post. He serves on other bodies—the Public Utilities Commission and the Police Commission, for example—besides the Council. There is no sound reason why the citizens of Belleville should abdicate from their sovereign power and hand over their right to choose a mayor to fifteen aldermen, even if these men and women have been elected by ballot.

A more appropriate question which might be put before the ratepayers is whether they favor reducing the number of aldermen from the present fourteen. The present City Council is much too large. Probably a city's business cannot be adequately handled by a five-man council, such as governs a township, but a body of a size midway between this rural quintet and Belleville's present fifteen-member council would almost certainly govern with less debate—if not with more efficiency.

DEAF TO DIVERSIONS.

David Pelkoff of Toronto, retiring president of the Ontario Association of the Deaf, made an interesting observation in his address at the Association's convention here last week-end.

He said that deaf drivers of the province still enjoy their reputation as the safest drivers on the highways.

Seriously, though, deaf people have expected deafness to be a serious handicap to the driver of an automobile. There are a number of occasions on which a driver's first warning of danger comes from his ears, rather than his eyes. But reflection will suggest that in most of these instances the handicap of deafness can be offset by additional dependence on eyesight and added caution. For instance, a habit of frequently glancing in the rear-view mirror will be even more effective than depending on a warning toot of the horn when another driver wishes to pass, for sometimes no such warning toot is sounded.

And there are times, too, when the sudden and unexpected noise may startle a driver and momentarily impair his control over his vehicle. That is one hazard which the deaf escape.

SOMETHING ON SNAKES.

According to the World Health Organization from 30,000 to 40,000 persons die annually of snake-bite. We hope this does not prevent you from taking a picnic this week-end but it seems like one of the few statistics worth passing along to you.

Some figure, incidentally, includes all those dying of snake bite in countries outside the Iron Curtain. The Communist countries do not report fatal cases of snake-bite to the World Health Organization.

In North America about 300 to 500 persons die annually of snake-bite—most of them residents of the southern United States. India, with the highest mortality rate in the world reported 7,396 known deaths for 1949. However, when one considers that India is a tropical and semi-tropical country with a population approaching 400 million, it becomes apparent that snakes are really not a leading cause of death.

Somehow we had acquired the idea that India was overrun with poisonous snakes and constrictors and that it was as much as one's life was worth to venture outside the European compounds of the bigger trading centres in broad daylight, not to mention by night. Snake charmers, with their stock in trade weaving back and forth over wicker baskets, only served to confirm our estimate of the number of snakes in India.

It is with a great deal of relief, therefore, that we learn only 40,000 of the world's population fall victim to snake-bite each year. This surely must rank snake-bite as a cause of death in the same category as death by being buried under avalanches or struck by lightning. It cannot, for instance, be compared as a cause of death, numerically at least, with drowning, falling, or auto accidents.

In the United States last year the number of fatalities resulting from auto accidents totalled almost 40,000 or the same number as the total number of deaths from snake-bite in the entire world. In Ontario last year more than 1,000 persons died in auto accidents, nearly twice as many as die in all of North America each year from snake-bite.

However, few people who cower from snakes because of their poisonous nature, recoil with the same horror from an automobile which is, actually, a more deadly killer.

Snake-bite statistics should probably be left to stand alone. There is only one thing, however, which puzzles us on learning of the relatively few casualty rate from snakebite. And that is, where does all that snake-bite remedy go?

INFLATION.

Time was a cent I eyed
With both business and pride.
With a penny, rich was I.
What I wanted I could buy.
Then, at any candy shop
I could get a lollypop.

Later on to me it seemed Pennies weren't so, well esteemed.
What a cent would once supply
Cost a nickel then to buy.
For a nickel I was sold
The sweet "penny's worth" of old.

But the nickel was in time
Overtaken by the dime.
And the nickel and the cent
Out-of-favor promptly went.
Then, unless a dime he had
For a boy 'twas just too bad.

For the candy that's desired
Now a quarter is required.
And that seems to me a lot
For what once the penny got.
And the cost still higher goes,
It's inflation, I suppose.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

50 YEARS AGO

JUNE 24, 1904

Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Hinchey are spending some time at Banff, Alberta.

Miss Wills, who has been residing in the Old Country for several years, has returned to the city and is the guest of her nephew, Mr. P. H. Wills and Mrs. Wills, Albert Street.

Mr. E. E. Leet of Toronto was a guest of his brother, Mr. G. F. Leet and Mrs. Leet here for a few days this week.

Miss Maude O'Connor of Detroit, Mich., formerly of this city, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bleecker, Murney Street.

Twin calves born in Thurlow, the second consecutive year twin calves have been born on the farm of Wallace Schreiber of Wellington resident of Thurlow township, just north of the city. Last year one of his Jersey cows presented its owner with a lusty pair of calves, which are now well on the way to perfect cowhood and this week a second cow in the herd gave birth to a second healthy pair.

The Rev. Harold B. Neal of Hollowell Grant, Prince Edward will shortly assume his new pastorate in Campbellford. He will be succeeded here by the Rev. R. E. Newman, who comes here from the second seven years in Chesterville, Ontario.

JUNE 24, 1924

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ritchie and two sons, Fullerton, California, are visiting their nephews, the McCreary brothers in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Rossmore were recent guests of Mrs. Hector Ross, Victoria Hill.

Miss Grace Crowe has returned to her home in Frankford after completing a business college course here.

Miss Lelia Worthy of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, is the guest of Mrs. Mikel and Mayor W. C. Mikel.

The police department has been requested to find a set of false teeth which was lost in the city last week during the circus parade.

The matrimonial of Mr. Allan C. McFee will be pleased to learn of his promotion to the position of Collector of Inland Revenue at Belleville, in succession to Mr. B. Ler. who his been transferred to Guelph. Mr. McFee has been in the Inland Revenue department nearly nineteen years and during that time he has been associated with every branch of the service and has proved himself to be very efficient in the discharge of his duties.

The Rev. A. R. Sanderson and Mrs. Sanderson will leave shortly to spend two months in the Old Country and on the continent.

JUNE 24, 1904

Mr. Arthur Lingham is home from Toronto to spend a few days.

Mr. Patrick O'Brien of Toronto is renewing acquaintances in town.

Mr. Hiram Young, Pope street has returned home from the west where he spent the past year.

Mr. George R. Brown has been appointed representative from Quinte Encampment. I.O.O.F. to the Grand Encampment.

Mr. Angus Nicholson of Madoc, a member of the county council, is a visitor in town today.

Mr. John Taylor spent yesterday in Napanee.

Strawberries were offered for sale on the market today in large quantities at five cents per box.

Lost Budgie Tells His Name

(The Times of London)

Some years ago a distinguished and absent-minded poet so regularly lost himself in the Hampstead woods, some firm step had to be taken. A sheep bell was accordingly hung round his neck and an evening drew on his "drowsy tinklings" gave a clue to the present party.

This was perhaps an excessive case, but in a general way it is a good thing for anybody to know who he is and where he lives. This has lately been shown in the case of another wanderer, a poodle named "Bobby Bitson and I live on Wimbledon Common." The statement proved perfectly accurate, and amid a scene of some confusion Bobby was restored to his friends and his relations.

The most intricate of dogs could not have done so much. He would have had to rely on his collar or his Valvegear's medal. Some years ago the talking dogs of Manchuria are said to have evolved a typographical language; they spelled letters and words by beating a powerful tattoo on the floor with their tails. Yet even this magnificent feat would have been helpless without an interpreter. Neither the intelligent policeman nor the lost dog's home could have achieved anything without dictionary.

We do not know how or why Bobby made his escape. Perhaps he could not resist the sudden temptation of an open window and wanted to see that great world that lies beyond Whicken Bank. Perhaps he had ad- sen and admired the reflection of himself in his native bank.

Queen Bess Had Toothache

(Manchester Guardian)

Whether Henry Eighth himself ever endured the miseries of toothache is doubtful, but his first Elizabeth most certainly did. She provides the classic example of how the exalted and courageous can become unbingeringly awards at the thought of having a tooth out.

In December, 1576, she was so excessively tormented with that detestable (toothache) that she could not sleep."

The pain gave her no "mind-mission" during the day. Eventually she reluctantly summoned her physicians. Both as they were to advise it, "the pulling it out was esteemed by all" as necessary. But the Queen would not give her consent, being afraid of the "further pain."

The Bishop of London, a "man of high courage," was present and tried to reassure her that treatment was "not at all to be dreaded." To prove this he volunteered to undergo a "sensible experiment of it himself, brought a pair of pincers and had not many teeth to spare."

Whether the Bishop's ade made the surgeon pull one out "in her Majesty's presence," or only in his extreme sacrifice could Elizabeth be "encouraged to submit to the operation herself."

the silver teipot and dreamed that this unknown world was entirely populated by charming little green budgerigars. At any rate we may hope that the prodigal bird has now learned his lesson and will never again desert his native bank.

Banana Company

By WM. H. STRINGER
(In the Christian Science Monitor)

Whenever a United States businessman interviews a Latin American official and began to talk about the "banana republics" where that official was likely to shift his ground and say, "Ah, but the United Fruit Company!"

Well, what about the United Fruit Company? Is it a force for good or evil, once in its alleged "plotting" a diversionary tactic learned from Moscow? Or is the company using its vast economic power against the best interests of poorly organized labor? Is the Fruit company good for Central America, or is it doing harm there?

Not so many months ago, in point of what's happened since, a group of United States publishers and editors including myself were rolling along at a clicking thirty miles per hour in a crack passenger railroad in the heart of the United Fruit Company's domain. We were looking at its plantations in Honduras, would later see Costa Rica, would end up in Guatemala City.

The mood was high-spirited, the repartee clever, and the theme song of the moment was, "Yes, we have been invited to travel through all the two hours of travel through plantations growing rubber trees, coconuts, hot sun. The previous evening, one publisher, in rhythmical measure, had taken over the drums in a sensitive band at the La Lima guest house. The next day we were first given to understand that he was Paul Whiteman's understudy, travelling incognito. I do not think they were deceived.

Did you ever hear a native marimba band, which learns all its haunting melody by ear, play the "Third Man Theme" at a fast clip, under the stars, with the starry sky of a little club in the far-off hinterland of a fruit company town? It is weird and wonderful. I thought of O. Henry, the old Spanish Main, "banana republic" days, and the early mountain-capital dictators.

This was different. We were living on the twentieth-century side of tropical America, in a well-run, controlled, scientifically managed agriculture, in vast acreages. We were in the guest houses equipped with modern plumbing and electric refrigeration. We were riding in a strange kind of private car—a baronial mansion on Ford truck with flanged wheels.

The mestizo driver of the automobile car allowed his vehicle, like a born. We had passed in and out of jungles—jungles looked so dry for jungles, this not being the rainy season—and now, as we neared a big plantation, there was a cow on the track. A supercargo who passed for banana republic fare, a long foot forward from the front platform and booted the bovine out of the way.

We rolled on. A crane posed beside an irrigation ditch. Hibiscus flamed (proper word) in the tropical foliage. A native Indian but, four shaky walls with a reed roof, and a thatched overhang for a company town, with clean, white, wooden houses, a hospital, a commissary, and a school.

The natives who lived here and worked for the United Fruit Company were not peons. Generally they enjoyed light complexion, preponderantly Spanish, through Indian bronze to Negro black. They were being paid the highest wages of any agricultural workers in Honduras, and the same applied in Guatemala. No magnificent wage, but twice the wages of coffee plantation workers. Not many, to be sure, rose to executive jobs.

We inspected the fruit company's Lancetilla Experimental Station in the course of our journey, mile after mile of orderly rows, tastefully useful wood, fibre or fruit—teak and mahogany saplings, the perfume-base Ylang Ylang, abaca for hemp, varieties of cocoa and coffee and bamboo. Some of these could one day become major crops for Central America. That is, if nationalist pride permitted.

We saw acres on acres of African oil palm, whose berry-like fruit is pressed to produce a thick oil which becomes cooking fat and soap. Finally, we saw miles and miles of banana plantations in Honduras, Costa Rica, and Guatemala, and watched the fruit being hurried—by railroad, truck, or river-jumping conveyor belts—to the waiting spic-and-span banana freighters.

The scope of activities reminded one of the big oil company operations in Saudi Arabia. This "empire" runs 400 miles of railroad in Honduras alone, repairs its own railroad, mixes its millions of gallons of tree spray, operates schools and hospitals, runs company stores, keeps dairy cattle, grows fireproof woods, maintains a White Fleet" of ships, some with tourist accommodations. It has its own wireless system.

A company as big as this could throw its weight around economically if it wished. But it now maintains correct, co-operative, and friendly relations with Honduras, Costa Rica, Panama. It has just signed a new contract with Honduras, increasing its income-tax contribution to the national treasury. It has taken over the old grievances, stemming from the long feud with the late Manuel Guatemalan dictator, Jorge Ubico. But those days are gone forever.

Guatemala has plenty of opportunities for a bright, progressive people. Coffee is the leader, with crop boatloads of bananas and other tropical products. Chicle, Guatemala-grown, now are needed: whole banana plantations have to be destroyed because of soil fungus attacks; the plants have to be sprayed and replanted. Forests are a gold throughout the flat acres) replanting is necessary and there is room for more. The crops need diversification.

Guatemala has the tourist's dream lift. Its capital city, 5,000 exhilarating feet in the air on a broad plateau, has a grand volcanoes brooding on the horizon, has a climate which is the last word in "intelligent perpetual spring." Its new tourist hotels are charming. Its ancient Spanish capital in the hills, Antigua, partially wrecked by earthquake, is a treasure-house of Spanish colonial architecture and customs. Its Mayan ruins are close at hand. And market day among the Indians at Chichicastenango is a spectacle which for sheer color but superstitious crowds of longlost countries.

Will the ultranationalism of Guatemala's President Moscow's propaganda, curtail and limit Guatemala's natural development? Obviously if Guatemala wants to oust the fruit company's subsidiary, the banana firms and try to operate without foreign capital or skills, it will have to do so by way of a free country—so long as it pays just compensation, and so long as it keeps the economy open to inter-American security.

The investigating editors interviewed Prof. Jose Figueres of Costa Rica (who shortly was to be elected president of that republic). Senor Figueres said no Central American country would "play ball" with North American carpetbaggers who came in, exploited the country in the interests of "making a fast buck," and then left. He said companies that came to stay, and to benefit or build up the economy, could be welcome. Mr. Roebuck or the United Fruit Company, he implied, had behaved themselves.

Is there any question as to which attitude better serves the genuine interests of the people—that of Costa Rica or that of Guatemala?

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

"Do you swear," demanded my old friend the car dealer from whom he had bought a car four year intervals," never to lift the hood of the car?"

"I do," I said, solemnly.

"Do you promise never to touch any part of the mechanism of this car, either the wiring, body bolts, nuts, screws, or exposed parts?"

"I will."

"And you give me your word of honour, nobody but a qualified mechanic will at any time, under any circumstances, be permitted to touch it?"

"I do."

"Okay, then I give you a gentleman's agreement", said the car dealer. "You will give me a hundred bucks more than the official turn-in price for it when you bring it back to me."

For in his opinion, and in the opinion of the motor mechanical world generally, more damage to cars is done by car-owning amateur mechanics than by any other factory. "The world is full of tinkerers", says he. "Car tinkers, radio tinkers, television tinkers. More plumbing is leaking, more electrical fixtures and devices are on the blink, more furnaces are giving half their efficiency, more clocks run slow, more cars are slow, more door locks stick and more hinges creak because of amateur tinkers than because of any defect in materials or even because of neglect. Ninety per cent of should be great news for husbands, and I told the car dealer so. "That's a myth," he replied," that stuff about wives nagging husbands to fix things. It is exactly the other way round, as far as my experience goes. And I have no doubt it is true of plumbing and radio and television sets. It is my husband who cannot stand when their husbands start trying to adjust the carburetor, or to test the tubes on the radio. Wives know better. They know from bitter experience. It is wives who try to prevent men tinkering. It is husbands who are the natural born, low-down tinkers in this highly specialized age."

As a rule I do not answer anonymous letters, but if they are short I sometimes read 'em and

I even answered one recently. It reported to be from a registered nurse. The writer says she was about to go in for new words, every one of which stung. When not harping on such tiresome subjects as this and that I'm forever carping at the methods used by the leading physicians, belittling my own profession. The writer used the stationery of a "clinic" and signed her name like this: Jane Doe, R.N. My reply came back from the "clinic" marked: Not known here.

Even so, the phony letter made me wonder whether the skipper of this column makes such an impression on real folks. If so, he will lay off medical foibles and popular vagaries and devote his time to relating experiences readers might otherwise never worry about.

If you have noticed how studiously we avoid certain morbid subjects here you may conclude it is because the skipper is over squeamish on the bowling green or—spell it gambling if Double-or-Nothing is there.

Not so. God Bless You letters I get from some readers from time to time convince me like this:

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE POWER OF CHOICE

We in the free world have one of the greatest gifts bequeathed to us by right of natural inheritance, and that is the power of choice. We are free to choose our life work, just how we shall worship, live, and we are free to think as we please just so long as we injure no one else, or harm him or her in the same right.

Every day of our lives we are faced with choices. Our success and happiness depend upon just these choices. Some choices are small, a choice has been made it is not always easy to change it. Intelligence and character are both challenged when an important decision is to be made, and we cannot always choose the best, but if we have made a mistake, the second it is corrected the better. This takes courage, but it amounts to the real courage of the mind.

To know how and when to choose correctly is a gift from the Creator. It is supreme in importance, and the more it is elevated the greater and happier life is sure to be.

Our choice of an occupation can be changed at will. Our friends are a matter of choice. So is the cultivation of our individuality and that is the way a reading has a great influence upon our lives.

People rush into marriage as though it were a weekend affair, instead of a lifelong decision. One extremely important is such a choice. Our decisions make our own, however. No one else should be looked for for them. Otherwise our personalities would not have our own stamp upon them. Each of us has a unique set of knowledge and development should be treated certain that they are.

Whenever a time of choice is placed before us, it is well for us to pause and think. Choose well and you can't help but live well.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

STOP WRINGING YOUR HANDS

Every generation of oldsters thinks the younger generation of the oncoming generation has too much freedom. But I leave it to my readers—is there not a freedom between children and young people today which often goes far beyond the bounds of reason and common sense? Immaturity of personalities in danger?

Many parents today believe that the way to bring about the development of a child is to let him experiment with anything that meets his fancy. One trouble about that is that he experiments at the expense and the discomfort of many other people. The second fallacy of such reasoning is that the only time in experimenting with evil would better be spent if the child were rightfully guided into practical channels. The tragical experience of millions of years has discovered to the human race what should be turned over to the rigors of free experimentation. It is allowed to grow in the least from the experience of his forebears but is compelled to start at scratch and that is not fair. The human race has learned certain things that the child ought to know this.

Is all this freedom leading to progress? I doubt it, and we have the feeling that there are millions of people who doubt it; even though they do not know what to do about the situation, save to wring their hands.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

DR. McVICKER

CALLED GOOD FELLOW

"Our present member, Roscoe Robson, is a good fellow, but he has done nothing for this riding," the speaker went on. "He has done nothing for the cheese or milk industry, and nothing to assist farm products."

"That is not the kind of representation East Hastings needs. We need a member who knows what Hastings needs and what Hastings wants."

The speaker accused the provincial government of making a big play about paying for medical assistance for those receiving mothers' allowances and old age pensions, when actually the assistance given was small.

This now amounts to only $1.05 per month and the pensioner had to pay for his own medicines and hospital bills. "Only emergency drugs and emergency care are looked after by the province and the onus was on the doctor.

He charged partiality was shown with respect to mothers' allowances citing one instance, where a widow was allowed to work full time, while in another case a woman had either to give up her job or her allowance. He said this woman lived up to the rules because she was not enough to keep her family.

LIVE MEAGRELY CLAIM.—

Many old age pensioners were said to be living a very meagre existence with half of their $40 monthly pension cheques going for accommodation. Other pensioners were practically starving to death. "Ontario should provide additional allowance in needy cases", he said.

"Yes, the Department of Health stands ashamed, but the provincial government still cannot see anything wrong with the conditions existing in the Province of Ontario."

Introduced by Peter McLaren who once carried the party banner in East Hastings, Mr. Campbell declared that the Liberal party was still a virile force in Ontario despite the fact it was many years since they had elected a government.

He said winning an election presented issues other than republican. These three requirements were to organize thoroughly; to constructively criticize the opposition, and to sell the platform of your own party.

Organization was of paramount importance, according to Mr. Campbell, because, regardless of a candidate's popularity he could not win alone. Unless he had the support of all riding party members he had little chance of success.

He admitted that East Hastings had not been good fighting grounds for the Liberals but pointed out there was a change in political thinking.

ATTACKS GOVERNMENT.

Mr. Campbell bitterly attacked what he termed was the failure of the provincial government to ease the tax burden for the municipalities despite the fact that it was gradually taking powers away from the municipalities.

"Each year we can see a little more power being taken from the municipalities, and yet taxes keep building up," he said. "If power is taken away by the government it should pay the shot."

Because of the increased taxation, which was now three times what it was before the war there was growing unrest within the municipalities.

"The relationship between the municipalities and the provincial government should be investigated by a select committee. There should be a re-alignment of responsibilities, and a re-alignment of taxes."

An immediate conference between the municipalities and the government was on the platform of the Liberal party, Mr. Campbell outlined the Liberal party policy, which called for effective relief of the municipalities to assist them in carrying out their duties.

The speaker briefly mentioned the Ontario highways scandal but carefully avoided going into detail, noting that much evidence was still to come out. He urged his listeners to watch closely the findings of the investigating committee.

But Mr. Campbell was critical of the government's highway policy which at present highways graded before the war to remain still unpaved. He referred to the dual lane road east of Gananoque, which still had only one lane paved, and also the dual road at Niagara, also with but one lane paved.

BEHIND IN BUILDING.

The government was away behind in the construction of highways in keeping with the demands of present day transportation. "If taxation was inadequate to keep highway construction up with requirements their tolls, which had proven so

The operation of the polarigraph, designed by Jerry Longworth of the Dunlap party, is timed to concentrate on the extreme outer envelope of the sun — the spectacular corona which is visible during an eclipse.

"We don't know how much of its light actually belongs to the sun, and how much belongs to the scattered particles in the void between sun and the earth," says Dr. Heard. Infra-red photography of the corona during the moments of absolute totality will help us sort out light from the sun and reflected light of particles in space."

Head development in Northern Alberta and Northern Ontario, Quebec was far ahead of that in Ontario and Nova Scotia declared the richest province.

The Ontario government had forgotten the outlying areas and until a strong voice was raised would not change their present policy. Despite the highway scandal Hon. Thomas Lloyd Deacett was still sitting as minister and was carrying out his own policy.

"The roads in the outlying areas will not be improved until the constituencies rise up and elect some Liberal members," he said.

Mr. Campbell declared that the provincial government was not interested in the economic spending of the people's money. Further on he declared that the highways minister must take some responsibility for the highways scandal that took them 11 years to find out but highway contractors did not become dishonest all at once.

They are trying to lay all the blame on the engineers or other members of the department, but the administration at the top is not good, and they are the ones elected."

MUST ACCEPT RESPONSIBILITY.

Mr. Campbell declared the provincial government must also accept some responsibility for the increase in hydro rates which may even go higher. The St. Lawrence represented the only available source of cheap power and additional steam plants would be necessary.

He intimated that development plans by Dev Joachim and other hydro projects had been greater than necessary. "But that will all come out in the election campaign," he said.

Turning to the department of public health, Mr. Campbell was critical of the provincial government for its failure to augment the $40 per month old age pension paid by Ottawa. British Columbia was paying an extra $15 per month where needed, but the Ontario government had said it could not afford to contribute toward old age pensions.

"And Ontario is the richest province in Canada," he said. "I don't like to be told we are not as good as any other province. The old age pension should be tied to the cost of living index.

Nephew Admits He and Not Aunt Drove Death Car

BARRIE (CP)—Police Wednesday withdrew charges of manslaughter, dangerous driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident against Yolando Danko, 29, of nearby New Lowell, after the nephew himself up and admitted he was the driver involved in the accident.

The charges were laid against Arthur Rocsie, 21, who walked into the Barrie police station and told the constituencies rise up and elect some Liberal members," he said.

Regents Bow To Deseronto By 5-2 Score

A two-run triple in the bottom of the seventh broke up a 2-2 ball game and gave the Deseronto "As" a 5-2 victory over Bry. Reid's Regents in a Bay of Quinte Baseball game played in Deseronto.

It was a real heartbreaker for the Regents as they had fought back from one run deficits on two occasions as Tar Brady, Napanee hurler, and Harv Stoliker were battling each other tooth and nail for the break that finally came.

Brant, batting in the eighth position, started the winning rally when he worked Stoliker for a base on balls. Brady, a good hitting pitcher promptly came through in the clutch with a single to left and the next batter went down swinging. Fish stepped in and solidly met one of Stoliker's fast balls and lined it deep to right-centre for a triple and what proved to be the ball game. He scored later with the final tally on a Regent miscue.

The homesters took a one run lead in the first frame on Huffman's single, a sacrifice and two errors by the Regent infield. Wayne Fox, Napanee batter in the top of the second with a circuit blast only to watch the determined Deseronto crew go in front once more in their half of the inning on a triple by Regent and Brady were the damaging blows in this frame.

Don Barclay led off the sixth by getting on base via the error route, stole second base and scampered home for a 2-2 game on Bob Moore's ole-base knock. That was all for the Regents.

Brady went all the way to gain the win while hurling five ball for Deseronto. Stoliker was tagged with the defeat.

He fanned eleven of the Belleville batters in his mound duties but three. A little trouble came up for him in the eighth inning. Casey met with his pitches and he walked another with only one out. Brady fooled the next man with Stoliker flying out to end the game.

Stoliker allowed nine hits while getting eleven on strikes and walked two as he matched Brady in strike outs and walked one less.

Brady and Huffman each poked two singles for the winners while Fish had a triple. Reid went to Turvey, Lewis, Green and Detwor.

Manager Bryan Reid was elected from the game in the sixth inning by umpire Red Carson when Reid objected to a call by a local base umpire.

The box:

Regents — Scott, Barclay, Moore, Bird, Casey, Ball, Stephens, Fox, Stoliker.

Deseronto — Huffman, Fish, Turvey, Irwin, Green, Myracle, J. Brant, Brant, Brady, Rogers, Detwor.

Line score:

	R	H	E
Deseronto	101	000	30x—5	9	3

Stoliker and Fox; Brady and Fish.

Madoc Shades Bobcats 17-15

Madoc were hosts to the Bobcats last night with the homesters running roughshod over 15 in the Belleville and District baseball league.

Pigden for Madoc was pounded for 16 hits while Reid and Young were on the mound for the Bobcats and allowed 19 hits.

Sherry, Semmelhack and Downy led the winners with three singles each while Carswell, Harry Brown, Wayne Brown, and Bob Maynes had two hits each. Harry Brown included a homer in his hits. Stewart and Burnside also hit safely.

Nolan and Dusberry had a trio of hits for the city crew with Doran and Logue getting a pair. Singletons went to Temple, Whalin, Reid and Young with home runs being hit by Dusberry, Logue and Doran.

THE LINE-UPS—

Bobcats — Nolan, Dusberry, Temple, Whalin, Doran, Logue, Fitzpatrick, Reid, Young.

Madoc—Sherry, Carswell, H. Brown, W. Brown, Semmelhack, Maynes, Stewart, Downy, Pigden, Burnside, Reid and Young with home runs being hit by Dusberry, Logue and Doran.

THE LINE-UPS—

LINE SCORE	R	H	E
Bobcats	201	100	402—10	14	6
Madoc	421	063	10x—17	19	10

Trinity Ch. School Holds Special Children's Service

FRANKFORD — The closing exercises of Trinity Church School, Frankford, took the form of a special service for children on Sunday morning.

The school paraded into the church accompanied by part of the choir.

The Psalm was read by Janet Coonsey, the lesson by Sharon Foster. Prayers were read by Marlene Houlden, Dorothy Brown, Howard Frost and Bobby Foster.

Grace and June Pearson sang a duet, "Brahms Lullaby". The combined school sang an anthem entitled, "I Surrender All", with the music composed by Professor Ernest Wheatley, of St. Thomas' Church, Belleville.

The rector spoke to the boys and girls on the text. "Jesus Waxed Strong in the Spirit". He used the various sizes of elastic bands to illustrate how one can serve God from childhood to old age.

Flowers on the altar were presented by Mrs. Rombough, who is a patient in Trenton hospital.

Chairman of Highways Com. Accused of Being Dictatorial

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TERRACE BAY, Ont. (CP)—Opposition Leader Farquhar Oliver and Kelso Roberts (PC—Fort Arthur), chairman of the Ontario legislature's highways investigation committee sparred along the north shore of Lake Superior Wednesday over future committee work.

Mr. Oliver accused Mr. Roberts of adopting a "dictatorial" attitude with the committee and said he would not give his approval to an interim report planned for the government next week.

The argument—the second in two days of travelling—developed during a bus conference while the committee drove from Port Arthur to Marathon and Terrace Bay 127 miles east.

Mr. Roberts said the committee would be holding a public meeting at the Lakehead on Friday, the last day of their 10-day, 5,000-mile tour of the northwestern United States and Ontario.

FREE TO CALL

The chairman said the committee at that time would be free to call any witnesses it desired.

Stuart Wren (PC—Carleton) said the committee would not be free to question witnesses and could offer information that would prejudice current court cases arising from the Gordon and Gordon Limited, Toronto management consultants appointed by Premier Frost to make a study of the highways department. The report was submitted to the committee last month.

"We should put our views on it before the government," he said.

NOTES ABSENCE

Mr. Oliver noted the absence of Attorney-General Porter, "the key member of this committee" during the tour of the Fort William division, scene of the original investigation last fall.

Mr. Roberts said Mr. Porter had been requested to be in Fort William for Friday's meeting.

Clare Mapledoram (PC — Fort William) said it "might be good political strategy for the Opposition to take the position it did today. But the No. 1 job we have to do is to make the highways department a better place and a more efficient organization. We must not take the attitude of sitting back and waiting for these court cases to be cleared up."

Mr. Oliver replied that "it is our obligation under our terms of reference to report our recommendations to the legislature. And under those terms of reference an interim report could be submitted only to the legislature. An interim report is quite out of order now."

Recover Body Of Second Victim Of Monday's Gale

OSHAWA (CP)—Body of the second victim of a Monday night motorboat accident, Douglas Stone 23, of Oshawa was found by searchers in Lake Ontario Wednesday night off the shore of nearby Courtice.

The body of his companion, Fred Lewis, 22, also of Oshawa, was found Tuesday night.

The two were in a boat which capsized during a severe thunderstorm. Robert Hickie, 20, swam to shore. Vincent Gorman, 20, still in hospital was rescued by a big sister he was found clinging to the overturned boat. Oshawa is 25 miles east of Toronto.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, Chatham Street, have returned from a pleasant holiday with friends in Toronto and Hamilton.

Silver Gifts Feature 25th Anniversary

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Keller, of Thomasburg, was the scene of a happy occasion when a number of friends and relatives gathered for a surprise party and social evening in honor of the 25th anniversary of Mr. Keller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Slingerland of Roslin, Ontario.

Though completely surprised Mr. and Mrs. Slingerland entered into the spirit of the fellowship. After being escorted to chairs underneath an archway composed of pink and white wedding bells, roses and peonies, they were showered with rice from colored balloons above.

They were the happy recipients of many lovely silver gifts among which was a box of silver money, and a beautiful floral flower basket, for which they both expressed their appreciative thanks to their many friends and relatives.

Refreshments, including an anniversary cake, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Palmer, of Picton, (their daughter, Reta), were served.

Many were the good wishes tendered Mr. and Mrs. Slingerland for many more happy years together.

S.S. Teachers Hold Season's Last Meeting

The recent closing meeting of the Sunday School of Holloway Street United Church was held in the form of a pot-luck supper.

Following the sumptuous meal, Mr. Ward Jones, superintendent, presided over the meeting in which various items of business were discussed, as well as the graduation, which was planned for September.

Miss Lenore Wilkes, acted as secretary for the evening.

Mr. Jones closed the meeting.

Weddings

SHIPTICKE—PRINDLE

Standards of yellow and white gladioli interspersed with peonies, formed a lovely double-ring ceremony in the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, Belleville, on Saturday morning, June 5, at 10 o'clock, when Marion Almeda Prindle, of Foxboro, Ontario, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prindle, became the bride of Carl Herman Shiptick, of Toronto, Ontario, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Shiptick. The Rev. J. J. Buckley officiated.

Miss Dorothy L. Grant, organist, rendered the wedding music. Mrs. Frank O'Connell, Roblin, Ontario, cousin of the bride, sang before the ceremony, "Ave Maria"; during the ceremony "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," and while the register was being signed "Mother at Thy Feet Is Kneeling."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Weldon Prindle, Belleville, Ont., was radiant in Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with fitted bodice and Chantilly lace redingote fastened to the waist having a "V"-shaped neckline and long, sheath-like sleeves ending in lily-point over the hands. Her waist-length veil was caught in a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a round bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Johnny Samicki, Toronto, Ontario, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, gowned in blue nylon net over taffeta with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She wore a matching headdress and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Lloyd Shiptick, of Toronto, attended his brother.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's mother received, wearing powder blue sheer and corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother assisted, gowned in powder blue crepe with white accessories and wearing a white camellia corsage.

Those who served at the reception were, Mrs. Stanley Hazard, Plainfield; Mrs. George Price, Foxboro, and Mrs. Jack Salmon, Plainfield.

For travelling to North Bay and points north, the bride chose a turquoise linen suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Shiptick will reside in Kingston, Ontario.

Local Members Attend C.F.U.W. Council Meeting

The council meeting of the Canadian Federation of University Women, held at the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec City, was attended by forty local members, Mrs. D. I. MacKinnon, president; Mrs. D. F. Bedell, past-president and Mrs. J. R. MacArthur, Federation representative, and Mrs. J. K. Hugh.

A pleasant trip and a highly interesting session is reported. Sixty to 75 women from Halifax to Vancouver were in attendance to hear the reports and discuss the business of the Federation.

TWO POINTS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Two points of general interest carefully briefed for presentation to the federal government were succession duties and penal reform.

While a resolution was passed recommending Finance Minister Abbott on implementing the revision of succession duties, plans were also formulated to bring to bear all possible persuasion on the federal government to ensure the successful culmination of both briefs.

The resolution of the Victoria, B.C. club on the evils of crime comics and the penal system failed to pass the C.F.U.W. because all representations on that topic must be put into the provincial governments which have the control of seeing that laws against crime comics are carried out. The interest of the Victoria club in this topic put their work on it was commended.

DISBURSEMENTS

Disbursements showed a total of over $9,000 given out in fellowships by the C.F.U.W. scholarship committee during 1952 to 1954.

Membership secretary reported a total of 14 new clubs in the past two years.

The combined efforts of the Quebec English speaking club and the French bi-lingual club resulted in an exceptionally warm welcome and enjoyable visit for the guests. Social activities included a dinner and musicale at the exclusive "Bonne Entente Club". The after-dinner speaker, Dr. Marita Law, president of the C.F.U.W., outlined the achievements of the C.F.U.W. during the first two years of this triennial period, and gave a resume of what it is hoped will be accomplished before the triennial meeting in Edmonton in August, 1955. The unstinted effort with which Dr. Law is carrying out her presidential duties is, in large measure, responsible for the growing strength of the C.F.U.W. as a vital force in Canada. In the past two years she has visited 25 clubs across Canada.

ENJOY CITY DRIVES

Many of the visitors escorted by Quebec members enjoyed drives about the city to spots of beauty and historical interest.

On Saturday afternoon the council meeting closed with a garden party at the beautiful home of Mrs. E. M. Little overlooking the blue St. Lawrence.

Friendships had been formed, friendships cemented, and the spirit of the C.F.U.W. strengthened with the memory of a successful council meeting marked by good fellowship and the exhilaration of achievement.

Victorian Order of Nurses Sponsors Charming Tea

Fragrant roses, pastel-pink sweetpeas, sweet-smelling Madonna lilies, Canterbury bells, Sweet Williams and blue delphiniums adorned the spacious home of Mrs. H. W. Ackerman, 223 Ann Street, yesterday afternoon for the delightful tea sponsored by the Victorian Order of Nurses.

The reception committee, consisted of Mrs. H. W. Ackerman, the gracious hostess; Mrs. M. E. Bolger, president of the V.O.N.; and Miss Dorothy Connor, nurse-in-charge of the V.O.N.

LOVELY TEA TABLE

The tea table was lovely in its appointment. An exquisite Italian cutwork cloth of linen and lace was centred by an unusual elliptical glass holder containing a low bowl of Paul's Scarlet interspersed with blue cornflowers, while solid crystal glass bases holding blue and white candles, emblematic of the colors of the Order, were placed diagonally among the roses and cornflowers. Gleaming, silver services accented the whole.

Mrs. S. E. Morton was the tea room convener, and those who poured were, Mrs. Norman Edwards and Mrs. J. Lynch, Mrs. C. B. Morgan and Mrs. E. E. Folkes.

Mrs. G. F. Lent and Miss Ruth Hinton.

Those who served included, Mrs. A. E. Mills, Mrs. R. Williamson, Mrs. E. A. Glen, Mrs. S. Jose, Mrs. H. Quinccy, Mrs. S. Parker, Mrs. McKenna, Miss R. Corbett, Mrs. Grace Connor and Miss Doris O'Brien, while Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Gilroy replenished the plates. Mrs. H. Francis was in charge of the refreshments.

ATTRACTIVE HOMECOOKING

The homecooking booth in the sunroom was most attractive with its green trellis embellished with deep pink, fragrant Polyanthus roses, and dainty assortment of the culinary art, which included lemon pies heaped high with golden-tipped meringues, angel cakes, uniced and light as thistle down; delicious chiffon cake; cup cakes with chocolate toppings embellished with shredded coconut, and others, white-iced, with shavings of nut meats; orange and nut loaves; date loaves; Parker house rolls, fresh and invitingly fragrant; little cup cakes resembling a portulaca border with the varied hues of icings; jams, jellies, marmalades, sweet pickles and relishes, all of which found ready buyers.

Here, too, were bags of cellophane containing a fine assortment of homemade maple creams, chocolate fudge and other varieties, most enticing and mouth-watering. Those in charge of the candies were Mrs. Clark James, as convener, and Mrs. G. Hyde, while Mrs. E. D. Finkle convened the homecooking, assisted by Mrs. Newman and Mrs. E. Neil.

Mrs. J. S. Wardner acted as treasurer for the afternoon.

A charming tea splendidly convened by Mrs. R. Grant, whose appreciative thanks go out to all those whose generous efforts added so much to its ultimate success, and to Mrs. A. E. Miller for the lovely floral arrangements.

St. George's Guild Enjoys Meeting

Mrs. Collyer was graciously thanked for her hospitality and members were reminded the Guild would be re-opened Sept. tember 14, and hoped to see each member present to start the fall business.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerow Happily Wed 50 Years

Fifty years ago on June 23rd, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerow journeyed to Christ Church in this city, where they were joined in marriage by the late Rev. H. A. Feeney and on Wednesday afternoon at their spacious home on Herchimer Avenue, they were hosts to a number of well wishers who came to offer their congratulations to this happy couple.

The husband, Frank Gerow was born in this city, 71 years ago and has continuously resided here. His wife, the former Lillian May Hetherington, 67, was born in Detroit, Michigan, but came to this city as a young child and the two started a courtship, that ended in marriage just 50 years ago. At the wedding they were attended by James Connolly, well known barber in this city for years, while Miss Mabel Hetherington, a sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid.

After a short honeymoon, they settled in this city and have been well known and highly respected residents of the community ever since. Mr. Gerow entered the employment of the old Grand Trunk now the C.N.R. as a chef on the auxiliary and served in that capacity for 30 year until his retirement in 1948. It has always been said there was always a good meal waiting for anyone who visited the car but Mr. Gerow says today that he leaves the cooking of the meals to his good wife, who he states is a good cook in her own right.

LIVE ON HERCHIMER AVE

Having purchased a sizeable piece of property on Herchimer Avenue, Mr. Gerow spends his leisure time in his garden. Beautiful fruit trees, strawberry and raspberry patches and long rows of staple vegetables keep him busy and his garden is a picture at all times. As Mr. Gerow remarks "we have lived a happy Rid contented life among our friends and in our home" and the hope is expressed this may continue for many more years.

Three children were born to the union, Charles "Chummy" Gerow, who lives but a short distance from his parents on the same avenue and was a power in baseball circles for many years, when the C.O.B.L. was in its hey day. He has been with the C.N.R. yard office for many years

Norman Gerow, also a resident of the city and an employee of the C.N.R. as a switchman in the yards and Harold, serving with the R.C.A.F. at Ottawa and was unable to attend the anniversary gathering due to a tour of duty. There are also nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Many beautiful presents were received from the family and friends and many telegrams and phone calls were received wishing the happy couple the best of everything in the years to come.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECHCRAFT

BUFFET-PARTY ETIQUETTE

Dear Mrs. Beechcraft:

Before my husband and I moved into town (and a very hospitable town it is) we were not very familiar with buffet parties. But here they are "the thing", and there are many given at the Country Club we have joined, at the Woman's Club, and so forth. I like them, and so does my husband! But one question bothers me, and I don't want to ask my husband about it, because I'm afraid he may think I'm questioning his courtesy. Very often, at either Club parties or buffet parties in homes, the men seem to take it for granted that they are expected to go to the buffet table first "bring out the plates-with-food to the women. Now, while I appreciate this attention, I would prefer to choose my own. (And I'm pretty positive that, if they'd admit it, many other women have this same idea.) Is it polite for a woman to thank the man for his suggestion but to say she'd prefer to go to the buffet table herself when "chosen"? — Anne S.

An excellent question. . . . and one that perplexes many a woman at a buffet party! Yes, the procedure you suggest is entirely correct and polite—and so practical. Let's face it. . . too many men return from the buffet table enthusiastically bearing two plates with a heaping cargo of meat and potato when we may be yearning for that delectable - looking salad we glimpsed as we came in. It takes only a bit of graciousness for the wise woman to say to the considerate, offering gentleman (for example): "Thank you, so very much. But I'm sure you won't mind if I go up myself to look over the field. I get ideas!"

NO GIFT "OBLIGATION"

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

I'm a faithful reader of your column, and how I need your help about a very important occasion. I'm having an "Open House" to celebrate my husband's graduation from college.

Does the term "Open House" imply a gift? We hope not. What we want to do is simply to invite our friends to a sociable evening, and we don't want to put them under any gift obligation. — D.N.

The friendly term "Open House" is, as its name implies an occasion when the "house" is hospitably "open" to the guests invited. (The dictionary says this: 'Open House', when hospitality is extended to all visitors".) In this very general term for a party there is no suggestion of an "obligation" to bring a gift, as of course there is in a shower-invitation. However, having said this, I myself still would-n't be too sure that some intimate and particularly good friends may not bring presents to your husband to show their happiness and congratulations on his achievement! If they do, your husband should open these as they are presented to him (they shouldn't be left unopened, as some people think), and most enthusiastically thank the givers. The fact that some guests bring gifts need not embarrass those who don't. . . because the invitation to "Open House" doesn't and didn't. In this case, make this gift-bringing necessary.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

SALLOW COMPLEXIONS

What every woman desires most in the way of beauty is complexion of fine texture, softness of surface, delicate coloring. Some inherit these, others have to work for it. Not mean that it will remain with them. The skin can change through neglect and it can go into a decline because of physical conditions that are not normal.

Most stubborn and resistant to beauty treatments is the sallow complexion. External applications may keep it smooth and wrinkle-free but there are no creams or lotions that will cause the sallow look to disappear.

This is an inside job. Changes in the diet may bring improvement in short order, so the victim should take a survey of her eating habits. It might be well to cut down somewhat on protein which is found in meat, fish, cheese and eggs. One should avoid rich sauces, pastries and condiments. An excess of tea or coffee may be the cause. Carrots and other yellow vegetables should be eaten in limited amounts.

Rhubarb, citrus fruits, tomatoes, lettuce, apples and grapes are recommended. It is essential that one should drink plenty of water—at least four glasses a day. Unsweetened lemonade taken before breakfast is helpful. Beauty authority orders for a sallow complexion.

Make-up is a problem. It is a mistake to use rouge or lipsticks of red with a blue cast, like raspberry and wine shades. Tulip reds.

The same rule applies to clothes. Coral pinks are better than rose pinks. Black—very smart this season—will undoubtedly be better than navy which is also popular.

Beige, tans and browns are taboo, offering too little contrast to the skin. Dead white should not be worn close to the face, either in blouses or millinery, soft creamy tones being a happier choice.

Be careful when choosing powder, Rachelle and other brunette hints are safe, but best of all is a delicate tea-rose that can be found at any cosmetic counter.

TREK TO FIELDS

DELHI, Ont. (CP)—Annual trek of men and women seeking harvest work in the Ontario tobacco belt has started several weeks earlier than usual. Officials say a record number may gather this summer.

Ideal Cakes For Summer

By Mary Moore

If I wanted to inflate my ego and attract more letters that tell me how much you love the column (which I do and I don't) I'd write about cakes and cookies all the time because these are what you go for.

So here's one on cake, but for the sake of you like the look of it now why not clip it now? It would save a lot of wear and tear on post office employees, to say nothing of you and me—not that I would want you to think for a moment that that dreadful ogre "self" is rearing her head.

Lemon Layer Cake is one of those cakes that is a whole dessert in itself—it needs no fruit or cheese or other accompaniment. Could be decked out with yellow candles to make a birthday cake, if one of your crowd was born in the good old summer time. Definitely it is one of my favorite cakes.

LEMON LAYER CAKE

Three-quarters cup butter or margarine, 1 1-2 cups sugar, 3 well-beaten egg yolks, 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 1-4 teaspoons baking soda, 3-4 cup milk, 3 1-2 tablespoons canned lemon juice, 3 stiffly beaten egg whites. Cream the butter until pale and light, and gradually beat in sugar until both are smooth and airy. Beat yolks until till light and beat them in well. Sift together the sifted flour, salt and soda and add them to the creamed mixture alternately with the milk mixed with the lemon juice (never mind if it curdles). Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Prepare layer cake tins by lining with wax paper and buttering them, and turn batter into them. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 25 or 30 minutes. Turn out on cake rack to cool. Put together when cool with

LEMON FILLING (RICH)

Three-quarters cup each lemon juice and water, 1 1-2 cups sugar (all together), 1-2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons each cornstarch, flour, butter, 2 egg yolks. In a saucepan mix together the sugar, cornstarch, flour and when blended, stir in the lemon juice and water, and cook over medium direct heat, stirring, until mixture comes to boil, then gently boil, stirring one minute. Beat a little of this mixture into the slightly beaten egg yolks, and beat into remaining hot mixture and cook one minute longer stirring. Remove from heat and add the butter. Cool. Spread between layers when they are cold. Just before serving, frost top and sides with 1-4-inch layer of unsweetened whipped cream. Surprise eh?

COFFEE ALMOND ICEBOX CAKE

Anybody on your summer-visiting list that you particularly want to impress? This is the dish that will do it.

One cup butter or margarine (don't try substituting), 1-2 cups icing sugar, 2 egg yolks, 1-3 cup cold extra-strong coffee, pinch of salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 cup chopped almonds and 1-2 cup slivered toasted almonds, 1 1-2 dozen ladyfingers (from bake shop). Cream the butter until soft and light; then cream in sugar into it gradually. Beat in beaten yolks. Beat mixture until light and fluffy. Add the coffee a little at a time, beating just enough to blend. Add salt and vanilla, and lastly the 1-2 cup chopped nuts. Line a loaf or round pan (like a round glass casserole) with parchment paper to foil the light then cream the cake out if you intend serving (it top side up) and line buttercup sides with split ladyfingers, flat side down, using halves cut crosswise for the sides, and standing them up. Spread a layer of the coffee mixture over the ladyfingers on bottom, pushing some between the crevices between the ladyfingers on sides. Cover with more split ladyfingers, then more coffee mixture, repeating until dish is full. Decorate top with slivered almonds around edge, and pat on a few ladyfingers to form spokes. Chill overnight (or at least 6 hours). Lift out by the paper liner onto fancy cake plate, then deftly strip paper away and discard it. Slice this very thinly, and icy cold it slices well.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

HERE'S A HAPPY STORY

Medical men who see nothing but sick people all day long must sometimes have the feeling that there are no healthy people in the world.

And anyone who reads a column such as this every day, which concerns itself almost wholly with unhappy people, must wonder, once in awhile, if there aren't any people in the world who are really happy.

Well, there are! And just to prove it, here for a change, is the story of a very happy family.

It comes from a young woman of 25 years old, who says that she and her husband married when both were 18 and now have two sons, one eight and one five.

Not only are these two people happy themselves, but they have reached out to make others happy in a very special way, as you will see as you read her letter today:

"I feel my husband and I are a perfect example of what the old saying the letter begins, "and I say 'made' because I realize so much that good marriages just don't happen. They have to be made.

"For myself and my husband, we are completely happy, and we feel our happiness is partly due to the fact that we make our children, each other and our home, the only important things in life. We don't drink, gamble or run around, and none of our friends wonder at our happiness, saying that night clubs, parties, and so forth make life exciting and that's what is money. We don't agree, because we don't find life dull and monotonous.

"In addition to bringing up our own children, we've taken infants into our home to care for until suitable adoption homes are found for them. Our twelfth such charge is now in our home. We find this work very interesting and, though we have many children of our own, we'll continue to give a good home to such helpless children.

"My husband and I feel our love and happiness has constantly grown through the years and that they will continue to do so. We feel we missed nothing by marrying so young, because we found what we wanted when we found each other. Still, I would very seldom tell others to marry so young because few, if any, are ready for marriage in their teens. I think we were among the lucky few."

There are two points in this fine letter to which I would like to call special attention.

The first is that, while her own teen-age marriage has been so successful, the young woman is wise enough to realize it doesn't mean all such marriages would be. Instead, she has—and evidently had when she married—the maturity to know that, in marriage at any age, there must be ready to put everything they have into creating and developing a happy relationship. That accounts for marriages don't "just happen" automatically when they become man and wife.

So, you teen-agers who read this happy letter, don't jump to the conclusion that because these boy have made such a lovely thing of their marriage it necessarily follows that you can, too. Maybe you can; but don't push into anything because of what you have just read. Be sure, first, that you are as mature as this young woman and her husband were when they were your age, and that you have the same conception of marriage as a working partnership and the same insight into its responsibilities.

And the second point I would like to emphasize—this one to married people—is this matter of taking in homeless children and caring for them until other arrangements can be made.

So many childless couples today are looking for babies to adopt and discovering that it is very hard to find them. It's not hard, however, to find children who urgently need temporary homes and loving care.

Why not, while looking for a child to adopt, take in some of these children and give them the same happy home and loving care you would give to the child you want so much for your own?

Always use a protective cloth when beating a hot lukewarm beverage in an open earthen ware pot amongst by the point of the bun.

Archdiocesan PTA Meeting Hears Address on Freedom, Education by Dr. Boyd Upper

Delegates from 18 P.T.A. Units, representing a total membership of over 1,800 were present at the annual convention of the Archdiocesan Council of Parent Teacher Associations held in Cathedral School, Kingston, on Sunday, last. Mrs. E. K. Burley, president of Belleville, chaired the meeting and Very Rev. L. B. Garvin, opened with prayer. Guest of honor was Most Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, D.D., Archbishop of Kingston and honorary president of the Council. Guest from the Ontario Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations was Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, of Peterborough, who is immediate past president of the Federation. Speaking on "Good Literature", Mrs. O'Brien urged all units to make a study of influence of crime comics and salacious publications, on our children. She recommended Dr. Wertham's latest book, "Seduction of the Innocent" which points up the situation which exists today. Comic book publishers gross $72,000,000 per month.

FOUR NEW UNITS

Mr. Hugh McGlade, Gananoque, chairman of organization, reported four new units would be formed in fall. One at Portsmouth, Spencerville and two at Belleville.

The president outlined the work done by the council during the term and urged the outgoing unit executive officers to assist in every way those succeeding them with the duties familiar with their duties.

Mr. O'Neill, of Trenton, chairman of nominating committee, presented slate of officers for the 1954-55 term, which was unanimously accepted. The committee also included Rev. Sister M. Teresa, of Belleville and Mrs. Dr. Walters of Picton.

Hon president, Most Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, D.D., Kingston; Spiritual Dir., Very Rev. L. B. Garvin, Belleville; Past Pres., Harry J. McNally, Westport; President, Mrs. B. E. Burley, Belleville; 1st Vice-president, Mrs. M. MacMaster, Perth; 2nd Vice-president, Mrs. Herbert Thomas, Kingston; Secretary, Mrs. S. McDonald, Brockville; Treasurer, Mrs. Swilvan, Trenton; Parent councillors: Mrs. M. C. O'Neill, Prescott; Mrs. F. Goodchild, Kingston; Mr. J. E. Armand, Picton.

Teacher councillors: Rev. Mother St. Gabriel C.N.D., Kingston; Rev. Sister M. Bernard, Smiths Falls; M. I. Kissinger, Kingston.

A musical program was provided by Kingston Unit and the luncheon was served by ladies of St. John's and St. Patrick's P.T.A. Kingston.

Guest speaker was Dr. S. Boyd Upper of Belleville, who was introduced by the Rev. B. J. Walsh and thanked by F. E. Armand. In his address Dr. Upper said in part:

"Freedom is the gift from God that makes all men equal in the sight of God. Men are not born equal in any respect other than in their common heritage of God-given freedom to live, love and serve God here on earth and thereby enjoy Him forever in heaven. Men are not equal physically, mentally or emotionally. They do not all possess the same degree of ambition, the same likes and dislikes. Indeed there is no living species whose members are so dissimilar and whose differences are readily apparent and so jealously guarded.

The common denominator of the common man is his right to call himself a child of God—equal in the eyes of God to the rights and privileges of an heir to heaven.

Man was made by God for God. The reception of the primacy of God and of man's inherent rights choose God along or everything else is the basis of freedom.

Man cannot be free to enjoy freedom of any kind unless he recognizes that freedom stems from God. Governments do not create or confer freedom. They either maintain a system of government in which freedom is recognized or they do not. Freedom cannot exist in a Godless society because the authority greater than human authority necessary to make freedom practical, does not exist. . .

CENTRED IN GOD

We have endeavored to show that freedom stems from God and that a Catholic education must be God-centred. The centre and pivot of freedom and education, then, is God, and the success of an educational system and the attainment of freedom in society, both depend on man's understanding of his relationship with God.

Education — religious education — by teaching mankind his relationship with God, is, therefore, the pivot and advocate of freedom. . .

There is no substitute for the religious instruction students receive in their own homes. The home is the cornerstone of society and parents have the inalienable right to educate their children as they see fit. Parents have first rights over their children. Also, by the natural law and by provincial legislation in Ontario, parents have control of the schools which is control over who is hired, who is fired, and what is taught.

Teachers are not partners with parents in the upbringing of their children. Teachers are servants who are hired to co-operate with parents in carrying out the parents' wishes concerning education."

Four Women Writers Given Prizes of $100

TORONTO (CP)—Four Canadian women writers were awarded prizes of $100 each Tuesday night at the golden jubilee meeting of the Canadian Women's Press Club. They were winners of the Press Club memorial awards contest in the fields of radio script, newspaper feature and magazine story.

The winners: Judy Cross of the Winnipeg Tribune for newspaper story, "New Method of Ascertaining the Age of Man;" Anne Francis (Mrs. John Bird), Ottawa, for a magazine article appearing in Geographic Magazine, "Canada's Basic Seasoning;" Kay Cronin, Vancouver Province, radio script, "Women in Hard Hats;" and Bella Coucineau Kerr, Montreal newspaper feature "Conversation Literaire," in L'Autorite, Montreal.

Contest judges were Tanla Long Daniell, of the New York Times bureau, Ottawa; Dr. Lorne Pierce, editor of Ryerson Press; Arthur Gerard, International program service of the CBC, Montreal, and Clyde Blackburn, chief of the Canadian Press bureau at Ottawa.

'Atomic Poisoning' Talk Given At Carmel Women's Institute

The Carmel Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. C. Brintnell for the June meeting. There were 14 members and two visitors present.

The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. Lattone, presiding. The standing committees each reported.

Communications were read and discussed. A thank-you letter was read from Mrs. Clarke thanking the W.I. for flowers when she was ill. A motion was made and carried to send a donation of $10 to the Salvation Army.

A short course will be held at the home of Mrs. John Patterson, on Thursday, June 24, at 1.30 p.m. sharp.

The president turned the meeting over to Mrs. John Homan, leader for Historical Research. She chose research and took as her topic, "Tomorrow is Already Here."

"Don't pick up anything you see lying in the street, or the odds are the parents who are employed at the Hanford Plutonium works tell their children." And to underline their prohibition they tell the story of the "White Man."

It tells of a watchman, who by picking up a tool one evening found to his horror the following morning that his hands had become contaminated by alpha rays and he ran in fright to the H.L. hospital.

HOME POISONED

It tells how his house and furnishings had become poisoned and everything was dismantled and he and his family were taken to the hospital. This is no cautionary tale, it really happened in 1951. There are sheaves of documents relating to it in archives of the Atomic Energy Commission and General Electric, which, under a mandate from the State which administers atomic factories. Too many people in the neighborhood knew of the poisoned house, and only the watchman's name was kept secret so his children would not be treated as Pariahs and the shops would not refuse to take money from his wife's hands that he himself should be avoided as one who had the plague.

Only when he left the neighborhood and went to another district where no one knew of his mishap, was he able to live in peace. The thirty thousand inhabitants of Richland built 25 miles away from the atomic plant for fear of contagion from the invisible radioactive particles and rays. This amounts to an obsession.

ATOMIC ALPHABET

In public and continually repeated courses every one who comes to Richland learns the atomic ages alphabet of fear; alpha rays—cannot penetrate the skin but can do great damage if they enter the body through small open places; beta rays—electrons, penetrate the skin. There is great danger of burns. Gamma rays—can penetrate from the outside deep into the body; weaker in mass than other forms of rays but most difficult to ward off because of their strong penetrating power; neutrons — danger; harmful in the highest degree. According to speed they penetrate different depths into tissues.

The atomic energy involves the most dangerous production process ever undertaken by man. In the year 1942 it was thought it would be impossible to protect workers in the atomic industry. There is a guardian angel called the M.I. man in while, employed for the Health Instrument division, who never leaves the worker's side for more than three or four hours while he works in the "hot regions" of the plutonium works.

PROTECTIVE CLOTHING

The workers are equipped with clothes, shoes and protective goggles to work in. They use a grasping implement similar to long pliers, to handle radiation hot parts.

Most strikingly supervised is the place known as the "burial ground" where radioactive refuse is interred.

The materials buried will be losing losing their life-destroying powers. A research worker has said this problem seems weightier than the question of atomic weapon control. For if the powers were to agree an atomic war should never be fought, the fact remains that by splitting the atom they have released life-destroying forces with which the future will have to deal. A dangerous inheritance which may far outlive all the other creations—a bit of near-eternity, a bit of hell.

The president closed the meeting.

Mrs. Herb Howes moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Brintnell and Ruth for opening their home for the meeting.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

Chief Justice Will Be Named In Near Future

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated Wednesday that a successor to Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret will be announced shortly after the end of the session, expected to finish this week.

"It is not intended that we shall all get away for our holidays before it is done," he said in the Commons.

It is anticipated that changes in the cabinet will be announced at the same time as the announcement of a new chief justice of the Supreme Court of Canada. Chief Justice Rinfret retired on Tuesday.

It has been speculated that three members will be leaving the cabinet—Finance Minister Abbott to be appointed to the Supreme Court Bench, Transport Minister Chevrier to become head of the St. Lawrence seaway authority and Defence Minister Claxton to join an insurance company.

Mr. Abbott completed Wednesday what was probably his last parliamentary task as finance minister, that of answering questions on the expenditure estimates of his department. Liberal members applauded.

OH, TO BE IN THE COUNTRY.

Oh, to be in the country
On a lovely day in June,
Where grasses tall are waving
And the birds are all in tune.

As I wander through the meadows
Beneath the sky so blue,
I catch the scent of roses
Where the grass is filled with dew.

Oh, to be in the country,
On a lovely day in June,
The heart within me gently stirs
To a melancholy tune.

The peace and quiet so serene
Beneath the azure blue,
The haunts of leafy woodlands
Where you find your troubles few.

Oh, to be in the country
On a lovely day in June,
The happiness it brings me
Will pass, but, all too soon.

RAWDON

Mt. Pleasant, Rawdon W.M.S. Holds Meeting

RAWDON. — The postponed meeting of Mount Pleasant Rawdon Woman's Missionary Society was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John Hay, with 43 members and one visitor in attendance.

Previous to the meeting the guests enjoyed the lovely garden flowers and roses surrounding the lawn.

Mrs. Herbert Smith presided over the devotional and opened with a fine familiar hymns. She also spoke briefly and read "Rules for Daily Living."

Mrs. Ross Jeffs read "We and Our Neighbors".

Mrs. Will Jeffs accompanied the hymns on her guitar and she also favored with a vocal number, "Dear Lord Forgive." Mrs. Harvey Couch read the Bible lesson found in Matthew 18:25-35.

FORMER PASTOR'S LETTER

Mrs. Percy MacMullan read a poem by Ella M. Parks entitled, "For Jesus Sake". She then read a letter from a former pastor, Rev. F. G. Joblin, Port Perry, and a paper on "Forgiveness," which he had prepared at her special request for this meeting.

Mr. Joblin expressed his deep appreciation of the privilege of sharing in the June program and was delighted to have an opportunity to once again be linked with this group of women. He said "Forgiveness is one of the great themes of the Bible, alike in both the Old Testament and the New."

He referred to Isaiah and his message to the Indian tribes, who buried the hatchet, and to Peter and the Jewish rule, Mr. Joblin also outlined the parable of the debtors and closed with a challenge, that the miracle of His gracious pardon must become the law of our lives.

"In conclusion Jesus plainly teaches that our forgiveness depends upon our willingness to forgive those who have wronged us."

Mr. Joblin chose the Scripture lesson and the closing hymn "Come Let us Sing of a Wonderful Love."

Mrs. Ross Hoard offered prayer and gave a few thoughts on stewardship.

The president extended thanks for hospitality and said they were all delighted to have Mr. Joblin's message.

Miss Ruth Linn gathered the offering and the Community Friendship secretary dedicated it and she also recorded the visits made by members.

The next meeting will be held on July 7, in the church hall, and the Mission Band will provide the program.

The treasurer reported over $11 for May.

The Mount Pleasant ladies were invited to Bethel W.A. on Friday.

24 MILLION PROTESTANTS

Mrs. Frank Jeffs outlined the study on Europe. Diabon Bergqrau stands as a symbol of the unconquerable Christians in Lutheran Europe, where 54 million people are the largest single bloc of Protestants to be found anywhere in the world. Half of all the world Christians live in Europe. The church is the conscience of the nation, and the voice of resistance, and the Dutch Christians played a great part in practising what it preached. The final issue that Christians behind the iron curtain have to face is state control of the church in place of Jesus Christ and His teaching.

Today reconstruction and relief go hand in hand, and churches are caring for friendless, sick and homeless. In 1951, there were $9,000,000 of inter-church aid of food, clothes and medicine sent by Protestants of the world. The Inner Mission in Germany has an overwhelming task of Christian reconstruction.

REDISCOVERS BIBLE

Christian Europe has rediscovered the Bible and in August 1948, at Amsterdam "The World Council of Churches" was formed and 150 different church groups were united.

At this juncture the president eulogized Mrs. Bonstead and spoke of her enthusiasm for missionary work, and said "Roses are an expression of love," Mrs. Will Potts pinned a lovely rose corsage on the departing member for which the recipient graciously thanked the ladies for their kindness.

FLAGS RECOVERED

HECHINGEN, Germany (AP)—Eighteenth-century funeral flags and standards, missing from the coffins of Prussian king Frederick the Great and his father since 1945, have been recovered, it was learned today. But where they were found is still a secret. The flags disappeared when the coffins were removed from the Potsdam royal vault and taken to West Germany.

MINTO

Young Couple Feted by Gifts

MINTO — The home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Hagerman was filled to capacity on Friday night when the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Pratt, (nee Eva Hagerman), gathered at her home and presented them with a miscellaneous shower. Rev. J. Glover acted as chairman for the evening, extending congratulations and best wishes to the newly-weds.

He also presided over the program. Readings were given by Mrs. Harold Holden, Miss Edna Tanner and Mrs. Everett Sine. Musical selections were accordion solos by Misses Linda Sine and Carol Shaw; duets by Shirley and Marian Broadworth with Harold Sarles playing the accompaniment, and Shirley Broadworth and Harold Sarles singing with Marian Broadworth at the piano. Joe Glenn and Grant Hagerman also sang.

Mrs. Lorne Hagerman read the address and Eva and Doug were presented with numerous and varied gifts for which they suitably replied, inviting all to visit them in their new home. "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" was sung and refreshments were served.

ILL ONCE

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Amale Cowan, who claimed she was 111 only a short time in her life, died in hospital here Monday. She was 101.

Is that all? Two-fisted little fire engines like this are one of the little reasons why more families ran out of Kellogg's Corn Flakes this morning than any other cereal. The big reason it happens every day is this: Kellogg's Corn Flakes just naturally taste best to more people. Always have. Still do. So naturally, many women pick up a spare package of Kellogg's Corn Flakes every time they buy any cereal of any kind. You too?

STIRLING

Young Couple, Pastor, Family Honored by Gifts

STIRLING — A large number of neighbors and friends of Mill Street gathered at the home of Rev. R. B. and Mrs. Bonsteel on Wednesday evening in honor of the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dafoe, the bride was formerly Marilyn May Barrie.

Rev. W. H. V. Walker was the master of ceremonies and spoke briefly.

Mr. Frank Harding led in a sing-song with Mrs. R. Williams as accompanist.

Readings were given by Mrs. S. McIntosh, Mrs. Lloyd Dafoe, Mrs. E. Wright and Mrs. Harper Rolling; Mrs. Roy Eggleton gave a vocal selection.

Donald and Marilyn were then seated in special chairs and Miss Marilyn Wright read a special address, voicing best wishes for a happy voyage along the road of matrimony.

Mrs. Doug Ackers and Mrs. Walter Rodgers made the presentation of a lovely buffet mirror and table ornament. The group sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

The recipients both expressed thanks and Marilyn expressed gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Bonsteel for their kind hospitality.

At this juncture, Rev. W. H. V. Walker requested Mr. and Mrs. Bonsteel to take seats of honor and Mrs. Charles Vance read an appreciative address. Two years ago Mr. Bonsteel came as a bride to Rawdon parsonage and last year Beth arrived and the neighbors of Mill Street have watched her grow into a sweet little girl. Since coming to Rawdon parsonage three years ago, Mr. Bonsteel lost his mother, and so he has witnessed sorrow and joy in the three years on Rawdon circuit.

Mrs. Edna Wright and Mrs. E. Foster made the presentation of an electric kitchen clock and a hammered aluminum relish dish.

The group sang "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Mr. and Mrs. Bonsteel were most pleasantly surprised at this turn of events, however, they both voiced their thanks to their neighbors and friends whose kindness they will never forget.

Refreshments were served and a delightful hour enjoyed.

MADOC

Trinity W.M.S. Hears Talk On Christian Love

MADOC — The June meeting of Trinity Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. F. H. Naylor with an attendance of 40 including visitors from Eldorado and Union WMS. Mrs. Carmen, the president, opened the meeting with a poem, "The Bible", and gave warm words of welcome to visiting members of the WMS.

The business period included reports of the conveners and Miss Holmes, convener of supplies, invited all to view the two layettes on display which are to be sent to Korea. The president reminded the members of the summer bazaar to be held in July.

Mrs. Frank Dafoe had charge of the worship service and chose as her theme, "Friendship and the Blessings of Friendship". Her talk was on "Friends" and cited that to have friends one must be a friend. Influence and importance of Christian friends was necessary.

Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Bennett gave readings bearing on the theme.

GUEST SPEAKER.

Mrs. F. H. Naylor spoke words of welcome to the guests and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. P. C. Barnett, of Tweed, president of the Madoc section of the WMS, who spoke on "Love", basing her thoughts on 13th Chapter of Corinthians. She said, "this was a difficult age for young people. We must be living examples of the Christian way of living for them. She used this quotation, "All oceans have been crossed for Mission Work now, we must all learn to live together, we must all be God's disciples, not only telling the word, but living the love in our daily lives."

A musical number was given by Mrs. M. Johnson and Mrs. C. Chambers, of Eldorado.

Appreciation of the fine address by Mrs. Barnett and all who took part was voiced by presidents, Mrs. Gerald Blackburn, Mrs. Reg. Peate, and Mrs. D. Carmen.

Mrs. Lane closed with prayer and a pleasant social time was spent with Mrs. Bennett and her committee serving refreshments.

Marmora

MARMORA—Father's Day was observed at St. Andrew's United Church with a men's choir leading in the hymns. John Druff sang "Open the Gates". The church decorations were predominantly peonies.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of Peterborough, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan Glover.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Whittemore have returned home from their trip to British Columbia.

Blind River Stirred Up Again As Hunt for Uranium Arrives

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BLIND RIVER, Ont. (CP)—Oldtimers call Blind River the "hardluck town."

This community of 2,448 on the north shore of Lake Huron has prospered and suffered with a temperamental lumbering industry. It has had its hopes raised, then crushed by pie-in-the-sky mining ventures. It has watched a colony of American operators skim off the cream of its pulp and paper industry.

It subsisted on a public works program back in the 1930s, was unable to pay its debt and for the last 20 years has had its financial affairs run by the Ontario municipal board.

URANIUM HUNT ON

And now the town is being stirred up again. The hunt for uranium has arrived on its doorstep.

The townspeople hear the blast of dynamite and the chatter of diamond drills from the nearby hills. They read in outside publications of the prosperous future of their town.

Two companies, Algom Uranium and Pronto Uranium, have already spent $500,000 on work in the area. A $15,000,000 development program for the field—referred to as a "mining man's dream"—has been outlined by J. B. Hirshorn, Toronto and New York financier whose resources are behind both companies.

But Blind River is standing pat. As Dr. Jean Pigeon, president of the Blind River Chamber of Commerce, put it: "We are conscious of the development. But we will wait and see."

Dr. Pigeon said the town had become "over-cautious" as a result of the depression when it was unable to meet its obligations. Any thoughts of expansion or development would be thoroughly mulled over before another splurge took place.

COSTLY PROJECT

Louis Barthelot, the town's 57-year-old mayor, who, for 54 years has watched Blind River's fortunes come and go, said the town was "skinned" by its $300,000 water and sewer project in 1928 and has been smarting over it ever since.

Mr. Barthelot, who operates a combined grocery store, confectionary and dance hall, as well as town council affairs, from a wheel chair (gangrene forced the amputation of his left leg and is now affecting his right), said the town appreciated the uranium development but until it was known definitely that the new industry was here to stay Blind River would make no commitments.

"The town has had lots of ups and downs—mostly downs," said Maurice Dyke, the town clerk.

Blind River had its beginning in 1850 when the Hudson's Bay Company established a trading post in the area. Shortly after, one Mr. Salvaille began cutting saw logs on the present townsite. He died east of Sault Ste. Marie.

The Canadian Pacific Railway arrived from Sudbury in 1885 and with it came the people. In 1900, Eddy Brothers erected the first sawmill.

Three years later, James J. McFadden came from Renfrew, Ont., and in partnership with John Maltby brought out the Eddy mill in Blind River. Mr. Maltby dissolved the partnership in 1922. He died the same year. But Mr. McFadden went on to make his fortune in the town.

DISASTROUS FIRE

Fire swept through Blind River on Aug. 1, 1916. Twenty-three business places and the Methodist church were burned to the ground. But the town came back. Mr. Barthelot said that in the early 30s 13 lumber companies were operating in the area. The town had six hotels and liquor flowed as freely as the swarthy Mississagi river, still the main waterway for the spring log drives.

In 1927, Mr. McFadden sold his Blind River mill to the Carpenter-Hilton Lumber Co. Carpenter-Hilton spent $3,000,000 on a mill that still is among the largest on the Great Lakes.

The following year, the town splurged on the sewer and water works program. Then came depression hit. The mill shut down in 1931 and remained closed for four years. There was no work in Blind River.

When the town became bankrupt, the Ontario municipal board moved in during 1933 and issued new 40-year debentures on a $300,000 debt at an added two-per-cent interest.

"Now we can't even spend a cent without first getting it approved by the municipal board," said Mr. Dyke.

Both Mr. Young and R. C. (Bob) Hart, manager of Algom Uranium, located in the Quirke lake area 30 miles to the north, said the mines plan to use as much local labor as possible once full-scale mining operations get under way next year.

PAY TRIBUTE

TORONTO (CP) — All Toronto buses, street cars and subway trains came to a halt for half a minute Monday in tribute to the late W. C. McBrien, chairman of the Toronto Transit Commission who died Friday. TTC operators climbed out of their vehicles and stood quietly with their hats off as the funeral service for Mr. McBrien began.

On Monday in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Sister Edith Ulman, of Laurel Lodge, No. 211, Stirling, with 60 other sisters, received their "Decoration of Chivalry" in an impressive ceremony bestowed by the Patriarchs Militant Order of Oddfellows.

Mrs. John Good was the official delegate to Grand Lodge from Laurel Lodge, No. 211, Stirling.

Mr. Earl Fox was elected Grand High Priest at the 100th annual session of Grand Lodge.

Mrs. Dave Wellman and Charlie visited Mrs. Katie Burns at Lansdowne and motored to Ivy Lea, on Sunday.

Friends in this vicinity were sorry to learn of the serious accident in which Elmer Hinds was involved when he received a broken back and other injuries. The accident happened south of Madoc. He is a patient in Kingston hospital.

Friends were sorry to hear of the serious illness of Mrs. George Lough, who is a patient in Bella Ville Hospital.

Mrs. Lindsay Mumby has returned home from Belleville hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wellman returned from Toronto on Saturday, where Mr. Wellman attended the I.O.H.O.F. convention.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Catherine Terry, 36-year-old victim of a hammer-beating Monday, died in hospital here Tuesday. She was the mother of five. Police have issued a pick-up and arrest order for Cecil Terry, the woman's steelworker husband, missing since the attack.

Bonarlaw

Brenda McKeown, Kenneth Ulias, Gloria Matthews, James Radcliffe, Billie Andrews, were successful in passing their entrance examinations.

The stock holders of Maple Leaf Cheese Company, held a meeting in the factory on Wednesday evening.

Rev. Hope Swayne and Mrs. Swayne of Picton, visited Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McKeown, on Wednesday.

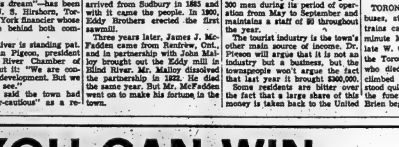
Misses Faye Wellman and Beverley McKeown have accepted positions at Wasaga Beach, for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril McKeown and family attended the shower at Stanwood on Friday evening for the newly weds, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Lisle, of Consecon, who spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Rob. Lisle and friends.

Several attended the shower held in Springbrook Hall on Friday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Willman, (nee Vera Morrison), of Bonarlaw.

Stirling

STIRLING — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren, Allyn and Douglas, Stirling, R.R. 1; Mrs. Percy MacMullin and Mrs. Sid Williams, Stirling, R.R. 2, were guests at the regular meeting of "The Quinte Disabled Persons Club" at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Scholl, Trenton, on Wednesday evening.



Miss Eva Morrison is the founder of the club and members in attendance from Warkworth, Castleton, Redneersville and nearby points.

Mrs. Walter Warren sang several numbers unaccompanied and Allyn Warren delighted with a piano selection.

Mrs. MacMullin contributed several elocution numbers, and she also gave the address of the evening.

The club was appreciative of the guest artists and following the program a number of ladies served light refreshments and all enjoyed a social half hour. It is understood these ladies offered to assist with this work. The large group of disabled people were cheerful despite their infirmities, and it was a joy to witness their happy faces. The artists felt that they had received more than they had given.

MINTO

Salem W.A. Entertained By St. Thomas' W.A.

MINTO.—The gracious home of Mrs. Lindsay Tanner was tastefully decorated with spring plants, yellow and pink roses and white peonies on Wednesday afternoon, when the ladies of St. Thomas' W.A., entertained the ladies of Salem W.A. with a splendid number of members present.

The president opened the meeting with a reading "The Gratitude of God" followed by a hymn and prayer led by Canon J. M. Brownlie.

Mrs. Brownlie read the Scripture lesson.

Mrs. Tanner extended a welcome to everyone and on behalf of St. Thomas' W.A. welcomed the visitors especially mentioning Rev. and Mrs. Glover, Canon and Mrs. Brownlie and Mrs. Burton Morton, the guest speaker and Mrs. F. Johnson.

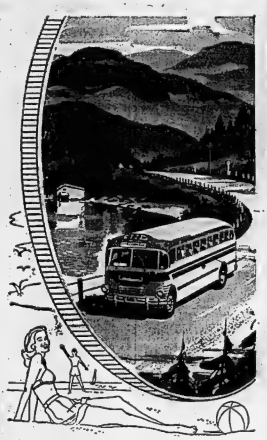
Mrs. Morton based her thoughts on "What Am I Here For?" Her address was exceptionally well prepared and well given, giving each member something to remember and strive for.

Canon Brownlie expressed appreciation and thanks to Mrs. Morton for her timely message.

Mrs. Glover favored with a solo; Mrs. Mayo and Mrs. Percy Ray gave readings; Canon Brownlie playing his own accompaniment sang "Bless This House".

Mrs. Rodgers of Stirling, and Mrs. Brownlie spoke briefly. Then Mr. Glover addressed the ladies, after which Mrs. Tanner thanked the speaker and all who contributed to make the meeting so successful. "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," was sung and Mr. Glover dismissed the meeting.

Mrs. Mayo, president of the Salem W.A. thanked the ladies of St. Thomas' for their hospitality and lovely afternoon.



Refreshments were served by the hostess branch.

RAWDON

Hydro Electric Presents Diploma To Correspondent

RAWDON.—Mrs. Percy Machan received a framed diploma last week, the gift of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Company. This was the second award in the Ontario Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

The presentation of the awards was televised at Hotel London, on June 11. Mrs. MacMillan did not attend the convention; however, the first award winner was a bachelor, 70 years of age. He is a graduate of a Scottish University and came to Tobermory in 1913. He has written news for the "Wiarton Echo" for 36 years, as a special hobby.

Mrs. MacMillan would like to express thanks to all the people who have so willingly shared their news items for the past 42 years. No correspondent can be a success unless folks in the area cooperate.

Demorestville

DEMORESTVILLE.—Mrs. C. Peck, Mrs. K. Johnson, Mrs. T. Trumble, Mrs. Roy Covert, and Mrs. Harry Goraline attended the W.I. convention at Bloomfield.

Billy, Sam and Danny Sallams of Plevna, spent the Saturday supper hour with their grandmother, Mrs. G. Allen.

Mrs. G. Allen is spending this week in Plevna, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Haffel Sallams.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Way were Saturday evening guests of Mr. Alex Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Holmes were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Brewers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wood and family, called Sunday afternoon on Mr. and Mrs. T. Trumble.

DEMORESTVILLE W.I.

A large number of members and friends gathered at the Big Island school on the south side with Mrs. Arthur Allison and Mrs. Harry Rosborough as cohostesses.

Mrs. Roy Covert introduced Phil Dodds and Sam Gentile, who split told of their trip to Moscow, also showed colored movies of the trip.

Refreshments, of sandwiches, cake and tea were served and a social half hour was spent.

Wallbridge

SHOWER OF GIFTS

WALLBRIDGE. — Miss Jean Smith, bride of Saturday, was the recipient of beautiful gifts at a shower held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith on Friday night.

After a happy time was spent, Jean was asked to the chair of honor and proceeded to open the numerous gifts, for which she thanked her friends.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

Quite a number from the village attended her wedding on Saturday. All wish Jack and Jean "Mr. and Mrs. Woodward", a very happy married life. They will reside in Trenton and all were invited to visit them in their home.

Mrs. Wilfrid Hachley of West Bathurst, N.B., an aunt of the bride attended the wedding and is staying with her sister, Mrs. Jack Smith and Mr. Smith for a couple of weeks.

Quite a number of L.O.B.A. No. 1168, Wallbridge, motored to Trenton, on Tuesday evening, where they were invited to the Trenton L.O.B.A. lodge to put on the Scarlet Degree. After the meeting the Trenton ladies of their lodges served refreshments and a social hour was spent.

Wallbridge L.O.B.A. No. 1168, is holding its church service in Wallbridge Church, on July 4, at 8 a.m. Rev. W. Dovey will be the minister and all members of the L.O.B.A. are asked to attend the service.

Misses Marjorie and Shirley Wannamaker and Allen, spent the week-end with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith.

Mr. Cyril Magow and Miss Dorothy Mitchell of Belleville, were Saturday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris.

Strawberry picking is the order of the day and report a fair crop, while the cutting of hay is in full swing with the farmers.

Miss Maud Phillips, Belleville and her cousin Mr. Arthur Brunell of Kingston, were tea hour guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris on Sunday.

Mays, Antonelli, Williams Sparking Giants in Bid for National Lead

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Three months ago, when the official odds were 6 to 1 that New York Giants would not win the National League pennant, several big questions remained to be answered about Leo Durocher's club, which finished in fifth place last year.

Would Johnny Antonelli, obtained from Milwaukee, give the Giants the left-handed ace they so badly needed and generally bolster a veteran pitching staff which was showing serious signs of wear?

Would Willie Mays, after nearly two years in the army, come back to play as brilliantly as he did in sparking the Giants to "miracle team" to a flag?

JOHNNY IN FORM

Those were the two main questions, though there also was some doubt that Davey Williams' chronic back trouble would permit him to play a steady season and that Durocher would have liked to get into the race with some regular right fielder other than Don Mueller.

Now that the answers are in and their team is tearing along at the head of the parade after a sensational three-week spurt, it would be difficult to get better than even odds against the Giants.

Antonelli, with his 9-3 record, finally living up to the $75,000 bonus that Boston Braves paid for him when he was freak out of a Rochester, N.Y., high school. He's just turned 24, and catcher Wes Westrum describes a "new guy" each time out. He's "made" the Giant attack.

LEO APPEARS SET

Mays, the 23-year-old Negro wonder from Alabama, looks as though he had never been away. He is bigger and better in every way. He is hitting a shade ball than he did in 1951 and his batting average is much higher. He is terrific afield and on the bases, and the uplift he has given his teammates is a real and tangible thing.

Williams' back is vastly improved and he is teaming solidly with Al Dark around second. Mueller is the same old season of his career and has been among the league's batting leaders ever since the race began. Leo no longer is looking for a right-fielder. The only thing Leo can obviously lack is a hitting catcher, and Westrum didn't exactly hold them back in 1951.

Ontario Open Gets Under Way On Friday

TORONTO (CP)—The 31st Ontario Open gets under way Friday morning 90 amateurs and 70 pros scheduled to tee off for the first day's 18-hole medal play at the Cedar Brae Golf Club here.

The 50 lowest scores carded on the first 18 will qualify for the final 36 holes Saturday.

Of the 160 entries 18 are from the United States and the remainder from Canada.

Rudy Horvath, the Windsor Essex pro who finished in a tie for 12th money in the U.S. Open last week, only seven strokes off Ed Furgol's winning score, rules as pre-tournament favorite.

Redskins Want Less Mileage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three of the Washington Redskins' defensive standouts are threatening to become serious holdouts over a matter of miles. Three thousand of them.

The unhappy football trio is made up of end Gene Brito, tackle Paul Lipscomb and Halfback John Williams. They live on the west coast and don't want to pull up stakes for half the year to play for the eastern club.

George Marshall, Redskins owner, said he would be willing to work out trades involving Williams or Lipscomb or both. But it's no dice as far as Brito is concerned.

"Brito is the best defensive end in professional football," Marshall said. "If he won't play for us, we don't want him playing against us."

Harvey Haddix Just Misses Two Records

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Harvey Haddix, 28, the tall, hard-luck southpaw who's leading the majors with 12 victories, says he isn't disappointed because he lost his bid for a fourth consecutive shutout by an eyelash.

"I just want to win 'em all," Haddix explained after his sparkling 7-1 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night. "No, I'm not disappointed. I didn't get another shutout. We won, didn't we?"

Haddix pitched perfect ball for the last-place Pirates as he hurled his 10th consecutive victory. It was a particularly pleasing win for Haddix because the last time he was defeated, last third of the season, was by the Pirates April 29.

Haddix was rolling along in fine style Wednesday night, having given up only one hit when Dick Cole came up in the sixth. The Buc infielder sent a long drive into left that went for a triple. A moment later he scored on an infield out. That broke first run tallied against Haddix in 37 consecutive innings.

With Cole's hit went Haddix' chance at setting the record of consecutive scoreless innings set by Carl Hubbell, ex-New York Giant pitcher. And the single fed Haddix from trying to tie the National League record of four consecutive shutouts held by several pitchers.

Swiss, Germans Advance In Soccer Tourney

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Switzerland and Germany moved into the quarter-finals of the world soccer championships Wednesday with two impressive victories.

Switzerland eliminated Italy with a thrilling 4-1 win at Basel that sent the spectators wild with joy. Germany swamped a reshuffled Turkish team 7-2 at Zurich.

Team officials rested several star players to await the quarter-final hurdle now won't play. The dismissed forwards seemed hesitant to shoot.

Six Teams Expected In C.N.E. Swim

TORONTO (CP)—Six teams, including one from Egypt, are expected to contest a relay race across Lake Ontario in September, George Duthie, sports director of the Canadian National Exhibition, said Wednesday.

Prizes total $20,000, with $10,000 going to the first-place team. Rules call for a minimum of four swimmers, with a maximum of five, for all-male or mixed teams, and a maximum of six for all-women groups.

Florence Chadwick's attempt at a solo swim across the lake will be made shortly before midnight Sept. 6 from Fort Niagara, N.Y., Duthie said. She is expected to finish the 30-mile grind about 8 p.m. the following day.

If the San Diego, Cal., girl completes the swim, she will win $10,000.

Tigers Not Sure Of Grid Stars

HAMILTON (CP) — Coach Carl Voyles of Hamilton Tiger-Cats disclosed Wednesday that Tom McCormick, all-conference and with East Texas Teachers College last season, expects to be inducted into the U.S. Army shortly and will not be able to play with Hamilton.

The coach of the Big Four football Union club also was not too optimistic that all-American end John (Rocky) Ryan would be able to join the Tiger-Cats. Ryan, with Illinois the last few seasons and the first draft choice of Green Bay Packers of the National Football League, probably will be drafted before the Big Four season opens.

COMMERCIAL CROP

Sugar beets are grown commercially in Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec.

Soccer Results

Belleville Northern Electric soccer team came up with a 3-2 victory over the Preston Merchants in a Bay of Quinte match played last night.

D. Ridelstrom booted a pair for the winners while Scott kicked the other. Clough and Van Wesson were the goal scorers for the Merchants.

It was announced this morning that the Kingston Koncordia team, an entry in the Eastern Ontario Football League, dropped out of competition in the league. Their scheduled game for this Saturday will not be played.

Janowicz May Play Football In Canada

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Catcher Vic Janowicz, tired of warming the bench for the tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates, said Wednesday he'll be giving serious thought to playing professional football.

Janowicz, a triple-threat halfback at Ohio State and a 1949 all-American, signed for a reported $25,000 bonus with the Pirates in 1953.

"But you can see for yourself I'm not getting anywhere playing baseball," the 6-foot, 200-pounder said. "I love baseball better than foot a but apparently I'm not making the grade.

"I haven't talked to Branch Rickey (general manager of the Pirates) about playing professional football because I haven't made up my mind what I'm going to do. I have received several feelers from a Canadian team."

Minor Softball

In a pee wee game played at the fireball last evening, Bisind's Sports hung a 17-9 setback on the Seymour Barber team.

Norm Tull pitched for Bisind's and gave up 11 hits with seven strikeouts and the same number of walks. Pointer was his catcher, Doug Rose did the hurling for Seymour's boys and allowed 16 base knocks with a single strikeout and one walk. His battery mate was David Rust.

Pointer was top hitter for the winners with a double and a trio of singles. Outsiders, G. Tull, Rathwell and Mulley each had three singles. Ervine pounded a two-bagger and a brace of singles in a losing cause while Sinclair met the ball for three singles.

Canadian Nag Wins Trot

HAMBURG, N.Y. (CP) — The Bachelor and Market Value combined to pay a daily double of $172.60 at Buffalo Raceway Wednesday night. The Bachelor, a Mitchell, Ont., trotter owned by Gordon and Lloyd S. Farm, went the mile in 2:13, the four-year-old gelding's best time yet.

Carl Smith's 10-year-old pacer, Minda Dillon, was the fifth race, a $1,000 B event in 2:08 2-5.

Dufferin Track

Now paced the first heat in 2:12 for the fastest time of the day's events in the 2:13 2-5 in the second heat.

In the 2:25 trot or pace, Cherry Hill Miss, owned by Roy Inch of St. Thomas took the first dash, but Jerry L. Gratton, who finished seventh in the first heat, captured the second.

Howard Stars In Leafs Win; Wings Triumph

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Elston Howard, sent to the Toronto Maple Leafs by the New York Yankees in a trade, more catching experience, is making a strong bid to return to the majors as a possible replacement for Yogi Berra.

The big Negro, who spent last season in the outfield on the Yanks' Kansas City farm in the American Association, is one of the chief reasons the Maple Leafs have won 10 of their last 11 games and hold a two-game margin over the Rochester Red Wings in the tight International League pennant race.

Howard has hit three homers since the Leafs went on their current winning spree and they were shifted from the outfield to first baseman time. Wednesday night he banged out a three-run homer to lead the Leafs to a 6-5 victory over the Buffalo Bisons.

NEEDED WIN

The Leafs needed the victory for the Wings came through with a 5-7 decision over the Richmond Virginians for their seventh straight win.

With the third-place Montreal Royals rained out of their game with Syracuse and the fourth-place Havana Sugar Kings splitting a doubleheader with the Ottawa Athletics, Toronto and Rochester pulled further away. The Cubans won the opener from the A's 11-8 and the A's took the second 9-2. The first game is scheduled for seven innings, went 16.

A four-run rally broke a 5-7 tie and gave the Cubans their first-game victory. And in the second for Taylor homered and Tom Giordano hit a three-run homer to pace the A's.

Panthers Sign New Hurler

KITCHENER (CP) — Kitchener Panthers, who have been flying high with eight wins in 10 games after a dismal start in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League this season, have taken another step towards strengthening their roster.

The Panthers Wednesday announced the signing of Preston Hawkins, 21-year-old pitcher from Newport News, Va. The former prospect on the list of Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League, Elkins was also with Richmond Virginians of the International League early this year. Last year he posted an 8-4 won and lost record in the AA Southern Association.

SCORES ACE

HAMILTON (CP)—Mrs. Murray Knox Cameron scored a hole-in-one Wednesday at Dundas Valley Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Cameron canned her tee shot on the 150-yard 15th hole while playing in the club's regular Wednesday two-ball mixed foursome. It was her first ace and only the second time in the club's history that a woman has had a hole-in-one.

MONEY FOR B.E.G.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A cheque for $10,368 was received Wednesday by Mayor Fred Hume from the British Empire Games special events committee. It is to go toward financing the games, opening here July 30. The committee made an initial payment of $100,000 last December. The committee worked under the chairmanship of Jack Diamond, Vancouver sportsman, and staged a series of events to raise the fund.

Canada's Davis Cup Team Well-Trained

TORONTO (CP)—A top-ranking member of the Davis Cup committee predicts that Canada will send its "best-conditioned team in years" into Davis Cup competition this summer.

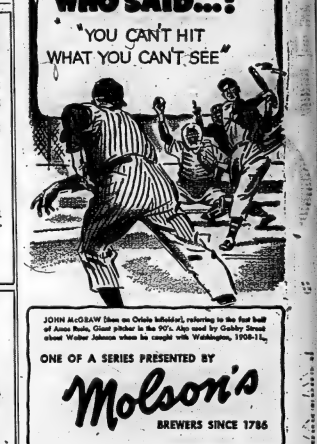
Paul Haynes, former National League hockey star, now one of Montreal's leading sports authorities, emphasized that Canada "never has had a team so well trained."

Haynes arrived Wednesday to run over details with officials of the Toronto Cricket Club where the first round of the North American zone cup tie against Chile will be played July 15th. He said that the official makeup of the Canadian team will be announced this week.

Although not official, it is almost certain that Lorne Main of Toronto and Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., will rank one-two in the group that will clash with the Chileans. Main and Bedard are currently engaged in the all-England lawn tennis championships at Wimbledon, the climax of an extended tour of Britain and Europe.

Paired strong contenders for remaining spots on the team are Paul Wilkey of Vancouver, who was on last year's Cup squad and is seeded fourth; Don Platt and Jim Bentley of Toronto seeded fifth and ninth, respectively.

Tigers Shade Petes 13-10



PETERBOROUGH (CP) — The third-place Hamilton Tigers took a 13-11 Ontario Lacrosse Association senior triumph over Peterborough here before 1,000 fans Wednesday night, leaving Petes and St. Catharines tied for first place.

Jim McNulty and Tony D'Amico scored three times each for Tigers, Bob Tobbis and Jay Jay Hill getting two each, and the others were counted by Willie Logan, Jim McMahon and Tony Capola.

Leading the losers were Bobby Allan and Harry Wipper with three apiece. Rusty Slater and Denny Peterson notched two each and Don Ashbee one.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

OSHAWA HERE TONIGHT.

Johnny Mowat, the "Duke of Wellington", figures that anything he is the jinx that brings on the moisture whenever he gets the pitching assignment for the Bstas from Coach Goyer.

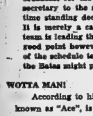
"This is the third time in a row" Johnny moaned Tuesday at the rains came to wash out the tussle with Oshawa. Whether Goyer believed him or not is a matter for conjecture. In any event the big fella clamoned up an usual when we asked him who would go to the mound tonight. Mebbee he is doing it the keep the weather bloke guessing.

However, Johnny has not flung a ball for some time and should be in good form, and it is more than likely Goyer will give the "Duke" the nod tonight when the Oshawa Transporters play the Tuesday postponed date.

Speaking of the Wadnot Ontario League Playing Coach Bo Lowery of the Peterborough Petes has got a justifiable "beef" as big as an ox. Seems the league master-minds decided the Petes would play a twin bill in Toronto against the Dependables on Sunday and told the Toronto newspapers about it.

But that ain't all. The team got to Toronto and found a soccer game in progress in Millen Stadium. They went to another park where the caretaker had not been notified. The game did not start until 1.50, the players changed their clothes behind sheds or cars—and there were no showers available.

"We pay $35 for them to come here and then we go there and get this kind of treatment" grilled Joseph. .....



The incident is just another example of the inefficient manner in which the league is being operated. Down, in this neck of the woods we have to depend on Toronto newspapers for the results of games played other than here—and half of these are not published. We must rely on a radio broadcast for the weekly standing which is relayed by the secretary to the station which pays the tab—and half the time station don't get the info with their published statements. It is merely a case of "by guess and by gad" as to what team is leading the league, the most of the time. It has one good point however. When they shake the bag at the end of the schedule to see which team is on top—who knows — the Bstas might pop up.

WOTTA MAN!

According to his record, Mansfield Holden, more familiarly known as "Ace", is to softball, or fastball, as he terms it, what Satchel Paige, Curt Simmons, Robin Roberts, Bob Lemon, Ed Lopat and a half dozen other major league hurlers, are to baseball.

squad on Saturday next at the CNEAA Exhibition Park has an arm like a yard of rubber hose, the speed of a flash of lightning, the eye of an eagle and the personality of a politician a week before election.

The Ace broke into American senior baseball with the famous Joe Louis Furchers winning 156 games against 23 losses and striking out an average of 14 per game. Later he came to Montreal to the Robitaille Motors and pitched them to the world's title at Colorado. The next year he joined the Savio team of Montreal and had the astounding record of 19 wins and one loss with 15 shutouts. Five of these triumphs were one hitters, three were perfect games.

He formed the "Four Aces" in 1952. The team played thirty games, winning 27. He tossed two perfect games and at Quebec City he won the game practically single-handed. He whiffed 24, fielded two bunts and tagged the other batter for the out. He won 2-0.

Last season he struck out 516 men in 219 innings, an average of 2.36 per inning. Not bad, eh?

THE CLIPPING NIPS.

They tell us that a wrestling sensation from Japan named Yakoru or something like that is taking the United States by storm. Yakoru enters the ring accompanied by two slave girls dolled up in the latest Nip style, who do everything for the couple of Fujiyama but chew his gum.

Now these Tojo Twins, the Tokyo Terrors, do not bother with slave gals but they do tote prayer mats, and burn sweet-smelling incense in ward off the evil influence of the foreign devils. And these squat blossoms from Cherryland can bloom into full-flowered villains who toss jui jitsu, judo and other well-known Japanese wrestling tricks into the battle.

So it looks like Tex Mackenzie, the phone pole from the Lone Star State and the horse-throwing John Baillargeon, from Keebec, may have their hands full in Memorial Arena tomorrow night. For these Nips can flip, clip, whop and chop, hiss and sizz—and that is no exaggeration.

FIGHT PICTURES AT McCARTHY.

You heard it. You argued about it. Some believed it. Some liked it. Now you can see it for yourself. The first Belleville release of the much-talked-about Rocky Marciano-Ezzard Charles heavyweight championship fight will be shown at the McCarthy Theatre starting today and running through Saturday. You can get yourself a ringside seat and see the bloodiest titular battle since Dempsey battered hapless Luis Angel Firpo into a soggy mass. And Manager Willard Hawkins has leased in some excellent screen entertainment in the form of "Beachhead" featuring Tony Martin, Frank Lovejoy and beauteous Mary Murphy.

Noor, the Irish-bred colt purchased by the late Charles S. Howard, set a world record for 1¼ miles at Golden Gate racetrack at Albany, California, four years ago today. Noor, running as a five-year-old, covered the route in one minute, 59 1-5 seconds. Just a week previously at the same track Noor set a record of 1:46 4-5 for the mile and an eighth.

Three Indians Clout Homers As Yanks, Chisox Keep Pace; Birds Win 5-Hour Marathon

By The Associated Press

Dave Jolly, a lean Irish right-hander from Stony Point, N.C., is the Milwaukee Braves' "reliever," the pitcher who gets the call when the going is the toughest.

So far this year he has been in 23 games, more than a third of the Milwaukee total. In 36 innings Jolly has given up only 23 hits and four earned runs for a sparkling earned-run average of 1.00. His personal record shows four victories and two defeats.

But one of his most spectacular performances won't appear on his won and lost totals. This came Wednesday in Milwaukee's 5-3 triumph over the fast-moving New York Giants.

THREE RUNS AHEAD

Jim (Hoss) Wilson sailed into the last of the ninth with a three-run edge en route to his fourth straight victory. But the Giants, who think they own the copyright on Frank Sinatra's "I'll Be Seeing You", got rid of Wilson with successive singles by Monte Irvin and Don Mueller.

With the dangerous Willie Mays at bat, Jolly trolled to the rescue. He worked the count to 2-2 on Mays, who had homered earlier, before hitting him in the back to fill the bases.

Then Jolly applied the pressure. Pinch-hitter Hank Thompson lofted a short fly. Wes Westrum fouled out. And Bobby Hofman, who has hit three pinch-hit home runs this season, drove out a weak one at the plate.

Brooklyn took advantage of Milwaukee's success and cut the Giants' first-place lead to one single game by beating Cincinnati 8-3. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-1 as Stan Musial drove in three runs.

Cincinnati whipped Chicago 8-3.

THREE WINS

In the American League Cleveland tripped Philadelphia 5-2, Chicago outlasted Washington 8-6, New York defeated Detroit 9-4 and Baltimore broke Boston's nine-game losing streak, shading Boston 8-7 in a 17-inning marathon that ran four hours, 58 minutes, the longest game ever played in the American League and one minute short of the longest night game in major league history.

The Dodgers broke Cincinnati's five-game winning streak with a 13-hit attack. Duke Snider drove in four runs; three on a bases-loaded triple and one on a single. Don Newcombe picked up his fifth victory with his second consecutive complete game.

The Pirates broke Haddix' string of scoreless innings at 37 but the little lefthander had no trouble in winning his 10th straight. Big Ray Puliski homered for St. Louis.

Willie Jones doubled home two runs in the eighth inning for the Phillies' winning margin over Chicago. Two of the other Philadelphia runs scored on errors.

PITCHER HOMERS

Cleveland stayed three games in front of the White Sox with the help of a home run attack on the Athletics. Homers by Larry Doby, Al Rosen and pitcher Bob Lemon accounted for all of the Indians runs. The victory was Lemon's ninth.

Chicago wasted a five-run first inning lead but finally beat Washington on Sherm Lollar's two-run pinch hit single in the sixth.

The Yankees came from behind at Detroit as Gil McDougald pounded three doubles and a single, good for four runs. The Yankees received 10 walks and converted six of them into runs.

Four Boston runs in the ninth sent the game at Baltimore into overtime and the Orioles finally won in the 17th on a single, a base on balls, a wild pitch and a successful dash for home by Jim Brideweser on a grounder in the infield. Boston executed the season's second triple play in the first inning.

INSIDE BASEBALL for Little Leaguers

By HOCKY McCONNELL
Director of the Brooklyn Dodgers Baseball School

Being in position to field a bunt and throw immediately to the right base can mean the difference between victory and defeat. In the 1953 World Series, Yogi Berra fielded bunts and made throws to third base to retire runners on consecutive plays and thus snuffed out a Dodger rally. Berra's knowledge of the fundamentals and his ability to execute them was the turning point in this key game.

Arthur Dede, former Dodger catcher and present coach of rookie players, tells young catchers to imagine that their mitt is a dustpan held vertically and their throwing hand is a whisk broom. The action in fielding a bunt is that of sweeping the ball into the dustpan, getting a good grip on it, and throwing in a continuous motion.

Terriers Take Two From Royals Oakville Loses

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Galt Terriers are earning a reputation for winning the big ones. Just when the rest of the pack is getting close they pull out in front again.

Wednesday night they took a double win from Guelph-Waterloo Royals in Guelph to increase their lead on first place in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League to 4½ games. They won the second, losing their game 3-0 and squeezed through a 7-6 decision in the nine-inning nightcap.

Brantford Red Sox and St. Thomas Elgins split in another doubleheader at St. Thomas. The Red Sox took the seven-inning contest 13-8 but were defeated 7-2 in the long second game.

VIADUCT LEAGUE

A large part of the credit in Galt's first win at Guelph was due to pitcher Mel Duncan who held the Royals to four hits to chalk up his fourth victory. He has two defeats. It was his first shutout.

A single by Joe Farise which chased home Pete Karpiw, who doubled in the first inning, proved to be the winning run. Farise also drove home the third Galt run. It was a tough loss for Bob Schnurr who held the Terriers to five hits. In the three games he has pitched so far he has given up only nine hits. It was his first against two victories.

TRIPLE PLAY

The Terriers had it tougher in the second game but they were never headed. They jumped on starter Ed Drapcho for four runs in the first inning on three singles and two walks. They added their other three runs in the sixth.

Marshall O'Connor, making his first start in the league, was the winner although he needed help in the ninth inning. Drapcho's loss gave him a 1-2 won-and-lost record. Freddy Thomas belted two home runs and had four RBIs in the losing cause.

Wilmer Fields, who clouted a pair of two-run homers, sparked Brantford's victory over the Elgins in the first game at St. Thomas. The Elgins outhit the Red Sox 13-11 but Brantford pitcher Harry Fisher went the distance to earn his sixth victory against one defeat.

TRIPLE PLAY Y

The second game, where the Elgins outhit the Red Sox 16-7, featured a triple play. Catcher Doc Glenn, who led the Elgins at the plate the whole evening with six hits in eight trips to the plate, hit a home run in the second game and plated two runs to help John Ambrose to his sixth victory. He has two defeats.

A home run by Gerry Wilson in the third inning gave the Majors their margin over the Panthers at London. Wilson had two hits in four trips to the plate and sent home four of London's six runs.

Northerns Swamp Stewart Warner Under 17-1 Score

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Northern Electric's ninth consecutive win proved to be one of their easiest, a one-sided 17-1 triumph over the cellar-dwelling Stewart-Warner team in a fixture played at the C.N.R.A.A. Park last night.

Al Adams proved very effective on the hill for the Hens-Locke crew as he twirled a three-hitter and was never in trouble. Adams whiffed six and showed good control by walking only one. The lone run off him came in the second inning when he hit Chick James who scored later on Dip Young's clean single.

Frank Baldwin started for the Warner nine and worked for five frames, allowing 13 runs off nine hits. He fanned one man while issuing seven free tickets to first. Jack Canning completed the game, being touched for five tallies on but two hits while fanning two and walking eight.

Errors played a large part in the Northern scoring plays as Bill Hurst's grass bobbled the ball on 11 occasions. A walk to Carr, Locke's sacrifice, teamed with two errors and Whiting's two-bagger plated a single run in the first. De Rushie pushed a single while Soules tripled as the main factors for a trio in the second. They upped the score to 6-1 in the fourth on a walk, error and Soules single.

Eleven men came to bat in the fifth with six runs crossing the plate on singles by Locke, Soules and Cousin mixed with a variety of walks, errors and a disorganized Stewart-Warner infield. Batchelder's single was the only hit in the sixth with two runs scoring and again in the seventh, a pair came home, this time without a hit. Two walks, Whiting's single and a wild pitch accounted for the last inning tallies.

Doug Soules' six hits, hitting glory for Northern with a triple and two singles while Delmer Whiting had a double and a single. Harry De Rushie slapped out a brace of base hits with singletons for Don Locke, John Batchelor, Glenn Young and Red Culkin.

Frank Baldwin met Adams' slants for a two-bagger with Cornell and Dip Young banging out singles.

THE LIVE-UPS:

Northern Electric—Carr, Locke, Soules, Batchelor, Whiting, C. Young, Culkin, De Rushie, Adams, Burleigh, Buxton.

Stewart-Warner— Murray, Mil-

Use 11 Pitchers In 5-Hour Game

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Orioles may not be giving their fans any better baseball than they did as St. Louis Browns, but they offer more of it.

The Orioles and Boston Red Sox Wednesday night played 17 innings for four hours and 58 minutes as if they were battling for the pennant instead of the cellar.

The marathon was two innings longer than any played in either league this season and nine minutes longer than any game ever played in the American League. The longest game in baseball records was a 5½-hour contest between Brooklyn and Boston in the National League in 1940 for 20 innings.

Manager Lou Boudreau of the Red Sox and Jimmy Dykes of the Orioles contributed to another record when they used 42 players, one more than the previous high for an extra-inning game.

Boudreau used 22 players, including Ted Williams as a pinch-hitter for the first time since June 5, and six pitchers. Dykes called on five hurlers. Fortunately, the teams are off today.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Laura rumores about rules are as convenient as bridge players are worse superstitions for the ancients. The ignorant have something to cling to. The wise guys have alibis for anything they do wrong.

You will hear a player tell you: "My response of one no-trump shows weakness. If I had any strength I would have forced you to bid something with a more encouraging reply."

Or the player will come the words: "My simple assist in your suit is the weakest reply I could give you. If I had anything worth while showing I would have told you so with a takeout or no-trump."

From still another you will hear: "My takeout in the same level does not promise anything. All it does is keep the bidding open for you in case you have a better suit to show."

If you believe all of them, the only three available non-jump replies are used to show some degree of weakness. All of them could not possibly be right. In fact, all three of them are wrong.

The show weakness a responding partner may pass. So, it stands to reason that a bid of any kind shows some degree of strength—not some degree of weakness. Common sense demands it that way.

If the response is in a new suit it shows a biddable suit and more than expected tricks. If it is assist it shows support and more than expected tricks. If no-trump, more than expected highs.

Your partner in south starts with an opening bid of one spade. An opening bid does not force you to bid. You must decide the response with the north hand shown here:

NORTH
♠ 9 7 6 4
♥ A 2 5
♦ K 8 5 3
♣ J 8

Your response is two spades, a simple assist. This is not a show of weakness. It promises adequate trump support for spades and more than your expected number of two tricks.

Falsified rumors are bridge playing tumors.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mary Martin is living proof of the theory that stars shouldn't be afraid of playing roles that have been done before.

A few years ago her manager and husband, Richard Halliday, saw Ethel Merman in "Annie Get Your Gun" and told Mary: "You'd better see it...you're liable to cut your throat. It's the kind of role you've wanted all your life."

The singing star didn't heed his advice. She went to see the show. On the way out, he asked, "would you like a razor now?"

SURPRISES PRODUCERS

"No," she replied. "I'm going to play 'Annie' on the road."

And she did. Much to the surprise of producers Rodgers and Hammerstein, she agreed to a tour throughout the United States. This startled Broadwayites, since Mary was a big star in her own right and didn't need to do road companies of Hammerstein hits.

The Martin version of "Annie Get Your Gun" was an eyeopener. I can still recall the pleasant surprise of watching Mary, who had specialized in gentler things, throw herself into the raucous role of Annie Oakley. The show was a revelation for the producers, too. They had her in mind when they wrote a show called "South Pacific."

PLAYS "PETER PAN"

After playing in "South Pacific" for five years, Mary did a straight play, "Mind Sir." It was a dismal thing, although it did good business on the strength of its name, Miss Martin and Charles Boyer.

Now she is literally taking a flier on "Peter Pan." A new musical version of the Barrie play is being put together by the Civil Light Opera for Los Angeles and San Francisco. Broadway? Maybe —it depends on how well it turns out.

"Jean and I are good friends," said Mary. "We often talked about how we would like to play Peter Pan some day. Jean got her opportunity, and she was wonderful. Now I'm getting my chance."

600 Attend June Fete In Aid of Hospital

PICTON — Nearly six hundred ladies attended the annual June fete in aid of Prince Edward County hospital, held in the auditorium of the new collegiate yesterday. Net proceeds are expected to exceed $800 with donations from Women's Institutes swelling the total to around a thousand dollars.

So numerous were table reservations that they had to be refused 24 hours in advance, and a hundred were content to secure chairs alone.

Churches and various organizations assisted the Women's Hospital Auxiliary in catering. A parade of summer and fall fashions was a highlight. Home-cooking, aprons and babies' clothes were sold from attractive booths, while a garden cart was also popular.

In a draw, prizes were won by M. Finnegan, Mrs. Arthur Lloyd and Bob Manlow.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. J. H. Walmsley, W.I.A. president, and Miss Alicen Arnold hospital superintendent. Mrs. G. C. Caughey and Mrs. R. R. Baxter received the fees. Mrs. R. Hadden received reservations. Conveners of booths were, Mrs. C. A. Hamilton, Mrs. Dr. Williams, aprons; Mrs. G. C. Caughey, Mrs. F. Webster, baby clothes; Mrs. H. Anderson, Mrs. S. Slavin, garden cart; Mrs. Gordon Whattam, home cooking.

200 Pheasant Poults Arrive

PICTON—Two hundred pheasant poults arrived here yesterday and will be distributed in Prince Edward County. They were secured from the hatchery operated at Codrington by the Ontario Dept. of Lands and Forests. Prince Edward Rod and Gun club will release the eight-weeks-old chicks in suitable cover and are asking farmers to provide necessary protection.

Mrs. Mabel Todd, P.S. Teacher For 34 Years, Honored

PICTON—For 34 years a member of the teaching staff of Picton public school, Mrs. Mabel Todd was honored yesterday by the staff and school board. She is retiring at the end of the term. Dr. C. S. Slack, chairman of the Board voiced regret at losing a teacher with such a long and enviable record of teaching.

One of Mrs. Todd's former pupils, Dr. James B. Clapp, read an address paying fulsome tribute. Presentation of an engraved silver tray and a $100 bond was made by William Hepburn. Mrs. Todd, in expressing appreciation, said she would cherish many happy memories of the years she had spent teaching in Picton.

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Bright, benefic planetary influences for all kinds of sound activities, negotiations, social life. Keep position cheerful, hopeful and you can't fail.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Today is full of promise and you can add to its measure by good behavior, unselfish devotion to duty and by asking (even a little) those less fortunate.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — This should be fine day for mental and physical efforts, vacation activities, care of the young, the old, the ill. So much good can be accomplished if each of us does our share for the good of all.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Matters close to home, family and self are highly favored; outside interests can improve also. Try to finish up incompleted tasks for a better week-end.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — A made-to-order day in which a thoroughly serious, busy nature can make fine headway. Press constructive activities. An early start with a frank, open, genuine approach is best.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo) — Authors, journalists, clerks, secretaries—all who are engaged in constructive activities for man's benefit are under an array of favorably aspected stars.

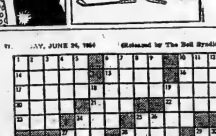
September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Artistic profession's artistry in any work encouraged this generally stimulating day. You doing menial labor have an important place in the pattern of everyday living, too, Smile.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Not a discouraging or unpleasant element in your day's chart. It's up to you, therefore, to start the day with a prayer and a desire to top previous good efforts. All honest endeavors favored.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Same indications for you as for Scorpio. Good work and deeds will beget good. Attend to first things first. If on vacation, enjoy wholesome, healthy fun.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Happy, successful doing today! Don't overtax yourself mentally or physically if you would gain best results; and you should you lag behind in urgent matters. Helpful influences all around.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—A clearer path for your endeavors today but you will need to make use of stimulating elements early lest you not come out on top as you so well can.



February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Judicious care is always advisable where there are risks to health or property. You have a generous, fortunate day ahead to use skilfully. Pray that you will make the best of it.

YOU BORN TODAY are a likeable, pleasant, interesting somebody. If true to your finer instincts, you are a loyal, devoted life-mate and parent, a staunch, helpful friend. Proper education (and this education you can obtain yourself through good reading, study and observation) and the daily application of your fine talents and capability will combine to make you a useful, sought-after citizen and friend. You could succeed at salesmanship, acting, oratory or playwriting. Don't dwell too often or too long on the past; keep pace with today and always plan and work for the future.

Birthdate: John Horne Tooke, Eng. philologist.

FRANKFORD

United Church W.M.S. Marks 65th Anniversary

FRANKFORD — Baskets of beautiful white and pink peonies, orange blossoms and roses adorned the Frankford United Church for the 65th anniversary of the WMS which was held Thursday evening.

Guests from Stockdale, Wooler, Batawa, Tabernacle, Zion and 4th concession of Sidney, also from the Anglican, Free Methodist, Pentecostal and United Churches filled the auditorium of the church.

Each guest signed the white leather covered guest book, and were welcomed by Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Walter Morrow and Mrs. Madill.

Mrs. S. Martin played quiet music on the Hammond organ while the guests were assembling.

The president, Mrs. Walter Morrow, gave a welcome to all and read a fitting poem, "God has no hands, but our hands."

Rev. C. R. Clarke offered prayer and brought greetings from the church.

Mrs. J. A. Lott chose for her devotional subject: "The Power of Prayer", and gave an inspirational message.

Mrs. W. Morrow and Mrs. L. Frost sang a beautiful duet, "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer."

Mrs. Fred Charlesworth gave the address of welcome from Frankford Auxiliary to all present, and called to the front those past presidents, who were present: Mrs. C. D. Powell, Mrs. P. E. Bonisteel, Mrs. J. F. Lane, Mrs. J. M. Hefee, Mrs. G. E. Dickson and Mrs. W. Morrow, also Mrs. Lackey, wife of a former pastor, and Mrs. Clarke. Mrs. H. J. Madill for her services as treasurer for the past years and Mrs. C. B. Reid for her work as secretary for the past eight years.

Each was then presented with a beautiful corsage and introduced to the audience by Mrs. Charlesworth.

WMS HISTORY.

The history of the WMS Auxiliary for the past 65 years, was given by Mrs. J. M. Dafoe. The wonderful services of Mrs. Levi Massey in organizing the first meeting and her devotion to all missionary work was stressed. Her grand-daughter, who is a faithful worker, too, Mrs. P. E. Bonisteel, was present at the meeting.

Mrs. C. D. Powell conducted an impressive memorial service in memory of those great workers who have been called to higher service. She closed with prayer, after which beautiful white carnations were placed on the altar by several of the workers: Mrs. P. E. Bonisteel, in memory of Mrs. Levi Massey; Mrs. Ross Rubble, in memory of Tabernacle workers; Mrs. Percy Way, in memory of Stockdale workers; Mrs. Blake Stickle, in memory of Mrs. J. W. Hendricks; Mrs. J. Hleaker, in memory of 4th concession of Sidney and Frankford workers.

GREETINGS.

Greetings were brought from the visiting auxiliaries as follows: Wooler, by Mrs. Elgin McMaster; Anglican Church, by Miss Winnifred Dench; solo by Mrs. Lackey, "Thanks be to God"; Pentecostal Church, by Mrs. W. Reid; Free Methodist, by Mrs. Will Kemp; Batawa, solo by Mrs. H. Pearce; Tabernacle, by Mrs. D. Wiley; Stockdale, by Mrs. James Bater; Wooler Evening Auxiliary, a solo by Mrs. Ewing; Zion, by Mrs. Charles Wickens; Frankford Evening Auxiliary, a solo by Mrs. C. Moron.

Personal greetings were received from Mrs. Lane, Madoc; Mrs. Dickson, Campbellford; Mrs. Grey and Mrs. Terrill, past presidents of Cobourg Presbyterial, and Mrs. Clarke, of Frankford Presbyterial.

Mrs. Sosford, district organizer, of Bay of Quinte Conference, spoke a few words of praise and encouragement.

Mrs. Hedley Ireland, Brighton, the district organizer of Cobourg Presbyterial gave an address and brought to all a challenge to carry on the wonderful work which had begun 85 years ago. As a climax to a most memorable meeting, Mrs. Lackey sang a solo, "Precious Lord, Lead Us Home."

All repaired to the church hall where tables were decorated with flowers, pink tapers, and pink streamers. Rev. Mr. Clarke asked a blessing upon the most delicious refreshments.

Mrs. C. B. Reid donated a beautiful anniversary cake, decorated with these words in icing — "Preach the Gospel to All the World."

In closing, all joined in singing, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow".

Rev. J. F. Lane dismissed with the benediction.

REACHES PORT LATE

HALIFAX (CP) — Tired and dirty, and two days late, Angus Mowat, director of the public library service for Ontario, sailed his 34-foot yacht into Halifax Tuesday. He sailed the Scotch Bonnet from Oakville, Ont., to here to attend the annual conference of the Canadian Library Association but was held up by fog and headwinds.

REMANDED IN DEATH

BARRIE, (CP)—Yolanda Danko, 29, of New Lowell, Ont., was remanded to July 21 on $5,000 cash bail Tuesday on a charge of manslaughter. The charge resulted from the traffic death of Karl Hayden, 36. The car which struck and killed him failed to stop.

Pilot Shot Down In Korea in '52 To Be Released

Montreal Man Who Served With U.S. Alive and Well

OTTAWA (CP) — Sqdn. Ldr. A. R. MacKenzie of Montreal, an RCAF pilot shot down in Korea in December, 1952, is alive and well and will be released by the Chinese Communists, the external affairs department announced today.

The pilot was shot down Dec. 5, 1952, and taken prisoner by the Communists while serving with the United States Air Force in Korea. The action took place northeast of Sinuiju in North Korea, not far from the Yalu river boundary with Manchuria.

The department said no one saw his plane or parachute land. However, subsequent reports from repatriated prisoners-of-war indicated that he had been taken prisoner and had been seen in a prisoner-of-war camp.

GENEVA TALKS SUCCEED

He was not repatriated in the main exchange of prisoners-of-war which ended on September, 1953, and efforts were later made through the Red Cross to determine whether he was being held by the Communists.

During the Geneva conference the Canadian delegation approached the Chinese Communist delegation informally. As a result of these discussions the Canadian delegation was informed June 17 that he is "alive and well" and that he will be released. The exact release date is not yet known.

Dimpled Blonde Beauty Queen Is 'De-Crowned'

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — The crown of Miss Michigan for 1954 was gently lifted Thursday from the blonde head of dimpled 22-year-old Dolores Sally of Bloomfield Hills, a Detroit suburb.

Six judges chose her from a field of 10 contestants Wednesday night. But the secret committee suspended the judges' decision when many of the audience walked out in protest.

The committee declared the competition temporarily "no contest."

Some $3,000 in winner's gifts were held pending a conference with the Atlantic City Miss America pageant officials.

Expect Canadian Will Meet Chou

OTTAWA (CP) — The external affairs department said Thursday it presumes Scott Reid, Canadian high commissioner to India, will accept an invitation from India's president to a reception for Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

"It would be ingratious to decline an invitation from the head of state," a department spokesman said.

He was commenting on a New Delhi dispatch which said diplomats were sending cables to their governments for instructions whether to accept the invitation.

Dumping Duties On Czech Goods Will Be Removed

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government is preparing to remove special lacks-of-up dumping duties applied against Czechoslovakian goods.

Qualified sources said Thursday the decision is part of a two-way deal in which the Communist-dominated country will:

1. Resume payments on a $10,000,000 defaulted Canadian loan.

2. Allow a Canadian expert to visit Czechoslovakia to study the Czechoslovakia of the market value of goods produced and sold in that country for export.

Informants said the deal will save the Canada-Czechoslovakia trade. Cold War that developed following complaints by Canadian manufacturers in 1952 that the Red country was dumping goods into the Canadian market, injuring Canadian industry.

Panic Follows Report Explosive On Burning Truck

TORONTO (CP) — Pedestrians fell flat on the road or dove down embankments while motorists tangled bodies and scrambled over each other early today as bursting tires on a burning tractor-trailer led to a false warning that it had a load of explosives aboard.

Traffic on the Queen Elizabeth way was tied up more than two hours when pedestrians and motorists panicked at the fear of nitroglycerine explosion. There was none aboard the truck.

DIES AFTER FALL

CHATHAM (CP)—Henry LaBute eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis LaButte of Tilbury, died of a brain haemorrhage in hospital here Thursday after he fell from a bicycle into a parked car outside his home and fell head first to the pavement.

MEDICAL CORPS TO CELEBRATE 50TH BIRTHDAY

Special Feature Will Be Opening of Barracks

OTTAWA (CP)—Army sawbones and girl guides from Canada, Britain and the Far East will celebrate the 50th birthday of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps July 2.

Army headquarters said today the principal birthday ceremony will be held at the RCAMC school at Camp Borden, Ont., where there will be a ceremonial parade, historical pageant and parties in the various messes.

A special feature will be the official opening of the new Banting barracks block by Lady Henrietta Banting. The building is named after Lady Banting's husband, the late Sir Frederick Banting, co-discoverer of insulin and former RCAMC officer.

Medical services in the Canadian Army did not become a corps until a general order of July 2, 1904, announced that the Canadian militia medical staff corps would become known as the army medical corps. But origin of the Canadian army medical service goes back to the time of the Northwest Rebellion in 1885.

GRANTED "ROYAL" TITLE

The permanent component of the corps was granted the title "royal" in 1919 but this distinction was granted the reserve component in 1946.

During the Boer War two Canadian military hospitals were sent to South Africa. Their staffs included 16 militia nursing sisters.

During the First World War the corps personnel served on all fronts where Canadian troops were in action. Two Victoria Crosses were won by members of the corps. A total of 21,425 served and 1,186 were battle casualties, including 1,145 killed.

In the Second World War, 34,786 personnel served in the RCAMC. Over 430 were battle casualties. In addition to Canadian nursing sisters who served on all fronts with Canadian troops, 300 Canadian nurses were loaned to the South African medical corps. Canadian medical officers served with the Chinese.

The RCAMC has provided units for service in Korea and Germany. The Queen recently approved appointment of the Queen Mother as colonel-in-chief of the corps.

Chief of Police At New Hamburg Fights Dismissal

NEW HAMBURG, Ont. (CP)—Village authorities here Thursday night to dismiss Police Chief Thomas, effective at the end of this month.

The chief said today he will fight the dismissal.

He said he believes the council's action was the result of his intervention at a community centre reception in this Kitchener area community when Thomas said the chief laid under the liquor laws were discriminatory and could be set in court.

Chief Thomas said he plans to ask for a hearing at which charges or complaints concerning his work can be made and witnesses can be called.

A petition was presented to the council meeting a few weeks ago asking for the chief's dismissal.

MP'S WIDOW

TORONTO (CP)—Mary Dorothy Bristol, 82, widow of Hon. Edmund Bristol, for many years Conservative member of Parliament for the old constituency of Toronto Centre, died Thursday after a long illness. She was survived by a daughter of the late Hon. John Douglas Armour, former chief justice of Ontario and later puisne judge of the Supreme Court of Canada.

Conflicting Reports Received On Guatemala Insurrection

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (CP) — The exile forces invading the Central American republic of Guatemala from Honduras said early today that their troops are massed for a full-scale attack and that "bloody" fighting already has taken place in the insurrection that began a week ago. However, government leaders in the Guatemalan capital, boasting advances on "all fronts," said the invasion will soon be brought to an end.

A communique from the invasion headquarters at exile leader Col. Carlos Castillo Armas said a major battle was shaping up at Chiquimula, less than 70 miles northeast of the Guatemalan capital.

The announcement said that as the rebels pressed in to attack, the government hastily reinforced the Chiquimula garrison with armored cars and heavy artillery. The communique also claimed the garrison commander had deserted to the rebels.

Castillo Armas said his rebel forces now hold 16 Guatemalan towns, seized since the invaders launched their "liberation" campaign Friday in a bid to unseat President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's regime. The exiles claim the Arbenz government is Communist-dominated.

On the diplomatic front, the state department in Washington remained aloof from the fighting. Officials said the situation is developing "in accordance with the pattern of life today."

Informed sources said the Honduran government has refused to demand the expulsion of Guatemalan ambassador Luis Chinchilla on the grounds that he sparked Wednesday's leftist student demonstration in Tegucigalpa in which two sons were wounded when police opened fire.

The Hondurans also say they suspect the envoy of hiring saboteurs to tamper with Honduran airplanes.

Russian Tanker Is Seized By Nationalist China's Navy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China announced today that its navy seized the tanker Tuapse off Formosa Wednesday and is holding it at the port of Keelung.

The announcement did not mention the nationality of the ship, but it is owned by Russia, and the Soviet Union earlier had accused the Chinese Reds of unjustly seizing it.

The Nationalists charged that the tanker was carrying oil to a "Communist satellite" port on the Communist mainland in violation of a United Nations embargo against such shipments.

The announcement said the Tuapse was seized while "under the Nationalist China's port-of-course policy—a term used to describe the long-standing policy of the Chinese banning foreign ships from Red China ports.

Prior to the official announcement, the Nationalists had made no mention of the ship and had banned publication in Formosan newspapers of reports that Russia had accused the U. S. Navy of seizing the tanker.

RUSSIA ACCUSES U.S.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has accused the United States Navy of seizing a Russian tanker in Japanese waters near Japan and the Philippines. The Danish-built ship was one the Americans tried July 4 to prevent being delivered to the Russians.

A stiff Russian note, made public here, today, said the 8,840-ton Tuapse was seized Wednesday "by warships of the destroyer type," which threatened to open fire. The note is the latest in the "aggressive measures for safeguarding the security of Soviet merchant ships sailing in that area."

DENIES CHARGE

(In Pearl Harbor, Admiral Felix B. Stump denied that the navy ship can warship was involved. Stump commander of the U. S. Pacific fleet, said "not a U.S. warship has seized any Russian ship."

The Soviet note referred to U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen left Thursday, Russian time, for consultations in Paris.

In Washington, Lincoln White, state department press officer, said the Soviet note gave "no evidence that the United States has anything to do with the ship seizure." He said a reply will be sent to the Kremlin in due course.

Doctor Warns Protect Eyes During Eclipse

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (CP)—The busy leader of a scientific party here said today that people who took time out Thursday to offer advice for the layman in watching or photographing the phenomenon.

Dr. J. F. Heard of David Dunlop observatory near Toronto warned child staring directly at the sun's rays could cause serious eye injury. He recommended use of four to five layers of smoked glass or exposed film as a viewing device.

Dr. Heard, experienced in taking pictures through a telescope may obtain good large scale photos of the sun's "flow" lines but not if pictures are taken with a camera alone, he warned that the passage of the moon will be smaller 1-16th of an inch on film in miniature camera, 1-20th with a folding camera.

Dr. Heard suggest an exposure time of 100th of a second at wide aperture with fast film, or 1-50th at full aperture with color film, perhaps longer if using a tripod.

For those purchasing a telescope, suggested sitting in a darkened room for a few days, a bloodshot for half an hour before the eclipse.

Carnival Worker Found Guilty Of Shoe Lace Murder

QUESNEL, B. C. (CP)—Lawrence Brian Vincent, of Barrie, Ont., 23-year-old itinerant carnival worker, was convicted today of a male sailor court jury here Thursday in the murder of a 15-year-old girl and was sentenced to be hanged Sept. 21.

The naked body of Donna Lee Corbett was found in bushes near the Quesnel dump July 4 days after she was reported missing from the carnival where Vincent worked. She had been strangled with one of her own shoe laces.

DOG WINNERS

STRATFORD (CP)—Best working dog at a dog show here Thursday was a shetland sheepdog, Croft Saucy Sue, owned by W. J. Simpson of Toronto. Best non-working dog was Grants Duchess, a boston terrier, owned by R. E. Davey of Guelph.

ATTEMPT BEING MADE TO EASE JOBLESS HARDSHIP

Unemployment Benefit Act May Be Changed

OTTAWA (CP)—An attempt is being made to ease the hardships of the unemployed in the event of another employment slump.

Labor Minister Gregg told the Commons Thursday that his department is examining the Unemployment Insurance Act and steps are being taken to guard against hardship in the future.

Debate on unemployment followed a day in which government statistics showed the number of jobless seeking work was 217,000 compared with 151,000 a year earlier and 203,000 at April 17.

URGE HIGHER BENEFITS

Mr. Gregg made his statement after Opposition members urged that higher benefits be paid from the $500,000,000 unemployment insurance fund. Maximum payments now are $24 a week for a married person.

Mrs. Ellen Fairclough (PC—Hamilton West) asked government plans for the Opposition, said Canada could well support a $600 minimum. The government's excuse for the situation was the "wholly false" attitude that unemployment was largely seasonal.

The real trouble was that the government was taxing Canadian products out of competitive markets.

Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South) said that four years ago there will be among the toughest in employment that Canada has ever gone through. Cut-throat international competition was to blame and it was up to the federal authorities to solve the problem through organizations that knew the restrictions hampering trade.

BLAMES SYSTEM

Joseph Noseworthy (CCF—York South) said the Second World War and the Korean War held off unemployment. It would take something else to solve the present problem until the system was changed.

Michael Starr (PC — Ontario) said he is amazed that no government action was taken earlier in the year to cope with the jobless problem then and prevent further unemployment next fall. He agreed with Mr. Gregg that unemployment was a federal responsibility, not local or provincial.

He urged a substantial increase in the payments to unemployment benefits and elimination of the five-day waiting period before benefits can be paid.

SUGGESTS ADDED BENEFITS

Wallace Nesbitt (PC—Oxford) suggested that wives who are divorced, when employment drops off, be entitled to benefits, for example $50,000 or $60,000.

Several speakers suggested government should start training unemployed persons for other jobs.

Mr. Gregg promised the house to see how the federal government can escape responsibility for helping those who are unemployed through run out or who were not covered by unemployment insurance.

She said if it was felt the provinces were taking a share of this help they should be called into a conference.

Mr. Gillis proposed as the only solution federal direction and co-ordination of all Canada's fuel resources.

Says Picture of Typical Alcoholic As Skid Row Bum or Misfit Wrong

Addressing the Canadian Conference on Social Work R. J. Gibbins, research associate with the Alcoholism Research Foundation of Ontario, reported the results of a 16-month survey of an Ontario county.

More than 60 per cent of the 600 alcoholics surveyed by the survey were skilled or semi-skilled workers, white-collar workers, professional persons and business executives. Only 6.3 per cent were transient or casual workers.

Mr. Gibbins said there are 40,000 alcoholics in Canada, Mr. Gibbins said. Based on an adult population of 8,700,740, the rate was 23 alcoholics to every 1,000 adult persons.

Miss Margaret Cork, chief psychiatric social worker at the Brookside Clinic, Toronto, said the wife of an alcoholic often has a great need of her own which may have led to her marrying a sick person in the first place and which may have increased through years of living with him.

Family Matters To Talk Over Says Churchill

British Leader and Eden Arrive in Washington

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill arrived from London this morning to talk over "a few family matters" with President Eisenhower.

The British leader, accompanied by Foreign Secretary Eden, arrived by air in Washington and the American president at a time when Indochina and Formosa are talking of what they call the worst rift in British-American relations since the cold war began.

Wearing a grey homburg and grey suit, the 79-year-old Churchill said he had traveled from his "fatherland" to his "mother's country" and that he was born in the U. S.—and that his talks with Eisenhower would be like a family discussion.

FIVE MINUTES EARLY

Five minutes ahead of its scheduled arrival, Churchill's plane taxied slowly between rows of ceremonial troops and stopped in front of the official welcoming party headed by Vice-President Richard Nixon and State Secretary Dulles. It had stopped earlier in Gander, Nfld., and Ottawa, for refuelling.

The prime minister stepped out of the plane, doffed his homburg to acknowledge applause, then walked briskly forward to greet and shake hands with Nixon, Dulles and the generals and officials there and members of the diplomatic corps. All the Commonwealth ambassadors in Washington were on hand.

Stepping to a battery of microphones, he said he had come to make certain that "there is no misunderstanding."

"The English-speaking family or brotherhood is rather a large one and not entirely without a few things here and there.

"And if we work together we may get along all right and perhaps be able to help our neighbors in the world, some of whom on both sides of the ocean they seem to have even greater problems than we have."

ASKS DULLES' APPROVAL

When he finished speaking Churchill turned to Dulles and asked if he has known for a long time, and asked in his famous Churchillian growl: "Have I your approval?" Dulles grinned and warmly shook his hand.

Eden made no statement. Expected public welcoming ceremonies at Blair House, Dulles' home, went undelivered. Nine minutes after he and Eden left the airport, Churchill climbed into an open convertible with Eisenhower and drove to the White House.

The president posed for British leaders at the stairs where he introduced him to Mrs. Eisenhower. Next by 100 newspaper, news reel and television camera men crowded the greeting.

Eisenhower greeted Eden with "it's good to see you." The president also shook hands with Churchill through the front

Four Bandits Rob Airliner Of Half Million

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Four bandits held up the pilot of an air liner at pilot point over Burma today and forced him to land on a deserted beach, Union of Burma Airways announced.

The bandits removed 20 boxes of currency containing the equivalent of $500,000 which the plane was carrying to Akyab for the local treasury. Then they allowed the plane to take off.

The plane carried three crew members and 14 passengers. It was the second time one of the air line's aircraft had been held up in this way.

Ten Canadians Held for Theft From Jap Depot

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese police tonight arrested 10 civilians and four other Commonwealth soldiers accused of stealing about $13,000 worth of clothing and other property from a Japanese ordnance depot during the past year, Domei news agency reported.

Police arrest with the co-operation of a special British Commonwealth investigation team, was made at the depot itself and the 14 men were held by the Commonwealth team pending further investigation.

Names of the soldiers were not released.

Police said the soldiers sold the property to Japanese dealers.

CIGAR SYMBOL DISPLAYED

"Good Old-Winnie," was the greeting of a group of the spectators clustered in groups of 30 to 200 or 400 along the route. "Atta boy," shouted one youngster who waved a British flag.

Churchill and Eden will be guests of the president through Sunday, after which they move to the British embassy. Then Churchill will make a short visit to Ottawa.

Cradle to Car to Casket Is Pattern For Life Today Says Lanark Lady, 103

LANARK, Ont. (CP)—"From the cradle, to the car, to the casket," marks the pattern of life today, says Mrs. Jennie Majaury, 103 years old today.

People can't go across the road without a car, she said, and the body isn't given a proper chance. As a result, people won't live to ripe old ages anymore, the spry great-great-grandmother said.

Mrs. Majaury was taken for a plane ride on her birthday last year, but she was disappointed.

Mrs. Majaury lives with her son on a farm in the community of Ottawa. She has 59 grandchildren, 134 great-grandchildren, and 11 great-great-grandmother said.

Accused Given Six Months On Theft Charge

Magistrate T. Y. Wills, in Hastings County Court Thursday handed out a sentence of six months imprisonment on Claude Squire, 38, Frankford, for theft of an outboard motor engine and a fuel tank at Frankford, June 18.

Charged jointly with Squire on the theft was Percy Spratt, 17, also of Frankford, who was bound over for a five-year probation period.

OPP Constable A. -F. Cockburn told the court that the motor, stolen from Orser Ferrar, Frankford, was valued at about $300, had received about $42 damage when recovered.

"Both of the accused admitted the theft," he said.

Squire has had several convictions to his record, which Magistrate Wills described as "pretty continuous."

Binding over Spratt, the magistrate ordered him to make good the amount of damage done the motor and imposed $22 costs on him.

Interment took place in Belleville cemetery.

WILLIAM H. JOHNSTON

The funeral of William Henry Johnston was held from the chapel of the Belleville Funeral Home, Corner Colonial Home, Thursday afternoon. Rev. Harold Griffin conducted the service in the funeral home and at the graveside in White Lake cemetery.

Bearers, all sons of the deceased, were: Alec, Russell, Herbert, Duncan, Herman and Henry Johnston.

MRS. GEORGE L. SWENOR (Point Anne)

Mrs. Ida Celesta Swenor, widow of George Louis Swenor and one of the oldest residents of Point Anne, died suddenly at her home Thursday evening, June 24. She was in her 75th year.

The deceased was born in Ameliasburgh township, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ephram Carey. She lived almost her whole lifetime in Point Anne.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Dan (Eva) MacDonald, Point Anne; Mrs. Basil (Mary) McKendrick, Belleville; Mrs. Eric (Elizabeth) Groom, Hamilton, and two sons, Harry, of Toronto, and Clayton, of Toronto. Also surviving her are 27 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

She was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, Point Anne, a member of the Church Guild as well as active in church work when her health permitted.

CHARLES ANDREW MURPHY

He was born at Steenburg, 80 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy and lived his entire life in that community. Murphy's Corners on the old Hastings Road, was a favorite stopping place for the tourists until Highway No. 62 was built but many still went the old road to have a talk with their friend, "Charlie" Murphy.

The late Mr. Murphy grew up in the lumber industry in the North Hastings area and carried on that industry until his retirement in 1940. He was a man of sterling qualities, a kind friend and a good neighbor and his death will be sincerely regretted by a wide circle of friends.

He was a member of St. Philomena's Church at Ormsby and took an active part in the parish work. Surviving are his wife, the former Mary Anne Mahoney; three daughters, Mrs. Francis (Mary) Calnan, of Steenburg; Mrs. Joseph (Madeline) Kelly, of Peterborough; Mrs. Ralph (Susan) Ackerman, of Belleville; five sons, Charles, Martin, Michael, John and William Murphy of Steenburg; two sisters, Mrs. Frank (Amelia) Kelly of Indian River; Mrs. Henry (Cecilia) Belisle, of North Battleford, Sask., and one brother, Patrick Murphy, Steenburg, and eight grandchildren.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition. (Canadian Catholic Register

Scale Model of Proposed Dam Thoroughly Tested, Satisfactory, Authority Told

Cost estimates of the proposed College Street ice control dam across the Moira River will be prepared immediately by the Canadian Engineering Company following a test of a scale model prepared for presentation to the Federal Government, to determine what share of the cost will be borne by Ottawa.

Speaking at a meeting of the Moira River Conservation Authority held in Madoc Thursday in connection with the annual tour of the watershed by Authority members, Mr. Herb Crown of the Department of Planning and Development for the Ontario government, said the scale model of the proposed dam had been thoroughly tested and proven satisfactory.

The scale model of the dam built at Carleton University was inspected by Authority officials early in May.

Mr. Crown said that the dam had been designed in the plan to allow for any surplus water to be carried around the dam and into the old stone quarry north of College street. The proposed site of the dam is about 300 feet north of the College street bridge.

Operation of the ice control dam is that two gates will be held back, while water is allowed to pass under the dam through the gates, which are then closed to regulate the flow of the river. Eleven feet of water will back the present channel will be impounded behind the dam.

Purpose of the dam is to alleviate spring floods in the downtown Belleville area, the city which would be the benefiting municipality, would pay 25 per cent of the cost of the dam.

WOULD NOT INTERFERE.

Due to the fact that water passes under not over the dam, there will be no need for fish ladders to allow the fish to go up the river.

Members of the Authority were brought up to date on the year's activities with committee reports being read by the various committee chairmen.

Zone forester W. E. Edwards of Napanee reported the Authority forest comprising 2,201 acres, including former Hastings county forest and Hungerford township reforestation tracts now has over half a million trees planted, mostly red and white pines. The actual count was 532,395 trees planted.

During the present year 31,150 red pine, 1,500 white pine and 1,500 spruce had been planted in the Potter Settlement area north of Tweed, while an additional 56,000 trees had been planted in the Flinton area in Lennox and Addington county, but still within the watershed. High school students and Boy Scouts assisted in the planting.

During the meeting members voted to take up an option on another 200-acre tract in the Potter Settlement at a cost of $1,200. An option will also be taken up on the Spencer farm in Sidney township near Holloway. Farm buildings will be sold from the farm and a gravel pit on the farm will be developed.

Don Bell, feildman for the Authority, noted that four farmers had used the Authority tree planter with 27,000 trees being planted. Purchase of the planter had been a successful venture with increased private use of the machine expected in future years.

DISCUSS FARM PONDS.

There was a brief discussion on farm ponds, it being noted that subsidy had been paid on two such ponds during 1953. Mr. Crown pointed out that farm ponds should measure up to certain standards before the Authority gave financial assistance. He recommended a standard of a minimum of 10,000 square feet of water area with a minimum depth of six to seven feet at the deepest point.

Witnesses Open 3-Day Convention

A. F. Danley, district supervisor from Toronto headquarters of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society is in the city this week. He will appear as the principal speaker at a three-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses starting today in the Collegiate auditorium.

The opening session of the assembly at 7 p.m. features Mr. Danley's initial address on "The Loving Way," this theme will be carried throughout the entire assembly. A theocratic ministry school session featuring local and out-of-town speakers will follow Saturday at 7:15 p.m. Mr. Danley will show a film entitled "The New World Society in Action." This film is educational and is shown without charge.

While all sessions of the convention are for public attendance the Witnesses request the public to attend Mr. Danley's key talk at 3 p.m. Sunday on the subject, "Is Civilization's End Near?"

Mr. Danley has just completed a six-weeks preaching tour in Quebec where he conducted four assemblies similar to the one now being held here. These assemblies received wide and favorable publicity by the newspapers of that province.

He also reports that despite Bill 38 passed by Mr. Duplessis to overcome the effects of Jehovah's Witnesses in Quebec, the Witnesses are expanding rapidly and are finding large literature in their preaching activities just as they are in this city.

Mr. Danley states that the assembly now being held in Belleville is a preliminary to the convention that will take place in Toronto at a later part of July where thousands are expected to convene. Mr. H. Knorr, president of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society will be delivering the main discourses.

New Water Supply From Tweed Well Now in Operation

The new water supply for Tweed, a 428 foot-well sunk into the limestone atop the hill to the east of the village, was put into operation.

After a week or so of testing during which time samples were taken and proved A-1, water was yesterday being pumped into the big storage tank for distribution and use through the village water mains.

Members of Tweed village council, headed by Reeve Clarence T. Graham, are particularly proud of their new well, which will provide more than an adequate supply of water for village requirements. The well was drilled along the hill alongside the storage tank where a great percentage of the villagers felt it was impossible to get water.

But three different water diviners at different times "spotted" the well site which Tweed got its water." Reeve Graham said Thursday.

"Tests have proven the water A-1 and it will not be necessary to use chlorine."

Although the new well will more than supply village water requirements, one of the present wells will be kept in use as the river will be retained, it was stated.

Airman Sent Down for Year For Car Theft

Desmond Belden, 19, stationed at the RCAF base, Trenton, Thursday, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment for car theft by Magistrate T. Wills, in Hastings County Court.

Victor Worthington, 18, airman with the RCAF at Camp Borden, who also appeared with Belden was sentenced to one month for theft of articles from the car.

Constable Kowal said Belden took the car from the RCAF base at Trenton, June 9, and drove in Camp Borden, abandoning it near the camp. Later with Worthington he drove out from the camp to the car, where they dismantled the licence plate and two wheels. They were then driven to A. Barrie, Ontario, and the articles recovered.

An RCAF officer from Trenton using Belden's car testified on record as "generally unsatisfactory."

Worthington leaving sentence the magistrate said it appeared that Worthington was "mainly a follower" in the crime.

Receives Call to Bar

Douglas Bateman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bateman, 230 George Street, received his call to the bar of the province of Ontario, Thursday, June 24, in ceremonies at Osgoode Hall and was admitted to the practice, of law and the title barrister, solicitor and notary public.

Mr. Bateman was born in Belleville, and educated at Queen Alexandra public school and the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. He graduated in' Arts from the University of Toronto in 1950.

He landed Osgoode Hall and for 14 months served his articles under D. Arnott, Q.C., of Belleville. During his final year he continued his articles with P. D. Wilson, Q.C., the official guardian for Ontario in a branch of the Attorney General's Department in Toronto.

He graduated from Osgoode Hall with first class honors.

He was married in 1951. Mrs. Bateman, the former Ingrid Wilson, of Toronto, has her Master of Arts degree in psychology from the University of Toronto and for the past year has been carrying out mental tests on students in Toronto for the Board of Education.

Mr. Bateman will practise law in Belleville in association with R. D. Arnott, Q.C.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP)—Western oils continued to lose ground in light forenoon trading today, but the rest of the stock market was fairly steady.

The oils index dropped more than a half-point in the first hour, losses encountered gains two to one. Most price changes were pennies.

Pivot-hour trading was 355,000 shares.

The industrial board moved narrowly ahead with strength in papers, miscellaneous, foods, financial institutions and motors. Most price changes were small.

General Steel Wares dropped $1 to $13, a 1954 low, following announcement of a dividend decrease. Aluminium continued its steep climb of the last two days and hit a 1954 high of 64¼ at 11:15 a. m.

Base metals were strong in both seniors and juniors. The gold board was weak in seniors but other groups moved ahead strongly.

Uraniums were strong. Bathurst issues steady and Manitouwadge stocks weak.

PRODUCE MARKET

The egg market was firm with offerings light for a good demand. Quotations on graded eggs in fibre cases: A large 47-48; A medium 42; A small 37-38; B 30; C 26-27. Wholesale to retail: A large 52-53; A medium, 47; A small 32-33; B 35; C 21-32.

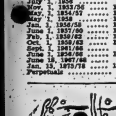
Canada Thistle Persistent Pest

The growth of Canada Thistle (Cirsium Arvense) in any year may depend on unusual weather conditions says the Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It is a deep-rooted perennial with underground root stalks. It is very persistent and can cause a great deal of trouble in crop lands. The purple flowers, that ripen over a long period of time, and the airborne downy seeds which are scattered far and wide, combine to make this weed difficult to control.

A word of warning — Those who have threshed or combined their crops when Canada Thistle is in full seed should realize that they are sowing their farm to this noxious plant. The feeding of grain contaminated with this weed seed has no effect on the germination of the seed, and grain that is not cleaned extremely well will carry Canada Thistle back to fields when used as seed.



Black summer fallow, where practical, will eradicate most of any infestation. This weed makes a small growth in the first year and may lie close to the ground. If the weed is sprayed in the fall the growth for the next year that produces seed will be eliminated. All growth of from six to eight inches should be sprayed, using at least 16 ounces acid of 2-4-D per acre. Spraying should be done for some distance around the plants to ensure that all new shoots are destroyed. Legumes will also be destroyed but grass will stay over when thistles are removed.

Mowing and cutting are always good advice, as preventing seed production is a major factor in the control of all weeds. Good cultivation, that will bring root stalks to the surface is recommended. Canada Thistle is at the weak stage at budding. That is the best time to attack it.

Weekly Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP) — Higher cattle prices prevailed on all slaughter classes except cows and bulls this week at the Ontario stockyards.

The supply of steers opened 25 cents a hundredweight higher and was inadequate for buyers' demands. Heifers and fed yearlings were steady and supply was insufficient for demand.

On Monday's opening trading cows lost 50 cents a hundredweight and at the week's close there were still some sale bulls toward with cows $1.50 lower and bulls $1 lower for the week; veal calves held steady; hogs, sows and stags lost $3 a hundredweight; sheep and lambs were unchanged.

The bulk of the cattle run, 6,977 cattle, was made up of cows, bulls and yearlings; choice steers, 1,100 weights, $19.50-20.50; a few small lots at $21; good steers $18.50-19.50; mediums down to $17; good heifers $17-18; a few sales $18.50; steady; hogs, sows and stags lost $3 a hundredweight; sheep and lambs were unchanged.

AN OLD EXCUSE.

Monday evening representatives of the Bay of Quinte District High School Board requested that west College street be widened, because the new Quinte secondary school will open this September.

They were told that no provision had been made in the year's budget for this work.

This Department of Municipal Affairs might consider waxing a few discs of this "no provision in the budget" theme and renting them to municipalities. They would speedily attain province-wide distribution, and would be permanent fixtures on the hit parade.

If any person is tempted to stage a party to introduce opticians to municipal engineers, it might be added that this lack of foresight, in almost every case, does not originate around the draughting boards, but is caused by the appropriate first squint elected representatives take at the appropriate tax rate before the budget is trimmed.

SEVENTY YEARS OLD—AND STILL GROWING.

It was in June of 1884 that it originated, with 54 members. This month the Chamber reports its membership at an all-time high of 500. Seventy years old—and still growing! That is a healthy sign.

Incidentally, although the name organization as that is born in 1884, the Chamber of Commerce has changed its name in the interim. It was originally called the Belleville Board of Trade. But in 1920 the name was changed to the Chamber of Commerce. There are now few Boards of Trade left.

CATCHING FLIES.

We have been reading, of late, about the deepening of the furrows in the brows of men of science, as they prime up their test tubes for another round in their battle with the fly.

DDT has failed, proving the fly's ability to develop immunity to the deadly deposits skimmed from the witches' brew in the laboratories of the world.

So the search goes on. And meanwhile hundreds of Quinte district householders, angling in the early morn, see the solution right before their eyes.

All you have to do to catch flies is paint a widow in the evening, then let Robert Saunders' Hydro provide the light that lures.

ACTION ON "COMICS" NEEDED.

There has been a great to-do in all sections of Canadian society, including the House of Commons, on the moral problems posed by crime and sex "comics." Various groups have contended that these publications are not only entertainingly offensive but also contribute to juvenile delinquency by implanting details of physical and moral crimes in the minds of children incapable of resistance.

The weight of evidence presented by responsible persons investigating such allegations shows that these charges are true. The government has taken appropriate action in many cases banning the importation of such "comic" books from the United States. Publishers, however, have circumvented the law by importing the printing plates only, printing and distributing this trash without being hampered by violation of import regulations.

No one who pauses casually in any newsstand can fail to be impressed by the staggering number of these publications on display. Their sordid contents are blatantly advertised by lurid covers, usually portraying great appeasers of the sadistic and morbid tendencies. Elimination of such material, while desirable, is difficult as long as parents and those concerned with the welfare of children fail to take effective action against publishers printing such books and as long as law enforcement agencies delay enforcement of legislation which can curb distribution.

RADICAL-SOCIALIST NO RADICAL SOCIALIST.

This is an old story, but just for the record we should like to remind our readers that Pierre Mendes-France, the Radical-Socialist who is the new premier of France, is neither a radical nor a socialist and emphatically not a radical socialist.

Monsieur Mendes-France belongs in the centre of the French political scene, his political beliefs being somewhat similar to those of a Liberal in English-speaking countries —or rather in those English-speaking countries where Liberals are still liberals.

WEAK IN THE HEAD.

Two New York University physicians have a look at their own satisfaction and that of the New York State Boxing Commission, that blows on the head do not make a boxer punch drunk.

If a boxer is punch drunk, they say, the chances are that hereditary factors played a greater role in his condition than the blows he has taken.

This confirms a widely held suspicion among laymen that a man must be weak in the head to decide to make a living by hiring out his head as a punching bag.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

JUNE 25, 1934

Dr. J. Albert Faulkner's official majority as Liberal candidate in Hastings-Peterboro in the recent Provincial elections, over Mr. W. H. Ireland of Trenton, the Conservative candidate and the former member of the legislature for fifteen years, has been announced as 1,119 votes in a total vote of 18,075 from 80 polls in the riding. The official figures were released by the Returning Officer, Mr. D. W. Rollins. More persons voted in the election on June 19th in the riding of West Hastings than in any previous election, owing to the available machine for registering voters by the addition of votes from a part of the former riding of North Hastings, now a part of East Hastings, and also owing to greatly increased interest in the election. The total vote was 7,047 as against 6,286 in 1930, and as against 4,826 in 1926. Trenton likewise showed a much increased vote the last time, there being 3,234. Sidney, Frankford and other municipalities showed increases owing to greater interest. Belleville's huge vote of 7,047 was given from an available vote of about 8,426. The following polls gave Dr. Faulkner majorities as follows: Belleville 1,095; Trenton 482; Sidney 267; Frankford 124; Tweed and Lake 26; Faraday 65; Herschel 52. The following polls gave Mr. Ireland the majorities as follows: Stirling 132; Rawdon 283; Marmora Village 82; Deloro Village 51; Wollaston 17; Bancroft Village 29; McClure 66. The following polls had spoiled ballots: Belleville 84; Trenton 56; Stirling 6; Rawdon 5; Marmora Village 2; Marmora Township 10; Wollaston 1; Wollaston 0; Faraday 3; Bancroft 8; Herschel 1; McClure 1—Total 216.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The man who comes and fixes the oil burner in the dead of winter was in a state of high indignation yesterday when he called. He had been working in a house occupied by new Canadians, and he objected to what he saw as probrious term of DPs; and they had roused his ire.

"The woman scolded me," he said, "for the poor workmanship of our Canadian craftsmen. She assured me such clumsy workmanship and such second-rate materials were unknown in the old Europe, where she came from. After she pointed out all the weaknesses of the TV set, she took me into the kitchen and showed me her refrigerator with its defective door latch, then she raised and lowered windows to demonstrate how badly they were fitted. Canada, she says, moves mediocre workmanship. Such things as these would never be tolerated in Europe.

"So I suppose you called her a liar?" I suggested.

"I had to hold myself, the repair man admitted. "I don't want to be fired for being saucy to customers. But I did agree with her, as politely as I knew how, that she had made a great mistake in coming to Canada instead of staying in Europe. I admitted Canada was a very flimsy sort of country, and I supposed, after another few months of it, she would be going back to a country where workmanship was workmanship."

"What did she do?"

"She gave me a dirty look, and slammed the door," said the repair man." What gripes me now is all the things I could have said to her and didn't."

"Such as?"

"Aw, the heck with it," said the repair man. "Let's have a look at this TV set of yours. How many times do I've been here?"

"Six," said I.

Optimists Numerous

(Financial Times, Montreal)

Bulls on the stock market are optimists and, on the other hand, bears are pessibists. Any stock broker will tell you that bulls outnumber bears many times over; which is doubtless the reason why we have optimist clubs and no pessimist clubs. Further evidence of this preponderance of optimists in the world is now being seen in the number of people who are planning when to take their summer vacations: where they are going to go and what they are going to do—all without any clear indication that we are going to have a summer this year.

On Appointments to Bench

(Montreal Gazette)

When Lord Jowitt was Lord Chancellor from 1946 to 1951 he appointed 79 per cent of the judges in England, and only one of them belonged to his own political party. Indeed, he was once heard to remark that nothing would cause him greater embarrassment than the appointment of members of his own political party to the Bench.

It was an admirable attitude. But perhaps it is also a counsel of perfection. In this country it has been the practice to take into rather serious consideration the political associations of a lawyer before appointing him a judge. There have been, it is true, outstanding exceptions. But this admirable exceptional practice only emphasized the unfortunate rule.

But there can be excesses even in the exercise of the unfortunate rules. And it becomes a very disturbing excess indeed when a lawyer appointed to the Bench is abruptly translated from the making of laws to the interpretation of them. This becomes something more than an unfortunate practice; it becomes a violation of essential principle.

The foundation of democracy rests, ultimately, be guaranteed if the lawmakers are themselves subject to the impartial authority of the judiciary. And this essential guarantee can be best assured only if the makers of the laws and the interpreters of them are not identified in their persons or in their functions.

This point has been made time and time again by the most eminent constitutional jurists. It appears in the book entitled "Freedom Under the Law," by Lord Bryce, famous in England. And it emphasizes that history teaches a fundamental truth.

"It is that the executive Government must never be absolutely necessary. It must always be subject to the will of the people; there must be judges in the land that are 'no respecters of persons.'"

But even if the essential principle is violated, there are degrees of its violation. It becomes serious enough if a member of Parliament moves from the House to the Court. It is more serious still if that member of Parliament does not even leave the chamber of the cabinet, with all the special responsibility for government actions which that involves. And it is still more serious if the appointment is made to the highest court of all—a court of last resort.

Perhaps in this such an appointment would be particularly unsettling because the Supreme Court of Canada is now performing a function which it was never intended to perform under the British North America Act. It was not intended to be a court of last resort. It was not beyond it to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England could be made either after the Supreme Court had given judgment, or directly, without prior reference to the Supreme Court.

Because the Supreme Court was not intended to be a court of last resort, the federal Government was given the authority for the "maintenance and organization."

It was not until 1875, eight years after Confederation, that the federal Government decided to set up such a court. And it was recognized that this court should exercise jurisdiction in controversies between the Dominion and the provinces only if the legislature of a province should pass an act agreeing to such legislation.

Now, however, the Supreme Court has been given an absolute authority by the action taken by the federal Government to abolish appeals to the Privy Council. It is generally agreed in Canada that Canada should have the right to settle such matters in its own borders, in the same way that Canada now has the right to amend its own constitution. But the procedure for attaining both of these ends is difficult.

For this very reason, appointments to the Supreme Court have now an importance that they never had in the past. The responsibility of the federal Government has become abruptly profoundly great. The judges in this court when they disagree on important appeals will have to sit in judgment on each other, which is a situation that will itself be a party. For these reasons the principle of separation between the Bench and the Bench must be more than ever respected today.

It may, of course, be suggested, and quite justly, that a member of the Bench who is in fact a member of the Bench who is in fact a member in political life for many years will be better suited to judicial function, prove entirely capable of putting all former interests, allegiances, prejudices or influencies entirely out of his mind.

It is never wise, however, to confuse possibilities with probabilities. The important principle is that the Cabinet should be one body and the Bench another, and that the separation between the two be best respected by the highest standard.

And this necessity is profoundly more important today than it has ever been before because of the increased in the highest in the land.

It is hard to believe that any violation of so fundamental a principle is now contemplated, or would ever be contemplated at any time, by any federal Government in this country.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

JUST BELIEVE AND BE GLAD

How little any of us realizes the power of the mind and heart. Every day and every hour and every minute we are building up our health and happiness. In more than one sense are we the architect of our fate. We are forever given to you an intelligent reason for not being worrying!

Dr. Charles Mayo, of the famous Mayo brothers who run a world-famous institution at Rochester, Minn., for repairing the human body, once said something like this: "Worry affects the circulation, the heart, the glands, the whole system. It kills, and profoundly affects the health. I have never known a case of worry that did not begin with a man who died from doubt."

People who worry are always obsessed with doubts, and lack that most potent life-giving element—faith. Just believe and be glad, and folks will wonder where you get the health and happiness that is so evident with you. We've been blessed with life that we should live abundantly because of our choosing not to whine about the fact that we have worry, and that things look tough ahead.

Our great structures are built with faith by architects, engineers and by engineers who make a study of the principles underlying foundations." Just so with the human frame. It must have tough bones, the nerves of steel. It must be give it integrity, courage and lack of worry. Just believe that the circumstances is the diamond, yet when pounded by the hammers of hardship.

The lined and weather-beaten face is evidence of the strong qualities of character that are found acquired over the years by those who live it. More than one book of ours give a picture of what we are, and reveal to others just how much we think of such a marvelous gift from God. A good motto for you and me to be always to believe—and be glad!

Personal Health Talks

POETIC LICENCE OR PROFESSIONAL PRIVILEGE?

May God bless you and keep you ..... Five doctors told me I would never have a child, due to the horrible cramps I suffered, each month Fertiles (Mrs. R. B., St.) I'm a no-e 44, and have one son 20 the doctor gave birth to perfect twin girls 2 years ago and also have a daughter 5 years old. (R. B. E.)

Dr. Brady

I don't receive as many God Bless You letters that I can afford to feel anything less than grateful for one. For that matter I'm grateful for 'Bless you.' It is a special file with other God Bless You letters, and whenever criticisms and complaints get me in a what's the use mood I'll open the file and read a few of the treasured letters, and get right back in there pitching. Pitching what? Dear Dr. Brady.

Had Mrs. S. said a doctor or even two doctors told her she would never have a child, one might consider it likely. But 5 hard to believe that five doctors would make such an arbitrary and unreasoned decision as even though the patient had cramps from New Year to Christmas.

A great many young women whose physical education has been neglected (not so many today as fifty years ago, perhaps, but still too many) suffer from monthly cramps (dysmenorrhea) in their teens and later, but most of them eventually become mothers.

It may well be that Mrs. E. misunderstood what the five doctors told her. A good many patients, without any conscious intention of misrepresenting the doctor's opinion or advice, do sometimes get an impression different from what the doctor meant to convey.

Menstruation is a function, not a weakness nor an illness. A normal young woman should continue her ordinary everyday activities, work or play. It should not prevent her from swimming, skating, skiing, dancing.

Sometimes mothers their young daughters out in the wrong way, encouraging them to regard menstruation as an illness which warrants spending a day or so in bed each month. This is bad hygiene.

A sensible mother regards the menstrual function in a wholesome way. It is not a "curse". At worst it is merely an inconvenience.

An intelligent woman consults a physician about any menstrual trouble. A moron resorts to painkillers, sedative headaches, narcotics or alcohol, straight booze or medicated.

Little Glass Goes Long Way

(BBC News-Letter).

"Take three ordinary glass marbles and stretch them out in a thread from John G'Coats to Land's End. Perhaps you'll say to yourself, as I did, that's something very like it, is the basis of a new industry in Lancashire", said a BBC industrial correspondent, in a recent broadcast. It is possible to draw molten glass into a thread that only a few marble provides more than two hundred miles of thread, thread so exceedingly fine that five hundred strands twisted together would be only as thick as a human hair. The machine used to produce this industrial 'gossamer' is simple. The glass is melted in small platinum furnaces, each costing fifteen hundred pounds and forms being drawn off by reasonable output, and marbles are used as raw material because they can be easily fed into the furnaces. As the glass comes out of the furnace it forms into blobs in the base of the furnaces and into a thread something like a steam-moving almost as fast as the speed of sound. This great drought draws the thread out and the faster the steam flows the finer grows the thread. It is the factory to control it so that it makes a yarn looking like shining silk or a tumbler mat of fibres and this can be as thick or thin as the maker wishes. Enough said as the manufacturer wishes.

Mycock says that the yarn being made in a factory equipped in much the same way as an ordinary factory but in it they were making extraordinary things. Interlaced with plastic the glass fibre is used for boats and fishing rods, for tanks, for chemicals, for electrical trades and motor-car bodies. Made into fluffy substance it is used in many ways for insulation against heat, moisture and noise. It is used in the new air airliners; it lines the walls of refrigerators and cold rooms; makes a perfect filter material; is used by the Royal Navy to line wells; goes as filler material for air conditioning plants and keeps out water and corrosion round pipes. Millions of yards have been wrapped round oil pipes in the Middle East and its possibilities are by no means exhausted.

Vancouver Dogs Vicious

(Vancouver Sun)

Many city deliverymen will applaud the warning of Postmaster James Turner that mail services may be curtailed at homes where dogs attack postmen.

Private firms often feel they can't control dogs or provide customers who fail to keep their dogs under control. But the post office is in a different role in that no postman needs to deliver mail at premises that he rule Mr. Turner will invoke in future attacks by dogs.

His order of 40 cases of dogbite so far this year in the Vancouver postal district indicates that a great many dogs aren't under any control at all when they leave their homes every day as bitten so frequently.

These dogs have taken having in halls to bite postmen's fingers when they push mail through the slot.

Dogs have attacked postmen in verandahs or homes where the dogs don't belong.

Good Example By Old Crab

(Christian Science Monitor)

"Now, don't be an old crab!" is a frequent injunction to someone ills or a little peevish, but a pleasant suggestion. The Newark (New Jersey) Museum, however, has a specimen that is no longer only old but fossilized. Museum officials say that it was found somewhere from a million to 50 million years.

The fossil, about six inches across, is the first found on a New Jersey beach, though a few fairly common on the Texas Gulf Coast. Probably the crab, when alive, looked much better reputation than it has, for most species like to keep out of the way of human beings and only snap when cornered.

If humans were corresponding-ly considerate of their own kind and tried even to be as agreeable as a crab is in a crabmeat salad instead of being touchy and being called crabs. And if we just can't manage to act like a salad, perhaps we can learn to be fossilized crab. It keeps its mouth shut.

C.N.R. Reports Sharp Decline in Revenue

MONTREAL — The downward trend in earnings reported by the Canadian railways since the first of the year is again reflected in the statement released here by the Canadian National Railways for the month of May.

In May operating revenues dropped to $33,587,000, a decrease of $7,633,000 compared with the corresponding month of last year. Operating expenses this year were $31,701,000. Last year they totalled $50,014,000.

Aggregate figures for the first five months of 1954 show a falling off in gross revenues of $37,-680,000. Expenses were reduced $20,003,000, and the result is a decrease in net revenues of $7,-585,000, compared with the corresponding period of 1953.

Committee Rules Stewart Owns Chatham Players

TORONTO (CP) Status of Chatham and Sarnia in Ontario Hockey Association Senior A group next winter became complicated Thursday when an OHA sub-committee, meeting with the senior council here, ruled that last season's Chatham players and franchise are the property of Jack Stewart who resigned as Chatham playing-manager.

Stewart proposes entering a team from Sarnia. Chatham must apply for a franchise if it intends to fly a team under the management of Wren Blair, of Oshawa.

Five clubs filing entries and posting $2,000 bond were Owen Sound Mercurys, Kitchener Dutchmen, Niagara Falls Cataracts, Windsor Bulldogs and Stratford Indians.

Tentative plans call for the season to open Oct. 22.

Stewart was granted until July 4 to decide about a Sarnia entry.

TIGER BOOTER FROZEN

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association executive meets July 17 to name Canada's representatives in 1955 world hockey championship in Europe. During the interval members of the Hamilton Tigers, active in operations for the season, have been frozen, Dominion OHA decision, and will be disposed of at a July 30 meeting.

George Redding, Hamilton coach, announced George McGinn and two other players had been released and Jack Taylor sold to Owen Sound.

The annual all-star game was set for Owen Sound, with tentative date Oct. 16.

Weekly salary limit per team was fixed at $1,250 for each club, with penalty of $1,000 set if auditor finds violation in club books. Such fine would be paid by OHA, plus bond to the required $2,000 before entering the following season's competition.

MARMORA

Members of C.C. Take Annual Resort Tour

Thence they proceeded to Nephton where a full hour was spent inspecting the Nephoine mine. They were much interested in this industry and also found the panoramic views from the Blue Mountain to be charming.

The last stretch of their journey took them back to Marble Point Lodge, Crowe Lake, where the proprietor W. A. Peters and his staff served an appetising buffet supper to the gathering now increased to 96.

Following the supper, many remained for the dance which had been planned.

Mining Men Are Optimistic About Progress of Blind River

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BLIND RIVER, Ont. (CP)—Mining men with a stake in uranium is going to make Blind River rich, formerly say "Show me."

The town started off as a lumbering community and its whole life has revolved around the magnificent stands of white pine that stretched for miles to the north of the Little Mason shore.

Mining prospectors have come and gone. So went the town's fortunes. Depressions, fires, speculations and debts conditioned the town to hard knocks. Now Blind river is in the centre of a new uranium field. The town is trying not to be impressed.

But the mining men chuckle. Their optimism over the development of both the field and the town is backed by the financial and physical resources they are using to bring the field into production some time next year.

"The people of Blind River just don't know what's coming," said Bob Hart, manager of Algom Uranium.

HUGE DEVELOPMENT

Already Algom and Pronto Uranium have spent $500,000 in the field. Of this $250,000 was spent in Blind River itself, said Mr. Hart. J. S. Hirshorn, Toronto and New York financier whose resources are behind both companies, said a $15,000,000 development program has been outlined.

He termed the 56-mile long field a "mining man's dream."

The site of the Pronto shaft, now being prepared on an outcropping overlooking Lake Huron, is only one mile from the CPR line and the north shore highway.

Here already has been outlined an ore body of 2,500,000 tons. A daily production of 1,000 tons is planned. The ore grade runs from .11 in Pronto to .13 in Algom, small in comparison to the fields in northeastern Saskatchewan where the uranium content runs to .25.

HANDY FOR TRANSPORT

But Mr. Young says the location of the mine will keep production costs comparatively low.

The ore will be leached at the mine site and shipped by truck to the rail line or highway.

To the north lies the Quirke and Elliott Lake fields, also of Algom Uranium. Mr. Hart says diamond drillers have outlined a 5,000,000-ton ore body at Quirke and 3,000,000 tons on the eastern end of the Elliott lake field.

Bulldozers are pushing a 33-mile road over swamp and rock to the Quirke lake site. As at Pronto, the ore will be leached at the Quirke lake mine and shipped south by truck. Production is planned at 5,000 tons.

Algom's headquarters now are located at Elliott Lake in the basement of CAPT Mattaini, manager of Lac-Goma Air Ways. The uranium rush proved a bonanza for Mr. Mattaini, whose fleet of seaplanes is on the go every flying hour, transporting drilling sites, as well as supplying tourist camps with supplies and customers.

UNDERWATER REPORTS

OSLO (CP)—The first group of five Norwegian to be trained by the Oslo police gave a demonstration in harbor rescue work at this Norwegian capital. The underwater experts will be ready to answer emergency calls on an organized system shortly.

TRAIN AVIATORS

KARACHI (CP)—As a part of the Colombo plan program Pakistan is training Malayan officers in air traffic control at the Karachi air training centre. The trainees spend 10 weeks under a system similar to that of a residential technical college.

PRESERVES SCENERY

LONDON (CP)—The ministry of housing and local government rejected an application to set up a 85-acre camp for caravans in the scenic lake district at Staveley, Lancashire.

INDEPENDENT HOUSEWIVES

PLYMOUTH, Eng. (CP)—Housewives here opposed a gas board plan to start a stove-cleaning service. They said that "doing too much for the housewife might make her lazy."

ACCOMMODATION PROBLEM

However, present accommodation for the mine personnel is creating a problem. Because the Blind River district is a popular tourist area, prices are geared to the tourist's pocketbook, says Mr. Young.

Most tourist camp operators refuse to reduce their rates during the summer.

"But they don't realize that in the first run it would pay them to do it," the mine manager claimed.

Mr. Young said the Blind River businessmen are "hurting themselves" by not selling goods to the mine at prices equal to those of Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie. As a result, the mines were buying more outside.

The rush to Blind River took place after Hirshorn and companies moved in secretly to stake claims, black claims on the word of Franc Joubin, head of Technical Mine Consultants who discovered the field for S-shaped field to the north and east of the town.

WELL-KEPT SECRET

Even Louis Berthelot, the town's mayor, didn't know what was going on.

"When we asked them what they had found, they said it was just a little copper."

But Mr. Joubin, who noted the structural similarity between the fields in Blind River and Orange Free State, South Africa, talked Mr. Hirshorn into investing $30,-000 to study the field.

The investment paid off. Preston Earl Dome Mines, owners of one of Canada's producing gold mines of which Mr. Hirschorn and Mr. Joubin are directors, staked many properties, now held by Algom Uranium. Pronto holds the southern end of the field, site of the original discovery.

Once the news leaked out, hundreds of hardened and amateur prospectors moved in and the town enjoyed a mild boom. Hotel accommodation was, and still is, scarce. Dressed rooms in private homes are not available at any price.

One resident who used to collect $13 a month rent for a dilapidated shack, now gets $65.

Mr. Hart said the mines intend to create friendly relations with the town.

"They will soon realize that we are definitely here to stay."

But George McArthur, 75-year-old solicitor and a Blind River resident for 33 years, remembers when many residents lost thousands of dollars in copper mining ventures in the area during the last few years. He is watching the new uranium development with a skeptical eye.

"I always say, if you have to spend $10,000 to get $5,000 out of the ground, don't waste your time. I hope they make a liar out of me."

PRECIOUS PEBBLE

BACK IN 1825 the British scientist Gerstel produced the first pebble of metallic aluminum. Half a century passed before a technique was discovered for turning out the metal in quantity.

Modern processing of bauxite ore to main ingredient alumina uses fantastic quantities of power. That is why Canada is one of the world's major aluminum suppliers. In Quebec province, smelters at Arvida, Shawinigan Falls, Isle Maligne and Beauharnois last year used nearly one-fifth of the country's total electrical output. And in British Columbia new sources of water power are feeding the hot lines of the new smelter at Kitimat. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Weddings

RAPINO—WAY

A quiet, but pretty wedding was solemnized in St. John's United Church, Tweed, by the Rev. W. K. Pace, at 2.30 p.m., on Wednesday afternoon, June 16, when Shirley Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Way, became the bride of Walter Joseph James Rapino, of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rapino, of Belleville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose an afternoon dress of ivory faille taffeta, small ivory flower hat, with matching accessories, and carried a bouquet of Rapture roses.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Beverley Way, gowned in green faille taffeta, similarly styled, and wore a bandeau of the same material with flower trim.

Mr. Gordon Mifflin, of Whitby, was groomsman.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, which was attractively decorated with pink and white peonies and pink roses. Later, the couple left on a wedding trip to the New England States, and on their return will reside in Belleville.

HILL—RODD

The Pentecostal Tabernacle, Dyndiligas, was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday, June 19, at 2.30 p.m., when Mary Henrietta Rodd, Kingston, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rodd, Kingston, was united in marriage to Roger Theodore Hill, Shannonville, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hill, Shannonville.

Rev. J. Bennett officiated at the ceremony.

The church was nicely decorated with baskets of summer flowers and streamers and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Post, of Napanee.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a floor-length gown of heavy white bridal satin. The off-the-shoulder neckline was trimmed with lace and pearls, and the long sleeves came to points over the wrists. The gown had a hoop underskirt, which was covered with small rows of lace. The satin overskirt was caught up at intervals with small satin bows, which allowed the lace to show in a peek-a-boo effect, which was very pretty. Her headdress was a coronet of braided satin and her fingertip veil was appliqued with tiny seed pearl hearts. Her only jewelry was a three-strand pearl choker. She carried a bouquet of red roses and fern.

Mrs. Eva Brant, Belleville, matron of honor, chose a pink taffeta gown with net overskirt. Her gown had a sweetheart neckline and pearl buttons down the bodice, with a wide pink sash, which tied in a bow at the back to give a bustle effect. She wore a matching pink Juliet hat and pink lace gloves, and carried a nosegay of roses, carnations and fern.

Mrs. Thomas Hill, Jr., only sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing an off-the-shoulder gown of mauve taffeta, trimmed with ruffles of mauve net on the skirt and skirt. She wore a Juliet hat of mauve net, mauve gloves and carried a nosegay of roses, carnations and fern.

Miss Carol Ann Hill, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a floor-length gown of white taffeta, with a bodice of white net. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Mr. Thomas Hill, Jr., only brother of the bride, was groomsman. Mr. Thomas Hill, Sr., Shannonville, only brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Harold Noyes, Carrying Place, brother-in-law of the groom, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Shannonville. The bride's mother received wearing a light blue crepe dress with rhinestone trim, white and pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and fern. The bridegroom's mother, wearing a royal blue suit, with white accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations and fern, assisted.

For travelling to Niagara Falls and other western points, the bride was attired in a suit of pale blue, with a pearl design on one side of the bodice, and following through with the pearl motif, she wore a white pique hat with pearl trim, white gloves, shoes and purse. She wore a corsage of red roses.

The couple will reside in Shannonville.

Prior to her marriage the bride was the recipient of some lovely gifts from the members of the Hield Brothers' Textile plant, in Kingston, where she was formerly employed.

St. Michael's R.C.D. Launches 'Regis Club Day'

The members of St. Michael's Regis club held their final day of activities for the season last Thursday.

This "Regis Club Day" was launched with a communion breakfast in the Knights of Columbus Hall after the 8:30 mass. Rev. F. J. Murphy, spiritual director of the club, was present and welcomed them in attendance.

Guest speakers from Kingston were, Anne Marie McCormick, associate editor of the "Canadian Register," together with Marie Chauvin, Ozzie Fisher and Jack LeFrance. "The Lay Apostolate" was the topic of their panel discussion.

The thanks of the club were extended to the speakers by Dianne Upper.

In the afternoon members of the club journeyed by bus and car to Presqu'ile Point for a picnic.

The club met in the Knights of Columbus Hall in the evening for their last business meeting of the season, with president Jack Fitzpatrick in the chair.

They were privileged in having as their guest speaker, Rev. J. J. Buckley, pastor of St. Joseph's parish in Belleville, who was introduced by Father Murphy. Father Buckley expressed the thanks of the club to Father Buckley for his interesting address.

Following the business meeting, a social evening was enjoyed.

Mrs. Varcoe Elected Pres. Of Study Guild

The June meeting of the Women's Study Guild was held in the home of Mrs. Varcoe, Mills, Trent Road, on Monday evening. A delicious pot luck supper on the spacious lawn over-looking the bay was an annual variation and provided an inspiring setting.

Annual reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. W. A. Campbell, by Mrs. George Wishart for the treasurer, Mrs. Harold Seldon, program convener, Mrs. A. R. Fewtrell; press, Mrs. W. Hurst.

The theme of the worship service centered on the Bible's call to cultivate the merry side of life. This was very effective. This was illustrated by many fine selections of prose and poetry and passages from the Bible.

Last summer one of the Guild members, Mrs. A. G. Smith, resided her home city of London, England, and saw the Coronation procession. Her descriptions as told informally to the group, provided a thrilling and inspiring program.

The beauty of clouds and moon and the personality of "Miss Canada" who happened to be a passenger on the plane all enhanced the rapture of one who was at the same time returning "home" after six years, making her first flight and going to the Coronation.

CORONATION CHEERING NOTE

The speaker said she had left a frustrated England and found on return a far different attitude. The Coronation was just what was needed to 'buck' up the people.

The decorations in the Strand and the Mall were magnificent, but the real decorations were in the little streets, done by ordinary people. These, the Queen and Duke made special visits to see following Coronation day.

All the arrangements were superb, everyone knowing exactly his or her place and task at 9, given time.

At ten minutes to six that morning the people walked to their places, the wireless broadcast the news of the sealing of Mt. Everest. That brought emotions to a pitch.

In the midst of broadcasts of orders, directions and news would come "Steve You left your pet at home without food and water!" Then the crowd was ready to cheer and back, even to cheer the litter-cleaners, to "rib" the guards with their poker faces. When at a given order these all took off their maskfhobes and their assistants were there displayed the whole scene changed.

Later, the crowds outside partook solemnly of the service in the Abbey. You felt you were part of something great. The coronation was not just a show, but a tonic, a sort of brotherhood.

Strawberry Festival Held by C.G.I.T.

Canniffon, Church school room was the scene of a busy and pleasant occasion on Tuesday evening when a strawberry festival was supported by the C.G.I.T. girls of Canniffon church. Pennies, candlesticks, Crown blossoms and Sweet Williams bloomed in all the windows and adorned the plates.

Tables were laid with red and white plaza mats and serviettes and decorated with vases of Orange blossoms and attractive red berries. Unfortunately, ice cream and cake were in abundance.

The uniformed C.G.I.T. girls served in red and white aprons and caps adorned with strawberries.

An attractive program of entertainment was also provided with all such interesting numbers as young Donnie Rose singing and playing his guitar in true poncho style; a solo by Carolyn Brenton; accordion music by Mrs. Mandy Mitchell, and a lovely number by the Mitchell daughters. In a way nothing of the C.G.I.T.'s own comic number and the beautiful ballet by Val Chappell.

The C.G.I.T. are truly grateful to all their guest artists and to the assistance given by everyone.

Life's Three Chairs Subject Of Address at Soroptimist Club

The Soroptimist club of Belleville, enjoyed its last dinner meeting of the summer in the Town Room, Dr. L. B. Matheson, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Riedel were special guests.

Mrs. Riedel enchanted the audience with her rendition of two solos "Summertime", from "Porgy and Bess", and "The Desert Song". Soroptimist Leona Riggs was the accompanist.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

In an impressive service marked with simplicity and dignity, Gladys MacDonald conducted the installation of the officers for 1954-55—immediate past president, Lauretta Sitland; president, Laura McLauchlin; 1st vice-president, Tillie Mazer; 2nd vice-president, Helen Symons; treasurer, Margaret Fairbairn; recording secretary, Dorothy Mallower; corresponding secretary, Frances Bennett; directors: Muriel York, Sally Caton, Thea Wheeler, Helen Keeler.

Concluding the ceremony, a lovely corsage was presented to the past president Lauretta, and the new president Laura, who was also the recipient of a gold Soroptimist pin.

and "Seeds of Destruction."

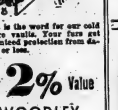
Conservation would not be necessary so long as man leaves nature alone. But in the broadly laid plans of making the land yield and yield without restoring that of which it is robbed, man upsets the balance of nature.

Mrs. Dan Smith read an interesting paper on "Algonquin Park Conservation", and Mrs. Floyd MacInnes gave "Current Events."

The hostess served refreshments and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Women's Institute

CHATTERTON W.I.



Chatterton W.I. met at Mrs. Ben Bleecker's home for the June meeting. The topic being "Agriculture." Mrs. Floyd MacInness presided and conducted the opening exercises.

Sixteen members answered the roll call.

Sick and shut-ins have been remembered with plants and chocolates. A Red Dollar donation is to be sent to the Blind.

Mrs. G. Irving gave the highlights of the Women's annual.

Mrs. Leonard Prest, convener of Agriculture, chose as her topic "Conservation" and asked "how many have read the articles in the local daily paper on this subject? She gave an informative talk on "The Living Earth," based on the films for Ontario school groups. This was under four reel titles—"The Birth of the Earth", "Vital Earth"; "Arteries of Life";

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

MARRIED 7 MONTHS, THEY "DON'T GET ALONG."

Miss Fairfax:

My wife and I have been married for seven months. I was in the army at the time we were married, and we had gone together for about four years before then.

Everything was fine until I got out of the army, and now we don't get along very well and I don't know what to do. One of the troubles is that I work at night, and she wants to go out all the time with her girl friend until one and two in the morning. This especially worries me because she is going to have a baby in about three months.

I am ashamed of myself for writing to you, for I think I should know what to do myself, but I can't seem to solve the problem and I want to save my marriage. — R.C.

Dear R.C.:

There are two ways of looking at the problem of yours. One is what is right call it. The other way is to look at the problem as a whole and trying to find out, if possible, just why you said your wife and are getting along. The other is to look at the immediate situation and see what can be done about keeping your wife from injuring her health by staying out till all hours of the night.

Let's take the second view first. Here I would suggest that you handle it by having a private talk with the doctor who is taking care of your wife and say if he can't control her actions by ordering her that, unless she keeps regular hours and lives properly, she might develop serious complications in her pregnancy that would affect the health of the coming child. Don't try to lay down the law to her yourself; let the doctor do it. He should know how to take care of the matter without revealing the fact that you had been to him about it.

As for the second angle of the problem, it seems to me the most important thing for you to do, and as soon as possible, would be to get a job where you work in the daytime instead of at night. If you were to do this, you might find that it magically solved the whole trouble, for it's very understandable that your wife should get lonely with you away every evening and not want to stay home alone.

Follow my two suggestions, if possible, and then let me know what happens. Things may really take a turn for the better.

WAIT A MINUTE, PAT—AREN'T YOU RUSHING THINGS?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

About a month ago I met a serviceman whom I am now seeing once or twice a week.

He is like him very much and somehow think I love him, but I don't know whether he loves me or not. He never seems to take things seriously, even though he promotimes kisses me, and one night we were parking and petted a lot. He says it is best not to take things too seriously so no one will get hurt.

I haven't gone out with anyone since I met him, and I'd like to know just how I stand with him. Is there any way for me to find out without his knowing?

I am almost 18 and he is a year and a half older.

Dear Pat:

Now wait a minute!

You've known this boy no more than a month, and already you're talking about his loving and wondering if he loves you! Don't you think you're rushing things? Also, don't you think it's pretty silly to stop going out with other boys?

Obviously, this chap considers your relationship purely on a casual friendship, and doesn't want it to be any more than that, and I think you would be well advised to adopt this same attitude toward him. Moreover, I advise you even more strongly to cut out the kissing and petting. All this sort of thing is interpreted in light romance, so come down to earth and keep things in proper perspective and him in his proper place.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

CARE OF THE STRINGLESS

A few years ago tweezing and waxing the eyebrows was a favorite holiday recreation—pretty weird designs resulting. Some brows tilted at one end, some at the other. The girl who couldn't find a stopping place debated here altogether, skeletoned in a faint line with a pencil. Like all beauty fads, however, there came an end to this one and now eyebrows are being allowed to assume their natural form. The young lady who hasn't learned that out is not keeping in touch with what is going on in the world of beauty.

Lend nature a hand by removing stray hairs on the border lines will be neat and even. And endeavor to create a design that is harmonious with the features.

One should take into consideration the shape of the eyes, the width and height of the forehead and also keep in mind that the brows should never be allowed to wander too far from the edge of the eye socket as this will rather rob the countenance of pleasing expression, create a mask-like appearance.

A common error is not to remove powder after application to the face. Eyebrow brush should be just as free as the implement of the toilet as the hair brush. A little brilliantine on the bristles will impart lustre—will keep the hairs in place.

If a darker color is desired one can use mascara or the crayon. There are four popular shades of eyebrow pencils with which to accent color; light, almost reddish, brown for blondes; medium brown for redheads and girls with dark hair; dark brown for the brunette with blue eyes; black for the girl with midnight hair and eyes of brown.

It is wise to experiment with the different shades. Apply the selected color only to the growth, being careful not to touch the underlying skin.

Readers' Friday Column

By Mary Moore

QUESTION:

. . . have you a recipe for old-fashioned pea soup with ham bone. . . the corn flakes pudding was good but I would like it again. They tell me I made a good baked rice pudding with eggs, but I think it can be improved on, if I had your recipe . . . your old-fashioned recipe without eggs is delicious.

Indeed you had much comment in your column on milk curdling in scalloped potatoes. I beat the milk before pouring on potatoes so never have any trouble. What causes an egg omelet to fall when it gets to the table. Mine rises nicely but as flat when served. Have used so many of your recipes and have had wonderful success. I could set that Scalloped Tomatoes every two weeks without getting tired of it. — Vera R. B.

ANSWER:

That scalloped tomatoes recipes came from my cooking school teacher of my youth. I think it's a honey too. You will have to let me know about the Corn Flakes pudding. I can't locate it. Are you sure it was flour? Did not mention when I appeared and what ingredients you can remember.

OLD-FASHIONED PEA SOUP

Wash 1 lb. yellow split peas in sieve and soak overnight in 3 cups cold water in cool place. Do not drain. Add 1 bay leaf, 1 medium small onion sliced thin, 1 stalk celery chopped finely, the ham bone (or if you do not have one, 3-inch cube fat salt pork chopped finely), 1 1-2 teaspoons salt, 1-8 to 1-4 teaspoon pepper (amount of pepper depends on your taste). Simmer until peas are tender and cooked to a mush. Fish out the bay leaf and the bone and taste, it may require more salt to suit your taste. I never strain but you because we like the bits of onion and celery in it. On the second day it is improved, and sometimes I change it a little I add milk or cream—especially if I want a stretch it—for it is quite thick on the second day.

I think to be successful a rice pudding with eggs has to be a custard type of pudding made with cooked rice. Here's a how:

BAKED RICE CUSTARD

One and one-half cups cooked rice, 1-3 cup brown sugar (or white if you prefer), 1 tablespoon butter, 2 eggs, 2 cups milk, 1-4 cup mixed raisins, currants and dates or just one of them, 1 teaspoon vanilla or grated lemon rind. Separate eggs then yolks of eggs and mix all ingredients except whites. Pour into buttered baking dish, and stand dish in larger dish containing hot water. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. until custard is set. Make a meringue by beating the whites until stiff then beating in 2 tablespoons sugar. Spread over baked pudding and return to oven to bake meringue until it is tinged with gold.

All omelets will fall as they begin to cool, when taken to table. There is no way to overcome it that I know of. The following recipe produces a puffy omelet that stays as well risen as possible.

FUFFY OMELET

Beat the yolks of 4 eggs until very light and lemon colored and add 1-4 teaspoon salt, shake of pepper and 1-4 cup milk. Beat the whites until they are stiff and will stand in soft peaks, not dry. Heat the heavy frying pan and add 2 tablespoons butter. When the butter is hot and bubbling, cut and fold the whites into the yolk mixture and immediately turn into pan, spread evenly, and reduce heat at once. Cook slowly until mixture is set, then place in moderate oven or under broiler is dry top off and very delicately brown. Grease through . . . meanwhile, carefully fold over and slip out onto hot platter. Serve at once. Chopped parsley added to the mixture when whites are folded in makes a pretty addition, and tastes good too.

CHILDREN CAN "STEAL THE SHOW"

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

I have two nephews, who look enough alike to be twins, and I would like to have them both as ring bearers. One to carry the bride's ring and the other to carry the groom's ring. I would like to have them dressed alike, in white suits. Is this permissible?

Reader

Yes, permissible, but somewhat on the fancy side. This procedure will have to be most carefully planned. And please realize, dear bride-to-be, that two children having such a dramatic part in the wedding can very easily "steal the show" from you, the bride. I've seen it happen many times . . . that the bride, over-enthusiastic about such a "cute" procedure beforehand, regretted her decision when it came about that all eyes were on the picturesque children, and she, on her Great Day, was not the one who should be "the cynosure of all eyes." Watch your plans!

Women's Institute

TYENDINAGA EAST W.I.

The June meeting of the Tyendinaga East Women's Institute was held on Friday last at the home of Mrs. Fred Thompson, with 15 members and five visitors present. The president, Mrs. Thompson, presided, and opened the meeting.

The secretary, Mrs. H. Kimmerley read the minutes, and the financial statement. It was decided to send a donation to the Red Shield Drive, and a subscription to a Dutch-English paper for a new Canadian family in the neighborhood. A report of the recent district annual meeting was given by Mrs. G. Provins.

A splendid talk was given by the guest of honor, Mrs. Brant, of the Tyendinaga Reserve Homemakers, which was enjoyed by all, as well as her display of exceptionally fine, handmade, percupine quill articles and a beaded costume.

Mrs. Grant Kimmerley had the program which was as follows: Solo reading, "The Discovery of Stainless," by Mrs. D. Harvey; "Improvements by Men," by Mrs. Winder; "A 100 Year Old Afghan," by Mrs. H. Stafford; "Some Treasured Treasures" by Miss Irene Mowers.

A geography match was conducted by Mrs. Kimmerley which was won by Mrs. Norbert Group. Tea was served by Mrs. Thompson and the hostesses.

NEW PROOF

THAT MILLIONS CAN END THE NEED FOR LAXATIVES

With all the progress of medical science over the past 30 years, authorities say there is no longer any reason why irregularity should be our most widespread human malady.

Nor is there any reason for developing the habitual use of harsh laxatives—and dosing with one preparation after another in the wild hope of finding, in some potion or pill, the "secret" of lasting relief.

Long-continued study of the problem has shown that one of the most common causes of irregularity is lack of bulk in the diet. And when this is the case, the common-sense correction is to be found not in the drug store but in your food stores!

IT HAS LONG BEEN A MEDICALLY RECOGNIZED FACT THAT NATURE HAS PROVIDED, IN THE NATURAL FOODS MEN WERE INTENDED TO EAT, ALL THE ELEMENTS NECESSARY FOR THE LIFE-LONG AVOIDANCE OF COMMON CONSTIPATION.

In so natural food is this natural bulk so finely found as in the outer layers, or bran, of the whole wheat kernel which, as you know, is best in modern milling.

Because of the known value of bran in promoting regularity the Kellogg Company has produced a complete, whole bran with nothing taken away to lessen its effectiveness—sold under the name of Kellogg's All-Bran, the natural laxative cereal. How effective is All-Bran? This has been demonstrated in a series of systematic clinical studies reported in leading medical journals.

In one study, 135 people with known delayed bowel function were given one ounce of All-Bran daily for one week. They were studied clinically and by X-ray with tests made before, during and after they ate the All-Bran.

OF THE 135 PEOPLE, 107 PROVED SIGNIFICANT OVERALL IMPROVEMENT IN JUST 7 DAYS.

IN A FOLLOW-UP STUDY, BETTER THAN 8 OUT OF EVERY 9 PATIENTS WHO WERE GIVEN ALL-BRAN IMPROVED.

The greatest advantage of All-Bran is that it corrects the cause of irregularity due to insufficient bulk. Chemical or drug-type laxatives, on the other hand, are recommended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage.

When people use these products habitually—in a way that laxative action never is needed—they run the risk of their digestive system in a way that nature never intended. Instead of correcting the cause, they often make things worse in the long run.

If you think you must take a laxative preparation occasionally, do so. But do it wisely. Read the instructions completely. AVOID EXCESSIVE USAGE. But for real comfort and lasting relief put your bowels on a diet of daily a one-ounce serving of All-Bran for breakfast and drink plenty of water.

This All-Bran diet has helped millions to re-establish and to maintain healthful regularity. Why not you?

CAMPBELLFORD —

Rotary Club Hears Talk on College Life at Albert

CAMPBELLFORD — Rev. Andrew McKenzie, principal of Albert College, Belleville, was the guest speaker at the Campbellford Rotary Club on Monday. He spoke and showed pictures on the subject of the "college life" at that institution. He was introduced by Rotarian Lynd Bradley.

Albert College, Belleville, is a United Church College, and their only co-educational secondary school in Ontario. It was founded in 1857, and 1871 it became a university with the privilege of conferring degrees. This in 1884 was voluntarily relinquished as Victoria College moved from Cobourg to Toronto and became a university within the university of Toronto.

COLLEGE BUILDINGS BURNED

In 1917, the administrative buildings of the college were burned and the city of Belleville deeded 50 acres of land to the college for new premises.

The value of the new plant and buildings is about 1.4 million dollars. Everything, except the girls' residence, is under one roof. There is an enrolment of 170, of which 20 or more are usually from beyond the borders of Canada. Of the graduates, a large percentage go to university.

The pupils are largely supervised, and though there is a friendly informal attitude on the part of the staff, there is little trouble in the matter of discipline. Daily records of all pupils are kept.

The speaker showed a number of slides, emphasizing the completeness of the curriculum of the college, socially athletically and scholastically.

SHANNONVILLE

Cemetery Board Sponsors Pot-Luck Supper

SHANNONVILLE — A pot-luck supper was held in Shannonville United Church Hall on Wednesday evening, which was sponsored by Shannonville Cemetery Board.

A large number of people sat down at the tables, which were well laden with appetizing food.

Following the supper, the officers of the cemetery board held a business meeting when they made arrangements for "Decoration Day," which will be held Sunday afternoon June 27th. Providing the weather is favorable the service will be held in the cemetery at 2 p.m. and if it should rain it will be held in Holy Trinity Church at the same hour. Rev. L. A. Page will be the presiding minister at the service.

The proceeds of the supper and donations received were gratifying as the treasurer's funds were low and money is needed to carry on the good work being done by Mr. John Leitch, caretaker of the cemetery.

Mountain View

MOUNTAIN VIEW. — Miss Mary Huff entertained her Grade VII pupils at her cottage at Oak Heath on Friday evening. The pupils who were entertained were, George Sprague, Mervin Thompson and Lawrence Poste.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scarrott, of Toronto, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Sprung. Mrs. Oak who has been spending a month with Mr. and Mrs. Sprung, returned home with them

Miss Lillian Anderson and Mr. John Anderson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Fielding, Hillier.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Anderson, Miss Lillian Sprague, Mrs. Alford Poste, and Laurence, enjoyed a picnic at Lake on the Mountain, on Sunday.

Mr. Charles Sprague spent the supper hour on Sunday with Mr. Alfred Poste and Yvonne.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Joyce and Mr. Hugh Joyce of Toronto, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Joyce and daughter.

Miss Lottie Poste of Belleville was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Keeble.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Moyneg of Whitby were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Keeble.

MITCHELL

THE WORLD'S FINEST

AIR-CONDITIONER

FOR LARGE and SMALL HOMES, OFFICES, BEAUTY PARLORS, ETC.

MITCHELL COOLS and HEATS

WITH THE EXCLUSIVE WEATHER DIAL

Only Mitchell Has The JET COOLING COIL

—A NEW DEVELOPMENT IN THE SCIENCE OF REFRIGERATION.

It utilizes the basic principle that temperature drop takes place in direct proportion to the speed of pressure drop. The Mitchell Jet Cooling Coil decreases the pressure under which refrigerant flows as a jet engine decreases air pressure to develop driving power. As the refrigerant enters the Mitchell cooling coil, a sharp pressure drop takes place and lower temperature refrigerant is developed to keep your room cool. This means matchless cooling power even on the hottest days.

7 INDIVIDUAL LEVELS OF COMFORT

DYNA-COOL — For maximum cooling on hot, hot days. Delivers more cooling power than 20 household refrigerators.

EXHAUST — For pumping out stale, smoke-filled air, just turn the Weath'r-Dial to Exhaust. The air in your room is changed in a matter of minutes.

WEATH'R-ROOT — For automatic temperature control, Mitchell and the Weath'r-Robot. Just set it and forget it. Weath'r-Willy is on duty day or night to keep you comfortably cool but never too cold.

COOL AND VENTILATE — A Mitchell brings in fresh air and recirculates cool air in your room at the same time. Or by the change of season when cooling is not needed, you can turn the Weath'r-Dial to Ventilate and large quantities of outside air are brought into your room.

DYNA-HEAT — For supplementary heating on cold days. Takes the chill out of your room easily—an extra measure of comfort at no extra cost.

NITE-COOL — For moderate cooling on those just warm days and at night. This is a lower adjusted level of cooling with silent operation that insures sound sleep.

DIRECTION-AIRE CONTROL — Provides positive air delivery in the direction you desire. Just turn the Direction-Aire Controls to send air either up or down . . . to either side and know you will always have draft-free circulation and ventilation.

ARID-DRY—An extra dehumidification control that converts unit into a giant humidifier to wring more moisture from the air than previously possible. On those muggy days, a Mitchell's super-air drying capacity brings ultimate into healthful balance.

Chou, Nehru Open Week-End Of Talks in New Delhi That Could Change History of Asia

NEPHEW ADMITS HIT-RUN GUILT, AUNT RELEASED

Admitting to having driven his family's car and to have caused the death of Kari Hayden, 18, Arthur Rocest of New Lowell, Ont., gave himself up to police at Barrie, Ont., after his aunt, Yolando Danko, 29, had been charged. She will face charges of manslaughter, dangerous driving and failure to remain at the scene of an accident.

Miss Danko, arrested when she took the family car in to be repaired at a garage, told police that she had accidentally driven the car the night when Hayden was killed, and police had to charge her with manslaughter. All charges against here were withdrawn when her brother Arthur admitted responsibility. — Central Press Canadian. Photos.

Norseman Plane Lost in Quebec

The plane is owned by Northern Wings and the pilot has not been identified.

Ten RCAF and civilian planes are going to criss-cross the area today and the search is expected to be favorable, Sqdn. Ldr. M. J. Cowie of Ottawa, commander of the rescue unit at Greenwood, N. S. air base, is the search-master and will establish headquarters at Sept Iles.

Economic Atmosphere Entirely Changed Since Last Meeting

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Eisenhower and Churchill are to come face to face over again this week — in an economic atmosphere that has changed markedly since their last meeting.

Political turmoil between the east and west may be greater today. But Europe's dollar gap isn't showing much now...And its industrial and consumer problems are a lot less pressing.

There's even talk that a few months sterling may again be strong enough to talk alone, freely convertible with the dollar—if its reserve fund to bolster it is set up, just in case.

Europe's comparatively happy situation is due partly to the gains in trade and industry it has made during the time American production was slipping.

It also is due partly to the continued high contributions by the United States, measured in dollars. In spite of the policy of economy in the United States, dollars have flowed abroad in much greater volume than either European or Americans anticipated a year ago.

The nation, widely held abroad, that when the American boom stubbed its toe, Europe would have another staking spell like 1946's, when the recession "this time there" been scarcely a bobble on the other side of the Atlantic.

The United States is still the industrial and financial kingpin. But the economic dependency of its European allies isn't as great now as a few years back. And this may mean that the decisions to be made this week in Washington.

The reasons Europe didn't go into a trade tailspin this time, when United States business activity took a somewhat similar course, are these:

Europe has succeeded in checking its inflation trend to a large extent. It has built up stronger gold and dollar reserves, and hence is more liquid than before.

In 1949 Europe's exports to the United States were 3 billion dollars. Part of this was due to the inventory recession. This time there's it, however, was due to, American buyers waiting for the expected currency devaluations abroad to come about—as they inevitably did. This time American imports fell off scarcely at all.

Now, too, the European nations are trading more freely with each other and are less dependent upon American importation of their goods.

Claxton Appeals For Support In Militia Changes

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The problem of the militia is similar to that of civil defence: it public interest lags, it drags its feet.

Defence officials said Thursday they don't expect the reorganization of the Reserve Army, announced Monday by Defence Minister Claxton, to meet the militia's real problem.

The militia may get bonuses for summer camp training, new uniforms, more bands and armories but it won't become a well-knit, cohesive organization unless it receives sustained public support.

The state of the reserve forces, officials say, is, like civil defence, a reflection of the public's point of view on defence.

HIGHER PERCENTAGE

They add, however, that a much higher percentage of the population is interested in defence and the armed forces than, say, in 1939. Canada has never been a military-minded nation partly because its big wars have been fought far from home.

The defence department doesn't expect any spectacular gain in defence activity with reorganization of the Reserve Army. In fact, it expects the strength, now 57,000, to decrease, at least at the start.

In announcing the militia shakeup, Mr. Claxton appealed for "sympathetic" study of the changes which include disbandment of many units and merger of others. He said success in carrying out the new policies and changes will rest primarily on the popular support they receive throughout the country.

THE PAS, Man. (CP) — A man whose left hand had been severed by blows from an ax was found Thursday by a policeman when he answered a call to a home in this northern Manitoba town.

The constable and the man's wife said he had carried out the mutilation himself and that the Bible he had been reading was open at Chapter 9 of the Gospel of St. Mark.

"And if thy hand offend thee cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched."

Constable Burton Murray, who answered the call, identified the man as Joseph Chartrand, 28, who lives here with his widowed mother.

Chartrand was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital. He was put under sedatives and police were not able to question him.

Senator Calls For Dismissal Of High Official

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (AP) Republican state Senator John H. Cooke said Thursday night he favors the dismissal of Robert H. Moses as chairman of the New York state power authority.

He also attacked Governor Thomas E. Dewey's administration for what he described as its "socialistic" support of public power.

He said that hand of government intervention in Niagara power is "clutching" at Niagara Falls and Moses, who derides the people of this state," said Cooke, who favors private development of the 8400,000,000 New York-Ontario Niagara power project.

He said Moses is a "man who has the right to the opinion of New York state congressmen, of supervisors, of hundreds of organizations, but a man who in effect said that they, together with newspaper columnists throughout the state, are corrupt and will sell their beliefs for favors for money or support."

Moses was appointed chairman of the power authority last March by Dewey. He is also construction co-ordinator and park commissioner for New York City.

Cooke said the project, if built with public funds, would "yield no taxes" and that with interest and amortization charges, what was to be "cheap power" will no longer be cheap.

The lamprey attaches itself to other fish by means of its sucker-like mouth and with its sharp teeth rasps the fish's body, metal—and out the blood and body juices.

It is feared that the lamprey is responsible for the collapse of the commercially important lake trout stocks in Lake Huron and Lake Michigan and that a similar fate awaits those in Lake Superior.

The parasitic lampreys have become plentiful in the extreme eastern end of Lake Superior although first reported in those waters only a few years ago.

FULL-SCALE ATTACK

The fisheries department said today it has launched a full-scale attack against the lamprey menace. The campaign is tied in with an expanded federal-provincial research program to develop further the fisheries of the Canadian side of the Great Lakes.

Advance studies now are in the field in northwestern Ontario, erecting lamprey barriers—some of them electrified—and surveying streams running into Lake Superior north of Sault Ste. Marie.

The department plans to fly 2,-000,000 lake trout eggs from Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories to Port Arthur to help restock the upper Great Lakes.

The campaign is urgent because through lamprey attacks can occur in a few years.

CONTROL MEANS

Parties in the field are expected to complete a major lamprey control installations this year on streams flowing into Lake Superior between Sault Ste. Marie and Montreal river and 18 more in the vicinity of Port Arthur. More installations will be erected next year if they are found necessary.

A search is being carried out to find a suitable poison and a method for its application. Poisoning operations are expected to start July 15. The poison will be placed in the water near the mouths of the rivers. Fish important to commercial fishermen and anglers will not be serious affected because the poison will disperse rapidly.

Rhee Urges West Use Necessary Courage, Force

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee, on the fourth anniversary of the outbreak of the Korean War, urged the free West "to resolve to use the courage and force necessary to win over an enemy committed to world conquest."

"Even if our friends hesitate, shutting their eyes to realities, we Koreans will not cheerfully submit until we have become Communist slaves," the South Korean leader said in a message issued for delivery at a mass rally in the capital city.

He said South Korea will map a definite policy when its delegation returns from the Geneva conference. "That meeting failed to achieve a peaceful settlement of Korean issues, and 16 Allied United Nations members broke off the talks.

The United States 8th Army and U.S. Commonwealth Division observed the anniversary except for services which along the demilitarized zone.

Senate Rejects Democrats' Move For Freer Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Eugene Millikin (Rep. Colo.) finance committee and Senator Walter George of Georgia, its senior Democrat, agreed today that Senate rejection of a liberalized reciprocal trade agreements plan throws the whole controversial question of a broadened United States foreign trade policy over to the 1955 Congress.

The Senate Thursday rejected by 45 to 32 a Democratic move for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act with new powers to cut tariffs 15 per cent. Then it passed a straight one - year extension of the old law by 71 to 6 votes.

On the key vote, six Democrats including George joined with the 39 Republicans present to defeat Senator Douglas' proposal to substitute. The "aye" votes were all from Democrats.

However, Millikin and George agreed in separate interviews that the vote did not represent a true test on the recommendations of the Randall commission on foreign economic policy for some further reduction of tariff barriers.

ASKED LIBERALIZATION

President Eisenhower based his original foreign trade recommendations to Congress in March on the findings of the special commission headed by Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Co. Eisenhower called for the liberalized extension of reciprocal trade which the Senate sponsored Thursday, by a day.

But later, in a letter made public in May, the president said he would go along with the one-year plan for the time being. This came after key Republicans in Congress had balked at the broader proposal. Eisenhower said, however, that he was not abandoning that program but was giving Congress an opportunity to study it further.

Millikin pledged that there will be an exhaustive study of the Randall recommendations next year, and that Congress then can come to grips with foreign trade policy.

George took a similar attitude, saying he would support many of the proposals of the Randall commission but only after there had been full hearings on the question next session.

NATURAL ACTORS

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—The Canadian Rockies will again be invaded by Hollywood movie-makers this summer, without the hiring difficulties of last year. This year the anti-shake of the surrounding territory will star in a wild-life film to be produced by the Disney organization.

Duplessis Opens New Power Plant In North Quebec

CLARK CITY, Que. (CP)—Premier Duplessis Thursday opened a new power plant on the Manicouagan river in this northeastern Quebec area and outlined this province as the richest in the world.

The premier spoke at the site of a hydro-electric development that will provide power at nearby Sept Iles, shipping point for thousands of tons of iron ore mined in the wilds of Ungava.

Mr. Duplessis in his address invited more American investment in the province which he called "the land of opportunity par excellence" and promised foreign investors will always be well-treated.

The Sir. Marguerite hydro project will provide 25,000 horsepower to the Iron Ore Company of Canada in Sept Iles and to Quid Pulp and Paper Company in Clark City 400 miles northeast of Montreal. Both companies shared cost of the $12,000,000 development.

Ungava dip needle surveys from Sept Iles to processing plants in Canada and the United States. The ore is carried along a 360-mile railway line from northern Knob lake to Sept Iles will start moving from the St. Lawrence river port Aug. 1.

Premier Orders Investigation In Dresden

TORONTO (CP)—Labor Minister Daley of Ontario Thursday ordered a department investigation into investigate a charge of racial discrimination in Dresden, about 12 miles north of Chatham.

A. R. Burnett, a Dresden resident and secretary of the National Unity Association, has filed a written complaint with the department that he and two married couples were refused service in a restaurant there last Friday because they were Negroes.

Mr. Burnett said that after he made his charge public he received several anonymous threatening letters and phone calls which ordered him to get out of town. He armed himself with a revolver for self-protection.

The complaint is the first charge made under the Anti-Discrimination Fair Accommodations Act passed at the recent session of the Ontario legislature.

Police Seize $12,042 in Bills, Goods from Home

TORONTO (CP) — Police of suburban North York township Thursday seized $12,042 in cash and additional thousands of dollars worth of electrical appliances in a raid on a township home.

They said they are holding Louis Alter, 39, who gave his occupation as a garage operator, on a charge of receiving stolen property.

The money, found in a cedar chest, included 84 $100 bills and hundreds of $20 and $10 denominations. Officers also found 39 sewing machines.

Police said they are checking to determine if they are lost from the 30 or more building supply and district armed robberies and burglaries. They believe the pay envelopes were stolen in a payroll robbery.

Mayor Lamport Likely to Accept ITC Post

TORONTO (CP) — Mayor Allan Lamport said Thursday he would step down as Toronto mayor to accept a commissionership in the Toronto Transit Commission if the metropolitan council decides he is the man for the job.

He declined to comment on a report that his choice was settled and that he planned to resign a commissionership left vacant by W. C. McBrien.

The commission vacancy will be filled at a special meeting of the metropolitan council next Tuesday. Rural members of the committee were reported as opposing appointment of the mayor but most city councillors were reported supporting him.

Vigorous Programs Outlined To Meet Increase in Demand For Power in Next Ten Years

MURRAY BAY, Que. (CP)—Top Canadian electrical engineers and executives Thursday outlined vigorous programs being carried out to meet this country's power demands for the next ten years.

In a symposium at the annual meeting of the Canadian Electrical Association, representatives of leading electric utilities gave reports on projects in their respective provinces.

T. J. Rodgers, chief engineer and vice-president of British Columbia Electric Company, said B.C. is fortunate in her power future as there are still a number of good hydro electric sites close to populated centres capable of economic development.

He mentioned the Cheekamus river capable of producing 200,000 horsepower within 25 miles of Vancouver, and the Fraser river with about 3,000,000 horsepower of potential hydro power within 100 to 250 miles of Vancouver.

GIANT PROJECT

Dr. Huet Massue of Shawinigan Water and Power Company said Quebec will require an estimated 8,750,000 horsepower of electric energy by 1960 and the project on the Bersimis river project will bring just about enough to meet the demand.

He said the high rate of consumption depends largely on requirements of the pulp and paper industry and the aluminum industry.

F. L. Feeney, chief engineer of the New Brunswick power commission, said there is a deep-seated impression in the minds of business, industrial leaders, and even in engineering minds, that New Brunswick lacks power resources.

CAN PROVIDE POWER

"Certainly the dam on Nisagaras nor Shipshaws but we have a substantial amount of potential hydro electric energy and coal fields which by joint development can provide reliable power at a reasonable price," he said.

Dr. L. L. Brent, chief engineer and general manager (engineering) of the Ontario hydro, said the St. Lawrence power development is the last remaining major hydro electric site in Ontario capable of and the long-term forecast of the Ontario system indicates that power from the St. Lawrence will be required by December, 1958.

With expansion of the St. Lawrence development studies indicate additional power will be required by 1961 if a reasonable reserve is to be kept by the hydro commission, he said.

W. D. Fallis, general manager of the Manitoba power commission, reporting on the Prairie provinces, said Manitoba has a power shortage problem in supplying its power demand because of its rapidly growing population and because of lack of economical water-power resources.

OIL, GAS, FACTORS

Mr. Fallis said Saskatchewan's power development may change as a result of the current search for oil and gas. He expressed belief that the power demand in the province will increase about 218 times in the next 10 years to approach a total of 440,000 kilowatts in 1964,

Hon. J. G. Gardiner Completes 40th Year in Political Arena

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Gordon Conant Scott who might have been a lawyer except for a new today celebrates his 40th year in federal-provincial politics, a record, he believes, exceeded only by the living Canadian.

He is Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, who at the age of 79 holds no thoughts of leaving the tough political arena but is "ready to carry on as long as the people want me."

Jimmie Gardiner started his political career at the tail-end of an era characterized by contested and covered wagons. At that time, he recalled in an interview, men were elected on campaign issues and determined to carry out their decided views.

And that, he feels, is the best way to do it. Today young politicians—"make up your mind at the outset what the problems are and then go to the people and work to make them disappear."

Mr. Gardiner believes people, he believes, are people, but there does not seem to be the will to work reduction of olden days to stock the country with newcomers.

"The greatest good we can do the world is to get more people to come here," he said.

The big problems that most troubled countries face stem from the fact they have too many people. But the idea, he said, of feeding the hungry parts of the world from Canada's bountiful harvests is not so effective as that of bringing those people to Canada.

Mr. Gardiner, native of Farquhar Ont., but who spent most of his life in Saskatchewan, is a 33rd degree Mason and a member of the Church of Christ. He was about to fly to Colombia for a cotton dusting job.—Central Press Canadian.

CRASH-LANDED IN GUATEMALA

U.S. pilot William A. Beall, of Brownsville, Texas, who crash-landed near the Mexico Guatemala border was hurt, said his accident might have formed the basis for the charge in the U.N. security council that U.S. fliers bombed Guatemala. Beall, who suffered no serious injury outside of a bloody nose and a bleeding ear, said the right engine of his plane stopped shortly after taking off from Tapaphula in Mexico. He said he was about to fly to Colombia for a cotton dusting job.—Central Press Canadian.

Third Marriage For Both at 73

TIMMINS (CP)—A great grandmother and grandfather of the Thorneplane area, Laura Davidson, 73, were married at the Baptist church Thursday to Joseph Webber, 73. It was the third marriage for both. The bride said the old couple is the oldest to take out a licence in the history of Timmins.

The newlyweds first met in 1908 in Gregoire County, N.S.

They met again early this year when a neighbor of Mrs. Webber who lives in Sarnia set them up. Mr. Webber who inquired about his childhood sweetheart. A correspondence started, Joseph proposed to Laura by mail and she accepted.

The couple will live at Drumhead, N.S.

he said.

Mr. Fallis said demand in Manitoba is increasing at such a rate that where hydro-electric resources are available they are used in use or under development and the province is now making plans for more steam-generated electricity.

Power requirements for Alberta to 1964 indicate a steady and rapid increase to an anticipated total of 840,000 kilowatts, he said.

Nova Scotia Light and Power Company and Nova Scotia Power Commission will depend for some years on steam gas turbine or diesel for new electric resources.

How to be loved by a man

Says Marlene Dietrich: "Love him, unconditionally and with devotion. Don't try to change him. When he comes home at night, let him be. When you feel like grumbling, or you're hurt, or bored —"

In July Reader's Digest, Miss Dietrich, a symbol of romance and glamour to many, tells you what you should (and shouldn't) do to keep your man in love alive.

Read her frank answer to the eternal question: "How to be loved by a man" in July Reader's Digest. It's just one of 38 articles of lasting interest, condensed from leading magazines, current books. Get your copy of July Reader's Digest today.

24 DEAD IN FLOODS

TOKYO (AP)—Heavy rains lashing the Japanese islands for the last 24 hours touched off floods and landslides, derailed trains, flooded rice lands and homes and caused at least 14 deaths. Wakayama Prefecture, a fastland at the foot of high mountain ranges, bore the brunt of the early flood damage. Police said 13 were killed there and 1,000 homes and 800 acres were flooded.

A Nickel Got You Beer, Free Lunch 'Often I Had No Nickel'—Dempsey

NEW YORK (CP)—It was Jack Dempsey's 59th birthday, and the boxing writers and old friends of the Manassa Mauler came over Thursday night to Jack's restaurant on Broadway to say happy birthday to the "Champ."

Still black-haired and trim at 225 pounds, some 60 over his best fighting weight, the Mauler moved restlessly about, signing autographs and posing for pictures. The crowds gawked outside as the champ sat by the window facing the main street.

But it was different some 37 years ago when Jack visited the big town looking for work. It was a cold town to Jack then, and the biting winds chilled his lightly-clad frame.

"If it wasn't for the free lunches in some of the bars, then I might of starved," said Jack as he puffed on a fat cigar. "If you had a nickel you could buy a beer and eat a good lunch. They had salami, ham, pigs' knuckles and other stuff on tables and you could eat all you wanted—if you had the nickel. Sometimes I didn't have it.

"They had piles of hard-boiled eggs too, and if you had a chance you could put four or five in your pocket and on those you could eat for a week."

Remember When

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Maxie Rosenbloom became light-weight boxing champion of the world by winning a 15-round decision over Jimmy Slattery at Buffalo 24 years ago today. The previous champion, Tommy Loughran had retired undefeated in 1929 and Slattery was recognized as champ by the New York state athletic commission. Maxie lost his crown four years later to Bob Olin.

Bucky Harris Is Unhappy; Senators Flop

CHICAGO (AP)—Bucky Harris, who is among baseball's more mild-mannered citizens, is about ready to blow his top. His Washington Senators have let him down.

Before the season began, Harris was saying publicly that the Senators had a long-shot chance to win the American League pennant. Under any circumstances, he figured the Senators would be in the thick of the race all season long.

As of today, Washington is floundering in fifth place, 11½ games out of first and 13½ behind the third place club. And the rumors that Harris is on the way out are getting louder every day.

Clark Griffith, the club's 84-year-old president and a longtime friend of Harris, says there's nothing to the rumors. But, of course, that is to be expected. It will be a big surprise if Harris' contract is renewed at the end of the year.

Washington's pitching staff, which Harris was extolling several months ago, has collapsed.

They're talking about Canada the world over

Everywhere it has been shown along its 30,000 mile, year-long International route—at brilliant previews attended by governmental, industrial, cultural and professional leaders, and at public showings—the Seagram Collection of Paintings of Canadian Cities has been talked-about headline news.

In the sixteen cities it visited abroad the Collection earned for Canada thousands of columns of newspaper reports, editorials, reviews, and pictures; magazine articles; radio and television broadcasts; newsreel films, widespread public attention—all testifying to the mounting interest and friendliness on the part of people everywhere toward Canada and things Canadian.

Painted especially for The House of Seagram by distinguished Canadian artists, this unique collection of 52 original paintings of 22 Canadian Cities was seen, enjoyed and talked about by a quarter of a million people in 16 cities of two continents.

The Seagram Collection of Paintings of Canadian Cities has won enthusiastic friends for Canada around the world—friends who have gained a new and vivid impression of our country as a land that is vital and growing, a land of tremendous natural and industrial resources, and remarkable human resourcefulness.

The Seagram Collection is now back home, on a two-year trans-Canada tour which will give Canadians the opportunity of seeing for themselves these colourful ambassadors of goodwill . . . these portrayals of our thriving cities which have excited comment around the world.

Chicago White Sox, Yanks Shrink Cleveland Indians' Lead To 2 Games

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S NIGHTMARE.

If the Expos had not put on an imitation of the Old Fadeaways at the annual league festival at Paddington-in-the-Mud, Johnny Mowat would have come home last night with a neat six or seven hitter and about a 7-4 victory under his belt. For Johnny strove heroically on the mound to separate his teams from the idea they were a class in jaywalking taking its first lessons, but "no soap", the jaygiters had their way. Not even two mammoth smashes over the centre field fence by the Gerge brothers helped matters much nor did a few borderline decisions by cop of the base umpires.

Especially on one occasion that ended with Peter Jones getting the six home-he. From the press box, and it was the consensus, Jones had touched the bag before the runner got there. However the umpire like the customer is always right, even if he's wrong.

No less than twelve errors, some of them glaring and..... responsible for six of the Oshawa runs, were committed by..... the error-mad Expos. And of all the clubs in the loop, they would have to pick a night when the cooky Transporters, imports and all, were the giftees. The Oshawans committed but one hobble but their vanished power, with the wood was missing last night. In fact it has yet to be shown here. The Expos simply handed them the victory by a platter of errors, and that was that.

For if ever a pitcher deserved to win a ball-game it was our Mister Mowat. He struck out nine and walked three but what could he do when his mates were dropping and tossing the ball around as though it were covered with atomic dust.

However there is no alibi. Discount half the errors and the Batas would still have won the tussle.

Plenipotentiary Manager and Coach Geyer had to juggle his infield. We do not re along with his idea of playing brother Gerry at second base, even if the youngster did some dazzling with a flipper and two assists. He also no worst than the rest. It was their night off, and they put a bad game off their chests.

But with all their comedy of errors they held the lead although the score was tied temporarily two or three times, until the eighth when the Oshawans scored two to grab a one-run advantage and went ahead in the ninth with the insurance run.

HERE THEY ARE!

Smoke-eater skipper the honorable "Warpy" O'Brien hitched on his trusty twirler his thumbs and squinted at a piece of paper on which was written a number of names.

"That", quoth the Warp, "is the nine man team, which in my opinion will make Ace Holden and his Redcaps think they're up against the New York Yankees—pardon—Cleveland Indians. If this nine doesn't whap the Ace's four, I'll push a peanut with my nose from here to the Ox Palai intersection."

After looking over the selection, it must be admitted that Cap O'Brien has really combed the latter alleys of the District Softball League and come up with most of the cream of the crop. At least none of it looks like skimmed milk to this department.

Lest we forget, the estimable "Dazzy" is the Casey Stengel of the squad and will muster-mind his All-Stars from the bench. His coaches are Bill Spafford and Jack O'Brien (and no back talk, see).

Warpy has chosen a mound corps of five including Bobby Green, Bruno McCurdy, Junior Day, Bobby Hunter and Pat Maracle. Receiving will be Peter Green and Ron Belsap. Covering around first base will be Gerry Geyer and Wayne Boway with Paul White and John Batchelor holding down second. At third will be Paul Russell and Pat Gilmour with Jack Wardhaugh, Davy Jones and Leo St. Denis doing duty at short.

"That Bowday will be a lone wolf in left field while in centre will be John Casey and Wallbridge, Kellett and D. Seelen will patrol the right field pasture. The bat boys are Billy McGuire and Paul Marcier, second edition.

On the Redcaps' side of the ledger will be, of course, the Ace himself, first baseman Eddie Cyr, Leo Pelcquin, roving infielder and the veteran catcher Maurie O'Connor. Pat Patterson is the manager.

Interest in the game is mounting steadily and potential patrons are urged to secure their tickets at the downtown agencies. The game will start at seven o'clock sharp.

NOT BAD.

There is a rural baseball team in North Beach, Mich., that has compiled something of a record. In fact, it is thinking of offering its service to the Detroit Tigers. The rural hick school club won all of its seven games played this season and every one was a shutout. The team has only one major pitcher—and that is all they need.

His name is Dick Griffin, a junior, who pitched 42 of the 49 innings giving up the only six hits made off the club this season, but he made up for that. .

His record is three no-hitters, two one-hitters, two two-hitters, 90 strikeouts and 15 walks. George Knox relieves Dick. He finished one of Dick's no-hitters for him when Dick got thirsty one day.

But the team made only five errors. And it scored only 39 runs—18 in one game.

THOSE NIPS.

The powerful, impressive combination of Tex McKenzie and Paul Ballargeon will be in the ring against a wily, treacherous tomcross at the Memorial Arena tonight. They'll clash with The Great Togo Brothers, Japanese judo-flesh specialists, in the tag team wrestling feature.

The Togos are a fascinating duo. The smarty Orientals are a "six-all-comers" outfit, but figure to have their work more than cut out for them in meeting such a formidable pair as Ballargeon, who lifts horses off the ground as a breeze, and McKenzie, the tall man, who has so far confined himself to lifting opponents off their arches and hurling them into the wide blue yonder.

Tribe Loses to Philadelphia As Runners-Up Score Wins; Braves' Deal Backfires Again

By Ben Pelegian

Associated Press Sports Writer

The "dream" deal of the winter is proving nothing but a summer nightmare to the Milwaukee Braves.

Johnny Antonelli, Don Liddle, Toby St. Claire, Billy Klaus and cash were parcelled off to the New York Giants for Bobby Thomson and Sam Calderone.

This was supposed to be the trade that took the pennant away from Brooklyn. It may succeed—but for the Giants instead of Milwaukee.

GOOD FOR GIANTS

For the Giants Antonelli has won nine games, Liddle has won two, St. Claire is pitching effectively in relief while Klaus is playing second base and hitting over .300.

For Milwaukee Thomson has been out since he broke his ankle March 31. He's not expected another month at least. Calderone lost the second-string catcher's job to rookie Carl Sawatski and has played just one full game and parts of nine others.

The Braves have been helpless in man-to-man competition. Antonelli has beaten them three times in three tries. Liddle pushed them into fourth place Thursday with a sparkling four-hit 3-1 victory.

His masterful performance kept the Giants one game ahead of the Dodgers who beat Cincinnati 5-2. St. Louis defeated Chicago 8-4 and Philadelphia shaded Chicago 3-2 in 11 innings.

LEAD SHRINKS

Cleveland saw its American League lead shrink to two games over the Chicago White Sox. The Indians lost to Philadelphia 5-1, Chicago defeated Washington 5-2. Third-place New York moved within four games of the leaders with an 11-2 waltz at Detroit. Boston and Baltimore broke even.

Liddle got the runs he needed to beat his former mates when Willie Mays opened the fifth with a Texas pitch deep into the upper left field seats with Don Mueller on base in the second inning. It was Willie's 23rd homer, tops in both leagues.

The Milwaukee run came on a homer by Andy Pafko.

Thomson singled for the fences in Ebbets Field Thursday and the Dodgers came out on top. Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and Junior Gilliam drove in five Brooklyn runs with Russell Kerry Meyer and Ed Bailey hit a pair, good for three Cincinnati runs.

GIVEN TREAT

The Cardinals, who open a three-game series in Brooklyn tonight, were treated to a four-hit performance by rookie Brooks Lawrence in his first major league appearance. The 23-year-old righthander, just called up from Columbus, struck out four Pirates and walked two.

Philadelphia also received a pleasant pitching surprise when veteran Herman Wehmeier stayed 11 innings for his first victory over Chicago. He gave up five hits, two of them homers by Hal Sauer and Steve Bilko for the Cubs' only runs.

The Phillies tied the game in the seventh with a two-run homer by Bobby Morgan and won in the 11th on a bases-loaded single by Earl Torgeson.

Rookie Arnold Portocarrero turned on the Indians, who had beaten him three times, and tamed them on five hits for his third straight victory. Lou Limmer and Joe Di Maestri hit home runs for Philadelphia.

The Yankees limbered up for their showdown Cleveland series by battering Ned Garver and two other Detroit pitchers for 16 hits. Mickey Mantle drove in four runs with a single and two doubles. Tom Morgan hit a home run as he won his fifth game against a single loss.

Anne Sharp, Mary Gay Play Finals Ontario Ladies Open Golf Tourney

TORONTO (CP) — Two young stars tangle today when defending champion Anne Sharp of Fonthill meets 1952 titlist Mary Gay of Kitchener in the 36-hole final for the Ontario ladies' Open golf championship.

Both girls turned in sound performances winning their semi-final matches Thursday. Miss Sharp defeated Mrs. M. H. Currer of Toronto 4 and 2, while Miss Gay stepped city and district titlist Shirley Woodley by an identical score.

Mrs. Currer, a finalist three times and a semi-finalist twice, won the first hole with a par four but Miss Sharp squared the match with a par five on the second.

TOOK FIVE

Mrs. Currer took a five on the 10th while Miss Sharp shot a par four to go three up. They halved the 11th with birdie fours and Mrs. Currer sank a 40-foot putt on the 12th to cut the lead.

The defending champion came back to sink a 15-foot putt on the 13th to halve the hole and then won the 14th and 16th to take the match.

In the other semi-final Mary Gay, a stenographer, jumped into an early lead with birdies on the second and third holes. She also won the fifth and sixth but Miss Woodley came back to par the seventh and birdied the ninth and narrow the margin to two strokes at the turn.

Miss Gay played par golf on all nine of the home holes, winning four of them. Miss Woodley won the 12th and 15th, the latter with a 30-foot putt. The match also soared to seven on the 16th while Miss Gay shot a par five and the match was over.

SECOND MEETING

The finals mark the second meeting of the two young rivals. In the 1952 semi-finals Miss Gay eliminated Miss Sharp on the 19th hole on to win the title.

Miss Sharp went into the finals for the third time. She won the championship last year and in the 1950 windup was eliminated by Ada Mackenzie, 4 and 2.

In the semi-finals of the championship consolation flight Mrs. T. M. Lockwood of Toronto defeated Rose Kampman of Kitchener 3 and 1 and Rosna Nesdoly of Toronto defeated Mrs. J. C. McCarter of Toronto 3 and 2.

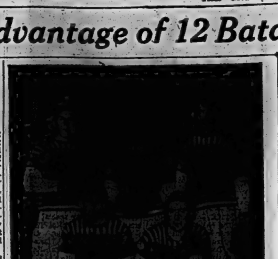
Electric Girls Trim 6RD 9-4

The Northern Electric girls softball entry in the Ladies' Industrial league won their fifth game of the season last night behind the four-hit pitching of Lois Wagg, as they whipped 6RD, 9-4 decision over Trenton 6 RD at the Lodge Drive park.



Wagg had six strike-outs credited to her while she walked only one. Grace was on the mound for the 6 RD girls and neither fanned or walked a batter. She was touched for nine hits.

Helen Reeves was top "man" with the bat banging out three hits. Lois Batchelor claimed two while the others went to Betty Reeves, Sandra Slade, Reta Harder and Carol Waite. R. Myles met one of Wagg's pitches for a home run for Trenton.

Northern and dropped two games and will be next Wednesday evening in Trenton, looking for their sixth victory.

PLAYER FINED

NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey Lockman, first baseman of the New York Giants, was fined $25 by National League president Warren Giles Thursday for using abusive language when he was banished from the umpire Frank Dascoli in a game between the Giants and St. Louis Cardinals here Sunday. Lockman was protesting a called third strike against him.

Ace Holden and his Redcap football wizards four-man team will be in town tomorrow night when they will meet a nine-man squad composed of Paul Marcier's Blissbird juniors augmented by strength. The game is being played at the CNRAA Recreation Park and gets under way at seven o'clock.

Soccer Gossip

The league leading Peterborough UEW squad retained their position at the head of the Eastern Ontario Football League table on the Northern Electric sports ground, Storm Carter was instrumental for the Electrics whilst Biddle and Hoyle with two each counted for the Kingston Shard and Bataws share second place jointly as a result of their match on the ground.

Batawa defeated a weakened Peterborough Merchants squad recently and Peterborough Utility rupp whilst Kingston United beat the third Peterborough entry in the league, Peterborough Canadian Scottish by six goals to three.

On Saturday, July 3rd the pick of the Eastern Ontario League meet the Toronto Senior Soccer League All Stars at Exhibition Park, Peterborough, in an exhibition game. The team selected by the club managers last Friday evening to represent the Eastern Ontario League is Jones, Croll, Buchan, Ryan, Biddle, Holroyd, (UEW); Cooper, Machin, McCabe, Grundy, A. Gray (Kingston United); Goyer (Batawa). Reserves Anlkejew (Northern Electric), Dunn (UEW).

Games scheduled for this weekend in the Eastern Ontario League call for Northern Electric to travel to Peterborough to take on the Merchants from that city, whilst Peterborough UEW play host to Kingston United.

Next Thursday evening Foley Foundry juveniles will play an exhibition game with the Trenton Intermediate Memorial Park in Trenton. This match is another evening to be spent by the Foley's team going into the Ontario championships. The draw for the Ontario championships will be made in Toronto on Saturday by the Ontario Soccer Association. Belleville has two entries in this series for boys, Foley's who are in the juvenile age league group Branch 90 Canadian Legion are entered in the senior bantam league. Thursday evening both teams resume practices at the Cricket Field at 6.30 p.m.

Batawa retained their position at the head of the Bay of Quinte League table on Wednesday evening when they beat a short handed Belleville team 4-1. Goals in this scoring race with eleven goals scored in Bay of Quinte League football whilst Eaton follows closely behind with ten.

On Wednesday evening Northern Electric edged Trenton Merchants by three goals to two in a keenly contested game in Trenton. Scorers for Northern were Les Hoyle with two and Scott whilst Clough and Van Wasson replied for Trenton. As the Batawa people are on vacation for the next two weeks only one Bay of Quinte League game is scheduled for next week, in this RCAF United and Northern Electric duel at the air force station on Wednesday evening with the kick-off slated for 7 p.m.

This week's 'tip' to the bidding soccer player: "If you lose the ball don't lose your head."

Minor Softball

Chacker Taxi were forced to play a couple of extra innings last night before downing the Moose Creek Orange 5-4 in a game played at the fireball. Hook and McLaren shared batting problems for the winners with 14 hits off them while walking four. They were unable to get a strike out. Howard was on the mound for Moose Creek and he was banged around to the tune of 15 hits while fanning six and walking the same.

Young paced the winners at bat with two triples and a double while Butcher was hitting a trio of singles in a losing effort.

Batteries were Hook, McLaren and Boyer for Checker with Howard and Butcher for Moose Oranges.

Trail Batas for 7 Innings Despite Many Costly Bobbles; Mowat Deserved Better Fate

By GEORGE CARVER
Sports Editor

The Belleville Batas, in benevolent mood, placed a tasty 9-7 victory on a platter, garnished it with a dozen juicy errors and politely handed it to the league-leading Oshawa Transporters in a Viaduct-Ontario League game here last night.

Tall and tilts the story. Six of the Oshawa runs were attributed to costly Bata bobbles in a game that was a comedy of errors, and strengthened the Oshawan's hold on top slot in the league.

Johnny Mowat, Bata's starting hurler, pitched a masterful game, giving up but six hits in eight innings, whiffing nine and walking three but his mates couldn't do a thing right afield when bobbles meant runs, and darkness hangs the tale.

HELD LEAD FOR SEVEN

Despite this, the Batas redeemed their miscues by taking and holding the lead for seven innings, always coming back with a run or two after they had handed the fatal eighth and the Oshawans poked over two runs. The result of the Batas bobble to take the lead for the first time in the game was announced in the ninth, one of their three earned markers.

The Transporters spotted the Batas three runs in the first chukker and the Governors appeared to be well away on their quest for their sixth win. Fred Shpilman, Oshawa catcher, was wild throw as a hawk. He retired Carr and walked Hull, Pettit and Gerry Goyer in succession. He tickled Keith MacDonald's ribs with a fast ball and forced in the first run. Bush went out and Peter Jones reached a single to left good for two tallies, and the Batas were away.

So it was that the crowd thought.

The Batas started an Alphonse-Gaston act at the bellhop which fell to pieces. Fitzpatrick away on business, was replaced at second by Gerry Goyer who with Keith MacDonald and Claude Carr divided the error among them.

The usually reliable Mouse Bush and Allen Kelleher were "butterfingered" both erring twice.

Peter Jones, Batas first baseman, appeared to have a legitimate beef when base Umpire Dolan called a runner safe. Jones pushed the ump around and was given the gate. That called for another shuffle. Coach Vern Gore gave four infielders the fish to the fray in an effort to offset the miseries with pinch-hitting, but it was too little and too late.

SETTLED DOWN

Shpilman settled down after the first disastrous innings with his mates playing errorless ball behind him. In fact they bobbled harmlessly in the eighth. He let Jim Bata down with two hits for four runs until the beginning of the sixth.

Coach Goyer, our lead-off man, promptly poled a mammoth blast over the centre field fence for a home run. Davey Jones drew a walk and was sacrificed to Howard. Carr slashed out a single going to second when Jones was thrown out at the plate. Doug Bata teed off with a single scoring Carr and that was the end of Shpilman.

Harry Stoneback, American university southpaw, reputed to be some punkins as a pitcher, relieved him and retired the third man. The new pitcher and Gerry Goyer greeted him with a disputed homerun over the centre field fence which was allowed after some spirited argument, the Oshawans claiming it bounced over for an automatic double. MacDonald followed with a single, stole second but was picked off at third. Stoneback then retired the side. He gave up three hits in the seventh and was credited with the victory.

The Batas were leading 8-4 going into the ninth as Kelleher let Mroczek's fly trickle through his fingers. Jozkoski popped out to MacDonald and McArthur's single slipped through Goyer's legs, the ball rolled to third after his mate had scored. Another Bata error at the plate scored Mroczek with the damage was done. The score was tied.

Came Gerry Goyer's homer and the Batas again took a short-lived lead. Stoneback retired the next two runs off two hits and a Bata error to go into the 9-7 lead. They added another in the ninth off Art Wright who had taken over at the beginning of the inning when Mowat gave way to a pinch hitter.

The Batas played what looked like a ninth-inning rally when Tony Pettitt walked and Gerry Goyer singled to right. Unfortunately the ball struck Pettitt as he was racing for second and he was automatically out. Stoneback retired the next two batters easily.

Gerry Goyer paced the Batas with a home-run and two singles while brother Peter chipped a four-bagger. McArthur was tops for Oshawa with a pair of hits and two singles. Mroczek hit a double and single.

INSIDE BASEBALL for Little Leaguers

By MICKEY McCONNELL
Director of the Brooklyn Dodgers Baseball School

It is the spectacular play which catches the eye and captures the imagination; but such plays rarely occur. The valuable player is the one who practices and perfects the plays which occur frequently. A good illustration is what to do with ball batted down the third-base line. A spectacular third baseman in the major leagues will make a barehanded stab of a well-placed bunt perhaps two or three times in a season, but he will only do so when his years of experience tell him that he has no chance to make a play in the usual way.

However, it would be foolish for a youngster to practice such a play. His hands aren't large enough in the first place, and he should learn that even big-league stars like Billy Cox, Eddie Yost and George Kell try to field every ball with both hands. Players at all infield positions should be taught this, which they must charge to make a play, in this manner. Even when they try for a barehanded catch, they rarely succeed in making a successful play.

DCMOTA Golf Tourney

The Deseronto Chamber of Commerce Motor Association golf tournament will be held at the Deseronto golf course on Sunday, July 4th. Tee-off time is 1 p.m. Entry fee is $2.00 per player. Prizes will be awarded for low gross and low net scores. Entries may be made with Ken Hall, Deseronto, or at the course on the day of the tournament.

Maracle Fashions Second No-Hitter, Point Swamps Stewart-Warner 18-0

(By GABBY ALEXANDER)

Pat Maracle pitched his second no-hit game in nine days, last night against Stewart-Warner, winning this one by an 18-0 score at the Point. Maracle had little trouble, whiffing eleven of the Warner crew while putting five on base via the walk route. One other man reached base on an interference error to catcher John Green.

Point Anne was held scoreless for the first inning but from then on they used their mighty blasting attack to pound around scoring out 19 hits with Pat Maracle also leading the way in his department.

Doug Hull slashed a two-run triple in the second after Nick Sero and Bill Strahan fingled with Maracle safe on an error to plate Sero. Bob Strahan and Sero had singles for another tally in the second. Pat Maracle led off the third with a triple, went home on Genereaux's fly out for another run and then watched team mates Pat Gilmour, John Green and Bob Strahan bat consecutive doubles for another pair and a 7-0 score.

Jack Elliott's pinch double in the fifth after singles by Bill Strahan and Maracle added two more with Hull promptly scoring himself and Elliott with a home run. Two doubles, a triple and Bob Strahan's double accounted for another pair in the sixth. Gilmour and Green had singles on top of a walk for two in the seventh while Maracle and Elliott pounded doubles and Hull walked for the final pair in the eighth.

Dip Young and Frank Baldwin were the mound victims, between them allowing 19 hits, Baldwin had one strike out while walking four.

Defensive gems by Bill Strahan with a lovely one handed stab of what looked like a hit in the eighth, several good plays by Gilmour at third base and Maracle's bare handed grab of a line drive through the box, enabled the dusky twirler to complete his second double zero game. His first came last Wednesday over the Maple team, a 15-0 victory also played at Point Anne.

Maracle had a triple, double and single in five trips to the plate while Bob Strahan was close behind with two doubles and a single. Doug Hull slammed the apple for a round-tripper and a triple. Jack Elliott, Pat Gilmour and John Green each had a two-bagger and a single while Nick Sero and Bill Strahan each chopped out a brace of one-baggers.

The line ups:

Stewart Warner — Miller ss, Brooks 2b, Murray 1b, Lewis 2b, Ashley rf, Bill Strahan p (9). Sertrim lf, Little cf, Dracup cf, Young p, Baldwin p, James c.

Point Anne — Genereaux cf, Elliott cf, Hull ss, Gilmour 3b, Green c, Bob Strahan 1b, Yde rf, Sero 2b, Bill Strahan lf, Maracle p.

AT THE CAPITOL — Roy Rogers and Trigger are the special attraction for the children Saturday matinee at the Capitol Theatre. They appear in Republic's "Far Frontier," in Trucolor. On the same program join the regular two feature attractions, "Drums of Tahiti" in Technicolor, and Jungle Jim in "Jungle Man-Eaters." Continuous show Saturday from 1.00 p.m. Doors open at 12.30.

Electrics Edge Bluebirds 5-4 For 10th Win

Paul Mercier's Bluebird Juniors threw a scare into the league-leading Northern Electric team at the C.N.R. Park last night before bowing, 5-4 in a real close one all the way.

The Birds took an early 3-0 lead by the second frame, watched Northern come back for singletons in the third and fourth where it stayed until the seventh. Three Bluebird markers sent them into a 5-3 lead and they hung on although the Juniors came up with one in the eighth.

Lum Carson toiled on the hill to gain the victory, raising three during the nine inning grind with five walks charged against him. He allowed six hits, five of them singles.

Fireballer Bob Green did the Juniors hurling, also giving up six hits, Bob got credit for the four walks.

"Turk" Barclay crossed the game with a walk, Russell sacrificed him to second and St. Denis also walked to put Carson in trouble. Wayne Bovay came through in the clutch with a single to plate one and St. Denis made it 2-0, when Batchelor nobbled Bob Green's ground ball. Green took a look back to the Northern's half of the inning when Young singled and he walked the next two to fan on the racks with nobody out. He fanned the next two with Jones lifting to centre field.

Dave Jones drew a walk and scored in the second with Barclay's sacrifice and a throwing error sending him home for a 3-0 count. Glenn Young cut the lead for Northern by reaching base on an error and circling around on two passed balls and a wild pitch in the third. Singles by Whiting and Bob Bunton combined with passed balls had the Juniors board reading 3-2 at the end of four.

Bunton walked to start the seventh inning rally. Dr. Noble sacrificed him, Carson was safe when the Bluebirds tried to get Bunton on a fielders choice play but failed and Young singled home the tying tally. Four more errors, two by Jones at short accounted for the other pair of unearned runs that cost the Juniors the game.

Fighting hard to get into their lead, the beautiful ones sent a single run across in the eighth on one-base knocks by Russell, St. Denis and Bob Green. St. Denis was thrown out at the plate with the tying run by Whiting for the third out of the inning.

Glenn Young had a brace of singles to pace the snippers with the wood while Soules tripled. Whiting, Bunton and Carson banged out singles.

Don Batchelor had a double for the juniors with singles for Russell, St. Denis, Bovay, Bob Green and Day.

The lineups:

Bluebirds: Barclay, Russell, St. Denis, Bovay, B. Green, Day, Goyer, D. Jones, Casey.

Northern: Young, Carr, Burleigh, Soules, Batchelor, Whiting, P. Jones, Bunton, De Ruble Locke, Cubitt, Carson.

Line score:

House of David Will Play Here

Baseball's long standing idols of the highways and byways, the whiskered House of David nine, will appear at Exhibition Park, Belleville, on Monday, July 5th. Satchel Paige and his Harlem Globetrotters.

The team is from the Israelite House of David Colony at Benton Harbor, Michigan, and some of the players, including manager, George Anderson, reside in the Colony.

The House of David Colony was founded by Mary and Benjamin Purnell in 1904. It is a religious colony, run on a common wealth basis, where all the members share and share alike.

The chief industry is farming. It is in the heart of a large tourist's area and the Colony has a large amusement park, and many cabins to accommodate visitors.

All male members of the House of David Colony let their hair and beards grow. They take Jesus as their pattern and waymark as the men wore long hair and whiskers. It says in the Bible (Lev. 19:27) "Ye shall not round out the corners of thy heads, neither shalt thou mar the corners of thy beard."

The House of David members are also vegetarians. One of the Ten Commandments is, "Thou shalt not kill" and in this, they say "Ye that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man."

The first baseball team organized by the House of David and authorized by the Colony was in 1914, with the exception of the war years from 1942 to 1945 they have had a team on the road every season.

Soccer Results

Bata came up with a high-scoring effort last night in the Bay of Quinte loop with a 9-0 victory over the ECAF team. Eaton pumped four into the net while Sferis kicked three and Curphey two.

The Canadian Legion bantams downed their bigger brothers, the Foley Foundry juveniles 7-0 in an exhibition game played on the Northern Electric sports field last night. Ken Bishop, Dalrymple booted four, Doug Finlay two with Ted Phillips getting the odd one.

The McDougal midgets handed Robb Rockets last year's midget champs, a 10-0 setback in the George School last night in a scheduled game.

The winners took an early 3-0 lead in the first frame, were ahead 5-3 after five innings, got four more in the fourth to clinch the victory but had to fight hard in the seventh when Robb's scored four. Robb's got their other tally in the fifth with McDougal's countering with a single in the sixth.

Huddleston went all the way for the triumph while allowing seven hits in seven innings for eight runs. Bob Crull was the losing pitcher while giving up all the runs in five innings of seven hits. Bob Vaughan came on to hurl the final two innings without trouble.

Calnan led the victors with four hits while singletons went to Walmsley, Huddleston and Gill. Charles Kingston led Robb's at the plate with three hits, two of them home runs. Crull had two while Dickey and Cook got the others.

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — All abroad for action, or is it rest today? Everything in its place and a place for everything. It's a good day for a good you.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Be your own chairman of efficiency and of the good graces so sorely needed now. Financial and professional affairs, real estate, building sponsored if handled well.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Co-operation with others and the maintenance of a steady pace will be a big help today. Business and marriage are among brighter aspects. Concentrate on essentials; recreation in its place.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Better take a second look; there may be a catch or pitfall somewhere. Your tact and manner of handling things will be deciding factors. Enjoy the company of children.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Plan for future possibilities, especially where they may affect profession, business, science, the family circle. Intimate problems may be tricky; some tend to discourage, but don't ever give up.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—To come out on top, as you well can, you will need all the intense interest and sincerity, tact and other resources you can muster. Don't rush or become irritated.

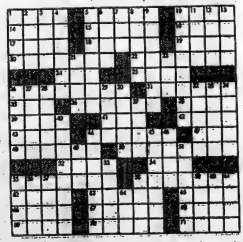
September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Extra study and careful analysis are in order; also precision and working with as little loss of time as possible. Heart interests favored.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—New opportunities for more efficient, steady-minded Scorpio people. Aspects more auspicious than you may at first suppose. If you by hard enough you can achieve.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Be on your toes and ready to act when opportunities appear. Best all-round rays about 1 p.m. Step up practical action after careful analysis. Put over a good day's work.

December 2 to January 21 (Capricorn)—You will need extra push, and, with the proper motives and calculations, it should turn out a top day. Many new avenues open to you who are willing and ready to sacrifice some for gains.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Mostly on the auspicious side today. However, don't take foolish chances or be smug. Keep your wits and your interests before you at all times and you will be amply rewarded.



February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Look for increase in practical benefits through friends or unexpected sources. Building, selling, banking handling property has fresh backing. Romance, marriage favored.

YOU BORN TODAY have a sensitive, talented mentality capable of high achievement and also subject to some pitfalls. Sound education and right living, strengthening religious training, will direct you along the path of safety. You have strength of character, dislike dishonesty, and often do your best under pressure or when the "chips are down". Guard against being over-aggressive. When you are around there is seldom a dull moment. Predict nervous health from strain. Birthdate of: Wm. (Lord Kelvin) Thomson, Scottish scientist.

FOOT RESULTS

TOTLAND BAY, Isle of Wight (CP)—The total catch of 38 anglers in a contest here was two tiny fish—and one seagull, snagged on a fisherman's hook.

CCF-er Attacks Patronage Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Stanley Knowles (CCF — Winnipeg North Centre) said Thursday in the Commons that patronage such as is practised by the government in assigning operators of sub post offices disappeared long ago in the democracy worthy of the name.

Earlier, Alistair Stewart (CCF — Winnipeg North) had criticized the practice of canvassing defeated Liberal candidates for recommendations on sub post office openings.

Mr. Knowles said he had obtained documents concerning appointments and recommendations in his constituency which are similar to those mentioned by Mr. Stewart.

He said it is clear the matter of post office patronage is based on defeated Liberals by the post office department.

Postmaster General Cote said in reply that, the practice of asking recommendations from defeated candidates is followed because of a committee recommendation in 1932. It avoids the expense of a postal inspector making investigations and recommendations.

He said the Legion and others are also approached.

W. G. Weir, government whip, said he doesn't think there is anything wrong with the system.

Flight Cadets Graduate at RMC

About 100 members of the class will leave RMC today and Saturday to begin flying training and take technical instruction at actual RCAF stations across Canada.

The cadets are all university students taking summer training with the RCAF. Others are entering marked completion of their first basic course of instruction.

THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE

BY-LAW NO. 2536

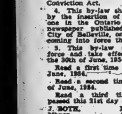
A BY-LAW TO REGULATE THE CLOSING OF BARBERS' SHOPS IN THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE.

WHEREAS it is deemed expedient by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Belleville to regulate the hours of closing of barbers' shops within the limits of the City of Belleville.

THEREFORE BE ENACTED BY THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE as follows:

1. By-law Number 2334 is repealed as of the 30th of June, 1954.

2. All barbers' shops within the limits of the Corporation of the City of Belleville shall, in accordance with the Factory, Shop and Office Building Act, shall be closed and remain closed during the time between the hour of the clock in the afternoon of each and every Thursday and on all days and holidays after the hour of the clock on the forenoon of the next following day throughout the year.



3. Any occupier of a barber shop within the limits of Belleville refusing to close and keep closed the barber shop which he occupies and in which such business is carried on at and during the hours mentioned in section three thereof or who carries on such business on such days in such premises shall be liable to the penalties provided by R.S.O. Chapter 362 and Chapter 341 of 6th Geo. 6 to say shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $100.00, exclusive of costs for each conviction under the by-law and every such person shall be responsible under the Summary Convictions Act.

4. This by-law shall be finally passed this 21st day of June, 1954.

J. BOYE, K.C., Mayor. R. D. BATEMAN, City Clerk.

I hereby certify the above a true copy of by-law No. 2536 passed by the Municipal Council of the City of Belleville.

M. D. BATEMAN, Clerk. 25-2t

by Gene Hitchon

Anyone who's been no closer to television than just reading about it in the newspapers knows what a tremendous thing it is to own a set of his own.

Some of TV's after-effects have been importantly curative to other single factor was as responsible for bringing along the new-born medium mentioned, from 3-D to Cinemascope.

Some have been amusing: consumption of crackers in Great Britain is up 20 percent since the end of the war, and the experts say it's because crackers are the ideal thing to eat in front of a TV set. In some U.S. cities TV has produced a new kind of delinquency (fiancees throughout the country listing rooms at the end of programs).

In Texas, a judge sentenced the persons of seven TV-set delinquents to a half-an-hour of watching a film of the Dragnet show. It dramatized their children's crime, carrying firearms.

That last incident, I think, shows how the quality of programs has been advancing side-by-side with engineering advances.

But even the best of the stuff we get, tries you to distraction on a time or two. Blurred or scratchy-looking screen? By choosing a quality set, like the crystal-clear 1954 models, you can avoid that. Where you buy that set is just as important since a dolenis sincerous instrument needs the ever-present steady care of a good servicing service-man. You won't need servicing often, but it's an awful nuisance when you do. Call Hitchon Radio, 4 Bridge St. E., and give you the prompt service you want.

Frankford

FRANKFORD. The monthly meeting of the Three M' club of the Frankford United Church, was held in the "Rose Lowery" Hall on Monday evening. President Harold Vosborough, welcomed the members and guests.

The club decided to forego all future meetings until September. The executive will hold a meeting in August to decide on a re-opening date. The president then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Mervin Warner's group, who held the worship service.

Mr. Herbert Kern opened the service and Mrs. Kern read from the Scriptures. Mr. Kern favored us with a vocal solo and also spoke briefly on the theme for the evening 'Christian Service'.

Mr. Orval Berry introduced the special guest of the evening, Mr. Jack Austin of Wooler, who entertained the club with a fine showing of colored slides.

Mr. Austin was warmly thanked by club member, Claude Moran.

Refreshments were served. (T.S.

Sunday School Lesson:

Squandering Their Childhood

By ROY L. SMITH

Amid all the furore and fanfare concerning juvenile delinquency we will do well to keep one simple fact in mind. Our children did not make the world they have to live in. If it presents abnormal difficulties and seductive situations, we—their parents—must take the responsibility. It is not the young people who produce the dangerous films, questionable comics, diabolical drugs, or high-powered cars. They have only been under the misfortune of having been born into a world where these things are, and they have to learn to live in it. If they flunk in their required courses the older generation cannot hold them entirely to blame.

A NORMAL HOME LIFE

It is unfortunate that we do not have a more complete record of the home life and boyhood of Jesus. It would be extremely interesting if we could read the intimate story of the training of the young lad at the knee of Mary, and under the guidance of Joseph, but the only strictly historical report we have of those critical days is the one which constitutes this week's Sunday school lesson. It is sufficient, however, to indicate that He came up under a normal and wholesome home life which included love, discipline, and growth.

HE MATURED LATE

We are apt to overlook the fact that Jesus matured late in life, and entered into His life work after He was well along in middle age. The oriental boy was considered a citizen at the age of twelve. It was for the purpose of listing Him as such that He went with His parents to the Temple. From that time on He could own property, appear as a witness in the courts, participate in the deliberations of the local synagogue.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for July 4: "Jesus, Our Example And Lord," Luke 2:40-52.

The life-span of Jesus' day was relatively short. Occasional individuals lived long lives, but the average length of life was less than 40 years. Beginning His life work at the age of thirty, Jesus must have been considered by is contemporaries as a man well advanced in middle life.

PREMATURE MATURITY

There is a tragic tendency in modern life to thrust our young people out into the complexities of life long before they have matured sufficiently, either physically or emotionally. We are making sophisticates out of our teen-agers, and loading them with adult responsibilities while they should still be playing and growing. We are dressing our little girls in formals and teaching the ways of the world when they should still be playing with dolls and enjoying life. We are putting 16-year-olds into uniform and are now proposing to send them to the ballot boxes. We expose them to the temptations of sex, liquor, and a variety of dissipation long before we have trained them in the stern art of self discipline—the result is a squandering of childhood that is positively pathetic.

LOW VOLTAGE RELIGION

No small part of the training Jesus received, in the Nazareth household consisted of careful instruction in the ancient faith of the Jews, but in today's life the modern child is allowed in all too many instances to drift helplessly for himself. "I do not try to influence my child in religious matters," the parent says. "When he is old enough to decide these matters I want him to make his own decision." And with that they wash their hands of all concern. Meantime the youngster flounders helplessly. He is given careful training in manners. He is given dancing lessons. He is carefully supervised to make sure he does not imbibe any objectionable ideas. But he is left to choose his spiritual ideals without guidance, with the result that he sets out into life equipped with low-voltage religion or none at all.

NO MORE FLYS!

IMAGINE CATCHING AS MANY AS 20,000 FLIES IN A TRAP!

Seems impossible doesn't it? Well it's true—this "wonder trap" lures flies by the thousands to wholesale destruction with an odour that acts like radar! Flies within ¼-mile radius are drawn by a mysterious scent that only flies are attracted to. It has no effect on beneficial insects, and even humans cannot detect its scent except at very close range. House flies, large flesh flies, green and blue bottle flies, screw worm flies, even midges, all succumb to its call! They are driven away from houses, animals, barns and garbage cans and into this "WONDER TRAP."

INCLUDED FREE enough fly toxin to last a full season

The trap is as simple to operate as it is effective. Screw trap to the neck of any mason jar or other container. It fits any thread-necked bottle or jar with top of standard 2¾-inch diameter. Hang or set your trap outdoors any time of year fly nuisance is ended. Complete instructions on how to use this fabulous fly toxin are included.

ONLY FLY TRAP MADE FOR THROW-AWAY JARS! END ALL MUSS AND FUSS!

Wherever there are flies, this sensational new outdoor trap is proving itself a boon—in back yards, on farms, dairies, food markets, hospitals, motels, restaurants, just to mention a few of the places.

FLY TIME IS POLIO TIME—COINCIDENCE OR CAUSE?

The medical profession has recorded no opinion as to whether flies are carriers of polio germs, but among preventive measures they do advocate greatest sanitary conditions possible which unanimously declare war on flies. Flies are known carriers and breeders of many diseases. Play safe—destroy them!

Think of being free, during hot summer days and nights, from biting, dirty flies. No more sticky, unsightly fly paper, no more spraying or swatting. Have at an amazing low cost, in all season relief and health protection for your family, pets and livestock).

Several Chicago Fishermen Drown Result High Wave

Swept Off Pier and Rocks And Carried Out Into Lake

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago police said today at least 17 fishermen had been washed into Lake Michigan by a huge tidal wave and that "several" were believed to have drowned.

Police said at least 16 fishermen had been swept off rocks and into the lake at the Montrose harbor, on Chicago's north side, and one had been washed into the water at a pier at North Avenue, 28 blocks further south.

All available rescue equipment of the U.S. Coast Guard, police and fire departments were rushed to the scene. The coast guard sent four boats to aid in the rescue effort.

FISHING OUT PEOPLE

Police Sgt. Robert Donner of Lincoln Park police said several persons "definitely" had been drowned and that rescuers "still are fishing people" out of the water.

The U.S. weather bureau in Chicago described the tidal wave as a seiche and said it was caused by a small line moving across the lake.

The condition is caused by a rapid change in air pressure which depresses the water in one spot and causes a corresponding rise in water level in another. The water quickly rises to several feet.

The weather bureau said it is an "unpredictable situation."

To Meet Adenauer

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France will send one of his close associates to Bonn as his special representative to confer with Konrad Adenauer, the West German chancellor, the French Press agency said today.

Geologists Will Make Study In North Hastings

TORONTO (CP)—Thirteen geological parties will work in Ontario this summer under sponsorship of the provincial mines department.

Their program includes mapping, examination of mineral showings and collection of data on water resources. They will pay special attention to areas where prospectors are seeking base metals or radioactive materials.

The parties will contain 35 university students.

Areas to be covered include the former lake section of Kenora district, the Steel river and Manitouwadge sections of Thunder Bay district, the Blind River area 90 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, the Sudbury area, Bristol township in Pontiac district, Burton and Lake James townships and the Gowganda and Cobalt areas of Timiskaming district, the Haliburton-Bancroft area, Dungannon and Mayo townships in Hastings county, Cardiff township in Haliburton county and parts of Peel county, northwest of Toronto.

Plan First Talk On Indo-China Cease-Fire

HONG KONG (Reuters) — The Vietminh rebel radio announced today that delegations of the Communist-led Vietminh and French Union high command in Indo-China will hold their first cease-fire talks near Thaingyen in northern Viet Nam Monday.

The talks follow arrangements made at the Indo-China peace talks at Geneva for officers of the opposing high commands to hold cease-fire talks to work out details of a cease-fire and the regrouping of forces in the three zones in Viet Nam, the largest of the three states of Indo-China and the main battlefield.

Named Ambassador

OTTAWA (CP) — The long-expected appointment of Hon. T. C. Davis, 64, of Prince Albert, Sask., as Canadian ambassador to Russia was announced Friday.

Mr. Davis will replace Hon. Robert Mayhew, 73, of Victoria, who is expected to retire from public life. He was recently taken ill in Tokyo.

Seriously Injured

NORTH BAY (CP)—A Kitchener man is in hospital here with serious injuries suffered Friday night when the car in which he was riding went out of control and crashed into the ditch on Highway 17.

Suffering a ruptured right eye, facial lacerations and possible internal injuries is John Ashton, 61.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO. (CP) — Synopsis: The low centred at the hot humid air lies through southern Lake Huron and the Niagara peninsula today. It will be stationary until after midnight when it should move off to the southeast leaving all the province with drier and relatively cool weather. Scattered thunderstorms are likely this evening and tonight in southern Ontario. In northern sections the thunderstorms will spread south-eastward through the province during this day.

Wide Widths Of Pine Boards Can Be Used

OTTAWA (CP) — Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has been instructed by cabinet to allow the use of white pine boards in widths in excess of eight inches as roof sheathing on homes built under the National Housing Act.

Maurice Bourget, parliamentary assistant to Works Minister Winters, said Friday in the Commons the new instructions have been issued because of the current surplus in Canada of white pine boards in wide widths.

The present width of white pine boards on NHA homes was raised Thursday in the Commons by Jack Garland (L—Nipissing). At that time he said that a CMHC regulation stipulated that all boards must not be wider than eight inches was restricting the sale of this type of lumber.

Given Ten Days

OTTAWA (CP)—George Lortie, 49, slapped Yate Hong, 12, a school friend, with a ruler. Chinese by origin, Chinese, he said "weren't intended to tell white children what to do."

Said magistrate Glenn Strike: "This is not a case of racial animosity."

Lortie, arrested a short time later while drunk, by law was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

SHIP COMMISSIONED

MONTREAL (CP)—HMCS Buckingham, a converted frigate was commissioned Friday at the Canadian Vickers, Ltd., shipyard. She is the seventh of the vessels of this type ordered as part of the Royal Canadian Navy's build-up of a modern anti-submarine fleet.

Churchill's Visit Makes Headlines But Editorial Comment on Slim Side

LONDON (Reuters)—The Churchill - Eden visit to Washington made the biggest headlines in most British and French newspapers today, but editorial reaction was slim.

"Generally speaking, newspapers have refrained from editorial comment now that the talks have been begun, mostly reporting the day's programs," the London, Daily Star summarized.

The London Evening Standard remarked that "on the ultimate aims both countries are agreed."

"Divided, Britain and America are vulnerable. United they are impregnable."

The Communist Daily Worker lampooned the meeting in a cartoon as another "Munich." They pictured Eden and Churchill, with the ghost of former prime minister Neville Chamberlain behind them, standing before "Benito Eisenhower" and "Adolf Dulles." A French anti-Communist, left-wing France Tireur, which called the talks "the conference of Anglo-American misunderstanding," wrote in a front page editorial:

"Churchill and Eden must also speak in the name of our country, which since the accession of Mendes-France has itself nearer to Britain than to the United States.

"But there is no question of a Franco - British common front against the U.S.," it added.

The Melbourne, Australia, Argus commented that understanding between the British Commonwealth and the United States was "the base of world peace."

"The alliance should never have become shaky," Argus said.

WORKER MISSING IN LOS ANGELES $1,000,000 FIRE

Navy and FBI Check Sabotage Possibility

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Blazing oil from exploded fuel tanks sent flames and black smoke towering over the harbor area here today but firemen appeared to be gaining the upper hand against a $1,000,000 blaze.

One worker was reported missing and two firemen were injured.

Since much of the fuel was destined for military use, the navy and FBI immediately began checking the possibility of sabotage.

All past pilots remaintd on an alert for duty to move ships out of the harbor in the event the 30 - foot firewall around the burning tank area of the Mobilwest Associated Oil Co. should break. The area is about 500 by 1,000 feet, and 15 of 20 tanks in it were destroyed.

Firemen estimated more than 80,000 barrels of various fuels were involved in the flames. The fire, of unknown origin, started when a 35,000-barrel storage tank suddenly blew up, sending its lid about 250 feet into the air.

Fifty fighters were successful in keeping the flames away from 20 wooden tanks at the high-level aviation gasoline which stands in the southwest corner of the area. An early morning most of the contents had been pumped out to tanks on safeward side of the big threat to the harbor lessened.

An engineer, Ben Hamm, said the initial explosion Friday night felt "like an earthquake." Soon six other tanks were burning, each to 50,000 barrels capacity were burning. Heavy smoke and fire boats hurried to the scene.

Three Glace Bay Men Killed In Motor Accident

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP)—Three Glace Bay men were killed and another injured here early today when their car went out of control and smashed down several telephone and power poles.

Dead are John Fulford Poirier, 30, Joseph Edward Poirier, 30, and Gregg Tobin, 29. Thomas MacKinnon, 30, driver of the car, suffered serious injury but suffered shock and bruises.

Police said the accident occurred about 3 a.m. when the car, driven by MacKinnon, skidded off the pavement near the Glace Bay General hospital. Tobin's body had only one leg, apparently lost control. The car smashed through several telephone poles and a hydrant, levelled a water hydrant and landed in the back yard of a resident.

Face Court Martials

TOKYO (Reuters) — Fourteen Commonwealth soldiers — 11 Canadians, two Australians and one Englishman — are to face court-martial charges of selling military stores to Japanese black market dealers at Kure, western Japan, Commonwealth military forces spokesman said today.

Investigation is continuing on other men.

He said most of the men concerned were members of the base ordnance depot in Kure, headquarters for British Commonwealth forces in Japan.

Rebels Set Up Provisional Government in Guatemala

BY SAM SUMMERLIN

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) Anti-Communist Guatemalan rebels set up a provisional government Friday night amid indications the struggle that central American nation is becoming a bad shooting war.

Insurgent planes attacked Guatemala City and the rebel radio claimed its forces were "marching victoriously" on the capital. The Communist - supported government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman declared, however, that its troops remained in control on all fronts.

Creation of the provisional regime, headed by rebel commander Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, was announced in a communique by the "liberation military." It said the government headquarters were at Chiquimula, a town of 8,848 people 30 miles from the Honduran border.

The communique said Chiquimula had been captured early Friday. But a dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Jack Rutledge in Guatemala City said the government's latest bulletins claimed Chiquimula was still in its hands. Rutledge's dispatch passed through Guatemalan censorship and was delayed about six hours in transmission.

Rebel planes also blasted Zacapa and other government strongholds. Authoritative sources said a direct bomb hit on an ammunition dump at Zacapa knocked out the garrison there. It was said a fire air strikes led one source here to comment that "the cold war is getting hot."

Wife Almost Succeeds In Smuggling Husband Home

Blonde Giesli Marla Breilmann, 28, almost succeeded in smuggling her husband home without detection, but shortly before docking Hamburg 33-year-old Wilhelm was caught stretching his legs outside his narrow dark clothes closet.

Captain Haas Praedel handed the couple over to Hamburg harbor police who allowed them to proceed to their former residence in Essen.

Their luggage was held by the shipowners pending payment of the stowaway's fare of 175 dollars.

APPETITE REMMED HUGE

Officials said the couple emigrated in 1951 to Canada where Wilhelm Breilmann found employment from 1941 to 1945. After his immigration he worked as an interpreter in Toronto. The two became homesick but didn't have the money for two return tickets.

Company officials said the stowaway probably slipped aboard the vessel in Montreal pretending to say good-bye to his wife. He was well cared for by his wife, who brought him sandwiches from the dining room every day.

Up till now, the eight-day-old struggle has been waged chiefly with propaganda weapons.

Eight American who crossed the Guatemalan frontier into Mexico Friday said they believed the rebel forces had the government "on the run." A Boston newspaper man in the group said he had seen 400 wounded government troops on routs to the capital.

The Guatemalan embassy in Washington announced, meanwhile, that its government had refused permission for the inter-American peace committee to send an investigating team into Guatemala to verify that nation's charge of foreign aggression. The Arbenz regime has accused Honduras and Nicaragua of aiding the rebels.

The Guatemalan struggle spurred the U.S. Senate to adopt a resolution warning "international communism" away from the Americas.

The resolution now goes to the House of Representatives. Although it has no force in law, the resolution "may serve to strengthen the U.S. government's hands in combatting Communist infiltration in Latin America.

There were more demonstrations in other Latin American republics of sympathy with Arbenz' regime. In Cienfuegos, Cuba, a group shouting anti-U.S. slogans broke all the windows of the American - owned Cuban Electrical Co. offices.

A group of students at El Salvador University unfurled the Guatemalan flag over the main entrance to the school.

LONG SESSION EXPECTED TO BE PROROGUED TODAY

Clear Decks for Final Debate on Estimates

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament is expected to prorogue today after the lengthiest session since 1903.

The Commons cleaned up odds and ends of estimates from four departments Friday, clearing the decks for a final debate on the spending of the citizenship and immigration departments.

Immigration Minister Harris in a brief statement on his department Friday night said the number of immigrants arriving this year is expected to be slightly fewer than the 154,000 arrivals of 1953.

The date after which only dependents and relatives of immigrants are admitted will be moved to Sept. 30, a month earlier than last year.

EXPECT CRITICISM

The opposition groups are expected to launch their criticism at today's session, starting a half-hour earlier than usual at 10:30 a.m. EDT.

The 126th day of sitting today easily exceeds the long session of 1903 by three days. It equals the 126 days to complete business. The post-war session established in June 2 when the Commons exceeded the 119 sitting days in 1947-48. Only the 1940 war session aren't recorded but Parliament sat for 127 days in 1939 days without any long adjournments.

Few surprises marked this session. The brief sitting Friday by the White House press secretary James Hagerty on the effort by the two leaders and their aides talked about the possibility of bringing the European Defence Community to reality and about sharing atomic secrets. All the rest was speculation.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden this morning had his second private conference with State Secretary John Foster Dulles.

The two are reported virtually at loggerheads because of Eden's speech in London Wednesday calling for a collective security or non-aggression pact in the Far East to include the Communists. The two allies has been advocating an anti-Communist pact in that area — a grouping of the powers and the interested states ready to fight communism in whatever form it makes its appearance.

Canada has no part in the discussions but Defence Minister Lester Pearson is reported due to arrive Monday to join Canadian wealth discussion on Southeast Asian problems.

Mr. Pearson was expected in any event to escort Sir Winston and his party to Ottawa Tuesday for a visit lasting until Wednesday evening.

EXACT COMMUNIQUE

It is understood that advantage will be taken of the presence here of Mr. Pearson and C. D. Howe of Australia and Sir Zafrulla Khan, Pakistan's representative formerly of Australia and Pakistan, to have a Commonwealth conference involving permanent representatives of other governments and not officials from the foreign department.

Some sort of communique indicating the outcome of the White House talks is expected Sunday evening when Sir Winston concludes his visit with the Eisenhowers at Gettysburg. The British embassy as guest of ambassador Sir Roger Makins.

The broad belief here is that the Anglo-American alliance will be either maintained or strengthened or dangerously weakened as a result of the week-end conference at the White House.

Commonwealth Conference Said Likely to Be Staged

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower today faced the vital phase of their White House conference.

The outstanding question was believed to be, in essence, whether they can agree to drawing a line further up from 38 on a U.S. crusade and where such a line should be drawn.

That is putting the problem in the simplest form and it is not that simple because there is no official national Communist aggression as such.

On the surface their subject of discussion is Southeast Asia, where yesterday, the Communist conquest is by civil war.

The area of disagreement between the two Western powers which has been widely magnified by press and radio appears to be the desire of the United Kingdom and some others to compromise with the Communists, and the determination of the U.S. administration not to even consider a Communist government of China—as it has been in any pacts signed by a Communist authority.

MUCH SPECULATION

The first day's talks brought no informative announcements and it is unlikely there will be any. There was a brief session Friday but the White House press secretary James Hagerty on the effort by the two leaders and their aides talked about the possibility of bringing the European Defence Community to reality and about sharing atomic secrets. All the rest was speculation.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden this morning had his second private conference with State Secretary John Foster Dulles.

Howe of Australia and Sir Zafrulla Khan, Pakistan's representative formerly of Australia and Pakistan, to have a Commonwealth conference involving permanent representatives of other governments and not officials from the foreign department.

Some sort of communique indicating the outcome of the White House talks is expected Sunday evening when Sir Winston concludes his visit with the Eisenhowers at Gettysburg. The British embassy as guest of ambassador Sir Roger Makins.

The broad belief here is that the Anglo-American alliance will be either maintained or strengthened or dangerously weakened as a result of the week-end conference at the White House.

How to Draw Line Against Red Moves Is Point At Issue

Chou Is Pelted With Rose Petals, As Asian 'No War Pact' Is Mooted

By PETER JACKSON
NEW DELHI, India (Reuters)—Communist China's Premier En-lai and India's Jawaharlal Nehru conferred for two hours today amid speculation that their talks would lead to an Asian "no war pact."

The two Asian leaders also met Chou En-lai's arrival here from Geneva on a three-day stopover on his way home from the Far East conference.

The Independent, British-owned newspapers, The Statesman, said foremost among the topics being discussed between Chou and Nehru was the possibility of applying to the rest of Southeast Asia the "non-aggression" principles laid down in the opening paragraphs of the agreement between India and Communist China on Tibet.

Diplomats here state that basic principles for relations between Asian countries are: Mutual respect for each other's territorial integrity and sovereignty, non-aggression, non - interference in each other's internal affairs and peaceful co-existence.

Chou interrupted his business here today to go sightseeing. The Communist Chinese leader was garlanded with flowers and pelted with rose petals as he toured.

Tonight Chinese ambassador Gen. Yuvan Chung-hsien will give a reception in Chou's honor, after which the Chinese Communist leader will be guest of honor at a banquet given by Nehru.

Backstage Talks To End Deadlock Are Being Held

GENEVA (Reuters) — Delegates to the nine-nation Indo-China peace conference today began a long week-end of backstage talks aimed at breaking the East-West deadlock holding up a ceasefire in the 7½-year war.

Members of the delegations, which for eight weeks have been trying to restore peace in Indo-China, will meet each other today, Sunday and Monday in the hope of ways of insuring the guns will keep silent once shooting ends.

East and West have been divided over supervising the ceasefire, who will do it and how.

Britain, Russia and France will take the leading part in the week-end talks. The three nations will discuss France's proposal to create a committee of experts to consider the "who, how and what" of supervision and Russia's counter-proposal, put forward Friday, that delegation heads should first provide guidance.

Truck Crashes And Explodes, Killing Driver

RIDGETOWN, Ont. (CP)—Gerald Reider, 24, of Ridgetown, died early today when the truck he was driving on Highway 3 near here and crashed, exploded and burned.

Gerard Reider, a nearby farmer, said he heard an explosion and ran to the truck but was unsuccessful in getting the man from the cab.

Contract Award Recommended

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The award of a contract for construction of part of the seaway section of the state thruway to the Tomlinson Construction Co. Ltd. of Rotterdam Junction, N. Y., has been recommended by E. T. Gawthrop, chief engineer of the state's public works department.

The Tomlinson company submitted the lowest of six bids—$4,001,001.50, the department estimate of the cost was $4,948,000.

The project involves construction of 5.5 miles of pavement to link the Grand Island state park south and north bridges, construction of 8.19 miles of access roads in the area, and grading and paving of 2.5 miles of approaches to the south bridge.

The Tomlinson company, constructed a portion of the thruway in the Montgomery county section, in central New York.

PARCEL OF PAPERS CRASHES THROUGH BIG WINDOW

This morning at five o'clock, when Wm. G. Henderson was making deliveries of the morning paper along Front Street he tossed a parcel in the general direction of Belnap's doorway. His aim was not so good and instead the parcel of papers crashed through the big window in the front of Oliphant's store.

Minor Baseball

Overcoming a 2-0 deficit, Schwab's Little Giants won a close 3-2 victory over Vaughan's in a scheduled game played last night at the Pine St. school grounds.

Jack Elliott and Gerard Vaughan hooked up in a pitching battle for the seven innings route, with Elliott allowing five hits and the loser six. The win for Schwab's avenged a 5-2 defeat handed them in the opening game of the season.

David Poirer's triple scored both Vaughan's runs in the third with the Giants tying in the fifth and getting the winner on Jack O'Neill's single in the sixth. Ben Garrison led the winners with two singles, while Hurst, Alexander, Rushlow and O'Neill got the others. Gord James claimed two singles for Vaughan's, while Kerrish doubled and singled. Poirier had a three bagger.

English Crown, 402 Years Old Owned in City

You folks who are thinking of digging up your old coins and joining in the current craze of having their history published, can forget about the whole thing.

Unless you have a specimen one that can claim greater age than the big gold silver crown that King Eddy the Sixth of Merry Old England used to tip his hat to.

Bill Baverstock, of Northern Electric, approached this reporter the other day with a decided list to starboard. He reached in his pocket, extracted a large coin, and immediately levelled off to an even keel.

And get this. It is dated 1552. That makes the old geezer about 402 years of age.

The coin is in an excellent state of preservation. It is approximately one-eighth of an inch in thickness. It clearly depicts on one side a dashing knight of the realm astride a fiery charging steed, gaily caparisoned. On the other side the English coat-of-arms.

In the Latin inscription are the words "Edward VI". The rest appears to be "Maum Peavi Daum Divior", whatever that means.

Obituary

CHARLES FREDERICK FROST

The funeral of Charles Frederick Frost was held Friday afternoon from the Bellville Burial Company Funeral Home. Rev. Ray Rowley officiated.

Bearers were Milton Bird, Ernest Summers, George Turner, Carl O'Hara, Douglas Summers and Bert Batchelor.

Interment took place in Belleville cemetery.

On Thursday evening, June 24, an Oddfellows service was held for the deceased in the chapel of the Bellville Burial Company with members of the I.O.O.F., No. 81, participating. Those conducting the service were Noble Grand Douglas Simpson, and Chaplain Arthur Summers.

MRS. HARRY M. CAIRNS (Canniffon)

Mrs. Frances Maude Cairns, widow of Harry W. Cairns, died in Belleville General Hospital early Saturday morning, June 26th, following an illness of one week's duration. She was in her 69th year.

The deceased was born at Cape Vessey, Prince Edward County, and lived in Point Anne prior to moving to Canniffon 16 years ago, where she operated a nursing home. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gordon.

She was predeceased by her husband, Harry W. Cairns, some years ago. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Muriel Cairns at home, and two sons, Morley Ray O'Connor, Canniffon, and Gary Cairns, Canniffon.

She was a member of the United Church.

Erie Resistor Co. Officials Welcomed at Town Banquet

TRENTON (Special) — The Erie Resistor Company from the United States which located in Trenton some months ago held their official opening here Friday night. The Trenton industrial team of Lloyd A. Fraser and Kenneth J. Couch received due credit for the job they did in bringing the electronic industry into the community. J. T. Pfeiffer, general manager of the company for Canada, identified them as the "men" who interested Erie Resistor in coming to Trenton.

Senator Fraser replying to the general manager's remarks said he considered the official opening of the resistor plant a very auspicious occasion in the history of Trenton. He paid tribute to his good friends Kenneth J. Couch who he said "breathes and lives" works in the interest of Trenton. "No one has contributed more to the prosperity of Trenton than Ken Couch," the Senator said.

He assured the many businessmen from the United States and Canada attending the banquet that Mr. Couch and he were prepared to do anything they could in the way of assistance in progress of Trenton. "We are still hand in hand in the development of the industrial progress of Trenton," the Senator commented. He said he understood that the Erie Company had plans to expand. "Any land Erie needs they are going to get," Senator Fraser assured the management indicating that he was the owner of the property they might require. He dwelt on the rapid progress the industry of Trenton had developed among industrial people. Industry does not locate because of a name on a railroad station, he said the Senator. Industry locates because of individuals and personalities, he pointed out.

Senator Fraser asked the Erie executives to have confidence in the future progress of Canada. He maintained that the future of civilization and freedom depended on the outcome of Churchill, Eden and Eisenhower talks. Developing from the trend of his remarks Senator Fraser indicated to his American hosts that he had a great deal of respect for former U.S. President Harry Truman. He related that Mr. Truman had phoned him from Washington to ask him to introduce the United States Ambassador to Canada at the Federal government cabinet ministers.

ESPECIALLY HONORED

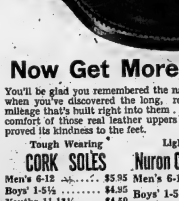
Ex-mayor Couch was especially honored by G. Richard Pyrling, president of the Erie Resistor Enterprise. In appreciation for the part Mr. Couch played in assisting the Erie company in Trenton he was presented with a beautiful 21-inch console model television set. Indicating that he had been taken by surprise by the company's generosity, Mr. Couch said: "I did it because I met good friends and it is no trouble for me to do something for good friends." Mr. Couch elaborated on the senator's remarks reiterating that they endeavored to build confidence for the town of Trenton.

"It makes me very happy to welcome such wonderful people and a fine industry to Trenton," he said.

The Erie Resistor Company, located in a spacious one-storey plant off Wreggs Street, south of the Essex Electronic enterprise. The company manufactures intricate parts for the television and electronic industry.

The firm also supplies assembly parts to the Stewart-Warner Co. in the neighboring city of Belleville.

At the present time about 75 people, mostly women, are employed by the company here. This number is to be good increased since the company anticipates putting into production two more assembly lines.



GIVES REASON FOR LOCATION

General Manager Pfeiffer said the reason his company had decided on Trenton was because it was located in a good town, situated between Toronto and Montreal and had a good amount of girls looking for employment. He thanked Mr. Pyrling, his president, for "having faith in Canada and faith in me."

The Erie Resistor Company now has five plants in operation, Vice-president W. Henry Fryling observed that the firm undoubtedly would expand were tailored television made available. With the advent of colored television broadcasting he said there will increase in products the Erie company manufactures.

Among the guests entertained was His Worship Mayor Percy Hubbs, Reeve Arthur Bill Steenburg, builder of Erie's fine factory acknowledged congrats from the owners. Town Clerk O. W. Larry Campbell; Trenton's association to the Erie directors. The company's pilot, Nancy Corrigan, was introduced to the gathering. She flies back and forth between the home office at Erie, Pennsylvania and Trenton, at least twice weekly. She voiced thanks to the facilities made available to her at the Trenton Air Station by Commanding Officer Group Captain J. B. Millward, one of the guests at the head table.

Erie Resistor directors present included: President G. Richard Fryling; vice-president W. Henry Fryling; general manger for Canada J. T. Pfeiffer; vice-president Byron B. Minnium; vice-president of sales Allan K. Shenk; vice-president of research and engineering James D. Heibel; assistant treasurer Raymond A. Pierce; director Wilfred Sherk; chief mechanic David Stone; assistant to the president George Shau; chief of production George Kempf; manager of distribution and sales Robert Elliott; works manager of electronics division Ralph Hatheway.

Misses Turn In Highway, Airman Injured

Ronald Hall, 21, a member of the RCAF at No. 2 Manning Depot, St. John, Quebec, is in the Belleville hospital with several head lacerations, shock, possible skull fracture and internal injuries, following a motor accident at Marysville early today.

Hall, with a friend, 20-old Cobourg lad as passenger, was entering Marysville from Deseronto, when he apparently became confused and missed the highway turn in the village and went into the ditch. His passenger escaped injury.

75 Sea Cadets Will Camp Out Over Week-End

About 75 members of the Quinte Sea Cadets are anticipating an enjoyable week-end today and on Sunday when they will camp out at the summer home of Col. F. H. Wills at Northport.

The Cadets will proceed to the Wills' home by army transport and pitch tents for sleeping overnight. During the week-end a full program of sports and other activities will be held. Sunday there will be a parade and drumhead service in which district war veterans will take part.

The week-end activities will be in charge of Cadet Lieut. Harry Mackenzie.

IN MEMORIAM

HERBERTSON, — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, who left us June 26th, 1952.
Sadly missed by wife, daughter and sister, Marilyn Jean Herbertson, who left us two years ago today, June 26th, 1952.
Time heals the heartaches we must bear,
But memories keep you always near.
Still we have so many memories
Of the one we love so dear,
Her memory is our keepsake,
With which we'll never part.
God has her in His keeping,
We have her in our heart.
—Sadly missed by mother, father and sister. 726

ARCHER, — In loving memory of a dear husband, Fred Archer, who passed away June 26th, one year ago today.
Ever remembered by wife Matilda Archer and brother-in-law Joe Pritchard. 726

LAKE, — In loving memory of our dear son, Ronald, who was called away so suddenly June 26th, 1952.
Your last saying was, "I'm going to have Beard,
And you need to hear our my last parting word.

A Lift for Living

Getting Our Money's Worth

Money has its place in life. And its proper place is as a servant, not a master.

We should use our possessions so that they do not conquer and possess us. Money, which can be so dangerous to life, can also be made to be enriching. The test of a man is not how much money he makes, but how much he makes of his money.

Dr. Robert McLean of California has made an interesting study of the word "steward." He points out that the word originally was "stiward," that is, the keeper of the sty. But from this humble origin of keeper of pigs, the office of steward rose through fidelity of service to be the custodian of the household property.

Connected with the word steward is an interesting bit of history. Fitzhalt, a Norman who accompanied William the Conqueror of England, left a son, Walter, who went into the service of David the First, King of Scotland; David conferred upon some land which had been forfeited to the crown and gave him the title, "Steward of Scotland." And from that title of "Steward" is derived the royal line of Stuarts.

ROYAL USAGE

This bit of history may serve to symbolize the possibilities of stewardship. From "stiward" to "steward" to "Stuart" suggests that money which often makes men piggish can be lifted to royal usage.

Whatever money we may have in our possession, we hold in trust. Carved over the entrance to the Bank of England are the words of the Psalmist: "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof." This fact of divine ownership is fundamental to the Biblical conception of life.

Even of our bodies, Saint Paul said: "Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own."

We hold our lives as I hold my apartment. I only rent my apartment. Yet I call it my home. I have lived in my apartment for some sixteen years, but I have never seen my landlord. I deal with him through an agent. As long as my rent is paid promptly, I have little to do with the owner that I come to think of the apartment as my own. Yet whenever I take a new lease, I am reminded that he is the party of the first part and I am the party of the second part.

PARTY OF FIRST PART

So in life. We may treat our bodies as our own, wasting our health if we please. But when disease or injury brings us to the brink of death and we start climbing back to what we call "a new lease on life," then we realize that God is the party of the first part and we are only the party of the second part, holding our goods even as our bodies as His tenants or stewards.

God has richly endowed our North America with natural resources. The Creator has richly blessed our people with native wit and skill for power to make money is almost unlimited.

Recently I heard a prominent business leader remind his hearers that the greatest World's Fair up to that time was held in Chicago in 1893. Then in 1933 the Century of Progress Exposition, the greatest exposition up to that date, was held in Chicago. Then he made the striking statement that fifty percent of the people attending the 1933 Exposition made their living out of businesses unknown at the time of the 1893 World's Fair, only forty years earlier.

POSSIBLE DEVELOPMENT

With such a background of industrial progress, who can predict the possible development of the next half century?

When Washington University in St. Louis celebrated its centennial last year, its program committee declared its desire to bring to the campus not only leading scientists to discuss physical forces, but also thinkers who would consider the values to which our material progress should be directed. The university wanted answers to questions like these: "What things are most worth believing and hoping? What values deserve our supreme allegiance?"

The people who think only of making money are money mad. Those who think of the values for which they spend their money are money-wise.

Let's get our money's worth.

Dr. Ralph Sockman, whose weekly column "A Lift For Living" appears regularly each Saturday in the Ontario Intelligencer has been the recipient of five honorary degrees within the past eight months.

The special honorary degrees and the dates on which they were bestowed to Dr. Sockman are as follows:

University of Tampa—Jan. 28, 1954—Doctor of Humane Letters, L.H.D.

Ohio University—June 13, 1954—Doctor of Laws, LL.D.

Dr. Sockman is considered one of the world's outstanding religious leaders and has been a pioneer in the development of the inter-denominational program. Each year for the past many years he has arranged his program so that he could spend two or three months in world travel in the interest of greater religious progress and understanding, especially in the underprivileged nations.

The editors of the Ontario Intelligencer are pleased to publish the fine, inspirational, religious message of Dr. Sockman in the interest of, and benefit to, the people of our community.

For Parents Only

Mother's Vacation

By NANCY CLEAVER

"Oh dear, I could do with a splendid holiday

Is a couple vacuum."

from Christopher Fry's "The Lady's Not for Burning".

Vacation plans are in the minds of everyone! Half the fun of a holiday lies in anticipating it. Jo Son is talking about camp or working on a farm. Daughter is deciding forward to a trip or to her best chum visiting with her at the family cottage. Dad is even hauling his fishing rackle—but what about mother?

The hours of the average homemaker are much greater than those of women in any other occupation. There is nothing new about this—but there is an increased tempo in modern living and greater demands on mother's reserve energy.

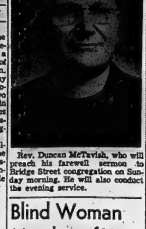
To far too many homemakers, the summer months are the most taxing ones of the whole year. Shopping for additions of the sum mer outfits for all the family—remodeling last year's clothes, figuring out costs of vacation plans, extra outlay for entertainment of guests, trying out new recipes to tempt flagging appetites in the torrid weather, who would choose to fill a mother's role during July and August?

What can be done about the situation? Just accepting an unsatisfactory summer as mother is no more as far as any real change from her regular household duties is decidedly unfair. Mother needs a vacation as much as anyone. Feeling hurt herself is exhausting for her emotional health. All summer the constant heavy demands on her physical reserves frequently leave her with very little optimism or energy for the Autumn work.

Every household has its own peculiar set-up and so contrasting solutions appeal to different homemakers—But the very fact that her partner in marriage is tackling this knotty point with her will give new heart into mother.

In one home Monday Wash Day during the summer months without the usual outside help paid by the hour invariably ended up with mother laid low with a sick headache brought on by fatigue. A decision to send out the washing to a commercial laundry proved to be an excellent investment in mother's health. One husband bought a washing needed new combination washing and drying machine as a summer surprise for his wife. Still another family, with school age children at home, were organized by Dad to give Mother more help with the housework, especially on Wash Day.

A family trip still leaves mother with the major responsibility for supervising the children and keeping them from distracting dad's attention when he is driving. A carefree vacation for mother and dad, without their children, is strongly advocated by many marriage counsellors. This is an excellent moment for a happy partnership. Mother and father have a chance to talk without interruption from the "small fry."



They can recall their honeymoon days and discover a new way what good company the other person is!

This plan is difficult to carry out when the children are pre-school age, unless there is a willing housekeeper whom the youngsters know and love will "double" for mother. Little folk are usually much better after by a mother-substitute in their own home following their usual routine.

But once boys and girls are of school age, a camp holiday for son and daughter sometimes leaves the parents free to vacation together. In some families a "better" arrangement has worked out. Ellen Johnston looked after the Brown's children for a week while their parents got away in July. Then in August, June Brown took on Ellen's twins, and for the first time in ten years, mother and father Johnston went holidaying alone together.

"Where there is a will there is a way!" has proved to be a sensible saying. Mother needs a vacation. Father and the children, if they are determined to give her a bit of a holiday, can surely manage it!

TO PREACH FAREWELL

Blind Woman Member of Lions International

VICTORIA (CP) — Mrs. Bessie Fowler, blind since 1934, is one of three women members of Lions Club International because of "her outstanding community service."

Mrs. Fowler was invited to a vacation visit to Victoria was her seeing-eye dog, Roddie, seven-year-old doberman pinscher, her guide and friend for six years.

Mrs. Fowler was honored by the Lions for teaching braille, raising funds to provide guide dogs and campaigning for the John Milton Society which supplies a religious magazine to the world's blind.

With her husband, L. L. Fowler, child welfare worker for public works department, Detroit, Mich., and the late Glena Stalner, one of North America's doberman experts, she has been responsible for placing 400 seeing-eye dogs in the hands of the blind.

Mrs. Fowler has two wits, good manners and a first-class memory. After Mrs. Fowler has visited a person twice she has only to pronounce the person's name and Roddie will lead her straight to his office or house.

In a hotel the bell boy has only to take Mrs. Fowler and Roddie to a room once, and he will go back there on command. He takes Mrs. Fowler to the elevator, steers her around puddles and bits a path with his nose through masses of pedestrians on the street.

"I feel as safe with Roddie as if I had a person guiding me," she said.

Stories of Famous Hymns

by HORACE B. POWELL

Sweet the Moments, Rich in Blessing

Sweet the moments, rich in blessing,
Which before the Cross I spend,
Life, and health, and peace possessing
From the sinner's dying friend.

Here I rest, forever viewing
Mercy poured in streams of blood;
Precious drops, my soul bedewing,
Plead and claim my peace with God.

Truly blessed is the station,
Low before His Cross to lie,
While I see divine compassion
Beaming in His languid eye.

Lord, in ceaseless contemplation
Fix my thankful heart on Thee,
Till I taste Thy full salvation,
And Thine unveiled glory see

"SWEET THE MOMENTS, RICH IN BLESSING"

The Cross of Christ has been a source of comfort to Christians in sorrow for more than nineteen centuries.

The Rev. Walter Shirley, pastor-poet of Ireland, found solace there in a time of, soul-testing tragedy and humiliation; it was out of this personal tribulation that his beautiful hymn of the Cross, "Sweet The Moments, Rich In Blessing," was born.

Mr. Shirley was serving at the time as rector of a small church at Loughrea, Ireland. His brother, the Earl of Ferrars, a fellow of questionable character, quarreled one day with an aged servant and in a fit of rage killed the old man. He was arrested and, after months of wearying and mortifying waiting, was convicted and executed. The strain of his brother's trial and death told heavily on the young clergyman. When the ordeal was over he returned to his parish and tried to forget his grief in his ministry. One day he got hold of some verses which had been written several years earlier by the Rev. James Allen, an Itinerant preacher. He began to revise them, and finally rewrote them completely to make his popular hymn. It is a favorite today in all churches.

Douglas Fir Plywood

and rigidity tests have ch plywood on to ls is 100 per cent more 115 per cent stronger inch diagonal wood

Actually the recom- ickness of Douglas fir heathing is 5-16 inch stronger than ½ inch

decquately insulated build- sulating sheathing med- as mineral wool, reflec- etc. must be used in the roof sections for good

The structural mem- ding the sheathing, con- relatively minor part to insulating value of the thus the reduction in re- cost transfer involved ting plywood for ½ inch is virtually negligible. r, the quality of air tight- ness is receiving increasing recognition as a primary factor in preventing heat loss. Plywood sheathing, with its large unbroken panels, makes a contribution to this requirement. In actual practice plywood serves as far better insulating material than is indicated by rate of heat transfer calculation tests.

COMPARE FAVORABLY

Walls of Douglas fir plywood compare very favorably with other standard construction materials from the standpoint of "sound" insulation. One series of tests carried on by the National Bureau of Standards indicated that ¾ inch Douglas fir plywood is equal to any other material commonly used for walls, partitions and ceilings, including ½ inch fibreboard.

Tests at the Forest Products Laboratories in Ottawa showed that the holding power of roofing shingle nails in 5-16 inch fir plywood was greater than that of the same type shingle nails in ⅜ inch pine sheathing.

A similar test by another research department demonstrated definite superiority in holding power of asbestos siding shingle nails in 5-16 inch fir plywood sheathing as against ½ inch spruce shiplaps.

In every instance plywood held the nail so strongly that the shingle broke before the nail started to move.

EASE OF ERECTION

One of the greatest advantages plywood offers builders is the speed of erection which its large panels afford. Buildings are sheathed faster because of the greater coverage per piece. No allowance is required for matching or overlapping and plywood panels fit standard stud spacing with no waste. Fewer nails and shorter nails are required reducing both material and labor costs.

There is no shrinkage in Douglas fir plywood and because panels are made of wood, woodworking tools can be used for installation.

Easy maintenance is another plywood feature. Walls and ceilings of plywood are permanent and crack proof. Wall damage due to settling is eliminated. Plywood wall panelling also has a beauty of its own unmatched by other wall surfacing materials.

Plywood is versatile, too. It can be used on the farm, at home, in industry, as a basic building material, a finishing material, and for furniture. It is also used for marine purposes.

A wide variety of one and two-sided sanded or unsanded finishes in thicknesses from ¼ to ¾ inch are available at builders' supply houses.

For concrete form work, wall sheathing, roof sheathing, subflooring, finishing interior and exterior finishes, for easy, low-cost installation and for permanence, strength and beauty, it is difficult to match Douglas fir plywood.

Highways Committee Returns From Long Tour Weighed Down With Facts, Meets Mon.

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian From Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario legislature's highways investigation committee ended a 5,000-mile tour of northwestern United States and Ontario early today.

The committee, headed by chairman Kelso Roberts (PC—Toronto St. Patrick) returned to Toronto by air from Fort William weighed down with facts gathered from highway officials in North Dakota and Ontario and briefs on proposed highway projects demanded by various northwestern communities.

"We have covered a lot of ground and gathered a lot of information," said Mr. Roberts. "We will have three hard days of work before starting next Monday."

TO RECEIVE BRIEFS

The committee Monday will receive briefs from construction and engineering associations as well as information on highway construction in Britain and Germany. Further witnesses will be called to testify before the group and consideration will be given to recommendations contained in the report of J. D. Woods and Gordon Ltd., Toronto management consultants appointed by Premier Frost to make a study of the department.

During this last tour, Mr. Roberts indicated the committee would submit an interim report to the government on the committee's work. In the House Albert Wren (Lib-Lab—Kenora) said the Opposition would prepare a minority report on the committee's work.

The group flew from Toronto to Bismarck, N.D., where it learned of that state's sufficiency rating of highway contractors bidding on government jobs. The committee generally approved of this method of evaluating a contractor.

Swinging through Ontario it heard protests and received briefs from Rainy River, Fort Frances, Red Lake, Ningdon and Fort William on local highway problems.

TIRING TRIP

It was an exhausting tour made mostly by bus. At one stage of the trip the committee was forced to make a 10-mile detour by open motor boat on Lake St. Joseph in the Pickle Crow district during a rainstorm. Committee members slogged through mud and waded in pot-filled roads on their way south.

The tour was the committee's third; it travelled to Albany, N.Y., last month to study that state's highway division and later made a 500-mile bus tour of the Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie districts.

At Fort William the committee spent two days questioning E. A. Cash, divisional engineer, and his staff of office and field administrative practices.

Friday, Mr. Roberts joined with Mr. Wren in blasting the highways department for not seeking departmental officials to Fort William to give the committee information on the division prior to and after the 1953 election. The committee had two days previously requested such officials to appear but no acknowledgment was received.

STRESSES IMPORTANCE

Mr. Roberts he regarded the committee as "paramount at the moment."

"I will not let anybody shove me into a corner because they think the party is more important," he said.

Mr. Roberts said it had been understood before the committee began its tour 10 days ago that three or four officials of the department would accompany the group. Among the names cited by Harold Tregaskes, contract engineer.

"But he has not been with us and if any blame is to be attached for our not seeing him to get required information it cannot be placed on the committee," Mr. Roberts said.

The committee requested from Terrace Bay on Tuesday three members of the department appear at Port William Friday to outline the operations of the Port William division prior to and after the highways investigation. Mr. Cash, appointed last fall to replace A. M. Mills who was suspended and later charged with conspiracy, was unable to answer many of the committee's questions during its travels in the area.

WONDERS RE CONTRACTS

The blast was heard when C. E. Jaques (PC—Lambton East) wondered if the residents of northwestern Ontario wanted more contracts called for this year in the area "or do they want department officials running around the country with us. They cannot do both. Either they have to be here answering questions and going with us or down in Toronto preparing for calls."

He said the committee was informed that it could receive any information it wanted in Toronto.

Mr. Wren retorted that in Toronto "they'll tell you we can get it up here. Now they say we can get it in Toronto."

Mr. Jaques said he thought it "most unfair to demand these people be up here."

"I'll get my share with that statement at all," said Mr. Roberts.

NEW FOUNDATION

Opposition Leader Farquhar Oliver said part of the work the committee was to prepare a new foundation so that when contracts are let this year they will not be carried out in the same atmosphere that they were carried out in previous contracts.

The committee got a good travelling around the country did if the committee could not question people.

Mr. Wren said the "many questions had been asked and not answered" and that the whole committee has been made a scapegoat by the department of highways.

He said Highways Minister Doucett had told the committee that he and his officials would be available 36 hours a day "but when we get up here we actually ended up on a Cook's tour at the taxpayers' expense. Every bit of information was promised to us and no witnesses and experts promised they should have been here with us."

Bush Pilot Says He Was Not Lost, Landed on Lake

SEPT ILES, Que. (CP)—A Toronto bush pilot, located Friday after he had been missing since last week, said he wasn't lost but had landed on a lake 40 miles northwest of Sept Iles because he thought he was taking his pontoon-equipped Norseman into Sept Iles airport.

Eldon McEachern, 42, was reported missing Wednesday by his employers, Austin Airways Ltd., of 133-mile flight here from Wrigley.

The flyer was spotted by an RCAF aircraft from Greenwood, N.S., a few hours after the alleged plane was located on Lake Allard. The aircraft sent a radio Norseman saying he stayed with it for two days and then decided to walk westward, hoping to hit the Quebec North Shore and Labrador Railway which he knew was about 12 miles away.

After being brought out of the dense bush, McEachern said: "I didn't have enough gas left to return to Mount Wright, so I decided to head to the nearest lake where clear weather prevailed, and await developments.

"I'm used to bush travel and I wasn't a bit worried that I wouldn't be found."

Goldfish Cruise Back into Debate In the Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—Goldfish cruised right out at a government publication and back into the Commons Friday night.

In their second appearances this session, William Hamilton (PC—Montreal Notre-Dame-de - Grace) steered them figuratively into the lap of State Secretary Pickersgill, acting fisheries minister.

The goldfish, he recalled were the subject of a government publication on the cruising speed of goldfish. But the publication described experiments undertaken in the fall of 1948 to determine the soundness of a fishway which had been built for $3,000,000 the previous spring.

IN EXPERIMENTS

He said Fisheries Minister Sinclair had let him know in March the goldfish were used in experiments to determine how to contract some of the steps in the fish ladder at the Hell's Gate canyon on the Fraser river in British Columbia.

But, he said, the experiments were undertaken in the fall of 1948 and published in 1947 and the fishway was completed by the spring of 1946.

Mr. Hamilton recalled that he had questioned Mr. Sinclair "specially" about the government printing of "pornographic" literature, among them one which the newspapers had dubbed "The Sex Life of the Lobster."

Mr. Sinclair's replies had been unsatisfactory, he said, and Mr. Hamilton:

If the government printed 1,000 publications at $2 the wastage was $2,000. But 11 500 copies were given away free and I am told the naivety of all we were given away there was "SHUDDERS"

That, he said, was the theory on which Mr. Sinclair based his answers. He shudders to think, if rumors he has heard Mr. Sinclair becomes finance minister, what he will mean to the country under Mr. Sinclair's theory that the more that is thrown away, the more is saved.

Mr. Pickersgill replied that the publications aren't available for free distribution. They were technical pamphlets sent by the state by the Queen's printer on the possibility some scientist might find them useful.

He said that despite their titillating titles they aren't pornographic reading. He was sure the one concerning the life of lobsters wouldn't be found objectionable if found in the hands of children, even by E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops) who recently sponsored an amendment to the Criminal Code banning distribution of crime comic books.

British Place Crashes in Reich

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—A four-engined Avro York cargo plane of the British Skyways Corporation crashed in East Germany near the Helmstedt zone of Hamburg to Berlin and its crew of four were killed.

Reports from Hamburg and Berlin said the big plane plummeted to earth 10 miles in the Soviet zone of Germany, 37 miles from Berlin.

The plane was reported on charter to the Skyways Corporation to haul German cargo. British European Airways said the plane was not loaded at the time of the crash.

Find No Trace Of Boat on Lake

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (AP) — The U.S. coast guard reported today it found no trace of a boat in distress in the area of Lake Erie in which fears were expressed Friday night.

Residents of the shore area reported seeing flares "an underscored distance" between Dunkirk and Barcelona, 18 miles southwest of here.

The coast guard cutters were dispatched from Buffalo and from Erie, Pa., and an military boat joined the search from Dunkirk. Nothing was found.

Mrs. Eden Better

LONDON (Reuters) — Mrs. Anthony Eden, wife of the British foreign secretary, who is undergoing treatment in a hospital here while her husband is in Washington for the Eisenhower-Churchill talks, today was reported making satisfactory progress.

Mrs. Eden a 56-year-old niece of Eden's boss, Prime Minister Churchill, is being treated for an ulcer. No operation is anticipated.

UN Delays Guatemala Move Waiting for American States To Make Own Investigation

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Ignoring Russian demands, the UN Security Council decided Friday night to delay action on the quick-raising Guatemalan war until the Organization of American States makes its own investigation.

The 11-nation council declined to adopt an agenda listing Guatemala's complaint that Honduras and Nicaragua are still condemning aggression in defiance of the council's cease-fire call of last Sunday.

The procedural motion for its adoption needed seven votes to pass. It got only four, while five votes were cast against it and two council members abstained.

This postponed debate indefinitely and gave the 21-nation OAS time to investigate the Guatemalan charges through its five - member inter-American peace committee.

Brazil and Columbia — with U.S. support—had proposed this course. But the Soviet Union, backing Communist - infiltrated Guatemala, had demanded "measures to put an end to aggression in central America."

The vote found Russia, Lebanon, Denmark and New Zealand in favor of the Guatemalan agenda. The United States, Brazil, Colombia, Nationalist China and Turkey voted against it and Britain and France abstained.

The inter-American peace committee, meeting in Washington, had set up a commission to investigate the Guatemalan situation.

Honduras and Nicaragua had organized the commission permitting to enter their territory, but Guatemala Friday night finally decided such permission.

Awarded $2,065

OTTAWA (CP) — A 17-year-old girl who fell over a pile of building materials in an Ottawa restaurant a year ago was awarded $2,065 damages Friday in Ontario Supreme Court.

She is Miry Moiniuk of Peterborough, who, along with her father, William Moiniuk, brought action against restaurant owner Spero Andrews and Sparks Street Operations Ltd.

She injured her right arm when she fell over the materials at a time when the restaurant was being renovated.

Seaway Talks Will Open Week After Holiday

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada-United States negotiations for construction of the St. Lawrence seaway's navigation facilities are being arranged for the week of July 4, officials said Friday.

Opening of the conferences has been set tentatively for Monday July 5, at Ottawa.

The sessions are expected to pave the way for a final agreement between the two federal governments leading to a start later this year on canals in the international section of the river.

Hydro-electric development on the International rapids is to be carried out concurrently by the Ontario government and New York State, which will split the $800,000,000 electricity cost and the 2,200,000 horsepower of energy.

The federal negotiations develop from recent congressional authorization to have the U.S. spend $454,000,000 for navigation on the U.S. side of the river. Canada's move, Canada was preparing to spend about $300,000,000 on navigation in the International stretch and up and down river.

The Canadian action was planned under a 1932 agreement with the United States. Congress and the U.S., which the Canadian government monitors to be effective, and until it is revised by Canada-U.S. negotiations.

Billy Graham Arrives by Plane In West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham arrived here today by plane from West Germany, still looking pale from the effects of a severe attack of fever which delayed his scheduled arrival in West Berlin by one day.

He was met at the airport by German church officials, a small group of West Berlin politicians, the press and a group of 25 girl singers. He went straight to the West Berlin city hall where he called on Lord Mayor Dr. Walther Schreiber, another old friend, a name in the Golden Book.

Graham's departure from Duesseldorf was cancelled Friday when he complained of severe pains shortly after arriving by plane from to 25,000 West Germans at the city's Reuter Stadium in West Berlin.

The train was powered by three diesel units. The first two stayed on the track and the third overturned.

Duke to Visit With Sisters Over Week-End

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh today flew from this town on the shores of Lake Constance for a visit to Princess Margaret.

As he stepped from his private plane, he was greeted by the Friedrichshafen mayor, and by officials of the French occupation forces.

The duke, who is touring Europe by plane, was met by Princess Margaret, where he visited a third sister, Princess Margarete of Hohenlohe-Langenburg.

The duke plans to remain here for the week-end. Princess Margarete, Princess Sophie of Hannover, and Theadora Margravine of Baden.

Young War Veterans Are CCF Candidates

SUDBURY (CP) — Two young men who served in the armed forces ford were selected to carry the CCF standard in coming provincial elections with the Sudbury and Nickel Belt ridings.

Fred Jamieson, 35, of Sudbury, and Bill Stewart, 33, of Chelmsford, were selected by party members through mailed ballots last week and their names were announced Friday night at meetings of electors from the two ridings in Sudbury Friday night.

Both men are war veterans and employed with the International Nickel Company. Neither has any previous political experience.

STOPPED TO ARGUE

TORONTO (CP)—Martin Casone 37, ran over a garbage can with his car and stopped to argue with the owner. Police investigated the argument and found stolen plumbing material in the back of Casone's car. Thursday he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for theft.

Fast Train Starts to Shimmy Derailing 8 Passenger Cars, Injuring at Least 75 Persons

HALLAM, Neb. (AP)—The Rock Island Railroad's fast, eastbound Rocky Mountain Rocket "started to shimmy" and eight of its 11 passenger and pullman cars tipped over in a derailment near here Friday night with at least 75 persons getting hospital treatment.

State safety patrol chief Col. C. J. Sanders of Lincoln said his reports indicated that at least 16 or 18 persons were seriously injured.

An early morning check of hospitals at Lincoln, Beatrice and Crete showed 61 persons still in hospital. At least 14 others were given treatment at hospitals in the three cities and dismissed.

Unofficial reports indicated about 150 passengers were on the train. Engineer Ralph Zeigler of Fairbury, Neb., said "I don't know what happened. The train started to shimmy and all of a sudden I was thrown against the controls."

Col. Sanders said his men reported one car piled on top of another. Others were just tilted over" his men said.

Harold Seaver, St. Louis, related "It (the car she was in) didn't hit hard. It slid like a log on water. I didn't expect it to be that easy."

Mrs. Hegard, who was not seriously hurt, said, "My head struck against the overhead baggage rack —there was a lot of confusion and there were children in the car. There was a fellow in a bed, taken out and put on a stretcher. He was bleeding at the nose and around the mouth."

SOME "HITCHED"

The Rocky Mountain Rocket was bound for Chicago. As soon a the report of the derailment was received, all this little town's available men turned out to help with ambulances and patrol cars rushed to the scene.

Col. Sanders said his men listed at least 25 persons who needed ambulance transportation to Lincoln and Beatrice, Neb., hospitals, both about 30 miles away. Many others, he said, "hitched" rides with motorists to town to get minor injuries treated.

Train mailman T. F. Danahan, one of those who hastened into town to report the wreck, said: "The lights went out and the mail car overturned — there was a little fire in the engine but it was soon extinguished."

The train was powered by three diesel units. The first two stayed on the track and the third overturned.

972 Houses Built For Indians On Reserves in 1953

OTTAWA (CP) — Immigration Minister Harris said Friday night that 972 houses were built for Indians on reserves last year.

Reporting to the Commons on Indian affairs, for which he is responsible, Mr. Harris said there had been a "noteworthy" increase last year in the number of Indian children in school—31,000, an increase of 2,700 compared to 1952.

He said he hoped an agreement reached with the Sarnia, Ont., board of education would provide an example for other communities where Indians live.

The federal government had agreed to pay for some classrooms in the Sarnia school and make a per capita annual grant for Indian children attending that school. As a result, there is now no separate Indian school in Sarnia and Indians are free to attend all schools in the city.

Canada, U.S. and Mexico Have Many Things in Common

By MARGARET ECKER

MEXICO CITY (CP)—Canada, bring about the economic unity of the United States, and Mexico is the south of the powerful neighbor to the north, Jean Chrétien Leger has found during the few months he has been Canadian ambassador here.

The former Ottawa newspaperman is Canada's youngest ambassador and is the brother of Cardinal Emile Leger, the Quebec boy's youngest cardinal.

Mexico, a uncommon, and powerful neighbor, Canada and Mexico see eye to eye on most international affairs and on most questions, the new ambassador Leger.

"Both countries are interested in the liberalization of American trade policies. Politically, at the United Nations, Canada and Mexico see eye to eye on most important problems." As close neighbors of the United States, they both have intimate difficulties with their influential friend. The two countries realize that their policies must be close one to the other."

IMPORTANT POINTS

As ambassador Leger sees it, the two most important points of Canadian policy since the war have been the Dominion's association with NATO and participation in United Nations action in Korea.

"In both instances," he points out, "Latin-America has been related to the UN war machine, and our war machine, in the supplying of essential materials; so, indirectly, our two countries have co-operated. Anything we could do to influence Latin-American participation, the better off we would be.

"Latin-America needs technical assistance. We are in a position to give it in many fields."

The new ambassador found relations between Canada and Mexico "very friendly," with emphasis on trade having been built up over the years.

"We should be able to establish, eventually, a permanent figure of $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 a year both ways," he said. Canada's Trade Minister C. D. Howe's visit to Mexico last year, Canadian Pacific Airlines and Trans-Canada Airlines are now bringing down many Canadian businessmen, many of whom find it an advantage to come here for two weeks' holiday on the way to Mexico."

Latin-American trade problems with Canada are not new to Mr. Leger. In 1943, after three years in the department of external affairs, Ottawa, he was posted to the Canadian legation in Chile for two years.

STOREKEEPER'S SON

The tall, greying, 41-year-old Canadian likes to keep in first contact with Dominion affairs by the days when he was a small boy in St. Alexis-de-Montcalm, Que.

"We lived a simple life in small farmer was a grocery merchant you know, kept the corner store and post office. My first contact with Ottawa was when I was allowed to use the hammer to cancel stamps."

Leger went to school in Paris and there met Gaby Carmel of Montreal. They were married in Ottawa in 1938. Jules became a reporter on Le Droit, French-language Ottawa newspaper, and he still thinks a journalistic career is one of the most interesting in the world.

"Anyway," he says now, somewhat nostalgically, "it is the best trade to give one a sound approach to external affairs. Because you have to have a fund of general knowledge." Travelling a cross a newspaperman he gained also a deep understanding of Canada and Canadians.

But the war came, and in 1940, he was appointed assistant press censor, shortly after he joined the department of external affairs, Ottawa. He was his first foreign post, where he remained until he was transferred to Canada House, London, in 1947. On his return to Canada in 1949 he was seconded to the prime minister's office and served there until 1950 when he returned to external affairs and head of the European division. From 1951 until the end of 1953 he when their car went out of control state for external affairs.

Six Municipalities to Form Committee of Rehabilitation

MORRISBURG, Ont. (CP)—Representatives of the six municipalities to be affected by the $100 000 St. Lawrence seaway power project will form the nucleus of a municipal advisory committee to rehabilitate the area, Premier Frost of Ontario says.

He addressed civic leaders and planning consultants from the municipalities concerned at a meeting Friday in this community 30 miles west of Cornwall.

The recently-announced specific list committee will assist municipal representatives in their work, since the Ontario government "will not delegate its duties to others and wash our hands of responsibility," the premier said. Appointments would probably be completed within the next two weeks.

TREASY PROBLEMS

The problems of water supply, roads, schools and hospitals would be treated by the committee. Delegates approved the idea of the committee.

The committee could also consider creating a parks system in the area similar to that in the Niagara district, Premier Frost suggested.

The six municipalities affected by the project are the villages of Iroquois and Morrisburg and the townships of Cornwall, Osnabruck, Williamsburg and Matilda.

"I know for a fact" How often have you heard that remark? Countless times, I'm sure, and perhaps every day—we're exposed to this method of refutation, used generally to combat any thought or argument which may differ from the speaker's point of view. Frequently these so-called "facts" are so far removed from the true case that they're very little resemblance. Invariably these "facts" are personal theories, gained by incomplete observation or limited assessment, generally of some extremely rare series of events.

In a great many cases—too many—the perfecting of some observation by the phrase tends to stifle all opposition among the hearers. It gives the impression that the ultimate has been said —the last word in the subject. This unfortunate situation often leads to people, the listener and not sufficiently informed on the subject to say refuting, and they're forced to accept the plausibility or sweeping proclamations.

As a result, some totally inadequate and incorrect theories are propounded, and for some unaccountable reason, these unaccountable reason, these "facts" seem to have wide acceptance and stick in people's minds; moreso than the genuine story.

For years and years the minds of anglers and hunters have been preyed upon by these so-called opinions and conclusions. Every so often some misguided, bored one of the old chestnuts, and the ball—or nut—starts rolling again!

Myths and legends have an unhappy habit of creeping in to the field of natural history—perhaps more than any other. Some years ago a radio commentator mentioned the fact that two lads had found some nest of hawk, and had released it. The radio announcer went on to say, shocked that the bird had not been despoiled forthwith. He spoke of the horrible havoc the creature would wreak in the future. The broadcast was heard by many, by many people. The fact that the comment was refuted in toto the next day doesn't lessen the importance of such drivel being foisted on a generally unprecedented public. For generations it has been generally believed that all hawks are dangerous, evil creatures, and should be destroyed on sight.

Hawks kill to eat—the same as all birds. They're the same as some birds. They're not wanton killers, and they're not the bane of farmers. In practically every instance, science has proved that hawks are beneficial—living on mice, rabbits and other crop destroyers. In our lifetime we've seen literally thousands of hawks. We've lived in the country, where our neighbour kept chickens. We've never seen a hawk take one.

Naturally enough some hawks take chickens, or have done, occasionally. But the basic, logic damns an entire race for the occasional exceptional act. All hawks are not wanton killers. All hawks are not harmless robbers. But most of them are harmless! We're sure of one thing, however—if you hear someone condemning hawks, you'll hear the phrase "I know for a fact."

We only mention hawks because they represent a typical example of the unwarranted myths and unrelated items of misinformation which are now being circulated about the outdoors. The wildlife yarns have been around for time out of mind, and the fact that they have been proved wrong doesn't appear to lessen the degree of acceptance they receive.

There are many more—humming-birds hitch-hiking on the backs of geese, bears riding on eagles—snakes swallowing their own tails—and the ever-present muskies losing their teeth in August—they're all cut from the same cloth and have been with us these yarns originate? When does the first investigation did their spring, and how did they receive such wide coverage? We're pretty sure that many were mere figments of lively imagination, and in the telling and re-telling were likely prefaced by "I know for a fact."

Willie Mays Takes Aim At Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Wondrous Willie Mays takes dead aim at the Babe Ruth record for consecutive home run record today, and the way he's been going, he could equal it in his first time at bat.

The brilliant New York Giants center fielder slammed his customary daily homer Friday night as the league leading banded Chicago Cubs their eighth straight setback, 6-2. It came in May's first time at bat as did all but one of Willie's six homers in the last five games.

PLAYING

The major league record for homers in most consecutive games is six. It is held by four players, two in each league. George Kelly of the Giants walloped seven homers in six consecutive games back in 1924. Walker Cooper, another Giant, tied that mark in 1947. Lou Gehrig of the 1931 New York Yankees and Ken Williams of the 1923 St. Louis Browns also homered in straight games.

Mays, the starry-eyed youngster of 23, had no idea he was at such a spree nor a record and if he had he probably would not have cared.

"Records? He asked, "You mean I got one every day for five days? You don't say. That's pretty good. But records don't bother me. . . . If I get a homer—that's fine. But the big thing is if it's going to win a game."

Anne Sharp Retains Ladies' Golf Title

TORONTO (CP)—Anne Sharp, 23-year-old housewife from Weston Foothill, retained her Ontario ladies' golf crown Friday defeating Mary Gay of Kitchener 4 and 3. The victory assured Miss Sharp a berth on the Ontario Interprovincial team that will play in Halifax in August.

After losing the first hole to Miss Gay, 1352 champion, Miss Sharp of Lodestar Golf Club, settled down to play a steady game for the rest of the day. She took the lead at the fifth and sixth holes and never relinquished it.

Going into the final 18 holes this afternoon Miss Sharp was two up. Using her drives to good advantage she increased this lead to six up by the fourteenth. Miss Gay took the 31st hole but had to win the next five to tie.

On the fourth and par 3 32nd hole Miss Sharp teed to the green and then putted for the title cup. Miss Gay then conceded defeat.

CUT DEFICIT

Late in the first 18 holes, it looked as if Miss Gay might be getting back into form. She cut a three-hole deficit on the 9th to two then she took three of the last four holes.

In the afternoon, Miss Sharp was three up on her opponent's weak putting to increase her lead. She birdied on the 22rd when Miss Gay took a bad 7 and then put she birdied again on the 26th when Miss Gay had to chip out of a bunker.

"I'll probably not be this hot again for a long time," said Miss Sharp, who comes from the same club as Marlene Stewart who reached the battle. She had to win Friday to get a berth on the interprovincial team as her teacher duties at Brampton High School kept her from competing in five out of the team's test matches. The ladies' champion is automatically on the team.

The consolation championships went to Mrs. Neuenfeldt Cedar Brae. when she defeated Mrs. F. M. Lockwood, Rosedale, two up in 18 holes.

Luke Easter Is Reinstated

OTTAWA (CP) — Luke Easter, who was suspended indefinitely without pay from the Ottawa Athletics Thursday night, has been reinstated and fined $100.

George MacDonald, general manager of the International Baseball League club, announced Easter's reinstatement after the big first baseman had a run-in with Less Bell, the Athletics' field manager.

Easter was benched for poor showing in a cut-off play while the A's were dropping a 13-inning decision to Havana Sugar Kings when the Ottawa team returned to the dugout.

The big former Cleveland Indians slugger struck Bell. Other players in the pit broke up the fight before any blows were struck and Bell ordered Easter from the game. Easter played Friday night against Rochester.

British Tennis Washed Out

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Wimbledon's tennis factory was scheduled to go on an overtime basis today but the weather people sought to catch up on time lost by rain.

The all-England tennis championships were washed out Friday. A crowd of 18,000 patiently but late evening before the announcement was made.

Col. W. J. Legg, an official of the All England Lawn Tennis Club, met with other officials on how to catch up on the schedule.

They decided to bring all available courts into action once the weather clears. "We will not remember this happening," said Legg. "But it's the only way we can catch up on lost time."

The feature match will pit Tony Trabert of Cincinnati against Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Trabert has proved four already chosen he automatically gets a berth and the fourth member in the standing will be dropped.

Officials feared that the professionals might be too strong and stipulated that the low 15 Ontario amateurs and ties must play to-day's matches to prove ground-loss. Of the 55 qualifiers, 23 are amateurs and 37 are pros.

'Shock Troop' Tactics Tried By Richards

CHICAGO (AP) — Canny Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox is trying "shock troop" tactics in hopes of outmaneuvering Cleveland's Casey Stengel and the Yankees in the American League pennant race.

Irked by criticism that the White Sox went stale in late season the last two years, Richards is experimenting his bench to the hilt to keep his regulars fresh for the torrid July 4th run.

Utility outfielder Chico Carrasquel, second sacker Nellie Fox and leftfielder Minnie Minoso have played in all of the Chicagoans' 74 games prior to Friday night's single with Boston.

On this home stand, particularly, Richards has been running his athletes in and out of games in steady fashion. Phil Cavarretta, former manager of the Chicago Cubs, has played at first base and right field. Another ex-Cub, Carl Sawatski, has relieved Sherm Lollar in catching and Cass Michaels and George Kell have switched with second results at third base.

Question Box

A Public Education Service of
THE HEALTH LEAGUE OF CANADA
111 Avenue Road, Toronto 5,
in co-operation with this newspaper.

All questions submitted are answered anonymously by members of the medical advisory board or of special medical sections of the HEALTH LEAGUE.

The "Health League Question Box" consists of questions submitted over the years to the Health League of Canada—a unique voluntary organization which enlists the advisory support of leading specialists in every field of medicine to combat preventable sickness by means of public education. All questions submitted to the "Question Box" are answered by medical or scientific experts and checked for accuracy by members of the specialized technical sections of the Health League.

The Health League, in presenting this weekly newspaper feature, hopes, by making good medical advice available, to counteract the bad advice on health matters freely offered by non-professional passersby and old wives. Readers are invited to submit questions to the above address. Or—confess, the Question Box" cannot undertake to diagnose specific ailments by mail. However, all questions will be given courteous attention and answered as fully as possible.

SOCIAL DRINKERS

Preventive medicine is social work; at its most successful it almost cancels out the need for another phases of social work, because many social problems are related to preventable disease in one form or another.

As the most potent arm of preventive medicine in Canada, the Health League has always stressed the social aspects of disease, over and above the medical aspects. The League's active fight against alcoholism probably goes deeper into society than any other health sector.

The social nature of the problem of alcoholism is what makes it so difficult to pin down. With diphtheria, for instance, one can persuade great masses of people to take preventive action. The bacteria that causes diphtheria is a nasty, ill-natured creature that one would gladly see the world raising socially—not if one knew its secret weak.)

PART OF SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

The stuff that causes alcoholism is something else again. It goes back as recorded history goes, almost; indeed, as primitive social functions, and even a part of religious rites. Attempts to erase alcohol from social gatherings have been only partially successful for brief periods of time, and only in scattered communities.

Drinking—as, at least, does not necessarily cause alcoholism. Obviously the most foolproof armor against alcoholic disease is abstinence, but the alcoholism committee would be less than realistic realistic

Question: Is it true that a drunk should be left alone to sleep it off?

Answer: This type of drinking is the worst kind because of the danger they would only be the dangers associated with drinking while under any circumstances, i.e. increased danger of accidents with automobiles, falling and drowning, fights, etc. As long as the drinking episodes were two or three months apart, the effect of the alcohol would not be cumulative. However, if gradually the drinking parties got closer and closer together, the effect of the alcohol having a cumulative effect with eventual breakdown into uncontrolled drinking would be reached.

Wild Life Experts Baffled By Disappearance of Caribou

By ROMEO MAGERA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC (CP)—One of the oldest mysteries baffling Quebec wild life experts is the disappearance of most of the caribou that roamed the province in colonial times.

Some reports say a mysterious illness causing animals to cough up blood killed most of the herd. Others blame it on the wolves.

Four groups of caribou, or North American reindeer, exist on this continent—one in the province of the Queen Charlotte Islands west of the border; the Arctic or field caribou in the northern tundras of the Rocky Mountain caribou, largest of all; the woodland caribou in Ontario, Quebec and Newfoundland.

CIVILIZATION BLAMED

Gaston Molsan, biologist of the provincial game and fisheries department, believes civilization caused the Quebec herd to almost vanish.

Mr. Molsan spent several years doing research in the Gaspe region and other parts of Quebec. He reports some of his findings in an article published in less technical (the notes), the French-language monthly review of the province Sociological Society.

The male woodland caribou weighs between 200 and 400 pounds, the female less. It can be identified by enormous antlers and yellowish-white beck, belly and hooves against a dark brown body and tail ground. The fur turns greyish black or brown in winter.

In colonial times caribou were said to have been found in abundance through southern Canada. A mysterious illness was reported to have killed off a great number in the 17th century. In 1672, however, great herds were said to have been found in the Gaspe.

At one time in the region from Quebec City, south to Richmond and east to Rimouski, it was estimated at least 10,000 caribou existed. For unknown reasons, this herd began to decrease, and Laurentides Park, north of Quebec City was created to help these and other animals. Despite the efforts, the caribou almost vanished from the north shore of the St. Lawrence.

The story is the same on the North shore. Caribou were found so far south as New Hampshire at the time Champlain visited there in Maine in 1613, Nova Scotia in 1924, New Brunswick in 1877. Surveyors of this particular herd are to be found only in the Stick-Shock Lakes region of Quebec where it has been prohibited since 1949. The herd numbers about 1,000.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

Caribou require special living conditions, needing both tundra or mountain plateaus in the north or west of fir trees that has reached maturity. They also require a fairly abundant moss and lichens, constituting the animal's major diet. Mr. Molsan reports that in the summer habitats, where caribou feed, they eat the moss's body which hangs from trees. Only old forests are favorable as the moss takes years to mature.

Disappearance of caribou in the Laurentides Park has been said to be often been attributed to the wolf. But Mr. Molsan disagrees and thinks region with the caribou, and reappeared with the growth of deer herds.

Believers of this theory are unable to explain the sudden disappearance of caribou in Gaspe where the wolf never existed.

Mr. Molsan believes the solution lies in change of habitat for the caribou through the civilization people, villages, lumber camps, agriculture—have driven them to a corner where they can do nothing but die.

Present knowledge, although incomplete, makes Mr. Molsan suggest three measures be taken if Gaspe caribou are to increase: protection of the actual herd and protected and expansion of old forests.

TRUMAN BETTER

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former president Harry S. Truman Tuesday "had his best day" since an operation early Sunday in which his appendix and gall bladder were removed. A supervisor at Research Hospital said Mr. Truman's condition remains satisfactory. He is steadily improving."

RAWDON

Departing Pastors Presented With Useful Gifts

RAWDON — On Monday evening Carmel Jubilee Hall was filled to capacity with friends and the Carmel congregation to spend a social evening with Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Baker and Rev. W. S. Irwin, before their departure from the circuit.

Mr. Harry Brown was master of ceremonies, and spoke briefly in appreciation of the parsonage friends.

The affair was a genuine surprise to the honored folk as they thought they were attending a closing function of the local Young Adult group.

Mrs. Arthur Pryar and Miss Joyce Bailey delighted with an appropriate duet, and Mrs. Ray Hagerman gave a reading.

Song films were enjoyed with the assembly which were showed favorites with "Carry On" being most appreciated.

The chairman commented on this selection and spoke of Mr. and Mrs. Baker's outstanding leadership during their five year pastorate.

Mrs. Russell Hubel read an address on behalf of the Carmel congregation, Mrs. Russell Pryar read an address on behalf of Carmel Women's Aid group, and Mr. and Mrs. Baker were presented with a gift in keeping with a remembered by the Rev. W. S. Irwin was presented with a silverware chest, also with a name embossed on it in gold lettering.

Mrs. Baker thanked assembly for all the kindness. Mr. Irwin plans to use his gift when he attends another summer session at the university.

Rev. Gordon McCrory read an address to Mr. Baker on behalf of the Rawdon Circuit, Section No. 22, and he was presented with a Presbyterian fountain pen. Mr. Baker also received a useful parsonage gift and he praised the school children for their remarkable interest in religious study which they were just the odd point between the Rawdon and Carmel Sunday school.

Refreshments were served and all had a brief chat together during the social hour.

Garden Notes

Garden Chores To Do In June

By FLORA M. SAVILLE

"Let us have a garden that Canadian," says E. W. Oliver, ornamental horticulturist of the experimental farm at Ottawa.

He thinks too many of us are trying to copy California and Florida style gardens. These gardens have been evolved to suit a different type of climate where two, or three sets of shade trees must be planted, to suit the needs at different times of the year, when the sun shines from different angles.

Canadian gardens are in use only for months of the year, and the open spaces are more pleasing to our eyes than plywood, woven screens, or opaque glass walls.

We can get our contrasts by using different sizes and shapes of plants.

SUMMER PRUNING

Summer pruning is important. Evergreens and plants which lend themselves to long straight shoots need heading back. The early part of June is the best time to do this. The cut ends will soon be covered with fresh green leaves and the plants will take on a compact pleasing shape.

Annuals, such as cosmos, verbena, drumond phlox, salvia — in fact nearly all the annuals that are blooming perennials—will be better for the same treatment. You can even pinch back petunias that can be some plant food, either liquid or the dry chemical type and water it in. Within a week you will see new side growth begin to show to fill in and round out the plants.

Immediately after flowering lilacs, mock orange, spirea and the other flowering shrubs should be pruned. Cut out the old wood as shrubs produce flowers on old, or second year wood, so prepare our late fall mowing.

Doubles Save Trouble

Did you know that Danny Kaye was a double? Talking to him film critic some London street scenes were doubled for him in his latest film, "Knock on Wood" in the London street scenes were doubled for him by Danny Kaye.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

A "BIRTHDAY".

Eighteen years ago next Tuesday a guy walked into the "control room" of this newspaper, sat on the edge of a chair and waited for the "chief" to speak.

He spoke. He learned that the stubby chap with (then) just a promise of embonpoint, had served his cubdaip on the Halifax Herald; had done a spot of Hun-hunting during the 1914-18 ructus; miraculously survived the Halifax explosion; sailed on the famous "Bluenose" on her maiden voyage; played football for the "Wanderers" against "One-Two-Three, Upidee, Dalhousie"; covered a "learned" house in Antigonish—and knew nothing about the manufacture of cheese.

The chief appeared to have a pretty fair background, too. The newspaper business seemed to be thriving; he drove a pretty fair brand of automobile; was well dressed and seemed like a friendly sort.

After an hour's exchange of pleasantries, and what-not, you know what men talk about on occasions like this, they reached an agreement. But there was a clause. It was agreed that satisfaction had to be mutual. If the chief liked the guy, all right. If the guy liked the chief and the newspaper environment, that was O.K. too.

That was eighteen years ago. The chief never asked me if I liked the place, but I imagine he is pretty well wise to it now. And if he doesn't like Carver, it is about time he told me about it. He probably will after he reads this.

It was on June 22, 1936 when Claude Tice and the late Ken Gallagher owned "Welcome" corner. Ken died so because he had an idea I had a slight acquaintance with the art of jotting down notes when attending a sports function. Claude, because of an unjust appearance and doubtful ability, that I possibly had a yen for the Liberal party.

Later I became acquainted with one of the best news reporters that ever "milled a story" in these news rooms, the late Jimmy Gay.

Jimmy was one of the best. He could write copy that was a city editor's dream. 'Newspaperdom lost a clever writer and reporter when Jimmy eventually left to go to an untimely end.

Then there was the society editor Miss Agnes Gallagher, who later became Mrs. Ken Colling. "Mary" as she was familiarly called in the office was a regular newspaper gal. She could write on any subject and more than once assisted the male species of the staff when the going got tough.

A lot of water has since streamed under the local bridge in the past eighteen years. And many and varied experiences have come my way since joining the staff.

I had scarcely arrived in the city on June 29th when I walked slap-bang into a job. It was Sunday, and I thought I would look the town over before entering into the new duties. But I did not have to wait long. That afternoon a C.P.R. freight train ran off the tracks near the station and several cars were wrecked and overturned. As fate would have it I ran into the city editor. "This," he said, "is where you go to work".

That was the year Belleville had an intermediate football team looped with Lindsay, Orillia and Cobourg. It was the year the John Street Church burned down. The Central Ontario Baseball League was slowly slipping out of circulation. You could buy a suit for $21.56. The biggest news story of that year was the big "flood". Later Eddie Thomas' intermediate hockey team won the Ontario championship and Speedy St. Louis and Cy Barriage "caught on" with the Welland team for the next season.

Coleman Tice echoed to the crack of scuffed softball fans every night, and that year the Percival Stores team, under the late Harry Knott, brought home the championship bacon from under the noses of the best in the province. It was long year, too, but I was not tabbed for any new dresses.

Space will not permit any more reminiscence. I see the chief has just arrived and now would be as good a time as any to find out about that "mutual agreement" of eighteen years ago.

BUSY WEEKEND.

The Batas hit the long week-end trail today for Toronto and points west and before they return they will have placed three Vladuct League games under their belts, weather permitting.

Tonight they are scheduled to play the Oakville Oaks, and tomorrow at Millen Stadium they hook up with the Toronto Hoakings and Stanbakes in a twi-night bill. Their crops should be gorged with baseball by the time they get home Sunday night.

• • •

FOUR-MAN FASTBALLERS.

The big softball attraction of the day is the tussle between Ace Holden and his famous "Fastball Foursome" which plays the Blankets of Mercy this evening at the CNRAA Recreation Park starting at seven o'clock.

The game will get under way sharp on time, so Manager Warpy O'Brien says, so better get there early and get a good seat.

REGENTS PLAY EARLY DATE.

Bryson Reid's intermediate Regents will play their Bay of Quinte Baseball League scheduled game with Deseronto at 6.30 tonight instead of 8.30 as originally slated. The Regents went down to their first defeat at the hands of the village team by a 5-3 score this week, and will be out for revenge this evening. At present they are in second place in the league standing with Picton leading with three wins against no losses. The Regents have won two and dropped one.

Allie Reynolds Gets 9th Win In Yankees Drive to Top; White Sox Trail by Game

By Ben Fhlegar
Associated Press Sports Writer

Allie Reynolds' reluctant decision to abandon his role as an oil tycoon with an aching back in favor of one more season of pitching looks more and more like the key move in New York Yankees' drive for their sixth straight pennant.

The Big Chief from Oklahoma has been magnificent.

When he beat the first-place Cleveland Indians 11-0 Friday night it marked his ninth straight victory after losing his first decision. The third-place Yankees moved within three games of the Indians and the second place Chicago White Sox, who defeated Boston 6-4, clinched within one.

Reynolds, who had the backache often in the closing stages of 1953, was ready to give up his reservation with his oil wells unless the Yanks match his asking price of $40,000. They finally did.

PAINT TO DO

Reynolds really didn't need a shutout. His mates clinched the contest in the third with seven runs. The Chief got a bunt single and a driving single at the expense batted during the rally.

Elsewhere on the majors' all-night schedule Washington edged Detroit 4-3 and Baltimore beat Philadelphia 5-3 in the American League. New York whipped Chicago 6-2, Brooklyn defeated St. Louis 3-1, Milwaukee whitewashed Philadelphia 7-0 and Cincinnati thumped Pittsburg 6-0 in the National.

Bob Keegan of the White Sox became the first American League pitcher to win 11 games when he blanked Boston 6-0 on five hits. One of the hits was a pinch home run by Ted Williams with a man aboard in the ninth.

NEAR FIRST

Dean Stone and Camillo Pascual, a pair of rookies, pitched Washington to within one game of the first division by beating fourth-place Detroit. The Senators got only six hits but bunched them in the first and eighth innings. Eddie Yost homered and Pete Runnels drove in a pair with a double and a triple.

Willie Mays put the Giants on the victory trail against the Cubs with a two-run inside-the-park homer in the second inning. It was his first home run in the last five games and his 24th of the year.

Stan Musial came out of his slump with a home run and a single but it wasn't enough to beat Carl Erskine and the Dodgers. Roy Campanella singled home two runs off Vic Raschi in the first inning for Brooklyn.

Ted Kluszewski hit his 19th and 19th home runs in Cincinnati's victory over the last-place Pirates. The blows accounted for four runs, half of Redlegs' total against Max Surkont, who suffered his eighth loss.

London Majors Take Over Top In Intercounty

ST. THOMAS (CP) — London Majors took over sole possession of second place in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League by defeating St. Thomas Elgins 9-4 here Friday night.

The victory gave the Majors an 11-8 won-and-lost record. The Elgins have won 10 and lost nine. Other games, Galt at Kitchener and Brantford at ANYNGAYS, and Brantford at Chatham were rained out.

Pitcher-hitter Bill Best made his first appearance with the Majors this season and although he was touched for 10 safeties he kept them well - scattered, allowing single runs in the first, second, fourth and fifth innings.

The Majors pounced on southpaw Jack Caffery and sent him to the showers in the sixth after slamming him for seven runs. The total included home runs by Bob Deakin, Lou Halkard and Don Mayes.

Halkard, who sent home four London runs, clouted his four-bagger with two on base. Mayes clouted his with one on in the sixth and Deakin's, which preceded Halkard's in the third, came with the bases clear.

Jim St. Louis had a circuit clout for St. Thomas with none on in the fifth.

'So Solly' Smirk Nip Clips As Bout Called 'No Contest'

By GEORGE CARVER
(Sports Editor)

There's many a slip 'twixt the Nip and the clip, and John Ballsergeon and Toby Mackenzie discovered that last night in the main bout at Memorial Arena when they tangled with the "so Solly, Dollies" from Tokyo, the Togo brothers, just "honorable servant, sirs."

The skilful, built Japanese wrestlers (a "tag" for brothers) duo, are clip experts, judo, that is. They are conducted like a Chic Sales emporium, brick-built, and are the epitome of guile, manpower and Tokyo-chokye in the best approved Nipponese style.

They are a strutting pair of Japanese cockerels who bow-critically bow and-the "So Solly" wherever they are guilty or a ring misdemeanor.

But they found foemen worthy of their "steel" in the rugged Keebec Ballsergeon, and lofty Mackenzie. In fact it was Jap chop-chop with no suey against Texas beef-and Keebec kunning and Mackenzie kicks.

Just in case you are interested, the bruised knees, finally, split the score.

Now let's digress for a moment. Somebody told us there was a third man in the ring. As a matter of fact they went so far as to say he was Bert Maxwell, a house dick in a Toronto hotel. Just what Marse Frank Tunney carries excess baggage for, we do not know.

As far as the referee is concerned, Mr. Maxwell who was not even good to say hop backwards the last, should have been housecleaning in Toronto. It is a pressure he knows more about that job than shooting in a wrestling ring. The wily Nips took every advantage of their opportunities, which to the main event fans men, listen to this—violent struggling from ringside when the referee was deaf, dumb and blind. They also gave the fans a disadvantage. They do not spikes da English, and Marse Frank believing them. The valet interpreter "slave man", who sprinkled the ring along with Fatso and Mister, with a Nipponese equivalent of DDT prior to the bout kow-towed and tow-kowed in a simulated appearance of satisfaction.

The Togos judo-chopped for, and biased at each other with Nipponese smirks of satisfaction. They bowed from the waist (portly Seties at that) whenever the situation went their way. They were princes of intercourse when the Tex and Hallsergeon flashed into punishing action.

And the whole thing wound up in a flurry of flying fists, judo-chopping and solid slugging on the part of Mister John and Tex outside the ring. Referee (and we use the word "referee" loosely) Maxwell, waved the "no contest" signal and that was that.

Except that Mr. Maxwell's simmond'd "servant" who smiles through all and sundry, needs a fanfoame youngster as Japs go, and his job is to cater to all the needs of his "imported" masters. He removes their slippers, helps his Masters' feet (and he'll be rub at night.

T. P. (Tommy) Gorman, general manager of the club, said following a meeting of the Horse-racing Commissioners Association at which all owners, trainers and riders attended, that night racing will start Monday. It will be continued for the rest of the current fair meet at each, which started June 18.

The department of agriculture recently ruled that the "day" as described in the Criminal Code amendments, under which pari-mutuel betting is allowed, begins at one minute after 11:59 p.m.

The provincial government at that time has stated it licenses the meeting and has also consented to the change in times.

The thorough race track is the only track in Quebec featuring thoroughbred racing this year.

Chicago Bears File Damage Actions Against Hamilton Ti-Cats, Calgary

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago Bears of the National Football League announced Friday they have filed a $150,000 damage suit against Hamilton Wildcats of the Big Four for signing Bear player Jim Dempsey.

Dempsey, himself, was sued for $25,000 for breach of contract.

The damage suit filed in Federal Court at Miami, Fla., also names Calgary Stampeders and Canadian coach, Carl Voyles.

It charges that Hamilton and Voyles "wilfully and maliciously" induced Dempsey, veteran linebacker and guard, to tear contract and sign with the Tiger-Cats.

Bears Also Claimed

The Bears also claimed the defendants sought to further raid the club by attempting to entice Chicago fullback, Carl Voyles.

Ken Johnson, veteran lefthander of the Buffalo Bisons, has plenty of stuff despite his sore 6-5 International League record.

The 31-year-old pitcher, who had turned in a three-hitter earlier this season, hurled a brilliant one-hitter Friday night as the Bisons blanked the slumping Havana Cuban Sugar Kings 5-0.

Johnson missed a no-hitter when Ray Noble, former New York Giant infielder, doubled in the eighth inning. The lefthander struck out seven, walked three and hit one man in registering his sixth victory.

Rochester moved to within one-half game of the league-leading Toronto Maple Leafs as the Red Wings trounced Ottawa Athletics 7-1 in the opener of a scheduled doubleheader. The second game was rained out.

TWO HOMERS

Bill Virdon smashed two basesempty homers for the Rochester 12-hit attack. Pitcher Mike Fornadan, who won his sixth game against three losses, aided his own cause with a two-run homer.

Meanwhile, the split a twinbill with Montreal Royals. Toronto won the first game 10-7 while the Royals took the second 17-7.

Montreal and Toronto pounded out a dozen home runs in a wild affair. Other players in pit broke up the second. The Royals hit three home round-trippers in the first game and four in the second and Toronto slammed out one in the opener and four in the nightcap.

THREE HOMERS

First baseman Ed Stevens of the Leafs led the parade with three homers in the first game and two in the second, as he drove in six runs. His three-run homer in the opener provided the margin of victory.

Sandy Amoros and Rocky Nelson each collected a pair of homers for the Royals.

Bob Bowman drove out four doubles in a row for a perfect night at bat, and his fourth two-bagger scored the winning run as Syracuse Chiefs nipped Richmond Virginians 6-5.

SPORT IN BRIEF

MACKEEN RETIRES

VANCOUVER (CP) — Jim Macken of Montreal, third-ranked singles tennis player in Canada, is retiring from local competition for the rest of the season and possibly permanently. Macken, top-seeded locally, made the announcement Friday after a stinging defeat in the quarter-finals of the Vancouver city championships.

SIGN PLAYER

Jones Leads Third Sackers

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Jones of the Philadelphia Phils, the National League fielding leader at third base in 1953, has picked up where he left off defensively last season.

Jones currently tops the third basemen with a .963 fielding average, after settling the pace a year ago with a .975 mark.

The 28-year-old third baseman has handled 219 chances while committing only four errors. Jones, in his sixth season with the Phils since graduating from Toronto Maple Leafs, can threaten the National League fielding mark for third baseman if he continues his defensive gait. The highest percentage is .963, set in 1924 by Heinie Groh of the New York Giants.

Bobby Adams of the Cincinnati Redlegs is runner-up to Jones for National League honors at .970.

Will Race Under Lights

OTTAWA (CP)—An official of the Connaught Park Jockey Club said today Dodge Duke Raider would be brought racing under the lights will be inaugurated at the track on the outskirts of neighboring Hull, Que., Monday. It will be the first time in the history of that track it will be run at night.

T. P. (Tommy) Gorman, general manager of the club, said following a meeting of the Horse-racing Commissioners Association at which all owners, trainers and riders attended, that night racing will start Monday. It will be continued for the rest of the current fair meet at each, which started June 18.

The department of agriculture recently ruled that the "day" as described in the Criminal Code amendments, under which pari-mutuel betting is allowed, begins at one minute after 11:59 p.m.

The provincial government at that time has stated it licenses the meeting and has also consented to the change in times.

The thorough race track is the only track in Quebec featuring thoroughbred racing this year.

INSIDE BASEBALL for Little Leaguers

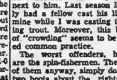
By MICKEY McCORMICK
Director of the Detroit Baseball School

Being in position to make the throw at the earliest possible time enabled Richie Ashburn to win a tied game and a pennant for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1950. With Cal Abrams on second base, Dodger Duke Snider smashed a sizzling single to center field. Ashburn charged the ball, fielded it and threw in the same motion to Andy Seminick, the Phillie catcher, for an easy out at the plate. A less-than-perfect play would have given the Dodgers the game as it was the last half of the ninth inning of the final game of the year. The Phillies won the championship in the playoff game with Dick Sisler's home run.

Every time you take a step in the infield the base runner is taking one, too, so concentrate on getting rid of the ball in a hurry.

Angling Courtesies

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT
(Noted Sportsman, Author and Creator of Salmar Tables)



Our veneer of civilization seems to be wearing thinner these days. In our every-day contacts, either social or business, this is not readily evident, but in other activities, notably the outdoor sports, such things as politeness, consideration and common courtesy disappear all too easily.

TROUT FISHING

Time was when a man who was fishing a trout stream could enjoy himself in a given pool or bit of fast water without fear of interruption. Certain unwritten laws and custom among the older anglers, it was understood, were an barrier to encroach upon the water in the immediate vicinity of another. Not so today. It is a lucky day if he can establish priority to the water he can actually reach with his cast while he is trout fishing. Even then, it is not uncommon to have another angler move right in next to him. Last season I actually had a fellow cast his line over mine while I was casting to a rising trout. Moreover, the business of "crowding" seems to be accepted common practice.

The worst offenders, however, are the spin-fishermen. They, most of them anyway, simply don't give two boots about the rights of the dry fisherman. They have a right to, but there does seem to be enough water in front of you, and then some, having put down every rising fish in the area. Remonstrate with them, and you are straightway reminded that "you don't own the crick."

BASS FISHING

Always, since I first started fish-ing for bass, I have tried to apply the golden rule to that sport. When a man is fishing a short line, for example, it simply would not occur to me to cut in directly ahead of him.

Should he take be a small one, I allow him his fair share of the water. In a large lake I always allow him enough room to cast a half-day or better. That way everybody has a chance at undisturbed water and nobody's feelings are hurt.

In the bass rivers, the same rule applies. Never encroach on another man's water; give him his fair share, no matter if the stream is crowded.

Evidently the other boys don't see things as I do. "Three cheers for me and the heck with the whole darned world" seems to be their slogan. They move in with your elbow to elbow if you are wading. In boats they cut in directly ahead. Such a thing as politeness or courtesy simply is not in them.

"It seems too bad that the niceties of bygone days should vanish from our lives and our streams. We hear much of sportsmanship at present but, as the years pass, we see all too little of it.

"After all, the golden rule outlines for us the simple and perfect way of life. Do unto others as you would be done by"—if more of us lived by that rule this world and mankind would be a shooting in particular would be a more pleasant than they are now.

LANDY WINS

PORI, Finland (AP) — John Landy, Melbourne's marvellous miler, won a two-mile race Friday by 125 yards in the excellent time of 8:42.4, only two seconds behind Belgian Gaston Reiff's world record. It was the lean, young Australian's final appearance in Finland and his first outing since he broke both the 1,500-metre and mile records on Monday in Turku with times of 3:41.8 and 3:58. He now will run in Sweden July 1.

Electrics Trim Frankford 6-1

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Northern Electric continued their blistering pace in the Belleville and District Softball League last night with a 6-1 decision over Frankford Merchants under the lights at the Ashley Field.

The winners broke a 1-1 tie with a pair of runs in the sixth and then massed five hits with two Frankford misplays in the eighth for three unearned insurance tallies. The Merchants' only run came in the third, forcing a 1-1 deadlock after Northern's lone tally in the second.

Lum Carson hurled his second straight win in two nights with a neat four-hit effort. He whiffed four while surrendering a single base on balls. Three of Frankford's base knocks came in the third but from then on he had little trouble in keeping the Merchants under control.

Rookie Doug Radner worked on the hill for the Merchants, allowing seven hits and leaving 12 hits. Six Northern batters went down on third strikes and another was picked off base by a pitchout none walked. Radner struck out three, outpaced by his outfielders in the eighth for two timely runs which the first run for the Electrics came on an error to the catcher.

Deacon Ingles led off the second with a single and continued to third on an error after Deshaie also banged a one-bagger. He scored later when Frankford's catcher dropped the third strike and had to throw to first to get Deshaie.

Cooke started the losers only rally in the third when he went to second on Dafoe's one-bagger, reached third on a putout at first and walked home when Leavitt drove a hit off Ray Burleigh's glove at short.

John Batchelor had an infield single while Deshaie planted a two-bagger on Dalkin limit ed over short to net a pair in the fifth and give the Electrics another victory. In the eighth, Whiting and Batchelor both got to back doubles with two out, Dalkin followed with a single, Ray Burleigh banged another double and Carson also singled to drive in Deshaie. Batchelor went all the way on his hit when Whiting scored on a fly ball to outfield and Culkin went to third when Austin let his hit bounce away from him.

Harry Deshaie had a good night with the stick, lacing out two doubles and a single for the winners, while "Red" Culkin clinged to a pair of singles. Deacon Whiting had a double and a single, Batchelor another double and Carson also singled for the winners. Deshaie went all the way on his hit when Whiting scored on a fly ball to outfield and Culkin went to third when Austin let his hit bounce away from him.

Miss Hobbins won the women's 220-yard dash with a time of 27 seconds, coming in just ahead of Joan Wood, second, and Kathy Barcelo, third, both of Montreal.

AUSSIE WINNER

Australia's winner, Doug Stuart, 22, of Sydney, notched a meet record of six feet, 3⅝ inches in winning the high jump. Stuart has been a student at Michigan State University since December, and will be one of three Australian high-jumpers at the games in Vancouver July 30-Aug. 6.

Fred Pearman, George Shaw, 22, and Jim Gathers, 22, all 1953 U.S. Olympic team members and all from the Pioneer Club of New Orleans, La., were the other American winners.

Gathers upset Bragg, the U.S. national champion and 1952 Olympic champion, in the 100. Gathers finished a yard ahead of Bragg in 9.7 seconds, just under the meet record of 9.8 by Pearman in the 440-yard dash in 48 seconds and Shaw won the running broad jump with a distance of 22 feet, 3⅛ inches.

Records Topple As Three Countries Battle in Canadian Track Meet

By JIM PEACOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—A three-country duel takes another crack today at Canadian track and field records.

One mark—a record that stood for 43 years—fell during the Canada-Japan championships Friday night, at the hands of 22-year-old New Yorker Martin Engel, who ht holds the U.S. hammer throw record of 195 feet, 4½ inches.

Officials looked to another American champion, sprinter Art Bragg of Baltimore, for a new standard in the 220-yard dash, one of 30 events to be staged at today's wind-up.

SETS RECORD

Engles, a record graduate of New York University, put his six-foot, two-inch, 200-pound frame behind the 16-pound hammer Friday night and recorded 195 feet, 11 inches. That topped the old mark of 182 feet, four inches set at Montreal in 1911 by M. J. McGrath of the Irish-American Athletic Club of New York by eight feet, seven inches, and was less than 10 feet off the world record of 205 feet.

The Canadian native record—the best by a Canadian—is 158 feet, 2½ inches.

Four other titles let Canada Friday night, three to Americans and one to an Australian British Empire Games entrant.

Stan Rake, Norm Williams and Rich Ferguson, all of Toronto, and Ron Pyrah, of Hamilton, won other men's championships, and Gerda Hobbins, Ottawa, took the only women's crown that stayed.

WINS SHOT PUT

Rake, 31-year-old Toronto policeman who has almost certainly earned a Canadian berth with a native record heave last week of 50 feet, nine inches in the 16-pound shot put, won that crown Friday night over Engles. Rake's winning effort was 50 feet, eight inches.

Williams won the 220-yard high hurdles in 25.3 seconds, nine-tenths of a second off his own Canadian mark. Joseph, a Toronto junior middle distance runner, won the 880-yard run for Ferguson won the mile run, Ferguson was not pressed by the all-Canadian field, and his time of 4:20.8 was well off the record.

Miss Hobbins won the women's 220-yard dash with a time of 27 seconds, coming in just ahead of Joan Wood, second, and Kathy Barcelo, third, both of Montreal.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

As different as your bridge system may be, one thing you most certainly agree to. That is: A jump shift is a definite signal that a game must be reached by your pair.

Now, if a jump shift is the universal signal for saying game is in the pair, what does the jump shifter propose? Say it in any way you like it still means tricks enough to help make game.

When the trump suit has not yet been decided, 11 tricks may be needed for a game. So, a jump shift admits seeing 11 tricks in the pair; tricks of the shifter with the tricks shown by partner.

If partner shows five tricks, the jump shifter shows six. If the partner has shown only three tricks, the jumper has shown the other eight. This is usually the case where the partner jump shifts.

You can south in the deal shown here:

NORTH
♠A J 7 3
♥K 8 4 3
♦8 5 4
♣10 4

WEST
♠10 4
♥J 7 5
♦A K J 9
♣9 8 2

EAST
♠K Q 8 6
♥10
♦Q 10 7 6 3 2
♣5 3

SOUTH
♠2 5 3
♥A Q 9 6 2
♣A K Q 7 3

Your opening bid with the south hand is one heart. Your partner in north responds with a single takeout to one spade. Having bid at all, his reply is a promise of more than two tricks.

Since partner has thus shown at least three tricks, count your own tricks and see how many are in your pair. You can count eight tricks; five high cards and three shorts in the diamond suit.

With three tricks shown by your partner you see 11 in the pair. Tell your partner about it. Jump shift to three clubs. Not only will you say you have eight tricks. But you will also promise a club suit.

From there on, partner dare not stop short of game because you have signalled him that you see tricks enough. Did I say dare not stop short of game? What I mean is should not stop.

Some partners dare anything. They take one look at you and say: "Maybe he does not have quite enough for a jump shift." It is nothing but an insult to your intelligence, despite your looks.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The battle of the dimensions still rages.

This week saw much activity in behalf of new movie techniques. Paramount's William Holden was circling the globe to sell the studio's process, Vistavision. RKO demonstrated its supersCope process throughout the United States.

And in Hollywood, the press trooped out to see two new developments. One was the long-awaited Todd-AO process, in which "Oklahoma!" will be filmed.

THE BEST YET!

It's good — in fact, it may be the best. The screen is broad, slightly curved and taller than the ribbon-like cinemascope. It excells in clarity. The film is 65mm. instead of the normal 35, and the film runs through the camera at 30 frames a second instead of the usual 24.

These factors, plus a great bug-eye lens, give a picture that seems as close to real life as anything I've seen on a movie screen.

The other shooting was be improved methods of cinemascope. Its parent, 20th Century - Fox, showed some film using a new lens that seems to eliminate the furriness that plagued early cinemascope films. The depth of focus is pleasing to the eye.

MORE IMPRESSIVE

Twentieth-Fox, the first big firm to bring out a new technique, is attempting to win back some of the play stolen by the newer developments. Some impetus was lost because the studio put out such claptrap as "Hell and High Water," "12 Mile Reef" and "King of the Khyber Rifles." The list of new cinemascope films looks much more impressive.

Here is a refresher course on new dimensions and what is happening to them:

Cinemascope—It squeezes a wide scene on to normal film. A special projector pulls the result on a broad screen. It is still the most used of the new techniques.

Cinerama—Three projectors throw a continuous scene on a huge, curvilinear screen, giving the audience a sense of being in the picture. It is doing great business in a dozen cities, but is limited to a roadshow operation.

SAYS 3D IS DYING

Vistavision—The image is received on two frames of normal film. The bigger negative can be blown up to fit any size of screen and still retain clarity. This has not yet been seen by the public.

Supercscope—A trick lens can convert any kind of film to fit all screen sizes. It is still unseen by the public.

Todd - AO—A mammoth lens, 65mm film and big screen combine for utmost clarity. This also appears destined for limited, roadshow use.

3D—The viewer looks through polarized glasses at two images, achieving an illusion of depth. Not much life left in 3D.

ODEON McCARTHY THEATRE

THEATRE USHER GOES ON STAGE

Alan Wells, the tall, dark and handsome young Detroit product who plays featured role of a Marine in "Beachhead," new United Artists picture closing tonight at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre, got his start in the theatre at the age of fifteen. He had an after-school job as an usher. It wasn't much of a start, to be sure, but it gave him ideas — the principal one being that it was more fun acting on the stage than guiding people to their seats in the dark.

"Beachhead," which deals with a heroic squad of Marines on a suicidal mission in the jungles of the South Pacific, was filmed in the new wide screen color process.

Alan, who postponed his stage ambitious temporarily to serve in the Marines (his uniform in "Beachhead" is obviously worn with authority of experience) began to study the drama at the University of Highland Park following his discharge from the Corps. He got his first professional break when he was given the lead role in three plays on television.

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY, JUNE 27TH, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Don't put off obligations or seemingly tedious tasks and chores today just because you want the day entirely free. And no dallying with them, either! Start right at church.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — You may be easy to adjust to some necessary changes. But if you must make them, look upon all with Taurus' innate philosophy and good sense. Others will follow your example.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Don't belittle the opinions of the least of men; when we listen well, we can always learn. Try to take someone to church with you today.

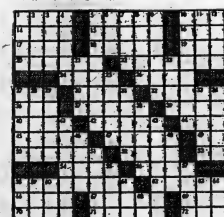
June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — Feelings, emotions, sentiment, ideals will have some bearing upon today's results; much is up to you and your personal attitude. Remember, we are never too old to learn.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — If you find yourself arguing or bickering, reverse quickly and pull in the reins. A good disposition and politeness will be potent factors in today's achievements. Prayer starts us off right.

August 2 to September 23 (Virgo)—Be neither over anxious, fretful, nor critical; these are temptations to avoid for the sake of harmony as well as clear vision. Your inborn dignity and perseverance are greatly needed now.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Use today's free time—if you really have some—for broadening your views through good reading, conversing with intelligent persons, and religious services.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Waste no time on undependable people or worthless activities. For leisure pastimes, be as choosey as any other time—maybe more so. Appreciate the co-operation of loved ones; pray earnestly.



November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—There are many disappointments, setbacks—a few necessary failures, too—all through life. It is how we take them—whether we end up smiling or not—that counts. Pray.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Increasing faith, a sensible attitude toward hundrum matters and patience with the old and the young will be your bulwarks today—and in the future.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Sometimes it is necessary to hurry; again we must slow our pace—which is often harder to do. But doing the right thing at the right time is important now.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Don't copy if you can create independently; but neither be averse to imitating anything worthwhile. It is always pleasant to repeat the good things in life.

YOU BORN TODAY were born in a very interesting period—with the Sun in Cancer, the Sign of tenacity and sentimentalism. You are endowed with sympathy and kindness and are a staunch defender of the "underdog". While loyal to home, loved ones, you are willing, yes, eager, to travel, change places of abode. Curb this trait or you will become a gypsy and not gain ground in business. Settle down, restrict jaunts to vacation periods. You should do very well in a career if you live on the higher plane. Attributes of: Lad radio Hearn, author.

IT'S HERE!
THE SMALLEST, LIGHTEST HEARING AID IN ZENITH'S HISTORY!
the new, tubeless, 3-transistor "ROYAL-M"
Smaller than many hearing aids selling at twice its price...as powerful as some hearing aids at least twice its size!
Zenith has done it again! Imagine—the tiny but mighty "Royal-M" weighs about the same as a pocket lighter and is hardly larger. It operates for about 10's a week! No "B" battery, no tubes...just one midget "A" battery. Yet this remarkable little Zenith Aid is packed with power, has Zenith's famous instantly adjustable fingertip tone and volume controls.
Compare it with the most expensive hearing aids on the market. Take it on Zenith's famous 10-day money-back Guarantee...try it under all hearing conditions—at home, work, church, at the theatre. Discover for yourself all the advantages of the smart, tiny "Royal-M"...no convenient, so lifelike in tone, so amazingly economical!
EASY TIME-PAYMENT PLAN now available. Your savings in battery cost pays a considerable portion of your monthly payment.
10-DAY MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE If, in your opinion, any hearing aid out-performs a Zenith in any way, simply return the Zenith within 10 days and your money will be refunded promptly.
ONLY $100 Some conclusion economy at moderate extra cost.

BIBLE BRIEFS

Who Was This?

By A. A. M.

Who was the prophet who suddenly appeared before King Ahab and said "As the Lord, the God of Israel lives, before whom I stand, there shall be neither dew or rain fall these years, except by my word" and then he fled to the brook Cherith where he was fed by the wild ravens?

Ahab was a thoroughly bad king, who did more to provoke the Lord to anger than all the other kings of Israel who were before him. His wife, Jezebel was a princess of Zidon. She had brought with her the worship of the heathen gods Baal and Asherah. She also sought out the prophets of the God of Israel in order to kill them. So they had to hide in the caves in the mountains.

The prophet's hiding place was east of Jordan. Even as the Lord had commanded the drank of the clear water from the brook Cherith and the ravens brought him bread and meat twice a day, morning and evening. But in time, there was such a terrible drought, that even the trickle of the water in the stream dried up.

DIRE IN PROPHET

Then the Lord directed the prophet to go to a city called Zarephath where a widow woman would feed him. She was a God-fearing person too. Doubtless she suspected that both she and her son were on the verge of starvation which was everywhere because of the famine. But she obeyed the prophet and made him a cake from her last supply of meal and oil. The prophet reassured her and even as he said, her jar of meal and her cruse of oil did not fail so long as her visitor remained.

But her son fell mortally ill and in her grief she reproached the prophet. But he carried the child up to his room, laid him on his bed and prayed that his life be restored. And the Lord heard the prophet's plea and granted it. When he delivered the boy back to his mother, he said, "See, your son lives". The widow answered, "Now I know that you are a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in your mouth is truth."

You will find this man's name and his story in 1 Kings, Chapter 17.

Wellington on the Lake

A SUMMER DAY

A whispering wind the meadows grasses stirring.
A fleeting fragrance wafted on the air.
The leafy branches 'gainst the blue dome showing—
Oh! what can with a summer day compare?

A drowsy note from nests all snugly hidden.
The quail's weird call across the summer land—
All nature seems to bow in benediction
With love's sweet symbols seen on every hand.

—Helen B. Anderson.

WELLINGTON — The beautiful flowers and the green velvet lawns, the busy birds in the leafy branches, the park with its slides and swings and seats, the happy faces of school children anticipating the long holidays, all these proclaim the arrival of summer.

Mr. Lewis McFaul returned home on Tuesday after being a patient in Trenton hospital for some days. Mrs. Edith McFaul of Haverman's is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McFaul.

Miss Mary Lumb who has been ill, is now resting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Wright, of Hastings.

Miss Marjorie Blakely spent Sunday at Lakeland, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacDonald.

Mr. Leonard Ford, manager of the bank at Thedford, Ont., with Mrs. Ford and children, will arrive at the week-end and spend holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ford, Oak Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Rattray, Consecon, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Alberta Smith.

Mrs. Harper Broad has the sympathy of her many friends in the passing of her husband. The funeral service was held on Monday afternoon at the United Church here with interment in Hillier Cemetery. Rev. A. Powell, jr. in charge.

Mrs. Mossfield, Consecon, is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Ella Durant.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith and mother, Mrs. Nelson, have removed from Oak Street to their home in West Wellington recently purchased from the late Mrs. C. Pettengill estate.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The June meeting of the W.A. of Wellington United Church was held at the pleasant home of Mrs. Ray Preston on Tuesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. B. Alyea, in the chair and Mrs. E. Maybee, pianist. In her opening remarks, the president expressed pleasure at the fine attendance and thanked the hostess for her hospitality.

Reports of the W.A. convention were given by Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Ida McFaul. At the close of business discussions, a program was presented by Mrs. Arnold Vandewater, consisting of poems by Edna Jacques read by Mrs. Marvin; a vocal solo by Mrs. McNeil; poems read by Mrs. H. B. Anderson; and a reading on Charles Wesley by Mrs. A. Goodmurphy followed by the singing of the hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," by Mrs. McNeil and Mr. (Dr.) Thompson. The beautiful old hymn, so inspiringly rendered, was a fitting close to the program. A social hour with refreshments was enjoyed.

TOO MANY DEER

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — Deer imported from abroad and liberated in New Zealand's forests have increased so greatly that scientists are urging intensive hunting to protect the forests. No licence is required to shoot deer in New Zealand.

MISSING MUSIC

LONDON (CP)—A musically-inclined thief stole £500 worth of phonograph records from a shop in the Kentish Town district.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

FRIGHTENED PARENTS

Bird parents have many frightening experiences with predators, which include other birds, animals, and man. Their reactions to intrusion upon their private family affairs differ according to their temperaments rather than their sires.

A 3¼ inch hummingbird chases a 31 inch crow, whereas a 30 inch great blue heron, rather than attempting to rout the foe will, until the last second, try camouflage by standing perfectly still, neck elongated and bill pointing heavenward, simulating a weather-vane stick.

A nighthawk endeavors to protect its twins by looking ferocious; but there is no pretense about the actions of a peregrine falcon at such a time: any intruder is in real danger.

ADEPT

Mrs. Grebe is an adept at avoiding trouble. Before leaving her home of floating weeds she carefully covers her eggs with grass. As old gander acts as sentinel for a whole colony of his descendants. If need be giving his warning call.

Mother Merganser does not feed while her youngsters, which probably number over a dozen, catch their fish. If disturbed, she stays between them and danger, leading or sending them on ahead, as the case requires.

Mother Ruffed Grouse, with about as many babies, is worried for months while they roam the country with her.

Nevertheless, she is an expert at claiming attention for herself while the young ones scatter.

EGGS IN FULL VIEW

Mrs. Killdeer also puts in a long period. Her eggs take 28 days to hatch, and all that time they are actually in full view. However, she is very clever. They are laid in a spot close to a conspicuous rock or clump of grass that will catch the eye. But should that eye rove to those precious eggs, she is ready, for Mrs. Killdeer is acknowledged to be the mother with most tricks in her bag. If one fails, she tries another.

Her first reaction to danger is a defensive attitude. Next, she runs off with loud, incessant cries of "killdee", meanwhile, to gain notice, dragging a wing as if it were broken. When all else fails, she returns to her post, shrieks, limps, and tries to bite.

A woodcock makes no unnecessary fuss: she simply picks up her chick between her legs and flies off to safety.

ORDEAL BY FIRE

In addition to bombs, Dover was hit by 2,200 enemy shells from across the channel in the Second World War.

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—do things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can look fifty with many interesting and active years ahead—active, that is, if you can avoid backaches, "tired-out" feelings, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around the age of fifty. For more than 50 years Doan's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidney and bladder in good order—helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, Doan's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Doan's. 54

Leftist President Hands Over Govt. To Military Junta

Guatemalan Rebels Refuse To Recognize New Regime

By JACK RUTLEDGE

GUATEMALA (AP) — Leftist president Jacobo Arbenz Guzman resigned under the pressure of the army and military reverses Sunday night. He handed over the government reins to a military junta headed by Col. Carlos Enrique Diaz, 39-year-old army chief of staff.

Diaz in a broadcast pledged the army to continue the war against the invading exiles led by Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, but the switch in government appeared to signal the end of the Communists' strong influence on the regime Arbenz had led. Army leaders are known to have become increasingly opposed recently to the Reds' strong influence on the government.

The ouster of the 41-year-old Arbenz followed reports of a big rebel victory at Zacapa, a key road centre 75 miles northeast of the capital. Army forces, particularly those opposing the rebels, were shattered there.

News of the army reverses was followed by rising popular support for the rebels, whose "Radio Liberation" station called Saturday for the armed forces to revolt, jail Arbenz and his cabinet and accept junta to negotiate a cease-fire.

END SEEN NEAR

With the rebels reported Sunday night only 70 miles from the capital, the long Guatemala crisis expected here to end within 48 hours. The Communists, backed by hastily armed labor and peasant groups, were expected to try to keep up the fight, however.

Diplomats in Washington speculated that the army takeover was a manoeuvre to give the military a chance to negotiate the best terms it could from Castillo Armas and his rebel forces.

"Radio Conscience, secretary general of the rebel provisional government proclaimed by Castillo Armas, said in Panama City that the rebel fight would continue "with redoubled impetus until the subjugation of arbitrary means the acceptance of our ultimatum and the turning over to the government to insurgent leader Castillo Armas."

FRENCH SEIZE SMUGGLERS

Although the military operations appeared rapidly drawing to an end, French observers here predicted there would be considerable shooting and resistance before the Communists are cleaned out.

Most observers felt convinced the main rebel Communications will seek revenge for what they consider a United States victory, and that considerable bloodshed would result. But they believe that the general staff would be considerably eased.

Arbenz' resignation climaxed a day of mass defections from his cause by leading civilian and military figures, army officers and others who fled to the Salvadoran embassy in Guatemala City for refuge.

Throughout the day the capital was tense, with streets empty and its stores with their iron shutters closed.

Anti - United States reaction spread through the city as the Communist-dominated labor movement ordered its members circling through the city in jeeps, shouting "go home Yanks." They also fired several shots.

U.S. families kept close to their homes, but the sentiment appeared to favor Arbenz' defiant broadcast Sunday night. Later Diaz told reporters he would protect U.S. interests.

Arbenz' overthrow appeared likely to suspend, at least for a while, plans for a Red takeover here and various of the Latin-American states to delve deeper into the Guatemalan situation.

The five-nation Inter - American Peace Committee had planned to dispatch a mission by plane tonight from Washington to Guatemala to investigate Guatemala's charges that Honduras and Nicaragua had aided the rebels.

It also appeared doubtful that the United Nations or the Inter-American countries would press their call for a hemisphere foreign ministers' conference to discuss penetration of Guatemala by international communism.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) — Synopsis: The sunny, cool weather in Ontario will continue today but Tuesday should be a little warmer. In southern Ontario winds will again be strong although a little lighter than Sunday, decreasing again tonight.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) The anti-Communist rebel radio said today "we do not recognize" the new Guatemalan government of Col. Carlos Enrique Diaz.

It said insurgent planes will launch a "general attack" on military targets in Guatemala City if the rebel conditions for peace are not met.

The rebel radio heard here said Col. Diaz would have until 10 a. m. EDT to reply. But the rebel radio was still repeating the warning at 10:30 a. m.

The rebels declared, "We fight a system, not a man" and said the same seven conditions "for peace and order" which they broadcast last Saturday still stand.

URGED TO JOIN REBELS

The rebels Saturday urged the army to form a military junta, arrest Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, then president, and "all other Communists" in the event the junta is forming a new government. Arbenz quit Sunday night and Diaz took over as head of a ruling junta.

The insurgent warnings this weekend said that if their conditions are not met "Our air force has its precise instructions for today:

"1. A general attack on all military high command objectives.

"2. A concentrated attack on one specific objective." The target was not identified.

The rebels appealed to the Guatemalan army and to obey the new chief.

Discover Boat, Sight Bodies Of 3 Occupants

SIMCOE (CP) — A small outboard motor boat missing with three Hamilton men on it was discovered overturned today near Long Point.

Reg. Spence, chief instructor at Hamilton Flying Club, who spotted the boat from the air, said he saw what appeared to be three bodies near it.

The boat was found in a swampy area near Long Point, 22 miles southeast of Port Dover and Turkey Point from which the trio set out Sunday morning in the 16-foot craft.

The three — Danelkan Lasman, 35; Norman Morris, also 35, and his son, Raymond, 16 — had planned to return to Turkey Point by Sunday.

Launches set out today to the area where the overturned boat was seen.

A high wind swept the lake Sunday night. Shortly after midnight, Lackman's wife reported the three missing.

Incident That Sparked First World War Happened 40 Years Ago Today

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia (AP)—Inexplicably, the big open touring car stopped amid hundreds of spectators. A shot rang out and a large bomb-shaped man in the rear seat pitched forward mortally wounded.

While the crowd gasped in horror, a pistol barked again. This time a beautiful wife — gowned in white trimmed and studded with the seat.

Fifteen minutes after the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his wife, Sophie, Duchess Sholtz, were dead.

The double assassination 40 years ago today, triggered the first of two great wars of the 20th century.

Today as on every anniversary the people of this ancient Bosnian city held a service of remembrance — Not for the royal couple that died, but for the assassin, a student named Gavrilo Princip.

Princip, 20 years old when he fired the fatal shot, touched off a world war four-years later. But in Bosnian eyes he also accomplished

COMMERCE BODY PRESENTS SAFE DRIVING PROGRAM

Has Ten-Point Plan To Cut Accident Toll

TORONTO (CP) — A 10-point program for safer operation of automobiles was presented today by the Ontario Chamber of Commerce to the select committee of the Ontario legislature.

The program, as prepared for presentation, suggests driver education for teen-agers; more thorough screening of all applicants for driving licences; re-examination of all drivers periodically, probably at five-year periods; compulsory periodic inspection of all motor vehicles and direction signals as standard equipment.

Also urged are the appointment, by the province, of competent, driver-license examiners would be appointed on a merit-seniority basis, rather than on commission; compulsory driver education be controlled by a points system; the present 50-miles - per - hour speed limit would be retained, but drivers made to see whether it might be increased to 60 miles in some areas.

LIGHTS FOR BIKES

Increased safety measures for school buses are also asked and it is suggested that it be compulsory, on and after January 1, 1955, for all bicycles to be equipped with white-light lamps in the front of them and red-lighted lamps at the rear. Motorists would be asked to dim headlamp turns from one-way streets would be required to travel "for a reasonable distance" in the lane from which they plan to turn.

The recommendation on driver education said that, according to a committee with A. Roy Courtice of Toronto Board of Trade as chairman.

The recommendation on driver education said that, according to statistics, while only 17 per cent of the driving population are in the teen-age group, these drivers are responsible for some 30 per cent of accidents in the province.

The committee said it did not intend to suggest a program which would increase educational costs in any substantial degree, but it hoped for more extensive use of educational authorities, municipal bodies and private and civic groups.

Considerable progress had already been made in some municipalities by provision of visual aids for classroom instruction, and automobiles for actual driver training. The committee asked removal by the educational department of any restrictions which might be in the way of co-operation with driver-education programs at the municipal level.

Under the suggestion for more careful examination of prospective applicants, each applicant would be required to complete a written test to show that he has learned the physical and mental requirements of safe operation, to be a sufficient knowledge of English to understand traffic signs would be necessary.

To deal with "accident-prone" drivers, the committee suggested that every driver be given a basic point score to start with and penalties be deducted from it for each conviction for violation of the Highway Traffic Act (except for parking violations); and that a credit system of points be given for each year of accident-free driving might also be set up. Drivers who lose all their points would be subjected to thorough investigation before being permitted to retain licenses.

Say Britain and U.S. Agree On Plan to Evacuate Suez

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times says today the United States and Britain have agreed on a method for total withdrawal of the 80,000 British troops in the Suez canal zone.

In a dispatch from Washington written by Dana Adams Schmidt, The Times quotes "high diplomatic sources" as saying that Sir Winston Churchill and President Eisenhower were prepared to back a program for complete British evacuation from the zone over a two-year period."

The Herald Tribune, in a Washington story by Ned Russell, carries a similar account.

The Herald Tribune says, were understood to have dropped earlier insistence on keeping 4,000 uniformed military technicians at Suez to protect supplies.

The plan calls for Egypt to replace British supervisors with civilian personnel of her own choosing. Egypt would also agree, the newspaper reports, "to make the canal facilities available to allied forces in the event of a Soviet attack on any Middle Eastern state."

Italian Charged With Murder In Bludgeon Slaying of Woman

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — Fabrizio Zeppilla, 30, today was charged with murder in the bludgeon slaying a week ago of Mrs. Hedwig Kopplin, attractive blonde wife of a German immigrant, at her home in Kingsdale, a village 15 miles west of here.

Inspector Jack Craig of the Ontario provincial police laid the charge against the former barber who has been working at a railway section hand in north-western Ontario.

Zeppilla was arrested last Monday at Larsen, six miles from Kelly, village in the area, questioned with a section gang. Police said he made statements but with a section gang at Kelly, where Mrs. Kopplin was the only woman.

Mrs. Kopplin's husband Reinhart, was working at Mine Centre in the Atikokan district at the time of the slaying. Police said he has since transferred there last month. She planned to join him as soon as he found a suitable home.

Police said Mrs. Kopplin was found beaten to death with a heavy instrument. The body was clad in a nightgown and dressing gown. The home and outbuildings had been set ablaze, police said, in the attempt to destroy evidence. Only the shell of the dwelling, police found the charred bodies of her children, Reinhart, 6, and Rita, 3, months. On the last week, police have been questioning dozens of men in the district. Zeppilla is being held on the Canadian National Railways Fort William-to-Sioux Lookout line.

Francis Lavalley Burns to Death At Baptiste Lake

BANCROFT (Special) — Francis Xavier Lavalley, 85-year-old resident of Herachel township, was burned to death Saturday night, when his five-roomed frame house on the northwest shore of Lake Baptiste was completely destroyed by fire.

The alarm was raised by a neighbor, Reginald Summers, who saw the fire at 8:30 p.m. Forest rangers were called by reason owner, Art Nicoll.

The fire is believed to have started from a kerosene lamp which was presumably in bed at the time. By the time Summers arrived on the scene the top storey had collapsed. An attempt by Lake Shore Inn Bill, and friend Allen Stringer, of Bancroft, to reach the building was frustrated when the floor collapsed and the body fell into the blazing cellar.

The remains were recovered by Jack Hattin early this morning and taken to the Bobcaygeon morgue by forest rangers.

A neighbor called at the house at 9 p.m. but received no answer from Mr. Lavalley. He said at that time there was no sign of the fire.

Coroner Dr. R. W. Anderson said no inquest will be held.

Mr. Lavalley had been living with his son, Ernest Lavalley, and returned home on Wednesday.

Priest Is Killed In Plane Crash

COCHRANE, Alta. (CP)—A 28-year-old priest was killed Sunday when a light plane piloted by Albert-Henry-George Lacoste of Saint Maynard crashed and burned near a cemetery adjoining a Franciscan retreat here, officials here.

Killed was Rev. Vincent Prosser, professor at St. Joseph's College, Edmonton, and formerly of Sutton, Ont. He was trapped in the wreckage and burned to death.

Mr. Maynard, believed flying his own plane, was seriously injured when the plane crashed. He was taken to hospital in Calgary, 75 miles east, suffering a broken arm, undetermined internal injuries and shock. His condition was described as good.

Eye-witnesses said the small plane failed to gain sufficient altitude after take-off from an airstrip. It struck high-tension wires and plummeted to the ground 50 yards from the airstrip.

Churchill Will Not Retire Before Next Vote

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's constituency association Sunday that he has no intension of retiring before the next general election, which could occur-ally, mean 1956 unless an election is called before then.

John Harvey, acting chairman of the Conservatives in the Woodford district that Churchill represents in Parliament, spiked the rumors about a retirement at the garden party Saturday.

Lady Churchill, who has been pressing her 79-year-old husband to step down, was present and heard Harvey declare:

"Sir Winston, subject only to the medical decision of his friends and strength, will be representing your interests in Parliament, at least until the time of the general election."

Lost 9 Hours In Orillia Bush, Child, 3½, Safe

ORILLIA (CP)—Lost for more than nine hours Sunday in a maze of rock and bush, Eddie Lamoureux, 3½, was found trudging up a steep rock slope some three miles from where he had first disappeared.

She was found by Robert Armstrong, 16, of Orillia. Armstrong's family has a cottage near Honey Harbor, about 30 miles northwest of here.

The child disappeared Sunday morning after he had gone outside to accompany one of her older sisters on a berry-picking expedition.

About 50 civilians and 15 provincial police took part in the organized search which began in the early afternoon.

Though tired, scratched and frightened, Eddie was unharmed. He had a huge appetite which included seven bananas.

House Prorogues After Session Lasting 139 Days

Cabinet Still Faces Heavy-Duty Work

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliamentarians have ended their longest modern session with a reminder that the government faces heavy duty tension in the world with strength to deter aggression and a desire for peace.

This was the keynote in the speech from the throne read Saturday at prorogation of the first session of the 22nd Parliament by Mr., minister Patrick Kerwin, deputy governor-general.

As senators and commoners concluded 139 sitting days—during which 81 bills, including 14 private measures, and 378 divorce bills received royal assent, Governor-General Vincent Massey, Mr. St. Laurent's cabinet faced some heavy-duty work.

CHURCHILL VISIT

First comes the visit Tuesday and Wednesday of Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden of Britain for talks by Sir Winston and Mr. St. Laurent will discuss the possibility of a Churchill-Eisenhower talk to discuss the troubled world situation.

The government also must consider appointment of a new chief justice of Supreme Court of Canada to succeed Thibaudeau Rinfret, who retires July 1. Mr. Rinfret, a Justice R. L. Kellock, now on the Supreme Court bench, is rumored to have his eye on the top job.

There is also speculation concerning a possible shuffle in the cabinet. Labor Minister Arthur Out of Finance Minister Abbott's announced intention to leave his post to take the powerful appointment of Transport Minister Chevrier as chairman of the St. Lawrence seaway authority.

OPENING DATE

After the session's work was recessed by Governor-General Massey, Chief Justice Kerwin announced Aug. 3 as the opening date of the autumn sitting Parliament. Progressive extensions of the date—possibly to November 3—are expected to be made later by order-in-council.

The throne speech dealt with Canada's commitments for defence and international programs of reconstruction, technical assistance and economic advancement of underdeveloped areas.

On foreign trade, it noted a huge wheat export sale to China and reports continue above the average of the past 10 years. Trade agreements with Italy and Indonesia were mentioned.

The speech also noted legislation adopted at the session which started Nov. 12, Bills dealt with new Criminal Code, a decennial revision of the Bank Act, housing, transfer of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's television division here from Prof. J. A. Libby of Cambridge, Mass., who made radio-active tests of samples from the caves.

Britain and U.S. Will Press Plans For Asian Defence

Communique Silent About Time for Any Conference

WASHINGTON (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower declared today they will "press forward with plans for collective defence" of Southeast Asia, regardless of whether peace negotiations for Indo-China are successful.

In a communique, they also expressed "conviction that further delay" in the creation of the European Defence Community and granting of sovereignty to West Germany "would damage the solidarity of the Atlantic nations."

This was apparently intended to prod France to get the treaty ratification of EDC.

On another major point, the American and British leaders jointly declared that "both our countries would benefit" from "technical co-operation" on atomic energy to the fullest extent permitted by United States law.

The communique, issued at the White House, was the first formal statement out of the four - day Churchill - Eisenhower talks on American policy differences.

ASIA PROBLEM UNSETTLED

The communique said Eisenhower and Churchill agreed that the critical question of when an international conference should be held on Southeast Asia and anti - Communist alliance might be called.

The leaders made no major issue with Britain wanting no definite time limit, but emphasized that present French efforts to negotiate peace in Indo-China.

The United States and the other hand desires quick action. The communique appeared to bear out reports on continued disagreement by failure to report any agreement on timing.

"We are both convinced" the communique said, "that it at Geneva the French government is confronted with demands which prevent an acceptable agreement regarding Indo-China, the international situation would be seriously aggravated."

This was one of three terse paragraphs dealing with the Southeast Asia, and it set forth the warning to Communists to offer the French honorable terms to end the war.

The two leaders discussed South-East Asia and "examined the situation which would arise from the conclusion of an agreement on Indo-China."

They also "considered the situation which would follow from failure" of Indo-China peace negotiations.

"We will press forward with plans for collective defence to which other countries may come," the communique said.

ANGLO-FRENCH STATEMENT

The communique said a second statement on "basic principles" underlying Anglo-American policy—probably a kind of harmony statement—will be issued Tuesday.

Churchill will have another meeting with the president beginning at 11 a. m. EDT Tuesday, although no additional meeting, lasting two hours, had been scheduled as the end of their conference. Churchill departs Tuesday for Ottawa.

The communique revealed little of the substance of the many conferences which have been held between British and American officials since Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden arrived here Friday morning.

Child Without Food or Shelter For 40 Hours Found by Timber Man

MARKLEEVILLE, Calif. (AP)— Little Kathy Paxton, who survived more than 40 hours without food or shelter in the California wilderness with no more serious consequences than a couple of bumps, is a "real trooper" Deputy Woods lake to find her mother.

Kathy was found by Woods lake located by the granite cliffs 11½ miles from Woods lake Sunday morning by Deputy Sheriff Bill cruiser.

Deputy Dell and a friend, Louis Avery, started to work the high country because they thought the child was among the 500 looking for Kathy had thoroughly worked lower lands. Woods lake is at 5,500 feet elevation near Kit Carson pass on the ridge of the High Sierra.

They found Kathy's foot prints —but lost them. After circling fruitlessly, Van Dell called "Coo, Loo" to Avery.

He had to. Kathy who answered when Van Dell called from only a few feet away.

Hardly daring to believe it could be the child, Avery asked excitedly: "Are you Kathy?"

She replied with a tiny smile, "and I'm tired."

So Van Dell carried Kathy, chattering a steady stream of questions for a mile back to a road where a highway patrol car was waiting with her stepfather, Stewart Crandall.

Kathy was rushed to search headquarters, where an air force doctor found her suffering from a bruised eye, and a chipped tooth, plus not having eaten for more than a day and a half. She was declared all right. Kathy smiled and waved at every one, and only cried when she learned that an ambulance wasn't to take her back to camp at Woods lake.

Said Mrs. Crandall:

"If that's what she wants, to go back to the camp, we'll do it. Perhaps the fun there will make her forget. . . ."

Hitler's Wartime SS Troops Not Allowed

OTTAWA (CP) — Immigration Minister Harris says that generally speaking members of Hitler's wartime SS troops are not allowed into Canada as immigrants.

But that does not mean that general rule cannot be waived, he declared.

"I have always taken the view that service in the German army by a German national should not be held against him," said Mr. Harris during a Commons - immigration committee meeting.

"This is his duty in time of war . . . the fact that he was in the German army does not count against him."

He was replying to W. H. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West). Mr. Herridge asked about the use of national employment service office reports "the arrogance with which they are used in this country" him because he could not give him a job immediately."

HIS GOOD DEED

WICK, Scotland (CP)—A passenger dropped his train ticket as he boarded a train at this Inverness town. It was picked up by a ticket-collector who saw the incident and then made his regular trip to the next station, where he found that the passenger had stepped from the train.

Plaque Honors Memory of Late Jas. H. Lazenby

Perpetuation of the memory of a popular citizen and former parishioner is the form of a handsome bronze plaque was made on Saturday by officials and members of Branch 201 Army and Navy Air Force Veterans in Canada in conjunction with representatives of the various communities and branches in the province.

The plaque honors the memory of the late James Hepton Lazenby, a member of the branch from 1939 to 1958 and its president in 1952-53 to the time of his passing.

The ceremony of unveiling and service of dedication were in charge of Mr. Henry Drury, president of Branch 201 and Archdeacon the Ven. J. R. Creeggan, of Christ Church, and chaplain of the unit.

A large number of members, branch representatives, command officials, and the late Lazenby family and friends attended the ceremonies held in the auditorium at the branch club building, Front Street. The plaque occupies a position of honor at the head of the stairs inside the auditorium.

President Drury, opening the proceedings, paid tribute to the life of the former president stressing the splendid devotion of Mr. Lazenby both before and during his tenure as president.

ONE MINUTE SILENCE

Then the covering flags slowly fell apart and the beautiful plaque was exposed to view. There followed one minute silence, and Archdeacon Creeggan formally dedicated the plaque.

Brief eulogistic addresses were given by Judge J. C. Anderson, Trail-City Wildlifed, commanding the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, Ontario Provincial Command President Jack Lundberg, Belleville 1st vice-president Dominion Command James Dixon, Ottawa, who represented the Dominion Command president W. J. Wickens, Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan; J. Curtain, president, Lakeview Branch, Reg Davey, former Ontario Command president, Belleville, Mrs. Jack Clarke, president Branch 201 Ladies' Auxiliary and others.

Also present were representatives of every branch in the Ontario Command. Among these were, Fred Bailey, Lakeview, chairman of the Adjustment and Personal Service Committee; F. Tull, 2nd Vice-president Ontario Provincial Command, Waterford, Ontario, and others.

Officials and members of outside branches among them a bus load from Lakeview as well as those from Simcoe, Stratford, Kitchener, and other branch centres, were the guests of Branch 201 members following the unveiling and dedication ceremonies.

Rev. Duncan McTavish Preaches Farewell Sermons at Bridge Street

"There are fresh secrets to unfold and new truths to find. Christ's world is a lovely world," said Rev. Duncan McTavish, minister of Bridge Street United Church here for the past three and one-half years, in his farewell sermon Sunday morning.

"I want to die working. I want to die thinking. I have no patience with the laggard and the shirker. I have no time for the man who shuts his eyes to reality. Such a one is dishonest," said Mr. McTavish.

He spoke of his sojourn in Belleville as a great opportunity for service for both minister and people.

During his ministry in Belleville, Mr. McTavish received into membership 402 on the church role persons, 256 on profession of faith. He married 126 couples, christened 181 baptisms and also attended 123 burials. The sublimation of the church has been decorated and the church hall renovated at a cost of approximately $5,000.

"This world is a lovely world. Heaven's eyes are on it," he said. "I've found it a happy spot and this place a lovely charge," he said.

MANY TEMPTATIONS

"There are many temptations that will be presented to you. Have no to others," commented Mr. McTavish. "He has no time clock to punch, no overtime bonus or boss to whom he must give account. He has a heavy bonus for he is the servant of all. And there is the temptation to gloss over, to put off, to live in the realm of least resistance. In all of this there is a duty and I have tried to do my duty, as I saw it. I was brought up to believe that a man is not his own own, and that sanity training had much to do with it. Even the most serious physical disability has ever stood between me and my work. I have tried to take the truth as I understood it, without fear or favor as my guide and I said things, not because they were pleasant to say, but because I had a conviction that they were to be said. In the matter of personal service I have endeavored to be tried to win men to the Saviour and the better life, and in my preaching have endeavored to sound the evangelical note, calling upon men to live not for self, tried to deal in certainties and purposely refrained from delving into controversial issues.

In referring to the busy world in which we live, Mr. McTavish said: "But the one absorbing thought that haunts me now is that of the future for you and there? For we are cursed with business these days. As one of the Bible says, 'We always going about doing good, but mostly going about to have I rich' forced as we are by time in non-essentials and let the real things that matter most go by unheeded."

GOOD DEED REWARDED

"There is a story told of a girl by the name of Mary Magnus who used to go weekly to the hospital to sing to the sick. Her father was blind and she and her mother lived in a poor home, and tried as best they could to gain a livelihood. One day the mother pleaded with her not to go, as the weather was cold and wet. She refused to listen, saying that a man who had his leg amputated a few days before needed her. She went and sang as usual. As she was about to leave a fine gentleman came to her and told her that a man who had been injured in a street accident and who was very ill had heard her sing and requested to see her. On going to see the disconsolate man to be a bachelor brother of her mother's whom they had been looking for for years. The result was that the uncle gave them a home and lifted the burdens from their shoulders. Had she listened to her mother or let the weather govern her actions she would have missed her opportunity."

"I'm wondering, as we stand all the parting of the ways, if I have been guilty of letting the cold and the wet dampen my enthusiasm? Have I slept when I ought to have been alert? Have you? For the same principle applies to us all. We may all have been busy here and today in amassing money or pursuing pleasure while the important things of life are lost, and opportunity is gone. "Angel of God, is there none can awaken these indifferent souls?" There are people 'round about us everywhere who, like the children in the market place of which Jesus spoke, have refused to dance when we piped or mourn when we lamented. But perhaps there are others who have literally danced for Christ. Some little worldly branches have kept you back. Do not let the world unduly go by. And are discouraged. Would to God that I might speak some word that might still call you from the world to Christ."

"Today, you are not the same other on the river of life. There are faces uplifted to me this moment that I shall never see this side the pearly gates. There are ears listening this hour to the words that fall from my lips that shall never hear this voice again this side of eternity. God forbid that I should fritter away these moments in idle reminiscence—that I should let this chance slip, while souls whose destiny are in my hands are falling by. God forbid that I should stand upon this watchtower, that means so much to me, for the last time and fail to sound the trumpet that calls men to the Cross."

BRIGHTER FUTURE

"But I would not leave you with this dark picture of opportunities past and gone. I would that you might learn from the mistakes and failures, to see the future with its possibilities. For while it is true that I have failed and you have failed, yet the future is before us."

"It is going to be hard to leave St. Mary's. People should not become attached to any one pastor. So said the Sister in "Bells of St. Mary's", and it is going to be hard to leave Bridge Street, but I carry away with me very happy memories indeed. I feel that my greatest labor as I came to you, believing that God had sent me there, was that I shall find there, as I found here, faithful and devoted souls in fellowship will enrich my life. What the future holds for any one of us remains still a secret, but I bid you trust Him, as I trust Him."

He called upon the congregation to look to the future, believing that great things were possible, and urged them to transfer their loyalty to his successor.

EVENING SERVICE.

Sunday evening, Mr. McTavish took for his text, the place wherein thou standest is holy ground."

He pointed out that it is not where our forefathers stood, nor where our descendants will stand that is most important, but where we ourselves are now.

"When a man begins to discount his job and regard it as unimportant it is a safe guess that he is not using it to anyone's advantage. When you are no longer just keeping a house but making a home, a hotel, a factory, a department, a clerk, but a living soul with something of life in its hands to fashion, then the ground whereon you stand is holy ground," he said.

"Don't let anyone tell you the homely virtues are out of date," he concluded. "Find the place of service to wreck the stumbling of which God is making the future. There are a simple few things that make a future worthwhile. Get a grip on yourself. Believe the place you stand upon, your present is somebody else's past, and that life into a great scheme of things, and it becomes holy ground to you."

The congregation tendered Mr. and Mrs. McTavish a farewell party in the school room following the evening service.

Two Yachtsmen Came to Grief In Heavy Wind

Sunday's strong wind which kicked up heavy waves on the Bay of Quinte, caused the capsizing of sailboat racing by the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club in the area and at the same time saw two yachting enthusiasts come to grief.

Wing Commander Wilkinson and Warrant Officer Smith sailed out their boat down from Trenton RCAF Station to take part in the races but they came to grief west of the bay bridge, when a heavy gust of wind caught their sail and turned the boat over.

The two men climbed aboard their overturned craft and after 15 minutes of waiting they were rescued by Percy Lindoff, Rossmore, who went out with his motor boat and towed them through the bridge.

Another local sailing enthusiast also ran into difficulty Sunday afternoon. Kenneth G. M. Ross was sailing off the government dock, when he lost his sail in the stiff wind and had to be towed ashore.

Freeman Burrows said an afternoon of racing had been planned for the yacht club members but the events were cancelled owing to the high wind.

Fire Damages Cannifton Road House Trailer

A small house trailer owned by George Thomas, living near the old Lazer dam on Cannifton road, was damaged by fire late Sunday morning, when the interior was badly scorched.

Mr. Thomas had been sitting outside his house trailer when he noticed smoke rolling out. City firemen were called and the blaze extinguished. The blaze but not before bed clothing and articles of furniture were damaged.

Ashes from Mr. Thomas' pipe were believed to be the cause responsible for the blaze as he had laid his pipe down before going out.

Also on Sunday firemen were called to Sydney Edwards' property to extinguish a chimney fire at the farm home of J. Hollinsbee, four miles south of the city on No. 14 highway.

JOHN WESLEY HOLLEY

The sudden coronary thrombosis on Wednesday evening at his home, 270 Bell Boulevard, John Wesley Holley, Plumbing Inspector for the city, and lifelong resident of Belleville, passed away in the Belleville General Hospital on Saturday evening.

In the death of Jack Holley, the city has lost a conscientious official and a kind, thoughtful man who devoted a great deal of his time to the welfare and progress of his native city. He was a kindly man, made many friends and his sudden death will bring sincere regrets among a wide circle.

He was born in Belleville 66 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holley, and after completing his public school education became an apprenticed plumber. He worked for years for the John Mark Company, then for Holley Plumbing Company and later went into business for himself until his appointment by the city council in 1946 as Building and Plumbing Inspector. In this thorough knowledge of the plumbing business and advice was often sought. In January of 1952 the two offices were separated and Mr. Holley continued as plumbing inspector and building inspector, a position held by the Department of Health early this year Mr. Holley continued as building inspector.

The late Mr. Holley was a noted lacrosse player, playing for both winning numerous prizes at various exhibitions, but of late years he turned his attention to raising the poultry show standard held at the Exhibition field. Jack was a director of the fair for many years and during this task was looking after the poultry building, which he did in a most satisfactory manner.

The poultry show was generally the feature of the fair with the breeders, whom he knew so well always made it a point to exhibit their birds. The poultry raising was always artistically decorated and was the pride of the Belleville fair. Mr. Holley was also a director of the Belleville Agricultural Society. The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

Members Three Armed Services Decorate Graves

TRENTON (Special) — Representatives from the three armed services gathered in front of the Rowe Funeral Home, Trenton on Park here yesterday observing Memorial and Decoration Day in a colorful service under the auspices of Trenton Branch 110 of the Canadian Legion.

In the early morning sun legionnaires visited four cemeteries in Trenton and the district, placing flags on the graves of the servicemen who gave their lives for freedom in both World Wars.

Led by the Instituion Pipers Edward Regiment band from Belleville servicemen and women of the veterans guard from Dufferin Public School through town to the cenotaph in the afternoon. Wing Commander G. A. Folkins, Commanding Officer of the Trenton Station Trenton, took the general salute from a base in front of the cenotaph.

In the address at the cenotaph Capt. the Rev. Calvin Gee, R.C.N. (retired), M.B.E. called on those present to use their influence in an effort to stop Trenton council's move to place parking meters in front of the new Memorial Building. Capt. Gee said: "Across the nations are here and we have such a beautiful consecrated spot we should be overjoyed to keep it sacred and hallowed", Canon Mc-Connell, rector of Trenton, also referred to the new location of the cenotaph on the entrance to Senator Fraser Park. The padre of World War II paid tribute to the veterans for their unselfish insisting that they passed on to a new generation the high standard attending the service to look upon Decoration Day as the day to remember for the happy warriors, who have gone to a greater reward.

CIVIC WELCOME.

The service opened with a civic welcome from Mayor Rose Burt. W.M., Albert Cleaver, president of the Trenton Legion, followed with words of welcome from Rev. Canon McConnell, Rev. C. G. Miselly, B.A., minister of King Street United Church, Trenton, read passages from the Scripture and prayers were offered by Capt. J. Richards of the Salvation Army.

Wreaths were placed on cenotaph by Legion, Air Cadets, Soldiers, sailors and airmen solemnly played the Last Post and two minutes after the bugler sounded the last note of the Last Post.

Officers in charge of the parade was W/O. John Silver, M.B.E., officer in charge of the Air Cadets was R.S.M. E. Airney, D.C.M. The parade to the hymn singing was played by the Trenton Lions Club Band.

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Doctors Demorest and Crook, staff and nurses of Prince Edward General Hospital, and Rowe Funeral Home, for their kindness and attention during my recent illness.

Glen Goodfellow Escapes Injury As Truck Upsets

Glen Goodfellow of Belleville crawled uninjured from the wreckage of the cab of his highway transport Saturday at Grafton after his vehicle and another transport sideswiped on the dangerous curve at Mosley Bridge.

Goodfellows transport went through the south rail of the bridge and landed on its side in a shallow creek. Driver of the other transport was Arnol Rosmussen of Cal-gary.

The mishap involving the two highway transports was indirectly the cause of another accident in which Provincial Constable Ralph Tremblay of Cobourg was injured when his police cruiser was struck by a C.P.R. passenger special a mile east of Cobourg. The constable was on his way to investigate the accident when he met the transports.

The impact of the locomotive hurled the police car through the air and into the side of a brick store. Tremblay was taken to Cobourg hospital with a broken knee cap and cuts.

Quinte Sea Cadets Enjoy Outing At Col. Wills' Residence, Northport

A cloudy sky and a spanking breeze that loosed that part of the Bay of Quinte into foaming whitecaps held no fears for 70 young sailors over the week-end when they were the guests of Lieut.-Col. R. H. Wills at his spacious summer home at Northport.

It was the second time in the history of the Quinte unit of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps, that they were entertained for the two-day outing by Col. Wills.

While generally speaking the week-end was a period of fun, sports and relaxation for the youthful cadets, "duty" was not forgotten. They went on parade for the commanding officer's inspection, attended a drum-head divine service and attended to other duties that are part of their training.

The corps under the command of Lieut.-Harry Mackenzie and his officers A/Sub. Lieutenant R. Fletcher and Middlemore Neil Judge, journeyed to Northport by military vehicles through the kind permission of Lieut.-Colonel H. Widdifield, commanding officer of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, and Major J. Hilliard, second-in-command of the Royal Canadian School of Artillery, Picton.

BAND ENJOYED.

The fine drum and bugle band of the corps was in attendance under the direction of Petty Officer K. Bradshaw. Besides its other duties the band played for the entertainment of the corps and the large number of guests, who attended the outing on Sunday.

Among the special guests present were Lieut.-Commander R. Manson, CD., RCN., deputy director of sea cadets, Toronto; Lieut.-Commander K. W. Wish, area officer, Toronto, Major Hilliard, Lieutenant Widdifield, Major E. S. Fairman, 9th Anti Tank Regiment, Capt. Bert Smallwood, Belleville, R. B. Boyce, Captain John Watson, Dr. Jack Guthridge, chairman Belleville branch Navy League of Canada, Brigadier Jack Gow, George Cook, Northport, Mr. Stan Goodwin, and others.

The corps arrived at Northport on Saturday morning and immediately "fell in" for the commanding officer's inspection and general instructions.

Despite the high rate of humidity a full program of sports was run off following a luncheon served in the Northport Ladies' Auxiliary.

During the evening a motion picture show was given on the green lawns, with many residents of the village as well as special guests enjoying this form of entertainment.

Saturday night the cadets were billeted in houses, the parish hall and the tourist camp.

ATTENDED SERVICE

Sunday proved blustery with high winds blowing under a threatening sky. Despite this the cadets fell in and paraded to the lawns of Col. Wills' residence where they attended a drumhead divine service. Captain (Rev.) W. J. Robinson, chaplain of the 9th Anti Tank Regiment RCA (ALI) and rector of St. Thomas' Church, officiated. Midway, rain started to fall but the cadets stayed by their guns" until the service was concluded.

The cadets ate "army rations" for their Sunday luncheon with the dinner cooked by military cooks on military equipment.

A football game and other sports rounded out the afternoon activities and the cadets returned to the city late in the evening following a thoroughly enjoyable week-end.

Lieut. Mackenzie today expressed the sincere appreciation of his corps officers and himself to Col. Wills for the generous gesture in extending the privileges and facilities of his summer home to the young sailors.

Two Juveniles From Training School Picked Up

Two juveniles, who Saturday morning escaped from the Cobourg Training School, were returned to that institution today following their apprehension by police, one of the boys at Belleville and the other at Napanee.

Early Sunday morning a window at the bus terminal was broken and two small youths were seen running away.

A short time later a car from the Belleville Motor Car used car lot on Coleman street was reported by the lot's head driver to have been pushed onto the street. Police investigated but by this time the car was mobile and discovered it to the Campbell Paint Shop on Upper Coleman street, where one of the juveniles was picked up.

Still later another car was reported missing from the used car lot operated by J. Trusiach. This car was found abandoned on the Old Belleville Road west of Napanee and the second juvenile was picked up by police at that centre.

20 High School Students Attend Music Camp

BANCROFT—Twenty high school students returned to their homes on Wednesday evening after spending an instructive week at the school's newly organized "Music Camp", held at Trout Lake.

The camp was established at cottages loaned by John Wiggins and Jack Kavanagh and was under the direction of R. C. Montreuil.

A full program of band practice, music theory, sectional practice, and group work was carried out each day, and on Friday evening a band concert was presented to a lakeside audience of 75. Piano accordion selections by Grade IX student Rod McIntyre were a feature of the program.

NOTED IMMIGRANT

Arton Silliloe, first Anglican bishop of New Westminster, B. C., was born in Australia in 1841.

Swim hair styling was given to each girl appearing by Mrs. Marjorie Hall and make-up was provided by records loaned by McCurdy's Drug Store, Mrs. E. Schram acted as commentator.

A home baking, cookie and candy table was well stocked by H. and S. members and refreshments were served in the kindergarten room.

The door prize, a basket of groceries, was won by Mrs. C. Lloyd.

Race Discrimination At Dresden Assailed

TORONTO (CP)—Rev. Gordon Snyder said Sunday in a sermon in Yonge Street United church that reported racial discrimination at Dresden, near Chatham, "is raising a stench to high Heaven."

Referring to recent reports of two Negro couples being refused service at a Dresden restaurant and to other claims of discrimination in the town, Mr. Smythe said:

"At the present time, Dresden is a blot on Canada's signature to the United Nations and a fresh wound in the side of Christ who taught that people make a mockery of the fatherhood of God unless they practise the brotherhood of man.

Boys Rescued by Companion, Toronto Woman Revives Pair In Near Drowning at Rossmore

The swimming prowess of an 11-year-old Churchill Heights lad and knowledge of resuscitation on the part of a visiting Toronto woman saved two young Belleville boys from drowning in the Bay of Quinte at Rossmore early Saturday afternoon.

Fred Spice, 13, and his brother Harry, age 11, had gotten into difficulty when they attempted to swim from a dock to a diving raft at a cottage east of the bay bridge and both boys were rescued by Thomas Seymour with whom they had gone swimming.

Harry Spice was unconscious when rescued and Mrs. J. H. Miller, Hillside Drive, Toronto, visiting at a neighboring cottage, applied artificial respiration and revived the boy.

Only the artificial respiration given by the Toronto woman saved the boy's life according to Dr. J. Russell Scott, who later attended the lad and ordered him kept in bed for a couple of days. All three boys live on Hunnewood Drive in the Churchill Heights district.

The three lads had ridden their bicycles across the bay to swim at a cottage owned by Mr. Frank Gardner, grandfather of the Seymour boys.

They went swimming off the dock and the Spice boys struck out directly for the diving raft about 75 feet offshore. Two-thirds of the way out Freddy got into difficulty and was struggling in the water, when he was rescued by Tommy Seymour and towed ashore. In the meantime Harry had disappeared beneath the water.

BROUGHT TO SURFACE

"I untied a boat and went out to where Harry disappeared and saw him lying on the bottom in about 10 feet of water," Tommy said. "I dived in and brought him to the surface.

It was then Mr. and Mrs. Miller arrived on the scene and finding at a neighboring cottage the Millers had been out in the bay fishing and were returning to shore when they were attracted by the boys shouting.

"We saw the boys but thought they were merely kibitzing and did not realize they were in trouble," Mr. Miller said.

"Then," he said, "they heard on the boys call "come up Harry" and sensed that some one must be drowning. They then moved in closer and were only a few yards away when the Seymour boy brought the unconscious lad to the surface.

"My husband cannot swim, so I kicked off my shoes and dived in to help," Mrs. Miller said. "I put the boy in the boat and seeing that he was already blue in the face didn't event wait to get to shore before starting artificial respiration."

The boat rocked too much, however, and the boy was taken ashore where Mrs. Miller continued resuscitation. In a few minutes he regained consciousness.

Although his 11th birthday is not until early July, Tommy Seymour is an expert swimmer and last week was presented with a badge for being best cub by the 5th Belleville Cub Pack of which he is a member. He learned to swim from his father and mother, who are also expert swimming instructors.

For Harry Spice it was the second close call with death. Five years ago he caught his hand and arm in some gears at a sawmill at Cannifton and was nearly drawn into the machinery.

POINT ANNE GAME TUESDAY POSTPONED

The Belleville and District Softball League game between the Point Anne Cementmen and Bob Temple's Bobcats, scheduled for 8.00 p.m. Tuesday night at the Alemite Field has been postponed.

The Bobcats may play a league game with the Stewart Warner team that was postponed from Tuesday, June 22nd, but nothing definite is known on this at the time of writing.

Rev. and Mrs. Duncan McTavish Bid Farewell by Congregation

About 200 members of the congregation of Bridge Street United Church bade farewell to Rev. and Mrs. Duncan McTavish Sunday evening at a party held in the church parlors following the evening service.

It was also the occasion of Mr. and Mrs. McTavish's 38th wedding anniversary and was Mrs. McTavish's birthday.

J. W. Morrison, on behalf of the congregation, delivered the farewell address. Mrs. Charles Hyde, president of the W.M.S., presented Mr. and Mrs. McTavish with a refrigerator for their new home in Rodney.

Mrs. Everett Fairman, president of the W.A., presented Mrs. McTavish with a bouquet of roses.

During the evening expressions of regret at the departure from Belleville of Mr. and Mrs. McTavish after four years at Bridge Street Church, were made by Rev. Ray Rowley, minister of the Tabernacle United Church, and by Rev. Keith Daniel, president of the Belleville Ministerial Association.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McTavish replied suitably.

During the evening a surprise presentation was made to Wilbur Countryman, chairman of the Board of Stewards, who is leaving the city to accept the position of principal of the high school at Morrisburg.

The presentation to Mr. Countryman was made by C. W. Burr and Harold Parker.

The program, arranged by the church organist, S. Alec Gordon, included solos by James Bankier, songs by the latter' chorus and the choir and two readings by Miss Helen Sulman.

Chairman for the evening was T. K. Franklin.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served by members of the W.A. Rev. Miriam Collins closed the social hour with prayer.

ANOTHER COMMUNIST VICTORY?

Attempts at settlement of the war in Indo-China again emphasize the worldwide scope of Communist aggression.

In Indo-China the war is being fought, supposedly, between the Vietminh and the nationalist Viet Nam forces which were receiving material and manpower support from France. Any negotiation for a settlement of the conflict would, therefore, seem to involve the Vietminh and Viet Nam leaders.

No one, however, is naive enough to believe that the conflict is merely a civil war. Events at Geneva

Liberal Member Has 86,000 Sq. Miles to Cover

ISLAND FALLS, Sask. (CP)—James Ripley has a power toboggan, a snow tractor, a light airplane and several canoes. He needs all of them.

Ripley, 46, is Liberal member of the Saskatchewan Legislature for Athabasca, at 86,000 square miles one of the largest constituencies in Canada. But Athabasca, which runs along Saskatchewan's northern boundary, has only 15 miles of highway.

Ripley tries to get around his constituency once a year. It takes a fleet of diversified vehicles plus ingenuity to cover the land of lakes forests, tundra and rock.

This community is listed as his home address, but Mr. Ripley says his home is "the North." He has log cabins on Kipahagan lake, Reindeer lake, Brightsand lake and Lake Manistikwan.

CHEERY NEIGHBORS

"Above all other things, my wife and family love to live in any of these cabins," he says. "At one of them we have a private radio station and if conditions are good, we can talk and speak with our neighbors 300 miles away.

"We speak of the fishing and weather and then the womenfolk take over and gossip just as they do in a city when they get together."

Ripley makes his living by fishing and flying. He was born on a cattle ranch near Medicine Hat, Alta., in 1913, and moved to Brandon, Man., at an early age with his parents. His studies in public school at the University of Manitoba were interrupted by the Second World War, when he enlisted in the army. He returned to medical school after the war, but quit to become a commercial pilot.

He became interested in commercial fishing in the Athabaska region, where his travels brought him in contact with persons in many communities. When he is in Regina for a session of the Legislature, the plane stays at Flin Flon, Man. It is fitted with floats in summer, skis in winter.

Drew Wants Investigation Of Immigration Department

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Drew wants a royal commission investigation of administration in the immigration department.

He proposed the investigation in the Commons Saturday during a day long immigration debate which concluded Parliament's business for the session. He mentioned a number of cases, including what he described as a bare - faced racket to smuggle persons to Canada illegally, and said they leave so many unanswered questions that an investigation is needed.

Immigration Minister Harris made no mention of Mr. Drew's proposal for a royal commission when he replied but he said that Mr. Drew misinterpreted the facts of two cases. He also outlined the present status of prosecutions against those involved in the immigrant smuggling racket.

VARIOUS COMPLAINTS

Members of all opposition parties complained of a variety of matters during the debate, including discrimination against Chinese and Negro immigrants, failure to give reasons for rejecting applications and the painting of too rosy a picture of Canada by immigration officials overseas. On the last complaint, Mr. Harris said he is satisfied immigration officers are not misrepresenting the facts about Canada while encouraging immigration.

Mr. Drew said Mr. Harris has never given Parliament a statement of how the smuggling case was handled. He said Mr. Harris should say exactly what has taken place concerning prosecutions and also what was done "to clean out the conditions that made it possible for that racket to develop."

Mr. Drew asked for an explanation of the different treatment given one man whose only offence was defending his wife from an assault and a union official convicted in Canada and the United States who, he said, lived the life of Riley as Canada's representative at a labor conference with government assistance.

QUOTES REPORTS

He quoted news dispatches stating that Henri Zorin was ordered deported from Canada following conviction for assault in Quebec City. The charge was laid as a result of the man's defence of his wife from attack.

Mr. Drew said deportation to France was automatic in this man's case under an immigration regulation requiring deportation of immigrants convicted of criminal offences.

However, he said, Hal Banks, Canadian director of the Seafarers' International Union (TLC-AFL), remained in Canada until going to Geneva to represent Canada at the conference of the International Labor Office despite a conviction for cigaret smuggling.

He said Mr. Banks was convicted a month before being granted permanent residence in Canada. He also had been convicted and charged frequently in the United States with serious offences.

MINISTER REPLIES

Replying later, Mr. Harris said that within the last three weeks a board of inquiry had been established to sit in Montreal concerning the Banks case. Since its decision might be appealed to him as immigration minister, he declined to comment on the facts of the case.

He also declined comment on the Zorin case which he said still is before the courts. He said "it is regrettable that the leader of the Opposition sought to interpret the case in a manner which . . . does not bear very much resemblance to the facts."

(An immigration official said outside the Commons that Mr. Zorin still is in Canada.)

Concerning the smuggling of immigrants into Canada, Mr. Harris said one man was fined $100 and dismissed from the immigration service, another was fined $200, a third $250 and one case still was before the courts. A fifth man had not been caught and avoided doing so by living in Britain from where he could not be extradited.

JOHN NIAGARA Talks about:

Bills marked "PLEASE REMIT"

Most people have had a bill sometime, bearing the words, "Please remit by return mail". And many of us have not always been able to send payment by return mail. A large unpaised bill, or a lot of little ones, can often cause this to happen. Most people don't realize that all they need to clear away their debts is time; yes, time to spread the pernenus into future pay envelopes. A friendly loan gives you a lump sum of money, with which to pay your bills. You then have time to repay, with payments you can handle easily. It's a simple way to get back on your feet. Friendly loans up to $1500 from Niagara are life-insured at no extra cost to you. Besides, on many friendly loans, the rates are lower. If you need money why don't you give yourself time to pay by arranging a Niagara loan. We'll be glad to see you . . . no just drop in.

In an ordinary room, RCAF jet pilots get regular and systematic practice in instrument flying and procedures — takeoffs — letdowns — precision instrument turns — cross country flights — radio aids practice.

And — if things are going too smoothly — the instructor can twist dials to simulate all the flying conditions that the pilot is likely to meet, such as rough air—lightning—static—changes of wind speeds and directions.

Weddings

WOODWARD—SMITH

A quiet, but pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, June 19th, at 10:30 a.m., by the Rev. J. L. Lamarche, at the rectory of the Church of St. James the Minor, Stirling, when Jeanne Lorraine Smith, of Marlbank, R.R. 1, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ewart Smith, was united in marriage to John Robert Woodward, of Trenton, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Woodward.

Mr. Arthur Duby, soloist, sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," and "Because," accompanied by Mr. George Ketcheson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white net and Chantilly lace over satin, featuring a beaded collar, and headdress with fingertip veil of tulle illusion. She carried a crescent bouquet of Virginia carnations, stephanotis, and popcorn, trimmed with white lacelon ribbon.

Miss Jacqueline Smith of Belleville, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, was gowned in pink net and lace over nylon taffeta, and Miss Lorraine Topping, of Trenton, as bridesmaid was attired in pale blue net and lace over taffeta. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of Rapture roses, white Shasta 'mums, pink larkspur and blue feathered peppermint carnations and the bridesmaid, a nosegay of Rapture roses, white Shasta 'mums, pink larkspur, and peppermint feathered carnations. Both wore matching headdresses.

The two little flower girls, were frocked alike in pale blue net over taffeta, and carried nosegays of Gloria roses, Gold Coast 'mums and white Shasta 'mums.

Mr. Robert LaMorre, of Trenton, attended the bridegroom, and Mr. James Strong of Perth, was usher.

The reception was held in Holy Trinity Hall, Frankford, where the bride's mother, gowned in grey and white orlon, with corsage of pink Sweetheart roses, received the guests. The bridegroom's mother assisted, wearing mauve nylon print with yellow Sweetheart rose corsage.

For travelling to Niagara Falls, the bride donned a yellow linen suit, with matching hat and gloves, and white accessories, and mauve orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Woodward will reside in Trenton.

Guests were present from West Bathurst, N.B., Kingston, and Perth, Ontario.

600 Attend Strawberry Festival

The Catholic Women's League of Holy Rosary Parish sponsored a successful strawberry social at their church hall on Wednesday evening.

Approximately 600 adults and children were served a luncheon feast of which strawberries and ice cream were the main treat.

The tables, which seated four people, were attractive with snowy white tablecloths.

There was a fish pond for the young fry and the stock was exhausted in short order.

A novelty booth located outdoors in front of the parish hall, was heavily patronized by the adults.

VARIETY OF ARTICLES

A great variety of colored aprons, hand embroidered tablecloths, pot holders, pine-up lamps, little girls' dresses, cups and saucers and a host of other articles were quickly disposed of to an appreciative public.

At this booth there was also a dressed-up baby doll in a bassinet to be raffled later on in the evening and which was won by Mrs. Fred Lee.

To conclude a most successful affair, a draw for a nitemaster and six other cash prizes, was held and the winners are the nitemaster was won by No. 2322, Mrs. A. St. Denis, R.R. 5, Belleville; the cash prizes were won by 1 Miss Florence Elcquin, care of Mrs. Ellard, Sidney North, No. 2 Bridge, Trenton; 2 Fleming, Foxboro, No. 3390; 3. Mr. J. Murphy, Reynolds Crescent, No. 644; 4 Vern Goyer, 28 John Street, No. 2435; 5. Mr. W. Foley, 17 Green Street, No. 399; 6. Mr. Tom O'Shaugnessy, Bancroft, No. 3158.

The convenor and her assistants wish to convey their thanks and appreciation to all those who helped to make this social event a great success.

Proper Way To Cook Trout Will Be Shown

OTTAWA (CP)—It's one thing to catch a trout; it's another thing altogether to cook it properly. The culinary angle will be taken care of at the Fish Fling, Mimi, trout fry festival by two home economists of the federal department of fisheries.

Miss Edna Raynor of Winnipeg and Miss Jean MacDonald of Ottawa will give daily demonstrations of the cooking of fresh-water fish at the festival, which lasts from June 30 to July 4.

FEATURED RECIPES

Their featured recipe is for a baked whole lake trout. For the benefit of people who can't get to Fish Fling, it goes like this:

Take one 4-5 pound dressed lake trout, wipe it with a damp cloth, sprinkle the inside with salt, and stuff it loosely with rice and olive dressing. Fasten with string, brush the outside with two tablespoons of melted fat (butter recommended) and bake in a hot oven (450 to 500 degrees fahrenheit.)

Allow 10 minutes per inch thickness of stuffed fish.

The dressing is made this way: To ½ cup melted butter, add ¾ cup chopped onion and 1 cup diced celery, and cook under low heat (about 3 minutes). Add 1 1-3 cup cooked rice, 1 cup chopped stuffed olives, and ¾ teaspoon each of salt, pepper, dried sage and dried thyme. Toss lightly, and stuff fish.

This amount stuffs a four or five pound fish.

STONE CHURCH W.M.S.

4TH SIDNEY—The Stone Church Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. H. Whitfield with 13 members and one visitor present. The president, Mrs. J. Bird, presided over the opening worship and business part of the meeting.

A letter on "Christian Literature and Stewardship", "Gambling in Canada" and the ever present temperance question was read by Mrs. W. Tufts.

Mrs. H. Phillips read the Scripture.

Mrs. Detlor gave a few thoughts, saying to see God as He appears in Jesus, and to cast oneself upon Him, to be delivered from the fear of tasks, one must worship God. One must pray for blessed that he may have the conviction of his weakness and helplessness apart from God and be set free for God's service, that he may have a deeper spirit of prayer.

"As thou hast called us to thy service make us worthy of our calling."

PRAYERS

"Prayers for the assembly; for all who carry a special burden of responsibility for the assembly, and for all who are helping in the preparatory work, that they may be directed and helped.

"That the members may be able to hear and receive the word which God is speaking to us in this generation. That the assembly may help Christian people to a deeper mutual understanding and that as a result, God may create something new in the life of the churches."

Mrs. H. W. Whitfield favored with a piano solo.

AFRICAN DAY

Mrs. Detlor called on Mrs. Dovey who gave an illustrated talk on Africa, opening her remarks with the story of an African boy being asked: "What are white men like—good or bad?" and his answer, "I don't know. They have white skin, they don't work but make us work."

There are six independent countries in Africa. There has been great progress since 1903. Africa is 90 per cent Moslem, 10 per cent Christian. Hailie Selassie traces back to St. Augustine who was born in north Africa. Central Africa is black and pagan. Congo is called "darkest Africa." There are 156 million living in North Africa.

Africans say they had the land, now they have the Bible, and the whites have the land. White people talk about Christianity but are reluctant to put it in practice.

Mrs. Dovey thanked Mrs. Dovey for her fine talk, and also expressed the sympathy of the members to her and the family on the serious illness of Mr. Dovey's mother. Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

ADVENTISTS MEET

OSHAWA (CP)—More than 1,200 delegates from about 40 Seventh Day Adventist churches in Ontario and Quebec are attending the denomination's biennial conference at Oshawa Missionary College. J. C. Jones of Oshawa, president of the conference, said he will report a 10-per-cent gain in membership during the last two years when about 3200 adults were accepted into the church.

The Poster and Essay contest under the "Department of Scientific Temperance in Schools and Colleges," of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, was closed and prizes given to those of highest standing.

The five school took part and splendid work was sent in. Feeling is that each one should be rewarded; however, praise is tendered for their efforts and thanks to all.

Give and Want Last-Minute Strawberry Information

By Mary Moore

One reader asks for jams using sugary strawberry raspberry and black currant. I have given the strawberry jam using sugary for diabetics and reducers once, but will repeat here today.

Another sends a good recipe for regular strawberry jam—so if we want to get in under the wire of strawberry season this is the last chance.

SUGARLESS STRAWBERRY JAM

Five well-packed cups strawberries which are perfectly fresh and ripe and choice, 4 tablespoons glycerin, 1 teaspoon certo crystals, 12 sucaryl tablets. Wash strawberries in sieve under running cold water. Hull them, placing on towel to dry. Cut in 2 quarters and measure 5 cups pressed down a little. Mash these with potato masher and boil gently 15 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and skim with sterile spoon over medium heat for five minutes. Pour into sterile jars and seal at once. Sugarless products depend on sterility to preserve them—take no chances by using unsterile spoons or jars or equipment of any kind.

BECKY'S STRAWBERRY JAM

Three cups strawberries crushed slightly, 1 cup finely cut raw apple, 5 cups white sugar. Mix well and boil 20 minutes, put in sterilized jars and put hot paraffin on top at once, then another coat when cold.

Becky adds "Here's hoping this is in lots of time for the berry season. This recipe works equally good with raspberries."

Becky asked for method of canning peas. As usual I want to point out that in canning any vegetables except tomatoes it is imperative to have a pressure cooker.

HOME CANNED PEAS

(Using pressure cooker)

Shell and wash young tender newly gathered peas. Just cover with boiling water. Bring to boil, covered and boil 1 minute. Pack loosely and boiling hot in sterile jars. If using pint jars add 1-2 teaspoon salt; quarts 1 teaspoon salt. Cover to within 1 inch of top jar (peas should be loose enough in jar that none protrude above this 1-inch headspace) with boiling hot cooking liquid from peas. Process pints at 10 lbs. pressure (240 deg. Fahr.) for 40 minutes; quarts 45 minutes. If you care to take the chance and procedure them in boiling water bath they require 3 hours, but when they are opened they should be boiled for 10 minutes in an uncovered saucepan before using or tasting even.

QUESTION:

. . . after moving here it did not take me long to get into the swing with all the other local housewives to look eagerly for your tips and wonderful recipes in your column. . . I am Austrian . . . came to Canada three years ago. . . my husband being Austrian also has persuaded me to stick to some of the (native) dishes.

Five or 6 tablespoons flour in bowl, pinch of salt, beat egg in teacup and add water to fill. Pour egg water mixture into flour and beat with fork. It mixes into a thick spongy dough. Spoon into boiling water with a teaspoon, dipping spoon into the water to make the spoon clean, to dip again. Boil 10 to 15 minutes, serve hot with liver and onions.

LINZER TORTE

(Courtesy I.O.)

Four ounces ground walnuts, 3-4 cup each sugar and butter (or margarine), 2 cups flour, 3 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 tablespoons milk, pinch cinnamon, rind and juice 1-2 lemon. Mix all together in bowl (by hand is easy). Use 2-3 of mixture to press down in bottom of 8-inch square pan (unpressed). Put thin layer of any kind of jam on pressed down mixture. Use remaining third of mixture to roll out into strips and put on top of jam in lattice work. Bake at 350 deg. oven for 30 to 40 minutes, until light brown. Leave in tin for 24 hours for best taste results.

Thank you Becky and I.O. I hope readers recognize the excellence of I.O.'s Linzer Torte and try it.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN,

ADDRESSING OUTER AND INNER ENVELOPES

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

What is the proper way to address the outside and inside envelopes of the wedding invitations? (I am confused about the inside envelope, as I have heard conflicting ideas about this procedure.) — Bride-to-be

The outer envelope includes the full name, and of course the address. Four lines usually. . .(1) name (2) street-address; (3) city (with zone number, when possible); (4) state. No abbreviations, except "Mr." and "Mrs.". Like this:

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Adams Hill
123 Fourth Avenue
Haven 2 . . .
New York

On the inner envelope write only the titles and surname:

Mr. and Mrs. Hill

Women's Institute

PARK DALE W.I.

The June meeting of the Park Dale W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. R. Ralston with 14 members present. Each answered roll call by presenting a picture of interest from England. The president, Mrs. C. K. Keeble, presided.

It was decided during the business portion of the meeting to purchase folding chairs for use in the Institute. Mrs. M. Barrigar gave a report from the district annual held last month at Plainfield.

The motto "How do our every day ways differ from those of England were displayed by Mrs. E. Morry. Refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed by all.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

GIRLS OF 18 SHOULDN'T MAKE THIS KIND OF PROMISE

Dear Miss Fairfax:

The boy I have been going steady with is going to join the Air Force. He has asked me to wait for him till he gets back, which will be in four years.

I love this boy very much, but four years is a long time. He is 19 and I am 16.

Do you think I should wait, or what should I do? — PEGGY

Dear Peggy:

I don't think a girl of 16 should tie herself up to any definite promise that will make it impossible for her to live a normal teenager's life for four years. Even if the waiting period were not to be as long as that, I am against any 16-year-old committing herself this way. She is not the least likely to keep such a promise, as almost certainly some other boy will come along who will crowd the absent one out of her thoughts, and someone may get hurt.

What I would advise is that you tell this young man that you feel you are much too young to make him any promises; that you think both of you should be free to go out with any one you wish for the next few years; that you will keep in touch with him by letters, and that if you are still heart-free when he comes home at the end of the four years, you can then see how each of you feels toward the other. To say anything more than this would be very foolish and only leave the door open to quarrels, misunderstandings and, I am quite sure, eventual breakup.

33 Persons Die Violently In East Canada

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Thirty-three persons, including 13 children, died violently in eastern Canada during the week-end. High way accidents and drownings accounted for all the fatalities.

One highway mishap claimed the lives of a young Ottawa couple when a 70-foot elm tree snapped and fell on their moving conver tible near Carleton Place, Ont. Dead are Robert L. Disher, 21 and his wife, Rose.

More than half the deaths were in Ontario—18. Nine persons were killed in traffic accidents and nine persons were drowned.

Seven fatalities were recorded in Quebec, five in Nova Scotia and three in New Brunswick. There were no violent deaths in Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland, a Canadian Press survey showed.

TRUCK BURNED

In Ontario, Gerald Towsley, 24, of Ridgetown was killed when his truck ran off No. 3 highway and crashed, exploded and burned.

Three children were killed when struck by cars in separate accidents in Ontario. They were: Ashe Looper, 6, Meaford; Susan Malcho 5, Stratford; Grant Wilkins, 2, Owen Sound.

Mrs. Richard McDonald, 60, of Toronto died in a two-car crash near Elmvale, Ont. Another two-car crash took the life of Gerald Turpin, 17, of Dryden, Ont. Edward Caldwell of Ottawa died in a head-on collision.

Drownings in Ontario claimed he lives of five youngsters. Larry Allison, 8, of London was drowned while playing in the Thames river. James G. Myer, 11, was drowned while swimming in a dredge cut near his home at Fletcher. Also drowned were Victor R. Sutton, 9, of Red Rock; Richard Anderson, 11, Port Arthur; Ritchie Crowe, 7, North York.

Mario Caporozzi, 31, of Sault Ste. Marie was drowned when he fell from a dam abutment into the St. Mary's river. Fran Cybulski, 47, of Barry's Bay, Ont., fell from his boat and was drowned in the Madawaska river. Roy Swartz, 18, of Moulton township and Fred Steadman, 57, of Sarnia died in separate drownings.

Five persons died in Quebec highway accidents. Norman Fuller, 18, his brother, Richard, 24, and his sister, Marie, 13, were killed when their car went out of control and rammed a tree near Ste. Philomene. They were all from the Montreal district.

FO. Richard, 29-year-old RCAF officer from Ottawa, was drowned when his canoe overturned in Meach (Ikr. Que.

BANCROFT

Accused Fined $150 and Costs In Liquor Case

BANCROFT — Charged with illegal possession of liquor, Joseph Minnis, of Maynooth, was fined $150 and costs by Magistrate R. C. Jackson at Wednesday's court.

Minnis did not appear in court and a plea of guilty was entered by defending counsel F. Ward of Picton. Neither defendant nor counsel divulged where the liquor in question was obtained and the fine was levied under the Summary Convictions Act.

A Coe Hill man, Charles Conlin, convicted of theft of standing timber, received two years suspended sentence and was ordered to pay costs.

Crown Attorney S. G. Robertson prosecuted for the Crown and Conlin was defended by W. J. Arthur Fair of Peterborough.

Two men were fined for speeding, Frank Malka of Toronto paid $10 and costs and Ivan Church of Jarvis $15 and costs. Frank Sparks of Belleville was fined $12 and costs when convicted fo having liquor at a place other than his residence and Phil Scott of Maynooth paid $10 and costs for consuming in a public place.

For driving without a licence Joseph Forlin of Bancroft was fined $10 and costs and Bernard Fortin paid a similar amount for permitting an unlicenced driver to drive.

Worthy Grands Entertained By O.E.S. Chapter

BANCROFT — Bancroft Chapter, No. 187, O.E.S., had the honor of entertaining the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Allison Gooch, of Strathroy, and the Worthy Grand Patron, Mr. Ernie Burgis, of Toronto, at a special meeting held in the chapter room, Friday.

Other Grand Officers present were the Associate Grand Conductress, Mrs. Edna Anderson, of Bowmanville, and the Grand Warder, Mrs. Evelyn Hadley, of Trenton. Visitors were also present from Flesherton, Stoney Creek, Madoc, Fairfield, Nova Scotia, Ottawa and Toronto.

The chapter room was decorated with large baskets of iris and peonies and the officers were corsages of pink carnations.

The past matrons and officers took part in a ship ceremony presenting the Worthy Grand Matron with a ship television lamp and the Worthy Grand Patron with ship bookends.

Mrs. Mary Schram sang a delightful solo.

The Grand Officers and other distinguished guests addressed the chapter.

Following the meeting bridge and contract were conducted by the social convener, Mrs. Frances Vance.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bella Wiggins and her committee.

Sizzling Battles Feature Races For Lead In American, National Leagues

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

FAT IN THE FIRE!

The Batas lost a pair of tougbies over the week-end to the Toronto Hookings, who added a third victory with a win over the Toronto Caterers in a Saturday Windsor Ontario League tilt. The Batas dropped a heartbreaker in the first game of the twin bill when Huntley homered with a mate aboard in the bottom of the ninth inning. The Batas clipped out 14 hits in the nitnest seven for the Hookings in the opener but the best they could do was six hits off Big Bill Fullerton in the nightcap.

The Batas go to Oshawa on Thursday, July 1st, to "pinch-play for the Peterborough Petes, who refused to play the game after the Oshawans, according to the Peterborough reports refused to give the Petes an opening home date on May 24.

There is fat in the fire in this Windsor-Ontario League, according to a story in a Toronto morning newspaper. It appears the Toronto Dependables refused to play Oshawa if the Transporters used their American college import hurler Harry Stonehack. The story hints the other five teams in the league might withdraw and form a league of their own. Since, as the story goes, the VOHL has no constitution of its own, there is nothing to stop such a procedure. More about this situation tomorrow.

The league standing after Sunday's games sees Oshawa on top with 10 wins and three defeats. Hookings replace the Batas in second spot with 11 and six. Our side is now third with five and five; the Petes fourth with four and seven; then Toronto Caterers with five and 10 and Oakville in the cellar with three and eleven.

ACE ON DECK—

"Ace" Holden, colored pitching phenom, of the Carlings-sponsored Redcaps four-man fastball team, lived up to all advance notices in the exhibition tilt with Paul Mercier's Rissbird junior squad Saturday, even winning the game 7-4.

The negro ace was at his best, striking out 21 Belleville batters and walking four. He whiffed three while hurling from second base and two while wearing a blindfold. He has a splendid supporting cast in manager Pat Patterson, Eddie St. Cyr, Leo Peloquin and Maurie O'Conner, burly catcher.

The "Ace" was never better than when his mates decided to play a game of cards at second base while the hurler was busy retiring the side. He struck out two while the boys played fan-tan or whatever it was, and retired the third batter also.

Manager "Warpy" O'Brien threw an assortment of pitchers into the fray, including Bobby Green, Bruno McCurdy, Junior Day and Pat Mancini. They held the Redcaps to six hits, but costly bobbles in the third gave the four-manners five runs and the victory. Johnny Batchelor and Davy Young hit out-of-trask home runs for the Bluejinds with Peter Green landing on a triple.

All Meagher essayed the "behind the plate" role and took a lot of good-natured heckling from a crowd that should have been much larger. It was a good show.

WON'T BE LONG!

Leroy ("Satchel") Paige, the fabulous pitching man, is coming to Belleville on Tuesday, July 6.

The great hurler, whose exploits are legendary and pitching feats stamp him as one of the greatest ever to be a pitcher, will be here with Abe Saperstein's powerful Harlem Globe-trotters Negro baseball team, worthy diamond counterparts of the famed basketball aggregation of the same name and ownership.

Paige will pitch as the torrid Trotters take on the House of David team. In casting his lot with the 1954 Globetrotters, Satchel has achieved a lifelong ambition of becoming an executive in the diamond world as he doubles as general manager of the team.

"It's great getting around the country again," he stated when signing for his new venture, "seeing old friends—and making lots of money.

His first year with the Cleveland Indians saw Paige win six games while losing one and his earned run average was a healthy 2.47. His every announced starting appearance drew jam-packed parks. He saw action in two-thirds of an inning in the World Series with the Boston Braves in fall.

The following year his won and lost record was 4-7 and earned run average a good 3.04 for the Indians. He was out of organized baseball in 1950 but when Bill Veeck, who had him at Cleveland, purchased the St. Louis Browns, Paige rejoined him and spent the last three seasons hurling for the Mound City Club.

For the lowly Browns in 1951, Paige won three and lost four with a 4.79 earned run mark but bounced back in 1952 for a brilliant 12-10 and 3.07 record. Last season he won three and dropped nine decisions but his earned run mark was a satisfying 3.54. Paige did not remain with the team after its sale to Baltimore during the winter.

Indians Cling to Slim Lead With Giants Still in Front; All Eyes Focused on July 4

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Five teams are waging a bitter battle to gain first place by the Fourth of July — the date that tradition has marked as "Championship Day."

Since the turn of the century approximately seven out of every 10 major league leaders on July 4 have gone on to win the pennant.

With only a week to go, no team is assured of the top spot on the mid-season holiday. The New York Giants lead Brooklyn by one game today but the National League's pace-setters face a "crucial" three game series with the Dodgers at the Polo Grounds starting Tuesday.

TIGHT RACE

Cleveland boasts a game-and-a-half advantage over Chicago in the American League while Detroit's White Sox can dislodge the Indians with a sweep of their four-game series in Cleveland next week-end. A letdown by each can pave the way for the New York Yankees to move into the lead while the Indians and White Sox are at each other's throats, the Yankees will engage the second division Washington Senators in a four-game set at Yankee Stadium.

The Yankees widened their lead Sunday salvaging the last of a three-game series with Van-kees 4-3 while Chicago was held to a split by Boston's Red Sox. Beaten 2-1 in the opener, the White Sox bounced back to trounce Boston 8-1 in the second game of their doubleheader. The loss widened the Yankees' deficit to three games.

New York's sizzling Giants maintained their one - game advantage over the Dodgers with an uphill 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs in 10 innings.

TIED IN NINTH

Blocked by Warren Hacker with two hits through eight innings, the Giants tied the score at 2-2 when Whitey Lockman hit a two-run homer with two out in the ninth and won in the 10th when Willie Mays doubled, stole third and scored on pinch-hitter Bobby Hofman's single off loser Hal Jeffcoat. It was the Giants' 21st victory in their last 25 games and the Cubs' 10th straight defeat.

The Dodgers equalled a team record by blasting five home runs to polish off the St. Louis Cardinals 9-6 for a sweep of their three-game series. Gil Hodges drove in four runs with his 19th and 20th homers and Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Junior Gilliam each had one.

Harvey Haddix, the Redlands brilliant lefthander, was the victim of all the home run blasts that fractured his 10 - game winning streak.

Granny Hamner was the offensive star as the Philadelphia Phillies swept a twin bill from Milwaukee 4-3 and 3-1. The leading second base candidate for the all-star team bagged a three - run homer to give Curt Simmons his seventh victory in the opener. Hamner split with one out in the ninth to drive in both runs in the nightcap.

SINGLE DOES IT

Frank Thomas' ninth - inning single gave Pittsburgh a 4-3 victory after the Cincinnati Reds had won the opener 9-0 behind Corky Valentine's five-hit pitching. Ted Kluszewski drove in two Redleg runs with a double and two singles.

Pirate baseman Dick Kryhoski drove in the winning runs in each game as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Philadelphia Athletics twice 4-3 and 3-2 to climb into sixth place. Kryhoski extended his hitting streak through 18 straight games.

Bob Porterfield, backed up by the home runs of Eddie Yost, Pete Runnels and Mickey Vernon, coasted to his ninth victory as Washington walloped Detroit 8-2 to move within a game of the fourth place Tigers.

Toronto Hoskings Register 3 Wins Over Week-End; Defeat Batas Twice

Snatch Victory from Defeat With Two-Run Homer in 9th In Sunday Twin-Bill Opener

Belleville Batas dropped a twin-bill here Sunday afternoon and fell into third place in the Viadact Ontario Baseball League standing. In the opening contest a homer by Gena Rumbly in the 9th with a man aboard, enabled Dependable Caterers to nip out a thrilling 8-7 verdict.

Hosking Burners who downed the Caterers Saturday night came back in the late tilt to score six times in the first inning and coast to a 7-1 decision over the tired Batsmen.

It was a last week-end for Jack Carson and Ray Sanders as they made a trip in vain to Oakville Saturday to get replacements.

Both the afternoon fixtures were played under very trying circumstances with a high wind bothering the fielders throughout the games.

Veteran Sam Mulholland gave up only four hits during his stint in the opener. Johnny Mowat followed giving way to Bob Bunton in the eighth. Bunton fanned the first man to face him. Dave Speers was safe on a fielders choice as George Macey was out at the plate after tripling home the Caterers sixth run. Huntly then stepped to the plate and placed the ball perfectly and centrefield that aided by the wind meant the ball game.

Manager Johnny Moore was very fortunate to gain the pitching triumph in the afternoon with the winners 14-7.

Bill Fullerton, Hosking Burners ace, coasted along with a six hitter as his mates gave him a six run cushion in the first inning.

Frankford Edges Madoc 5-4

FRANKFORD—The Frankford Merchants came out victorious by a close 5-4 score over Madoc in a Belleville and District Softball league game played on the winners home field Saturday evening.

Doug Radnor and Eric McInroy hooked up in a pitching duel for the first four frames but the homesters finally got to McInroy for two in the fifth and another pair in the sixth. Ken Pigden came on in hurl for Madoc at this stage and allowed what proved to be the winning run on a single in the 8th. Madoc put up a great fight in the ninth when they notched all their runs but fell short by one when victory looked near.

Radnor gave up five hits with three strikeouts and five walks as the two Madoc twirlers were touched for six hits, fanned three and issued free passes to five.

The hitters for Frankford were Gilmour with a triple and single, Austin had a home run, triples went to Whitney and Leavitt while Rankin slapped a double.

Carswell and Downey banged out three-baggers and Reid and Killins, a double while singles went to Hatch and Killian.

INSIDE BASEBALL for Little Leaguers

By MICKEY McCONNELL
Director of the Brooklyn Baseball School

The expression "He gets a good jump on the ball" is a common one in baseball. But it doesn't always indicate that the player has remarkable running speed. In many cases it means only that the player is up on the toes and ready to break for the ball at the last split-second. Eddie Miller was one of the best fielding shortstops in the National League for a number of years, and Lou Boudreau was one of the defensive standouts in American League history. "Fat Freddie" Fitzsimmons was a fielding marvel as a pitcher. Yet none of these men was an outstanding runner. They were fine fielders because they were in the proper position to make the play. They made the most of their physical assets because they knew how to use them.

Most players will find that they are in a good fielding position if their knees bend and they are ready to move forward, with arms hanging loosely beside and slightly in front of the knees. The good fielder is relaxed but alert.

Regents Bow To Deseronto By 12-1 Scores

Deseronto's entry in the Bay of Quinte Baseball League had its batting eyes in deadly form on Saturday night, and fifteen clouts of all descriptions rattled off their war bludgeons to hand Bryson Reid's Belleville Regents their worst defeat of the season. The score was 12-1.

W. Green on the mound for the village team, held the Regent slugging to three measly hits, two coming in the fourth and causing no damage. The other Regent clout was a double in the fourth off Casey's bat. Green whiffed six and walked five.

Casey's two-bagger was responsible for the Regent's only run. He drove in Doran who had walked, but Casey went out trying to stretch the hit into a triple.

Stoliker started on the mound for the Regents but lasted only one and one-third innings after giving up five hits for six runs. Drummond relieved him and was promptly tabbed for a home run by Lewis, Deseronto shortstop. Drummond lasted until the sixth when he weakened and the visitors pounded his delivery for three hits for a pair of runs after one man was retired. Coach "Chuck" Barriage went to his relief and retired the next two men.

The coach, however, was just another pitcher for the Deseronto batters for the next frame he was touched for a pair of hits good for two runs, and that ended the scoring.

Deseronto scored two in the first, added a quartet in the second, got singles in the fourth and fifth and pairs in the sixth and seventh.

Verney, Deseronto first baseman led his mates with the hickory with a double and two singles. Maracle was good for a trio of singles; J. Brant a double and single. V. Green and Huffman two singles each. Lewis a homer and Detior a triple.

Dolan, Elliott and Casey were the only Regent hitters to connect safely with Green's slants.

The teams:

Regents: Doran, Casey, Bird, Stephens, Dolan, Fox, Elliott, Donovan, Stoliker Drummond, Dell.

Deseronto: Green, Lewis, Teeney, Green, Maracle, Stewart, J. Brant, Detior K. Brant, W. Green.

The score:

Deseronto	240 112 2—12 15 3
Regents	000 010 0— 1 3 7

W. Green and Teeney; Stoliker, Drummond (2) Barriage (6) and Elliott.

Strong-Man Events May Be Hopes In Coming British Empire Games

By JIM PEACOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian open track and field championships, last major meet before the British Empire Games trials at Vancouver next month, point to three strong-man field events as Canada's best games' hopes.

A husky but trim Toronto school teacher, a Toronto policeman and a football prospect from Sudbury gave notice during the week-end competition they intend to top Canada's track and field team in the games July. 30-Aug. 8.

Possibly the most convincing performance was that of Roy Pella 23, of Sudbury, who this spring graduated from the University of Michigan where he played football and kept his discus-throwing arm in top condition.

BREAKS RECORD

Pella broke the Canadian record Saturday in hot and humid weather at East York Stadium here, throwing the disc 180 feet, nine inches, 3½ feet better than the previous mark.

Policeman Stan Ratke, 31, and teacher Jackie MacDonald, 21, didn't surpass records in their respective shot put classes, but both were close.

Ratke, who set the Canadian mark of 150 feet, nine inches in the 16-pound shot last week, was an inch short of this Friday night. Miss MacDonald was 7½ inches off the women's Canadian eight-pound shot record of 42 feet, 7½ inches which she set a week earlier.

None of these marks are top near world records, but they are closer than those set by Canadians in other events during the meet.

CANDIDATES

In track, Murray Grosiuk of Hamilton and Gwen Hobbins of Toronto established themselves as team candidates, each in hurdles events.

Grosiuk, 22, matched the meet record of 52.3 seconds in the 440 yard hurdles, and Miss Hobbins, who'll be 17 about the time the games start in Vancouver, was one-tenth of a second under the 31.1 meet record for the 80-metre women's hurdles. Miss Hobbins also won the 220-yard dash in 27 seconds.

Others who indicated games' team ability include: Norm Williams, Toronto, 120 - yard high hurdles winner in 15.3 seconds; Rich Ferguson, Toronto, one-mile run winner in 4:30.8; and Selwyn Jones, Hamilton, six-mile run winner in 32:40.4.

Martin Engles of Long Island, N. Y., one of several American competitors, topped a 45-year-old Canadian open record when he threw the hammer 180 feet, 11 inches, 3½ feet better than the previous mark set in 1911.

WINS EVENT

Art Bragg of Baltimore, U. S. national javelin champion, won that event in 21.5. Reg Pearman took the half mile in 1:56.6 and the 440 in the relay. Jim Gaudreau threw the 100 in 9.7; and George Shaw won the broad jump with a distance of 22 feet, 3½ inches. The latter three are from New York City and all were 1953 U. S. Olympic team members.

Henry Kennedy of Toronto won the three-mile in 15:14.8; Ron Miller of Toronto took the pole vault title with a height of 14 feet, one inch; Bob McLaughlin of Toronto won the long jump with a distance of 45 feet, 11 inches; and Jerry Nassela, Sudbury, won the javelin with a distance of 177 feet, six inches.

Barbara Jones and Alfrances Lyman, both 17 and both of Chicago, were the other women's events. Miss Jones taking the 100-yard dash in 11.3 seconds and Miss Lyman the 75-yard dash in 8.9 seconds.

Alan Robertson of Cornwall, Ont. placed third in the men's 440-yard, behind Grosiuk and John Ford of Hornepayne, Ont., was third in the final of the men's three-mile run.

Minor Baseball

The CNRAA bantam team hung on to a first place tie in the Belleville Minor Baseball Bantam League last Friday evening with a 5-3 victory over the Y's Men's club. They are tied with Selwyn's for first place, each team having won three and lost one.

Pat Asselline was the winning pitcher in the seven inning duel while Don Cathers was working on the mound in a losing effort. Asselline was credited with eight strikeouts while allowing six hits and Cathers got four on strikes and permitted five base hits.

Ralph Boomhower led the winners with a pair of hits while Uens, Meagher and Kvarda got the others.

In a pewee game, played at King George School on Saturday afternoon the double victors were winners over Goldie's Shellers, by a 10-2 score.

Gilliewell Lewis in the fourth inning with Oddfellows out front 10-5.

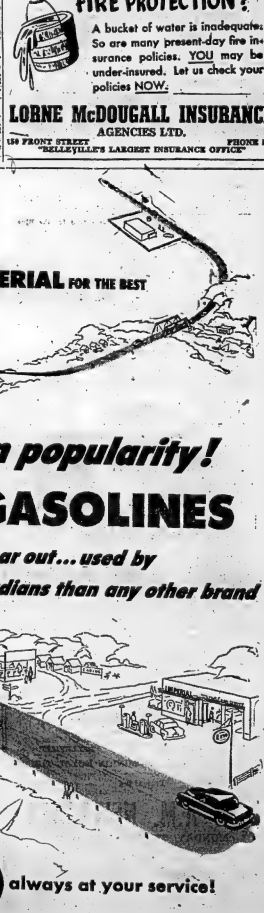
Marlene Favored To Retain Golf Crown

GANTON, England (AP)—Marlene Stewart, the little 30-year-old swinger from Foothill, Ont., is favored to retain her crown in the British women's golf championship opening here today.

Miss Stewart meets Anne Scargill, former Yorkshire champion, in the first round.

The Canadian, who stands five-foot-one, became something of a sensation when she set the veterans down in last year's championship play to become the first Canadian winner of the British crown.

She has been attending Rollins College in Florida and has participated in several tournaments in the last few months without winning any.



One of her top opponents here will be Margaret (Witty) Smith, 17-year-old long-hitter from Pasadena, Calif., who reached the semi-finals in last year's U. S. championship.

Rudy Horvath, Windsor Pro Golfer, Wins Ontario Open Championship

TORONTO (CP)—Rudy Horvath, the Windsor Essex smoothie, Saturday proved himself a professional who can stand up under pressure as he won the 51st Ontario open golf championship with a 36-hole total of 306.

He is the third player in the history of the Ontario open and amateur tournaments to win both titles.

Moe Norman, Kitchener Rockway amateur, finished second in a stiff three-way tie with Al Balding, Credit Valley pro, and Murray Tucker, Toronto Rosedale pro. Each carded 312.

Eddie Micksley, assistant pro at Toronto Scarboro, paced the field by three strokes going into the second round. He then soared to a 77 and a total of 313.

ON WILLINDON

Norman, Eric Hanson, Toronto Scarboro, who finished sixth, one point behind Micksley, and Dick Weslock of Windsor Essex who had 318s, assured themselves berths on the Ontario Willingdon Cup team.

Horvath let neither the gallery, the sultry weather, the rain-soaked Toronto Cedar Brae course, an annoying heel rash nor the fact he was three strokes off the pace after the first 18 holes stop him. For his bid for the title and the $500 first-place slice of the cash.

The pre-tournament choice to finish in top spot, Horvith shot a three-under-par 67 on the second round for a 137 total and a one-

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 29, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — You may have to take time to study, to keep closer watch on conditions and make a minute survey of all important matters. Guard money, property and valuables against schemers.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — You may encounter a few disappointments but, from noon on, expect better returns from intelligent effort. Measure precisely. You know what you can handle well, so do just that.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Though there may be some adverse tendencies where untried matters are concerned, you can make your work and ideas successful. Be thorough in business, friendly, kinder at home.

June 22 to July 2 (Cancer) — If you are aware, awake and willing, you will come through with flying colors this stimulating day. Ascertain facts, have patience, and you will achieve success. Don't rush.

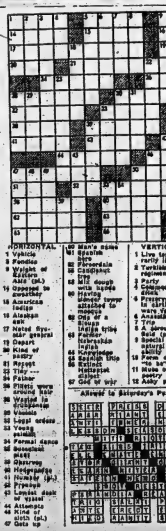
July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Exceptionally favorable to endeavors of true merit, well-presented plans for the general public. Stay with a specific idea, theme; don't hop-scotch around. Respect others' grit.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—A sort of reconstruction period for remodeling the old into the newer, more desirable. Make plans before acting and, remember you can over-reach your capacity. Don't do it.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—An unusual request may cause confusion, upset plans. Don't become worried. Ease of manner will win out. Unexpected fortune possible. Keep spirit high, have confidence.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Some restrictions that may limit gains likely in the early part of the day. Employ shrewd business sense; don't go it alone if in doubt. Extra effort can bring extra good results.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Some retarding influences but pursue your goals with honest endeavor. Don't overlook the little things that may lead to benefits, fresh progress.



December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—A better day than you may think at first. Be duly concerned with property, finance, and watch what you sign. Keep your disposition even and help will come from unexpected sources.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius) — A fog unfriendly aspects during the a.m. Implement business, work, all activities with astuteness. Don't fear results. News should be sifted carefully. Be open-minded.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—This need not be a dull day if you have the right spirit and act according to God's and nature's laws. Key music and personal affairs are among the many highly favored now.

YOU BORN TODAY are tenacious, versatile, industrious. You can also be changeable, overcritical, retiring into your shell at times for really no good reason which is detrimental to your progress. You have an excellent memory; are likely to cling to the past — not that you do not appreciate today's gifts but because you are sentimental. You have dramatic ability, could make an effective lawyer, musician, teacher, public speaker. Do not talk up your likes and dislikes. 1954's latter months can be most productive so start pushing forward now.

Birthdate of Peter Paul Rubens, Flemish painter; G. W. Goethals, builder of Panama Canal.

Little Benny's Note Book

We were eating dinner, being lam stew without dumplings, and I had to pop. May pop, no Pudd come in tonite so we can help each other out w/ our artistic problems, just for an experiment to prove 2 heads are better than one? Well, if the extriment is purely scientific, pop said.

Nothing pro, and after dinner pop started to read his paper in his private chair, and I called him up and he came rite over with his books and stuff, and we sat down to homework on the living room floor, and Puds said, let's make up a cupple of problems first, just for practice.

Okay, you make up one first, I said.

Which he did, saying, It's a math. He had taken 2 and a half hours to eat fish with 4882 bones, how long would it take a man with 6,543 bones?

I thought, I said, and Puds said, How?

If I was careful, it would take him 8 and a half hours, but if he didn't give a darn whether he finished or not, it would only take him 4 hours and 23 minutes, I said, and Puds said that's absolutely correct. Now you make one up, he said.

Which I did, saying, if a sleepy munkey can catch 4 and a half flies on himself in 6 and a half hours how long will it take 2 wide awake munkies to catch 17 flies on each other?

Cease firing, now I'll make one up, pop said. How long will it take 2 boys to stop clowning if the father of one boy takes a second to call the experiment a failure and send the other boy packing off to bed, and I said, 4 and a half. Four seconds.

Then get going, pop said. Which we quick did.

HIGHER PENSIONS

VICTORIA (CP) — Increased pensions for members of the South African police and prisons department have been announced by the government with an increase in the retiring age from 55 to 60 years. Present members have a choice between the two retiring ages.

Garage Operators Hold Banquet, Meeting at Madoc

MADOC — The Garage Operators' Association, Hastings and Prince Edward Branch, recently held a banquet at Madoc for employers and departmental managers, with president Robert Wood chairing a good attendance.

Guest speaker was John Robbins, general manager GOA, who spoke on measures necessary for public safety on the roads. He advocated public inspections of all vehicles twice yearly, directional signals on cars and trucks and public liability and property damage insurance coverage on vehicles. He also held that the rate of speed for passenger cars and trucks be altered to 60 per night driving and that no persons signs be used near traffic lights.

He also told members that the GOA group insurance plan during the past 18 months has paid claims totalling $160,000.

Emphasized the need for training mechanics in Ontario, he said a recent survey of training schools for mechanics showed 82 per cent of the equipment used in the schools was obsolete. Some of the major motor companies now are re-equipping the schools with new units, he said.

The speaker was introduced by Provincial Director E. Wood and thanked by L. Wesse.

Mr. Wood also reported on the last directors' meeting, held in Toronto.

Fire Damages Historic House Near Grafton

COBOURG, June 28.—Historic Old Barnum House, a Colonial-type frame mansion that was a landmark on the No. 2 Highway near Grafton, was badly damaged by fire which broke out around 4 a.m., on Sunday.

The fire started in a lean-to kitchen located on the east side of the big, square dwelling and worked its way up into the attic. Cobourg fire department, called by Percy Barnum, a nearby creek but the fire had gained a good start and the fact that the whole structure is of wood made it difficult to get the blaze under control.

Firemen battled the fire until 9:20 in the morning and it is estimated that replacement value of the fire and water-damaged interior will be around $10,000. The seat wall was badly damaged by the fire on the west side and not escaped.

Once rated by the Architectural Conservation Society, it was recently purchased by William Vanders of Toronto, who was stocking it with antique furniture. Some years ago the dwelling, more than a 100 years old, was restored to its original condition and was a show place for early Canadian furniture.

Question Purchase Of Oil Paintings

OTTAWA (CP)—A Progressive Conservative member of Parliament Saturday questioned a $360,000 expenditure for a National Gallery on five oil paintings by obscure European artists.

Walter Nesbitt, Oxford, said in the Commons he does not understand how the paintings could cost $72,000 apiece when one famous painting in the Toronto art gallery is valued at less than half of that amount.

He said the painting in Toronto is "Elevation of the Cross" by Peter Paul Rubens. It was valued at only $30,000 and was one of the most famous paintings in the world.

"I do not understand how these paintings by relatively obscure artists would be valued at $72,000 apiece," he said. "It is something that does not seem reasonable to me."

Citizenship Minister Harris said paintings for the National Gallery are purchased only after approval by the board of trustees. Members of the board are well informed on art matters and in most cases had a knowledge of pictures purchased. He was sure board was competent.

Ambassador Is Enthusiastic Supporter of More Exchanges Between Canada, Mexico Students

By MARGARET ECKER

MEXICO CITY (CP)—If Mexican students continue to attend Canadian schools, and more Canadian students travel to Mexico, it could lead to important economic benefits between the two countries in years to come.

That's the opinion of Canadian Ambassador Jules Leger, an enthusiastic supporter of increased exchanges between northern and southern students.

At present, approximately 900 Mexican girls and boys are attending Canadian universities and Roman Catholic schools from Vancouver to New Brunswick. Not more than two dozen Canadian students, as far as records show, are attending Mexico's schools and universities.

"Even numerous government officials say that one year in our universities," points out Ambassador Leger, "is better than a Convent in Vancouver alone has gone, from Pueblo, Guadalajara and Mexico City, such girl students as Christina Espinosa, Delfina Reina, Virginia Benitez, Barbara Diestel, Maria Ortez, Lucy Martel, Maria Luisa Martinez, Alicia Pons, Gabriela Nartl and Elsa Cullacan.

CONSIDERABLE INTEREST

Mr. Leger, a firm believer in a bright future for trade between the two countries, commends, "If these links, an exchange of students, are maintained, they will certainly lead to an increased interest in Canada in the republic. This in turn will be very necessary in years to come."

University City, which since the spring houses the 601-year-old University of Mexico, already has a strong link with Canada in the man who directed the 10,000 workers who built the five-square-mile campus was architect Carlos Lazo, who attended university in Ottawa. One of the 126 architects who under his direction created the astounding campus was Juan Malaya bed of an old volcano was world Wasco teacher of Modern, but as colorful as a Mexican village street scene, the university combines the functional influence; the French contemporary style of Le Corbusier and Spanish colonial design. But the unifying influence is color, decoration and method of Aztec. So far ancient Indian civilization towards which Mexicans are now turning their eyes.

MAGNIFICENT TOWER

Playing-courts have been sprocketed in lieu and color reminiscent of the ancient pyramids not far from the campus. The magnificent windowless library tower has been decorated by sharply colored mosaics which combine Aztec designs and symbols of Spanish culture.

On the outside walls of the 110,000-seat stadium Diego Rivera has carried out sculptural painting, depicting the history of Mexican sport from mayan handball to modern baseball.

It is the subjects taught within these translucent marble towers of concrete and glass that interest Ambassador Leger. "For the history of Mexico, its people, its geology, architecture, art — this would be the place for the Canadian student to come and learn them," he says.

ANCIENT CULTURE

"Here they can gain an intense appreciation of the layers of civilization which make up Mexico. It has a vigorous and completely original architecture. Here would be the place for a young Canadian to absorb these influences."

The ambassador thinks an important thesis could be written by a Canadian history student at the university. "Mexico so far," he points out, "haven't explored the field. Here is a country less inclined with an ancient, advanced civilization, while the Indians had no such civilization. A study of this contrast could be very valuable."

The work of art of Mexico is also attracting Canadian painters. Artist Michael Forster, formerly art critic of the Montreal Gazette, now is in Mexico, as is Toronto artist Marjorie Foyer. Jim Hahn, ford of Edmonton is combining the study of art with the teaching at a Mexico City College, while Doreen Archibald of Toronto is studying portrait painting.

Drama Festival Opens Tonight In Stratford

By JOHN PATERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—A high old time is promised for tonight in this once-quiet industrial city in southwestern Ontario.

At 8:30 church bells will peal, factory whistles shrill, planes from the nearby RCAF station at Centralia will make a flypast, a six-gun salute will be fired by soldiers of the Perth regiment, trumpeters will sound and Governor-General Massey will deliver the steep sizzles of the tented theatre to mark the official opening of the second annual Shakespearian festival.

A company of more than 60 Canadians from across Canada plus imported stars James Mason of London and Hollywood and Douglas Campbell from the London stage will present "Measure For Measure," as the first-night presentation.

On Tuesday with Bill Needles of Kitchener, Ont., and Toronto and Barbara Chilcott of Toronto heading an all-Canadian cast, the roi-licking farce "Taming of the Shrew." Don Harron of Toronto who had played in London and Broadway shows also has a prominent role in all three productions.

Tyrone Guthrie, internationally famous for his work on the London stage, Edinburgh festivals and theatrical presentations in Greece, Israel and Holland, is in charge of productions. Cecil Clarke, artistic director of the festival, is directing "Measure For Measure."

Decor, stage and costumes are by Tanya Moiseiwitsch, well-known Canadian composer Lou Applebaum of CBC-TV has provided background music for the festival. Also on hand is Alec Wyllie (Mrs. Cecil Clarke) in charge of properties, Ray Dillon of London and Broadway is head cutter and Ann Hebb in charge of the bustling wardrobe room.

Fishing will resume in most areas Sunday.

NAZI SUB ARRIVES

CHICAGO (AP)—The Nazi submarine U-505 arrived in Chicago Saturday to become a lasting memorial to the sailors of the mid-western U. S. who died in both world wars. The sub, first enemy warship to be captured by the U. S. Navy on the high seas since the War of 1812, will be taken to the Museum of Science and Industry.

Chou at Rangoon After Three Days Spent With Nehru

RANGOON, Burma (Reuters) — Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China arrived here by air today from Delhi.

Hundreds of uniformed children from Communist Chinese schools in Rangoon greeted Chou here on a two-day visit with Prime Minister U Nu.

More than 5,000 persons, most of them from the Indian community, thronged the airport to cheer Chou as he drove to Government House. He will be the guest there of President Ba U.

SAYS PROGRESS MADE

Before leaving New Delhi this morning, Chou said his three-day talks with Nehru made "definite achievements" since they were held in a spirit of mutual understanding and co-operation.

Later Nehru recorded interview broadcast over All-India Radio, he referred to a five-point set of principles he had announced earlier for maintaining world peace. The plan is based on the ab-

Boys, Age 5, 7, Derailed Train

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two boys, aged five and seven years, Saturday admitted derailing an eastbound Canadian Pacific passenger train here Thursday night. The case has been turned over to CPR police.

Detective Sylvan Armeneau said the two admitted placing rough planking and rocks on the curve. Three cars jumped the rails' but no one was injured.

Det. Armeneau said: "all they'll probably get is a spanking by their parents."

VICTORY IN SIGHT FOR GUATEMALAN REBEL

Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, leader of the rebel forces in Guatemala, is apparently within sight of victory as the army retires headed by Col. Carlos Enrique Diaz who was reported by the Guatemalan government radio today to have resigned. The military junta ousted the lefti] president, Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, against whose bled-linged regime Col. Armas led a revolt. In the above picture looking the part of a revolutionist, Col. Armas is shown with a pistol tucked in his belt at his headquarters in Esquipulas, the first town taken by the rebels. Standing in back of Armas is a grim-faced aide, who has a pistol strapped to his waist and a rifle slung over his shoulder.

TWELVE INJURED IN COLLISION OF CPR TRAINS

Believe Freight Wrongly Switched to Main Line

STE. AGATHE, Que. (CP) — A slow-motion collision between passenger train and a freight caused injuries to 12 persons near here Monday night, but none was reported in serious condition.

The Canadian Pacific Railway trains crunched head-on north of this Laurentian town. The locomotives and several cars left the rails but all the passengers coaches remained upright.

A railway official reported that four of the 77 passengers—including a 75-year-old woman—aboard the north-bound train were injured, and two were taken to hospital. Five train crew members and three mail clerks also suffered burns.

Train conductor Adrien Montreuil, 37, and baggageman Emurson Bullard, 36, were reported to have suffered fractures. Another trainman injured was R. W. Stenson. Engineer was Leslie engineer.

SHAKING UP

Many of the passengers suffered merely a shaking up and superficial bruises. Miss J. Clement, 75, of Montreal, was among those treated for shock.

The passenger train—No. 437—left Montreal and was headed for Mont Laurier, Que., stopping at Ste. Agathe. It was there the accident occurred about 7 p.m. EDT. It had not long resumed speed after stopping here when it collided with the freight.

All aboard were residents of Quebec province. There was no panic among the passengers. Steve Sic. Agathe doctors hurried to the scene.

The unhurt passengers were taken to their destinations by diesel car.

Cause of the collision was not immediately determined, but one source said the freight had somehow been wrongly switched to the main line.

Churchill-Eisenhower Talks Leave Many Issues Unsettled

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill ended their five - day Washington talks today after overcoming some British-American differences on stopping communism in Southeast Asia. But they left many issues unsettled.

The last meeting of the 79-year-old prime minister and the 63-year-old president, who have found their peacetime co-operation more difficult than their wartime comradeship of 10 years ago, lasted 1 hr. 12:15 p.m.

Eisenhower walked with Churchill to the prime minister's waiting car.

WARM HANDCLASP

The two men shook hands warmly and Churchill told the president, "Goodbye and good luck."

"The same to you," said Eisenhower with a friendly smile, "and I'll send those documents over in 30 minutes."

The final Churchill-Eisenhower talk lasted about 45 minutes.

A joint statement was to be issued early this afternoon.

But it is unlikely anything in the statement will be more dramatic or significant that Sir Winston's remarks at a loudly enthusiastic press luncheon Monday.

There the aging prime minister threw off his years, presented the warrior Churchill to an audience of more than 800 working journalists, radio and picture people and urged that all steps be taken to seek a peaceful co-existence with the Communist world.

But at the same time he said he and President Eisenhower had agreed to start planning for defence of Indo-China, should current peace efforts by France fail, and for preservation of the peace if a ceasefire is achieved.

Meanwhile he emphasized his belief that the great hope of world peace was in the maintenance of "the unbreakable unity of Britain and the United States."

Sir Winston and Foreign Secretary Eden are to fly to Ottawa today in an RCAF plane in company with External Affairs Minister Pearson.

Pearson flew to Washington late Monday and spent Monday evening in the company of Australia's foreign minister, Richard G. Casey, who is here en route home from the Geneva conference.

Sir Winston and his party were entertained at the British embassy Monday. Today they will pay a final call at the White House and leave after lunch for Ottawa.

LAMPORT NAMED TO TTC POST; SAUNDERS MAYOR

Metro Council Appoints Ex-Mayor to Vacancy

TORONTO (CP) — Allan A. Lamport, 49, who resigned as mayor of Toronto, today was appointed a member of the five-man Toronto Transit Commission.

Mr. Lamport has been mentioned as a candidate for TTC chairman.

His appointment to the TTC was made by the metropolitan Toronto council by a vote of 19 to 3. Earlier in the day, the metropolitan council executive unanimously nominated Mr. Lamport for the commissionership.

A vacancy on the commission was caused by the death last week of William C. McBrien, chairman.

PICK OWN CHAIRMAN

A new chairman will be named by the commission Wednesday.

Commission members are paid $8,000 a year. The TTC chairman, received $15,000 a year.

Mr. Lamport's yearly salary as mayor and chairman of the metropolitan council was about $16,900.

Into the post of mayor stepped Leslie Saunders, in his sixth term as an alderman. He was elected after Mr. Lamport resigned Monday.

Mr. Lamport told the city council his resignation decision had been influenced by the attacks of certain editorials in two newspapers.

"I don't think I should have to stand such unfair scurrilous attacks any longer," he said.

SUNDAY SPORT

Mr. Saunders vows to duck an issue. Mr. Lamport was the only city council member to support Sunday sport when it came to debate in 1952.

Clergymen of major denominations and the city's three dailies voiced strong opposition to Sunday sports in Toronto. But when votes were counted the yes votes numbered 39,177 to 37,178 — three votes against and Mr. Lamport had a majority of 1,999 votes and a margin of 440 votes.

He started his political career in 1936 when he ran for alderman and was defeated. The following year he bounced back successfully. Later in the same year he ran for the first and only elected Liberal in the then-Tory Toronto provincial riding of St. David.

He was defeated in 1945 but in 1946 returned to the political wars and was elected an alderman. He remained in that post two years before successfully contesting a seat on board of control.

Military Junta Head Gives Up In Guatemala

Radio Reports Insurgent Planes Have Bombed Capital

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — The Guatemalan government radio today reported the resignation of the regime headed by Col. Carlos Enrique Diaz who had taken over from President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman Sunday night.

The announcement came after Col. Castillo Armas, leader of the anti-Communist rebels in the Guatemalan war, demanded "unconditional surrender" of the junta headed by Enrique Diaz.

The Guatemalan broadcast said Jose Luis Sanchez, another member of the three-man junta which succeeded Arbenz, had also quit.

It said Alfred H. Monzon, who was the third member of the junta headed by Diaz, now heads the new ruling group. The other two members were listed as Jose Luis Salazar and Maurice Dubois.

The Guatemalan radio reported Monday that insurgent planes had bombed the capital. Then the station went off the air.

A communique from the rebel headquarters made no mention of the bombing, but earlier rebel broadcasts had warned that air attacks would be resumed unless Col. Carlos Diaz, the new "provisional president," quit and heads the junta, gave up.

Diaz, former army chief of staff, took over Sunday night following the army-forced resignation of fellow President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman. The new military regime promptly outlawing the Communist party but this failed to placate the rebels driving toward the capital from the Honduras border.

NEW TORONTO MAYOR

Leslie Saunders, above, former controller on Toronto's city council, succeeds Allan Lamport in mayor's chair, following the resignation of Mayor Lamport. Mr. Lamport has followed in the footsteps of his two predecessors in office by resigning a public post. He will become head of the city's transportation commission. Before him, Hiram McCallum became executive of the Canadian National Exhibition and Robert Saunders became chairman of Ontario Hydro.

Like Mellowed Old Bulldog, Churchill Welcomes Newsmen

By WARREN ROGERS, Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP) — They came by the hundreds to have a look at him, perhaps the last, and he obliged with all the rugged grace of a mellowed old bulldog.

They cheered and applauded from the public fence of the White House to the sleek lobby of the Hotel Statler to the austere gates of the British embassy.

"Attaboy, Churchill!" they cried, regarding the bald-headed man of years and the decorum due the fine minister of Great Britain.

They cheered the man and the symbol—the living pink and white, brandy-sipping, cigar-chomping legend of British-American solidarity.

"I am quite certain," he told them at a luncheon press conference Monday, "that the evils of the world can be prevented by our going hand-in-hand together and, if necessary, standing shoulder to shoulder."

Sir Winston had ignored his cold meat and potato salad luncheon to prepare his replies to the written questions submitted. His shell glasses slipped halfway down his short nose, his lips pursed in concentration, he read the questions assorted them in stacks in front of him.

"REGULAR LUNCHEON"

The crowd of newspaper men and others applauded and laughed as Churchill chuckled over the reading of what he called "one of my regular luncheons with the Washington press corps."

As he worked through the questions, he quoted from a speech he had made years before in England, quoting yourself, he confided, was a good idea. It not only saved you the trouble of making up something new—"also it shows what a far-sighted politician you are."

He also was out with some political philosophy.

"I am not going to choose between Republicans and Democrats. I want the lot . . ."

"Politicians who can't face unpopularity are really not worth having. They look like it for a time, but afterwards you will find that you have had much the worst of the deal . . ."

There was general agreement that he had lost none of his greatly over words, nor his charm with people.

French Column Badly Mauled By Vietminh

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—The French today announced abandonment of a strongpoint in central Viet Nam and admitted two days of Vietminh ambushes had mauled their withdrawing troops badly.

The high command said French Union Vietnamese forces pulled out last Friday from An Khe 250 miles northeast of Saigon and 40 miles west of the China sea coast. It had been in French hands since 1946.

The French said their forces suffered "serious losses" in an all-day fight with the Communist-led rebels last Friday and more damage in the ambushes on Sunday. But the high command asserted Vietminh claims of more than 1,000 casualties were greatly exaggerated.

Saigon dispatches, the announcement said, the battered column finally reached the town of Pleiku, 50 miles west of An Khe.

Transient Says He Killed Youth Near Hull, Que.

HULL, Que. (CP)—Provincial police said Monday that the body of Claude Pare, 19, will be exhumed, Wednesday, for a second Winnipeg transient, Alian Siemens, gave himself up to police at Calgary Saturday and said he killed a youth near hull.

Police said a coroner's inquest will be re-opened after an autopsy. Siemons is expected to be brought here tonight.

Pare's body was partly decomposed when found in the bush-face of the Ottawa River. He was last reported seen June 15.

Police at Calgary said Siemons told them he killed a youth named "Clyde" by striking him. They threw him into the Ottawa river near Hull, Que., they said he told. said Siemons claimed the killing followed an argument and fist fight over a two-dollar debt.

Pare's head showed signs of possible violence but full police investigation level was caused by decomposition. His death was believed accidental.

Montreal Blast Kills One Man, Injures Thirty

MONTREAL (CP) — One man was killed and approximately 30 others were injured when a 500-gallon tank of metal chloride gas exploded about the morning at Rexfords, Gaspe in Montreal harbour.

The victim was identified as Lucien St. Pierre. He and those injured were identified as stevedores.

A spokesman for Clarke Steamships Company said the gas which had spread approximately 30 men were taken to hospital for treatment. Nine were kept in hospital and the others were released following treatment. Two of the men were considered in serious condition.

The spokesman said it was not immediately known what caused the chloride drum to explode.

FILLED WITH GAS

Following the explosion gas seeped throughout the 305-ton ship and also had to be evacuated immediately. The company spokesman said it is expected the ship will be cleared of the fumes late today. The ship is due to sail tonight for Gaspe and is tied up to shore sf the St. Lawrence river. Police said the gas escaping in the hold were most seriously affected by the gas.

Marlene Trims Yankee Champion

GANTON, England (CP) — Defending champion Marlene Stewart of Canada won her third-round match in the British women's open championships today, defeating Ingeborg Wirthy Smith of Pasadena, Calif., 4 and 3.

The tiny, red-haired champion, Vancouver, B.C., was up a three-hole margin on her 17-year-old power-hitting opponent at the turn.

Miss Smith reduced her lead by winning the 13th hole, but Marlene won the 13th and closed out the match two holes later when her opponent three-putted for a five to the champion's four.

Monday, Marlene settled down after an initial attack of nervousness to defeat Mrs. Anne Scargill of Yorkshire, England, in the first round.

Drew Will Spend Next Four Weeks Touring Europe

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Drew is making a four-week tour of Europe, Progressive Conservative party headquarters announced Monday.

Crowds Watch Stratford's Shakespearian Festival Is Officially Opened Monday Eve

By JOHN PATERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP) — With the official ceremony of opening last night behind them the cast of the second annual Shakespearian Festival settled down to the business of run in which two new productions still remain to be unfolded.

Critics from across Canada and from the United States gathered "Measure for Measure," the first night production, generally with favorable reviews. Tyrone Guthrie and Lloyd Bochner of Toronto, who carried the heaviest burden of Shakespeare's "bitterest comedy."

Tonight a change of theatrical pace brings to the unique Stratford stage a rollicking farce, "Taming of the Shrew," with Bill Needles of Kitchener, Ont., and Toronto and Barbara Chilcott of Toronto in the leading roles.

Third production in the festival, which close Aug. 21, is the Greek tragedy, Sophocles, "Oedipus Rex," starring James Mason of Hollywood and London and Montreal's Eleanor Stuart.

Three first-string Broadway critics, Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times, Walter Kerr of the New York Herald - Tribune and John Beaufort of the Christian Science Monitor were part of a distinguished first-night audience for "Measure for Measure."

Governor-General Massey officially opened the festival. Of the festival itself Mr. Atkinson said in the morning after: "The most striking like it in the United States; it's unique, who carried the heaviest burden of Shakespeare's "bitterest comedy."

Mr. Kerr said the festival "is stimulating the same kind of thing in the United States, particularly in it giving impetus to the theatre at Stratford, Conn. We need something like this in the United States."

The critics heaped praise on the tiny Miss Hiland, at 21 already an accepted leading lady on the Canadian stage. She played Isabella, a novitiate nun.

Gamma Globulin Soon Available In Canada on Doctor's Prescription

MONTREAL (CP) — Gamma globulin, one of the antibodies against polio, soon will be available on doctor's prescription in all parts of Canada.

The first commercially produced supplies of gamma globulin have been sent from the laboratories here to centres in Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg and Saint John, N. B. From these points it will be delivered on order to hospitals and drug stores.

The gamma globulin has been produced by Laurentie Laboratories, a division of North American Cyanamid Limited. Production was started in early March, but announcement of its availability was delayed until supplies were sufficient to service all of Canada.

Based on human blood, gamma globulin has been found by medical authorities to offer only temporary immunity. An injection has been found to offer protection from paralysis for periods of up to five weeks. It is considered chiefly useful in preventing the paralytic form of the disease when it either wards off the disease or reduces its severity.

Gamma globulin has been described as that part of the human blood which prevents an individual from catching some infectious diseases twice. When the blood from a thousand or more different individuals is pooled together, medical authorities say the pool is certain to contain antibodies against polio and possibly other diseases.

Indians Able To Buy Drinks In Hotels, Thurs.

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario's 36,000 Indians will hold the right to beer and cocktails beginning beverages in licensed public places effective July 1, R. P. Colling, assistant provincial secretary, said today.

A proclamation to that effect, complying with a request made May 17 by the provincial Cabinet, has been passed by the federal government. The proclamation is expected to be published in the June 27 issue of the Canada Gazette.

The proclamation does not extend to Indians the right to purchase beer or wine from liquor control Board stores, or in the stores of wine producers.

Directives have been mailed notifying licensees in Ontario that the appropriate section of the Indian Act comes into force next Thursday.

The government action puts Ontario Indians on an equal footing with those in British Columbia, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland.

The right of Indians to drink was recommended at the last session of parliament by a special joint committee on Indian affairs. Committee members said at the time there is no reason why Indians who suggest Indians are less capable of using alcohol properly than other races.

LIBERAL CANDIDATE

OTTAWA (CP)—Kenneth H. Forgeron, defeated in the Liberal nomination during the last provincial election in Saskatchewan by Justice Minister Dunbar, Monday night was chosen to contest the constituency for the Liberals again in the next provincial election.

Celebrates Move To Mayor's Chair At S.A. Meeting

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto's new mayor, 54-year-old Leslie Saunders, celebrated his move into the chief magistrate's chair by taking his wife to a Salvation Army meeting Monday night.

Mayor Saunders, who took office after the resignation of Allan A. Lamport, preached twice Sunday at the open-air meetings in his Salvation Army sergeant-major's uniform, something he often does.

Until his political duties as a member of Toronto's board of control became heavy three years ago, the North Bay-born mayor played a cornet in a Salvation Army band.

DEEPLY RELIGIOUS

Mayor Saunders' new mayor is deeply religious, the type of man who makes prayer a habit. He neither smokes nor drinks and is militantly Protestant and a staunch Conservative.

He plans to fly Thursday to Saskatoon to attend the city's session of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, in convention there.

In contrast to Mr. Lamport, who vigorously supported the successful effort to introduce commercial Sunday sport in Toronto, Mayor Saunders is known to have strong convictions against Sunday sport and entertainment.

"I'm strongly opposed to Sunday sport and when I come up demand to extend them, it will result in a vote, on the whole question again," he told a Toronto press conference. "I think the people might want to get it done."

OPPOSES BARS, TOO

He said he is opposed to beer parlors and cocktail bars and feels citizens should have had a chance to vote on the cocktail question before bars were introduced a few years ago.

He said he is not a prohibitionist but sincerely believes that all Christians should abstain from liquor.

POLICEMAN THANKED FOR HIS CO-OPERATION

It is not very often the bumble policeman gets a pat on the back, but in this case it was a well-deserved one.

The other day Police Constable William Evans on duty in traffic at the corner of Campbell and Front Streets noticed a three-year-old youngster who apparently was lost.

The police officer took charge of the youngster until a worried father came back an hour later.

Yesterday P.C. Evans received a large box of chocolates from the unidentified parent with a card "in appreciation to you for the safe-keeping of a 3-year-old boy on Saturday."

Man Hit Over Head With Rock In Alleyway

Grabbed from behind as he walked down an alleyway near a local hotel, John Heffernan, 38, Cannifton Road, was slugged Monday night over the head with a rock and was relieved of his wallet.

He was later taken to hospital where four stitches were required to close the cut in his head.

Heffernan told police he had been at the beverage room of the City Hotel and as he left down a nearby alley was grabbed from behind while another struck him over the head with a stone. He was dazed by the blow and was bleeding freely from the cut in his head when found. He reported there was no money in the wallet, which was taken.

County Council Considers Buying New Boiler

Members of Hastings county council convened today at a special session to consider the purchase of a new boiler to heat the county jail and part of the county courthouse building.

At the same time council members will consider the advisability of heating Shire Hall from the furnace to be installed to heat the courthouse.

The boiler at the courthouse has been giving trouble for some time and the finance committee headed by Reeve Russell West of Stirling called the meeting to discuss its replacement.

Following the morning session of council, members viewed the boilers at Shire Hall and also at the courthouse. This afternoon representatives from boiler making firms were scheduled to be heard.

F. C. Adsett Installed Pres. Of Rotary Club

Belleville Rotary Club started its new year last night with the installation of new slate of officers, following a banquet in the Hotel Quinte.

Succeeding Harold Mott as president of the club is F. C. Adsett, public accountant and secretary in Ali Wilkes.

Officers elected were President, F. C. Adsett; vice-president, H. Mott; secretary, A. Wilkes; treasurer, M. Miller. Directors: F. C. Adsett, J. G. Demerss, W. C. Gault, W. Hurst, H. Wilkes, J. C. Yanover, H. F. Mott.

In his report to the club, Mr. Mott said during the year membership was maintained at a high level and new friends added to 93. "The club now has 10 honorary members, more than any other club in the district," he said.

This year also, the club had sent regularly to the many crippled children to the hostel, St. Lennox-Dundas Glen.

He also suggested that the club should sponsor a Rotary convention in Belleville in the near future.

He thanked his directors for their "very fine support" during the year, with particular mention of Court Miller, who deputized for the president for some time, Secretary Ali Wilkes and Frank Murray, chairman of the entertainment committee.

A past-president of the club, Jamieson Bone, performed the installation of new officers.

Guest artists at the banquet were Miss Dorothy Bladel, soprano, and comedian Doug Anstiss. A songsheet was led by Don Short with Egerton Boyce at the piano.

PO. Russell Vanstone Has Seen World in Ten Years in Navy

EX-ALD. CHARLES L. HYDE

Home in Belleville for the first time in four years is petty officer Russell Vanstone, who has served with the RCN aboard the aircraft carrier, "Magnificent."

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Vanstone, 214 Bleecker Avenue, 25-year-old Russ returns to his navy service behind him in the RCN. Since last spending time in Belleville he has served in Korea and also received his promotion to his present rank of second class petty officer. His homecoming this time has been the signal for a long-delayed family reunion: on Bleecker Avenue.

The time-caster with the flapjacks Sea Cadets, Russ joined the navy as ordinary seaman in December 1945. Following his training he was drafted aboard the carrier "Warrior" in 1946, on which he visited the United States and Canada. Two years after the "Warrior" sailed to Belfast where Russ went aboard the newly-commissioned carrier "Magnificent".

While there he met Thelma Whitelaw, a Belfast girl and the following year, when the "Magnificent" paid a return trip to the U.K. he slipped back to Belfast and did a little homecooking of his own by marrying her.

DRAFTED TO KINGSTON.

Back in Canada the new "Magnificent" was drafted to Kingston where his wife later joined him. Russ was then commissioned in Belleville and their first son (they have two) was born here.

In 1951, following a course at Halifax, he was promoted to petty officer and sent aboard the destroyer "Iroquois".

Two years later the following year he was drafted to the destroyer "Haida" and left for the Korean war. His wife then returned to Belfast.

Through the winter the "Haida" patrolled Korean waters bombarding installations and communications, knocking out three enemy trains in the process.

On the return trip from Korea, Russ left the ship at Halifax to take a navy course, cancelling plans for a Canadian homecoming and flying to Belfast to join his wife.

Russ is noncommittal in his impressions of the world he's seen during ten years of service, and especially of navy life in Belleville and Belfast.

For the present, he'll be settling down with his wife at the home base in Halifax. After that, when he'll be free for the first time, he intends dropping anchor in his hometown, Belleville.

Also, "My wife likes this town," he says, "and she intends to come back here."

3,300 School Pupils Out For Summer Holiday

Summer arrived officially this afternoon at 3.00 o'clock.

Actually it jumped the gun a bit and came out with a rush shortly after 1.30 p.m.

Contrary to the calendar, collegers, sailors, swimmers, farmers and amateur gardeners, in fact nobody does not begin on June 21st, nor May 24th week-end, on the first bright day or with spring planting.

Summer begins the day school closes. And today school closed and summer began for upwards of 2,500 elementary school pupils in the city.

Things won't be the same for the next two months and not because of the heat or humidity. It's the little humans who will make the difference.

If you don't think so ask the teachers. Most of them are off to rest camps to recuperate or to summer school where they can learn a little more of the art of self defence, and the technique of self preservation.

Parents can tell the difference too. Mother will gladly tell you that the best day of 1954 is September 7th. That is the day the angels go back to school after two carefree, carnage-filled months.

The angels will tell you that summer makes a difference, too. Most of them can hardly wait to get back to school when the odds are all in their favor.

Pupils registered in their regular classrooms this morning where they received their card transfer to new rooms for next year. Tuesday afternoon's session was merely a formality involving registration and a rush for the exits.

The 3,300 invaders taking over the city's streets now include approximately 2,800 from the public schools and 700 from the separate schools.

High school students have been finished with classroom work for almost three weeks. Those writing upper school departmental examinations finished 10 days ago.

MayMake Trenton Headquarters For Gas-Line Workers

TRENTON (Special)—When natural gas from Alberta is piped through Eastern Ontario to serve industries and domestic users, Trenton may be the headquarters for a construction gang 600 to 800 strong for four to six months.

The Trenton Chamber of Commerce has received an inquiry as to whether this town could accommodate such a large group. President Jack Goldcorn and other officials of the Chamber, elated at the prospect of such a boost to business here, are busily making a survey of available accommodations.

Quinte Players Well Received In Popular Play

For more than a quarter century Welsh-born Emlyn Williams has successfully contributed to the British theatre. In the style of a specialty of director-actor-playwright, he has written plays which he has a supreme grasp of entertainment value when writing a play. Fittingly the Quinte Players chose his most popular entertainment, "Night Must Fall" for their Monday night offering.

The play is a sheer thriller to a capital. It holds the interest of packed audiences by the ears these many years. Last night showed it as fresh as ever.

Set in a cottage in a Welsh forest, owned by a unsavory, well-to-do invalid widow who has been shooting barbs at the world so long she has neglected her own defences. An all-out attack on her sister naturally is certain of success and this is what happens.

WOMAN DISAPPEARS

A woman disappears from a hotel in the village and murder is suspected. Enter a young, cocky cad and the well-to-do widow, comes Danny, who has quit his job at the hotel. Subtly he sets about to charm her, and, bired as a servant, follows her every move like a subtle shadow. Like an ogre he moves around the cottage but the arrival instead of the fairies to the bottom of the garden.

The headless body of the missing woman is found behind the cottage, the climax of horror falls over the cottage and speculation runs the gamut.

Behind it all hovers, Danny, outrageously cocky and with a flattery of the widow, silent and cynical towards the rest, openly inviting suspicion and delighting in it. But sometimes he is given to passionate outbursts over peculiar things, like "Holy things isn't afraid of the daylight." Danny, however, might as well begin to fall and with it the play moves in its climax.

ADEQUATELY PLAYS ROLE

The character of Danny turns this play into a one-man show. On stage or off his personality pervades the plot with a sickly, oily ease. Adequately does Danny role last night was Syl Quinn, whose characterization was good on what the playwright ordered.

Sadie Rose as the invalid Mrs. Ramsden filled the stage well from her wheelchair. As her niece, Olivia, Dorla Chipps gave a well-turned performance, though at times her voice fell below the comfortable pitch. Joe Hoover gave a naturally bland touch as the cockney Mrs. Terence. As the dudish Robert Laurie, John Luscombe didn't appear too much at home in spots. Smaller roles were played smoothly by T. E. Shehan, Dolly Cain, Vera Cairnvine and James Alexander. The direction by Phillips Hardie flowed evenly and displays a rather cramped stage area.

Phillips Faulkner's box set was excellent but a harshness in its lighting could be toned down.

Last night's performance suffered little from "first-night-itis" and the Players are to be commended in giving Belleville its first glimpse of summer theatre. And a satisfactory glimpse it was too.

Rotary Club Spends $1300 On Activities

CAMPBELLFORD — Reports of committees comprised the business portion of the Campbellford Rotary Club here on Monday, when the various committees heads told their fellow Rotarians just what the club had been doing during the past year.

Among other things, the club spent more than $1,000 on crippled children's work in the town during the past year, and a great deal of work was done free of charge. The club praised the co-operation they received from the Northumberland and Durham Health Unit. More than $1,300 was spent on "community service" which embraces a number of worthwhile activities. The sponsorship of baseball, hockey and swimming got the club about $400 during the year, and they have planned a program along the same lines for this year.

SWIMMING CLASSES

At the present time, the club is launching classes in swimming in the town, under supervision of Allan Taylor, a member of the teaching staff of the Campbellford Public School. Mr. Taylor is fully qualified as an instructor under the Red Cross requirements, and the Red Cross is co-operating with the Rotary Club in sponsoring the classes and paying the instructor.

Registration for the swimming classes will be held in the Red Cross rooms on July 5 and 6 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 5 p.m. Classes will commence on July 6 with instruction each morning from 10 to 12 in the morning and supervised swimming under Mr. Taylor from 2 to 5 in the afternoon, each day, Monday to Friday. Children between the ages of 6 to 15 inclusive are eligible.

Monday was the last day in the chair for president C. H. (Bud) Davidson, who will hand over his gavel to president William McDonald at the next meeting.

William Dawson reported that the Scouts and Cubs were doing well, and praised the efforts of Francis (Danny) Frederick, who had taken over the band and put them on a firm footing.

New Cabbage On Local Market For 15cts. Head

New cabbage sold for 15 cents a head on the local market this morning.

A profusion of strawberries were labbed at 40 cents a box with some selling at 75 cents for two boxes. New potatoes were offered at 25 cents a berry box for No. 1's and 20 cents for No. 2's. Shelled peas were priced at 40 cents a pint, 80 cents a quart, with peas in the pod selling for 25 cents a quart and $1 a basket.

Few carrots were in 10 cents a berry box while spring onions were labbed at 25 cents for three bunches. Radishes were five cents a bunch with beetroot 15 cents a bunch. Lettuce sold for 10 cents with larger varieties making 15 cents.

Tomato and cabbage plants were 25 cents a small flat and $1 for larger.

Blooms were in lighter supply with Sweet William making 25 cents a bunch, peonies 50 cents a bunch and bachelor buttons 35 cents.

Miner Murders Wife, Children Then Kills Self

CANTERBURY, England (CP)—A debt-ridden coal miner murdered his wife and three children and then killed himself after he was given his pay envelope—which contained one penny—an inquest learned Monday.

The bodies of Frederick Richardson, 40, his wife Violet, 29, and his children, David, 10, Ann, 8, and Joan, 6, all dead of gas poisoning, were found by police who broke in Friday.

In the house they found the pay envelope, the coroner said Monday, which showed a total salary of $3.61. Deductions left only the penny.

The envelope was for a week in which Richardson had worked only one day and received one-sixth of his normal weekly pay of $21.70. Deducted from this was a bill owed to the coal mine canteen, payment for a pair of boots, and the miner's regular payment to the medical service.

LEFT TWO LETTERS

Richardson left two letters. One was addressed to the pay packet for a penny. Can any company beat that for audacity?

"I have destroyed the furniture because the services always taught us to be unselfish and there is nothing shall fall into the enemy's hands."

The miner wrote that he had been given until the next day to raise $100. He added that he had taken the children's lives so they should not be left with the stigma of being a suicide's children.

The other letter, written in a shaky handwriting apparently as the gas seeped through the house, said: "please put the cat and dog to sleep too. I found them awkward."

Kinsmen Boy's Band to Play In Toronto

The Belleville Kinsmen Boys' Band will go big time on Dominion Day, when they will play at the Maple Leaf Stadium in Toronto during a double header baseball feature with Richmond as the opposing team.

Kin "Roller" Lloyd, chairman of the boys' band committee, reported at Monday evening's Kinsmen meeting that members of the band would act as the band for the day at the Toronto Stadium. The boys will do a turn around the field and will play The Queen at the game opening.

At the same time the boys will see the double header baseball feature.

Last night's dinner meeting of the club held at Little Denmark on the Kingston Road was the final meeting of the season, with no more regular meetings until September 13th. With the opening of the new season President "Stu" Martin will hand over the presidency of the club to president-elect Don Thomas.

Club members presented a report on the swimming pool and voted funds to send President-elect Don Thomas to Saskatoon in August for the Kinsmen national convention.

Two Persons Killed

OSHAWA (CP) — Two persons were killed Monday night when their car collided with a 16-ton transport on the Whitby-Pickering town line near here. The transport driver was not hurt in the crushing of the car.

The victims were tentatively identified as Florence James of Toronto and J. Bignell of York township.

Anderson of Apopka, Florida.

The deceased was a farmer and was living in retirement prior to his death.

He was a member of St. George's Anglican church, and a past member of the Independent Order of Foresters.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market moved ahead narrowly today.

Light first-hour trading — just over 400,000 shares — mixed issues that climbed sharply at Monday's close turn a little downward.

The strong advance that began as senior base metals late Monday continued today, Junior base metals, however, see little lower ground.

The industrial board had twice as many gains as losses after the first hour. Strong groups were papers, utilities, steels, financial institutions, liquors, and foods.

Western oils were steady with small price changes. Senior golds were 1c-w, holding companies slightly ahead and juniors and prospects steady. Uraniums and Bathurst issues were narrowly ahead and Manitouwadge stocks firm.

PRODUCE MARKET

The egg market was firm with offerings fully equal to demand. Quotations on graded eggs in three cases: A large 30; A medium 45; A small 28; B 23; C 20. Wholesale to retail: A large 35; A medium 50; A small 35; B 30; C 25.

Shooting Spree At Race Track Wounds Two

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The estranged husband of an attractive steamship heiress was in custody of police today following a shooting spree at Delaware Park race track Monday in which his wife and a trainer were wounded.

Fred Hammer, 45, a wartime assistant secretary of various tracks, was charged with two counts of assault and latent to kill and one count of carrying a concealed deadly weapon.

Victims of the bizarre shooting were Mrs. Andrea Luckenbach Hammer, 35, and Edward W. Long. A two-year-old colt, Now Hear This, once owned by Mrs. Hammer and leased to Long, was struck by a richocheting bullet.

Mrs. Hammer was struck in the chest and left hip, was described as in satisfactory condition.

Long was only grazed and did not require hospital attention.

Drivers' Tests Called Farce

TORONTO (CP)—The examination of applicants for Ontario drivers' licences had become such a farce that for many examiners the issuing of a licence is like selling a ticket, the Ontario legislature's select committee on highway safety was told Monday.

Warren B. Hastings, general manager of the Ontario Motor League, presenting the league's brief to the committee, said about 50 per cent of the examiners are not qualified as examination worthy of the name.

Committee chairman W. M. Nickle (PC—Kingston) asked J. P. Bickell, motor vehicle registrar for Ontario, to comment on Mr. Hastings' statements.

"I think 50 per cent is a most unusual statement for Mr. Hastings to make. I don't see how anyone could make a statement like that without a check on all the examiners," Mr. Bickell said.

Partial Eclipse Will Be Visible Wed. Morning

One of nature's most beautiful and most awe-inspiring sights is a total eclipse of the sun.

Tomorrow morning at approximately 7 o'clock astronomers from all parts of North America will set in motion recording devices which they have placed in the path of the total eclipse that will sweep in an arc across Russia, Scandinavia, and northern Canada.

The total eclipse will be recorded in Ontario at Kapuskasing.

In Belleville the eclipse will be about 80 per cent of totality.

The last total eclipse seen in Canada was on July 9th, 1945, and the next one is not scheduled until July 20th, 1963.

A solar eclipse always occurs during the time of a new moon and is produced by the interposition of the moon between the earth and the sun. The position of the moon in relation to the sun casts two shadows upon the earth.

The dark, central shadow is called the umbra, and the less dense flanking shadows are called the penumbra.

CONICAL SHADOW

The umbra is a conical shadow that tapers from the moon to the earth until it is about 100 miles in diameter on the earth's face. The tapering shadow is produced because the sun is considerably larger than the moon and light from it is cast past the moon at an angle that diminishes as the eye's capacity to block it at a distance.

As the moon encroaches on the sun there appears at first, to be no diminution in the sun's brilliance. But as the eclipse progresses the landscape becomes darker, giving a ghastly pallor of smoked glass or exposed film, the moon's disc can be seen making the sun more and more crescent-shaped.

As the eclipse becomes three-quarters total, then shadows cast through the leaves on trees will appear to be crescent-shaped.

IMMENSE SHADOW.

Still later a purplish color spreads over the landscape and just at the moment when the sun's disc is wholly covered, from the west there comes down with terrifying speed what seems like an immense shadow engulfing the whole region in darkness comparable to night.

The total phase of most eclipses is about two or three minutes. In northern Ontario tomorrow morning the maximum duration of the total eclipse will be two minutes and 42 seconds. Totality, under the most favorable possible conditions, lasts seven and one half minutes.

There are about 70 total eclipses per century but any given place on the earth's surface experiences a total eclipse only once every 400 years.

Looking at an eclipse with the naked eye will harm the eye.

To protect the eyes one should look at an eclipse through several thicknesses of dark glass or through several thicknesses of photographic film which has been exposed to the light and developed to a complete blackness.

PROTEST NAMING

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia command of the Canadian Legion Monday sent a letter of protest to Defence Minister Claxton over his proposal to name the new regiment of Canadian guards as Canada's senior infantry body. The proposal was termed in the letter "an affront and disgrace to the regiments of this country."

British Press Overjoyed At Results of Talks

LONDON (Reuters) — Europe watched Geneva expectantly today to see whether the Eisenhower-Churchill meetings in Washington will breathe new life into the dragging Indo-China peace talks. Action at Geneva will be the stalled purpose of the White House conference.

In London, the British cabinet met to study reports on the four-day meeting between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill.

The British press was overjoyed at the results of the talks, seen here as a diplomatic victory for Churchill, but other European reaction was mixed.

French premier Mendes-France said he read the joint statement on the talks with "much satisfaction." The references to Indo-China would give France "a very valuable support in the task which it is pursuing," he said.

Earlier, however, Mendes-France declared the statement will not change his plans to reach a compromise with Moscow on the controversial European Army Treaty, before taking any further steps.

BE A REAL PARTNER

West German newspapers joyfully hailed the statement's stress on the need for German sovereignty. "West Germany is to become a gist partner," the Frankfurter Rundschau declared.

But many agreed the statement was disappointing because it envisaged no definite step-up in plans to end the Allied occupation, now tied up with ratification of the ill-fated European Defence Community Treaty.

Moscow saw the statement as "reiterating the principles of United States and British policy" but added that "Anglo-American differences remain unsettled."

The Communist East Berlin radio attacked the statement more bitterly as "a direct appeal to the French government to ratify this war pact (EDC)" and added, at the same time France is being threatened with rearmament of West Germany and Japan."

It said the Southeast Asia session mirrors Anglo-American differences.

BELGIANS HAPPY

Belgian newspapers expressed "deep satisfaction" at the statement's line on the European army, and were especially pleased at its emphasis on "early realization" of the pact.

In Rome, Italian government circles, commenting nearly ratification of the pact, hailed the Anglo-American support.

The Delhi (India) newspaper Algemeen Handelsblad said that the Washington talks "injected immediacy" into Chinese premier Chou Enlai in New Delhi.

"If (British foreign secretary) Eden moderates the Americans and Mr. Dulles the Chinese, with the aim of arriving at a truce in Indo-China, one can indeed speak of teamwork," it declared.

WELL EQUIPPED

NEWCASTLE - UPON - TYNE, England (CP)—A £750,000 cargo ship to be built here will provide each crewman of its 9-Oman crew with his own cabin.

MARKET SOARS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market soared to a 25-year high Monday largely because of an advance by Dupont of $15.50 a share. Dupont rose to $142.50 a share. There were unofficial rumors the stock would be split and that the company planned to distribute among its stockholders its big holdings of General Motors shares.

Angler to Enter 8-Pound Trout In Contest

SUDBURY (CP)—Will McConnell of Sudbury caught an eight-pound speckled trout in Shoofly Lake in this district and plans to enter it in the Field and Stream fishing contest.

It compares with last year's winner, a 9¼-pound fish taken in Lake Nipigon last July 25 by James Warren of Fort William. The world record is held by the 14½-pound fish caught by the late Dr. J. W. Cook in the Nipigon river in 1916.

McConnell's fish was 23 inches long with a girth of 15 inches.

He caught it June 13 on a seven-pound test spinning line, using a small hook baited with a dead minnow.

Sportsmen say Shoofly lake appears to be an unusually good natural breeding ground for speckled trout. Springs in the bottom favor reproduction and the fish can find ample food along the lake's rocky shore. Also showed those sands of fingerlings in the lake, although it has not been stocked for several years.

Indians Choose Woman As Their New Chief

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Indians at the Curve Lake reserve, location 20 miles northwest of here have chosen a woman as their new chief.

Mrs. Elsie Knott, 33, won Monday over her only male competitor, Dalton Jacobs, and Mrs. Reg Muskrat.

"I guess my relatives put me in," she said later. "I am related to nearly everyone on the reservation."

Mrs. Elwood Copanway, only other woman elected to council, led the polls with 93 votes. Other councillors: Ellsworth Whetung, Merrill Taylor and Mrs. Knott's husband.

Mother of three children, Mrs. Knott is superintendent of the reservation United Church Sunday school, owner and operator of the school bus, and scoutmistress of the reservation's Cubs, Girl Guides and Boy Scouts.

RUSSIANS ARRIVE

OTTAWA (CP) — Two Russian chess masters, Alexander Kotov and Isaac Bondarevsky, arrived here by air Monday from New York, where they defeated some of the United States' top players. They will play exhibition games here.

ECONOMICAL BISHOP

OXFORD, England (CP) — Dr Kenneth Kirk, bishop of Oxford since 1937, died at 68. He considered Cuddesdon Palace, traditional home of Oxford bishops, "too extravagant" and never lived there.

France Fails To Recognize Billy Graham

PARIS (Reuters)—Billy Graham, the youthful American evangelist who has preached to over 2,000,000 persons during his four-month tour of Europe, said here today that he had not been invited to address a single public meeting during a two-day visit to France.

Graham arrived in Paris by road early this morning from Frankfurt where he had been receiving treatment for a kidney ailment.

"I only go where I am invited, and here in France I was only invited to address religious workers," he said.

TOLD FRENCH DIFFICULT

The tall fair-haired preacher smiled broadly when a reporter asked him at a press conference: "Do you think you would have had more difficulty in winning converts in France than elsewhere?"

"Everybody told me in each city I went, to that it was the most difficult and nobody would respond," Graham said.

"But I find the heart of man is the same the world over."

In contrast to the tumultuous receptions he received in London and some continental centres, Graham's presence in Paris went virtually ignored by press and populace.

TRADE PROBLEM FOR U.S.

The action of the United States Senate in rejecting a proposal for a 6-month cutting reciprocal trade plan is discouraging news, but it can hardly be classed as unexpected.

Because she has become the world's greatest creditor nation, the United States must be prepared to accept foreign-made goods if she ever hopes to be repaid even a moderate proportion of the money she has loaned.

But the U.S. grew to her present stature as an industrial giant behind the barricade erected by a protectionist policy and it is going to be extremely difficult to persuade her statesmen that altered conditions require a changed policy.

Even more difficult will be the task of convincing the mass of the voters that such a change is desirable.

President Eisenhower has endorsed the proposal of the Randall commission for a reduction in trade barriers, but since he heads the party which is traditionally protectionist he is being forced to proceed warily. It is, therefore, expressed his willingness to accept a one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act, an extension which the Senate has approved. But what he really desires, it is evident, is the sort of measure which the Democrats sought to push through, a three-year extension with added new powers to cut tariffs.

We think have the unusual spectacle of the opposition party supporting the policies of the chief of the administration, while his own party hesitates.

It is true that angling there who opposed the three-year extension plan were both Republicans and Democrats who take the attitude that any decision on a matter of such importance to the nation should be made only after exhaustive study. That raises the question of how many times a problem must be investigated before action is taken to solve it. Clarence B. Randall passed on a special commission to study the matter. Now the Senate plans hearings next year. Presumably the members of the House of Representatives will also want to study the matter themselves. By the time they have done so, some of the factors which led to the recommendation of the investigating body first on the scene may have changed, suggesting the desirability of a second study. And supposed study at this rate, hearings could go on forever, with any action taken always being a little too late to fit existing conditions adequately.

MEDICINE MAN IN B.C.

It cannot be the heat, so it may be the humidity.

That is the only explanation we can offer for a little eccentricity in illogical logic by the Vancouver Sun and Dr. F. A. Olacke.

The Sun, with commendable civic pride, thinks that Vancouver is a pretty good place in which to live.

We suspect that this opinion embraces a wide variety of assets, but since the Canadian Medical Association was holding its convention in the city the Sun's editors naturally had their attention focused on health. So reporters were chased out of the comforts of the city room, into the customary B.C. airport, to discover what some of the world's top medical men thought of a Vancouverite's chances of survival to a ripe old age.

Some of the doctors were frank in stating that their enthusiasm was somewhat dampened. But 76 of the medical fraternity decided to play the role of perfect guests and joined in a chorused declaration that the Vancouver weather was the best (from a health standpoint) in Canada.

It remained for a Vancouverite, Dr. F. A. Olacke, to attempt to bolster up this view with statistics.

"Figures speak for themselves as to what medical men think of the coast's healthy climate," he said. "Before the war, the number of doctors to persons living in B.C. was in the ratio of one in 1,100. Today it's one in 866. And these new doctors are coming from the prairies and the east."

There's proof for you! B.C. residents are healthy, so doctors flock to the province, where there are so few people who need their services.

That is what makes the number of automobile mechanics so high among the Eskimoes in Baffin Land.

That is the reason Parisian couturieres are flocking to the Congo.

Or, horrible thought, could it be that Dr. Olacke is a traitor in the camp, that the Vancouver Sun has been wickedly deceived when it observed that, since he is a Vancouverite he is "naturally considered to be on our side?"

POWER PROBLEM COMING.

Is the Ontario H.E.P.C. going to be forced to drop its "H"?

That is the question posed by an outline of the power resources of Canada's provinces, as given by top Canadian electrical engineers and executives at the annual meeting of the Canadian Electrical Association last week.

Nova Scotia has its coal, Alberta its oil and natural gas, Saskatchewan may become oil-rich like its neighbor and British Columbia, Quebec and New Brunswick all have undeveloped waterpower resources.

But Ontario—well, of course, there is the St. Lawrence, but when other planned developments are completed there will not be a single remaining major hydro electric site in Ontario awaiting exploitation. Authority for that statement is Dr. Lorne Gray, chief engineer of the H.P.C.

There are, of course, many streams where small power plants could be constructed. But the cost of power developed in this manner is high. The question which would face the Hydro would be one of choosing between high-cost hydro power and high-cost power from steam generating plants.

Northern Ontario still has undeveloped hydro electric sites, but to utilities them would involve heavy expenditure on transmission lines.

But perhaps, before the H.E.P.C. has to reach any decision on this problem, atomic power will be available.

AFTER FIFTY

Past fifty, keep an easy pace.
Just take your time from place to place.
Slowly to walk is no disgrace.

A little earlier go to bed.
Of standing, try to sit instead.
From summer sun protect the head.

A little slower climb the stairs.
More patience with the fretful cares.
Less boisterous at the spy affairs.

Don't drink too many liquids cold.
Don't try the strength of youth to hold
And you'll be longer growing old.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

25 YEARS AGO

JUNE 29, 1929.

Russell Post, Foster Avenue, and Billy Peoples, George Street, have left on a hiking trip to places of interest in eastern Ontario.

Mayor Geo. A. Tice will attend the opening of the Provincial Celebration at Cornwall on Saturday at which time the new international bridge will be opened by His Excellency Lord Willingdon.

Mr. Geo. A. Reid, chairman of the Belleville Hydro Commission, commissioner Morley P. Duff and Mayor Geo. O. Tice and Mr. G. H. Seale, manager of the Commission, attended the 16th summer session of the Ontario Municipal Association in Ottawa.

The official majority of Mr. James F. Hill, the re-elected Conservative candidate in East Hastings, over the Liberal candidate, Mr. Peter Heagen, in the recent provincial elections, has been announced by the returning officer, Mr. J. E. Morrison, of Tweed, to be 418.

Miss Esther Bowerman, Toronto, N.Y., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Bowerman, Church street.

Dr. George Faulkner has left for Montreal where he will assume his duties as intern at the Royal Victoria Hospital.

50 YEARS AGO

JUNE 29, 1904.

The Rev. J. F. Wilson, the new pastor of Bridge Street Methodist Church, and his family, have arrived here and Parliamentary Agent Hall will be welcomed by a large number of his congregation at Brewer's Hall, Muskoka Lake.

From our file copy at this time in 1904: "The first steamboat to operate on the Bay of Quinte was the Charlotte, which was built by Henry Gildersleeve of Kingston at Finkle's Point, near Bath, in 1816."

40 YEARS AGO

JUNE 29, 1914.

About 300 members of the Masonic Order attended the morning service at the Tabernacle on Sunday and were addressed by the pastor, the Rev. W. W. Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Reid are enjoying their visit to the Old Country renewing old acquaintances received from them by friends here.

The 34th Battery returned home from camp at Petawawa this morning.

Mrs. Ella M. G. Smith of Consecon is visiting friends here.

Mr. G. Meason, manufacturer of Southwark, England, who is interested in iron and steel, is spending some time here and in the mining district in the north of the country.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SPIRITUAL POWER

The late Anne O'Hare McCormick, for many years of the New York Times, was a wonderful woman. She was a great admirer of the world, especially on foreign affairs. I read her writings with a great deal of admiration and profit. I came across a line by her in one of my many books. She said: "The foundations of the world will be shaky until the spiritual forces are restored." There's nothing ambiguous about that statement.

We have to turn to Spiritual Power, and work for it day by day, patiently, and with great courage. Charles P. Steinmetz, the great scientist and engineer for so many years for General Electric, said that "spiritual energy is a force which history clearly teaches has been the greatest force in the development of men. Yet we have been merely playing with it and never have really studied it as we have the physical forces."

Then this great thinker goes on to say: "Some day people will learn that material things do not bring happiness, and are of little use in making people creative and powerful. Then the scientists of the world will turn their laboratories over to the study of spiritual forces which have hardly been appreciated."

In the reading of that great narrative by Dr. Charles A. Lindbergh, "The Spirit of St. Louis" I was impressed from start to finish with the masterful spiritual power that certainly sustained Lindbergh through those long hours of solitude and soul challenging. It was this that gave to him his final triumph. That sturdy ship of the air should have been named "The Spirit of Charles A. Lindbergh".

Not only as Anne McCormick has said, the moral props are restored to the world will the foundations stand firm. Also not will we learn more of the spiritual power that God can be ours, can we hope for the peace and good will in the world for which we have long and so hopefully prayed.

Best Popcorn Town in U.S.

(Minneapolis Tribune).

We notice in Variety, that sprightly journal of the amusement trade, that Superior, Wisconsin, is "America's best theatre-popcorn town". This notable distinction required a lot of earnest popcorn-chewing to achieve. Where others fell by the wayside other towns sell only two bags of popcorn for five admissions, those in Superior rose to incredible statistical heights, purveying almost one bag per admission.

We shall not try to estimate what this remarkable showing must mean in terms of extra cinema distractions the searing and crackling of popcorn bags, and the soft champing obligato of the chewers. But we know that it makes light of Superior's record, or of Superior's declining interest, of those popcorn prodigies who helped to make it famous.

Yet many an old-timer will recall nostalgically when the reputation of a good showm town was won by overflow audiences turning out to see John Drew in "Trelawney of the Wells", or Maurice Evans in "Hamlet" or Walter Hampden in "Cyrano". Even now look. Today let's put a good popcorn towns on a list of popcorn.

Another bag please, Bud, and don't spare the melted butter.

Facts About Pyramids

(St. Thomas, Times-Journal)

Children like to build-up pyramids of any material that will stand without collapsing, a habit that apparently has been handed down through the ages. Many ancient monuments, the pyramids' type, the most famous of which are the Great Pyramids of Kerrie, are proof. The best known is called Giza, and it is supposed to be a memorial to Cheops or the Fourth Dynasty, although it's possible that the name was Khufu. However, the name Cheops has long been given to the pyramid. Its dimensions and interest has recently been aroused by the discovery of a "solar ship," or funeral ship, in a passageway blocked by massive stones and which is now being excavated. The pyramid of Cheops has a base line of 775 feet nine inches, a height of 481 feet, the remains consists of 2,300,000 blocks, each weighing 2 1-2 tons, the total weight being 5,840,000 tons. There are several passages and chambers within the structure.

Generations of people have speculated how the Great Egyptian pyramid could have been built and many theories as to its construction most generally accepted is that of the late Professor Sir William M. Flinders Petrie, the most celebrated archaeologist of modern times. Sir Flinders' theory is that a ramp had been built alongside the pile as it grew and as a pyramid face and was steepened as the work progressed. Such a ramp would require about three-fourths of the full height. After the pile was finished the ramp was once face to the top. Engineers point out that the pyramid must have been extended out at least 1,000 feet. Such a huge earthwork would probably have been intimidated a Pharaoh who is known to have had at his wish the sweat of 100,000 captives. Estimates of the number of men put in place near the Great Pyramid and so are broken sections of limestone, the explanation is plausible.

Even all the modern knowledge and equipment, could a competent firm build a structure like similar pyramid today? Some years ago a New York firm of architectural engineers which had helped build some of the tallest skyscrapers, figured that they could build a solid stone facsimile in five and a half years at an estimated cost of $156,000,000—five-year plan. But they figured they could reproduce the Great Pyramid in steel and concrete in 18 months at a cost of about $40,000,000.

Eye Surgery Miracles

(BBC News-Letter).

The miracles of modern eye surgery were described and explained by C. L. Boltz when he addressed the Public Health Congress Service on the great strides made in ophthalmology and other branches of medicine. People who would have become blind fifty years ago can now be given almost as well as every owing to skilful and scientific surgery and the use of further achievement. This is concerned with the eye-ness, the cataract from which lies over the front of the eyes and causes blindness. Damage to the delicate cornea at once affects the sight of the eyes and causes the only end is blindness, but surgeons have now developed a new technique which can restore an old, diseased cornea and graft on to it a new, healthy one.

As a result of a special Act of Parliament passed in 1932 anyone in British Guiana who is blind and he dies the cornea of his eyes may be restored sight to give light and happiness to another person still living. There is, however, a big difficulty connected with the bequeathing of corneas for a patient receives his gift at a particular moment and it is possible that at that time no cornea is being available close at hand. The problem, therefore, is chiefly one of storage and this is the task of surgeons. In the past ten years many methods have been tried and made: some scientists tried freezing corneas, others tried drying them or soaking them in a very low temperature. When the cornea was dried it became reconstituted in salt solution and seemed healthy but though this graft did operation was a success the transplanted corneas gradually went cloudy and opaque. For some British doctors have found a method which seems to be successful. Removed corneas are put immediately into glycerine in salt solution fluid is added and an hour later this is removed and enough salt fluid to cover the eyes. "The screw cap on each bottle is then tightened as hard as it will go and the bottles are put into a freezing mixture of carbon dioxide and alcohol at minus seventy-nine degrees Celsius," said Boltz. "They are stored at this temperature inside solid carbon dioxide inside a lagged box kept in a standard deep freeze apparatus." When a graft is needed a bottle is removed from this complicated packing and immersed in a waterbath at thirty degrees Centigrade, above blood temperature, when it soon thaws out and becomes ready for use. Of twelve corneas treated on recently in the British Medical Journal all but two were successful despite the fact that the corneas used had been for varying lengths of time in the deep freeze. The story is a completely cheerful one for the two patients whose operations failed were later regrafted with fresh corneas and in every case completely regained their sight.

Governments And Trade

(Montreal Gazette)

"To all intents and purposes, governments do not create wealth, but merely disburse that which has been made by others."

These were the words used by Rt. Hon. Lord Burghley in a historical this week opening the 11th Congress of the Federation of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire. As Lord Burghley said, it is perhaps natural that governments were greatly help (or for that matter, greatly hinder) the production of wealth. "But, nevertheless, they create it are those engaged in industry, commerce and agriculture."

It is not only true that governments do not create wealth; great danger can result from the misconception that they do. For on the one hand, more and more people begin to look to the government as a source of support, imagining that that source is inexhaustible. And on the other one hand, governments themselves may come to entertain the idea that they can successfully engage in the affairs of commerce. As Lord Burghley has pointed out, the more that governments interfere in matters of trade, the more difficult it is likely to attain the highest standard of living. It best to govern, he said, "as far as possible, in the hands of private traders, who best understand what it should be run, and have, in addition, the spur of the profit motive to increase their efficiency."

Lord Burghley's defects in government planning is that it tends to become rigid, whereas reality is always changing. Time and time again governments often tend to have a misplaced confidence in their own power to control reality. The private trader is unlikely to fall into this error. And the result, his decisions tend to be far more practical and flexible.

The world has had its full share of government planning in the years of trade. But little experience has been less than impressive. Even the Canadian Government itself has had its difficulties when by those who were willing to buy, the overgenerous impression of the undue confidence of governments in trade was written large over the Bren gun and Ross Rifle affair. Even Punch, in his Address to Chaos, Sir A. P. Herbert wrote:

Return sweet Chaos, for we need your aid,
Bring back the artless wizardry of Trade,
How many thousand simple little men,
Each making —Shame!—a Profit now and then,
Buying and Selling Exchange and Mart,
None knowing all though each an expert in part,
Each with a finger on a pulse or chart,
So that no secret was without a Mart,
Come lovely Chaos: come back, the Bad Old Days,
Before the Rise of Men watched about our ways,
When Ministers had not enraged the Sun,
Not much was planned but many things were done.

Yet the bad days did have their uses. No one nowadays wish to see these revived. The wise course is for governments to use sound aid, while leaving the actual operation of trade to the individual trader and flexible decision-making of private individuals.

When a government sets out to be itself a trader, it is liable to begin with ambitious plans and end in bewilderment. Governments like this are the last people to be found in the end to have taken on too much, only to do too little. There is much truth in the ancient story: "My good woman," said the fairy to the goat, "I am sorry you were robbed in Ispahan but I can't do justice all round." "Then," the goat asked the suppliant, "did you conquer all that way off?"

Depth of Beauty

Personal Health Talks

By DR. WM. BRADY

WHEN FUNCTIONING POWER IS IMPAIRED.

Doctors have a $1.80 word for most chronic heart, kidney and related cerebral troubles — cardio-vascular degeneration. To explain language I shall use, means the arteries are wearing out.

Physical degeneration is best defined by Stedman (medical dictionary): A retrogressive pathological change in cells and tissues in consequence of which the functioning power is lost and the living substance becomes converted into an inert mass."

Dr. Brady

Godly, that sounds pretty dreadful, doesn't it? Especially to the poor geek who is just walking around to see a doc.

But it isn't really so bad — I ought to know, for it's been my job generating ever since Tony the Welsh Terrier left us to join Rin Tin Tin in the Great Kennel in the wide blue yonder. I mean I assure you I have been getting my passed the peak back there when Tony ruled the roost. Nowadays my doctor does begin to die the instant he or she strains the peak a few feet above the sea level. I worried for a few months over a series of bellyaches which sometimes made me quit in the middle of a game (on the hospital staff) but the physician who examined me decided, with the connivance of the X-ray men that I had a duodenum or two — a small off shoot from the main digestive tube which along the banks of the alimentary canal. They even prescribed some funny diet and wanted me to take belladonna as an antispasmodic. I did as they ordered—for a day or two. I forget it.

I forgot the diverticula, I mean. Felt pretty certain I had had them for many years and my present complaint was of different nature. Finally decided, because of tender points on side of chest, that the trouble was radiculitis — inflammation of spinal nerve roots. This saved my worry—for, all the time I had several months about to cancer.

Not because my father succumbed to sarcoma of the abdominal wall. I don't believe cancer is inherited. It just happens to enough persons to account for occasional cases in every family. But all along I thought that if I proved to be cancer I wouldn't do anything about it. I'd just say OK, I have no right to complain, and carry on as if I didn't would.

Anyway, in due course the radiculitis subsided and I have been in fair health ever since.

There's just one thing. I discovered, by accident, about four years ago that my pulse is irregular. Oh, well, it is of little importance as far as the quality of life is concerned. Even though I still run upstairs when in a step and do my morning rolls and grumpboy exercises none as ever, it may well be that the degeneration process has already put out of action the very delicate mechanism of my heart. So what? My circulation is adequate. What is it all about? It is all my heart drops every third, fifth or seventh beat. Or pouch at the point where the insurance examiner has measured it, has always been low.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

COMMUNISM THRIVES ON MISERY

Sometimes we find it hard to understand how people can ever be deceived by communism. This is because we live in a free democratic land and are secure. Practically everbody in the United States has plenty to eat and a roof over his head. There are almost as many automobiles in this country as there are people. Only a few other countries coming here may not find conditions of our country ideal. They are overwhelmed by the grandeur of our institutions and the ease with which everywhere abounds.

The foreigner who lives precariously and plenty do not obtain throughout the world. The Russians have lived in servitude as far back as their history goes —and frequently in hunger. Most of Asia has been hungry from time immemorial. Every night millions of people lie down hungry, and the tragedy of all this is that most of them live in countries where the land is fertile and the natural resources abundant. The greed of overlords, the falseness of ancient religions, the misery of customs, the lethargy of enfeebled populations, the centuries old methods of distribution cause hunger and servitude to persist.

Communism is slavery, but millions look to it because emptiness characterizes their lives—their stomachs, empty heads, and empty hearts.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Canadians who cross the prairies for the first time are usually impressed with one overpowering thought: the loneliness that apparently broods over the immense expanses of land. Mile after mile towns and villages are along the route, the farms and ranches extend to the horizon with the habitations seemingly crouched, miles apart, under a sky as wide as the earth its self. To those who come from the crowded, close-packed every village can see the lights or the smoke of another town, and to a short walks brings you to the fences of your neighbor, there is something eerie in the remoteness of the western scenes. Easterners from city and town can not forget their first passage of the prairies for months on years.

They do not know, for one thing that there is no loneliness amongst the people scattered on the wide horizon and the love a lungful of loneliness as city dwellers understand the word. Another thing, they fail to understand that there are great numbers of people in the world who detest, with a physical destation far more distasteful than the most acute and amorous company of dozens or hundreds of thousands of their fellowbeings, hustling fellow men. In the prairies and ranges of western thought: the loneliness that can be found across the whole world. And psychologists tell me that in cities and towns live thousands who don't know what is the matter with them, but all they need is the kindness and solace of a quiet place far from the maddening crowd.

Many are people who need loneliness as others need company. A friend of mine wants to write a novel has been trying for two years to get a few months alone with the inventory departments of the western provinces. He has failed. There are too many salesmen. Every spring and summer, all over the forested regions of Canada, the fire-lowers rise on lonely hills. The watchers who man them are lonely scattered people. Applicants are school teachers, students seeking quiet places to study, country men who are the jobs are usually trappers, prospectors and rangers who have an interest in the country and a knowledge of how.

MADOC JUNCTION

Recent Bride, Groom Presented With Gifts

MADOC JUNCTION — On Wednesday evening friends and neighbors gathered at Eggleton United Church and presented Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Pretty (nee Barbara Reide) who were recently married, with a miscellaneous shower.

The minister, Rev. W. H. Farrow, was chairman for the following program. Opening number, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" with the church pianist, Mrs. Maurice Clancy at the piano.

NEW PASTOR INTRODUCED

Mr. Farrow addressed the gathering briefly and then introduced Rev. J. Chapman, the new pastor, who is coming to the Thomasburg charge. Mr. Chapman expressed his pleasure at being present on this occasion and having the opportunity of meeting so many of the Eggleton congregation. He also added a little timely advice to the newlyweds.

A piano solo by Paul Bridge was enjoyed; Mrs. Harry Clarke read two interesting poems "Time Will Make a Man" and "Time Makes a Home". A piano solo by Joyce Stapley was followed by a vocal solo by Carol Ann Pretty accompanied by Stapley playing her accompaniment. Another piano duet was contributed by Joanne Reide, Mrs. Frank Smith gave two humorous readings, "A Minute Comes to Tea" and "Interruptions." An instrumental number on the piano by Donna Stapley was enjoyed. Mr. Farrow then asked the bride and bridegroom to take the chairs behind a long table which had been gaily decorated in pink and white; pink roses centred the table and at each end was a basket of lovely pink and white peonies.

PRESENTATION MADE

The Superintendent, Mr. Warren Harlow, was called on to read an address of congratulations to Barbara, and Mr. Bert Reide, on behalf of the Sunday School. He made the presentation of a Bible.

Mrs. Maurice Clancy was called on next and read an address expressing congratulations and best wishes from present, also on behalf of the community by Mrs. C. Pitcher, Mrs. William McMullen and Mrs. M. Clancy.

Barbara and Dan then opened the prettily wrapped parcels, displaying lovely gifts of china, pyrex, kitchenware, crystal and linen. Each expressed thanks for the good wishes and lovely gifts, and invited one and all to visit them when they get settled in their new home. Especially thanked the superintendent and members of the Sunday school for the lovely gift.

Mrs. Harlow announced that Sunday school would convene at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, and took the opportunity to ask Mr. W. H. Farrow to be seated.

Mrs. C. Pitchett was then called on to read an address which expressed regret that Mr. Farrow would soon be leaving the Thomasburg circuit. Mention was made of Mr. Farrow's assistance in the Mission Band and especially of his faithful attendance at the Young People's meetings, where his assistance on the program and devotional help had been so helpful, also the Easter church services at Eggleton have been greatly appreciated.

OTHER PRESENTATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Farrow will soon be celebrating their 25th. wedding anniversary and sincere good wishes were extended to both from their friends of Eggleton community.

At this time, Mrs. Carl Bridges and Mrs. Wm. McMullen made the presentation of a bronze desk lamp and a large hammered aluminum tray with engraved handles.

Mr. Farrow expressed thanks for Mrs. Farrow and himself and spoke of the friends he had made and the happy memories he would always cherish of the Eggleton community.

All joined in singing "Happy The Home When God is There." Mr. Chapman dismissed with prayer.

Refreshments were served and a fellowship hour enjoyed.

PICTON

Town's Tax Rate Set at 80 Mills

PICTON — Picton's tax rate for 1954 will be eighty mills, an increase of two mills over last year. This is one mill less than expected as council decided to reduce general purposes amount by $15,000, which will mean less street paving.

The public school board, which had been asked to review its estimates, reported that the $32,536 requisition is required. This increase is due largely to the additional teachers being engaged.

Rate for Separate school supporters was set at 21 mills.

Dr. 'Bill' Young, Kingston, Winner Of Zone Contest

PICTON—Dr. W. A. "Bill" Young president of Kingston Flying Club, was winner of the Eastern Ontario zone trials for the Webster trophy held at Picton over the week-end. Excitement weather forced cancellation of trials on Saturday, some contestants took part before it became too windy on Sunday while the competition was concluded Monday morning.

Dr. Young will go to Vancouver in July to compete for the Webster trophy in the Dominion finals. He was runner-up in last year's finals held in Quebec City. He flew Kingston Flying Club's Canuck trainer, CF-DON.

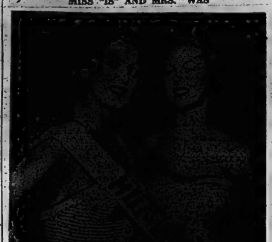
There were eight competitors. Others were Graham Purrow, Brampton; Frank Smith and Ron Gildner, Oshawa; John Gall, Ottawa; John Roberts, Central Flying School, and Robert Brough, Picton. Standing of only the top two was announced.

The Webster trophy is emblematic of amateur flying supremacy in Canada, and is awarded each year, with emphasis on a high degree of skill and safe flying. With Prince Edward Flying Club as host, competition was under the direction of Don Sanders, District Superintendent of Air Regulations. Judge of flying was Inspector M. E. Louch, Toronto; of navigation, Inspector C. E. Gauzer, Ottawa, both of the Department of Transport.

TRIALS A SUCCESS

Frank Austin, Toronto, was recorder. Splendid co-operation was given by many to make the trials a success and the zone is looking forward to acclaiming a Dominion champion in Dr. Smith.



Though it was not possible to present the trophy as planned Saturday night, the reception and banquet was held at the Royal Hotel. Around seventy guests, ladies, officials and members of Prince Edward Flying Club enjoyed the sumptuous buffet supper in the new dining room.

Leo Chuns, president of Prince Edward Club, extended a welcome and introduced the competitors and officials. Thanks were expressed to Major J. H. Millard for co-operation by the RCAF (AA) Pilot officer W. Leeman, RCAF liaison officer; A. D. McLeat, Belleville Manager and Imperial Oil Co. for the banquet; Mayor H. J. McFarland for reception; Ken D. Smith who was largely responsible for local organization.

County Warden Don Walker, a member of the local club extended a welcome and congratulated the Prince Edward Club on its growth.

George Hurren, Ottawa, secretary-manager of Royal Canadian Flying Clubs' Association, said the eight contestants formed the largest group competing for zone honors in Canada and had words of praise for the County Club. He introduced Don Sanders, District Superintendent of Air Regulations, who introduced Department of Transport officials and gave the history of the Webster Trophy which is designed to encourage civilian flying in Canada. Competition is based on flying and written examinations.

MISS "IS" AND MRS. "WAS"

After reigning for 48 hours as "Miss Europe," Christel Schaiz, who entered the beauty contest as "Miss Germany," turns over the title to Danielle Gesault, "Miss France" (right), following her disqualification. "Miss Germany" won the title in the finals at Vichy, France, and then it was revealed that she was married and a widow. Prince Edward Flying Club at Picton will be host, competition was under the direction of Don Sanders, District Superintendent of Air Regulations. Judge of flying was Inspector M. E. Louch, Toronto; of navigation, Inspector C. E. Gauzer, Ottawa, both of the Department of Transport.

Empey Hill

EMPEY HILL — The annual strawberry and ice cream social, sponsored by the W.A. of Empey Hill United Church, was held on Wednesday evening. There was a splendid attendance. The program was as follows: Music and solos were given by Frank Thompson, Ralph Wesse, Mary Hunter, Margaret and Marilyn Jackson; two duets by Mrs. McFarland and Mrs. Jackson, and two readings by Roberta Allan.

PRESENTATION

At the close of the program, Mr. Garnet Dupre briefly voiced the appreciation of Selby and Empey Hill congregations to Rev. Glen Lucas, who has served on this field for the past five and one-half months. Mr. Lucas was presented with a purse as he is leaving July 1 for a circuit in Saskatchewan.

Sympathy is extended to Master Harold Hawley, who is ill with rheumatic fever. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. F. Clarke has returned home after spending a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. F. De-Mille at Halloway.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Marisette spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Al Edwards of Creighton Mines.

A large number attended the auction sale at the home of Mr. William Bell on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kimmerly, also Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Russell spent a day recently at Lindsay.

Searchers Fail To Locate Three Missing on Lake

SIMCOE, Ont. (CP)—An all out search and air search in Long Point bay failed Monday to locate two Hamilton men and a boy missing since they left Turkey point on Lake Erie Sunday afternoon.

Missing are Norman Morris, 35, his son Raymond, 14, and Daniel Lackman, 35.

Both private and RCAF planes joined the Lake Erie fishing fleet in searching for the missing party. The U. S., Coast Guard at Erie, Penn., also was put on the alert.

The 14-foot boat, believed to have been used by the party, was found Monday night on a beach on Bluff Island in the bay. A hat, coat, glove and one shoe also were found near the overturned boat.

WEATHER BAD

Weather conditions were bad when the three left Turkey point Sunday. High winds swept the lake and when they had not returned at midnight Mrs. Lackman reported them missing.

Early Monday afternoon pilot Reg Spence of Mount Hope sighted the overturned boat and said he thought he saw what could have been three bodies on a beach.

He led a search party to the spot but the "bodies" turned out to be seat cushions from the boat. The search party took the boat in tow and continued searching until nightfall.

Police said the search will continue today.

Hillier

3RD HILLIER — Mrs. Charles Benway and Mr. Ross Benway and Mrs. Alex Tait, of Wellington spent Sunday evening with Mr. Charles Benway at Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tucker of Bloomfield, spent Wednesday evening with Mr. Charles Benway.

The Hillier Institute were entertained on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Walter Benway, the president. Mrs. D. Boyle had charge of the meeting. She thanked Mrs. Forsythe for opening her home and welcomed the visitors.

The annual box trip was discussed and decided upon. The trip to Ottawa via Kemptville this year will be a two days' trip. Mrs. Sherman Foster, secretary treasurer read the minutes of the last meeting, and the business was attended to. Mrs. Forsythe served refreshments.

Sympathy is extended to Master Harold Hawley, who is ill with rheumatic fever. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

The family of Mr. Wallace Graham enjoyed a family picnic at the Sandbanks on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Forsythe spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Jack Preston and family, Smithfield.

The strawberry social at Rose Hall Anglican church evening was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Crawford, of Toronto, spent the week-end with Mrs. Crawford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Foster of Cold Creek. Mr. and Mrs. A. Cairns and family, daughter spent the dinner hour with Mr. and Mrs. Foster on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Smith spent the week-end with Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. M. Collier of Bath.

DESERONTO

Graduation Class Honored By H-S Dinner

DESERONTO — The Deseronto Legion hall was the setting for a happy event Friday evening when the Deseronto and School Association held a graduation class dinner for the 1954 graduating class of the public school, their parents and teachers, also members of the Board of Education.

Chairman for the occasion was Mrs. C. Cole, president of the Home and School club, and other guests at the head table included Mr. W. H. F. Kendrick, of Ottawa Teachers' College; Mr. J. E. Bowman, principal of Deseronto public school, the clergymen who teach religious instruction: Rev. A. J. Fowlie, Rev. G. T. Martin, Rev. K. F. Blachford and Rev. W. J. Neelands; Mayor D. C. McVicker, inspector of schools, H. H. Langford and their ladies.

The dinner which was prepared by Mayor D. C. McVicker, Mrs. McVicker extended congratulations to the graduates and their teachers. Mrs. McVicker presented Mr. Bowman a cup, donated by the doctor for competition by Grade 8 students.

TOASTS GIVEN

The toast to the graduating class was proposed by Inspector H. H. Langford and responded to by Ward Dawson.

Mr. J. E. Bowman introduced the guest speaker, Mr. W. H. F. Kendrick, of Ottawa Teachers' College, who gave an inspiring address from his wide experience in education and insight into human nature. He brought a message of value to everyone in his most attentive and receptive audience.

Mrs. R. K. Jackson's expression of thanks to the speaker was wholeheartedly endorsed by all present.

Marie Dorey, on behalf of the graduating class, thanked the Home and School for this enjoyable evening.

Mrs. W. Burd expressed the appreciation of the teachers and also extended their best wishes to the graduating class.

PRESENTATION

Mary Cole presented Mr. J. E. Bowman with a travelling clock, the gift of Grade 8 pupils.

Mrs. Cole acknowledged the expression of thanks on behalf of the Home and School, adding the appreciation of the association to all who had contributed in any manner to make this event possible.

College Hill U.C. Choirs Enjoy Picnic

The Junior and Senior choirs of College Hill United Church, held their annual picnic at Tweed Memorial Park, last Saturday afternoon. A large attendance of choir members had their families enjoyed a pleasing program of swimming and games under the direction of Mrs. Douglas Watson and Mrs. Dorland Houston, which concluded at a well laden pot-luck supper table.

PROGRAM

Program winner were as follows:

Tiny Tots race—Vicky Burley and Elizabeth Houston.

JUNIOR GIRLS

3-part race—Ola Drake, Lois Bailey, Nadine Flunder.

Balloon relay race — Nadine Flunder and Margaret Wickens.

Shoe kick—Nadine Flunder.

Lion and tamer game—Sharon Burley.

Paper bag kicking race—Katherine Reddick.

Skipping rope race—Nadine Flunder and Patsy Drake.

Sack race—Nadine Flunder.

SENIOR CHOIR

Balloon relay race — Sheila Drake and Rev. Bruce Besley.

Shoe exchange relay race—Mr. and Mrs. D. Watson.

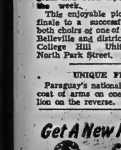
Necktie relay—Mr. Harry Elvins and Miss Shirley Carter.

Sack race—Rev. Bruce Besley.

Women's pocket book stretch—Mrs. Clifford Bailey.

Couple having nearest wedding anniversary—Mr. and Mrs. Reid, one year.

Youngest member — Gwen Houston, three months.



Person having nearest birthday—Wendy Hunter.

A highlight of the evening was hearing the Junior choir radio broadcast over CJBQ—this program had been taped earlier in the week.

This enjoyable picnic was the finale to a successful year for both choirs as one of the newest of Belleville and district churches—College Hill United Church, North Park Street.

S.S. Picnics

ST. PAUL'S S.S.

MARMORA—St. Paul's Sunday School were fortunate on Saturday that the rain kept away until they were returning home from the annual picnic held this year for the first time at Crow River Park, near Fetherick's Corners, formerly known as Chard's Bridge.

The proprietors of this resort, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Fetherick of Tyrconnic, are operating it for their second season, having acquired the property a year ago from Frank Osborne of Campbellford.

They have the usual tables and seating accommodations for picnickers and plan improvements on the grounds to make it even more attractive than it is now.

Several Sunday Schools and Public School classes from the district have booked dates there this season for their annual picnic.

Ideal Bathing Facilities

Bathing facilities are ideal in the bay which runs off the river. For a considerable distance, the water hardly exceeds knee depth on a flat and almost even rock formation. Against this beach the refreshment booth stands and a few yards away there are two changing rooms for women and girls which it is hoped to add others in the near future.

A few minutes after the arrival of the Marmora contingent in the late forenoon of Saturday, a cycling party were making the return trip from Campbellford. They were a class of senior students from Campbellford Public School, with their teacher, to the number of about 20.

The Sunday School scholars quickly took to the inviting waters and after their swim, enjoyed their lunch, "neath the shady trees.

In due time they were ready for a program of races in an adjoining field. The most popular for both sexes, proved to be sack races. The races were held under supervision of Canon J. M. Brownlie, assisted by W. J. Cottrell.

The bus returned for its load at 4.00 p.m. and the party sang merrily until home was again reached.

Club Activities

TRINITY LADIES' CLUB

MADOC—On Tuesday evening Trinity Ladies' Club held its last meeting for the summer at Mrs. George Duffin's cottage, Moira Lake.

The president, Mrs. Brintnell opened the meeting. Eleven members were present.

Mrs. Hughes volunteered to look after flowers for the church one Sunday in holidays.

Mrs. W. Hulin took charge of the program and called on Olive Ashe, who gave an impressive worship service in keeping with the beauties of Nature, as viewed from the cottage. The club was favored with a song from the Duffin quartet, Bruce, Barbara, Beverly and Doug which was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Adams read "The Lord Planted a Garden," followed by a poem by Mrs. Brintnell, "I Saw God Wash the World Last Night," also a poem by Mrs. Hulin "Out of the Silence," and prayer by Olive Ashe.

The club was then treated to a different and interesting type of program when Mrs. Beatty showed and explained pictures on the screen taken with their camera of the many beauty spots in and around Madoc as well as more distant places in their travels.

Refreshments were served after which Mrs. Artic thanked the hostess and those who assisted her.

Strawberry Social Sponsored by College Hill Sr., Jr. Choirs

A pleasant strawberry social was held at College Hill United Church recently, sponsored by the Senior and Junior choirs. A capacity attendance rewarded the efforts of those responsible.

The short musical program presented included three sacred numbers by the Junior choir; a duet song by Mr. Harry Elvins; a piano solo by Miss Lois Bailey; two banjo numbers by Mrs. Dorland Houston; a short talk by the Rev. Duncan McTavish of Bridge Street United Church, was favorably received as it was on a similar occasion three years ago that he had conceived the idea of starting College Hill United Church.

The net proceeds which were satisfactory, will be used to purchase church anthems for the choirs.

JAILED FOR INSULT

ROME (AP)—Otello Benedetti, Communist mayor of Valleran, Tuesday began an eight - month jail sentence for insulting the Pope. Benedetti, in a speech last September, referred to the Pontiff as a "fascist." Italian law gives the Pope the same protection from insult as the president of the Italian republic.

Women's Activities

BETHANY W.M.S. AND W.A.

The Bethany ladies met at the church on Thursday evening for their regular monthly meeting with an attendance of 30.

Mrs. Bert Martin presided for the W.M.S. meeting, her theme being "The Christian Home."

Mrs. Herb. Howes read the Scripture passage taken from Romans and Mrs. Martin gave an article about the World Council of Churches.

Mrs. Herb. Howes read the Walter Easton were in charge of the program. A Scripture reading was given. The Master Came to Me," by Mrs. H. Pound, followed by poems, "The Better Way," by Mrs. H. McPherson and one by Mrs. Gordon McPherson, also one by Mrs. Douglas Martin, "It Might Have Been."

Mrs. Vernon Hamilton gave a reading "Holy Shadow", and Mrs. John Ritz gave one on "Christian Stewardship."

The W.A. president, Mrs. Grant Cole, took charge of a business period. Mrs. Bruce Martin gave an interesting and helpful report of the recent W. A. convention held in Trenton, Mrs. Clare Sills read a thank-you note from Mrs. Duane Martin for flowers received.

A "thank-you" note was also received from Mrs. F. Moore.

Floor tiles were discussed for the church kitchen. Mrs. Bert Martin took charge of a business period.

A "thank-you" note was received from Mrs. George Sills and Mrs. Horace Casey.

The next meeting is to be held at the church with Mrs. F. Walker and Mrs. D. Tummon in charge of the program.

The Fourth Line ladies served refreshments and a social period followed.

Couple Celebrates 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Forestall, of Oshawa, and former residents of Marmora, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently. They renewed their marriage vows and the couple each received a rosary that had been blessed by Pope Pius XII.

Mr. and Mrs. Forestall, the former Margaret Doyle, both spent their childhood years in Marmora where they were married June 14, 1904. Before going to Oshawa two years ago they had lived in Fenelon Falls, Collingwood and Lindsay, where Mr. Forestall had been employed with the C.N.R.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

HE SHOULD HAVE WAITED AWHILE BEFORE TALKING OF LOVE

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm a Puerto Rican boy of 17, and some time ago fell in love with a girl the same age who is in my class at high school. She said I must get permission from her father to go with her, so I went and talked to her parents, who gave the permission and she became my girl.

One day she introduced me to her sisters, and I fell in love with one of them. Now I am in love with both girls, but the trouble is the first one found out how I felt about the second one, and now she says she hates me and won't talk to me or see me any more. She tells her friends that she is acting that way to make me suffer.

What can I do to make her love me again, because I love her and don't want to lose her, but her father doesn't want me to come to the house any more.—Charlie.

Dear Charlie:

Do you know why you got yourself into all this trouble: It's because you didn't have the good sense to wait till you were in proper age to talk about being in love with the girl. No doubt in the country from which you and this girl came, love at your age is often taken seriously by the parents of young people, so when you went to her parents, both they and she really thought you meant serious business.

Now that you have shown them by your talk of having fallen in love with the girl's sister—which the first girl undoubtedly passed on to them—they can see how immature you are and what nonsense it was for you to talk of love at all, as it was indeed.

It's perfectly natural for a boy your age to imagine himself "in love" with any number of girls before he is ready to get serious about any of them. If you'll try to remember that in future, you'll avoid messes like this one.

In the meantime, I think you'd better not try to get back to the old footing with this particular girl first, because her father is obviously not going to let you anyhow, and second, because you have it up too big in the beginning. If it works out that this girl and her sister are willing to be just teen-age friends with you, that's all well and good. Otherwise, you'd just better have as little to do with them as possible and look friendships with other girls on a more sensible basis.

A Girl Friend Who Can Cook

By Mary Moore

Without portfolio Pete is a sort of roving press agent and material scout for me. For instance, when he ate Ponczki at Zeni's house, nothing would do but that Zeni give him the recipe. As for Zeni's mother's Bulka (unverifiable in English type) regardless of the 13 egg yolks required and after he had eaten his lion's share, he insisted "Mom would love to have that recipe."

Winsome Zeni is a medical student too, so after the exams she wrote me: "I have constantly been coaxed that you are interested in having these recipes which I am sure are familiar to you, but at long last I have been convinced." And ". . . as for the Bulka that was really a bunk for you just can't imagine the difficulties in making a recipe out of something that has always been automatic and about which you have never given a thought . . . I was trying to get some definite measurements out of Moma "Well, I don't really know dear, I guess I did put in about a pint of milk altogether—I'm not sure." "Mom hag learned the making of yeast breads in Poland from her mother who never made any exact measurements. . . but they always turned out superbly . . . here's hoping the bread turns out just as well now that it is finally down on paper."

There are plenty of Polish folk in this audience myself and I'll will recognize this authentic recipe for a well-known Polish coffee bread. The alert English-cooking readers will recognize its worth and use the 12 leftover egg whites for an angel food cake, as I did.

BULKA—POLISH COFFEE BREAD (Courtesy of Zeni)

Bulka is pronounced boo-w-kah.

"Eight cups bread or all-purpose flour, 2 cakes yeast plus 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 pint milk, 12 egg yolks, well beate, 1 grated orange skin, 1-2 cup sweet butter melted, 1 to 2 teaspoons vanilla. Scald 1 cup milk and cool to lukewarm. Crumble yeast into milk together with 2 tablespoons sugar. Let stand for 10-15 minutes. Meanwhile sift flour and salt into bowl. Add yeast mixture. Then add the other cup of milk, the eggs beaten together with the 1 cup sugar, and the vanilla. Grated orange skin and the butter melted and cooled are also added now. The dough is kneaded thoroughly until it is smooth and elastic and does not stick to an unfloured board. Grease 2 pans (about 7x12x2 inches) and divide the dough into halves (for 2 loaves of bread). Place the pans in a warm place and let the dough rise until twice its bulk. When ready to be placed in oven brush surface gently with a beaten egg yolk. Bake in oven of 350 deg. for one hour or until bread is golden brown.

PONCZKI—POLISH DOUGHNUTS (Courtesy Zeni)

As far as I can make out this is pronounced paunsh-kee.

"These are made out of the same dough as that for the Bulka. Instead of milk, however, you can add 1 large can evaporated milk, and perhaps a little less flour. (Mom says that here you will have to use your own judgment as to how much milk and flour to use to make dough of right consistency.) Instead of putting dough in pan to rise put on pastry board and roll out to thickness of about 1". Cut dough with a round glass —the size you like 3" or so in diameter. Set the ponczki aside on the board in a warm place to rise well. Melt some good quality shortening in large deep pot. Fry the ponczki in the hot deep fat and when placing them in turn them so that the side they had been lying on is on top and is given a chance to rise. When one side is brown turn it over to cover only once, so that they are not given too much time to absorb a great deal of grease). Sprinkle with icing sugar. (To prevent grease from burning too quickly, Mom cuts a potato into chip size pieces and puts in a few pieces once in a while. This also causes the fat to bubble—thus helping the dought to rise).

. . . and I'm filled with pangs of hunger.

Thanks a million Zeni.

CO-OP BUSINESS

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) — Nova Scotia co-operatives did more than $20,000,000 worth of business in 1953 for the first time in history, R. J. MacSween, inspector of co-operatives told the 10th annual convention of the Nova Scotia Co-op Union that the 1953 volume was three times that of 1943.

KISS OF DEATH

TOKYO (AP) — Pretty Teruko Kamata was sentenced to four years in prison Friday for killing her lover with farewell kiss of death. Heart-broken because Yukio Takayanagi was leaving her, she took a gulp of soda water spiked with cyanide, then kissed her lover, forcing the liquid down his throat.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

EARS CAN BE ORNAMENTAL

It's a woman has pretty ears you can assure yourself that she is an advocate of the upswept hairdo. The women who has large ears will consider them a beauty defect and will curtain them with her tresses in the way or another.

Some women, no matter what the mode in hairdressing may be, will discloses only about three-quarters of their ears; that is when they are wide at the top but have neat lobes. Young girls find their convenient to load back their bobs. Constance Bennett kept hers concealed for so many years that some of her admirers wondered if they were not quite right. Now they are out in the open, shell-like and pretty. Just a notion she had.

Make-up artists say that if the woman with a broad face has long, narrow ears, nestling close to her head, they will make her face appear more oval.

Should it happen that your ears are not as close to your head as you would wish them to be, comb out your hair just back of them. Often when the hair is upped at the back there is an unbecoming wide space between ears and the hairline.

When applying make-up don't by-pass your ears. Rising costs are no beauty bargains since they suggest a recent face washing. So give them their quota of powder. If rouge highlights the cheeks, so should it freshen up the ears. Some day when you are in a public conveyance and have nothing better to do, size up the ears of your fellow passengers. You will see little round ones, long slim ones, those with bulbous lobes, others with no lobes at all. The while. This also causes the fat to bubble—thus helping the dought to rise).

. . . and I'm filled with pangs of hunger.

Thanks a million Zeni.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

ALWAYS-RIGHT INTRODUCTION ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I remember reading in your column that "How do you do" is the standard formula (I believe these were your words) for acknowledging an introduction. Now will you please settle our discussion by answering a further question about this: Should "How do you do" be used by both persons in the introduction? — A.C.

Yes. "How do you do" is used by both persons. . . by the one who is being introduced, and by the one to whom he or she is being introduced. Here's a rule so simple, so easy-to-remember that we should all make a special point of knowing what to say when we acknowledge the daily introductions. Then when we say the correct, "How do you do" we won't be saying the incorrect "Pleased to meet you." "Glad to know you," or "Happy to make your acquaintance," or "Delighted, I'm sure, P.S." It's so easy to be right. Always say "How do you do."

WEDDING - CONGRATULATIONS TELEGRAM

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

The wedding of one of my dearest friends is to be out-of-town, and as I can't attend, I've sent her my wedding present, and I'd like to send a congratulatory telegram on the wedding day. (I've never sent one of these.) Should it be addressed to the bride, who is my friend, or to both, even though I have never met him? If you say both, should I address it to her maiden name or married name? And another question: When should this telegram be sent?—Peggy F.

A wedding congratulatory telegram should be sent timed as nearly as possible to arrive about the hour of the reception. (Sometimes during the reception these telegrams are read aloud, by the bride's father or the best man.) It should always be addressed to Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, even though you may not know both the bride and the groom. Also it should be worded to include both: It is a gracious idea to begin your telegram as you would a note of best wishes, Dear Mary and John.

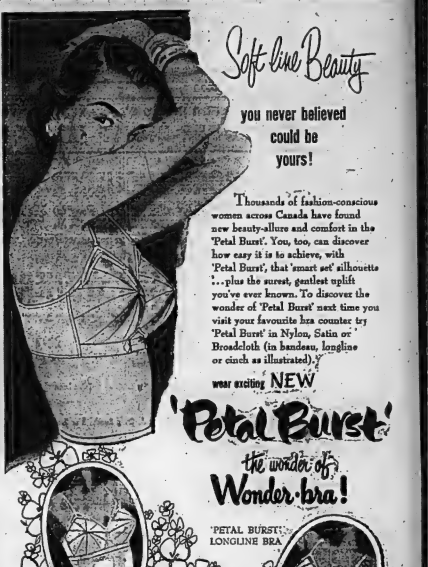
INITIAL OF FIRST NAME OR LAST?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My sister says she is quite sure that she read in your column some time ago, in your answer to a reader's question about marking, that if only one initial is to be used, the initial of the man's last name is used for his belongings (handkerchiefs or a tie-clasp, for a tie-clasp, for example), but that for a woman's belongings the initial of her first name is the right choice. True or false? — Gloria D.

True. If only one initial, the initial of the first name for the woman. . . the initial of the last name for the man.

INTRODUCING A STRANGER-GUEST



Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

At an "Open House" party what is the proper procedure when it comes to introducing the guests as they arrive? That is, do I introduce each one individually to each person in the room, or do I introduce the new arrival to the group as a whole? — Perplexed.

When you are receiving at an "At Home" you will undoubtedly want to remain in your place until you have greeted all your guests. Therefore you would not be able to introduce each new arrival to all the guests in the room. The best and most gracious plan is for you (or your husband if he is greeting the guests with you) to introduce the arriving guest who is a stranger, to one or two guests nearby, or possibly to all the members of a nearby group. These introductions are "spread" to other guests in the room, . . . and also a guest should realize that the hospitable adage "The roof is an introduction" suggests self-introductions and chatting with other guests at the "At Home."

After you have finished receiving, there will be opportunities for you to take over introductions of the stranger-guests. To a group mention the guest's name first, and introduce him to the guests in turn: "Mr. Adams—Miss Maher, Mr. Clark, Miss Davis, Mr. Ellis."

Note: Don't introduce the new arrival, to the entire group of your guests. This is an awkward procedure, not easy for guest or group.

Girl Guide, Brownie News

GUIDE COMPANY NO. 1.
Capt. Gerww.

During the past two months Company No. 1 has been busy completing Badge and Test work prior to closing for the summer. On a company hike in April, Pat Olsen, Doris Norridge, Judy Linton, Diane Smith, Mary Pearce Doreen Breach and Marilyn Elliott passed their first class walk; Second class fire-making, training and stalking were passed on the same hike by Diane Paxman, Coral Knott, Frances Dickens, Sharron Walters, Pat Millar, Mildred Gray and Linda Kells.

Later in April, Scout Philip Stewart tested a number of Guides from all the Belleville Companies on their Hiker's Badge and Lorna Donaldson and Marilyn Elliott of this Company were successful in passing.

Second Class Badges have been completed by Barbara Eachus, Jean Tregent, Donna Eagles, Lynn Punchard, Lynn Taylor and Carol Fisher. Religion and Life Badges were won by Doreen Breach and Marilyn Elliott, and Judy Linton completed her Laundress Badge.

On April 26th, Capt. Stewart of the Salvation Army attended their meeting and showed the Guides the film, "A Royal Guide" depicting the Queen's adventures in Brownies, Guides and Rangers.

On May 31st, Co. No. 1 held a "Parents' and Friends' Night, when Badges and Service Stars were presented. Peggy Campbell, who is leaving Belleville was presented with a farewell gift by the Company. Pat Olsen and Doris Norridge won the perfect attendance award and the Robin Patrol had the greatest number of points throughout the year.

On June 5th, Company No. 2 undertook a project unique in the history of Guiding in Belleville, when they chartered a bus and drove to Watertown, New York, to spend the day with a troop of Girl Scouts in that city. The Guides have worked hard throughout the year to earn the money for this trip and they are to be commended on their resourcefulness.

Their bus was met at the outskirts of Watertown and escorted to the Junior High School, where each troop had a friendship ceremony and then a Girl Scout was assigned to each Guide to help her get acquainted. Following lunch the girls had an hour's free time to for shopping and then were taken to the Watertown Civic Park and Zoo where games were held. Later dinner was served to the Guides by the local association at the Congregational Church. The girls and their leaders were interviewed by reporters of the Watertown Gazette and pictures were taken by the staff photographer. As the Guides were preparing to return home, they sang "Taps" and "Evensong" for the Scouts.

On June 7th, the Company closed for the summer with a wiener roast at which time they presented one of their leaders, Joan Norridge, with a wedding present, with best wishes for her future happiness and the hope that she would return to Company 2 in the fall.

GUIDE COMPANY NO. 2.
Capt. Settle.

The Guides of Company No. 2 have been getting in a good deal of hiking lately, both with their Patrol Leaders and with Company Leader Beverley Faulkner, to do stalking, tracking and fire-lighting. One of their recent meetings, planned by the Patrol leaders, took place at Lazier's Dam. They played a number of games and closed with a fine campfire, the highlight of which was toasted marshmallows. At this meeting, Judy Mundrey was enrolled as a Guide, Guide Judy Reed and will now be attending the Salvation Army Sea.

At a recent meeting, Janice Kisner brought along her record player and the Company enjoyed some interesting records of bird calls.

Recently Company No. 2 held a doll-dressing contest, with the finished dolls to be sent to the Grenfell Mission in Labrador and some twenty dolls were entered. They all showed a great deal of thought and effort on the part of the Guides and after much deliberation the one dressed by Joy Butler was voted best. Joy received as her prize a copy of the book, "Royal Guides."

Cookie Day found the company over-sold on their quota so they had to borrow cookies from another company to fill their orders. With the proceeds, they were able to buy a much-needed Union Jack and accessories.

The following girls were recently enrolled as Guides—Lynne Brown, Frances Edgar, Donna Hay and Marilyn Vandervoort. The Company was happy to have Mrs. Edgar and Mrs. Vandervoort present when their daughters made their Guide Promise.

Archdeacon Creegan presented Religion and Life Emblems to Joy Butler and Louise Fisher on completion of a course of instruction. Needlework Badges were won by Joy Butler, Louise Fisher, and Betty Jane McLuckie and one year service stars were presented to Beverley and Wendy Burch.

GUIDE COMPANY NO. 2.
Capt. D. Stewart.

Company 2 has at last solved the problem of hiking from Belleville — just take a bus part way, with the rest and back via the bus home. That was what they did recently and everyone had a wonderful time. During the day, the Guides spotted a crow, four suckers in a pool in the creek, a fox's den (complete with chicken feathers but no fox), chipmunk, a frog, a garter snake and several wild flowers.

Nature tests were completed at the last meeting, when a series of trail signs and notes led the Guides to Lazier's Dam. Diane Burley was enrolled as a Guide at the meeting.

The following girls have been awarded badges: Lois Hickson, Second Class and Religion and Life; Donna Blue; Second Class; Marjorie Brereton: Second Class and Religion and Life; Marilyn McFee: Religion and Life; Laundress, Cook's and Toymaker.

THIRD BROWNIE PACK.
Brown Owl Fleyd.

The Third Belleville Pack have been busy little people all winter working on badges and tests. At a special meeting held recently, the results of all this work were shown when fourteen Brownies received their Golden Bars. They were Anne Bateman, Karen Bateman, Lynn Burrows, Linda Fair, Gail Greatrex, Sharon Heath, Mary Lou Hobbs, Jane Lattimer, Valerie Lerman, Sylvia Lovell, Helen McArthur, Gail Rodbard, Sandra Smith, Jacqueline Sills. Also at this meeting, the Brownies helped to pack a box of toys to be sent to the Grenfell mission in Labrador.

FOURTH BROWNIE PACK.
Brown Owl Vandervaart.

Recently the Fourth Belleville Pack were taken on a tour of the Coca-Cola plant where they were treated to a bottle of coke and had an interesting afternoon.

Four of the Brownies of this Pack have received their Golden Hand Badges and six their Golden Bars. The Pack closed for the summer with a wiener roast.

Prior to the Girl Guide and Brownie Tea sponsored recently by the local Girl Guide Association, a ticket selling contest was held among all Belleville Guides and Brownies. The following girls won prizes for selling the most tickets.

Guides, 1st Prize — Gail Stephen, Company No. 1, who sold 54 tickets. 2nd Prize — Sylvia Brightwell, Company No. 4, who sold 34 tickets. In the Brownie Division, 1st prize went to Nancy VanTassel, Pack 3, who sold 27 tickets and 2nd prize to Julia Bradford, Pack No. 1, 23 tickets.

All the winners received lanolen flashlights. The efforts of the Guides and Brownies contributed greatly to the success of this tea.

LANDMARKS OF CANADA'S CAPITAL CITIES

WHEAT CAPITAL

An ocean of trees and parks in the broad Saskatchewan plains, Regina is called the capital in the wheatfields. (CP Photo).

JOURNEY ACROSS CANADA

Ask us the question, voyagers,
This heaped geography,
This colored crust of hill, field,
city, forest, sea and stone—

What breath informs it?
What long pulse of life
Lives in the veins of it?
What is the blend of fear, strength, song and dream
Slowburning in its heart?

We cannot tell you that.

There is no answer but the wordless answers
That live in flesh, in nerves,
heart, blood and bone;
The moving images that crowd our dreams
When the heart goes looking
When the mind journeys
When the blood remembers.

• • •

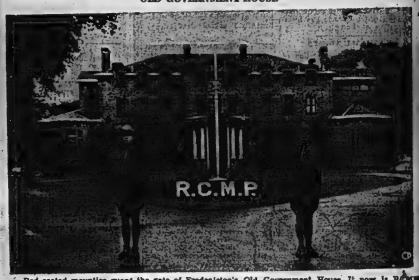
Send the heart looking, voyagers.
Send the heart looking.
Let the mind journey and the blood remember.

—From a poem by Charles Bruce.

OLD HOME WEEK

Prince Edward Islanders love harness racing. Old Home Week brings thousands to the Charlottetown park each summer. (CP from National Film Board).

NAVY PORT



Ships are Halifax's landmarks. This naval dockyard was home to hundreds of escort ships during the Battle of the Atlantic. (CP from National Film Board).

GOLDEN LANDMARK

OLD GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Red-coated mounties guard the gate of Fredericton's Old Government House. It now is RCMP headquarters. (CP Photo).

BEAUTY SPOT

Butchart's Gardens near Victoria are probably the most photographed gardens in the world. (CP Photo).

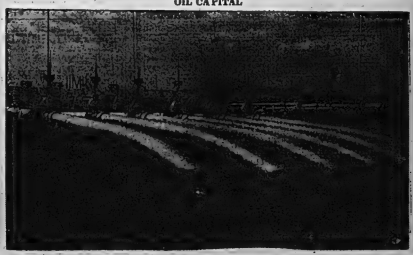
BIG CITY SCENE

The financial men of Toronto's busy Street control a vast northern mineral empire. City Hall's clock marks their working hours. (CP Photo).

CONFEDERATION LANDMARK

The statue of Sir Georges-Etienne Cartier, one of the Fathers of Confederation, stands in Quebec's Montmorency Park between a 300-year-old seminary and the city's cannon-lined ramparts. (CP Photo).

PROVINCIAL EMBLEM



A statue of a caribou, Newfoundland's unofficial emblem, stands in a park the firm of Bowring Brothers gave to St. John's. (CP Photo).

DOMINION CAPITAL

Expect C. Jodoin Will Be Named TLC President

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor observers are predicting the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the country's largest union body, likely will choose this year its first French-Canadian president in 45 years.

With the TLC's annual convention two months away, Claude Jodoin, 42-year-old vice - president from Montreal, is conceded the inside track at this stage of the race for the post held 13 years by retiring president Percy R. Bengough.

Chances of the burly Dressmakers' Union officer have been enhanced by a decision of Gordon G. Cushing, general secretary-treasurer and a strongly-favored prospect, not to run for the office regarded as about the most influential in Canadian labor.

WOULD LIKE TO STAY

"I'm pretty sure I won't be a candidate," the 59-year-old officer said. "If the Congress sees fit, I'd like to stay on as secretary-treasurer, and I'll be very happy in the job."

If supporters don't induce the popular Cushing to run it shapes up largely as a contest between Jodoin and R. K. (Roly) Gervin, a Vancouver street railway union official who is the TLC's vice-president for the west coast.

A third possibility is an Ontario candidate, Ontario vice - president William Jenoves of Toronto has stated he will not run, but some support has been gathering behind A. F. MacArthur of Toronto, prominent in TLC national affairs and president of the Ontario Provincial Federation of Labor.

VALUABLE STAMPS

LONDON (CP)—A collection of Belgian stamps was sold for £2,300 at auction. Top price was $55 for an envelope bearing seven 1865 one-franc stamps.

Normal Bus Service Resumed In Oshawa

OSHAWA (CP)—Normal transportation service was resumed here Monday with the end of the month-long strike by 115 bus drivers and railway maintenance employees.

Agreement was reached Saturday between the employees, members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees (AFL-TLC) and management of the CNR-owned Oshawa Street Railway Company.

Three main contract items were held over until agreement is reached in the dispute between the CNR and the nation's non-operating rail unions. They are statutory holidays, vacation period, and a sick benefit plan. The bunmen and the company agreed to accept the same benefits on the same date they become effective for the non-operating unions.

Agreement was reached on 15 lesser points.

For soothing first-aid, apply a thick paste of baking soda and water. Keep in place with a sterile bandage. And here's a safety tip: baking soda extinguishes small fires instantly. Pour contents of package on fire.

NEED MONEY

to stock your coal bin NOW?

You would probably save yourself money, and inconvenience too, if you picked up your telephone now and ordered your winter coal supply.

But, what with other expenses, you may find that there's not enough in the family treasury to stand a sudden coal order at present—even with the cheaper summer prices.

If you are short of cash for such a purchase, why not see the manager of your local B of M branch? Provided you have an assured income, and can repay a loan in ten monthly instalments or less, the Bank of Montreal will gladly lend you money for your winter fuel.

And with your 'coal money' from "My Bank", you'll pay your coal-bill with one lump sum . . . you'll catch the seasonally lower prices . . . you'll have your coal delivered dry and you'll avoid the last-minute rush on the coal dealer.

So, to be nice and snug next winter, see the B of M today!

Canadian Least Likely to See Eclipse Is Man Who Has Been Studying Sun for Years

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SMOKY FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The Canadian least likely to see a piece of the sun's total eclipse Wednesday— sleepyheads counted out—is a man who has been studying the sun for years.

When the moon starts rushing across the sun's disc early Wednesday, astrophysicist Jack Locke will be looking the other way.

Chances are, though his big job of the last year has been to get set for a study of Canada's first sun blackout since 1945, that he won't be able to look up until at 90 seconds of it are over.

That's the time for complete eclipse in this mid-woods section of northern Ontario where the Dominion observatory has posted a party under Locke. Other Canadian groups are out at this 60-person settlement, 100 miles down from James Bay, lined up so that the moon-cast shadow will run over them in the 200-miles - an - hour northeast course.

Here Dr. Locke, the observatory's top solar expert, will have his right eye stuck against a pocket - size microscope as the moon starts moving in on the sun just before the totality that occurs at 7:11:31 a.m. EDT. He expects to keep it there until the eclipse is completed, seeing nothing but a reflected image of the edge of the sun.

DUMPED INTO JOB

Dr. Locke, 32, says he got dumped into the job of focusing light from the sun's "chromosphere"—under - skin layer of heat—after a year in the front end of camera crew. Now he spends it through an 80-foot series of mirrors and breaks it down into the violet and red the party here wants to study.

"I tried to shove it off on to one of the other fellows," Dr. Locke said, "but no one would have it. So, I guess I'm stuck. Maybe I'll be able to see the next one, though."

For this one, his chances are pretty thin. While the eclipse at this point is to last 90 seconds, he'll be working on a split-second schedule to getting the color photographs of the spectrum that will provide evidence for his theories for studying the temperatures of the sun.

As the moon swings across the sun and a motor-driven mirror keeps pace with it, he will be correcting the odd infinitesimal errors which might have occurred in balance calculations.

If he's out one hundredth of an inch in aligning the chromosphere light into the camera slit, there won't be any pictures.

But to Locke and his team a hundredth of an inch is a fair amount of leeway.

PRECISION IMPORTANT

They talk in thousandths of an inch. The "grating" they use to split up the light into the color parts of the spectrum, instead of being a glass prism, is a hair-fine face scribed off with diamond-marked lines. There are 15,000 to the inch. A California astronomer spent almost a lifetime perfecting the scribing method.

By this dividing up of the light from the edge of the sun, scientists can be caught only when the moon intervenes and blocks off the blinding main orb, the scientists expect to be able to get data that will help them estimate the outer heat of the sun and thereby aid their studies of many phenomena on earth.

One of the more immediate effects would be the impact of the sun on communications, especially radio and cable. Long-range effects, which are tied into the recurrence of sunspots, deal with cycles of animal and vegetable life, all rising and falling in some apparent sympathy with the darkspots on the sun that nourishes them.

APPEALS SENTENCE

OTTAWA (CP) — Pte. George Mitchell, 24, of Winnipeg sat quietly in the Exchequer Court of Canada Monday as defence counsel appealed his murder conviction by an army court martial. Mitchell is under sentence of death for allegedly killing Fraz Elizabeth Sieben at Izerhoe, Germany, in 1953, by stabbing her 10 times with a six-inch butcher knife.

CHOU ARRIVES

RANGOON (AP) — Red China's Premier Chou En-lai, fresh from talks with Indian Prime Minister Nehru on Southeast Asia's political future, arrived here Monday in a shower of rose petals from Chinese school children and Communist sympathizers. Top subject of a nine-day conference with Burma's Premier U Nu is believed to be peace in Asia.

Flee from Cities Along Rio Grande In Face of Flood

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—Police in this storied border city hurriedly evacuated residents of low areas today in the face of the Rio Grande's greatest flood.

Police said an expected 40-foot crest would send flood waters boiling into the business section of this city of nearly 52,000 persons.

Across the international bridge sagging boundary river the twin Mexican city of Nuevo Laredo abandoned attempts to sandbag the levee. Workmen started moving everything possible, including the population, to higher ground.

Police expected the waters to envelop the already-closed international bridge at any moment.

Thousands of people on both sides of the U.S.-Mexico boundary fled to the hills. Nearly 100 miles north of the Rio Grande, in the rich oil-and-cattle country of far South Texas, many persons believed dead after floods swept through Cotulla, Tex.

Veteran of Korean War Hanged At Lethbridge

LETHBRIDGE (CP)—A 24-year-old veteran of the Korean War and father of two children was hanged early today for the sex-killing of a housekeeper 13 months ago in Calgary.

Robert James Sim was reported to have showed no signs of emotion as he walked to the gallows for the murder of Mrs. Amelia Middlestadt, 53 - year - old YMCA housekeeper whose brutally beaten body was found March 8, 1953, near railway tracks in east Calgary.

He was pronounced dead 15 minutes after the trap was sprung at 12:15 a.m., MST. He spent his last hours in meditation with Capt. Samuel Nahirney of the Salvation Army and wrote letters to his mother and young wife.

The murder case was six months old when Sim was arrested and charge of assaulting his wife. The murder charge followed.

RAPED AND BEATEN

The trial judge, Mr. Justice J. Boy Mckinlay, described the slaying as "one of the most horrible" he had heard in his experience on the bench. Medical evidence showed Mrs. Middlestadt had been raped and beaten to death.

Sim was convicted of murder Feb. 8 but a stay of execution was granted to allow for appeal. The appeal was based mainly on evidence of inept psychiatrists who said they found Sim subject to "alcoholic amnesia." But the Alberta appeal court ruled there was no evidence of insanity or drunkenness.

Leave to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada was refused and the justice department refused Monday to interfere with the death sentence.

GOING TO ARCTIC

Little Billie Parsons, 3½ (left) and his two-year-old brother David look a trifle apprehensive as they wave from the deck of the supply ship C. D. Howe leaving Montreal on a 12,000-mile journey to Canada's Arctic territories. The boys, seen here with RCMP Staff Sgt. G. Abraham, are accompanying their parents, an RCMP constable and his wife, on a three-year assignment in the north. The C. D. Howe, carrying replacement personnel, 14 homebound Eskimos and supplies, will do a summer tour of duty in the Arctic. (CP Photo).

Seismic Crews Have Vital Jobs In Oil Industry

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—One of the oil industry's most vital jobs is that of the seismic crew which sound the earth's rock strata for structures which might bear petroleum.

They work with precisely-engineered, highly-sensitive equipment which records the vibrations set off by dynamite-created "earthquakes."

Their instruments must be delicate enough to detect a sound as soft as raindrop on the ground, rugged enough to withstand extremes in weather and topographic conditions.

They are the result of painstaking research by engineers and careful manufacture by skilled mechanics and wiring men in laboratories such as Carter Oil Co. maintains here. In it customer-designed seismograph equipment is made for use all over the world by oilmen of the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey).

Each year $750,000 was spent equipping or servicing 27 seismic crews for Imperial, Creole, International, Standard Vacuum and Carter.

A complete set of seismic equipment includes geophones, amplifiers, recorders and later-connecting cables, cameras and communication instruments.

Every piece must be custom-designed to meet the challenge of climate and topography where it is used.

Each section of the laboratory-equipment is "tropicalized" to work in the tropics' intense heat and humidity. Every instrument are tested in a "cold chamber" to determine whether they will operate properly in an arctic winter's sub-zero temperatures.

Carter-developed machinery takes some strange shapes to cope with unusual conditions under which it will be used. There's the swamp buggy, a machine with steel wheeler drive to push it through Venezuela's swamps. The same machine is used over dry sand.

A musket vehicle, a barge-like boat with caterpillar treads, transports seismic crews over thousands of acres of muskeg country from southern Canada to the Arctic circle.

Kelvinator Workers Strike

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Close to 700 employees of Kelvinator Consumer Products Limited struck work Monday as 440 production workers went on strike and picketed a company plant and warehouses.

In a prepared statement the company later charged the strike was "illegal" because Automotive Workers (CIO) members is illegal.

The statement said the company is "preparing to take advantage of every legal remedy by application to the Ontario labor relations board, court injunction or criminal prosecution."

The company claimed a strike vote taken June 24 was illegal in that employees admitted to the meeting were "hand-picked" and many members of the bargaining unit were "refused" admission.

Union officials said the strike is the latest move in a dispute over a work-wage agreement. Negotiations have been in progress for 10 months.

MILKING STOOL IS GIFT

Miss Dorothy Taylor of New Westminster, B.C., new president of the Canadian Women's Press Club, is given a milking stool shortly after her election at the annual meeting of the club. Miss Taylor (second from left) is both a newspaper woman and a farmer. Other club officers with her are: (left to right) Miss Madeleine Levason, of Montreal, vice-president; Miss Gladys Arnold, of Ottawa, secretary, and Miss Beth Hammond of Montreal, historian. The hand-made maple milking stool is a gift from the New Brunswick delegation as an example of that province's handicrafts. (CP Photo).

Senior Assistant to President Of U.S. Hard Nut to Crack

By BEN PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) —Sherman Adams never says "No, I'm sorry." He just says "no."

The 55-year-old senior assistant to President Eisenhower has little patience with ritual in anything else that takes up time.

An ex-lumberjack and former governor of New Hampshire, Adams is known here as "Ike's chief of staff." Some of the President's ear you go through Adams.

The president has been known to refer to Adams as "the toughest man I've ever had to deal with."

The five-foot-eight, 150 - pound Adams freaks on his $20,000-a-year job as a protection for the president against the terrific pressures that go with the job. When a problem reaches the president's desk, it comes with Adams' recommendations, which carry great weight.

Adams is widely respected as an administrator—and can be urbane and a fascinating yarn-spinner—but nearly everybody is leery with about him concedes he could use a crowbar to bow to win friends.

One New Hampshire friend who called Adams long-distance to engage the conversation by inquiring into Adams' health relates:

"Before I could say anything else, Adams told me 'state your business.' I meekly complied, stated my business and got an answer."

In his role as presidential assistant, Adams has made enemies. Among them are some who supported the late Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination. One "old guard" Republican congressman said he never consults with Adams or asks the advice of anyone not connected with that wing (Eisenhower) of the party."

Adams, who has been variously called "Old Stone Face" and "Old Rock" in New Hampshire, was born Jan. 8, 1899, in his grandfather's Baptist parsonage at East Dover, Vt.

After graduation from Dartmouth College, Adams went into the woods of south Vermont to work as a logger for the Black River Lumber Co—and later for the pulpwood manager for the parent concern, Parker-Young of Lincoln, N.H.

It was while Adams was working out of Lincoln that he got the chance to stand for election to the state House of Representatives. From there he went to Congress and then to two terms as governor. In 1951 Adams joined five other Republican governors to urge the Republican nomination of Eisenhower.

"Adams," a friend said, "did not meet Ike until the 1952 convention. The two took to each other like a couple of ducks to water. They found they felt alike and thought alike." Adams' crisp, precise summing up of political happenings from day to day, or hour to hour, earned Eisenhower's admiration.

While in Wyoming on the convention fishing trip Adams reportedly urged Eisenhower after being him to become campaign chief of state. He travelled 40,000 miles, becoming more and more of a political adviser and strategist.

After the election Adams went back to New Hampshire to take up a governor's again for a few weeks until the inauguration of his successor. Then another call from Eisenhower asked him to be senior White House assistant.

Dragon Eats Sun Wednesday For Last Time This Century

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Kepoter

NEW YORK (AP) — A dragon swallows the sun Wednesday morning.

This at least was one ancient superstitious explanation of what millions of folks on this earth should be able to see soon after dawn—a total eclipse of the sun or a good portion of it.

The astronomers also know, practically the last one this century for this hemisphere, will be reserved for the eyes of rising risers.

The total eclipse, will be viewed only by persons in a belt 68 to 96 miles wide from Holt county, Nebr., through South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Northern Ontario, Quebec and Labrador. Minneapolis and St. Paul are the only major cities in the path.

But other millions should catch a good portion of it if the weather is kind.

The total eclipse begins at 7:07 a.m. EDT over O'Neill, Nebr., and then the shadow of the moon will race across the earth at a speed of 3,000 miles an hour. It will dart through Canada, up, up of Greenland, Iceland, Sweden, Russia and Pakistan, with a black sun sitting in the sky for 2½ minutes.

At Minneapolis, the sun will rise with the moon already taking a piece out of the sun, and the total eclipse will occur there about 30 seconds after it begins in Nebraska. Totality at the twin cities will last about 75 seconds.

A stern warning comes from medical experts and astronomers not to look at the eclipse through ordinary sun glasses, at the risk of serious eye damage. You must use heavily-smoked glass, welder's glasses, or strongly exposed photographic film. Be careful especially of children's eyes.

Hundreds of astronomers will work from dozens of sites over the path of the moon's shadow during its path of totality.

Their overall will be making for more accurate measurement of the mean distance between North America and Europe.

Dulles Prisoner Of Own Prejudice Is British View

MANCHESTER (Reuters)—The Manchester Guardian said Monday the United States no longer is leading the free world and has lost the weak leadership and an honest divergence of view with other Western powers.

The Liberal newspaper says it is healthy that in the United States "more public discussion precedes the forming of policy than in other countries."

But now we have the discussion without policy.

"The secretary of state (John Foster Dulles), who should give direction to the discussion, seems a prisoner of his own rigid prejudice.

"The president, who above all must speak with authority, is silent or ambiguous.

"The 18th century constitution can be made to meet the demands of 20th century government only through the force of a president's personality. Today that is absent. . . ."

Paper Says Defence Pact Agreed Upon

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — An influential Nationalist newspaper said today President Chiang Kai-shek and Gen. Jerry Wilson Van Fleet have agreed tentatively on a mutual defence pact linking Nationalist China and the United States.

There were no confirmation from any source.

The usually well-informed United Daily News said:

1. Chiang and Van Fleet had agreed on a pact which would leave the Nationalists anchor of the Nationalist island chain, ile roughly 200 miles north of Formosa.

Since the outbreak of war in Korea the U. S. 7th fleet has patrolled waters around Formosa to guard against Red invasion. However, it has not guarded the others islands, many of which the Nationalists retain as Red guns.

The Daily News said the tentative defence pact has been sent to Washington for final approval.

Improve English Advice Given To Job Seekers

BIGWIN INN, Ont. (CP) — To get a job, improve your English—that was the job secret given a senior, Ont., in an address prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the Ontario Urban and Rural School Trustees Association.

Mr. Emmett, executive vice-president, Ford Motor Company of Canada, said the superintendent of Ford's Windsor plant rejected one applicant with low marks in English composition. He has found that use of sloppy English indicates a sloppy mind.

Further, in its program for selected students, the company had found it necessary to provide courses on report writing, even though many of the students had graduated, with commendable records, from university arts courses.

Shortcomings in writing being felt by a great many people at the university level, high-school graduates to write in straight-forward, convincing language.

"Often the unclear writing simply reflects unclear thinking," Mr. Emmett said, and that is why faculties is strung together for sound courses, not for arts alone.

Mr. Emmett opposed too-early specialization in schools. Rather, formal education should lay down a broad base for future development.

". . . The jack-of-all-trades so often disparaged by critics could will very frequently end up in a top executive position."

In business, when a man is chosen for an important job, a salary is paid which bears a fair relationship to the important of his assignment.

Federal Govt. Will Offer Views on EDC, Pooling Of A-Information to Churchill

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian government will offer views to Sir Winston Churchill on the European Defence Community and the pooling of atomic information, but will not take sides on varying proposals for the defence of Southeast Asia, well-qualified sources said Monday.

Informants said the visit today of the British prime minister and Commonwealth watchdog is eagerly awaited by Canadian Minister St. Laurent and his cabinet.

They are anxious to get a first-hand report of the conversations between the British statesman and President Eisenhower and make clear Canada's own views that the . . . gent need for .etting France to approve E"C in order to strengthen the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

SEE ENDORSEMENT

The Canadian government, the . fore, is likely to endorse heartily one aspect of the Churchill . . . ence communique in which they expressed determination to make West Germany "an equal partner" in the Western world, to put German soldiers into European defence and to throw their weight behind an effort to get French approval of EDC.

Informants said the Canadian government will likely endorse the Churchill - Eisenhower view that Britain and the U. S. would benefit from Canada's co - operation in atomic energy "to the fullest extent allowed" by law. They said that this co-operation should be extended also to Canada.

Sir Winston is accompanied by Foreign Secretary Eden, is scheduled to arrive at suburban Rockcliffe airport at 5.45 p. m. EDT.

Cancer Research Grants Approved By Association

PORT ARTHUR, (CP)—Twenty-one grants for clinical cancer research totalling $97,000 were announced here Monday by Rayfield Mc Sale of Windsor, chairman of the Ontario Cancer Treasurers' Research Foundation.

The grants were approved at a meeting of the directors of the foundation.

Included are six new projects. Three will be conducted at the University of Toronto and one each at the University of Ottawa, Queen's University, Kingston, and the Toronto Western Hospital.

At the University of Toronto, Dr. T. F. Fox will study the exact role of physical, chemical and biological agents on the growth of hereditary tumors in culture. Dr. H. A. Gebbie will study methods of control of intracable pain in terminal cancer cases.

Prof. F. Belanger of the University of Ottawa will direct research, utilizing radio-active isotopes.

Other new projects are under the direction of Dr. G. F. Ripkie, associate professor of pathology at Queen's, and Dr. W. G. Cosbie and O. B. Miller of the University of Toronto.

Doucett Disagreed With Dept. Policy Over Contracts

TORONTO (CP) — Disagreement between the Ontario Highways minister and his deputy over contract practices during the last few years has been revealed to the legislature's highways investigation committee.

D. R. Storms, vice-president of the Ontario Road Builders' Association, testified Monday that he discussed the "ridiculously low" prices with both Highways Minister Doucett and J. D. Millar, deputy minister, and now deputy minister of public works.

"The minister agreed with me; Mr. Millar never agreed," said Mr. Storms.

The road builders, in a brief read by Donald E. McQuigge, president, charged the department had a "seemingly avid desire to award work at the lowest unit price even if ridiculously low" prices were involved, without regard to the ultimate cost of the project.

LOW BIDS

Attorney-General Porter asked Mr. Storms how could do about the low bids. Mr. Storms said that under the present system "he can't do anything."

"He was in a difficult position and he has to answer to the legislature."

Department policy is to award a contract to the lowest bidder, Albert Wren (Lib-Lab—Kenora) said it would be reasonable to assume that the department should have recommended to the legislature that changes in policy be made.

"We are treading on dangerous ground now," said Mr. Wren. "It is a few things that created other difficulties."

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

The day's session at Queen's Park also saw these developments:

Attorney-General Porter assumed full responsibility for the failure of highways department officials to appear before the committee in Fort William last Friday.

Mr. Porter, chairman of the committee in Fort William last Friday, told the committee Kelso Roberts (PC—Toronto St. Patrick) had assumed full responsibility in the absence of Mr. Doucett at Monday's session.

Mr. McQuigge said contractors' Christmas gifts to associates of members of the staff was not as a gesture of goodwill and friendliness.

Mr. Porter revealed that some of the books of contractors seized by the department of investigation have not yet been released.

BECAME PROPERTY

Mr. Porter told the committee that when the warrants for seizure were issued the books had become under the custody of the crown.

Up to the present time some contractors have been investigated. Warrants might be issued under investigation," the attorney-general said.

Mr. Roberts said during the committee's tour of northwestern Ontario last week that he instructed all the books had been returned to the contractors.

Fred MacMurray Weds June Haver

OJAI, Calif. (AP)—Actress June Haver and actor Fred MacMurray were quietly married Monday night by a judge in picturesque Ojai Valley Inn.

They slipped away from the film capital for a double ring, civil ceremony.

The civil rites, churchmen have said, will deprive the actress of the sacraments of the Roman Catholic Church, of which she is a devout member. This is because she was wed previously in the church to musician Jimmy Zito and the brief marriage ended in divorce. MacMurray is a Presbyterian.

BOTH EXPERIENCED GRIEF

For both Miss Haver, 28, and MacMurray, 46, the marriage culminated a romance each had endured after heartbreak. The actor's wife of 17 years, Lillian, died a year ago.

Miss Haver became engaged to Dr. John Dutch, a Beverly Hills dentist, after divorcing Jimmy Zito, but in 1949 Dr. Dutch died. Friends said grief over his death was one of the reasons she entered a convent early last year to study to become a nun. After seven months she returned to Hollywood.

DROVE TRACTOR 900 MILES

Walter (Watty) Forsyth, 86-year-old Rapid City, Man., farmer, rolls into Calgary after he drove his tractor 900 miles from his homestead, 165 miles west of Winnipeg, to attend the Calgary Stampede starting July 8. The oldtimer made the trip in two weeks and en route lived in the boone-docks trailer he is towing behind the tractor. Ever since the Stampede got under way in 1912, he had wanted to see the show and this was the first chance he got. He plans a lot of sight-seeing before making his way home on the tractor by way of the United States. (CP Photo.)

MARMORA

Canadian Legion Members Hold Zone Meeting

MARMORA—A zone membership meeting was held in the Legion Hall on Sunday afternoon with representatives present from the Stirling, Consecon, Belleville and Marmora branches. The Zone's membership chairman, Comrade William Vaith of Belleville, was present to take the minutes. Membership was the only subject dealt with. Pensions and housing were also discussed and plans laid to present resolutions to the forthcoming Dominion convention in Toronto in August.

Miss Mary Meiklejohn has been engaged by Marmora Village Council to act as lifeguard at the beach in Legion Park for the months of July and August.

Mrs. William Wenpiarr and son, Tom, of Batesville, Indiana, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Reine Borbeau and sister, Miss Lorelie Borbeau.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyce and two sons, of Mallorytown, spent a few days this week with Mrs. Boyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Napier.

Mr. Charles Lockwood, formerly of Campbellford, has been appointed Constable of Marmora Village and was sworn in this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry French (nee Helen Cale) of Ottawa, visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barker and other Marmora friends on Tuesday.

St. Paul's Ladies' Guild held a successful strawberry supper in the Parish Hall on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Shannon attended O.R.D.A. convention held in Bigwin Inn, on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Artificial Ice Arena Shows Many Benefits

MARMORA — Marmora Rink Commission has just issued a statement reviewing the benefits which artifical ice has given to Marmora and district.

Attention is drawn to the fact that this past winter season ended with finances on a break-even basis. The income collected from the paying activities made it possible for 2,985 public and Separate school students to skate free of charge on certain days and 465 high school students to skate and practice their hockey free, making a total of 3,350 Marmora district school age children who had free admissions.

In addition, there were several community school and Sunday school classes that had free time.

Midgets, Juveniles, Bantams and Squirts had 96 hours of free time and the Trent Valley Hockey League team had 96 hours for practice. The rink manager, Mr. Albertson, receives commendation for his co-operation with the commission and his supervision of activities whereby no accident occurred and no complaint was registered.

In addition to this report is the newer information that the new floor has now been laid to facilate the operation of the rink next season with the hope that a little surplus may be built up from future activities.

STEAL WATCHES

MONTREAL (CP)— Safecrackers, using crowbars and an ax, smashed their way into a safe in the offices of Canadian Admiral Sales Limited during the week-end and escaped with $6,300 in watches and cash. They took 180 watches valued at $5,000.

STIRLING

St. Paul's Sr. Choir Makes Presentations

STIRLING—On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren, Stirling, R.R. 1, entertained the members of the senior choir of St. Paul's United Church, at their spacious home in the country with approximately 30 people in attendance.

The rooms were decorated with a profusion of vari-colored peonies and white orange blossoms.

The dining table was laid with a hand crocheted lace cloth, a silver rose bowl filled with American Beauty roses and in this attractive setting the group enjoyed their last evening of the season.

The choir practised enough selections to carry them through the summer months and the hour and a half of singing slipped by quickly.

GAMES—CONTESTS

Mr. Jack Bush, vice-president of the choir was master of ceremonies and conducted a series of humorous games and contests. He then read an appreciative address to the parsonage family. This eulogized the work of Mrs. A. E. Baker, A.R.C.T., organist and choir leader, for her wonderful leadership along musical lines; Rev. [illegible] Baker for his vision and [illegible] and Rev. W. S. Irwin for the valuable assistance as a member of the choir.

PRESENTATIONS

Miss Marlena Carlisle presented Mrs. Baker with a leather music portfolio. The inscription inside read "From St. Paul's Senior Choir." Mrs. Baker's initials were engraved on the outside.

Mr. Baker was the recipient of a leather billfold and Mr. W. S. Irwin received an up-to-date round shaving mirror with electric equipment, which would provide "a good light on the scene of operation."

The recipients, each voiced grateful thanks for all the kindness and lovely gifts.

Mrs. Warren and her mother, Mrs. S. J. Elliott, assisted by Misses Janet Ann Good, Donna Carlisle, Rose Ann Vandervoort, Janet Reynolds and Wendy Warren, served a delightful luncheon topped off with strawberries and ice cream.

The vice-president voiced thanks for hospitality and all extended best wishes to the parsonage family in their new work at Smooth Rock Falls.

Mr. Baker closed his pastorate on the St. Paul's-Carmel charge on Sunday, June 27, with special services at each appointment.

Rednersville

REDNERSVILLE — The Canadian Girls in Training group took part in the Sunday evening service opening with "Day is Dying", as a processional hymn. The girls sang three choruses "God Who Touched Earth With Beauty", "Lalipo" and "Glority The Lord".

All members received Chevrons for recognition of standards attained the past term. The certificate of affiliation was presented by Mrs. R. Stafford, Mrs. T. F. Townsend was in charge of a graduation ceremony when Dianne Bonter was given the C.G.I.T. diploma. Miss Bonter was also presented with a white leather Bible, a gift from the group. Following the recessional hymn "Land of Our Birth" the group arranged at the back of church closed with the singing of "Taps".

The "Re-Als" doubles group held an ice cream strawberry social at the home of Allen and Eleanor Weese. The new presidents Georne and Marjorie Roblin, were in charge.

Dale Treloar and Keith Barnett, pupils of Mrs. T. F. Townsend (R.M.T.), are receiving the congratulations of friends on attaining first class honors in the recent examinations of the Royal Conservatory of Music.

NO BALLPLAYERS YET

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe says she's not expecting a baby, saying her collapse on a movie set Tuesday was due to overwork and nerves. "I'm not expecting a little baseball player yet," added the wife of Joe DiMaggio, the former Yankee Clipper.

SPORT IN BRIEF

CUT SALARIES

MONTREAL (CP)—The Quebec Junior Hockey League Monday cracked down on runaway salaries and fixed a maximum of $60 a week for next season.

There was no official indication as to how high salaries of some of the prospective young stars have reached but one informant said "you can do your own guessing" and that $150 wouldn't be wide of the mark in some instances.

A league spokesman said the move was made to cut down drastically on expenses and to help clubs that have found the going tougher and tougher financially.

LIGHTWEIGHT WINS

TAKES DECISION

BROOKLYN (AP) — Veteran Walter Cartier of New York pounded out a unanimous decision Monday night over burly Tunn (Kid) Portugues of Costa Rica in a rough and bruising television 10-rounder at Eastern Parkway Arena. Cartier weighed 164½, Portugues 161.

WAS BALL PLAYER

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Fred Quick, well-known baseball and basketball player here in the 1920's and early 1930s, died in hospital here Monday. He was St. Mr. Quick, a right - handed pitcher, played in the Intercounty league and Ontario baseball association groups.

SNEAD'S ACE

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Sam Snead came up with the 14th hole-in-one of his long golf career Monday. Snead, best pro at the Greenbrier Golf Club here, sank the ace on the 200-yard, par-3 No. 11 of the Greenbrier course. He was playing in a foursome.

ACCEPT POST ENTRIES

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Post entries will be accepted for the Canadian junior, juvenile and midget track and field championships, which will be held here July 2 and 3, Carl Dorland, chairman of the meet announced, Monday.

GAINS THIRD ROUND

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver and Mrs. L. Alvenslebben-Rigollet of Switzerland won their third-round match in the mixed doubles of the Wimbledon tennis tournament Monday, defeating Phillipps Washer of Belgium and Mrs. Heather Brewer of Bermuda 7-9, 6-4, 6-4.

BLUEBOTTLE WINS

HAMILTON (CP) — Bluebottle, the yacht owned by the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, Monday won two races against the Royal Hamilton Yacht Club's boat sailors. Sailed under Lt.-Cmdr. R. L. Hewitt, the Bluebottle took an easy win in the morning race. In the afternoon, Snapdragon, skippered by Clifford Lunt, held the lead up to the second marker where Bluebottle overtook her. Bluebottle lost two races last weekend in Toronto.

PROBE RIOT

EDMONTON (CP)—The Edmonton Dominion Football Association has called a special meeting to investigate a riot at a soccer playoff game here Saturday night which had to be quelled by police.

Players and spectators joined in a general melee late in the game after goalie Morris Saccamanno of the Ukraina squad was charged by an opposing Victoria player and taken to hospital with undetermined injuries.

REPLACE BELL

OTTAWA (CP)—Les Bell, manager of Ottawa Athletics since the start of this season, is being replaced by former major leaguer Taft Wright, who has been used in the outfield by the International League club for the last two years. The change was announced Monday night by Bernie Guest, farm director of Philadelphia Athletics. Ottawa is a Philadelphia farm club.

Guest said Bell will be used as a scout and farm supervisor for the parent Athletics.

Ti-Cat Coach Has Horseshoes

HAMILTON (CP) — Coach Carl Voyles ran into a bit of luck Monday in his long battle to get players for his Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football Union.

Charlie Fox, 26-year-old former end with University of Illinois, walked into Voyles' office and said he wanted to sign up with Hamilton. The 195-pound, five-foot 11½-inch player was recently discharged from the United States Army after service in Korea.

Brooks Call Farm Help

BROOKLYN (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers Monday brought up reinforcements from their farm system, pitcher Pete Wojey and outfielder Walt Moryn, for their important three-game series with New York Giants.

Wojey, a 21-year-old righthander, was recalled from Mobile of the Southern Association where he had an 8-3 record. Moryn, who had been assigned outright to St. Paul, was re-acquired and outfielder Don Thompson was sent to the American Association farm.

Connaught Park

OTTAWA (CP)—Some 4,500 fans turned out Monday night as Connaught Park held Canada's first thoroughbred racing program under the lights.

Week-day betting at the half-mile track just across the Ottawa river in Quebec was reported off and the larger-than-usual crowd seemed as enthusiastic as most of the horsemen over the experiment.

Cuban jockey Elicier Venero Hardy was the most pleased person of the lot. He rode in all seven races, won three, placed in one and earned the show spot in four other three.

Farm Club Beats Yanks

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Mickey Mantle's seventh - inning home run with a man on base was the only display of Yankee power Monday as the world champions bowed to their Binghamton Eastern League farm club 5-2 in an exhibition game.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The morale of the Yankees is extremely high as they return from a successful swing through the west and prepare to work on the bedraggled Red Sox in Boston today. Those parts of another who passed though here seemed to be under the impression that they had a sixth straight championship as good as sailed away.

This is a wrong attitude. Inasmuch as Casey Stengel's club still is three games back of the pacesetting Cleveland Indians. But then the Yankees can never be judged by ordinary standards. They think they're only going to have to work a little longer and harder than usual this time to win their usual world series cheques.

TRIBE TIRING?

The two out of three they took from the Indians over the weekend, topping off their 9-4 western jaunt, apparently convinced the champs that they still have what it takes to capture one more before Allie Reynolds and Ed Lopat wear out. Stengel says he would be the first place now if his first-baseman, Joe Collins, had not been hurt early in the season.

The champs came back much more impressed with Chicago White Sox than with Cleveland. They are ready to concede that the Sox might be rough right to the end, but claim they detected signs that the Indians are beginning to wheeze. One of them put it this way:

"The Sox hustled a lot harder against us than the Indians did. That (Paul) Richards has really got those fellows steamed up—when they play us, anyway. The Indians still look like the Indians to me. Al Rosen's a great hitter, but he can't play first base. He's hurting them. His reactions don't seem as fast as when he was playing third."

SAVED BEST FOR YANKS

Privately, the individual Yanks claim that the only reason the tribe is on top now has been its ability to fatten up consistently at the expense of the second division clubs, such as Washington and the p-2 over Washington. Manager Al Lopez, they point out, has been able to do a lot of this with his second-line pitchers while resting his aces and saving them to use against the Yanks and White Sox.

By comparison, the Yanks stood only 5-4 over Boston going in today's game and were trailing Washington 4-3. There is nothing wrong about the method the Indians are using, the Yankees hasten to add. It's just that they like to point out that the leaders have not been able thus far to break even with either the Yanks or the White Sox, trailing them, respectively, 5-6 and 3-5 in games.

Chumlo Wins Slow Fight

TORONTO (CP)—George Chuvalo, 16, Monday night won a unanimous decision over Bill Minkebrook, Kitchener, in the slow-moving main event of the weekly boxing show.

Chuvalo had a 30-pound advantage over Minkebrook who will be a Canadian heavyweight representative in the British Empire Games at Vancouver.

Chuvalo had a hard time catching his fleetfooted opponent and only a dozen blows were struck in the five-round contest.

In the semi-final, Don Ross, Toronto, was awarded a technical knockout over Horst Bohn, Kitchener.

Other results include:

140 pounds — Ronnie Derocher, Toronto, knocked out Claus Bohn, Kitchener, 32 seconds of third round of scheduled three-rounder.

119 pounds—Tommy Ashley, Toronto, TKO over Reg Duguay, Kitchener, 1:11 of second round of scheduled three-rounder.

'Dey's Fever In Flatbush' As Beloved 'Bums, Jints' Meet In Big 'Serious'

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

IT'S A LONG LANE . . .

Young Master Howard Stoneback, American import of the Oshawa Trazsporters, seems to be the centre of a breeze of controversy in this wacky Viaduct-Ontario Senior Baseball League.

The Lafayette, Indiana, or is it Pennsylvania? collilich harier, who is supposed to rate big punkins as a lefty down on the banks of the Wabash, may have defeating the Fotes 10-1 with a five-hitter, but in his brief appearance here for two or three innings he was just another pitcher,

However, that is neither here nor there at the moment.

According to news reports from Toronto, the Queen City teams, believing in a verbal agreement, are waxing wroth over Oshawa bringing in the American youngster. They claim, and rightly so, that the entire six-team league agreed to "no imports" at a pre-season meeting, then up pops Oshawa with Stoneback.

The news report says there is a strong possibility existing that five clubs in the league will withdraw from the VOBL and form a league of their own."

That is exactly what could, and might happen.

The report goes on to say that a couple of weeks ago the Peterborough Petes were up in arms over another Yankee hurler brought in by Oshawa, but he wound up with the agreement was the incident was dropped.

It adds: "The Viaduct-Ontario League apparently could not hear any official protest because as yet it has no official constitution. On the other hand, regulations of the Ontario Baseball Association, the governing body, allow signing of imports."

Just what is happening anyway? Is the Oshawa tail trying to swing the league dog? If reports are true the Transporters' management agreed with the other five teams that no imports would be used. Yet they are the first to breach the agreement. The first thing you know they will be demanding travelling expenses for hillbilly hurlers from Spillamount Creek, Arkansas.

Manager Jack Carson, of the Belleville Bats, refused to be perturbed over the situation. "It is merely a matter of principle," he told this department yesterday. "As far as Stoneback as a pitcher is concerned, and from what I have seen of him, Oshawa can have him. We just dote on southpaw pitching.

"But, as I said before, it is a matter of principle. I gave my word to the league that I would agree to the 'non-import' suggestion and I intend to keep it. If the matter comes to a head I will stick to my agreement, even to the point of using Oshawa out of the league."

If what the Toronto newspaper report says is true that the VOBL has no proper constitution, then it is about time one was readied. The Central Ontario Baseball League, the Intercounty, Niagara District and other organized league operate under the aegis of the Ontario Baseball Association with their own constitution with clauses which apply to their individual organizations.

The VOBL, minus constitution, is merely leaving the door open for Oshawa or any other club to exit the OBA book of words to their own needs. Now it appears every team with the exception of Oshawa is willing to abide by the "verbal agreement" the last meeting of the VOBL.

What does Oshawa want? Do they foresee trouble in winning the championship after having gone the "rounds" of the circuit? Apparently they are strong enough in the pitching department to grab and hold the loop leadership, at least to date, and intend hanging on to it.

But there is many a slip twixt the schedule cup and the playoff lip, and from our viewing of the Transporters to date despite their record, they are not any better than any of the rest of the clubs. In fact, in the opinion of a lot of people, our own Bats are on a par with them. The last time they showed here, the Bats stood a dozen times and practically presented the close win to the visitors.

THE BIG BEAR!

It says in the dictionary the word means "a genus of planitgrade carnivorous mammals." That in English is "meat-chewing bear." So that is what they're sending down here along with Jack Kelly and Tom Lewis to wrestle. Apart the tag team duo of Paul Bartelson and Tex Mackenzie. They call the big one the "Mighty Urus" and they tell us he dotes on Texas beef and Kosbee pea soup. If so he'll get a large, juicy meatsteak when he tangles with the giants in Memorial Arena come Friday.

We are not aware of any of the physical details of the Mighty Urus, but reports trickling through from Toronto where he has appeared, have it that he is a man-crusher of the pile-driver type. He teams with another tough combo in the person of Lewin. Dan O'Shocker meets popular Bill Black in the semi-final, with Jack Wentworth tangling with the veteran Joe Malch in the opener.

One Win in Three-Game Series Will Give Durochermen Tie; Maglie, Newcombe Will Start

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The team that finished 35 games out of first place last season fights for its slim one-game hold on the National League lead tonight against the scrambling defending champions.

And if Leo Durocher's New York Giants can salvage one victory in their three-game set with the Brooklyn Dodgers they still will be at least tied for first place after the series.

Meanwhile in the American League, the three teams fighting for the lead—Cleveland, Chicago and New York—all take on clubs that they hope to use as fatten their averages in league-leading Indians play Baltimore. The White Sox, a game and a half back, entertain the Detroit Tigers in a doubleheader, and the Yankees, three games off the pace, journey to Boston.

JUDGE HAS RIDE

The rest of the two leagues are just along for the ride. The Philadelphia Phillies, in third place in the National League, are 8½ games out of the lead while the Tigers in fourth place in the American League, are a distant seven games off the pace of the Indians.

This is an important set for both the Giants and Brooks, and, as a matter of fact, it is the first time since Durocher has been at Coogan's Bluff that he's been at Ebbets Field, that the polo grounds crew has started a home series against the Dodgers in first place.

For the first time this season, New York has had a real run on betting for tickets for "the" game. Giant officials predict a capacity house at the 56,000 and 50,000 at the Polo Grounds with about 40,000 seats sold in advance.

MAGLIE TO START

Ancient Sal (The Barber) Maglie, whose pitching style causes the Dodgers to roll over and play dead, probably will start for the Giants. He has already said His opponent will be Don Newcombe.

The Dodgers have had their ups and downs, but manager Walt Alston thinks the team finally has jelled. He won't come right out and say so, but he feels that if the club can sweep the series, the road will be cleared for its third straight flag.

Some of the boys weren't hitting," Alston said. "But now that Carl Furillo and Roy Campanella have come around we have a much better attack. The pitching is breathtaking of late, especially since Newcombe's arm trouble has left him."

Leafs Split With Richmond; Wings Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Louis Cardinals haven't been able to make much headway in the National League this season but a little help never gave hurt. Rochester farmhands Monday night helped the Red Wings move into a virtual tie in the International League.

The league was on the valves of the home run.

St. Louis stopped off in Rochester for an exhibition and beat the minor leaguers 3-2 with the runs coming on a two-run homer by Red Schoendienst and a 420-foot clout by Stan Musial.

TOOK IT IN

Then in the regular game of the evening the Red Wings whipped the Havana Sugar Kings 4-3. And the winning man was a home run by second baseman Vernon Benson.

In winning the Red Wings pulled even with Toronto in the "games behind" column and now they still trail by 13 percentage points. Rochester has played two more games than the Maple Leafs.

Toronto dropped the week 1-0 defeat by Richmond, then turned on the Virginians 14-9 with a 21-hit attack. They were rained out on completion of the final inning of the scheduled nine-inning game that ran afoul of the Sunday curfew back on May 2.

RUN LEAD

In the slugfest the Leafs piled up a 7-0 first inning lead but were caught before the Virginians before pulling into a permanent lead in the seventh. Ed Mierkowicz hit a grand-slam homer for the losers.

Joe Black gave up only four hits in Montreal's 6-0 victory over Buffalo. It was the former Dodger hurler's third victory against three losses. Black doubled home two runs, Rocky Nelson hit his 21st homer and Clint Courtney's pinch-hit Athletics split a pair with Syracuse, winning 4-3 on a seventh-inning single by Hector Lopez after losing the opener 5-4. Jim Piersall's run in the seventh game for Syracuse with the help of timely singles by Joe Tzesaro and Jim Thompson. Lopez singled in the fifth inning of the second game as the A's built up a score, then drove in Tommy Glaviano with the winning run.

Wouldn't Trade Mays for 2 Musials, 'There Is Only One Willie' Says 'Lip'

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Mays is not the flashiest player ever to wear a New York Giant uniform—at least, not yet. But he certainly is the most exciting.

"This is the best looking kid I've seen in 25 years of baseball," says manager Leo Durocher. "I look at Willie and you know who he reminds me of? Pete Reiser. What could be better than that? You can't Run, that's all. There's nobody in the league who's got a better arm than this kid. There's nobody got more power. There's nobody can go and get 'em any better than he can.

"I've got no idea just how great this kid can be," the voluble Giant manager added. "He can be another Joe Dimaggio. He's got the disposition, the temperament, the ability. Trade him for Stan Musial? I wouldn't trade him for two Musials. If I had to pay off a game tomorrow, I'd have to have Musial. But for the future? How old is Musial? He's about old as Mays? 23. That's your answer."

HE'S PREJUDICED

There is no doubt that Durocher is prejudiced. So are the Giant fans who once again are talking pennant mainly because of the young Negro's presence in the line-up.

"The stage always seems to be set for Willie to do something dramatic," Leo says. "He's not content to play in any normal way. He's got to be different. Take the time he hit those homers in five consecutive games. All he did was hit 'em all on his first time at bat. He drove in Dusty Rhodes, bases wrong sometimes. But I don't tell him anything. I let him do what he wants because, somehow, it always turns out right.

SPEAKS HIS MIND

"It seems every homer he hits or every great catch or throw he makes wins a game for us. He never forget the day he rejoined the club at Phoenix, Ariz., last March after serving two years in the army. He had been on a plane all night, flying in from Richmond, Va. We were in the middle of an intra-squad game when he arrived, got in uniform and said: 'I'm ready, Leo. When do I get in the game?'

"I sent him in as a pinch-hitter and he hit the first pitch that must have travelled nine hundred feet for a home run. At the end of the inning he was out to centerfield and would you believe it? He made one of the greatest plays I ever saw, climbing up on the wall for a one-handed catch and following it up by throwing a strike to first to double up a runner. There's only one Willie."

Elgins Tie Majors for Top; Petes Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

London Majors' undisputed reign atop the Senior Intercounty Baseball League was short-lived.

The Majors slipped into top spot with a win Saturday, Monday night St. Thomas Elgins crowded into a first-place tie with a 9-7 victory over Majors at St. Thomas.

At Sudbury, Frood Tigers turned back a ninth-inning rally by the Coniston Red Sox for a 5-4 win in the Nickel Belt Senior League.

PETES SQUEEZED

Peterborough Petes were extended to 11 innings before they scored a 2-1 victory over Oakville Oaks in a Viaduct Ontario Baseball loop game at Peterborough.

Five unearned runs in the eighth gave St. Thomas their victory. The Elgins had a four-run splurge in the fifth. The Majors put over two runs in each of the first three innings and their seventh run came in the seventh inning.

Behind a startling hurler finished, Stan Slack was taken out in the seventh and Petes scored three. White took over for John Ambrose in the tenth inning and registered for the win, his second against no losses. It was Slack's first loss against two wins.

Bobby Deakin hit a two-run homer with a double on last in four London runs. Gordie McMackon hit a two-run homer.

Herman Fisher's first-hit pitching paced Brantford and George Carlson insured the victory with an eighth inning grand-slam home run over the centre field fence.

Fisher's victory was his seventh against one defeat.

BREAK UP

The Red Sox snapped a scoreless deadlock with one run in the fifth inning. A double by Carlson in the sixth. Jeep Jessup drove in

Bowling Squad For Empire Games Named Today

WINNIPEG (CP) — Canada's lawn bowling squad for the British Empire Games will be decided today on Winnipeg's Norwood Club greens.

There will be no doubt in the singles and rink events after the day's third-round matches, but the officials will have to go into a huddle to decide the doubles winner on points if Manitoba beats Ontario, creating a three-way tie.

In the singles Manitoba's Jimmy Gibson takes on Quebec's Jack Linford. Both won their first-round matches over Walter Beck of British Columbia. Gibson eliminated Beck 21-16 Monday night after the B.C. star had lost 21-15 to Linford in the afternoon.

In the rink event, Quebec's Tommy Cruickshank was sidelined when beaten twice Monday. The Riverside south aggregation from Lachine dropped a 23-12 decision to Manitoba's Billy Calder in the first round, then fell 20-20 to Alberta, skipped by Capt. James Little of Edmonton.

LITTLE CHOICE

There will be little to choose between Manitoba and Alberta in the final as both skewed their ends keep pace with either the draw or knockout game.

Ontario will be in the doubles where three rinks still have a chance of capturing the title. British Columbia's Sam Garden and Jim Williams came from behind back from an afternoon 21-16 defeat at the hands of Ontario's Bill Hilborn and Jack Ziegler of Kingston to beat Manitoba 28-15.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

There are bigger fish caught than the luscious 30-pound lake trout hauled from the depths of Lake Superior in the massive Rosport Annual Fish Derby, but we doubt that there's a more lively sporting crowd, or a greater gathering of fishing talk and assorted fishing tackle anywhere in the world than that point at the mouth of the mark's gun each year on the shores of this little Ontario town.

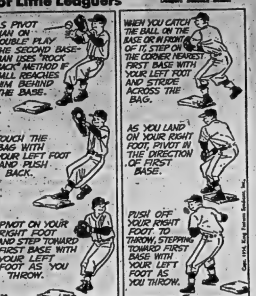
Each July 25, Rosport will once again be the scene of an event in which anglers from many countries, and from all parts of the province, amateur and veteran can fulfill the ambition of winning an angler's prize.

The Rosport Derby attracts more entrants than any other fishing derby in these Dominions. Last year, there were 756 boats and 2168 contestants from the United States and Canada.

Rosport is a picturesque village surrounded by some of the most scenic areas of Northwestern Ontario. It nestles in the shelter of the high hills, with their forested slopes sweeping down to the clear waters of Lake Superior.

A flare-gun fired on the big day at the stroke of 8 a.m. will send the myriad craft racing toward "The Gap", where the big lake trout lurk in the deep in Superior's waters. There are power-boats, sail-boats and even row boats in this motley cavalcade, and lines and lures are flung into the waters by the hundreds.

Lake trout are big, hard-fighting fish. The winners are judged by the poundage of their catch. Last year, trolling from the same boat, Max Thompson, a drugstore proprietor from Milgion, Ontario hooked the winner. It weighed 32 pounds, 11 ounces. Mrs. Rita Ray, from Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, took second-place honors with a beauty tipping the official Derby scales at 29 pounds, 15 ounces.



It's a real sporting event, for sports-minded folks. It grows in volume and interest every year, ranking with the best fishing derbies anywhere, and it is certainly one of Canada's most picturesque sports events.

Any comments and suggestions for this column will be welcomed by Elmer Ferguson c/o Calvert House, 311 Yonge St., Toronto.

INSIDE BASEBALL for Little Leaguers

By HUGHEY McCONNELL
Director of the Brooklyn Dodgers Baseball School

6-29

When the second baseman is the pivot man on a double play, he has three things to do. He must catch the ball, tag the bag and throw to first base without either himself or the ball colliding with the base runner.

To the beginner, the accomplishing of these objectives may be highly confusing if he sees some of the major league stars in action, or movies of such a phenomenal performer as Joe Gordon was at his prime with the Yankees. Gordon could catch the ball, jump in the air and throw with both feet off the ground, and then spin out of the way of the runner sliding into second.

However, not one player in a generation would have the spring in his legs and the forearm strength which enabled Gordon to execute this amazing maneuver. But this shouldn't discourage anyone, because thousands of players have been making the double play by more orthodox methods through the years.

The methods illustrated above are the simplest and safest for the young player and are recommended for those reasons. If you catch the ball behind the bag, you use the "rock back" method, and if you have to cross the bag to take the throw you use the "cross-over". Each method enables you to get out of the path of the base runner and to be in balance as you throw. Some professional players learn to make the throws as they gain physical maturity, but they are developed only after years of experience.

Marlene Recovers from Shakiness, Wins Opening Rounds in Tournament

GANTON, Eng. (CP)—Marlene Stewart settled down after a bout of apparent nervousness Monday and marched through the first and second rounds in defence of the British women's open golf championship she won a year ago.

The freckle - faced, 20-year-old redhead from Fonthill, Ont., recovered her usual composure after trailing by two strokes at the turn to win a 3-and-2 first-round victory over Miss Anne Scarsgill of Yorkshire, England.

Then, as she warmed up, she swept through a 7-and-6 win over Mrs. Ruth Ferguson of Manchester without losing a single hole.

BIG TEST TODAY

Today Marlene has what may be her biggest test in the British open. She meets Margaret (Wiffy) Smith of Pasadena, Calif., a promising 17-year-old who weighs 181 pounds and is being hailed by some British sportswriters as another Babe Zaharias.

Marlene, who was raves for her cool play under fire at last year's tournament, is the favorite this year, took time out from studies at Rollins college in Florida to come to Britain to defend her title.

As usual, the five-foot-one swinger is the tiniest golfer in the field. Happy and laughing before Monday's play, she became silent and grim once she stepped out on the course.

SUFFERED FROM NERVES

Like other leading contestants, she suffered from nerves and played untidily against Miss Scarsgill who was two up at the end of the first nine. During that run she landed in seven sand traps. After the turn she quickly recovered her form and quickly overtook her opponent.

Against Mrs. Ferguson, Marlene was two up on the third hole, then hit two mighty shots on the long sixth to win the hole in four and go three up. She took the seventh and eighth, the latter with a birdie three, and finished the nine holes with a hot 33. She took the 11th and 12th with a par four and birdie three respectively to wind up the match.

300 Pounds Of Medals For Winners

VANCOUVER (CP) — Officials estimated today that about 300 pounds of medals will be awarded during the British Empire Games, July 31 to Aug. 7.

The 1,137 medals are divided into two lots, victory and commemorative, for top-three placing competitors and team officials.

Those awarded for actual athletic recognition are gold, silver and bronze, with the event, competitor's name, and placing engraved on the back.

The commemorative medals will be presented to all non - placing competitors, team spares, managers and coaches, and visiting dignitaries. These non - athletic medals are similar to the third-place bronze medal, but will not be engraved.

The total cost of $7,400 includes a plastic stand, slotted to provide the medals with a paperweight-like platform, and an embossed, padded box, with a crest of the British Empire and Commonwealth Games Federation inscribed on top.

B. E. G. officials said there will be no parchments presented to athletes placing fourth, fifth and sixth, as was previously believed.

Tigers Whip St. Kitts 8-7

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tigers Monday night defeated league-leading St. Catharines Athletics 8-7 in a regular senior Ontario Lacrosse Association game here.

The game, played in three 20-minute periods instead of the usual four 15-minute frames, saw the third-place Tigers take a 7-5 lead in the second after trailing 3-2 at the end of the first period.

Jim McNulty, the league's top scorer, got two for Hamilton. His performance was matched by Tony D'Amico and other scorers were Jack Dorney, Chub Bown, Bob Dibbin and Skip Teal.

Ham Nelson and Weiners Croft paced the Athletics with two each. Other scorers were Derry Davies, Bill Bradshaw and Roger Smith.

Avilia, Snider Set Hit Pace In Major Loops

NEW YORK (AP) — A decade ago the major league batting champions were a Cleveland Indians' infielder and an outfielder for Brooklyn Dodgers. It looks now as though history may be repeated in 1954.

In 1944 Cleveland shortstop, Lou Boudreau, now the manager of Boston Red Sox, won the American League batting title with a .327 average and Brooklyn outfielder Dixie Walker was the National League leader at .357.

Ten years later, as the season nears the halfway point, second baseman Bobby Avila of the Indians tops the American League batting parade with a .371 mark and outfielder Duke Snider of the Dodgers is setting the pace among National League batsmen at .362.

Figures include games of Sunday. Avila seems intent upon making a runaway of the American League race. The 28-year-old Mexican went four-for-28 last week but still holds a comfortable 31-point edge over runner up Al Rosen, also of Cleveland.

Rosen, dogging first baseman, who leads the league in home runs with 14, has a .340 average.

Snider remains in front in the National League, but Don Mueller of the Giants has moved to within three points of him at .365. The 21-year - old Brooklyn flychaser slipped seven points in going 7-for-22. Mueller, advancing from third place, gained one point as he went 10-for-27.

Famous Clown Here With House of David

Bobo Nickerson may not be the best baseball pitcher in the business, but the Kansas Citian, coming to Belleville with the House of David nine from Benton Harbor, Mich., to play the Harlem Globetrotters, Tuesday, July 6th, is known from coast to coast for his clowning antics.

There are many who rate him as the best baseball clown now in action.

Bobo's pitching chores with the Davids have been cut down so that he might devote more time to keeping the fans — and the players, as well — in stitches. Several years ago he pitched in as many as 66 games a season for the whirlwind teams, but development of his clown act, which started by accident, according to him, curtailed his intensive mound chores.

His funny needling of opposing players and especially umpires started Bobo — so nicknamed by his teammates who dubbed him as second Bobo Newsom — initiated his clowning career.

Nickerson tells of an incident which attests to a popularity few players, if any can claim. It seems he was thrown out of a game, and then, by popular demand of the spectators, was put back in.

It happened in Zarah, Kas., where one of the umpires decided that Bobo wasn't going to make a spectacle out of the game and ordered him out. With this the fans roared their disapproval and did everything but lynch the umpire until he put Bobo back in.

"As many times as I've gotten the old heav-ho, this was the first and probably the last time I've ever gotten back into the game after being tossed out," Bobo said.

Greco Beaten By Lauderdale

MONTREAL (CP)—Billy Lauderdale of Hialeah, Fla., Monday night dimmed the comeback hopes of Johnny Greco by winning a split decision over the former Canadian welterweight champion in a 10-round televised bout here.

Greco weighed in at 151½ and Lauderdale at 151¾.

A crowd of about 1,300, capacity at cart-ed Mont St. Louis Auditorium, saw a Lauderdale jolted several times in the opening rounds. The youngster came back to pile up points.

There were no knockdowns. The Florida scrapper came in strong in the seventh round, hitting the Montrealer with both hands from close in and from a distance.

The 30-year-old Greco fought from 1940 until 1952, when he retired after taking back the welter crown from Armand Savoie of Montreal.

Sculling Champ Killed in Air

NEW YORK (CP)—Maj. Joseph Angyal, 38, holder of many United States and Canadian scull championships, was killed Saturday when a jet plane he was flying crashed and exploded on Long Island.

Angyal, a fighter pilot in the Second World War, was on a training flight at a member of the U.S. naval reserve when he was killed.

A past Canadian sculls champion, he had competed at the Royal Canadian Henley regatta at Port Dalhousie, Ont., where he won the Canadian championship in 1932.

Driving Tips from R. W. Buyers, Director, Ontario Safety League.

HOW TO PASS PROPERLY

Pass only on straight, level road—never on a hill or curve or at an intersection!

- Be sure you have plenty of clear road ahead of car you want to pass.
- Pick up to passing speed (10 M.P.H. faster than car you are passing) before you move out into left-hand lane.
- Be sure no one is going to pass you. Then signal to driver ahead that you want to pass, by horn or flashing headlights.
- Don't cut back into right lane until you can see the car you have passed in your rear-view mirror.

1. Be sure of enough straight, level passing space.
2. Pick up to passing speed and don't cut back in too soon.

TCP
gives you up to 15% unexpected power from your engine

Blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, TCP* releases power locked in by lead and carbon deposits. It's the greatest gasoline development in 31 years.

You'll feel your engine's had a tune-up before you've finished your second tankful.

YES, your engine may be 15% more powerful than you think!

And the reason is this:

Lead and carbon deposits are constantly building up in your engine. They "lock-in" power that you should be getting.

These deposits get red hot and set off the fuel charge ahead of time . . . before the piston reaches its proper firing position. Power works against you—not for you. This condition is called pre-ignition, and automotive engineers consider it the biggest cause of power loss.

You also lose power when these deposits make your spark plugs misfire. Building-up on spark plug insulators, they short-circuit the spark.

Both of these power robbers—pre-ignition and short-circuited spark plugs—are at their worst when you need power most—when climbing a hill or accelerating.

Now, however, you can change all this. TCP, a Shell-discovered additive, blended into Shell Premium Gasoline releases the "captive power" in your engine.

First, it "fireproofs" the deposits in your combustion chambers—to stop pre-ignition. Second, by making the deposits non-conductive, TCP additive stops the short-circuiting of your spark plugs.

Shell Premium with TCP acts quickly, too. In fact, before you've finished your second tankful, you'll feel your engine's had a tune-up. But, remember, because these deposits accumulate constantly, continued use of Shell Premium with TCP additive is essential to retain its full benefits. It is the greatest gasoline development since the discovery of tetraethyl lead.

Reid's Regents Play 6-All Tie With Wellington

(by GARRY ALEXANDER)

Darkness fell on the Wellington ball field last night in the eighth inning of a Bay of Quinte Baseball game that was not before the hometown Dukes took advantage of a throwing error to score a run and gain a 6-6 tie with the Reid's Regents of Belleville.

Alderman Hollis Regents were rolling along with a 6-5 lead from the fourth frame on as young Billy Dall hurled near perfect ball in relief of starter Don Dolan. Dall fanned the first batter he faced in the eighth but John Mowat drew a walk and stole second base. The next batter also struck out but Mowat raced to third on a wild pitch as both teams eyed the darkening sky. Garrison stepped to the plate and hit Dall's first pitch toward shortstop as Don "Turk" Barclay cut across from third. The ball scooted past Barclay and threw to first base — wild, while the tying run raced from third. The next batter went down on an infield fly as umpire Carson halted the game.

The Regents went to work fast for a 3-0 lead in the first frame on two walks, a stolen base, fielders choice and a long double by Jack Carey added another in the third on singles by Barclay and Dall and a run scored on a fielders choice.

The Dukes got their second run in the fourth on a double and a single by Dall's double play ball which made it 6-5 later as he romped home while the Duke catcher was tempted to throw to base runner out at second on a steal.

Dall was touched for two hits in his two innings plus while walking three. He struck out 6 batters for the Dukes first four runs. Dall gave up a double in the first frame to Garrison and then went on to hurl no-hit ball the rest of the way. Dolan moved and is using free passes to five. A leaping catch of a line drive second by John Batchelor saved Dall of possible trouble in the fifth.

Bill Garrison will be out for the Mowat coached crew, allowing seven hits. He seemed to improve as the game progressed as he struck out 13 of the Regents including Duke Dolan three times in four occasions. Greer walked three.

Reg Bird was the only batter with two hits as he chopped singles in the fourth and eighth. Wayne Fox and Bill Dall claimed doubles while singles went to Jack Batchelor and Bill Stephens.

The Wellington hitters were Stacey and Mowat with doubles while Sarles had a one-bagger.

The line ups:

Belleville	Doran, Barclay, Casey, Batchelor, Stephens, Fox, Bird, Mowat, Stoliker, Dolan, Dall.
Wellington	Vandusen, Purdelle, Sauder, Hicks, Garrison, Sarles, Greer.

The Kibitzer

At any whim of partner you follow his request. But when you issue orders he does what he likes best.

A sound bidding system includes a set of signals that order a partner what to do. When the order requires the bidding to be kept alive you must not let it die. Orders are orders.

When there is no such order in existence a partner bids only when he has more than expected. So, when not forced to bid by some signal he is responding pass shows a hand that lacks unexpected values.

A deal that brought pain to some duplicate pairs is shown here:

WEST	EAST
♠ J 9 8 6	♠ 10
♥ Q 8 6	♥ A J 7 4 2
♦ A 6 5 3	♦ K 9
♣ 5 4	♣ J 10 9 2

SOUTH
♠ A K Q 4 3
♥ 9
♦ 10 8
♣ A Q 7 6

The proper bidding is like this.

South	North
1 S	2 S
4 C.	4 S
Pass

The fact that north made a simple assist at the first opportunity is not a show of weakness. It simply was to have support for spades and a trick more than the opener had a right to expect.

If north had anything more (which he might have had except after a simple assist) he would have shown it. Over four spades the north four spade bid showed nothing more.

The four clubs bid by south was a jump. The jump is a signal to say the bidding must go very short of game. Had north showed some additional value thereafter, south would have been mathematicious.

Four spades with south as declarer looks as if it should make. There are no trump readers. A trick must be lost in each red suit. A trick may lose in clubs. But that seems all.

Nevertheless, rule leads by the defenders were after a deep finesse. In spite anything declarer could do. Rules are funny that way.

Madoc Junction

PRESENTATION

MADOC JUNCTION — A pleasant evening was enjoyed when Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McKeown, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Sharp, visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith on the occasion of their 1st. wedding anniversary and on behalf of a special group of friends from Mt. Pleasant, presented Frank and Nina with a lovely silver cake plate.

Mr. Carl Bridges and Mrs. Thomas Bridges, of Toronto, spent Sunday night after spending the past week in Ottawa, where they visited the former's son, Mr. Chas. Bridges, who is building a new home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jervis, attended a family reunion recently at about 75 relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Jervis' uncle at Grafton, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clancy, Mr. Keith Clancy; Mr. and Mrs. Dougie Clancy, of Harold; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Clancy and Lloyd were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett, Friday night at the Fitchett-Clancy cottage, Oak Lake. It was Mr. and Mrs. M. Clancy's 5th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith spent several days on a delightful motor trip through the north country, including Algonquin Park and the Muskoka Lakes district.

Mr. Hiram Ashley returned home on Sunday after spending over a week visiting at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Miller, Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bell of Deseronto.

Mr. Clarence Fitchett, Mr. Maurice Clancy, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke attended the church service for Loyal Lodge No. 247, A.M. No. 69, which was held in St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell and family, of Deseronto, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Ashley on Sunday.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How do you figure a success like Eddie Fisher?

Eddie, who was born Edwin Jack Fisher in Philadelphia almost 26 years ago, is the biggest record seller today. His fan following harks back to the hurried heydays of Frank Sinatra. With appearances on radio and TV shows and in the flesh, his take may reach a million dollars this year. All this without having been in a movie.

"How has he done it?"

"I've been lucky," he smiled. "That's my only explanation. I suggested that perhaps the public was ready for a full - voice singer like Eddie after an era of crooners.

YOU DON'T CROON

"That might be part of it," he agreed. "I can remember when I got a job at the Copacabana in New York' (at $125 a week). That was eight years ago, when Sinatra was at his peak and his first career, that is.

"I was belting the songs then, giving them everything I had. Even the love songs, although I didn't know anything about love then. People told me I should sing softer, that I ought to croon. I couldn't see it that way.

"Other things in my favor? I'd say timing. Timing and management. I was fortunate in coming to the attention of Milt Blackstone, my manager. He channeled my career in the proper direction, avoiding the mistakes I would have made by myself. He also steered me to Eddie Cantor, who gave me my first big break.

ARMY DELIVERS

"I think my army service helped me, too. I was away from home two of the best years of my life. I got in troupe, which most young people don't have a chance to do these days. I sang before all kinds of audiences around the world. I was a GI like the rest of them, but I was on a spot, too."

Fisher got a line on Fisher over lunch at the Ambassador Hotel, where he is headlining the Coconut Grove show. Much has been said about his modesty, and appears to be genuine; He seems to be earnestly trying to please. He admitted that he had doubled out here on a previous visit. Some photographers were mad at him when he declined to be photographed with a glamor doll he was squiring. But he said it was all a misunderstanding. He seems to have the ability to overcome especially his young fans.

MISSED TV CRIME COIN'S

Much of Eddie's success is due to his choice of songs to record. He gave credit to the credit to Hugo Winterhalter, the musical mind of Victor Records. Every song he puts to wax, Eddie said he might listen to hundreds of prospective tunes.

His judgement is not infallible. Recently he was vacationing in Florida, a song writer brought him a new song and urged him to record it. The singer listened and shook his head. The song: "Three Coins in the Fountain." Today's No. 1 hit.

But he can be very right, too. As with "Oh, My Papa."

How does he choose a song?

"I'm a great title man. I fall in love with titles like 'Green Leaves of Summer.' I like words; I like something I can really belt. And I look for things that can make good arrangements. Like when I saw Hugo's arrangement of 'Wish You Were Here.' I said then 'This looks great for me. I can change keys four times.'"

Frank Dunning Winner Of One-Club Match

PICTON — Frank Dunning was winner of the McGee trophy in the one-club competition held at Picton Golf and Country Club on Sunday. He had a score of 45. Tied at 46 were Gerry Gerrard, Ross and Ted Folds with 46, followed by Bob Wright with 47, Keith Maddocks and J. Boos, 48; Ron Colliver, 49; A. Anderson and G. Morrison, 50.

There were 28 players taking part and Draney were made for the single club to be used. The winner drew a number 1 iron. His scores on the nine holes were: 6-7-5-6-5-5-3-6-4.

Other scores were: G. Garrison, Toronto, 50; C. Barber, Toronto, 51; H. Welsh, 52; W. D. MacArthur, 54; S. Tessel, 59; R. Chilnick, 59; Dr. G. Caughey, 59; W. Minshall, 56; J. Goodwin, 52; E. Jones, 52; T. Rankin, 52; H. Bowers, 54; D. Hooper, 51; D. Evans, 61; D. Conley, 61; B. Tully, 60; J. Cowan, 56; R. L. Smith, G. Fraser, not reported.

AT THE BELLE—Red Skelton and Joan Hayer exact husband and wife in "Half A Hero", M.G.M. comedy-drama, its the hilarious story of a young couple who find life on a budget a real test of patience, courage and ingenuity. The picture comes in color, by the major feature attraction, showing today and Wednesday, at the Belle.

Minor Softball

The Rotary Club pee wees downed the Pepsi Cola youngsters 13-3 in a game played at the fire-hall last night.

Archer and Duggan formed the winning battery with Archer surrendering 11 hits while fanning four and walking the same number. Rowland and Moreau worked for Pepsi Cola with pitcher Rowland being banged around for 15 base hits as he struck out four and walked a single man.

Butcher and McPherson poked out 3 trio of singles for Rotary's offensive. Archer had a double, Zakos and Duggan each claimed a pair of one-baggers while Archer rounded a home run. The hitters after the cold-drink kids were Moreau and Rowland with three singles each. Mulloy had two. Bowers claimed a pair of doubles and Davis had a triple.

Leads Ontario Lady Golfers

HAMILTON (CP)—Mrs. J. H. McCarter of Toronto Lambton led the field of contestants for places on the Ontario ladies' interprovincial team Monday in a test match at the Hamilton Golf and Country Club.

As a result of her two-over-par 77, Mrs. McCarter picked up 19 points moving her to second place in the points standing.

Mrs. N. J. Carlson of Toronto Rosedale had 80, Mary Gay of Kitchener - Westmount 81, Shirley Woodley of Toronto Ladies, 82 and Mrs. J. B. Seagram and Mrs. H. R. Armstrong, both of Toronto, had 84s.

Two more tests remain—at Kingston and Toronto.

BISHOP SUCCUMBS

BURNLEY, England (Reuters)—Rt. Rev. Charles Keith Kipling Frosser, 57, suffragan Bishop of Burnley since 1950, died here Sunday night.

Tommy Bolt Wins Tourney In Playoff

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Tommy Bolt, fighting desperately to protect a one-stroke lead, won the Insurance City open tournament 18-hole playoff Monday when Earl Stewart conceded on the final green in a heavy shower.

Stewart, 39-year-old golfer, was the decisive final hole socked his tee shot out of bounds by about 15 inches. He had to play another drive, which counted as his third stroke, and then sent the ball sailing off the green.

Meanwhile Bolt, scoring his first major PGA tourney victory since winning the Miami Beach football with Dick Mayer last March, was on the green in two, within easy range of the 4 Stewart pitched to the pin on his fifth shot, and quickly picked it up. For the colorful Bolt, a transplanted Texan from Ralworth, Okla., the action was worth the money of $2,400. Stewart collected $1,800.

WALL COLLAPSES

MONTREAL (CP)—Roomers in a tourist house in central Montreal got more fresh air than they bargained for early Sunday when an outside wall parted company from the rest of the three-storey building. Police and Mayor Louise Perreault, 62, sleeping in one of the rooms, was taken to hospital suffering from shock. Excavation work had loosened the foundations.

Nature Lessons are "Live" in This School

Being sent to the principal's office for smuggling a toad-frog into class is a thing of the past. At least it is in San Antonio, Texas schools where students are encouraged to bring their pets in as part of a new program in elementary schools to dramatize lessons. Here Charles Ward looks over his nature lesson book with his pet duck "Squawk." The duck is a constant companion of Charles. (Central Press Canadian).

West Germany Prepared To Field Army of 500,000

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany (AP) — Disarmed West Germany is prepared to field a hard-hitting new Wehrmacht of 500,000 men within the next two years to bolster western defences against Russia.

But action by France and Italy on the European Defence Community project is required before the Germans can start building up this force.

All preparations have been completed—on paper. If EDC is finally ratified, the national defence commission in Bonn can press a button and the wheels of the new German military organization will start to turn.

The plans call for 12 divisions, six of them infantry, four armored and two motorized, plus an air force of 1,500 planes and 90,000 men, and a 20,000-man navy.

SUPPORT GROUND TROOPS

The "baby Luftwaffe" would consist of jet fighters and fighter-bombers and reconnaissance and transport planes. Its functions are to be limited to air interception and support of ground troops.

The navy is to be restricted to coastal duties such as keeping harbors and shipping lanes open along the German coasts. It would consist mainly of swift patrol craft, motor torpedo boats, escort vessels, minesweepers and minelayers.

With 49,000,000 people, West Germany has a larger population than either France or Italy. It is capable in the event of war of building a bigger armed force than any other power on the European continent except Soviet Russia.

European statesmen tied German rearmament to the EDC on May 27, 1952, when they signed in Paris the treaty to create a division defence force including West Germany.

RESISTANCE

This force, commonly referred to as the European army, would embrace 2,000,000 men in a 4-5 vision army. The French would have 14 divisions, the Germans and Italians 12 each. Belgium three and the Netherlands three. Luxembourg would contribute a brigade.

Soviet Russia has 22 divisions of shock troops in east Germany and an additional 60 soviet divisions in east European satellite countries and western Russia, according to a recent allied intelligence report. In all, Russia has a standing army of 175 divisions.

In Germany, the allies now have more troops than the Russians and a numerical and qualitative edge in airpower. The EDC treaty, however, is stalled in the French and Italian Parliaments. West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg have approved it.

Some of Germany's Second World War officers have been drawing up the blueprints for the new Wehrmacht.

MINISTRY FORBIDDEN

This military planning office is called the national defence commission, because West Germany is forbidden by the allies to have a formal defence ministry until it starts rearming. This commission's boss is Theodor Blank, a former labor union official.

Blank's staff long ago completed the detailed plans for the new Wehrmacht, including new training grounds, barracks and airfields, and the system for selecting officers, recruiting NCO's and conscripting 18-year-olds.

More than 115,000 Germans have volunteered for service already. They have been registered and investigated by the defence commission and advised to "stand by."

There will be three classes of volunteers:

1. Professional officers receiving permanent commissions.

2. Soldiers volunteering for minimum three- or four-year periods.

The defence commission says the first of these volunteers can be put into uniform within a month after final ratification of the EDC. The full force of 500,000 men would be ready to take the field within 12 more months.

White's District

WHITE'S DISTRICT — A number of Collegiate students have been enjoying their holidays for the past two weeks, having been successful on their year's work.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parker and family, of Campbellford district, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bowers and family.

Masters Raymond and Paul Masse were Monday visitors of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Duetis, at their summer cottage.

The children of the local schools took part in the Field Day exercises at O.S.D., Belleville, on Friday afternoon. Master Billy Arthur, of Quinte View school, had the misfortune to injure his ankle.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Young, and also Mabel Brown, were callers on Sunday afternoon of Miss M. Young and Mrs. John Palmer, of Hillier.

Mrs. W. A. Jeffery spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sickle.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hilham, Sylvia and Larry were Friday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, of Belleville.

Services at White's Church were held on Sunday morning with the Rev. Oscar Wagar, B.A., B.D., of Belleville, as guest speaker. His text for a most interesting address was, "The Kingdom of God". Miss Joan Shoemaker rendered a solo, "Onto the Ethic Around", accompanied by Mrs. Floyd Dudley as pianist.

Guatemala's Head Of State to Meet Leader of Rebels

Expect 2 Anti-Communists Will Organize New Junta

GUATEMALA CITY (Reuters)—Guatemala's new head of state, Col. Alfredo Monzon, meets rebel leader Col. ' Castillo Armas in neighboring El Salvador, probably today, to negotiate a truce in the 12-day fighting.

Diplomats here in the Guatemalan capital believed the two, anti-Communists both, would join in still another new governing junta. The general feeling was that Castillo Armas could dictate his own terms.

(The rebel's rear headquarters said late Tuesday Castillo Armas was ready to discuss truce terms but insisted on assurance that the anti-Communist drive would continue).

The Vatican's nuncio to Guatemala, Msgr. Gennaro Verolino, has agreed to be the third party at the armistice conference.

The truce talks came after a quick series of political changes which moved Col. Carlos Enrique Diaz out of power less than 48 hours after he had ousted ex-president Jacobo Arbenz Monzon was internal affairs chief under the deposed Arbenz regime, police under Arbenz.

Diaz, first reported arrested, later gained political asylum. Arbenz, who yielded power to Diaz on Saturday, now is in the Mexican embassy with a large number of other refugees.

Lamport Named Vice-Chairman TTC Board

TORONTO (CP) — Ex-mayor Allan A. Lamport was passed over today when the Toronto Transit Commission chose its new chairman.

William Russell, one of the other four commissioners, was elected. He is labor's representative on the commission.

Mr. Lamport, 49, who resigned Monday after 3½ terms as mayor and was appointed a commissioner Tuesday, was named vice-chairman.

When Mr. Lamport stepped down from the mayor's chair with his salary of $18,000, he became ineligible for the $8,000-a-year commissionership and it was predicted that he would probably be chosen chairman in succession to the late W. C. McBrien, whose annual salary was $15,000.

Airliner Pilot Reports Sighting Plane Wreckage

LONDON (AP) — A Portuguese airliner pilot today reported sighting the wreckage of "a giant transport" Sunday, two days before an 25 miles south of the English coastal town of Bournemouth.

Search planes and helicopters immediately took from British airfield to scour the reported wreckage area.

Captain Marciano Veiga, pilot of a Portuguese Skymaster, flew into London airport from Lisbon and said he caught two glimpses of the plane through a thick haze.

"It was lying perfectly still," Veiga said, "and appeared to be a giant transport painted white as our civil airliners."

London airport has not received any report of missing aircraft.

Control Board Wants Pearson To Continue

TORONTO (CP) — Members of the Toronto board of control said today they will refuse to accept the resignation of parks commissioner Oscar Pearson and will use all methods of persuasion to get him to reconsider. The commissioner handed in his letter of resignation Tuesday.

Toronto's newly-appointed Mayor Leslie H. Saunders said he will ask the commissioner to reconsider. He was supported by controllers Phil Givens, David Balfour and Roy Belyea who all said Mr. Pearson is too valuable a man to lose.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: Cloud spread rapidly eastwards over southern Ontario early this morning and only the extreme southeastern region had clear skies at the time of the eclipse. Cool air pushing southwards across northern Ontario resulted in extensive cloudiness and drizzle over the line of total eclipse. Cooler air will advance across southern Ontario early Thursday. Scattered showers and isolated thunderstorms will occur in advance of this cooler air.

PATIENTS FOUND INJURED AT FOOT OF CLIFF

Brought to Top By Police Rescue Team

HAMILTON (CP)—Two patients from the Mountain Sanatorium were found this morning in an injured condition some 100 feet down the face of the escarpment by six attendants from the hospital who were going for a stroll on their day off. The men heard cries for help and found the pair.

Injured are Bertram Storey, 25, be Toronto, and Jean O'Hara, 23, also of Toronto. Both received bruises and lacerations from the fall and the woman suffered a cracked ankle bone. They are reported in a fair condition after being brought to the top of the mountain by a police rescue team.

A sanatorium doctor said he believed that the pair were knocked unconscious and did not regain consciousness until this morning.

The two victims of the 100 foot fall said they went for a walk in the twilight and failed to see the edge of the mountain in the gathering darkness.

60,000 Flee Mexican Town Before Flood

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Laredo awoke to business as usual—but minus—water supply—today with the greatest flood in the Rio Grande history surging past its doorstep.

Across the river, Nuevo Laredo showed no sign of life. It's on lower ground, and most of the 60,000 people have fled to the hills while water rose in the street.

Upstream 85 miles, the situation at Piedras Negras, Mexico, a month-old border village of 35,000 across the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass, was described as desperate.

How many were drowned there—if any—nobody knew.

An area higher patrol man said he believed reports of 500 dead in the little Mexican city would be "grossly exaggerated."

"However," he said, "there are a lot of them. I'd say 100 at least took an awful beating."

Nearly 100 miles north of Del Rio, at Ozona, Tex., the latest count showed 16 persons dead and one still missing in a cloudburst like several Sunday, that gorged the Rio Grande out of its banks.

Billy Graham Suffers Another Kidney Attack

PARIS (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham today suffered another kidney attack that sent him into hospital for an examination.

But doctors told the American evangelist they didn't think it was serious and Graham went ahead with conference which had already been scheduled.

Graham's kidney ailment put him in a hospital for a brief time in Copenhagen, Denmark, two days before he left on a crusade in Berlin Sunday.

Reds Say First Atomic Power Station Opened

LONDON (Reuters) — Moscow radio announced today that the first electricity generating station using atomic energy began working in Russia three days ago.

Quoting an official statement by the Soviet Council of Ministers, the radio said the station has a capacity of 5,000 kilowatts and supplies electric power for industrial and agricultural purposes to the surrounding districts.

The radio gave no say where the station was situated.

Britain is now building an atomic power plant in Scotland which officials hope will be feeding electricity into the national grid by 1956. Several other countries, including Canada and France also have announced plans for similar projects.

OFF TO STAMPEDE

KINGSTON (CP)—Capt. R. E. MacNichols and 26 Dunloch riders of the Royal Canadian School of Signals, Vimy Barracks, Kingston by train Tuesday night for the forthcoming Calgary stampede where they will demonstrate their skill as trick motorcycle riders. After performing at the stampede, to be held from July 2 to 10, the team will go to Vancouver for the British Empire Games.

Must Learn to Live With All Sorts Of Folk in Wicked World—Churchill

OTTAWA (CP) — Sir Winston Churchill said today that he still believes Russia and the West can learn to live side by side in peace.

The British prime minister said that he holds a great hatred for communism but that does not exclude the possibility of peaceful co-existence.

"We may have to learn to live with all sorts of people in this wicked world," he told a press conference following talks with the Canadian cabinet.

87th Anniversary of National Birth Celebrated by Canada

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canada on Thursday celebrates her 87th birthday as a nation, recalling the historic days of 1867 when Confederation joined the provinces of upper and lower Canada (which became Ontario and Quebec) with Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

The Canada of today with 13,000,000 people in 10 provinces is a great contrast to the year of Confederation, when the entire area now included in Canada had only 3,680,000 population in 1871, and only a portion of it was settled by confederating provinces.

The province of Manitoba was formed and admitted to confederation in 1870, British Columbia joined in 1871, Prince Edward Island in 1873, Canada remained seven provinces for a little more than 30 years until Alberta and Saskatchewan were established and admitted to the confederation in 1905.

The youngest province and oldest colony, Newfoundland, formally joined Canada as its 10th province on March 31, 1949.

One of the few holidays that has been celebrated as a Monday observance, Canada's birthday retains the official title of "Dominion Day."

A bill to change the name to "Canada Day" was introduced in Parliament by Philias Cote, then Liberal member for Matapedia-Matane, Que., in 1946. After lively debate it was given third reading and then passed another waste discussion in the Senate, which threw it out, and sent it back to the Commons where it died.

Mr. Cote tried again in 1950 with a private members bill to make it Canada Day. The bill was rejected 73 to 39 on second reading, in a vote that split through the ranks of the Liberals and CCF parties. The Progressive Conservatives and Social Credit voted against it.

Even the cabinet split on the 1950 vote. Prime Minister St. Laurent voted "nay" in the House, but Works Minister Fournier voted for the measure while Resources Minister Winters and Veterans Minister Gregg voted against it. Labor Minister Mitchell was paired with another member, but said he would have voted against it. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, and CCF leader M. J. Coldwell both voted against it.

Canadians marking the day across the country will be joined in spirit by many overseas men, including Canadian soldiers and sailors still stationed in Europe and soldiers and airmen stationed in Europe under NATO.

Canadian diplomats represent-atives abroad will commemorate the day in many parts of the world—in 24 embassies, eight legations, seven high commissioners' offices in nations of the Commonwealth and 10 consulates-general.

Claim Contractors Overpaid 2½ Million on 16 Road Jobs

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario highways department claims it overpaid contractors $2,500,000 on 16 road contracts between 1949 and 1953, J. L. Zoller, the department's deputy minister, said today.

Mr. Zoller, testifying before the legislature's highways investigation committee, asked that the $2,500,000 was the maximum figure set by the department "and in the end will be considerably smaller."

He told the committee the department started action at what price it believes will be taken to recover the money "until the court cases are finished."

Mr. Zoller returned to the witness stand today after appearing Tuesday that the department claims it over-paid on contracts totalling $40,000,000 for construction work on the Trans-Canada highway skirting the north shore of Lake Superior.

Both Highways Minister Doucett and D. H. Mills, former deputy minister of highways, are expected to take the stand to shed some light on the disagreements also scheduled to appear is a representative of the Dufferin Paving and Guaranty Co., a bonding firm which Tuesday was threatened with a $4,000,000 lawsuit unless some persons from the company appears before the committee.

Mr. Zoller told the committee, after a heated exchange between the members over the admissability of his evidence, that the highways department claimed $940,000 from the Wolfe Construction Co. for over-payments on three contracts. He said the department was seeking legal advice on what steps it is to take to recover the money.

UNABLE FINISH JOB

Wolfe Construction was forced over to the highways department by Lancashire Guarantee and Accident Co. of Canada after it said today that it could not complete its work.

One contract, let in 1949 for $1,000,000 is completed in 1953 at a final cost of $716,000, another was in 1950 for $423,000 and the last April 28 payments totalled $1,-111,542. A similar job let in the same year for $441,210, reached $1,110,-323 up to last April 28.

Albert Wolfe, president, (Mr.—Kenora) asked who authorized the overruns on the contracts. J. L. Clarke, the department's chief engineer, said he did not know. Mr. Zoller said the individual authority was not sent in requests for them.

"Would the head office have no say?" asked committee chairman Colin Roberts (PC—Toronto St. Patrick).

"Not unless it took time to scrutinize the figures," replied Mr. Clarke.

"It wouldn't take too long to look at the figures," said Mr. Roberts.

Mr. Clarke said he could not reply to that statement as he wasn't the department engineer at the time.

"The department was just using horse and buggy methods in a streamlined age," interjected Mr. Wren.

Mr. Clarke said at the time the work "was so vast and widespread and there were so few people to check it."

Mr. Zoller said one reason head office officials may not have taken note of the overruns was that the north shore highway had been raised to trans-Canada standards.

Mayor Whitton Wants Situation Cleaned Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Mayor Charlotte Whitton Tuesday reported to board of control the discovery that 43 squatters are living in conditions she described as "not fit for a dingdated building owned by the Canadian army.

The mayor said the settlement at the mouth of the Rideau river adjacent to the lower town residential area.

"There is a terrific threat of fire and danger to the occupants and the citizens of Ottawa," she said. "There's only one toilet serving the 18 adults and 14 children living in the building.

Mayor Whitton referred to the defence department to demolish immediately the building, which loomed some time ago by the army. An army spokesman said the army declined responsibility with the city for the situation and would co-operate in seeking a solution.

Mayor Whitton said the squatters are not residents of Ottawa. They include people from points outside the city and Montreal.

Tax Collector Convicted Of Evading Tax

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph D. Nunan Jr., senior tax collector in the Truman administration, on Tuesday was convicted of evading payment of $91,086 of his own income tax.

The 55-year-old former commissioner of internal revenue faces a possible total sentence of 25 years in prison and a $50,000 fine. He will be sentenced by the five counts of an indictment covering the years 1946 through 1950.

A key defence contention was that Nunan was within his rights when he was accused of failing to pay taxes was an inheritance of his wife's and not subject to tax.

A highlight of the trial was testimony from author Fulton Fredsin son that he lost an $1,500 bet to Nunan that Harry S. Truman would be re-elected president in 1948.

Asked by U.S. Attorney Leonard P. Moore why he didn't report that income, Nunan said: "Because I'm honest."

FOURTH BISHOP

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Rev. Ernest Samuel Read, 45, Tuesday became the fourth Anglican bishop in Ottawa's 100-year history at a consecration ceremony in Christ Church cathedral. Most Rev. Robert J. Renison, metropolitan of Ontario and archbishop of Moosonee, conducted the consecration.

ST. LAURENT AND CHURCHILL START TALKS

Discussions Commence At Dinner Tuesday Eve

OTTAWA (CP)—The leaders of Britain and Canada have held their first talks on the current world crisis.

The discussions were carried out informally in Sir Winston Churchill's third-story hotel suite Tuesday night, a few hours after his arrival from Washington.

Though there were no disclosures of the details, it is believed the British prime minister gave Prime Minister St. Laurent an intimate picture of the nature of his conversations in Washington with President Eisenhower.

The 79-year-old statesman, making his second visit to Ottawa in 30 months, believes Canada has a special and important role to play in Western relations.

At suburban Rockcliffe airport, where he was given all the trimmings of a warm and friendly welcome, he described Canada as the master-link in Anglo-American unity."

SMALL DINNER PARTY

Within a few hours he plunged into conversations with Mr. St. Laurent at a small dinner party in Winston's Chateau Laurier hotel suite. Also present were Prime Minister Howe and Sir Archibald Nye, Britain's high commissioner to Canada.

The discussions will be continued this morning, resuming at 10:30 a. m. EDT today. Sir Winston, who first came to Canada more than 50 years ago to lecture on the Boer War, during the day also will address a press conference; lunch with Sir Archibald; prepare a radio talk; dine with the Canadian government, and then take off by air for New York early the evening to board the Queen Elizabeth for home.

Mr. Churchill received a great ovation Tuesday, though the general public was barred from Rockcliffe airport, he was applauded by some 300 civilians who gathered behind the barrier. Among the RCAF officers at the chateau, in the heart of the capital.

Sir Winston seemed a little aged when he stepped down from the RCAF North Star aircraft that brought him from Washington, but he was still resolute; his face calm, carrying the determination that helped drive the Allies to victory in the Second World War.

Crash-Land Jet, Airmen Unhurt

OAKPOINT, Man. (CP) — Two instructors from the RCAF station at Portage La Prairie, Man., escaped injury at noon Tuesday when their supersonic Jet Vampire trainer in a farmer's field on the east side of Lake Manitoba, a mile northeast of here.

They are: Sqdn. Ldr. J. T. Mulcair of Cornwall, Ont., and Brigadier of Portage la Prairie.

On a routine training flight, the couple encountered rain and low clouds. They radioed their base that they had only 1½ gallons of fuel left and soon afterwards the Vampire's engine flamed out.

RCMP picked the men up from the field. The plane was believed to be not badly damaged.

Oakpoint is 45 miles northeast of Portage la Prairie.

Sir Winston Given Wild Ovation On Way From Hotel to Conference

OTTAWA (CP) — Sir Winston Churchill got a wild ovation from thousands of spectators as he made his way from the hotel to the Parliament Buildings for conferences with the Canadian cabinet.

The British prime minister was cheered and applauded by crowds from his Chateau Laurier hotel room. He smoke a big cigar, rolled one of his famous "V-for-Victory" sign to some 500 persons who were waiting on the street than an hour in the lobby for a glimpse of the British statesman.

He shook hands with some of the women and children; to others he merely wagged a finger good-humoredly; his eyes twinkling and his face creased in cherubic smiles.

Wave after wave of applause and cheers broke out from the crowds.

Close behind Sir Winston was Anthony Eden, Britain's foreign secretary; Sir Winston's other aides; and a small corps of RCMP officers and other police in civilian clothes.

Looking fit, Sir Winston decided to sit atop a folded-down canopy in the back seat of an open convertible on the way to Parliament's East Block. Mr. Eden watched the proceedings from inside up to the top of the seat, then followed him.

A crowd of nearly 1,000 milled around the East Block as Sir Winston and Mr. Eden arrived for their conference with the cabinet.

Sir Winston stepped out of the convertible unassisted and was greeted by Prime Minister St. Laurent. The two prime ministers and Mr. Eden paused for a few moments for cameramen, then entered the East Block for their conference.

The two prime ministers already had held initial talks of the current world crisis.

Pretty Songster Gets Free Ride In Motor Car

Many strange "birds" have been noticed thumbing their way along the highways and byways.

Now, comes a hitch-hiking wild canary.

The pretty songster did not flip a wing when the motorist approached in a short distance this side of Preston. In fact it swooped from nowhere into the path of the car, and Mrs. Horace Wright, the driver thought it had committed suicide.

Mrs. Wright stopped the car but no sign of life in the bird was apparent. She thought it had escaped injury and flown away.

Some time later she pulled into the Boyce Service Station, Front Street for gas and oil. The attendant stepped back in amazement after he lifted the hood of the car. There, clinging to the motor insulation, in an upside down position was the feathered hitch-hiker.

Came a whirr of yellow wings, and the imprisoned little bird flew away to new found freedom.

Just how the canary reached its spot under the hood, and how it escaped death by the fan, is something of a mystery.

priest's woodshed as the skies grew black.

But the group headed by Dr. John Evans, president of the Dominion Astronomical Society, didn't even bother setting up its 10-foot long spectrographic camera with which it planned to photograph the sun's chromosphere.

The weather man had told the astronomers an hour before there was just about one chance in 1,000 that the eclipsing sun would break through—and that didn't materialize.

SCENT ONE IN 1982

"It's a pretty miserable windup after all the preparations," Dr. Evans said, but that's astronomy. We can only hope that other parts will have had better luck."

"Anyhow," he said with a laugh, "we can settle down to getting set for the next one."

For Canada, that will be nine years from now. In 1963 total eclipse, the ribbon of totality will stretch from James bay through the Maritimes.

The astronomy parties here had planned mainly today to make observations on the sun's temperature and with a view to geodetic survey work.

'Gloomy Trade Picture' Says SC Leader Speaking to Kiwanis

Solon Low, national leader of the Social Credit party, said here yesterday, if a fairer trade balance cannot be struck with the U.S. the only solution is for the British Commonwealth to form a single trade unit and protect the home market.

Giving a rundown on a "handful of problems" confronting Canada to the Kiwanis Club, Mr. Low said that today, in his experience he had never known a "more gloomy trade picture."

Canada is buying much more from the United States than the United states is buying from us," he said. Therefore Canada is constantly in need of U.S. dollars.

Experts estimate, he said, that a one per cent switch in buying from the U.S. to British would solve the problem.

"Our first and foremost responsibility is to buy from the country that is buying from us," he said.

"If we are going to achieve convertibility we need to establish west trade on a smooth pattern."

He pointed out that the United States that she must buy from the rest of the world what the rest of the world wants to buy from her," he said.

PROVIDE TRADE BALANCE

"The only recourse to this," Mr. Low said, "is for the British Commonwealth to band together and as a unit provide the trade balance for the world."

Touching on immigration he warned of the dangers of the influence of European immigrants of the Communistic persuasion particularly of the ethnic press fractial papers for immigrants established in Canada). Of 139 foreign papers established here he said the great majority had been established by the Moscow and teach the Communist line, he said.

"How are we going to populate Canada with people who will not integrate themselves with Canada and at the same time be really loyal?" he asked.

"There are certain ethnic papers in Canada who are loyal," he said, "but some of them were having a hard time and went under while the Communist-financed press succeeded."

URGES PRICE SUPPORT.

He called for greater support of the British preference by Canada, chiefly by buying advertising space in the papers.

Mr. Low also blamed the present unemployment on the loss to Canada of its markets—and urged price support for farmers' products.

"Our prosperity," he said "depends on the prosperity of the farmers."

Farmers total 22 per cent of the population, he said, and they received under 10 per cent of the national income.

He advocated a price support that would be "more or less flexible" under conditions.

"We must get out of our minds any prejudice there may be against support prices," he said.

Mr. Low blamed the high cost of the nation is that we have solved the problem of production but we have failed to solve the problem of distribution," he said.

"We just don't solve this problem we will be victims of recurring recessions, he warned.

Only then, he said, will have to exercise the greatest perseverance in order to solve the trade balance problem.

"If we are going to make this country the great country it promises to be we are going to have to discover, as Disraeli said 'equality,'" he added.

Mr. Low was introduced by Frank Creegan and thanked by Lt.-Gov. Bill Sisco. The meeting was chaired by Staff McKenna.

Man Jumped On From Behind By Two Assailants

Fighting off two assailants who jumped him from behind as he was walking along the C.N.R. tracks towards home, Charles Sprague, 39 Gordon Street, early today had his glasses broken and sustained a cut under his left eye before the two men became scared and ran away.

Sprague told police that the two thugs jumped him and said "we want your money" before striking him and breaking his glasses. Sprague fought back however and his two assailants apparently became scared and made off.

A railway telegraph operator at Trenton, Mr. Sprague left the north station shortly after one o'clock to walk along the tracks toward home. The attack took place between the station and Cannifton Road. Five stitches were required to close the cut under Sprague's eye.

This is the second time this week a man has been attacked under the cover of darkness while on his way home. Monday night John Hefferman, Cannifton Road, was given the beating with a rock by two men who jumped him in an alley.

Police do not think there is any connection between the two incidents.

Due to Clouds Eclipse Faintly Seen in District

"Ole Sol" wore a beautiful "shiner" today—and was ashamed of it.

So ashamed, in fact, that after a brief appearance, he made even not too many curious humans were watching, he ducked behind a cloud formation and stayed there until the black mass had disappeared.

Occasionally he peeked out, but it was a very brief appearance, just enough, if one happened to be watching, to give a general idea of where the sun was in the sky.

This reporter's impression was that the eclipse began at approximately 7-12 a.m. was approximately seventy-five per cent totality.

Light waves from reflecting pink, rose and other colors here and there, were visible, however.

Police were not receiving many calls today from persons who had seen the eclipse.

Weather bureau officials in Toronto say that the eclipse was visible from Toronto to Montreal, but that it was not visible from Ottawa.

$15,000 Damage When Tractor Trailer Hits Tree

William Donoghue, Long Branch, escaped injury in a crash today, when the Shoreline Transport he was driving left the highway near new Sol Sherry School for the Deaf west of Belleville and crashed into a maple tree.

The big tractor and trailer used for hauling cement was completely demolished in the crash with damage estimated at close to $15,000.

Donoghue was cast-bound with his empty transport intending to pick up a load of cement at Point Anne, when as he touched his brakes the front wheels grabbed and pulled him off the highway. The right front wheel of the tractor struck the tree, bounced off and went on to strike another tree. The impact of the tractor and trailer platform then struck the tree, almost cutting it down, leaving the trailer and imbedded the metal framework into the tree trunk.

Although shaken up by the impact the driver escaped injury.

Traffic along No. 2 highway was held up while wrecking trucks hauled the wrecked transport back onto the highway and took it away. Provincial police inspected the steel framework of the trailer was still imbedded in the tree. The while the rear duals of the tractor torn away by the impact rested in the ditch.

Provincial Constables J. Fullerton and E. Park investigated.

Progress Report Of Belle Haven Club Presented

The Belle Haven Club, formed four months ago to aid handicapped and disabled persons in the Belleville district, held its first quarterly meeting Monday and came up with a satisfactory progress report.

Since its inception the club now has made available to its members a free hospital bed, free ambulance service including oxygen equipment, the loan of wheelchairs and a library. Many more necessities will be added as finances permits, the club reports.

At Monday's meeting J. Nisbet was installed as chairman of the committee. Bed Home Service committees with committee members being Mrs. E. Burrows, Mrs. Catherine Reddick, Mr. R. Whalen, Pt. Anne and Miss Helen Ackerman, Ontario.

CARDS OF THANKS

Mrs. Hicks Jones and family wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to neighbors, friends and relatives for their cards of sympathy, acts of kindness and floral tributes extended to them during their recent bereavement. Special thanks to Rev. Howard Scott for his most comforting message. 730

I sincerely wish to thank my friends, relatives, Doctors Empson and Hart, nurses and orderlies on First South for their kindness to me during my recent stay in St. Vincent's Hospital. 730

I wish to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to relatives, friends and neighbors who called on me while a patient in the Belleville General Hospital. Also to those who sent flowers, fruit, cards and other gifts during my stay there. Special thanks goes to my friends from Northern Electric Co., nurses and staff of Ward 3 and Mrs. and T. Russell Rose. Thank you so much.
—Mrs. Mary Yorke. 730

Kinsmen Club Resumes Free Swim Lessons

Free swimming and free swimming lessons resume at the Kinsmen Community swimming pool on Wednesday, June 30.

There will be five classes of swimming instruction for age groups: seven years and under; eight to nine years; ten to eleven years; twelve years and over, and adults.

A new feature offered this year is a special class for adults. It is hoped that many adults will take advantage of the opportunity to learn to swim or improve their style.

As usual there will be a free swimming period for everyone from eleven a.m., to eleven-thirty a.m., every day except Sunday.

The full schedule of classes appears below:

BIRTHS

PASCOE.—Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Pascoe, Malvern, are happy to announce the birth of a daughter, Patricia Ruth, Friday, June 25th, 1954, at the Belleville General Hospital, sister for Wayne, Harold and Bruce. 726

IN MEMORIAM

CHISHOLM.—In loving memory of a dear husband, father, William Harvey Chisholm, who left us three years ago today, June 30th, 1951.
"Our heart aches with sorrow
In silence, we remember
The days we missed his smile and family." 730

SAUNDERS.—In loving memory of my dear father, Charles Henry Saunders, who passed away June 30th, 1953.
Memory is so dear today
As in the hour you passed away."
—Daughter Phoebe and grandchildren. 730

SAUNDERS.—In memory of a dear father and grandfather, Charles Henry Saunders, who passed away June 30th, 1953.
Sadly missed by his sons Leslie and Charlie, Doris, Nora and grandchildren. 730

SAUNDERS.—In memory of a dear husband and father, Charles Henry Saunders, who passed away June 30th, 1953.
God saw you getting weary
And took you home to rest and climb,
So He closed your weary eyelids
And whispered "peace be thine."
—Sadly missed by his wife Mary and family. 730

HUBBARD.—In loving memory of mum Hubbard, who passed away July 1st, 1952, and dad Hubbard, who passed away June 30th, 1953.
Always a smile instead of a frown
Always a kind word when times down
Always so faithful, true and kind
What a beautiful memory to leave behind.
—Sadly remembered by her brother, Peter B. Mather. 730

FINKLE.—In loving memory of John Volney (Junior) Finkle, who left us suddenly, June 30th, 1951.
He wished no one a last farewell,
He never even kissed
He had great love for all
But never knew why.
Asleep in dear Lord's garden
Away from sorrow and pain
Some day when my memory is dim
We shall be together again.
—Mother, Dad and family telling This was a grief beyond all tears.
Also Uncle Herbert Garnid, sister-in-law Eva, niece Jean. 730

on the watch
WE HAVE A WATCHMAN at our store—though guarding us is not his job. Mostly, he's on the watch to keep your watch on the go.
He's our watch service expert—the man who knows what makes it keep time, and what makes it keep ticking—almost half a million times a day. Your watch does that, you know, year in and year out.
That's why he so often reminds us how important it is to have any watch inspected periodically. The little time it takes can save big money later on.
And that's why we're urging you to stop by for a watch checkup today. We'll be watching for you!

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market crept narrowly ahead in light forenoon trading today.

First-hour volume — just over 500,000 shares—left the market's greatest strength in industrials where gains outnumbered losses two to one.

Base metals were steady in senfors but moved well ahead in juniors for pengo gains. Western oils were firm.

Golds moved down in seniors, juniors and prospects were narrowly ahead, and holding companies were steady. Algom countered a lower trend in uranlums, Manitouwadge issues were steady and Bathurst stocks drew little interest.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Rev. A. E. Baker's Farewell Based On 'Love'

STIRLING—In a beautiful setting of roses and peonies Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Baker conducted their pastorate at St. Paul's United Church on Sunday, Mrs. Baker played appropriate organ music, and the senior choir sang an anthem with Mr. William Ayiesworth taking the solo part. Mrs. Waller Warren rendered "The Lord's Prayer".

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown sang "Kine Shepherd Lead Me", and the junior choir delighted with a "Summer Melody of Birds and Trees."

Beautiful Peace roses from the garden of "Hillsdale" graced the pulpit and later on were given to Mrs. S. G. Faulkner who recently celebrated her 80th birthday and who was in attendance at the service.

Mr. Baker told the children in verse form the story of "The Pond and the Stream", which was a sermon in itself.

CLOSING MESSAGE

In his closing message to the adult group he voiced words of thanksgiving for all the fine cooperation, especially during Centennial year. He then spoke on the theme "where there is no vision the people perish" and in his closing words he chose 1st Corinthians 13 and 13th verse and stressed that love is the greatest thing on earth.

Mr. Baker said, "It takes a great deal of love in a heart to love those who despitefully use you, however, if the example of God and Jesus is followed, in time a person will grow in grace and be able to love those who have wronged them."

A large number of guests were in attendance from Rawdon and Sidney township, Frankford, Trenton, Belleville, as well as members of St. John's and St. Andrew's churches.

Old familiar church hymns were sung and Rev. A. C. McCallum of Trenton, brought greetings and conducted the closing exercises. Following the service "many goodbyes" were said to the parsonage family.

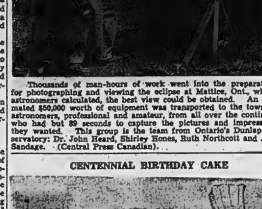
Lydia L.O.B.A. Confers Scarlet Degree on Four

MADOC—Star of the East L.O.B.A., No. 1193, Madoc, assembled in the lodge room on Thursday evening to welcome Lydia L.O.B.A., of Belleville, to confer the Scarlet Degree on four candidates. Worthy Mistress Mrs. Akey and her staff conferred the degree in an efficient manner, which was much enjoyed by all in attendance. Several of the visiting members gave a few remarks for the good and welfare of the lodge. Worthy Mistress Thelma Wright, of Madoc lodge, voiced the thanks of the members to the ladies of Belleville lodge for their fraternal visit.

After the close a pleasant social hour followed with Madoc ladies serving refreshments to about 75.

On Sunday afternoon, June 27, Madoc Temple Lodge and Star of the East L.O.B.A., No. 1193, attended divine service in St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, Madoc. The parade was headed by the fife and drum band of Madoc lodge.

The guest speaker for the service was Rev. T. McMurray, of Foxboro, who chose as his text, "When Mary and Mary Called Calvary, They Crucified Him."



Special music rendered by the church choir and Rev. Mr. Poynter sang a solo, "The Conflict of the Ages."

Worthy Mistress Thelma Wright of Madoc lodge, read the 23rd Psalm, and the minister, Rev. M. W. Heslip, assisted during the service. Several members of neighboring lodges were in attendance.

CENTENNIAL BIRTHDAY CAKE

This 850-pound birthday cake was created by three Kitchener, Ont., bakeries for the city's centennial week June 27-July 3. The cake provided a treat for 7,000 visitors attending opening festivities marking the 100th birthday of Ontario's sixth largest city, Heinz Udvari, Miss Centennial, gives her sign of approval. (CP Photo).

Thousands of man-hours of work went into the preparations for photographing and viewing the eclipse at Mattice, Ont., where, astronomers calculated, the best view could be obtained. An estimated $50,000 worth of equipment was transported to the town by astronomers, professional and amateur, from all over the continent, who had but 89 seconds to capture the pictures and impressions they wanted. This group is the team from Ontario's Dunlap observatory: Dr. John Heard, Shirley Hones, Ruth Northcott and Alan Sandage. (Central Press Canadian).

Deloro P.S. Teacher Presented With Gifts

MARMORA — At the closing session of Deloro Public School on Monday afternoon, Miss Hilda Henderson, teacher of the junior room, who is leaving after six years of valued service was surprised with a goodly attendance of parents, who dropped in to present her with a tri-lite floor lamp, bone china ware, and an aluminum tray in appreciation of her teaching efforts.

The recipient expressed her thanks for the honor accorded her.

Two weeks ago at the meeting of Circle No. 4 of St. Andrew's W.A. Mrs. K. Henderson, mother of Miss Henderson, received a farewell gift in the form of some china ware from the Circle and the Association, as a whole.

Police Blotter

A car stolen earlier in Kingston was recovered by city police this morning, when a George street resident called the desk sergeant to report that a parked car was blocking his driveway.

Police checked the licence number and finding papers in the glove compartment with a Kingston address ascertained that the vehicle had been stolen in that city.

At the same time a car was reported stolen from Pinder Motors on Dundas street, the vehicle being missing from the lot, when employees reported for work this morning. Police are of the opinion that the persons responsible for the theft of the Kingston auto left the stolen vehicle here and took another at Belleville.

Theft of two new tires and a battery from trucks stored at the old Turnbull street arena has been reported by Truck and Farm Supply.

Fine View of Sun's Eclipse Obtained at Trenton Station

TRENTON (Special) — Many residents got out of their beds earlier than usual this morning in the hope of seeing the eclipse. Few were disappointed, although high clouds hindered observations from the ground.

Looking through dark glasses at one point the sun appeared crescent shaped and like the moon in its first quarter. Actually the eclipse was then in its last stages and soon afterwards the moon had crossed between the earth and the sun.

The duty forecasters on the duty weather observer at RCAF Station observed the celestial phenomena. At the time four to six-tenths of the sky was covered by alto cumulus cloud based at two levels, one layer at 10,000 feet and the other layer at 15,000 feet. At the height of the first part of the eclipse was visible and the last one-third became visible as cloud moved out of the line of vision. The high point of the eclipse from this observation point was hidden behind heavy overcast.

WENT AROUND

The observers at the air station watched two aircraft take off while the moon was directly in front of the sun. Whether these airmen went above the clouds for a clearer view has not been officially reported but the record show they were on a two minute cross country flight, which happened to coincide with the eclipse.

Those who came out for a look at the eclipse can rest assured that their efforts were not in vain and that they are luckier than the people at Mattice, who went to a lot of trouble only to have their hopes dashed by a complete cloud covering over the sky.

ONLY A PERCENTAGE

At Mattice astronomers and scientists gathered to record and observe a complete eclipse. Here at Trenton the eclipse was only a percentage of the sun's light cut off by the moon.

The gist of a meteorological man's description of an eclipse sounds like this. The earth revolves around the sun once every 365 days while the moon circles the earth every 27 days. Eventually the sun, moon and earth (the moon in the middle) line up together causing an eclipse of the sun which means that the moon passing between the earth and the sun prevents parts or all of the light of the sun from being visible to people on earth.

Giant Chemical Company Split Into Two Firms

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian Industries, Ltd., giant Canadian chemical firm, becomes two separate companies at the close of business today.

The new companies, which will divide CIL's present operations, are Canadian Industries (1954) Limited and Du Pont of Canada, Limited.

Not only assets, but executives and personnel who have worked together for years, will break old associations and go their separate ways — along with their accounts and records, and their products with near-unpronounceable names. Some will take one plant or office and some another.

Of CIL's two Montreal office buildings, the present CIL House becomes the Du Pont building, and the present Canadian building becomes the CIL, 1954, home.

Hundreds of telephones have been moved, more than 1,500,000 documents handled, and more than 1,000 employees work in new quarters here or across Canada. Other thousands will remain in present quarters.

The division of CIL results from a United States court judgment ordering Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., and E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, the two principal shareholders, to separate their interests in the Canadian company.

$6,600 Boiler Purchased To Heat Courthouse

Hastings county councillors Tuesday purchased a new boiler for the county courthouse and for heating of Shire Hall. Cost of the boiler will be $6,600 with tenders to be called for the installation and for the laying of hot water lines from the courthouse building to Shire Hall.

Councillors decided to scrap the present two boilers used at Shire Hall and purchased a boiler with sufficient capacity to heat the entire building. Heating from the courthouse building will also relieve caretaking duties at Shire Hall.

A LUCKY COMBINATION

Only an unusual combination of happy coincidences saved two Churchill Heights brothers, Fred and Harry Spice, from drowning at Rossmore on Saturday.

Fred, aged 13, and Harry, aged 11, were both rescued by an 11-year-old chum, Tommy Seymour.

How many eleven-year-olds are expert enough in the water to dive into ten feet of water and bring an unconscious person to the surface? Yet that is what Tommy did. That he was able to do so was the result of instruction he had received from his parents, both swimming teachers. But still alone might not have been enough. Tommy's feat required courage and presence of mind, too. It may well be that training which he had received as a member of the 9th Belleville Cub Pack, and his response to this training which had earned him a badge as the best Cub in the pack, helped him to keep his head in this emergency.

Tommy's heroism might still have failed to prevent a tragedy had not happy chance resulted in Mrs. J. H. Miller, of Toronto, being on the scene. She applied artificial respiration which saved Harry Spice's life.

How many of us could, in a similar emergency, produce equal results?

There are so many lessons in this incident. Everybody should learn to swim. Everybody should learn first-aid methods. But, most important of all, nobody should tax his swimming skill to the limit, as Fred and Harry Spice did when they struck out for a diving raft 75 feet offshore. Even expert swimmers, of long experience, sometimes act foolishly in the water. It may present a pretty sight to the spectators on shore to swim far out into the lake, but even the best swimmers sometimes get into difficulties. If you must venture far from shore, never do so without the company of a swimmer as expert as yourself.

WOULD TEACH DRIVING

The ten-point program suggested by the Ontario Chamber of Commerce as a method of reducing the toll of traffic accidents is worthy of careful study.

One point which may stir considerable controversy is the recommendation regarding driver-education for teenagers.

The Chamber emphasized that it did not suggest a program which would increase taxation or call for any substantial degree. Unfortunately, it may be doubted that any program which is cheap can also be effective. On one point, we expect, many will agree—driver-education program as undertaken, it should be universal, with the instruction provided in all schools to pupils in a selected grade.

The Chamber's brief pointed out that, while only 17 per cent of the driving population is in the teen-age group, these drivers are responsible for approximately 30 per cent of the accidents in the province.

That is a depressingly poor record. Still, in fairness to the teen-agers one point should be raised. Most of them are just learning to drive. How does their record compare with that of other beginners, in the other age groups? Perhaps, by this yardstick, it is not as bad as the first glance at statistics would suggest. Perhaps it is their lack of experience, rather than their youth, which makes them accident-prone.

No matter how carefully they are taught, it would appear unlikely that the drivers who are just learning will ever be as accident free as the men and women who have the advantage of the experience which comes after many days and miles behind the wheel.

USING SPIES, NO DOUBT

The Russians have "frigorified" apples.

Before all Canadian apple growers start throwing themselves from tall buildings, it should be explained that a "frigorified" apple is not a new species of apple, but any old apple that has been "frigorified."

If you are still puzzled the Russians explain that a "frigorified" apple is one in which the fruit has been "sublimated." A hasty check of apple growers reveals that to "sublimate" something is to purify it, and in the case of solids, to "purify solids by heating directly to a gaseous state and condensing the vapor back into solid form."

This seems quite reasonable, but after a little old apple but the Russians claim that it is a great advance in the fruit industry. The Moscow spokesman who proudly recited the virtues of "frigorified" apples stated, according to a news report, that they "only need to be soaked in water to be impossible to distinguish from a freshly picked apple."

This sudden transfer of the liquid in apples into a gas, which, presumably, disappears leaving the apple intact, is, we fear, just an old gas from the start. The sudden conversion of the liquid in an apple, about 90 per cent of an apple is water, into a gas is the best method known for exploding an apple like a bomb.

The "sublimated" Russian apple looks like another case of going from the sublime to the ridiculous. In any event, the story of the "frigorified" apple seems to us just so much applesauce.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

CLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

30 YEARS AGO

JUNE 30, 1924.

Dr. Roy Ward is spending a vacation in Toronto.

Mr. Thomas Hunter of Midland is visiting his daughter, Mrs. S. Deacon, Albert Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pringle and family of Toronto, are the guests of Mrs. Misses Watson, Alexander Street.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Robinson of Cleveland, Ohio, are visiting the latter's father, the Rev. Dr. J. P. Wilson, Bridge Street east.

Dr. G. S. Cronk, Mrs. Cronk and their family left today for a boat and rail trip to Victoria, B.C. Returning they will visit Yellowstone Park and Chicago, and expect to be home the latter part of July.

Mrs. John Young and Miss Irene Young, Howard Street, sailed yesterday from Montreal on the steamship Athenia for Glasgow, Scotland. They will also spend some time in England and Scotland.

The Dominion Day fields on Sunday the holiday will be observed on Monday.

The teachers at Queen Mary School spent a very pleasant afternoon on Wednesday when they were the guests of the principal of the school, Miss M. Frederick, and Mrs. Frederick, at their summer home at Rossmore.

Miss H. M. Sisenburg of Flint, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. T. S. Brerton, Alexander Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parks of West Lebanon, New Hampshire, are visiting relatives in the city.

30 YEARS AGO

JUNE 30, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cressman have returned to their home in Peterborough after visiting the Rev. Dr. Malott and Mrs. Malott at the Bridge Street Church Parsonage, Bridge Street east.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert McCoy of Toronto, formerly of Belleville, are visiting relatives here.

Arnold Bryant and Angus McFee left today to spend the holiday of July 1st in Rochester, N.Y. They were met here from Cobourg.

The congregations of John Street Presbyterian Church and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will unite in services during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hadey and daughter are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Licence, Albert Street.

Strawberries were plentiful on the market today and sold at 20 cents per box. Gooseberries sold at 15 cents per box.

40 YEARS AGO

JUNE 30, 1914.

After a keen and hard fought contest in which the residents in the province evinced more enthusiasm on both sides than for many years, the voters in Ontario returned Sir James Whitney and the Conservative party to power with a majority of 37 seats. The latest returns indicate that the standing in the new house will be as follows: Conservatives 83; Liberals 22; Labor 1; Independent 1. Total 111. In the City of Belleville the balloting was heavy, J. W. Johnson, the Conservative candidate in West Hastings, defeated David V. Sinclair, Liberal candidate and avowed prohibition issue to abolish the bar, by a majority of 947. In East Hastings the returns are not complete, but from the indications that Sandy Grant, the Conservative candidate, is elected by a large majority. In North Hastings Robert Cooke, the Conservative candidate, was elected by a large majority over the Rev. J. P. McInnes, the Liberal-Temperance candidate. In Prince Edward, the Liberal leader, was elected in North Ontario.

50 YEARS AGO

JUNE 30, 1904.

Bass fishing in the Bay is reported to be excellent.

Mr. Henry Bull of Toronto, formerly of Belleville, was in town today.

Mr. Charles Jardin of Toronto is visiting friends here.

The Rev. Dr. Carman, of Toronto, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church, was a visitor in town today.

A local liverryman has purchased a horse-automobile and it has been placed in commission.

The Rounders baseball team was defeated yesterday by a picked team, the score being 7 to 3. The following composed the teams: Rounders: Page, Bowden, Simmons, Young, Symons, G. Bawden, Lee and Cornell. Picked team: Skinner, Tully, Stevenson, Saunders, Wardhaugh, Lloyd, Langley, McKay and Fahey. The referee was C. Cornell.

Personal Health Talks

CALCIUM PREVENTS OOZING.

The body of a physically active, healthy adult contains 2½ to 2¾ pounds of calcium (lime), 99% of it in the bones and teeth. The 1% or less in the blood, heart, muscles, nerves, glands and glandular secretions is as essential for functional efficiency, vigor and vitality as the 99% is for the density and strength of the bones and teeth.

Whatever old timers believed or believe about it, no one with an elementary knowledge of nutrition can deny that the bones are the storehouse for calcium and the blood, heart, muscles, nerves and other tissues draw on the skeleton's stores to satisfy their requirements when or if the daily intake of calcium is insufficient.

The daily intake is insufficient in most instances here in Yankeeland because of our mainly-pap-by, refined, doctored, nutritional-ly inadequate diet.

The main fault of the modern American diet is lack of milk and/or milk products — the best natural source of calcium.

Enough calcium in 1½ pints of milk (three glasses) to satisfy the minimum daily requirement of a sedentary adult, but not enough to satisfy the minimum daily requirement of a growing child or youth. Minimum daily requirement means only enough to prevent nutritional deficiency disease.

The optimal daily requirement of calcium for a sedentary adult is supplied by a quart of milk—four glasses; for a boy or girl who gets plenty of exercise every day, by three glasses. Four glasses.

Optimal means more than just enough to prevent manifestations of nutritional deficiency. It means enough to maintain maximum vigor and vite.

The more important functions of calcium in the body are:

1—It is essential for ossification of bone.

2—It is necessary for adequate contraction of the heart.

3—It diminishes permeability of the walls of the smallest blood vessels.

4—It regulates irritability of nerves.

5—It is necessary for clotting of blood.

Increased permeability of the walls of the smallest blood vessels, due to calcium deficiency, accounts for "weeping" eczema, for hives and similar putting or swelling of areas of skin, for prolonged bleeding from minor wounds, and for the rhinorrhea or watering of the nose in an allergic reaction.

Pets Enjoy Life of Luxury

(National Geographic Magazine)

Americans, anti-hearted toward most animals, are treating their pets better today than ever before.

Affection centres on hamsters, skunks, monkeys, parakeets, tough cat fish, rattlesnakes, bats, screech owls, even lions, snakes, flying squirrels and in places on a wolf and an anteater.

But no animals satisfy the craving for household companionship like dogs and cats, be they purebred or non-pedigreed.

Authoritative estimates place the 217,000,000 population at from 23,000,000, the cat at 27,000,000. Mostly these pets live in the country. $1,100,000 on farms and 11,700,000 in other rural homes. Urban dwellers number 17,400,000.

Curiously, almost half the dogs but only 32 per cent of the cats inhabit cities.

The growing food business initiates how the merchant is the canine and feline life today. More than 20 companies turn out canned meat and dried meal, biscuits and pellets. Frozen pet food is now on the market. Last year saw 200 dog food slices mounted to $200,000,000, despite 1953.

Americans lavish love and money not only on the faithful dog and the comfort-seeking cat but on many other creatures.

Not long ago the country was swept by a craze for hamsters, the small, Syrian rodents that overproduce the rabbit. For some time scientists has used them for experiments. The public discovered how soft was their golden brown fur, how docile their eyes.

For years canaries were the darlings of the caged bird world. But recently Americans learned parakeets could be taught to jabber like Polly Wonder. Parakeets became the fashion.

Africa must have enjoyed little mass appeal except behind zoo bars. But an African couple keeps a 5-foot-tall, four-year-old male lion in their home.

In Garden City, N.Y., five-year-old twins own Snow White, a 75-pound sheep, to take it to kindergarten. But the bus driver refused to haul dogs, cats, canaries and snakes. Soon, the twins' mother drove the pet to school. And every morning she made the children laugh and play by see a lamb at school".

While even became popular with the teacher.

When pets are kept in the family for years, their death brings terrible sorrow. A pet cemetery near Washington is evidence of this. Buried there are dogs, cats, canaries, a horse, snakes, monkeys, parrots and a starling.

Many Americans spend on the site for the graves of 70 cats. At another place, Hartsdale, people erect elaborate tombstones.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE LOVE OF BOOKS

I am sure of one thing, and that is that I shall never lose my love for reading and for books. A great book has a sustaining influence in my life, and that a book is really the shadow of a man or woman.

Lord Macaulay once wrote a letter to a friend, in which he said: "Books are to me what a man in a garret with plenty of books has a king who did not love reading." A home—any home —no matter how poor, or rich, in furnishings, is unattractive when there are not books within it. Books make the home "human alive." We can always look upon a good book as a permanent friend in the days of our home. Books are friends who speak to us in silence.

We all have friends with whom we always like to be with the same with books. I find myself, time and time again, going to a particular shelf in my library to read in a book that has so often inspired and comforted me. And each time I get a similar thrill from an author who is also a favorite of mine, it's as though someone had just come to me and told me of something fine that a friend of mine had said. Books keep getting around in this way.

Science is very impressive, as I think of men entering the large reading room of a library. Each person seems lost within the book which silently informs and pleases the reader. You feel as though you, yourself, have floated in the reading room, permeating the very atmosphere that surrounds the room. So that, as we go out into the open air, we are in a very wonderful mood, by a spell of wonder and spiritual glow!

The love of books, early acquired, is something that will give cheer and hope all through life. You will never be alone with books near. But they will commune with you only when asked!

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

POWER

When I was a young man, I sometimes operated a small telephone exchange. In those days there was a crank connected to a small hand generator; and when we wished to ring the bell in order to maintain service by turning the crank. It took a lot of cranking to provide even the small amount of current necessary to keep the switchboard operating.

Even with a large, efficient hand generator, it would be impossible to provide the current used in the average house very long. By cranking furiously, you could keep quite a few lights going, but when the furnace and the refrigerator came on, and when someone started cooking on the electric stove, you couldn't do it. You would get no more current into the main power line.

Yet many people are trying to run their lives with only a hand generator. They know of no power higher than themselves, and so they crank away as hard as they can. When some demand on them for more spiritual power than they can produce comes along, they cannot meet it, and drop exhausted.

But the eternal power line is there, with power enough for us all, and more. And we are surrounded by God through Christ to draw upon it. "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you."

Freedom of the Press

What precisely is meant by that familiar phrase, "freedom of the press"?

Fundamentally it is not a special privilege reserved for newspapers or publishers. It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom—the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear. The press claims no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy. But freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom because, under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public affairs. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless. An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential bulwarks of a democratic nation.

If any proof be needed, it is supplied by the record of the totalitarian dictatorships which have darkened the twentieth century. Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the cornerstone on which all these regimes—Nazi, Fascist and Communist alike—were founded. Without it, they could hardly have lasted for more than a few months. With it, they could keep their peoples in blindness and drive them on any course they chose. The excellence of our age, its fear and insecurity, stem in no small measure from the simple fact that, at critical periods, great sections of the earth's population have been prevented by their rulers from learning the real news of the world.

These examples should provide a warning against any attempt, by governments or by private interests, to restrict the essential freedom of the press. A free people must stand on guard not only against direct censorship, but also against more insidious encroachments. Nominal freedom is not enough. The only truly free press is one which can record the news faithfully and comment on it frankly, without fear of direct or indirect punishment. Neither the press nor the public is safe with anything less than this.

All liberty, of course, involves obligations. That of a free newspaper is to be truly free. It must strive to be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its reporting, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials, and resistant to all outside pressure. It must be both cautious and bold—cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground. It must, above all, be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understand it.

Such a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the free peoples of the world have traditionally granted to their press. Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.

Fairy Tales By 6-Year-Old

(The Times of London).

A volume of fairy stories will shortly be published by the daughter of Sir Geoffrey Dawson, who is also an author. It is a case of "writing in the blood", for the author's grandmother is the famous writer, Elinor Glyn.

And the author? Miss Caroline Dawson. She is six, and her stories are perfectly natural in all that it should be, but the imagination is there.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

In Bohemia. The dictionary definition of a Bohemian is "a person with artistic or intellectual tendencies who lives and acts with disregard for conventional rules of behavior." Nowadays, so many people live like that, even without the slightest tendencies of an artistic or intellectual kind, that a most startling trend is developing. Our artists and intellectuals are beginning to be distinguished by their propriety. If all the rest of us are gory Bohemian, then the pretty Bohemians are meaningless.

Attend a first night at an art gallery show, and who are the most formal, chartered-accountant types in the gathering? The artists. And who are those colour-loving characters over there? The chartered accountants.

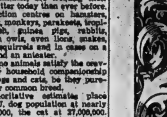
Visit the art schools, and you will see the distinguished artists who are the stars of the show being about their job with all the neat detachment of bookkeepers. First year students may wear their hair long and affect gypsy clothes. But by the time you get to the fourth year, you find the classes filled with young men and women who might be completing a course in Business Administration. This is very curious, indeed, because if you go to the university and look in on a fourth year class in Business Administration, you will find them looking as though they are in a rehearsal for La Boheme.

It is all at sizes and sevens. I know of this matter to an elderly artist friend of mine who, thirty years ago, was a very scandalous Bohemian in our straight-laced community. Now he looks like a deacon.

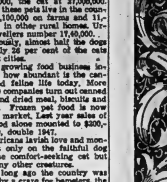
"Well, I suppose it's the soap ads," he reflected." And all this growth of public health, and household science and stuff. In the good old days the chief characteristic of us Bohemians was that we were dirty. Untidy. Lived like pigs. Today everything is so easy. Cellophane around everything. Vacuum cleaners. Soap. Shower baths everywhere. It's hard to be dirty any more. It's astonishing how hard to imagine a clean Bohemian."

That may be it.

Seaway Aid To Juke Boxes



(New York Herald-Tribune)



As an interesting sidelight on the St. Lawrence Seaway project Senator Irving M. Ives reports that the undertaking would give a special impetus to, among other things, the export of juke-boxes from the United States. The city of Buffalo, he says, is the world's juke-box manufacturing centre and the producers believe that overseas shipment of these musical torture-chambers will be facilitated by the Seaway.

News that there is a juke-box market in Europe is something of a surprise. Presumably a large number of those being exported are bound for American Army bases, but there always is the possibility that Europeans have decided it is better to listen to a juke-box than to take part the hydrogen bomb. At any rate, if swift completion of the Seaway will help get the juke-box out of the tavern around the corner, many an American will be only too willing to grab a shovel and help in the digging.

Two Canadian Housewives In Mexico Have Not Found Life All Tequilla and Tortillas

By MARGARET ECKER

MEXICO CITY (CP) — To young housewives in Canada it might seem exciting to pack her worldly goods and family and move to Mexico City to set up housekeeping.

She has probably heard that household help here is cheap and plentiful, and it's summer all year round.

Part of the picture just might come true, but there are a lot of "ifs," according to two young Canadian housewives in the Mexican capital. Estelle Glover of Fort William and Pam Tregaskis of Ottawa haven't found life in Latin America all tequilla and tortillas. Their respective husbands, Clive Glover and Stewart Tregaskis, are with the Canadian diplomatic mission.

KEEPS THEM BUSY

"If you are lucky, you may finally get good help," says Mrs. Glover, who also lived in Ottawa, "but housekeeping takes twice as much time here as in Canada, if even with help you're still busy all the time."

Yes," agrees Scots-born Pam Tregaskis, "you may live in a lovely house, with help, but often the water system doesn't provide a drop of water, due to lack of pressure."

Finding the right house isn't too easy in Mexico City and rents are expensive. The Glovers finally found a large, ultra-modern home in Lomas, one of the fashionable suburbs. Stone and wood has been used with dramatic effect down stairs and painted walls are rose, green and cocoa, all very smart, but the Glovers didn't have furniture.

So, with Philip, 11 and Marcia, six, also Mike, the bumptious red setter, they camped for several months in a house without furnishings.

FURNITURE COSTLY

"We found inexpensive furniture was of poor quality, good things were expensive, so we saved money by having ours made," said Mrs. Glover. "But it took time. You can't hurry a Mexican. Now they have a most attractive dining room suite of mahogany that would have cost much more in Canada.

The Glovers had both studied Spanish in Ottawa but Estelle admits that, after more than a year, she still finds it difficult enough to do her shopping and instruct her help. "The children are picking it up faster than us." They go to the American school.

The two servants, seamstress and gardener that are necessary for even a small menage, were hard to find.

"You can get a good cook for $35 a month, if you're lucky," she said. "But she will have no frock for mechanical things, so you have to be with her a great deal." Cooking is done with compressed gas stoves.

Mothers are in constant fear that Canadian children will absent-mindedly drink tap water and expose themselves to dysentry or typhoid germs. Drinking water is specially bottled. Most Canadian women have learned to avoid the cheese in a jug markets. They travel across town to a supermarket where they know food is up to Canadian standards.

SERVANTS' HOLIDAY

Mrs. Tregaskis said that at Christmas time, when Canadian social life is at its height, the servants take off.

"At Christmas, according to custom," she said, "Mexican help get two weeks holidays and one month's pay as a bonus. Then they expect presents, too."

Both wives find clothing their families a problem. Ready-made clothing is expensive, so they have things made. Local material, expensive enough, shrinks quickly and loses its color and shape. Shoes are a problem also. Wide and short, they don't fit Canadian feet.

"Fortunately the children need less winter clothing than they would in Canada," says Mrs. Tregaskis. "But what we save there we make up paying for their social life." Mexican store hours are dreadful, and every birthday and feast day, is an excuse for elaborate and expensive children's parties. Canadian parents must return these gestures.

SOCIAL LIFE

Adult social life is more formal too. Cocktail parties in Mexico go on past midnight, with the hosts expected to provide a complete buffet with turkey and the trimmings. "And people here love to dress up," said Mrs. Tregaskis. "You need a much bigger wardrobe than at home."

The Tregaskis home is more traditional than the modern Glover house, but it has a great deal of charm.

Their two daughters, Susan, seven, and Heather, five, were with them in South Africa before coming to Mexico. Their term here expires this summer.

"I'll be glad to get them home to Canada," admits Mrs. Tregaskis. "They have become too used to being waited on. They'll have to get back to normal."

ATHLETE CHARGED

SUDBURY (CP)— A well-known athlete, Michael (Butch) Ratchford, 20, of Sudbury, was arraigned in court Tuesday on a charge of breaking and entering. Ratchford was arrested following complaint from Mrs. Donald Baxter that someone had entered her home through a window during the night. He was remanded to July 6 on $500 property bail.

NEIGHBORS' AID

Rnd. THURLOW — The June meeting of the Neighbors' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. O. Stratton, on Wednesday afternoon. About 35 members and friends were present. The president, Mrs. D. Atkins, was in charge of the meeting. Silence in memory of a former members and beloved friend, Mrs. Virginia (Grille) Clapp, and daughter, Frances Clapp, followed by an appropriate dedication, expressing the high esteem in which she was held in the community.

"Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling" was sung with Mrs. R. Atkins accompanying on the accordion and Mrs. M. Mitchell led in singing of the hymn.

The minutes and letters were read by the secretary, Mrs. M. Dent and the treasurer, Mrs. H. Thomson reported on the financial standing of the funds to date, $10 was voted to the Salvation Army and $50 for other purposes.

Thanks were tendered to the hostess for opening her home for the meeting and welcome was extended to all.

Mrs. Cicely Clarke arranged and was in charge of the program.

A prize was given by Mrs. Clarke to the one having a birthday the nearest to day of meeting Mrs. Robert Atkins received the gift having celebrated a birthday on June 17. Little Jimmy Thomson received the gift for the oldest birthday. A story of "Emily Spot," was read by Mrs. Clarke and was enjoyed. A contest in story form with parts of a motor car, to be filled in the vacant places, caused a lot of fun.

Mrs. O. Stratton, Mrs. Gerald Stratton, Mrs. F. Mitchell and Mrs. J. Chumbley received a box of candy for having the most correct for the group of four.

Mrs. Clarke had arranged for Captain Brightwell of the Salvation Army to speak, but for some unknown reason did not arrive. All were disappointed but will look forward to hearing him in the near future.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Mitchell in July.

A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Clarke for the enjoyable program. Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mesdames S. Ray, J. Chumbley, M. Mitchell and R. Atkins.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

TORONTO (CP) — Miecoslaw Bajerowski, 36, Tuesday was committed for trial on a murder charge in connection with the axslaying May 24 of Maria Sladut, 26. Bajerowski was arrested near his father's home 50 miles north of Toronto a few hours after Miss Sladut's body was found in his room. Police said she had been beaten over the head with an ax.

Council to Consider Two Controversial Resolutions

By PAULINE KENNEDY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

FREDERICTON (CP)—The National Council of Women annual meeting entered its third day today as delegates considered two controversial resolutions left from Saturday's session.

The resolutions ask for a more thorough investigation of people emigrating to Canada—and for curtailment of free-franking privileges of members of the Commons and the Senate.

Saturday night resolutions were considered. Two were left over for discussion, five passed and one thrown out by the council.

Resolutions passed requested the federal government to: Rescind legislation increasing postage and re-establish former postage rates; provide legislation for equal pay for women and women doing equal work; establish uniform standards for sizes of children's clothing; participate and support the intergovernmental committee for European migration.

ASKS FOR LESS

The fifth resolution passed came from the Brandon, Man., local council and was aimed at the National Council of Women itself. It asked that fewer resolutions be considered each year and more weight thrown behind those passed to get real action.

The vetoed resolution asked that unemployment insurance benefit regulation 5A be cancelled. This regulation protects the insurance commission against married women who cash in illegally on unemployment benefits after marriage when they have no intention of working again.

Club Activities

ST. ANDREW'S GLEE CLUB

MARMORA — The closing meeting of St. Andrew's Glee Club before the summer recess was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. W. Henderson. The president, Mrs. Annie Lowery, was in the chair, and a fair attendance of members was present.

The president in opening, led in the recitation of the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Readings were given by Mesdames F. Litt, C. Conner, I. Nichol, C. Henderson, A. Gano, C. Sopha and A. Lowery.

A social half hour followed after which minutes of the May meeting were approved and the financial statement read revealing funds in good condition.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Lawrence.

Refreshments were served, followed by a hearty sing-song before the members repaired to their respective homes.

Women's Institute

QUINTE W.I.

The June meeting of the Quinte Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Atkins, with 85 members present and also members of the Canniffon W.I. as guests.

Mrs. Sandercock, the president, presided and opened the meeting, welcoming the guests and voicing sympathy to the family of the late Willard Reid, and also to Mrs. Harry Grills and family in the tragic death of her daughter and granddaughter.

Mrs. Tufts, the convener, spoke on "Program Planning". It being decided to ask for "Culture Activities", Mrs. Tufts enlarged on this and invited Canniffon for extension services.

Mrs. Grills thanked all who had helped during her bereavement, also for cards and flowers, received.

Mrs. Bunnett read a paper on the "Halifax Explosion", prepared by Mrs. George H Carver, of the Ontario Intelligencer, who was unable to be present. This was his own personal experience, being there at the time.

Mrs. Robert Aitkins entertained with music, which was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Tufts took the motto, "A good home is to have one." She handled this well, enlarging on its influence first on the child, then on home planning, virtue, peace and contentment.

Mrs. Tufts prepared a contest. Refreshments were served.

Women Patted on Back For Political Success

By PAULINE KENNEDY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

FREDERICTON (CP) — At the official opening ceremonies of the National Council of Women annual meeting Friday night the national president, Mrs. A. Turner Bone of Montreal, patted her organization on the back for women's progress in the Canadian political field.

"During the past century Canadian women have achieved real success in politics—four of them have been elected to the House of Commons," she said. In addition three women were appointed to the Senate.

Mrs. Bone listed three council projects for the year: Encouraging more women to enter public life, voluntary work, and examining the effects of an employed mother on her home.

She spoke of her visits to councils in both the east and west and said she came away with the impression that "the National Council is the greatest unifying force we have in Canada."

Welcoming the delegates from across Canada on behalf of the province of New Brunswick, Agriculture Minister Sherwood lauded the council for promoting better understanding among racial groups.

ON LABOR BOARD

Greetings were also read from Prime Minister St. Laurent, Opposition Leader George Drew and Labor Minister Gregg.

Mrs. W. A. Wood of Brandon said the Manitoba council has been busy with education activities. The council was represented on a special committee named by the minister of education to look into teacher recruitment problems.

The British Columbia council has been busy on the penal reform field, Mrs. H. S. Armstrong of Vancouver reported. Mrs. Rex Estop, a former B.C. council president, was appointed first woman to sit on a labor relations board in Canada, and the council asked for and got a woman probation office for women prisoners.

Mrs. Gordon Kerr of Windsor said in the Ontario report that the council there has been campaigning against liquor advertising and proposed sale of liquor on trains.

National Council meetings continue today and resolutions from each province will be considered and ratified by national officers.

WILL APPEAL

TORONTO (CP)—Notice of appeal was filed Tuesday against conviction of seven fine paper mills, 30 merchants, and the secretary of a wholesalers' trade association. The group was convicted June 14 by Mr. Justice W. F. Spence of the Ontario Supreme Court and sentenced June 22 to fines totalling $242,000 on charges of operating a combine.

TUCKLEY—WYLIE

St. John's Roman Catholic Church, Kirkfield, Ontario, was the scene of a double-ring ceremony on Monday, June 7, at 10 a.m., when Rev. Father Geary united by Rev. Father Dempsey, in marriage Carmel Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wylie, of Kirkfield, Ontario, and Arthur Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Buckley, of Roslin, Ontario.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in floor-length gown of white satin with net overskirt and a delicate lace flower appliqué with sweetheart neckline. Her floor-length bridal veil, which was her mother's wedding veil, was caught in a halo of fine white roses. She wore a three-strand pearl necklace with matching earrings, and carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Her attendants were Miss Alma Wylie, a sister, as maid of honor, and Miss Dorothy Buckley, Mary Buckley and Miss Betty Buckley, sisters of the bridegroom. They were gowned in floor-length gowns of pale blue net over taffeta and they carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

The flower girl was little Miss Veronica Wylie, sister of the bride, who wore pink and white taffeta, and carrying a basket of mixed flowers.

Mr. John Buckley, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Leo Wylie, brother of the bride, and Mr. Edward Buckley, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers. Master Leo Wylie, brother of the bride was ring-bearer.

The wedding dinner was held at Bellamy's dining room in Lindsay where 45 guests were received by the bride's mother who wore navy blue with white accessories, and a corsage of white roses. She was assisted by the mother of the bridegroom, who wore a dress of grey figured nylon with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

For the wedding trip to Muskoka, the bride chose as her travelling ensemble a navy gabardine suit with pink accessories. Upon their return, the young couple will reside in Read, Ontario.

Out-of-town guests were from the United States, Read, Belleville, Port Hope, and Brechin, Ontario.

WILLIAMS—GILL

A lovely double-ring wedding ceremony was solemnized in Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, on Saturday, June 26, at 2:00 p.m., by the Rev. Duncan McLennan, uniting Carol Gill, of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Herbert Gill, became the bride of William James Williams, also of Belleville, son of Mr. William Henry Williams and the late Mrs. Williams. Blue and white delphiniums and pink Canterbury bells adorned the chancel rail, while satin bows designated the guest pews.

Mr. Alec Gordon rendered the wedding music, including the "Wedding March", from Wagner's "Lohengrin", and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Bill Burgoyne, who sang before the ceremony, "I'll Walk Beside You," and during the signing of the register, "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Herbert Gill, the bride was radiant in her bridal gown of white nylon marquisette over a double-tiered skirt of nylon net and taffeta in ballerina-length. The fitted bodice featured an Elizabethan neckline and long sleeves, and pointed cuffs. Her fingertip veil of embroidered nylon tulle was held by a pearl-studded cap of matching Chantilly lace, and orange blossoms. Slight-heeled white nylon mesh pumps completed her ensemble, and she carried a circular bouquet of Betterine type, stephanotis, tied with white, lace-edged streamers.

Miss Aileen Gill, of Belleville, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Maid of Honor Miss Lafleta dress with double overskirts of matching nylon net. The molded bodice featured a scalloped neckline and capped sleeves. She wore a matching headdress of ruffled tulle in bandeau style, matching shoulder-length gloves of net, matching shoes, and carried a nosegay of Gloria roses, white delphiniums, and white dendrobiniums.

Miss Margaret Mann, of Belleville, was bridesmaid, attired in similar manner to the maid of honor, but in daffodil yellow. She carried a nosegay of Gloria roses, white, and yellow delphiniums, and mauve sweetpeas.

Mr. Robert Browning of Belleville, attended the bridegroom, while Mr. Warren Boell and Mr. Max Watts, were ushers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride, Dundas Street East, which was beautifully adorned with blue and white delphiniums and Canterbury bells. The bride's mother received, wearing a navy gown with white embroidered collar and cuffed sleeves, white accessories, and corsage of Virginia carnations. The bridegroom's mother assisted, gowned in powder blue nylon, with white accessories, and similar corsage.

For the wedding trip to Niagara Falls and other western points, the bride travelled in a pink linen dressmaker suit, with navy hat and accessories, and corsage of white and blue feathered carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will reside in Belleville, upon their return.

Guests were present from Picton, Frankford, Toronto and Lakefield.

Women's Activities

TRINITY CHURCH W.G.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of Trinity Church, Shannonville, was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Helen Spencer. The meeting was opened in the usual manner.

The members and six guests were entertained by the president, Mrs. Fitzgerald. The treasurer, Mrs. T. Whittle, gave a fine financial report.

Plans were later set up for cards, winners were, Mrs. Fitzgerald; Miss McFarlane; consolation, Mrs. W. Brant.

Refreshments were served.

W.O.M. Install 1954-5 Officers

The last meeting of the year was held by the Women of the Moose, Belleville Chapter 431, in the Moose Hall with Senior Regent Ruth Mintz, presiding.

Four candidates were balloted on and the ballot was favorable.

Three candidates were initiated into the defending circle: Annie Young, sponsored, by Madge Bailey; Mrs. Haley and Helen Reed, sponsored by Junior Grad. Regent Mary Peoples, and initiated in honor of Junior Grad. Regent Mary Peoples.

Senior Regent Ruth Mintz gave a report on the chicken supper which was a huge success and thanked all the girls for working on this event.

Florence Carufel gave a report on the Wednesday afternoon bingos and turned in the proceeds.

Marie Thrasher, gave a report on the travelling aprons. The apron from Trenton was won by Marg Crawford and the prize for most tickets sold was won by Neil Haslip.

Proceeds were also turned in from a penny bingo held at the Senior Regent's home, last Tuesday.

The guides escorted Mrs. Blair and her workers of the Canadian Legion into the Chapter room where the Senior Regent Ruth Mintz thanked them for their fine installation supper which they had given, and which was greatly enjoyed by all.

The auditing committee will meet on Thursday, July 1, at the home of Recorder Nellis Scrymgeour.

A "thank-you" card was received from Eva Littler for cards and gifts received while ill. A letter was received from Fred Rawson thanking the chapter for their business and expressing their appreciation for this.

The draw, donated by Recorder Nellie Scrymgeour, was won by Florence Carufel.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Installation of officers was then in order with Installing Regent Emily Jeffrey, Installing Chaplain Lena Connel, Installing Guide Mary Peoples and Installing Pianist Elsie Soules.

The following officers were installed: Senior Regent, Michaelina Calbury; Jr. Grad. Regent Ruth Mintz; Junior Regent, Mary Van Dusen; Chaplain, Margaret Mallette; Recorder, Nellie Scrymgeour; treasurer, Marie Thrasher; Guide, Gertie Pringle; Asst. Guide, Florence Carufel; Sentinel, Sheila McQuaid and Argus, Georgia Goddard.

Following the installation of officers, the following record were installed: Pearl Way; Selina Isles; Mildred Prindle; Edith Burrows; Anne St. Denis; Jean Way; Vivian Kellar; Alice Livingston.

Then came congratulations to last year's officers and to the new officers.

Senior Regent Michaelina Calbury thanked the chapter for having elected her and hoped to make the year a success.

Jr. Grad. Regent Ruth Mintz thanked the officers and members for all the co-operation she received last year.

GIFTS PRESENTED

Gifts were then presented to the officers by Mary Van Dusen and Gertie Pringle, to Ruth Mintz by Mary Peoples and Lena Connell; to the Chairman by Emily Jeffrey; and to the bingo workers, by Nellie Scrymgeour.

Life-by-Laws

The chairmen for the ensuing year are as follows: Alumnae, Marguerite Wright; Publicity, Nora Ketner; Library, Ethel Knott Moosehaven, Nellie Burke; Child Care, Hazel Whitmarsh; Ritual, Pearl Sidley; Service, Nellie Shandraw; Homemaking, Vernice Tyron; Hospital, D. Austin and Lena Connell; Membership, Mrs. Meeks; Academy of Friendship, Gladys Ritch; College of Regents, E. McGinnis; Bingo, Emily Jeffrey; Protem, Marie Thrasher.

Special committees — Banquets, Ruth Mintz, Mary Peoples, Marg Crawford, Annie Choinard and Luella Downey; Entertainment — Irene Reed, Louella Bull, Mae Lenahan, Kay Donovan, Lillian Osborne; Tablecloths — Gladys Ritch; Flowers — Annie Loveless; Auditing—Kay Donovan, Peg Jeffrey, Selina Isles.

The meeting was then brought to a close by Grad. Regent Ruth Mintz.

On last Sunday a bus load of the chapter left for Brockville Chapter 632, to attend their installation of officers held in the Manotonna Hotel. Following the installation a turkey supper was enjoyed.

Women Failing To Voice Faith In Democracy

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Dr. Kenneth D. Wells said Monday that North American women are not living up to their responsibilities in trying to swing the undecided third of the world to the free way of life.

Dr. Wells, president of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., addressed the biennial convention of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs here. He spoke on the dynamics of woman's affairs in the atomic age.

He said women should speak so clearly and so vehemently of their faith in free society that there would be no hesitation in those countries now toying with the idea of communism.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

TORONTO (CP)—Margot Rowland, 20, of Toronto has been named this year's winner of the Xaion graduating scholarship of $1,000. A graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music's artist diploma course, Miss Rowland started her piano studies at the age of five. In 1949 she was awarded highest marks of the piano class in the Kiwanis music festival.

Women's Institute

MADOC W.I.

The members of Madoc W.I. enjoyed a pleasant outing when they motored out to the home of the W.I. president, Mrs. A. Pennington, for their June meeting on Friday afternoon. Twenty-four members and one visitor were in attendance.

Mrs. Herrington presided.

During the business period, several items of business were discussed. A grant of $25 was made to the Public Library toward the installing of an oil burner furnace. It was decided to have a booking sale on June 26, in George Duffin's store.

Mrs. Albert Empey gave a report of the committee regarding the building of a footbridge at the Park, on motion this report was tabled. A communication from council asking for a donation toward installing water at the Park was laid over till next month's meeting. Mrs. K. Hind reported on the extension services to be held in the library rooms at a later date. The purchase of a new flag for the park was discussed but was also laid over to a later date.

DISTRICT AND HIGHLIGHTS

Mrs. Albert Bailey and Mrs. W. Forsetell gave splendid reports on the highlights of the district annual convention held at Queensboro, recently.

The roll call "Why I am proud to be a Canadian" brought out many reasons for being a real true Canadian. The four freedoms, the one thought uppermost in most minds.

Mrs. Empey commented on the motto, "No one can walk backwards into the future. We must face the future with sincerity and confidence."

A number of patriotic songs were sung. Mrs. Empey and Mrs. W. Forsetell, who were in charge of the topic "Community Activities and Public Relations", gave fine talks on the subjects and brought out many fine ideas and how we also laid out a community.

A pleasant social hour followed.

Cannifton P.S. Holds Surprise Presentation

The June assembly of Cannifton Public School was the occasion of a surprise presentation to a popular member of the staff, Mrs. Jim Cooke, nee Barbara Wiley, a bride of this month.

On behalf of the school board and pupils, Miss Gladys Brenton presented Mrs. Cooke with a Kenwood blanket. Also Mrs. Mary Davis presented her with a breakfast set of china and a piece of pottery from the teachers of the school.

Oh Goody!...Mom's Making Jam Again!

Jams and Jellies made with Certo turn out RIGHT

They're delicious . . . sparkling. Made in one-third the time. Cost less per glass.

WHY CERTO RECIPES ARE SO QUICK—SO EASY—SO FREE FROM GUESSWORK

WHAT CERTO IS—Certo is fruit pectin—the natural jellying substance in fruit—extracted and refined to help you make delicious tasting jams and jellies quicker and more easily.

ONE-MINUTE BOIL SAVES TIME, WORK—With Certo you can actually make a whole batch in 15 minutes from the time your fruit is ready. It turns jam and jelly making from a chore into a pleasant task.

Certo jams and jellies need only a ONE-MINUTE full, rolling boil. No long, tedious boiling and stirring over a hot stove. It's remarkably easy.

A Product of General Foods

50% MORE JAM OR JELLY—Since there is no long "boiling down" with Certo, hardly any precious juice wastes away in steam. So you get up 50% more yield from your fruit. That brings costs way down.

FRESH-FRUIT TASTE AND COLOR—And the boil is so short it does not spoil the fresh-fruit taste or dull the natural color. They stay right in your jam and jelly.

SURE RESULTS—NO GUESSWORK—Best of all—Certo ends guesswork! You get a separate kitchen-tested recipe for each kind of fruit. Follow the simple directions carefully and your success is sure.

Take your Pick
LIQUID OR CRYSTALS
Certo in either form gives equally good results

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECHNAM

SEE WANTS SIMPLE WEDDING PLANS

Dear Mrs. Beechnam:

(1) We are planning to be married in December, the ceremony to be in a Catholic church or in the rectory. My fiance is a Catholic; I am not a Catholic at present, but plan to become one either before or after the wedding. What I would really like is the wedding, then pictures taken on the spot, and then a small gathering of relatives and friends, at which would be served only cake and ice cream. Would this be permissible since this would take place in the morning? Or must there be a Wedding Breakfast, or luncheon, which I do not particularly want and which we really can't afford?

(2) What must be paid to the priest who performs the ceremony? or to the rectory?

(1) I believe you can carry out your simple, informal plans just as you wish to. . . a ceremony either in the Catholic church or in the rectory (you'll have to find that time), then whatever candle shots or whatever kind of photographs you desire, then the small, informal gathering of relatives and friends. There certainly need not be a real wedding breakfast or luncheon, but there should be two "features": the wedding cake, and a cold beverage, whatever the choice, for the drinking of the toasts. It isn't necessary, or particularly appropriate, to serve ice cream — better just the wedding cake, toasts — and particularly somehow hot coffee. (2) There is no "must" about this. Just what whatever is decided on is the responsibility of your prospective groom, leave this to him.

PERFECT PLAN-FOR-THANKING

Dear Mrs. Beechnam:

As we receive our guests at our wedding reception, I would like to thank each guest for their gift. But with the large number of guests, and perhaps the confusion that goes with a wedding, I'm pretty sure I would not be able to remember all of "who sent what" but of course I'd remember quite a few. Would it be acceptable to thank those whose gifts I do remember? Then of course later I will send thank-you notes to all who sent gifts. —Bride-to-be

I heartily applaud your wish to thank each arriving person for the gift sent you! Since you have such a charming idea, I'd like to urge you to concentrate on it devotedly, memorize and thank those who sent what (this couldn't be too difficult), perhaps asking some member of your family to sit in on a rehearsal or two. You'd certainly make a hit when you say, "Thank you, so very much, for the handsome silver candlesticks, Peter and I love it!", or "I can't tell you how much I love that wonderful casserole!" However if you really can't remember them all, indeed thank the ones you do remember.

Your last sentence reveals incorrect procedure: your thank-you note for a gift should be written as soon as possible after the gift arrives. All thank-you notes should be written, if at all possible, before the wedding. (Important note: If you do, as you should, write your notes before the wedding, this would most certainly help you to "remember" who sent what!)

HINTS TO THE HOUSE-GUEST

There are house guests who are ever welcome. They are always received with open arms because they drop gently into the family routine. On the other hand, there are those who never get a second invitation. These are the type who hurl monkey-wrenches into the domestic machinery and get themselves disliked forever after.

The things they do, these thoughtless guests! They help themselves to the apron strings of the hostess, keep up a continuous yakyak and never give her a moment to herself—even to order groceries. They don't seem to realize that the well-mannered guest will retire herself now and then, read a book, or play with the kids—in other words, give the mistress of the house an opportunity to think about her business.

This type has little respect for the belongings and possessions of other people. She scatters powder on the cover of the dressing table and doesn't bother to brush it away. She leaves the bathroom in a messy state, probably because that is how she left it at home. If she does make her bed—as she should do—it is a terrible mess.

Probably the guest who gets the worst marks is the one who isn't prepared to help. She never overstays her time.

The perfect house guest takes pains to make herself agreeable and useful. She is right on deck to help dry the dishes. She busies herself emptying ash trays or dusting things that will be spoiled in the work of her hostess.

She arrives fully equipped with everything she needs. She never has to ask for cleaning cream or other necessities.

The hostess' children may be ill-mannered little brats but the perfect guest will endeavor to amuse them—for which their over-worked mother will be grateful. Even if the dog insists upon sleeping in her bed, that's all right with her.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

WHAT TO DO FOR A BAD CASE OF SHYNESS

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a girl of 18 years old, and what you might call "afraid of boys." Whenever a boy asks me for a date, I make up some crazy excuse why I can't accept, and won't go. I'm not joking I know only girls will be there.

Once I did go to a dance with a boy, and when he kissed me good night I felt ashamed and couldn't look at him. After that I avoided him as much as possible and, if I met him, I would hang my head down.

Please try and help me. — C.F.

Dear C.F.:

You are simply suffering from a bad case of shyness and self-consciousness. But don't let it get you down too much. If you go about it the right way, you can get over it.

One thing that will help a great deal is to put your mind on others instead of keeping it concentrated on yourself. You can't think about other people and yourself at the same time so if you make it a habit to do the first, you'll tend to forget about yourself.

Next time you happen to find yourself faced with the problem of talking with a boy, make a point of asking him about the things that interest him and letting him tell you about them. Strange, as it may seem, the person who is a good listener very often gets the reputation of being a good talker!

The second thing that will help is for you to learn how to be good at the things that interest girls and boys of your age—such as dancing, hobbies and such—that will give you activities to share with other young people. If you make yourself really expert at some of them, you will have the ease and you want to know you better. They may even come to you for advice and ask you to help them do these things as well as you do.

Perhaps you'd like to have my suggestions on how to be popular. Send me a stamped self-addressed envelope and I'll be glad to forward them to you.

Chilled Tomato Juice with Lemon Juice
Boiled Fresh or Cured Beef Tongue—Raisin Sauce
Boiled Pepper Squash
New Baby Beets and Tops
Shredded Cabbage and Pepper-grass Salad
Emsen's Orange Ambrosia Jelly
Iced Coffee

This meal was prepared more or less in slapstick. I was getting ready to go to the National Press Conference for a week and had to keep my nose to the typewriter. But guests were coming for dinner, so willy-nilly I had to get cooking.

I put the tongue (weight 3 3-4 lbs., cost $1.39) in the deep well cooker, covered with water and let it simmer with a bay leaf for four hours. In the hot weather I like a tongue for slicing cold and serving for a salad plate meal the next day.

The Raisin Sauce was simplicity itself. I had the beets boiling in the bottom of the double boiler so in the top of the double boiler I mixed well together 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, make each of salt and nutmeg, and stirred in 2 cups boiling water (over the boiling beets) until thick. Then I added 1-4 cup raisins raising and juice of 1-2 lemon and 1-4 cup cooked covered 15 minutes. Delicious spooned over the tongue slices.

I usually bake pepper squashes but it was a hot day and the prospect of heating the oven was too much for me, so I just plain boiled it whole and when serving time came I gingerly quartered it, scooped out the seeds and smothered the quarters with butter, salt, pepper and a little nutmeg. It was over so good and a change, it was XLc.

The tops of the new beets are so tender and delicate in flavor right now they should be used by all thoughtful cooks, for they are rich in vitamin B and minerals. (Do you leave the stumps of the stems on your new beets before you peel them? They are stringy, and take some time to pull. I made this in three minutes flat, and put it in the refrigerator to chill and eat. Then I went back to my desk for 3 1-2 hours, answering another 20 minutes to prepare the rest of the meal—with one quick break at the kitchen to put the squash on to boil.

This serves five generously, but if you plan a few large-strawberry salads. It is especially good in slaw—we like it in potato or any salad though.

EMSEN'S ORANGE AMBROSIA JELLY

This is another quickie—the kind of dessert that is dear to my heart and I think it is a find. After pulling the tongue on to boil I made this in three minutes flat, and put it in the refrigerator to chill and eat. Then I went back to my desk for 3 1-2 hours, answering another 20 minutes to prepare the rest of the meal—with one quick break at the kitchen to put the squash on to boil.

This serves five generously, but if you plan a few large-strawberry ries over each serving it will stretch for six.

Into a bowl put 1 package lemon or lime-flavored jelly powder. Dissolve in 1 1 cup boiling water. Add 1 6-oz. can orange juice concentrate frozen, and 1 can mandarin oranges, Stir until frozen juice melts. Chill until set. This is not a stiff rubbery jelly—only 1 tbsp. to a serving. It has a natural orange flavor and is rich and perfectly delectable as a cool-refreshing dessert for a summer meal. Next time, instead of the can of mandarin oranges, I will try fresh fruit such as strawberries, sliced bananas, halved sweet cherries, but think that without the syrup from the canned fruit more water will have to be added.

GERTRUDE LAWRENCE AS "Mrs. A"

She was born in the slums of London, became one of the theatre's most famous stars . . . flamed, quarrelled, fought emotion—the stuff of which legends are made. He was a stuffy Boston blue-blood, shocked at her gay actress-ness. Yet between them they shared a love that comes tremendously alive. If you enjoy the company of sparkling personalities, betty Kirkland Aldrich's tender, humorous tribute to this amazing marriage of opposites. In the July Ladies' Home Journal. Out today—on all newsstands.

STIRLING

S.S. Presents Gifts To Pastor, Teacher

STIRLING — On Sunday morning at the close of the Sunday School period, Mr. Harold Hagerman, superintendent of St. Paul's, voiced appreciation to Rev. A. E. Baker for his untiring services in helping the children and young people of the Sunday school, and in appreciation of his efforts Mrs. Walter Elliott made the presentation of a "Guests' Register Book" as a small remembrance to carry with him to his new home.

The recipient voiced thanks and gave a parting message to the Sunday School folk, all of whom had been his special interest, as he had presented a devotional message to them Sunday by Sunday.

On Sunday morning, June 20, at the close of the Adult Bible Class lesson the group honored their teacher, Rev. W. S. Irwin, who has taught the class so diligently during his sojourn in Stirling.

Mrs. Elizabeth Christie read an appropriate address of appreciation for his valuable assistance and Mrs. George White on behalf of the class, made the presentation.

This was a complete surprise to Mr. Irwin, but he graciously expressed his thanks and left a worthwhile message to the group.

Minor Softball

Checker Taxi emerged on the long end of a 20-15 score in a ball game played at the number two fireball last night. Maund's Cleaners were the losers.

McLaren and Hook pitched for the winners with 12 hits off them as they fanned seven and issued free passes to 14. Goyer was catching. Devers and Reid worked on the hill for Maund's, between them allowing 18 base knocks with four strikeouts and nine walks charged to them. Their receiver was Sox.

Goyer paced the winners with the wood, banging out a double and three singles as Lessels and Mac Donald had four singles each and McLaren helped his own cause with a double and a single. T. Keller claimed a triple, double and a single for the cleaner crew while Devers contributed four singles. Reid had a double and a single.

Stirling

STIRLING — Mr. John Good and his mother, Mrs. A. E. Good, spent the week-end in North Gower with the latter's brother, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fox attended a reception and banquet Friday evening in Kingston, in honor of Mrs. Newton Foster, recently elected Grand Master of the IOOF Grand Lodge of Ontario.

Mrs. Hugh Mouck entertained her sister, Mrs. Frank Johnson, Brighton, last week.

Mrs. D. Carruth, Toronto, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elliott, and attended several special functions in Stirling which included the gathering Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson.

Miss Roberta Good, nurse-in-training at Kingston spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Good, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Francis entertained Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Francis, Gananoque for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fox, Mr. Thomas Spry, Miss Gena Spry, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rose and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Belcour and Carolyn attended a recent memorial service for Celtic lawn and Rebekahs at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Kingston, and a decoration service at Kingston Cemetery, in the afternoon, when the two groups honored their departed brothers and sisters of the IOOF lodge. Earl Fox, Grand High Priest of the IOOF Grand Encampment, had a part in this service.

Mrs. G. W. Leatherland, Batawa, has been engaged on a trial basis as organist of St. Paul's United Church.

Mr. Walter Barker left by plane from Malton airport, Toronto, on Monday to visit relatives in Edmonton, Alberta, and attended the wedding of her niece, on Wednesday, June 30.

Mrs. Robert Kerr spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Black, Kingston.

The induction of Rev. A. Packman, D.P.S., as the new minister of St. Paul's United Church will take place Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the church auditorium. Rev. and Mrs. Packman are moving from Jarvis, Ontario, on Wednesday of this week, and will take up residence at St. Paul's parsonage.

Rev. H. C. Secker, of St. John's, Stirling, and Canon J. M. Brownlie, Marmora, attended the recent Clerical Union in Napanee and Clergy Camp at Lyndhurst.

Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Baker and her father, Rev. W. S. Irwin, left for Toronto, on Monday, where they will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Earle Baker. Their daughter, Dr. Shirley Baker, is being married in Toronto, on Monday evening, and she and her husband will spend a year doing post graduate work in England before taking up permanent residence in Vancouver, B.C.

Following the wedding, Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Baker will take up their duties at their new charge in "Smooth Rock Falls" while Mr. Irwin is taking a university summer course in Toronto.

HE REALLY GETS AROUND

From Geneva to Berne to New Delhi in a series of fast moves, all of which have their significance in history, is the story of Chou En-lai, premier of Red China. At Geneva he was his country's chief spokesman in a conference which ended with Indo-China partitioned. At Berne he talked with Pierre Mendes-France, premier of France, on a settlement in Indo-China. At New Delhi he conferred with India's Nehru on Asiatic problems. Here, looking the part of a successful business man, he leaves Berne for his meeting with Nehru. (Central Press Canadian).

Sports Events and Family Outings Will Highlight Dominion Day Holiday

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadians will head for beaches, summer cottages, ball parks and race tracks Thursday for the Dominion Day holiday. In many parts of Canada they face the prospect of cool and cloudy weather.

It will be largely a day for family celebrations and local sports events with few large-scale celebrations planned. Heavy traffic is expected to reach a mid-summer peak and police and safety officials have urged the public to take it easy.

Fifteen persons died violently during last year's one-day holiday, most of them victims of traffic accidents and drownings.

Transportation officials predict crowded buses and trains but airline traffic is expected to be normal in most areas because of the short holiday.

BORDEN TRANSPORT BOOKED

In British Columbia, all forms of transportation to the United States border and interior resort centers are heavily booked. Main attr.-" as the Canadian cycle championships at the Pacific Exhibition Games oval in Vancouver and a cherry festival at Penticton. The RCMP will use ghost cars for the first time in the province in an attempt to reduce the traffic toll.

Alberta, like B. C., probably will have cloudy weather with risk of showers. Thistledown highway parkrink in Alberta and Saskatchewan are expected to reduce traffic accidents to a minimum. Calgary will be 'fatality-free in both provinces as it was last year.

The Highland Games Association annual track meet is scheduled for Edmonton's Clarke Field. Western International League baseball game, and Calgary's 12th annual motorcycle hill climb on the Banff highway. Many children and military units will leave Saskatoon for summer camps.

WATCH FIGHTS WEATHER

Manitoba also has fatality-free last Dominion Day but Brandon area residents will have their eye on another danger—rising flood crests on the Assiniboine river. The weather man promises a sunny sunny weather and tourists will flock to Pine Fen where the annual week-long fishing festival is in progress. The angler catching the biggest one wins a new car.

There will be the provincial exhibition and softball tourney in Dauphin at Brandon, a $10,000 Canadian dollar tennis tournament at Winnipeg's Polo Park race track and many golf club tournaments.

In Toronto and Montreal, where cloudy weather and possible showers are forecast, International League baseball games will be the feature. A Dominion Day invitation tournament has been scheduled at Hamilton's Chedoke Golf and Country club.

Quebec province traffic officials fear a high accident rate on the highways with thousands of Montrealers flocking to the country and the mountains.

TROOP THE COLOR

In Ottawa, the governor-general's foot guards will troop the color on Parliament Hill and there will be a tournament of the Caledonian Highlanders, but civic ceremonies will be confined to a fireworks display at Lansdowne park in the evening.

Chicken barbecues will be a highlight in the Maritimes. Barbecue at Fredericton's Exhibition section each are expected to draw close to 5,000 persons.

Harness racing and baseball will be top sports events in both provinces. Schooners will sail in New Brunswick and the exodus to beaches and summer cottages will be in full swing.

The Canadian Legion arranges celebrations in most Nova Scotia small towns but Halifax had its big fling on Navy Day June 22 and has no plans except for baseball games.

New Canadians Show Intelligence in Votes

TORONTO (CP) — New Canadians with a poor knowledge of English are often better voters than long-time residents in elections held to determine union certification in a plant, Fred Hosman of the Ontario labor relations board said Wednesday.

Prof. Jacob Finkelman made the observation after rejecting a proposal by Norman Mathews, counsel for Alberty Ornamental Iron Ltd., that ballots be printed in Italian for about 70 per cent of the Toronto firm's employees.

The machinery of the labor board would be hopelessly bewildered if Mr. Mathews' suggestion was followed, Prof. Finkelman said.

TITANIUM SPONGE

...ounce molded titanium sponge, a five-pound chunk of titanium sponge. Titanium is a metal which is stronger than steel and only slightly heavier than aluminum. The metal is finding increasing use in engine parts subject to high temperatures such as jet engines. The cost of the sponge, one of the steps in the refining process, now is $4.50-$5.50 a pound and experiments are being conducted to reduce the cost. Huge deposits of ilmenite, titanium ore, are found north of the St. Lawrence River. (CP Photo)

U.S. Steel Sets Basic Pattern In New Contracts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The CIO United Steelworkers had pen, ink ready today for basic steel producers to follow the lead of the United States Steel Corporation and sign contracts giving 600,000 men a five-cent an hour pay increase, higher pensions and improved insurance programs.

U.S. Steel, employing 190,000 USW dues payers and usually the contract pace-setter for the industry, was first to sign Tuesday.

A few hours later, the second largest producer, Bethlehem Steel Company, agreed to the same basic settlement and said it would sign for its 89,000 employees in New York today. Jones, Laughlin Steel Corporation, the fourth largest producer with about 25,000 USW employees, signed the same agreement.

A spokesman for the big union said all other basic steel producers in the Pittsburgh area have contracts expiring at midnight tonight are expected to be in agreement soon. He explained they could not formally sign contracts or memorandums that they will agree to the basic pattern established by U.S. Steel.

AVERAGE RATES UP

Average hourly rates under the new U.S. Steel contract, which runs to June 15 1955, will be from $2.19 to $2.29. The five-cent increase becomes effective Thursday.

U.S. Steel said its starting rate will become $1.57 an hour "and the present premium of 5 cents an hour) between job classes is retained."

The insurance and pension benefits take effect Nov. 1. The insurance program will be frozen at its new level for two years and the pension plan for three years.

Animal Babies Need Helping Hand at Zoo

NEW YORK (AP)—Some animal babies need a helping human hand to survive, the Bronx zoo said in a Bronx zoo.

Right now the bottle-and-formula "club" consists of Kenneth the Wanderoo monkey; Rough and Toughy, two baby eagles, and a pet recently born eagles, and a Japanese sika fawn whose mother died after its birth.

The case of Kenneth has the pet-lovers all excited. He was born Murphy, a nurse at the zoo's hospital. Kenneth was born 15 days ago and his mother—from Ceylon —wouldn't have anything to do with him.

So Miss Murphy mixed up a formula for baby milk and fed the monk, which he gets every two hours. He prefers it to zoo chow. Murphy's desk. At night, he accompanies her home on the subway.

Roughy and Toughy the seals prefer fish—at 4½ pounds of watery about a month ago. Although they have begun to eat fish on their own, they're not old enough to know how to eat.

For them it's a formula concocted of one can of evaporated milk, a pint of water, 1½ tablespoonful of cod liver oil and seven finely ground smelts. A zoo keeper handfeeds them by squeezing a tube and rubber bobs.

When they learn to eat the smelts, that will become their diet. Too little to be given a big seal pool, Roughy and Toughy are ground in a pond designed for them.

The eagles? They were hatched on June 11 and 12, and don't yet know how to stand up. They're being hand-fed on chopped eggs, meat and fish.

DRANK GAS, DIED

MONCTON (CP)—Susan Yundt, 3, died Tuesday after drinking gasoline from a can which had been used by a painter to clean his hands in this community 17 miles northwest of Stratford.

Further Layoffs Are Announced By Ford Company

WINDSOR (CP)—In announcing further layoffs at Ford of Canada's Windsor plant, president Hays M. Sale said increased sales of cars and trucks in Canada for 1954 may be down 75,000 vehicles or more.

It is better to employees, Mr. Sale said 450 men would go on indefinite layoff when the plant closes down today for the long holiday week-end. The truck assembly line will not operate from July 5 to 9 and there will be departmental layoffs for that period.

He said the truck line will resume July 12 but will close permanently July 30 when the truck assembly operation will move to the Oakville plant. This will throw another 750 out of work.

President Charles McDonald of Local 200, United Automobile Workers' union, said the announcement is proof that the situation in the Canadian automobile industry is getting worse instead of better "despite optimistic statements by the company . . . that the condition is only temporary."

Mr. Sale said when 1954 production schedules were set up last fall, the Ford company in Canada had estimated cars and trucks of all makes sold in Canada would be equal to or not more than five per cent below the 1953 total. This would have been a drop of not more than 22,000 vehicles.

ONE-FAMILY INVASION

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Meehan and their eight children arrive in Montreal from England to set a record, so far as known, as the largest English family to emigrate to Canada since the Second World War. They formerly lived in Southport, near Liverpool, where Mr. Meehan, 43, was a mail-order supervisor. He felt the children would have a brighter future in Canada so he sold his home, car and furniture and set out. France's Shaky Hold on Red River Delta, Key to Victory In Indo-China, Is Crumbling

BY LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE (AP) — France's shaky hold on the Red river delta, key to military victory in Indo-China, is crumbling rapidly.

Another three weeks may tell the tale as the low land the French can hold on to the highway and railway line between Hanoi and the seaport city of Haipong, 64 miles to the east.

Within that period it appears there is either going to be a cease-fire agreement, or the Communist Vietminh will hit the French with a massive "human sea" attack.

Nightly for weeks the French have been losing strategic defence posts under attack by overwhelming numbers of Vietminh, or blowing them up themselves and withdrawing to bolster the Hanoi-to-Haiphong lifeline.

French premier Pierre Mendes-France has pledged to get a cease-fire in Indo-China by July 20 or resign. Moves are now underway fire stops the shooting.

Meantime, the French holding in the rice and minerals-rich Red river delta, where 7,000,000 'let Namese live, is shrinking fast.

The French high command already has announced a general withdrawal f.om th., big Thai Binh province and its textiles-manufacturing centre of the same name, a city of more than 100,000 on the Red river 55 miles southeast of Hanoi.

The French delta's defence, long described as the "iron wall" against the sweep of communism into Southeast Asia, and once embracing 400 .miles, now is being cut to about a 200-mile stretch from west and northwest of Hanoi southward to Haiphong.

It is along the railway and highway between Hanoi and Haiphong that the French are preparing to make their last-ditch stand in northern Indo-China unless a cease-fire intervenes.

Only 450 Canadians in Peru But Make Influence Felt

BY MARGARET ECKER

LIMA, Peru (CP) — By none counts are there more people than about 450 Canadians, including women and children, scattered over the coastal desert and the high Andes of this Latin-American country on the Pacific. But they have made their influence felt.

International Petroleum, a Canadian company, produces six-sevenths of all the oil produced in Peru. Talara, just south of the Equatorian border, is the hub of the country's petroleum industry.

In the matter-of-fact description of a guide book, the town "owes its development to Canadians."

Some 200 Canadians, including engineers, their wives and children, live in the company-built type oil town. Murray Matheson of Sarnia, Ont., is chemical engineer, the manager of the Talara operations.

A BIT OF CANADA

When Eric McConachie of Vancouver and Edmonton, Canadian Pacific Airlines development engineer, visited the company recently to investigate refuelling facilities for his company's planes operating between Mexico City and Chile, he found "it was just like being back in Canada."

A subsidiary of the Bata Shoe Company of Canada has created the most shoes in Peru. The manager is Lionel Zajicek of Batawa, Ont., and the company operates under the name, "Fabrica de Calzado Peruana."

Canadians may find it its specialty. Forty-eight stevedores and crew members from a Canadian freighter-cargo vessel fought their way or were carried ashore when a liquid gas container collapsed from a hoist and plunged 25 feet into the cargo hold, releasing a greenish-yellow poison mist through the ship.

Sweating dock workers climbed the sheer steel ladder up the sides of the hold while others, sleeping in their cabins, were rescued by firemen who donned respirators to forge through the deadly haze.

Ten men collapsed on reaching the deck and were carried to the pier where passing cars were commandeered to carry the injured to hospital.

Dead are Lucien St. Pierre, 34, who was reared in the 150-pound cylinder when it crashed into the hold, Ronald Thompson, 21, and Elmo Joseph, 22. They were all from Montreal. They died within two hours of the accident.

Four stevedores and a sailor were in very critical condition when they reached hospital and doctors said they probably would die. Others suffered from oxygen to ease the burden on their gas-burned lungs. Four lines of rescue formed the dock, feeding them oxygen to ease the burden on their gas-burned lungs. Death Toll Rises to Three After Lethal Chlorine Spills

MONTREAL (CP) — Three men died when lethal liquid chlorine spilled through the hold of the coastal freighter North Gaspe Tuesday, but doctors today said five others, originally given a 50-50 chance to live, are doing satisfactorily.

Four-eight stevedores and crew members from the 1,000-ton freighter-cargo vessel fought their way or were carried ashore when a liquid gas container collapsed from a hoist and plunged 25 feet into the cargo hold, releasing a greenish-yellow poison mist through the ship.

Lawn Paved With Asphalt By Accident

WOODSTOCK (CP)—A woman in nearby Norwich had a paved lawn Tuesday — but neither officials and town residents worked feverishly to restore the grass.

It happened when a dump truck ran off the highway and upset in front of the home of Miss Matilda Depew. The truck was carrying 11½ tons of cold pack, used for highways, which spilled on the lawn.

Frederick Myke, 19, of Hagers ville told police he had fallen asleep in the truck which travelled into a ditch about 150 feet, cam back and crossed the highway, sheared off a signpost, nicked a telephone pole, turned on its side, skidded, jackknifed, lost its load and came to rest in the highway again.

Myke was unhurt but damage t the truck was estimated at $3,000.

Indoctrination Of East Berliners Shocks West

BERLIN (Reuters)—The Communists' Whitsun youth rally in East Berlin has left West Berlin youth leaders shocked at the progress which Communist indoctrination of youth appears to have made since the last similar rally four years ago.

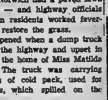
The new rally brought more than 500,000 boys and girls, aged 14 to 25, to Berlin and gave West Berlin officials their first chance since 1950 to sample the feeling of youth who have lived all, or most, of their lives under Communist influence.

Russian Germany is reunited soon and East German youth given access to Western thinking, officials say, the Communists will lose that which no longer appreciates that it is in Communist hands.

SHY AND SUSPECTING

Gerhard Buswitt is one of the chief organizers of the West Berlin youth rally. Between entertaining young East Germans who dared to cross the sector boundary. He said the overwhelming impression gained from them was one of shyness and suspicion.

"It is not that they necessarily believe everything they have been told. They are afraid to be overheard, enlisted as spies and saboteurs or denounced by the Forsta Legion," he said. "But they all had a reserve and shyness that at every move we made which frightened us."



The West Berlin youth centre treated the visitors exactly as it only possible and effective way. It steered clear of any political counter-indoctrination and just gave them every possible opportunity to see West Berlin.

Ground Forces Of RCAF Learn To Fly in U.K.

NORTH LUFFENHAM, England (CP)—The ground crews of the RCAF's No. 1 fighter wing are learning to fly.

They have formed the RCAF North Luffenham Flying Club with more than 70 members, purchased three Tiger-Moth biplanes and started taking lessons from FO. Al McCallum, of Hamilton.

The flying club was established after Cpl. Les Sawyer of Victoria and LAC. Gerry Corbe of Sudbury, complained about the high cost of flying lessons and decided to do something about it. It is estimated the cost of learning to fly on the North Luffenham station will be about $4.50 an hour.

Sgt. Ian Sargeer is secretary of the club and Grotz, along with LAC. Patrick Fisher, a British ground crewman, are responsible for keeping the training aircraft in flying condition.

The first of the three Tiger Moths arrived in the RCAF's 8650 camp last week and the next two are expected to be put into service soon.

Atomic Energy Commission Confirms Oppenheimer Ban

BY WARREN ROGERS Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission Tuesday branded as a security risk famed atomic pioneer J. Robert Oppenheimer by a 4-to-1 declaration that he is unfit to handle America's nuclear secrets because of "defects of character . . . and dangerous associations."

Oppenheimer, whose closed out late Tuesday its role in a long and wordy legal battle with the government's physicist was ordered one of its most trusted advisers. But the next act would bring surprise.

Instead of the expected appeal to President Eisenhower.

The president has declined comment in the case since, on his orders, Oppenheimer's security clearance was suspended last December.

Oppenheimer appealed then, and the AEC set up a special security panel to consider his case. It heard 38 witnesses, including Oppenheimer, and on May 27 voted 4-to-1 against him.

Oppenheimer, in New York Tuesday night after the commission released its decision upholding the board's ruling, had no direct comment on the majority report.

But he voiced confidence in the U.S. counsel system and added he "work faithfully to preserve and strengthen this country."

Oppenheimer, director of a private research group called the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J., winds up his case as an AEC consultant today, but with expiration of his contract.

The security board which weighed his case last spring heard 500,000 words of testimony and ruled Oppenheimer was loyal but a security risk.

The commission's majority report said Oppenheimer no longer merits the government's confidence.

Two Railways Granted Licences To Serve Liquor

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Liquor Board announced Tuesday night that Canada's two main railways have been granted licences to serve liquor on transcontinental trains crossing the province.

The licences of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways will permit sale of liquor, beer and wine in dining and club cars. The licences were issued by the board at a public hearing in Toronto June 4.

The two railwaysman said sales probably will start about mid-July, when they will be made to passengers in sealed bottles containing 1.8 ounces. The seal will be broken by the waiter after the commission has collected its gallonage tax.

The licences will apply to four transcontinental trains of each railway—westbound trains starting from Toronto and Montreal and eastbound trains starting from the Pacific Coast.

SUPPLY A THRILL?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Pat McCarran (Dem. Ending diplomatic relations with Russia, McCarran said would give a thrill to millions of human beings, terribly afraid of waiting," who are the victims of Communist aggression.

STIRLING

Pastor, Wife Honored By Surprise Party

STIRLING—On Saturday evening, the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs R. A. Patterson was a scene of a delightful surprise party. The rooms were decorated with a profusion of roses and peonies with approximately 85 people in attendance.

The 13 ladies, who have been recipients of "Fairy Stone Crosses," at St. Paul's and Carmel, availed themselves of this happy opportunity to spend a few hours together with the parsonage family.

The ladies brought their carets and the group began arriving at 8 p.m., and by 10.30 p.m. when the Rev. A. E. Baker announced for a "cup of coffee", by special request, he was surprised to find the group willing his appearance.

Mrs. Arthur Fryar gave an oral address, speaking words of appreciation to the Baker family for all that they have accomplished in the St. Paul's-Carmel charge. She mentioned the highlights of the almost five-year pastorate and outlined many important tasks that had been begun and completed.

On behalf of the 13 ladies Mrs. Roy Bush made the presentation of a Black Forest, 400-day clock. The accompanying card read: "Just to say good-bye and good-luck from all of us." You should know without our saying it, we'll miss you very much, and hope you'll keep us posted, so we won't get out of touch, and as you go, our warmest hopes, tag right along behind, to bring you good luck and happiness, the "ever-after" kind." —From the "Inner Circle."

Mrs. Louise Anderson, Mrs. Joseph Grills, Mrs. Frank Bailey Mrs. Percy Madden, Mrs. Fred Bateman, Mrs. Robert Patterson, Mrs. Lorne Brooks, Mrs. Arthur Fryar, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Roy Bush, Miss Marion Carlisle, Mrs. Walter Warren, Mrs. Carleton Wright, Mrs. George Carlisle, and Mrs. Percy Elliott.

Mr. Baker graciously voiced thanks and then gave much valuable advice re work in the Master's vineyard, and all that it implies. His words will long be treasured by the group in attendance at this memorable gathering.

Mrs. Baker also voiced thanks and a welcome to pay a visit to Smooth Rock Falls any time.

The hostess and her husband, assisted by Audrey Elliott, Anne Bateman, Evelyn Carlisle and Vera Fryar, served appetizing refreshments complete with ice cream and a variety of cake.

At the close of a delightful evening, Mr. Baker offered a closing prayer and the group dispersed to meet at church next morning.

The group also extended the best and hostess a gracious thank-you for their generous hospitality.

Lodges Hold Annual Church Parade

MARMORA—St. Andrew's United Church, Marmora, was well filled on Sunday evening as the annual church parade of L.O.L. 819 and Harmony L.O.B.A. 600 was held there.

In addition to the boys and girls juvenile lodges of the village also attending were several sisters and brethren of neighboring lodges made up an imposing procession which was headed by the band of L.O.L. 819.

Leaving the Orange Hall the parade passed through Burnhill, Madoc, Forsythe and Matthew streets enroute to the church.

HYMNS USED

The service was conducted by Wor. Bro. Rev. E. J. Crawford, B.A., B.D., pastor of the church, who, in his striking discourse, blended three texts, one from Joshua, another from Galatians, and the third from Hebrews showing how three valliants were wholehearted in their devotion to God and His Son, Jesus Christ.

He was assisted by Past County Master W. J. Cottrell who for many years has been chaplain of L.O.L. 819.

The latter led in responsive reading of Psalm 97, read the two Scripture lessons and offered thanksgiving and intercession.

Leaving the church the parade continued along Matthew street, North Hastings Avenue, Madoc street and Burnhill street to return to the hall where appropriate addresses were given by Wor. Bro. Gerald Fluke W.M. of L.O.L. 213; County Master Hagermann, Reverend Bro. Crawford, Mrs. Robert Wright, W. M., of Madoc L.O.B.A.; Wor Bro. W. J. Cottrell, Wor. Bro. Gordon Jones and Bro. J. Masonic Lodge Attends Annual Church Service

TWEED — The annual church service of Tweed Lodge, No. 239, A.F. and A.M., was held Sunday at 11 a.m. The members met at their hall in the Oddfellows' block, corner Jamieson and Colborne Streets, at 10.30 a.m., and marched to St. John's United Church where they joined with the congregation in divine service.

Rev. Bro. W. K. Pace, B.A., minister of St. John's, conducted the service. He chose for his subject "Reconstruction," a very fitting and appropriate subject for the occasion.

A massed choir of junior, intermediate and senior members sang as their patriotic anthem, "Canada," composed by Mr. Roy Fenwick, of Toronto, accompanied by the organist, Fred Porter. The junior choir sang "A Hymn of Praise," with Mrs. H. S. Connor as piano accompanist.

There was a large turnout of Masons with a number of visiting brethren from other lodges.

Veteran N.B. Liberal Has Attended 32 Consecutive Sessions of House

FREDERICTON (CP)—J. Andre Doucet, 74, dean of the present and two preceding New Brunswick legislatures both in age and length of service, holds two records not held by this province but probably any Canadian legislative body.

The veteran Gloucester county Liberal is believed to be the only member of a provincial legislature to have attended 32 consecutive sessions and the only one to be receiving the old age pension while having a child of family allowance age.

First winning his seat at a 1922 by-election, Mr. Doucet retained it in every succeeding provincial general election. He was elected to his seventh legislature two years ago.

A former New Brunswick record of 27 consecutive sessions was held jointly by the late Hon. Dr. H. I. Taylor, conservative from Charlotte, and the late A. J. Bordage, Kent county Liberal. Marks of 23 and 21 consecutive years were set respectively by the late Scott D. Ingalls, Charlotte county Conservative, and former Liberal premier A. A. Dysart.

LONGEST IN N.B.

A legislative member five years longer than any other New Brunswicker, Mr. Doucet has served during seven administrations. He entered the House as a supporter of the late premier P. J. Veniot's Liberal government in 1923 and was a government back-bencher until 1925. For the next 10 years he sat as an opposition member through the Conservative regimes of the late chief Justice J. B. M. Baxter, Chief Justice C. D. Richards and the late premier L. P. D. Tilley.

After Liberals returned to power in 1935 he was again a government back-bencher during the administration of Premier Dysart.

J. Andre Doucet, 74, dean of the New Brunswick legislature, has been a member for 32 consecutive years, believed a record for any Canadian legislature. He also is believed the only member of a provincial legislative body receiving both the old age pension and family allowance. He has a daughter by his second wife whom he married in 1940. (CP Photo).

in 1940 and Mr. Doucett became successful New Brunswick electric power chairman, minister of health and labor and minister of industry and development until 1952 when the Liberals gave way to a Progressive Conservative government headed by Premier Hugh John Fleming.

Joseph Andre Doucett was born on Anticosti Island, Que., of French and French-Acadian parentage. He has two daughters from a first marriage and one from a second in 1940.

Lodges Hold Double Services

STIRLING — The annual Decoration Day and Memorial service of Stirling Lodge No. 329 IOOF and Laurel Rebekah Lodge - No. 211 was held at Stirling cemetery on Sunday afternoon.

Despite a high wind and a cool breeze, there was a good attendance. Stirling Citizens' Band led the brethren from the lodge hall to the cemetery where 53 Rebekahs joined the group and formed a cross beside the large memorial placed especially for this service.

Mr. Earl Fox, Grand High Priest of the IOOF Grand Encampment marshalled the men with Mr. Geo. Weaver chaplain: Mr. Jack Sager reading the long list of deceased members, and Mr. Frank Cosbey gave the charges.

REBEKAH SERVICE

During the Rebekah service under the leadership of Noble Grand Mrs. Harry Vandervoort, special tribute was given by chaplain Mrs. Carl W. Clancy, Vice Grand Mrs. Morley Barlow, and Past Grand Mrs. John Good. Mrs. Walter Warren sang "Beyond the Sunset."

The flowers, a large basket of variegated peonies were placed by Mrs. Earl Fox, District Deputy President, and Mrs. Percy Unsan, who acted as Marshal.

The IOOF members placed a large wreath of red and white carnations in memory of the deceased.

During the service at the cemetery, the band played "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God to Thee."

The impressive service closed with "God Save the Queen."

Little Benny's Note Book

I went in the living room after dinner and started to look around, and pop said, Aren't you suppose to be up in your own room doing your homework?

Yes sir, but I need something first, and I think I left it in here some-where, I said, and ma said, If you'd only learn to keep your belongings together you could spend more time getting things done, instead of looking for things to do them with.

That's a fact, pop said. Successful men have a place for everything and keep everything in its place, both outside their heads and inside. And the same thing applies to successful boys, he said, and ma said, What is it you need so especially, what are you looking for?

A pencil stump that writes red with one end and blue with the other end if both ends are sharpened, I said, and pop said, For Pete sake, do you meen your homework will suffer if you dont find that thing?

Sure, pop, nobody can keep their mind on their work while they think they've lost something, I said. How about ma the other day when she suddinly missed her diamond ring. She couldn't do any work around the house for about an hour till she found it in the medecine chest where you put it to be in a safe place when you found it on the wash stand, I said, and pop said, Yes gods what a comparison.

Just the same, William, you caused me a lot of anxiety and I'll thank you not to do that again, ma said, and pop said, Yes gods I plead guilty, it's all my fault that Benny is chasing red and blue butterflies instead of doing his homework. Now young man, I'll give you 10 seconds to get started for your own room, he said.

The result being it only took me about 5.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

That which works best in the greatest majority of cases is the best rule to follow. And of simplest rules of bridge are the most efficient. So is it with the easy rules for leads.

One of the first rules I teach beginners is this: Against a suit contract, don't lead away from a king. So, immediately comes the question: What if there is a king in every suit?

The answer to this is easy. With an objection to the lead of every suit, lead a trump. How this applies is quickly seen in the tournament deal shown, here:

	NORTH
	♠J 9 8 6
	♥Q 8 6
	♦A 6 5 3
	♣5 4
WEST		EAST
♠7 5 3		♠10
♥K 10 5 3		♥A J 7 4 2
♦K 9 4 2		♦Q J
♣K 8		♣J 10 9 2
	SOUTH
	♠A K Q 4 3
	♥9
	♦10 8
	♣A Q 7 6 3

South was declarer at a contract of four spades. A loser in each red suit is promptly assumed. A possible loser in clubs is considered. The ten tricks left are all that the declarer needs.

Rule says that an opening leader should not lead away from an ace or a king against a suit contract. So, with a king in each side suit, the correct opening lead from west is a trump.

Have you considered how valuable is a rule like this? When your partner starts with an opening lead of a trump what does he say? "I have an ace or a king in every suit not led by opponents."

Trick one was a trump lead taken by dummy with the jack. Trying to ruff clubs before dummy trumps were gone, a club finesse was tried. This lost to west who promptly returned another trump.

When a red suit trick was lost to west he led his last trump and dummy could ruff only one club. He then lost a third club round and another trick in a red suit. Down one.

Without the west trump leads the declarer would have had timing for ruffing two clubs. This would have made the contract easy for him. Chalk one up for starting with a rule lead.

Maybe rule does not deserve the credit. But it is a good one to know.

American Girls Sure of Title

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Maureen Connolly and three other American stars made certain Tuesday the United States will take at least one Wimbledon tennis championship — the women's singles—when they won quarter - finals matches.

Three of the girls, defending champion Miss Connolly and former champions Doris Hart and Louise Brough, won as expected. But the fourth, Mrs. Betty Rosenquest Pratt, came in with an upset over Shirley Fry, another American.

In mixed doubles play Lorne Main of Toronto and Mrs. L. Alvarez-Hamblet of Switzerland were defeated 6-2, 6-1 by Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Miss Hart in fourth round play.

Mrs. Hannah Sladek of Toronto and Miss E. G. Atwood of New Zealand lost 6-1, 3-6, 6-1 in a second-round match in the women's doubles.

SPORT IN BRIEF

POPULAR IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW (AP) — The world champion shot putter, Parry O'Brien of the United States, has become quite a boy in the Soviet press.

Perhaps it's because they like strong athletes here—men who can out-strong their own.

That is probably why O'Brien is given a two-column headed story and picture in the latest issue of Soviet Sport, leading sports paper of the Soviet Union.

The article stated that twice in a young season O'Brien broke his own world record, pointed up that Soviet track and field athletes must make haste to catch up with the Americans.

TRAIN FOR GAMES

LONDON (Reuters) — Eighteen athletes from Northern Rhodesia, including a quadruple-Olympic track and field star, are training here for the British Empire Games in Vancouver next month.

The team is captained by marathon runner Johnny Kay. He will be accompanied in track events by Edna Maisel, an 80-metres hurdler with a best performance mark of 11.3 second.

Northern Rhodesia will also enter boxing in four divisions, wrestling, weight-lifting and bowling.

UNUSUAL HAZARD

PERTH, Australia (AP)—Kangaroos have become a regular hazard to golfers at Halfway Creek in the eastern goldfields area and some players carry rifles in their golf bags.

Near-drought conditions in the northwest have driven the kangaroos to the Halfway Creek area where feed is plentiful.

QUIET HOLIDAY IN SPORT!

The city schedule makers had an eye for the Dominion Day holiday for none of them came up with a sports attraction for that day and date.

The only fixture of any interest to city sportdom is the out-of-town Viaduct-Ontario Senior Baseball League clash between the Bates and the Oshawa Transporters which is being played in the Motor City.

The golfers will have a go at it likely and the Bay of Quinte Country Club links will likely be a busy scene all day. The white-wingers, too, should have a field day on the water, but the majority of recreation seekers will have to go out of town—or go fishin'.

• • •

THE BIG ONE!

"This is the one we want," Bates' manager Jack Carson said today, referring to the Bates-Oshawa tilt on Thursday. "We defeated them the first time out here, and but for a few costly blunders would have taken them quite handily in the second tussle. There will be no fooling about this tussle and the boys are working hard getting ready for the game."

The Bates are holding a workout at the Exhibition Park tonight, starting at 6.30 and Coach Geyer will send the team through a stiff grind. He will shake up his infield in an effort to get the best combination. As to whom will get the pitching assignment is a mystery and the starting hurler will not be announced until Thursday in Oshawa. The Bates dropped to third place after the week-end double defeat with the Toronto Hackney taking over the second slot behind the Oshawa Transporters.

QUITE A GUY!

There is little or no information out of the stable of Tommy Looney's in Toronto regarding the Mighty Ursus, but reports trickling in from centres where the Man who Walks Like a Bear has wrestled, say he is one of the meanest embryos to come down the grips-grean and grunt highway. And if he lives up to his nom-de-rassle there should be some rare old bone-crunching when he teams up with pal Danny Lewin, another armful of sting due in their tag-team match with Paul Baillargeon, the Husky Habitant, and Tex MacKenzie, the oil derrick from the Alazes, on Friday night. Danny O'Shocker, worry-warts, welds willun, meets popular Billy Stack in the semi, while Joe Maich returns to tangle with Jack Wentworth in the curtain raiser.

• • •

SAILOR BITTEN!

It is not very often a major league ball player gets himself excited over the day's happenings, but Dick Kryhoski, Baltimore first sacker, had himself quite a time after last Sunday's goings on.

Kryhoski bounced a scorching single off a Philadelphia pitcher's glove to drive in the winning run in the first game of a doubleheader. His line drive single in the ninth won the second game. .

"Gee, I'm so excited I can hardly put my clothes on," stuttered Dick in the dressing room.

Kryhoski had his pants on backwards.

BIG DAY AT THE POINT!

Down Ox Point way, Earle Anderson says they're having a big field day tomorrow with all kinds of sports, boat racing, dancing and whatnot.

The boat races start at nine o'clock in the morning and two hours later there will be a casting competition.. More races after luncheon, then a bicycle competition. Lee Bradshaw stages a baseball game at four o'clock and the folks sit down to dinner an hour later. There's action in the parish hall at 7 p.m. and two hours later there will be dancing in the same place.

The boat races include events for 20 cubic inch skiffs, up to 25 cubic inch skiffs, utility class and the Canada I inboard.

In the track and field events there will be races for boys and girls from five years upward, special novelty events and bicycle races. The special events include leg-sawing, ladies' step dancing, ditto the men, old time fiddlers, "freakish" contest, among many others including a peewee baseball game.

Looks like a big day at Point Anne.

• • •

THE PUTT PUTTS!

If you are interested in motorcycle races the Kinsmen Club of Oshawa are staging a meet tomorrow. Many crack riders of the district, as well as some from the U.S.A., will vie for records and prizes.

Dusty Rhodes' Timely Single In 13th Scores Two for Win; Tribe Gains on Chisox, Yanks

By Ben Pelegar
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants apparently are going to stay in first place until they run out of miracles. So far their supply has seemed almost unlimited.

They pulled another one out of the hat Tuesday night, beating their bitter rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-3 in 13 innings when Dusty Rhodes delivered a two-out pinch hit single with the bases loaded and the Giants a run behind.

This was the 10th time since the season opened that the Giants have tied up in the 9th or later but it was their last chance at bat. And since they moved within striking distance of the last place Cubs they used the Frank Merriwell finish so often that poor Frank is about tuckered out.

They are two lengths in front of the Dodgers.

CUBS LOSE 11th

Roy Campanella and rookie Don Hoak hit homers for Brooklyn.

Brooklyn started to have the verdict all wrapped up in the 13th after Duke Snider hit his fourth home run of the year. But in the home half, Dodger relief hurler Billy Loes walked two batters full with two out, losing both Willie Mays and Whitey Lockman on 3-2 pitches. Rhodes then delivered his pinch-hit, good for two runs and the ball game.

Brooklyn had tied the game in the ninth on Roy Campanella's two-run homer. The Giants' first two batsmen in the home half were run way, Irvin and Davey Williams doing the honors. A crowd of 51,464 attended.

Cleveland picked up half a game on C-I-N-C and Chicago's American League and now leads the White Sox by two percentage points. The Indians beat Baltimore 5-1 but Chicago had to settle for a split in a twin bill with Detroit, winning 5-0 after losing 10-3. The New York Yankees stayed 3 games back with a 14-5 triumph at Boston. Philadelphia stayed 5½ back.

Art Houtteman of the Indians broke a five-game Baltimore winning streak with a 5-1 decision. One of the Orioles' hits was a single by Dick Kryhoski which snapped his streak to 19 games, longest in the majors this season.

HALFTIME

Detroit jumped ahead of the White Sox in the night game as Harvey Kuenn opened with a home run and Johnny Groth added a dozen more hits in piling up their seven-run winning margin. Sandy Consuegra checked Cincy for five safeties in the nightcap which was shortened to eight innings by the league curfew. No inning can start after 12:30 a. m., local time, in any major league city.

Mickey Mantle paced the Yankee assault as Bobby Shantz pitching corps with four hits in five times up included a double and a homer.

Arnold Portocarrero, a likely looking rookie, won his fifth straight for the Athletics with the help of a Washington error by Mickey Vernon and a triple by Bill Renna. The Philadelphia right-hander now has a record of 5-6.

MURIAL, AB, BATTING

Jim Wilson of the Braves, who was on the market for $10,000 with no takers until he pitched a no hitter earlier this month, turned in his fifth victory without a loss and his third shutout in beating the hapless Pirates. Murial hit his 4th homer.

An inside-park home run by Richie Ashburn with two mates on base broke a scoreless tie in the eighth inning at Pittsburgh as Herman Wehmeier pitched a seven-hit shutout. It was Wehmeier's second victory and second complete game since joining the Phillies from Cincinnati.

Stan Musial hit his 24th home run, tying Willie Mays of the Giants for the league lead, but the Cardinals continued to sink deeper into second division. Gus Bell led the Cincinnati attack with a home run and two singles and the Redlegs took advantage of two errors and three hit batsmen.

Chase Wins Middle Title

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (CP)—Charlie Chase of Montreal won the Canadian middleweight boxing championship Tuesday night with a unanimous 12-round decision over Charlesbourg's Harry (Kid) Poulion. The title had been vacant. Chase weighed 157 and Poulion 156.

Judge Gerry Desmond gave seven rounds to Chase, two to Poulion and called three even. Danny Lee saw it as seven, one and four, in the same order, and the other judge, J. O. Johnson, favored Chase in every round.

The bout was sanctioned by the Canadian Boxing and Wrestling Federation which ordered the winner to meet Lou Lawrence of Vancouver or another suitable opponent within 30 days.

Leroy "Satchel" Paige, baseball's ageless mystery man and rated one of the best pitchers of all time heads one of the best outside diamond attractions to appear here in many years. Satchel Sacks will hurl for the famous Harlem Globetrotters in their tussle with the noted House of David team at Exhibition Park on Tuesday, July 6. Game at 8.30.

Dodgers Lose Reese, Snider

NEW YORK (AP) — Centre fielder Duke Snider and shortstop Pee Wee Reese will be absent from the Brooklyn line-up when the Dodgers tackle New York Giants in the second game of their important series today.

Snider was hit on the right elbow by Marv Grissom in the 10th inning of Tuesday night's game which the Giants won 4-3. X-examination showed no break, but Snider could hardly lift his arm later. He probably will be out for several days.

Reese aggravated an old leg injury running from first to third on a single in the 12th inning. He will take only a day or two off.

Flo Chadwick Takes Big Dive Into Matrimony

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Distance swimming ace Florence Chadwick announced she soon will take the big plunge—into matrimony with F. Wallace Taber, African game hunter, lecturer and former newspaper man.

Miss Chadwick, 34, made the announcement Tuesday night at a cocktail-buffet in her honor.

Miss Chadwick—Mrs. Taber, 38, both from San Diego, will wait until fall for the wedding.

The swimmer and her mother head today for Victoria, B. C., where she'll swim the straits of Fort Angeles Aug. 12. On Labor Day she will make a distance swim at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

Miss Chadwick, among her many feats, has swum the English channel both ways and has crossed the rough Catalina channel of southern California.

Rookie Drives In Eight Runs; Leafs Widen Gap

By the Associated Press

Pedro Furmental, 36-year-old rookie, made the most of his first game in organized ball by driving in eight runs for the International League's Havana Cuban Sugar Kings.

Havana won the twilight opener 8-5 as Furmental drove in seven of the runs and a pinch single by Bob Ortiz in the 10th inning gave the Kings a 5-4 victory over Rochester Red Wings in the nightcap 4-1.

Furmental, a native Cuban who was rushed to Rochester to replace outfielder Angel Scull, who suffered a fractured cheek bone Monday night, had played all his baseball in Latin America. He led the Mexican league in 1953 and the Cuban winter league last year in batting.

Lefty Niles Jordan was the loser in both ends of the doubleheader, the first double defeat for Rochester this season.

INCREASED LEAD

Meanwhile, Toronto Maple Leafs topped Richmond Virginians 4-3 and increased their first-place lead to 10 games over the Red Wings.

Home run catcher Elston Howard, with a man on in the fourth, on the same frame provided the Toronto margin.

Righthander Ed Blake went the distance to earn his seventh victory of the season in the 23rd inning and Montreal scored two runs in the eighth off loser Ken Johnson.

Syracuse Chiefs spoiled Tari Wright's managerial debut as they defeated Ottawa Athletics in a doubleheader 8-5 and 5-2.

Dashing Ways of Willie Mays Brings NY Giants Happy Days

By Joe Reichler

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher was driving home from the Polo Grounds after a particularly exhausting doubleheader one afternoon a couple of summers ago.

In a Harlem street, he nearly ran over a sport-shirted figure dashing madly for a manhole cover which marked second base in a street game.

"Hey, you numbskull," the New York Giant manager shouted. Suddenly a look of recognition came to Leo's face and he screeched his car to a stop.

"LIVES" baseball

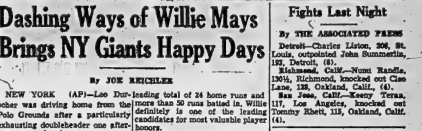
"What's the matter? You nuts or something?" Leo bellowed at his centre fielder.

Willie Mays looked puzzled.

"Why am I nuts?" he asked blandly. "It ain't dark yet."

Durocher never tires of talking about Mays.

"Willie comes with Monte Irvin. At 6 a.m. every morning he's nudging Monte. 'Wake up, roomie, he says, 'let's talk baseball.'"



Durocher isn't the only member of the Giants family who likes Willie. The ball players like his odd mixture of naivete and brash confidence. They laugh at his habit of opening every conversation with the words, "Say, hey," and mimic the way he talks in a high-pitched, soprano voice.

PHENOMENAL PLAYER

Despite all the buffoonery, Mays unquestionably has a terrific impact on the club and nobody knows just how far he can go. Mays became a spark plug on a pennant winner after only 16 games in the minors.

Mays did things naturally which cannot be taught or learned. He was sent a stickout in 1951 that he easily ran off with the most valuable rookie award.

This year, with a batting average hovering around .330, a league

WITH THE increasing hazards of highway travel, there may be a big market ahead for a new lightweight aluminum crash helmet developed in Europe. It not only takes tremendous weight off your mind; tests proved that it also exhibits less "dent devil" when missiles are dropped on it — with no one underneath, we should add.

Sounds like a sensible chapeau for construction workers too. Certainly lots of aluminum articles developed for one use have been quickly adopted for others . . . a process which has helped build heavy demand for Canadian aluminum both at home and in foreign markets. Bobby Jones won his third U.S. Open golf championship in the most decisive playoff in history 25 years ago today. Tied with Abe Espinosa at 294 in the regular tourney, Jones scored 141 to Espinosa's 164 in the playoff. That was the year before Bobby scored his grand slam—the U.S. open and amateur, British open and amateur.

Marlene Reaches Semi-Finals, With 5-4 Win Over Belgian

GANTON, England (CP) — Defending champion Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., reached the semi-finals of the British women's golf championship today, defeating Jacqueline Jacquet of Belgium 3 and 4 in her quarter-final match.

Playing in a thin drizzle of rain, Miss Stewart had by four holes at the turn, overcoming her opponent's longer drives with precision putting. She took command after five of the first seven greens.

The 20-year-old Belgian girl reduced the margin by one hole before losing the 13th and 14th to end the match.

Tuesday, Marlene won a 19-hole thriller over 18th champion Philomena Garvey.

Miss Garvey was runner-up to the 35-year-old Fonthill miss in last year's British championship. She lost 2 and 1 then, but Tuesday she carried Miss Stewart to an extra hole after Marlene was twice a series of errors on the back nine.

Earlier Miss Stewart eliminated the only American entry, Mary Ernest Lee of Pasadena, Calif., 4 and 3, in the third round.

QUARTER AT 18th

Against the experienced Miss Garvey, Marlene shot a 36 on the front nine to the latter's 39. Four outdriving her opponent and playing a better short game, Marlene went three up at the 13th, where Miss Garvey was bunkered.

The match ended a new phase at the 12th where Miss Stewart, who had so far played perfectly, made the first of many errors. She drove into some trees there and three-putted the 13th to lose the holes.

Miss Garvey squared the match at the 16th.

On the extra hole, Miss Garvey sent her drive into the rough and Marlene won it with a four.

Miss Stewart plays Arlette Jacquet of Belgium today.

Manitobans Rally To Edge Kingston Bowlers

WINNIPEG (CP)—Quebec, British Columbia and Manitoba captured the singles, doubles and rink titles respectively at the Canadian lawn bowling championships at Winnipeg's Norwood Greens Tuesday and will represent Canada in those events in the British Empire Games at Vancouver.

Lethbridge Jack Linford of Lachine, Que., won the singles with a 22-15 victory over Jimmy Climie of Winnipeg.

British Columbia's Sam Gardiner and Dick Williams took the doubles when a three-way tie was broken by the best plus score. Billy Calder's foursome from Manitoba also gained the rink title by having a better plus score than Alberta's J. Little after the two rinks each won one games and tied one in two starts.

Best match of the final day of the two-day tournament came in the doubles. Stan Townsend and Jock Dicks of Manitoba, who lost 26-13 Monday night to B. C. Scott of Kingston, needed a wide-margin victory over Ontario to create a three-way tie and win on the plus scores. The Manitobans staged a comeback after being down 12-4 at the 10th end to nip Bill Duncan and Dick Edney of Kingston 19-17, making a three-way tie. Ivor Wynne of British Columbia, who lost only 21-18 to Ontario, was declared the winners of the meet.

Leafs' Protest Upheld By League Prexy

TORONTO (CP) — President Frank Shaughnessy of the International League Tuesday upheld a Toronto Maple Leaf protest and decided to give further consideration whether to order replay of a game which Leafs lost 6-3 to the Bisons in Buffalo last Thursday.

Before the game started Leaf manager Lisle Blackbourn had filed official protest when umpire Max Filiardi threatened to forfeit the fixture unless he withdrew second baseman Loren Babe from the lineup.

"The umpire was wrong and Sewell was right," Shaughnessy ruled.

The episode resulted from a clerical error Sewell made in preparing his line-up before the game. In making his line-up Sewell took the name of his proper line-up Sewell inadvertently omitted Babe's name as leadoff hitter and named pitcher Frank Barnes to both the leadoff and ninth positions in the batting order on the second copy.

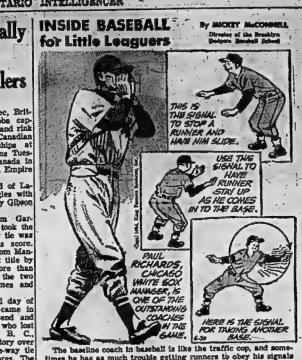
'I Beat Hogan' Medals for 400 Canuck Golfers

TORONTO (CP)—Bill Hamilton, secretary-treasurer of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, said Tuesday about 400 golfers in Canada won "I beat Ben Hogan" medals by getting a score of lower than 64 on National Golf Day June 19.



Hogan, 1953 U. S. open champion, shot his 64 on the Baltusrol course at Springfield, N. J.

Hamilton said receipts from National Golf Day, which will be divided equally between the Red Cross and the Canadian junior golf development program, will probably be about the same as last year. In 1953 final total receipts were $12,186.

INSIDE BASEBALL for Little Leaguers

By MICKEY McCONNELL
Director of the Brooklyn Dodgers Baseball School

The baseline coach in baseball is like the traffic cop, and sometimes he has as much trouble getting runners to obey his signals as the policeman does flagging down careless drivers. Fresco Thompson, vice-president of the Dodgers, has ruled in the use of red and green flashlights to control his runners when he was managing a minor league club which played its games at night.

Fresco has another one-of-a-kind system which has had much about the daring baserunning of the famous St. Louis "Gas House Gang" tried to follow their example. He would hit a single and try to stretch it into a double, a double and try to stretch it into a triple, and a triple and try to stretch it into a home run. After this had happened two or three times, opposing players automatically threw the ball a base ahead of the batter and he would be an easy out as he lumbered into the bag. This continued for a few weeks. Finally, he add into third one night for another out. Thompson walked out of the coaching box, looked down at the player and remarked, "Why don't you hit two homers to the pitcher and save all that wear and tear?"

Until a player acquires the base-running instincts of a Ty Cobb, a George Sisler, a Pepper Martin or a Jackie Robinson, he should always depend on his coach for instructions and he should watch the signals.

Dusty Rhodes Forgot About Umpire, Got Mad at Pitcher and Won Game

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—"Leo told me to stop fighting the umpire. He said if I had to get mad at anybody, I should get mad at the pitcher. So I did."

A jubilant Jim Rhodes was trying to explain how he won the game for New York Giants over Brooklyn Dodgers.

It was Rhodes' pinch hit with the bases loaded and two out in the bottom half of the 12th inning that scored the run and gave the Giants their thrilling 4-3 victory that increased their league lead over their interborough rivals to two games.

"Leo (pitcher Billy Loes) threw me two fast balls, both way inside," he detailed with gestures, "but the umpi (plate umpire Frank Secory) called 'em both strikes. The second one missed the plate by the length of this coca cola bottle.

'I WAS READY'

"Sure I was mad, and I guess I told him a thing or two. That's when Leo (Giant manager Leo Durocher) came out to talk to me. 'Forget the umpire, get ready for the pitch,' he said as he was walking back to the dugout. I sure was ready. It was a real good fast ball—real good. It was the most important base hit I ever got in my life."

The Dodgers, after tying the game in the ninth, 3-3, on Roy Campanella's two-run homer off Sal Maglie, had taken a 3-2 lead in the top of the 12th when Don Mueller hit a two-out, two-strike pitch into left field and right field stands.

Then, the fourth Dodger pitcher, walked Whitey Lockman to open the 12th, and Rhodes stepped to the home when he retired the next two batters, one with the help of a spectacular stop by second baseman Junior Gilliam.

NEW YORK (AP)—Two former champions, middle-weight Randy Turpin of England, and Johnny Bratton of Chicago, are out of the first 10 for the first time in years in the latest Ring magazine ratings of boxers.

Turpin, ninth a month ago, and Gil Turner, who was 10th, were dropped to make room for Argentina's Eduardo (Ed) Lausse (10th) and Germany's Gustav (Bubi) Scholz (9th).

In the welterweight class, Bratton was removed and Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., joined the group in the ninth position. Among the heavyweights Earl Walls of Toronto and Dan Buccerori of Philadelphia traded the No. 7 and 8 berths with Walls now seventh.

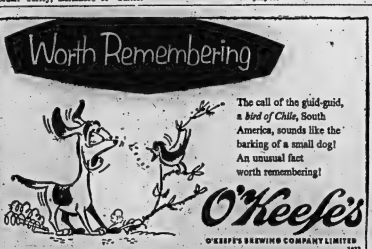
Royals Sign Major Leaguer

GUELPH (CP)—Jim Turner, a catcher, infielder and outfielder with major league experience, has been signed by Guelph-Waterloo Royals, officials of the Senior Intermediate league team announced Tuesday.

Turner, who appeared briefly with St. Louis Cardinals, Philadelphia Phillies and Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League, has been in professional baseball eight years and has also played in the Pacific Coast League and the American Association.

A 26-year-old six-footer, Turner caught the pitching of Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons when the first joined the Phillies. The Royals have released pitcher Earl Hannel to make room for the new player.

Petes Whip Mounties 10-7



MIMICO (CP)—Sparked by Bob Curtis, who scored four goals, Peterborough Trailermen defeated Mimico Mounties 10-7 in an Ontario Lacrosse Association senior A game here Tuesday night.

The win hoisted Peterborough into a first-place tie with St. Catharines Athletics.

Harry Wiper scored two goals for the Trailermen and Lew Nickel Curly Mason, Don Ashbee and Bob Bailey notched single markers.

London Majors Brantford Split; Elgins Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Pitching was the main attraction in Senior Intercounty Baseball League action Tuesday night. Two hurlers on the three winning teams combined to hold the opposition to a total of 14 hits and three runs.

Bill Ankett chalked up a six-hitter as London Majors defeated Brantford Red Sox 4-1 in the seven-inning opener of a doubleheader at London. Bill MacDonald, the losing pitcher, allowed only four hits.

Bob Goldsbelt went the route for the Sox in the nine-inning night cap and limited the Majors to four safeties to lead Brantford to a 12-3 runaway.

At Guelph, John Ambrose and Jerry Jack Caffery combined on a four-hitter for St. Thomas Elgins which paced the way for an 8-0 shutout over the last-place, home-town Royals. Caffery, who came in as a reliever, allowed only two hits in seven innings.

Creighton Indians climbed back into sole possession of first place in the intercounty race Tuesday night by trouncing Frood Tigers 13-1 in Sudbury.

At Carson, the home-town Greyhounds defeated the last-place Copper Cliff Redmen 12-7.

ELGINS LEAD

The split for London and the victory for the Elgins handed St. Thomas into first place in the standings—one - half a game in front of Red Majors and Gall Terriers.

Bert, whose victory gave him a record of two losses and no defeats, also got a double with two men on base in the second inning for what proved to be the winning runs.

The loss, a tough one to take after pitching a four-hitter, was tagged on MacDonald and evened his record at 1-1.

A three-run homer by catcher Shanty Clifford in the first inning gave Guelph an early start in the second game.

Goldsbelt's victory was his second against pitching aid from Sullivan, the first of two London pitchers, suffered the loss — his fourth against six victories.

TWO HOMERS

A four-run, sixth - inning rally capped by Jim Thomas shutout over the Royals. First baseman Butch Lawring and catcher Doc Glenn slammed one-run homers for the winners but Bruno Casanova was the big hitter for the Elgins. His three hits included a double and he chalked up three runs batted in.

Caffery earned the victory—his third against the same number of defeats. Ed Drapcho was the loser, tasting his third loss against one win.

Catcher Jack Howe was the big slugger for Creighton, slamming a bases-loaded home run in the third

Grim Battle Will Feature Cycle Contests

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dominion bicycling titles are at stake as 200 contestant as the Canadian cycling championships here July 1-2, 1954 and the deciding only after a grim east-west battle.

Being touted as strong contenders for the star-spangled title are Pat Murphy of Delhi, Ont., and youthful Jim Davies, an up-and-coming Vancouver racer.

Murphy won the Canadian title in 1953 and holds the 1954 Ontario championship. Twenty- year- old Davies, who has no national title, was crowned B. C. champ after a grueling 1932 road race and holds three quarters of local sprint records.

Western fans looking for Davies to beat Murphy in the meet were gladdened last week when the two riders clocked for the last 200 metres of a sprint race at 12:01. Their time was slightly more than one second away from the Canadian record.

Not a dark horse but still comparatively unknown is Peter Hasbrow, also regarded as a dangerous competition for the all-round title.

CAN'T QUALIFY

Hanslow won't be able to race for any country in the 1954 Empire Games, July 31-Aug. 7. The rangy, 22-year-old is one of four Australian cyclists who came to Vancouver a short time ago, and, because of immigration and residence laws, are not qualified to race for either Australia or Canada.

Majority of the distance betting on Eric Fellows of Toronto, who Bill Johnson, another of the "nomadic Australians" Johnson gained recognition last week-end, when he cracked the Canadian 100-mile hour mark, with a time of 6:20.3-5. Previous record was 6:31.

Also on hand, and highly regarded, will be Lorne Atkinson, who represented Canada in the 1953 Olympics and the 1950 British Empire Games.

Making a comeback—and a good one—is Johnny Millman of Vancouver, who has been absent from the tracks and road races for a couple of years.

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Use this period to rebuild, replacing the old with the newer and improved. Some vigor. Move cautiously, intelligently.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — You may encounter some irritating situations and what may seem unsolvable mysteries, but your fertile mentality and general ability can overcome the "unsurmountable." Ponder well; victory can be yours.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Considerable forethought needed in all matters, especially if you intend to expand. Take care in signing contracts, in obligations of all kinds.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Outlook may be puzzling. Consistent effort and keen judgment will win. Avoid needless risks to health, security, personal status.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Sensible precautions stressed (whether at work or on vacation). You can have a good future-building day. Sidestep irritating arguments, extremes. Always aim to be patient.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—You are a problem spot as most of us today, but cheerfulness and a determination to foster and maintain harmony will be stepping stones to a better outlook and results.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Foolish emotional displays, of things that will be your reward. Day's indications urge a middle course; avoid extremes.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Pare down wild ideas, any emotions that could upset good efforts and prevent a happy day. Essential tasks can be carried out efficiently, and also quietly. Reason before acting.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Don't crowd your day with non-essentials. Carry out your schedule as efficiently and as effectively as possible; take some time for rest and relaxing diversion.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Advice to Scorpio now suits your sector to a T. No need for anxiety or forcing issues. Take things in order of their importance. Do you best and don't worry. Ask God's help.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—You will do well to profit by past experiences. What was good before may fit today; or it may not be a careful judge. Go about all things with equanimity; don't anticipate nervously.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Be content with your pace if you have heavy demands on your time. Remember, too, we need some reflection, occasional rest to maintain a proper attitude and reap worthwhile results.

YOU BORN TODAY have fine deep qualities; Cancerites often rise to positions of prominence, influence. This period is under favorable configurations now and, in part, is influenced by incentive from Mercury. Your keen perception and appreciation are notable. You have faults, too, but among them is not carelessness. You are often the instigator of noteworthy humanitarian acts; you suffer from fancied slights; are innately loyal and love harmony (so strive hard for this at home). Shun contention, pique, stubbornness.

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — This day chock full of benefic indications, but you must allocate your tasks according to their urgency and attend to them efficiently. Prepare for a restful week-end.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Some happy aspects. Do quickly but well the important tasks, then finish details and left-overs so your desk or bench will be clean, ready for a prompt start in the good week ahead.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — You should be mentally keen and eager during this stimulating period. Labor, industry, manufacturing and the many professions serving man's welfare are under helpful rays. Be competent.

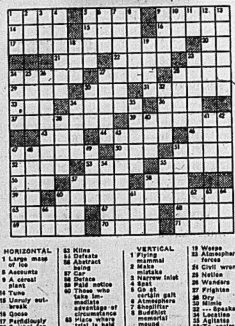
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — You are on the favored side of the planetary ledger now, too. Personal interests, general matters highly rated. Start new undertakings if properly prepared.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Conferences, agreements, seeking new clients and advantages are favored by stellar aspects today. Research, art and medicine make new advances; assist these causes.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo) — You could intensify your study or activities (not straining, of course) on this sublimely day and get more done, perhaps advance beyond hopes if you keep free from fretting and have faith.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Many diversified activities, unusual affairs, children's and oldsters' problems, domestic interests under stimulating vibrations. Industry, labor, clerks, domestics can better status.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Most planets favorably situated today; your Mars is neutral (but the latter stressing calm reasonableness). Be enthusiastic, cheerful, ambitious. Honest endeavor has strong backing.



November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Be serene and determined but not overbearing and you can have fine results from well directed efforts. Mental tasks are favored as are the big and important undertakings; both are essential.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Deep within you you can, should feel that there is much good in the world, and you have a generous share. With this in mind, tackle problems and chores cheerfully. You can make good.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius) — Be concise in thought and action now. Much to be done, more can be gained. It's really up to your own consistent effort. Have a good week-end.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — Skilled work and the less artistic occupations are both important and are favored now. Do not reject sound suggestions, new, clever ideas. Keep in line with progress.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly talented, a good mimic, fond of entertainment. You make a loyal, devoted lifemate, parent and friend. You are also fond of travel, perhaps changing occupation and place of abode occasionally but very likely to return to home or locality where you spent childhood. If you live up to your innate characteristics you can accomplish to a high degree in profession, trade, as is religious. Continue to educate yourself and cultivate your fine assets. Don't dwell too much on the past; look forward cheerfully, hopefully. Be amenable to sound suggestions. Pray daily for contentment and guidance. Birthdate: Christoph Gluck, operatic composer.

FRENCH RETURN VIET MINH WOUNDED

In accordance with the agreement made by the French in obtaining the release of French Union wounded after the fall of Dien Bien Phu, the French high command released 247 Vietminh Communist wounded at Hanoi recently. Top, a fleet of ambulances is shown on Colonial route 1, taking the released prisoners to a neutralized point. The road had been swept clear of mines for the convoy. A French tank is keeping an eye on things beside the highway. Above, a Viet Minh nurse helps one of the released Communist prisoners from a French ambulance on arrival at the neutralized point. Nationalist China Irrevocably Committed to Assault On Chinese Mainland Says Boss

EDITOR'S NOTE: In March, 1952, Bill Boss of The Canadian Press was the first Canadian to talk with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek since the leader of Nationalist China withdrew his forces from the Chinese mainland to Formosa. Today Boss, returning in the Orient on leave from his three-year assignment with Canadian forces in Korea, interviewed Chiang again. This is his exclusive story.

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TAIPEI, Formosa (CP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today said Nationalist China is irrevocably committed to an assault on the Chinese mainland as its ultimate objective—regardless what the Communists gain in Asia meantime.

The 30-minute interview he granted me was the first the spry, wiry "Gimo" has permitted since his induction May 20 for a second term as constitutional president of Nationalist China.

Referring through an interpreter to his message to the armed forces last Nov. 10 that "1954 will be a year of decision," Chiang said:

"I didn't mean that 1954 necessarily will be a year of counter-attack. The timing of attack is a military decision depending upon many factors.

"I meant it would be a year in which we would formulate concrete plans for counter-attack, including the question of timing.

"The decision for counter-attack has been taken and remains our over-all objective. Only the timing has not been decided.

"When political and international factors become favorable, we could attack at any moment.

"Our armed forces are ready for attack the moment it is ordered."

NATIONALIST FORCES

The Nationalists are estimated to have more than 300,000 front-line soldiers in an army of 400,000 and strong navy and air forces. These forces are at present under assessment by a United States mission headed by Gen. James Van Fleet, former United Nations commander in Korea.

Asked about the U. S. team, Chiang said "they're here to check on requirements of our forces in the light of their mission," and added that no conclusions have yet been reached. He declined further comment.

A senior American officer who witnessed a demonstration for Van Fleet today by the Nationalist marines division and a tank battalion termed them "impressive."

"If the Communists attacked here, they'd be clobbered," this officer said. "It would be the best thing that could happen."

He refused comment on how a Nationalist amphibious operation against the mainland would make out except to say the Nationalists "would fight magnificently."

Nobody here talks about transport and support for such an attack. Indeed, although counter-attack is the persistent theme of Nationalist propaganda, the visitor sees no sign of organization toward that end.

BETTER GOVERNMENT

A series of interviews I have had with Chinese and American officials convey the impression that the accent is on bringing better government to Formosa, with industrial; economic and social activity geared to that end.

In my interview with him, Chiang hedged on how a counter-attack would be supported if it were ordered now.

"Everything accomplished here builds support both here and on the mainland for the ultimate operation," he said, smiling.

Asked whether it would be fair to assume 1955 also would be ruled out as a year of attack because a logistic support organization could not be organized by then, he said he couldn't say.

On a suggestion that Communist successes in Asia might ultimately doom all Nationalist hopes of a successful assault, he said: "That is not our way of looking at it.

"Please tell your fellow Canadians that the armistice in Korea and any eventual armistice in Indo-China represent only temporary halts while the Communists consolidate strength and prepare new attacks.

"The only effective answer to them is our projected attack on the mainland."

SIGN TRADE DEAL

VIENNA (Reuters)—Communist Hungary and Indonesia have concluded a trade and payments agreement, Budapest radio reported Monday. Hungary will send Indonesia machinery, electrical goods for industry, drugs and chemicals, metals and light industry products in return for rubber, tin, tea, coffee and pepper.

MOSCOW EYE-OPENER

MOSCOW (Reuters)—F. Fownes Lord, British president of the Baptist World Alliance, declared Monday he was "pleasantly surprised to find young people and men at Baptist services in the Soviet Union." Lord is a guest of the Soviet Council of Evangical Christian Baptists on "a purely religious and friendly visit."

CAMPBELLFORD

Field Day Brings Awards to Six P.S. Students

CAMPBELLFORD — The end of the public school term here was cause for double celebration to six students as two competitions in the field day at the fair grounds this week.

The entire student body and staff gathered on the lawn of the school to watch the presentation of specially designed proficiency shields to the winners in the senior, intermediate and junior track and field events.

The Kinsmen Club, Rotary Club and the Canadian Legion each donated a shield, on which will be engraved the names of the winners. The shields will hang in the school.

SHIELDS PRESENTED.

Kinsmen president, Ray Hall, presented a shield to Marie Brethour and John Beatty, winners of the girls' and boys' senior competitions. In the intermediate class, Georgina Venn and Wally Rutherford received awards from P. J. O'Sullivan of the Rotary Club. William Hampel presented the Canadian Legion Branch 108 award to Nancy Tallman and Richard Dunham in the junior section.

Allan Taylor, of the teaching staff, who was in charge of the field day, spoke briefly, thanking the students and the other teachers for their co-operation and help in making the event the success that it was.

Principal William Rothwell spoke, thanking all who had contributed to the success of the field day. He expressed special thanks to the organizations who had donated the awards for the event.

Little Benny's Note Book

I was taking a Sunday walk with pop and ma yesterday, and ma said How do you do, to some lady, and pop tipped his hat, and ma said, Did you notice anything peculiar about Mrs. Minster, William?

Her slip was showing, wasn't it? pop said, and ma said, Of course not, I mean her general attitude when she greeted me as she went by?

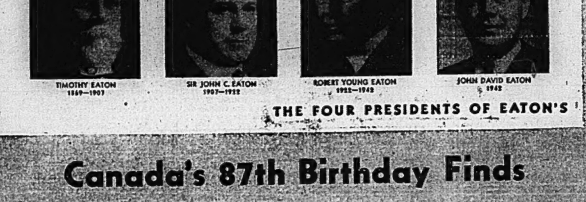
Well, let me see, I bleeve she did show her teeth as though she would of bitten you if she'd been a dog and you were a cat, pop said, and ma said, There's no use exaggerating, William, but as a matter of fact she really has been acting with a kind of stand offish aloofness, and I'm afraid I know the reason why.

The pies chickins, pop said, and ma said. In the first place is is one of those women who call you up on the telefone and then stick there like a proverbial leetch monopolizing every sillable of the conversation. And if there is anything more boring than standing at one end of a telefone like a human listening post, I hope I never experience it. Well, that's what happened about 2 weeks ago, until finally in desperation I blurted out that my doorbell was ringing, so of course she simply had to hang up, ma said.

But for Peet sake she couldn't prove your doorbell wasn't ringing, pop said, and ma said, I know, but I made a mistake in blurting it out. What I really blurted was, "Excuse me, Mrs. Minster, my telefone is ringing." And goodness knows she had every reason to doubt that. Anyway, her manner hasn't been quite the same ever since, ma said.

Yes gods, pop said.

Morning is over.



CARELESS HUNTER

CHICHESTER, England (AP)—A shotgun went off in a crowded bus Monday night, wounding 16 persons. David McKenzie, 24, said he had been hunting rabbits in a field and forgot to unload the gun when he ran to catch the bus. All but one of the victims were able to go home after treatment in a hospital.

Canada's 87th Birthday Finds
EATON'S in its 85th year of service

Almost as old as Confederation itself, Eaton's catches and reflects the gleam of Canada's shining future. To stores, mail order, factories and order offices comes fresh opportunity for service in a land spanned by great railways, where distance is being slashed by new highways, airways, and seaways; where oil and ore are being found in rich abundance; where the promise of a better life brings New Canadians by the thousands to its shores . . . Eaton's has become an integral part of the Canadian scene, its story a thick chapter of Canadian history. It is a wholly Canadian institution, owned by Canadians, supported by Canadian funds, run by Canadian methods in the interests of Canadian shoppers . . . On the completion of the latest Eaton's of Canada in Charlottetown, P.E.I., Eaton's will have stores in every province from sea to sea—a total of 57 stores, almost 300 Order Offices, besides factories and Mail Order distribution centres. Eaton's keeps pace with Canada's progress. Blending cherished principles with new ideas, linking traditions with modern methods, the Company moves forward to serve Canadians in every walk of life, in every part of the country.

On Canada's birthday we are proud to emphasize that over 85% of the goods sold in Eaton's are bought in Canada.
